"This year has been distinguished by additional progress and by decided improvement, which I will briefly recite: The establishment, under your sanction, of a permanent school of instruction at Fort Myer, Va.; the raising of the standard of the personnel of the Signal Corps; the systemization of the duties of the signal service; the preparation of new instructions for observers of the service; the preparation of new and improved forms for the recording and preservation of meteorological data; the preparation of special bulletins for the press, containing weather information of public interest; the forecasts of weather, of hot or cold waves for periods exceeding twenty-four hours; the forecasts of "northers" for the interior plateau; the adoption of a new storm-signal (the cautionary Northwest) for the interior lakes; the arrangement for the increase of river service, and wider publications of warnings of floods or ice-gorges; the changes and improvements in the publication of the international bulletin and the monthly weather review, with their accompanying charts; the increased information added to the farmers' and to the railway bulletins; the organization of a service for the special benefit of the cotton interests of the South; the extension of special frost-warning to the fruit interests of the country; the investigation into thermometric standards and into barometric standards; the preparation of new hygrometric tables containing correction for altitude; the revised determinations of the altitudes of signal-service stations; the computation of monthly constants for the reduction of observed barometric pressures to sea level; the arrangements for original investigation in atmospheric electricity, in anemometry and in actinometry, and in the last subject, especially with reference to the importance of solar radiation in agriculture and the absorption of the sun's heat by the atmosphere; the co-operation in an expedition to the summit of Mount Whitney, Cal., for the determination of problems in solar physics; in metrology, the preparation of conversion tables for the English and metric systems; the co-operation in the dropping of time-balls at signal-service stations; the publication in quarto form of special professional papers; the offering of prizes for essays of great merit on meteorological subjects; the organization of State weather services; the new investigation of danger lines on Western rivers; the organization and equipment of two expeditions for meteorological observation and research in the Arctic regions of America, one to be stationed at Lady Franklin bay, the other at Point Barrow, Alaska, both co-operating in this work with a system of stations established in the Polar region by international conference; the establishment of a system of stations of observation in Alaska.

"A series of experiments has been made with sun-flashes, with a view of improving upon the forms of heliograph to be adopted for the general uses of the army, and it is believed that the improved heliograph selected combines great simplicity with efficiency, and possesses many practical advantages, so far as known, over similar instruments in other services.

"During the past year stations of observation on the habits and ravages of the Rocky Mountain locusts or grasshoppers were established in those sections that the experience of past years has shown to be most exposed to the ravages of these pests. These stations were at Omaha, Grand Island, North Platte and Sidney, Neb.; Cheyenne, W. T.; Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, Col.; Fort Sill, I. T.; Fort Elliott and all other stations on the United States military telegraph lines in Northern, Central and Southern Texas, and those on the northwestern military telegraph line in Dakota and Montana. Where civilians were employed in making the observations their services were voluntary and without compensation, the Government bearing the necessary expenses for stationery and telegraphing.

"It is gratifying to state that not a single report of the ravages of locusts has reached this office, and their presence has been announced only at Grand Island, Neb., Fort Supply, I. T., and Fort Elliott, Tex.; but in no instance has any danger been reported.

"This year, for the first time, the Chief Signal Officer has caused to be prepared and issued, twice daily, special bulletins for the press containing meteorological information of popular interest to a greater extent than can appear, for want of space, in the official synopses and indications. They treat especially of high winds, severe storms, tornadoes, heavy rainfalls, floods, extreme temperatures, sudden and great changes in temperature, frosts, temperatures specially reported from health resorts during the season when frequented, and, when the conditions sufficiently warrant, fair or rainy weather, as the case may be, predicted for two days in advance. There are also forecasted the movements of the so-called 'warm waves' and 'cold waves.'

"In addition, the Chief Signal Officer causes to be regularly made, daily, each morning, by all officers who are liable for detail in the Indications Division, forecasts or deductions of the weather conditions for the day succeeding that on which the forecasts are made. If the result of these studies is sufficiently successful, indications will, in time, be issued for all districts for periods of more than one day.

"The river reports, giving the average depth of water and notices of the dangerous rises in the different great rivers of the interior, for the benefit of the river commerce and the populations in the river valleys, have been regularly made, telegraphed, bulletined in frames, and also published by the press at the different river ports and cities.

"The manner in which these reports are prepared and used, and the mode by which a 'danger-line' has been determined, with water below which there is considered to be no danger, while every rise above it is dangerous, have been sufficiently explained in preceding reports.

"The information published in reference to this danger-line, in connection with the daily reports of this office, has, on the occurrence of river floods, enabled those interested to judge of the probable limits of the rises of water to be expected at the different places on the river banks and of the dangers to be anticipated. This knowledge has made possible necessary precautions for safety."

A Strange Tribe of Indians.

Looking on the map of New Mexico, on the eastern confines of Arizona, in latitude 34 and longitude 100, you will see the country of the Zunies. These Indians are white as any other people, have light, flaxen hair, and the Indian ladies might even be considered blonde beauties. Some of them have red eyes—albinos. The women have regular, pretty features; are very modest, gentle, moral and truthful—as also are the men. They are intelligent, cultivate their corn cereals, and always have on hand, stored and a stock for several years ahead—a sufficient supply for their community. They are not a warlike race. After the Navahoes, their more warlike neighbors, conquered them, or perhaps before, they built their village or town in the form of a hollow square, as a quasi fortress. Into this hollow square they lead their flocks and herds at night, shut the gate, climb up by ladders to the roof of their adobe houses, haul up the ladders and go to sleep in confident security. The entrance to their dwellings is only by the roof—like the Indians of Taos and other places in New Mexico—as a means of safety. Their worship is a mixture of idolatry and Catholicism, so far as could be ascertained. They worship a very ancient figure of the Transfiguration—the origin of which they know not and have no tradition. Unlike the Navahoes or Nabajoes—their neighbors—they are a peaceful, simple race, but are dwindling away and soon will become extinct, especially as they intermarry—other marriages being strictly prohibited.—Port Chester Journal.

THE ARMY.

Gen. Sherman's Annual Report.

Gen. Sherman has submitted his annual report to the Secretary of War, inclosing the reports of Gens. Drum and Sackett, and the reports of the commanding Generals of the divisions and departments. The General says, referring to the reports of the latter, that they all show that our companies are too small for efficient discipline and for economical service. When the treasury was poor and loaded with debt, the army endeavored to gracefully submit to overwork, but now, says Gen. Sherman, they appeal for relief, and it is recommended that Congress repeal that clause of the existing law which limits the enlisted force of the army to 25,000 men.

Considerable space is devoted to the discussion of the subject of officers' servants, Gen. Sherman maintaining that no soldier should ever be compelled to do menial labor without compensation, or without his consent, and he recommends that the existing law be repealed or modified so as to secure this end.

Referring to West Point, he says it has been, and must continue to be, the fountain-source of military education in time of peace. In his judgment, the military academy at West Point fulfills its uses, and can safely be intrusted to prepare boys to become the soldiers of the future.

There are in the army 430 companies, necessarily widely scattered over our vast domain, to guard the property and prevent, as far as foresight can, complications and troubles of every variety and kind; at one time protecting settlers against Indians, and, again, Indians against settlers. When these occur it is always sudden, and reinforcements have to be hurried forward from great distances and always at a heavy cost for transportation of men, horses, wagons and supplies. This cost in the aggregate will, in my judgment, be more that sufficient to supply an increase of 20 per cent. of private soldiers—all that I would ask for this time—because I believe this increase will add little, if any, to the annual cost of the army, and yet give great relief to our overtaxed soldiers. In the last ten years our frontiers have so extended under the protection of our small army as to add at least $1,000,000,000 to the taxable wealth of the nation. This has enabled emigrants to settle up remote parts of the country, and is the principal cause of the great prosperity which is felt throughout all parts of the country. When the national treasury was poor and loaded with debt, the army endeavored gracefully to submit to overwork, but they now appeal for relief; and I do most earnestly ask the honorable Secretary of War to apply to Congress to repeal that clause of the existing law which limits the enlisted force of the army to 25,000 men, and to enact that each and every company in the army may be enlisted to at least fifty privates, making sixty-two enlisted men and three officers to each 430 companies, thus increasing the army proper to 36,660 enlisted men, which number, in practice, will probably never exceed 25,000. This should form the combatant force; and, as experience and universal practice have demonstrated the necessity for another or non-combatant force, I further urge that special provision be made by law for each of the following separate and distinct purposes—viz.:

Engineer battalion	200
Permanent recruiting companies and parties	250
Enlisted men detailed on general service (clerks)	430
Ordnance Department (laborers and mechanics)	400
West Point detachments (military academy)	192
Prison guard at Fort Leavenworth (special)	90
Hospital stewards	195
Ordnance Sergeants	112
Commissary Sergeants	150
Indian scouts	300
Signal detachment	500
Total	3,789

Which number, added to the 26,660 before explained, will make the total enlisted force of every nature and kind 30,449.

Gen. Sherman submits a statement of the actual number of enlisted men in the regular army Oct. 15:

Cavalry	6,882
Artillery	2,403
Infantry	10,536
Total combatants	19,815
Non-combatants (engineer battalion, ordnance department, recruiting service, signal corps, etc.)	3,781
Total enlisted force of army	23,596

"Nearly every general officer commanding troops on the frontier asks for a larger increase than I have herein indicated, but this may be better accomplished by giving to the President the right to increase, at his discretion, companies most exposed to danger to any number of privates not exceeding 100, limited always in practice by the actual appropriations of money rather than by the fixed number of men."

The General asks for an increase of nine Majors in the Inspectors' corps, and recommends that the whole question of coast defense be submitted to a board of high officers, while a similar board should consider the matter of military posts and stations now obsolete. These recommendations are with a view to the sale and relief of the army from the care of useless forts, posts and stations. Some old forts, Gen. Sherman admits, are worth retaining, and, in order that these may be properly taken care of, he recommends that 'the President be authorized to transfer out of the class of enlisted men who have served for twenty-five years or more, a number not to exceed 500, including Ordnance Sergeants (now 112), and establish a 'veteran corps' to be stationed at these old forts, with the rank and pay they held at the close of their active career of army service, to be subject to the rules and articles of war, but only to be used for guarding public property. One or two officers of the retired class and half a dozen of these old soldiers would compose a good garrison for an abandoned post or fort. By granting the retired officers thus detailed fuel and quarters, we would provide homes for worthy veterans, which would be most honorable and charitable to them and advantageous to the Government."

Gen. Sherman, in his remarks on West Point, says: "The Board of Visitors substantially recommended that the Superintendent of the Military Academy should be a Colonel of Engineers. I will concede to the engineers all they ask, but when war comes the engineer naturally takes to maneuvering and parapets, whereas the infantry, cavalry and artillery must 'go in' and do the fighting. It was so in 1812, and 1846, and 1861-'65. West Point is intended to make 'soldiers,' and not professional engineers, and the word 'soldier' embraces everything in war. If the engineer be a better soldier than the infantry officer, then let him in war and peace have all the honor and emoluments. But our recent experience does not fulfill this assertion."

Gen. Sherman takes direct issue also with other recommendations of the Board of Visitors.

Pay Day in Workshops.

The following appeal to employers is being circulated by postal card:

TO EMPLOYERS: The Women's National Christian Temperance Union request that all employers will consider the advantage arising from making some other day in the week than Saturday pay-day. Those who have tried it find that Monday or Wednesday are preferable to Saturday, as the money is expended for family needs before the liquor sellers can get it on Saturday night or Sunday. Employers, please try the experiment, and see if your workmen are not in a better condition on Monday. A statement of results will be gladly received by

MRS. P. STRYKER,
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Com. for New York State.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.

A STANDARD REMEDY
IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOLMAN'S PAD

CURES Simply Without by MEDICINE Absorption

The Only True Malarial Antidote.

DR. HOLMAN'S PAD is no guess-work remedy—no feeble imitative experiment—no purloined hodge podge of some other inventor's idea; it is the original and only genuine curative Pad, the only remedy that has an honestly-acquired right to use the title-word "Pad" in connection with a treatment for chronic diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Spleen.

By a recently perfected improvement DR. HOLMAN has greatly increased the scope of the Pad's usefulness, and appreciably augmented its active curative power.

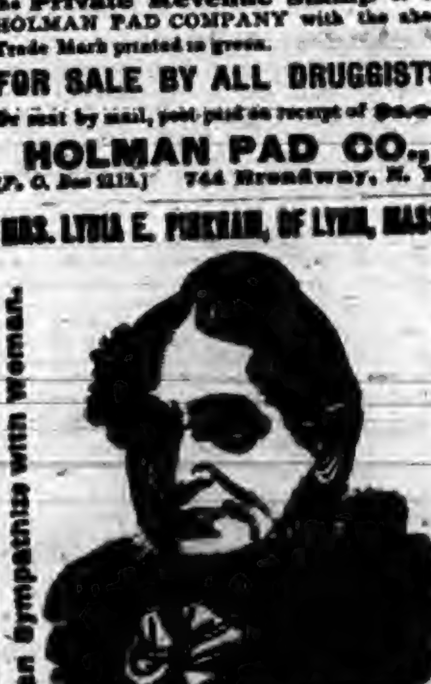
This great improvement gives HOLMAN'S PAD (with its Adjuvants) such complete and unfailing control over the most persistent and unyielding forms of Chronic Disease of the Stomach and Liver, as well as Malarial Blood-Poisoning, as to amply justify the eminent Professor Loomis' high encomium: "IT IS NEARER A UNIVERSAL PANACEA THAN ANYTHING IN MEDICINE!"

The success of HOLMAN'S PADS has inspired imitators who offer Pads similar in form and odor to the genuine HOLMAN PAD. Beware of these Bogus and Imitation Pads, gotten up to sell on the reputation of the GENUINE HOLMAN PAD.

Each Genuine Holman Pad bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the HOLMAN PAD COMPANY with the above Trade Mark printed in green.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS,
Or sent by mail, post-paid on receipt of $2.00.
HOLMAN PAD CO.,
[P. O. Box 2112.] 744 Broadway, N. Y.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,



Woman can Sympathize with Woman.
Health of Woman is the Hope of the Race.
Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.
Is a Positive Cure
for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.
Sold by all Druggists.

NEW RICH BLOOD!

Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sold everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

5,000 Agents Wanted for Life of
GARFIELD

It contains the full history of his noble and eventful life and dastardly assassination. Surgical treatment, death, funeral obsequies, etc. The best chance of your life to make money. Beware of "catchpenny" imitations. This is the only authentic and fully illustrated life of our martyred President. Fine steel portraits. Extra terms to Agents. Circulars free. Address
NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

ALPHA CENTAURI is the nearest of the fixed stars, and its distance exceeds the sun's 230,000 times.

EXPERIMENTS have been made in Paris with a new kind of military telegraphy, which consists simply in reading large letters by a telescope. It is hoped to succeed at 60 miles distance.

A NEAPOLITAN gardner, after years of experiment, has produced a camelia with a delicate perfume, and think it probable that these flowers may in the near future be so cultivated as to rival the rose in fragrance.

M. FLEISHER has made a comparison between the bark of young oaks grown respectively upon sandy loams, upon peaty soil that had been once burned, and upon a similar soil that had been thrice burned, and found the proportion of tannin highest in the product of peaty soil.

A NATURALIST asserts that cranes carry small migratory birds—unable to perform the flight of three hundred and fifty miles—across the Mediterranean Sea on their backs. In flocks of cranes traveling southward across this sea, little birds of many species are observed, frequently flying from their perches only to return a moment after.

MARBLE is generally considered to be a very rigid material. A remarkable case, however, is given by M. Guebhard, in which a marble slab at one side of a door in the Alhambra of Grenada has been bent considerably out of shape by superincumbent weight, without breaking. The slab is ten feet high, nine inches broad and two inches thick.

M. TROUPEAU has lately made numerous experiments with head-gear in its relation to heat from the sun. He reaches these conclusions, which may serve as useful hints: 1. Head-coverings of conical and rounded form are cooler than those of flat shape, the helmet is accordingly preferable to the kepi in hot climates. 2. A thick body, formed of a substance which conducts heat badly, protects effectually against the sun's rays. 3. No metal should be used in the construction of head-gear. 4. Good ventilation, obtained by means of lateral air-holes at the top and a gallery at the base, isolating the head, causes a very sensible lowering of the interior temperature. A head-cover of bad construction may be made cool by good ventilation.

IN HIS address before the British Association of Science at its recent fifty-first annual meeting, Sir John Lubbock, the President said: "Summing up the principal results which have been obtained in the last half-century, we may mention (over and above the accumulation of facts) the theory of evolution, the antiquity of man, and the far greater antiquity of the world itself; the correlation of the physical forces and the conservation of energy; spectrum analysis and its application to celestial physics; the higher algebra and the modern geometry; lastly, the innumerable applications of science to practical life—as, for instance, in photography, the locomotive engine and electric telegraph, the spectroscope, and most recently, the electric light and the telephone."

LESCHMIDT, whose observations have been confirmed by Stoney and Sir W. Thompson, calculates that each molecule of hydrogen measures, at the most, not more than a fifty-millionth of an inch in diameter—a minuteness of which we can form absolutely no conception. With the most powerful microscopes, lines ruled on glass the ninth-thousandth of an inch apart can be perceived, although confusion of the lines begins at the seventy-four-thousandth of an inch, rendering distinct vision beyond that limit impossible with any instruments now known. Soreby believes that a length of one eighty-thousandth of an inch would contain from five hundred to two thousand molecules—say, five hundred in albumen and two thousand in water. It appears, therefore, that the smallest spere of organic matter clearly visible in the most powerful microscopes would contain many millions of molecules of albumen or water.

POVERTY AND DISTRESS.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purse but of the blood. Deprived of its richness it becomes scant and watery, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and scrofulous swellings and sores, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat disease, spitting of blood and consumption, are among the common results. If you are a sufferer from thin, poor blood, employ Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which enriches the blood and cures these grave affections. Is more nutrative than cod liver oil, and is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. By druggists.

A French Paper on Lynching.

In a district backwards of the West of the States United we lynch two individuals at the method of a gibbet improvised. Then the executors withdraw themselves at the gallop.

The one of the two executed, who had the life most hard, and who, in view of the character of the proceedings, had been neither searched nor garroted, draws his knife from his pocket and cuts his cord. Then he delivers his friend, who retakes, little to little, his senses.

Then they save themselves and previously give themselves the pleasure of burning the gibbet.

The journal which announces this fact extraordinarily adds:

"We recognize well here men enemies of every institution regular."

DR. PIERCE'S "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved, unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. No cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. By druggists.

Limits to Belief.

There are limits to human belief. You may believe what the candidate says in convention; you may believe what he says on the stump; you may believe what the old settler says about the winter of 1852 or the summer of 1853; you may believe what a man tells you in a horse trade; you may believe what Vennor says about the weather; you may believe what a man says who was at the Centennial; you may believe the army liar, and you may believe the snake liar; but when a man takes his cigar from his lips and, with a guileless, simple prefix of a date and place, starts in on a trout story, bar and bolt and lock and double lock the gates of your belief when he gets to the place. Don't believe a single, solitary trout—not though it weighs less than a pound. Under the shadow of the trout truth dies, and the man who fishes four days and only hooks one lone trout, so small that he loses it in his empty basket, comes home the biggest liar of them all.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

AS A tonic and nervine for debilitated women nothing surpasses Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." By druggists.

The Demoralization of Riches.

Said an aged politician and editor to me, "I like to read your off-hand social sermons, because they seem to be confessions. Now let me make a confession to you! I don't believe, although I have a large summer house at the most successful resort in the country, that the dissipations and broken habits of the long season do me any good or give me any rest, or that I am as well insured for length of days in the idle summer as in the severe winter. And can you tell me, thou Diogenes of Broadway! why everybody is visiting the summer resorts and at such an increase of board bills and family expenses?"

"It is the rise of wealth," said I, "resulting from the development and speculation in a new country, giving an unrest to young and old, and making the most forward our leaders whether in physics or morals. None dare be independent where all can be rich. When George the Fourth was ruling a successful empire that had just finished thirty years of war and was trading with the whole world, Beau Brummel, who could starch his collars and neckties the nicest, was the next man to the King, though a sharper and a parasite, and the King, without a single virtue, was called the 'first gentleman of Europe!'"

"Alas!" said the political sage, "there is too much wealth, I fear, to make us as happy as we have been. I am sure people are not as happy as in the day of small incomes and quiet habits. I know most of our rich men, and as men they are not the social equals of the moderately rich men of forty years ago. Rufus King was then my neighbor at Albany, considered the richest man north of New York, and the leading banker. He told me that it cost him only $3,000 a year for his whole expenses and family, and no other man lived as well in Albany. Yet his expenses would not now pay his children's school bills. When I was Collector of the Port of Albany, at a salary of $4 a day, I felt as if I had got a lift that would make me independent, and when I saved $750 a year I felt that I was on the high road to success. No man in those days had $1,000,000, or, if he had, he was considered to have vast responsibilities to his country and his God. Now $1,000,000 excites no admiration, and I do not think it brings much compensation. It only goads the man to push out for more. His relations to his faculties and his health are worse. His career is really more contracted, because he is sitting down by the million like a pin by a loadstone, unable to get away from its influence upon his mentality."—Gath, in New York Tribune.

Is It Possible

That a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, etc., makes so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do? It must be, for when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, we must believe and doubt no longer. See other column.—Post.

A French Missionary in Africa.

Our examination of Debaize's store revealed some strange things. There were twelve boxes of rockets and fire-works, which would require about forty-eight men to carry them; several boxes of dynamite (for what conceivable use no one knows) two barrels of gun-powder, innumerable revolvers and guns, two coats of armor, several boxes of brandy, two loads of penny popguns, a load of small bells, large quantities of botanical paper, insect bottles and tubes smashed, surgical instruments, boxes of medicines without labels, photographic apparatus; every conceivable appliance for geographical research, though he was perfectly ignorant of the working of the most simple instrument. He brought with him also a hurdygurdy, valued at four thousand francs. His intended scheme of progression through hostile countries was truly French and admirable in its absurdity. When he came to a village with the natives ready to oppose his passage, he would try the softening influence of music on the savage breast by strapping the hurdygurdy on a man's back, and with another to turn the handle, march peaceably, as became a priest, against the heath. If, in spite of this, the savage breast refused to be softened, their blood would then be on their own head. They would find that they had to deal with the church militant! With all the calmness of a French nature, he would clothe himself in complete armor, raise confusion in the enemy's ranks by a discharge of rockets, and march deliberately to victory or death.—Central African Lakes, Thomson.

The Father of Democracy.

The following description of President Jefferson is given by Mr. Flower, an English gentleman, who, in 1815 traveled on horseback through Tennessee, Kentucky, and Virginia, and was Mr. Jefferson's guest at Monticello: "Mr. Jefferson's figure is rather majestic. Tall—over six feet—thin, and rather high-shouldered, manners simple, kind and courteous. His dress, in form and color, was quaint and old-fashioned, plain and neat. A dark, pepper-and-salt coat, cut in the old Quaker fashion, with a single row of large metal buttons, knee breeches, gray worsted stockings, shoes fastened by large metal buckles—such was the appearance of Jefferson when I first made his acquaintance in 1815. His two granddaughters (the Misses Randolph) well-educated and accomplished young ladies, were staying with him at the time. The chief charm of the visit was in the evening conversations with Mr. Jefferson, who gave me the inside history of events, before only known to me, as to the world in general, in the published record or outside history, which is all that the public is generally allowed to see."

THE coming holidays will be more generally observed than any for many years, and we would remind our readers that a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will prove a most acceptable holiday present.

How to Get Sick.

Expose yourself day and night, eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised; and then you will want to know

How to Get Well.

Which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters! See other column.—Express.

Lotteries in Italy.

Italy, however, is afflicted with another plague, even more destructive than that of counterfeiting, more tremendous in its evil results, and which invades every department and every class. The Government itself regulates the lotteries, with the idea, probably, of limiting what could not be avoided, and profiting by it. It is said that the annual net profit which it derives from this tutelage is $15,000,000. But it is considered only a temporary measure, the final aim of Italy's statesmen being to abolish a vice which destroys habits of industry and encourages crime. It may be considered doubtful whether this is the best way to do it, but the habit was already deeply rooted in the character of the Italians. It is now at least conducted with perfect honesty, the highest fuctionaries of the city taking part in the extraction of the numbers. This ceremony takes place in Rome every Saturday afternoon in a semi-circular building on the Via Ripetta, and is one of the relics of old times which is destined to pass away. In a high balcony in the center of this convex semi-circle are seated a delegate of the Prefect and several other gentlemen, who pass the fortunate number from one to the other until it is held up to the people and called out by a city guard. The people stand on the street with their heads raised and their eyes fixed on the balcony until hope is quenched in certainty or satisfied with success. The part of Italy most infected with this vice is Campania, where the annual average for each inhabitant is about $1.50. Rome is second; then follows Tuscany, while Liguria is sixth upon the list. Another class of citizens in Rome redeem it from this stain by industry and saving, the annual medium for every person being thirty-one francs. The system of savings banks is wisely encouraged by a few able social economists, among whom is Luzzatti, a Jew and a member of Parliament. This is the true weapon with which to combat the vices of idleness, long encouraged by the Papal Government. The people have responded to the invitation with far greater promptitude than could have been expected.—Rome Correspondence Cincinnati Gazette.

Beer Affects the Kidneys, and it may seriously interfere with the health unless promptly counteracted, and for this purpose Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has no equal.

Luminous Paint.

The London Building News says: The comparatively recent discovery that luminous paint can be applied as ordinary whitewash, considerably expands the field of its usefulness. Sheets of glass coated with the paint form Aladdin's lamps, which are in use in some of the vessels of the navy, at the Waltham Powder Factory, at Young's Paraffin Works, and in the spirit vaults of several docks: but now that, by increased production, and the use of water as the medium, the cost is reduced by one-half, it will probably be extensively used for painting walls and ceilings. The ordinary form of oil paint has already been applied in many ways to clock-faces, to name-plates and numbers and house-doors, and to notice boards, such as 'mind the step,' 'to let,' etc. The paint emits light without combustion, and therefore does not vitiate the atmosphere. Several experimental carriages are now running on different railways, the paint being used instead of lamps, which are necessary all day on account of the line passing through occasional tunnels.

THE Des Moines (Iowa) Tri-Weekly Tribune says: "A Harrisburg (Pa.) journal mentions that Mr. D. Bensinger, No. 4 Market Square, that city, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of a violent attack of rheumatism.

Is That a Mosquito?

"An' so you're a-going out to the East Hingies, my darlint Mrs. Marooney," said an old Irish crone to the young wife of a soldier about to embark for Madras; "I've been in them parts meeself, and well do I remember the torment I went through night and day with the muskeatoes. They have long suckers hanging down from their head, and they'll draw the life-blood out of ye before ye can say pease." This terrifying account lived in the memory of the young woman. The vessel made the Madras roads; the decks were crowded; all hands were delighted at the sight of land, Mrs. Marooney among the rest, but her joy was of short duration, for on shore she perceived an elephant. Horror-struck at the sight, and in breathless agitation, she approached the mate, exclaiming with uplifted hands, "Howly Moses! is that a muskeato?"

IT is useless to groan with rheumatism when a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil will cure it, as everybody knows.—Columbus (Ohio) Daily Times.

THE petty Duchy of Baden is a funny little kingdom, with a funny, fussy little court, as full of ceremony, equipages, liveries, powdered wigs, and elaborate officials as any of the big courts of the German Empire, and its parallel is not hard to find in Offenbach's sprightly satire upon the doings in the Grand Duchy of Gerolstein. However little the Duchy may be, it is largely connected, for the Grand Duke is son of Princess Sophia of Sweden, and his wife, Louise, is daughter of the Emperor of Germany. The ducal pair, having married September 20, 1856, the 20th of last Sept., was their silver wedding, and it was celebrated in connection with the gorgeous marriage of their daughter to Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden.

USE Kidney-Wort and rejoice in health. One package makes six quarts of medicine.

The Smallest Woman in the World.

Lucia Zarate, the smallest woman in the world was born in Mexico. Her parents were peons—that is to say, half-breeds. When born she was the size of a rat. It was supposed that she was dead, and she was put in a little box that happened to be in the room. Soon, however, she began to scream. She was taken out of her box, and except that she was wondrously small, she soon played and ran about like any other child.

Don't be in a Hurry.

It's no sort of use. We never knew a man who was always in a hurry who wasn't always behind time. They are proverbial all over the world for bringing nothing at all to pass. Hurry, skurry, bluster—what does it all amount to? Not a straw. If you want to accomplish anything as it should be done, you must go about it coolly, moderately, faithfully, heartily. Hurrying, fretting and fuming and spluttering, will do no good—not in the least. Are great works of men done in a hurry? Not at all. They are the product of time and patience—the result of slow, solid development. Nothing ought to be done in a hurry. It is contrary to nature, right, justice and common sense. Your man of hurry is no sort of character at all. Always in confusion, loose at every point, unhinged and unjointed, blowing and puffing here and there, but all ending in smoke.

Rarely, it is to be hoped, has political prejudice, in the case of a man whom nations loved, survived as it seems to have done in the town of Dumfries, Scotland, where Robert Burns lived, and where he died. It has been proposed to erect there a suitable monument in memory of him and in testimony of the fame which, through him, the town has acquired; but Burns was anything but a tory in politics, and hence the local conservatives have refused to give the enterprise any of their support. Stiff Scotch churchmen, who, as has been appropriately said, have infinitely more ground, on the score of theology, for objections to Burns, and the example he left to the world, have taken a widely different course, and are said to be among the strongest admirers and apologists of Burns in Dumfries.

"Rough on Rats."

Ask Druggists for it. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs, flies, vermin, insects. 15c.

DR. WINCHELL'S Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

NO DISCOVERY since the introduction of vaccination has equaled in importance that of absorption as illustrated in DR. HOLMAN'S LIVER PAD. It is the best Liver and Stomach Regulator of this century. Dr. Holman's Liver Pad courts investigation. It conquers prejudice. All live druggists keep them. Get a Pad. More than 200,000 living witnesses bear testimony to the efficacy of DR. HOLMAN'S LIVER PAD.

FOR Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

THE only hope of bald heads—CARBOLINE, a deodorized extract of petroleum. Every objection removed by recent improvement. It is now faultless. The only cure for baldness and the most delicate hair dressing known.

PURE COD LIVER OIL made from selected livers, on the seashore, by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It is absolutely pure and sweet. Patients who have once taken it prefer it to all others. Physicians have decided it superior to any of the other oils in market.

FOR Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when, to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with diseased lungs will take DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.

Dr. BULL'S
COUGH
SYRUP

WATCHES Catalogue free. Address, Standard American Watch Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

DR. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest-Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

YOUNG MEN If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

NEW YORK By SUNLIGHT and GASLIGHT
The only book in print describing the Great American Metropolis of To-day, with its Palaces, Crowded Thoroughfares, its Rushing Elevated Trains, its Countless Sights, its Noted Men, its Romances, Mysteries, Crimes and Tragedies. Written by JAMES D. McCABE, author of "Pictorial History of the World," "Centennial History of the United States."
For agency and terms address
H. N. HINCKLEY, 14 S. Canal St., Chicago.

WHEAT AND CORN. Now is the time to SPECULATE.
J. T. FITZGERALD & CO.,
Commission Merchants,
GRAIN AND PROVISIONS,
122 and 124 South Clark St., Chicago.
Trading in lots of 1,000 bushels and upward. Bought and sold on margins. Commission ½ per cent. Correspondence solicited. Send for daily market reports.

(Boston Sunday Herald.)

PERILS OF THE DEEP.

"During my trip down the River Tagus, in Spain," said Captain Boyton to a representative of this journal in a recent conversation by the sea shore, "I had to 'shoot' 105 waterfalls, the largest being about eighty-five feet, and innumerable rapids. Crossing the Straits of Messina, I had three ribs broken in a fight with sharks; and coming down the Somane, a river in France, I received a charge of shot from an excited and startled huntsman. Although this was not very pleasant and might be termed dangerous, I fear nothing more on my trip than intense cold; for, as long as my limbs are free and easy and not cramped or benumbed I am all right. Of late I carry a stock of ST. JACOBS OIL in my little boat—[The Captain calls it "Baby Mine," and has stored therein signal rockets, thermometer, compass, provisions, etc.]—and I have but little trouble. Before starting out I rub myself thoroughly with the article, and its action upon the muscles is wonderful. From constant exposure I am somewhat subject to rheumatic pains, and nothing would ever benefit me until I got hold of this Great German Remedy. Why, on my travels I have met people who had been suffering with rheumatism for years; by my advice they used the Oil and it cured them. I would sooner do without food for days than be without this remedy for one hour. In fact I would not attempt a trip without it." The Captain became very enthusiastic on the subject of ST. JACOBS OIL, and when we left him he was still citing instances of the curative qualities of the Great German Remedy to a party around him.

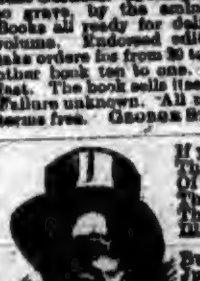
PLAYS! PLAYS! PLAYS! PLAYS! For Reading Clubs, for Amateur Theatricals, Temperance Plays, Drawing-Room Plays, Fairy Plays, Ethiopian Plays, Guide Books, Speakers, Pantomimes, Tableaux Lights, Magnesium Lights, Colored Fire, Burnt Cork, Theatrical Face Preparations, Jarley's Wax Works, Wigs, Beards, Moustaches, Costumes, Charades and Paper Scenery. New Catalogues sent free, containing full description and prices. SAMUEL FRENCH & SON, 38 E. 14th St., New York.

GARFIELD.—Agents wanted for the Life of President Garfield. A complete, faithful history from cradle to grave, by the eminent biographer, Col. Conwell. Books all ready for delivery. An elegantly illustrated volume. Endorsed edition. Liberal terms. Agents take orders for from 20 to 50 copies daily. Outsells any other book ten to one. Agents never made money so fast. The book sells itself. Experience not necessary. Failure unknown. All make immense profits. Private terms free. GEORGE STINSON & CO., Portland, Maine.



If you enjoy a laugh heartily
Then read our SCIENCE IN STORIES
Of Sammy Tubbs and his Spouse,
The Boy Doctor & Trick Monkey;
The author, E. B. Foote, M. D.
Illustrated contents free.
But if you're fond of lots o' fun,
Just buy the Polyopticon;
For Magic Lanterns are outdone.
The Poly. is a picture-gun
For photographs of any one.
MURRAY HILL PUB. CO.,
Box 788, New York City.

FRAZER
AXLE GREASE.
Best in the World. Get the genuine. Every package has our Trade-mark and is marked Frazer's. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Free! Cards! Free!
We will send free by mail a sample set of our German, French, English and American Fancy Cards, with a price list of over a hundred different designs, on receipt of a stamp for postage. They are not advertising cards, but large, fine, picture chromo cards, on gold, silver and tinted grounds, forming the finest collection in the world. We will also inclose a confidential price list of our large and small chromos. Address F. GLEASON & CO., 46 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

CHEAPEST BOOKS IN THE WORLD
[illegible]
MANHATTAN BOOK CO., 16 W. 14th St., N.Y. P.O. Box 4580.

PRICE $20. [illegible]
This N.Y. Singer Sewing Machine is the best ever made—[illegible] simple, convenient, and [illegible] Warranted 5 years, [illegible] 5 days trial. [illegible] 4,000,000 of this model [illegible] have been sold. Ask for circulars and testimonials. Low prices to clubs. [illegible] Thousands do every year, and thereby save the $15 to $50 usually paid to agents [illegible] buying direct. Cut this out, and when you or a friend need a Sewing Machine be sure to address Geo. Payne & Co., 47 Third Av., Chicago, Ill.

The Purest and Best Medicine ever Made.
A combination of Hops, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion, with all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, makes the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth.
No disease can possibly long exist where Hop Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.
They give new life and vigor to the aged and infirm.
To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetizer, Tonic and mild Stimulant, Hop Bitters are invaluable, without intoxicating.
No matter what your feelings or symptoms are what the disease or ailment is use Hop Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick but if you only feel bad or miserable, use them at once. It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.
$500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. Do not suffer or let your friends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop Bitters.
Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, drugged drunken nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "INVALIDS' FRIEND and HOPE" and no person or family should be without them.
D.I.C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics. All sold by druggists. Send for Circular. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N.Y. and Toronto, Ont.

For Two
Generations
The good and staunch old stand-by, MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, has done more to assuage pain, relieve suffering, and save the lives of men and beasts than all other liniments put together. Why? Because the Mustang penetrates through skin and flesh to the very bone, driving out all pain and soreness and morbid secretions, and restoring the afflicted part to sound and supple health.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY. [illegible] Prof. MARTINEZ the Great Spanish Seer and Wizard will for 35 cents with age, height, color of eyes, and lock of hair, send a correct picture of your future husband or wife, [illegible] Address Prof. L. Martinez, 10 Mont'y Pl., Boston, Mass.

ELECTRIC LIGHT! SENT FREE.
NERVOUS DEBILITY, Lost Manhood and impaired powers cured by MATHEWS' Improved Electro-Magnetic Belt and Absorbent Pad combined; [illegible] Do not purchase old-style $10 Belts when you can get the latest improved for $5. "Electric Light," a 24-column paper, sent free unsealed; sealed, 6c.
D. E. D. MATHEWS & CO.
34, 36 and 38 Fifth Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

C. N. U. No. 48

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Dr HARTER'S
Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.
GENTLEMEN:—I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your IRON TONIC, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. The old energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. WATSON, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.
The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary.
IRON TONIC.
MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., No. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE.
THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.,
Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the LAST YEAR than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, twenty years since; and are now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE and ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular MEDIUM and SMALLER STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $54, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than 100 styles of Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which will be useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or, 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

DR METTAUR'S ●
Dr. METTAUR'S HEADACHE PILLS cure most wonderfully in a very short time, both SICK and NERVOUS HEADACHE; and while acting on the nervous system, cleanse the stomach of excess of bile, producing a regular healthy action of the bowels.
● ● HEADACHE
A full size box of these valuable PILLS, with full directions for a complete cure, mailed to any address on receipt of nine three-cent postage stamps. For sale by all druggists at 25c. Sole Proprietors,
BROWN CHEMICAL COMPANY, Baltimore, Md.
● ● ● ● PILLS

PETROLEUM JELLY Sold by All Druggists.
Used and approved by the leading PHYSICIANS of EUROPE and AMERICA.
The most Valuable Family Remedy known.
VASELINE
For the Treatment of WOUNDS, BURNS, SORES, CUTS, CHILBLAINS, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, HEMORRHOIDS, Etc. Also for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Croup and Diphtheria, etc.
Try them. 25 and 50 cent sizes of all our goods.
[illegible] Vaseline Cold Cream, Vaseline Camphor Ice, Vaseline Toilet Soaps, are superior to any similar ones.
VASELINE CONFECTIONS. [illegible]
GRAND MEDAL AT THE PHILADELPHIA EXPOSITION.
SILVER MEDAL AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., NOV. 17, 1881.

THE new paper at Angola has made its appearance. It is called the Steuben County Journal, and is in every way, a respectable and well arranged paper. It will be republican in politics. Just what use, politically it can be put to in a county two thirds of whose voters are already republican, we cannot say, and for the matter of that, we do not care. But as adding another literary feature to our neighboring town, we wish it and its publishers success. We cheerfully welcome Bros. Ferrier and Rakestraw to the editorial guild, and place their paper on our exchange list.

◆

JOSEPH WILSON, who was well-known in war times, as a lieutenant on the rebel cruiser Alabama, was killed on a railroad near Tallahasse, Florida, a few days ago. He was on the Alabama at the time of the action with the Kearsarge, and he was with the noted Mrs. Greenough when she lost her life off the North Carolina coast. Wilson and Mrs. Greenough left a blockade-runner in a yawl in order to slip between the federal war vessels. The vessel was capsized in a storm, Mrs. Greenough was drowned and Wilson barely managed to swim ashore.

◆

THE national tariff convention meets in New York, Nov. 28. The subjects to be discussed at this meeting are:

First, United States treasury decisions; second, Tariff Revision by Commission, third, Reduction of International Taxation; fourth, Balance of Trade and Promotion of Ship-building Interests. The delegates are expected to furnish statistics of trade showing the following three great points of protectionists: First, Influence of protection on reduction of manufacturers' prices; second, Increase in rate of wages; third, Expansion and enhancement of agricultural interest by the growth of home manufactures and our domestic industries.

◆

THE Times-Star of Cincinnati, has the following piquant article in a recent issue: We understand that the reform club of this city expects to give a reception to Hon. George W. Curtis in the not very distant future. We are glad Mr. Curtis is coming out, and we pledge the best efforts of our club to the work of reforming him. Since the Cincinnati reform club was organized, Mr. Curtis has been guilty of the heinous political crime of helping in the work of assessing the government employes in New York to aid in carrying an election. And what makes the crime still blacker is that the campaign was not a brilliant success, even after the assessments had been levied. Mr. Curtis needs reforming, needs it badly, and needs it right away, and the Cincinnati club can do it. Bring him out.

◆

A SINGULAR accident occured last Tuesday, where the Bedford and Switz City railroad crosses the White river. As the east bound train started across the bridge, a combination span slipped from the abutments and fell with the entire train into the river, a distance of thirty feet. The water was from four to ten feet in depth, and the engine, with three men was entirely submerged. The men were rescued from the engine, suffering slight injures.

The remainder of the crew and passengers fared worse in the caboose, as it left the bridge last, and was pitched against the train, fatally injuring a brakeman, named John Gardner, of Bedford, and seriously injuring a passenger, named Rainbolt, and a well-known traveling man, named Moffett, of Indianapolis. Other passengers and crew escaped with slight bruises. The people on the shore had to make a raft to rescue the passengers from the middle of the river. This is the same bridge that washed away two years ago.

◆

THE star route thieves no doubt breath easier now. Judge Cox before whom the cases were pending decided last week, that they must be proceeded against by indictment, and not on informations. He sustained a motion to quash the informations and as the time for indicting them, has been allowed to run a sufficient length of time, to be barred by limitation, they are in no danger of further prosecution. What a country this is getting to be. Elections do not always elect, bank examinations do not examine, criminal informations do not inform, investigations do not investigate and report of officers do not report, but are securely locked up until the offence is barred by the status of limitations. It seems as though when republican officials fire at big game, they always manage to miss it. If the stalwart Guiteau was of as much consequence to the republican party, as Dorsey, Brady and the other star routers, we would have no faith in his being punished. They are now making a great effort to prove him insane. Could not that be determined by a post mortem examination of such experts as Dr. Bliss et al? Why fool with such things. Either give it out that stealing and killing are some of John Sherman's. Any means or else punish at least the meanest ones.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank those teachers and superintendents, who so faithfully assisted in the work of the institute last week. I am under special obligations to Mr. A. L. Lamport, of the Waterloo schools, and Mr. O. Z. Hubbell, of the Butler schools, for the important, but difficult work of reporting the lectures for the daily paper. These gentlemen gave their time and attention fully to the work, besides giving several lessons, and their report of the most difficult subjects, shows a degree of correctness and faithfulness of detail, that are admirable. The work would be creditable to a short hand reporter. Neither are we to overlook the valuable assistance given by C. M. Merica, of the Garrett schools, and M. W. Harrison and W. P. Myers, of Auburn. These and the others who assisted to make the institute one of the most valuable, we have ever held, have placed me under lasting obligations. Thanks gentlemen, one and all.

JAMES A. BARNS,
Co. Supt.

◆

OUR citizens are beginning to discuss the gravel road question in earnest. This is as it should be. Should the roads continue in their present condition for sixty days, the loss to our business men would be a severe one. We hope to see the meeting next Tuesday evening, well attended, and some definite arrangement made by which the roads leading into our town, will be made passable. We hope the farmers around town will come to the meeting, and aid our citizens in the good work.

◆

ACTING vice-president of the United States, Judge Davis, owing to his being a senator and chosen president pro tem. from that body, receives part of his salary at the treasury, and part is paid by the secretary of the senate. His pay as senator, $5,000, is paid by the secretary; the balance, $3,000, at the treasury.

◆

A NEW YORK paper says that the body of A. T. Stewart was recovered last week upon payment of $87,000 and a pledge that the robbers should not be prosecuted, and that it was placed in Garden City on last Tuesday night. It is a little over three years since the body was stolen.

◆

AT the approaching coronation of the Czar and Czarina the ivory throne of Constantine, the last emperor of Constantinople, is to be used. The Czarina is to occupy a throne adorned with 876 diamonds and rubies and 1,223 sapphires, turquises and pearls of the first water.

◆

THE probabilities are that it will take several days yet, before a full jury will be empanneled in the Guiteau case. The men who have neither formed nor expressed an opinion in this case, are just a little bit scarce.

◆

QUEEN VICTORIA completed on October 25, a reign of forty-four years and one hundred twenty-eight days, which is just the length of time Queen Elizabeth sat on the throne.

◆

—A young man by the name of Bush Fox, living in Jamestown township, Steuben county, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Ill-health is supposed to have been the cause.

◆

GENERAL HANCOCK and Governor Tilden are among those who are expected to visit Atlanta, before the close of the cotton exposition.

◆

REV. DR. EARLES, of Rutland, Vt., recently preached his twenty thousandth sermon.

◆

COLORADO is wrestling with the question of locating anew its state capital.

◆

—Ensley & Harter have put a new Rideout heater in their business room.

◆

Our Neighbors.

The Churubusco Herald is to be removed to Columbia City, at which place it will be published in the future.

The Syracuse correspondent of the Warsaw Union says: "Mr. Kelley, father of Dr. Kelley, of the Kelley house, is spending a week with his son. Although Mr. Kelley has reached the ripe old age of eighty-four, his health is still good and his memory is remarkable.

The club house at Cedar Beach, is closed for the season. We learn that the past season has been a profitable one for the association. It is rumored that the B. & O. road would like to purchase the property, but the stockholders refuse to sell.

Valparaiso, with a population of about five thousand inhabitants, has fifteen saloons, twenty-seven disciples of esculapius, four drug stores and two undertakers. With all this machinery for killing and putting away people it is hardly possible that our population will increase very rapidly during the next decade.—[Valparaiso Messenger.

We copy from one of our exchanges, that under the new law it becomes the duty of the board of county commissioners to designate places of holding elections, which shall be described by definite boundaries and which shall not contain more than 350 voters, as near as may be, the number to be determined by the official returns of the last general election. All ballots hereafter must be written or printed on plain white paper of a uniform width of three inches. All general elections take place on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

Additional Local.

Citizens' Meeting.

All those who are interested in the subject of gravel roads are respectfully invited to meet at the court-house, in Auburn, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 22, for the purpose of adopting some means by which this noble work can be started. Come out every body:

S. J. Brandon, Dr. Littlefield, C. P. Houser, Nick Ensley, Isaac Ochs, F. E. Davenport, Chas. Eckhart, Jas. McClellan, Chas. Beugnot, Geo. Schaab, Dr. Matheny, Dr. Casebeer, W. J. Austin, W. H. McQuiston, G. C. Ralston, D. D. Snyder, W. H. Kiblinger, S. Kutzner, Frank Baird, John L. Davis.

◆

—There are 900 bachelors out in Manitoba, who are reported ready to marry. A sympathetic Canadian editor has taken up their cause and proposes to conduct an excursion of marriagble girls there, early in the spring. A chance to join the expedition is to be open until the first of April next, unless the requisite number is sooner obtained. Here's a chance, girls.

◆

—A crank by the name of J. Howard Welles, has threatened the life of Jay Gould, and got into trouble about it. Experience teaches, that quite a large majority of people object to being killed.

◆

Waterloo.

B. B. Long Sundayed in town.

Henry Zerkle is tending target this week.

Judge Woodhull was in town last Friday.

Greenback meeting at the hall last night.

Thomas Askey, of Kalamazoo, Mich,, is in town.

C. Klotz and family are at Ligonier visiting friends.

Geo. Crane went to Toledo yesterday, to visit his brother.

Mr. Rose and Mr. Penfield were on our streets Monday.

Elder Bartlett and wife, of Painesville, Ohio, are visiting friends in town.

Nearly every teacher in our public schools was at the institute last week.

R. M. Lockhart was called on last week, to attend the inter-state agricultural convention at Chicago,

Mr. & Mrs. W. S. Best, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. J. I. Best have returned from their eastern trip.

Alfred Thomas, of Wooster, Ohio, a brother of Mrs. Dr. Chamberlain, has been in town for a few days past.

Phil Plum has been promoted to yard master, of the yard at Butler, and O. C. Dickinson takes his place at this station,

Sam Beck has rented his rooms to C. W. Gillette, who will carry on the business of buying and shipping poultry during the coming poultry season.

◆

The Infinitive.

[By one of the boys.]

Perhaps no other subject is so unsettled in the minds of many teachers and students, and is touched upon so lightly by many of our able grammarians, as that of the infinitive. Owing to these facts, various opinions are entertained as to the construction and use of this verb, and especially as to whether or not it may take a subject. In order to arrive at some definite conclusion on that point, it is necessary to notice the use of a verb in a sentence. A verb denotes action, being or state, or as a copula asserts the predicate of the subject, as there can be no action, being or state, without some perceptible object to act or exist in that state of being, and as this agent is called the subject, it necessarily follows that every verb must have a subject, either expressed or understood. Now as the infinitive is simply a verb in the infinite mode, it can by no possible means be an exception to the above general rule: to illustrate that point, take, "She desired that William should go." in the clause, that William should go, it is readily seen that William is the subject of the finite verb should go; changing the finite verb to an infinitive, William remains the agent through which the action denoted by the infinitive, to go, must be effected; then according to the definition of subject, as given by all grammarians, William is the subject of the infinitive to go. What is true of the infinitive under consideration, can be proven of any infinitive whatever. Therefore the necessary conclusion is, that all infinitives take subjects, either expressed or understood.

SELAH.

◆

ASHBURNHAM, MASS., Jan. 14, 1880.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skilful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I tried hop bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed: I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them used 'em and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

21 MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

—Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures kidney disease, gravel, piles, billious headache, and pains which are caused by disordered liver and Kidneys. Thousands have been cured, why should you not try it? Your druggist will tell you that it is one of the most successful medicine ever known. It is sold in both Dry and Liquid form, and its action is positive and sure in either.—Dallas Tex. Herald.

COMPLICATIONS: If the thousands that now have their rest and comfort destroyed by complication of liver and kidney complaints would give nature's remedy, Kidney-Wort a trial they would be speedily cured. It acts on both organs at the same time and therefore completely fills the bill for a perfect remedy. If you have a lame back and disordered kidneys use it at once. Don't neglect them.—Mirror and Farmer.

EASILY PROVEN. It is easily proven that malarial fevers, constipation, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, general debility, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to this great disease conqueror, Hop Bitters. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and the infirm always.

—List of letters unclaimed in the Auburn postoffice Nov. 14, '81: Miss Dora Brandabarry, Sarah Blatner, Christian Cury, C. Curry, John, Mrs Solomon Frost, William Feagler, Ambrory Kaninka, Mrs. Eunice Long, M. J. Mooney, M. R. Murphy, S. A. Madden, Mis. Mary McCoskey, W. W. Sechler, S. Shanks.

—Thousands of ladies have found sudden relief from all their woes by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the great remedy for diseases peculiar to females. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Ave., Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

—Two doses of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup completely cured my child of a severe case of the croup. I have used a great many different cough medicines, but have never found any so efficient as Dr. Marshall's.

J. W. SPELLMAN, Elkhart Ind.

—Our druggists are selling large quantities of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup for coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints generally. It takes the lead of all cough remedies. Try it. Only twenty-five and fifty cents a bottle.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

—The M. E. social will be entertained by the ladies of the second division, at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Casebeer next Wednesday evening.

◆

$1,000 Reward,

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DeBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 215 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist.

Legal Matter.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, executor of the will of Adam Shilling, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent. WILLIAM SHUTT, Executor

Oct. 31st, 1881, 44-3w.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned have been appointed by the judge of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, executors of the will of George Bittenger, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

JACOB R. BITTENGER,
ADAM H. BITTENGER,
Executors.

44-3w.
Oct. 17th, 1881.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

George Gertenslager, Charles M. Lovington and the Singer Manufacturing company, impleaded with others, are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to foreclose a mortgage on real estate, by Lewis Spangler; and that the same will be heard and determined on the first juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 19th, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of October, 1881.

43-3w. JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Notice to Non-Residens.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

Martin A. King, Oliver Boyer and Jacob Kahn impleaded with others, are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court for the forclosure of a mortgage by John H. Baxter; and that the same, will be heard and determined on the 18th juridical day of the next term of said court, which term commences at nine o'clock a. m., December 19 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 15th day of November, 1881.

J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

Levi H. Cupp is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court, for a divorce, by Julia Cupp, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 18th juridical day, at nine o'clock a. m., of the next term of said court, which commences December 19, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 14th day of November, 1881

JOHN W. BAXTER,
Clerk.

46-3w.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Elizabeth Bickel, deceased, Christopher Welch, administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 14th day of November, 1881.

JOHN W. BAXTER,
Clerk.

46-2w.

E. W. Fosdick, Attorney

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

Mary J. Doolittle, David Doolittle, Peter R. David, James L. David, Sylvester Mann, William Austin, Joseph Hyman Jacob Keller, Celia Rank, Mary Rank and Byron Rank, impleaded with others, are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, for the forclosure of a mortgage on real estate, by Edward W. Fosdick; and that the same will be heard and determined on the 9th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 19th, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 1st day of November, 1881.

4-3w. JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

License Notice.

THE undersigned, a male inhabitant of the state of Indiana, over twenty-one years of age, hereby gives notice to the citizens of the incorporated town of Auburn, DeKalb county, Indiana, that he will, at the December, 1881, session of the board of commissioners of said county, apply for license to retail spiritous, vinous and malt liquors in a less quantity than a quart at a time, and with the privilege of permitting the same to be drank on the following premises, viz:

Commencing at the southeast corner of lot number sixty-seven (67), old plat of the town of Auburn, in said county, and running thence west one hundred and twenty (120) feet, thence north twenty-two (22) feet, thence east one hundred and twenty (120) feet, thence south to the place of beginning.

JOSEPH P. ROTHENBERGER.

Executor's Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned executor, of the last will of George Bittinger, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, at the late residence of the testator, near Spencerville, in Concord township, DeKalb county, Indiana, on SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1881.

The personal property of said estate, Consisting of one horse, one buggy, light wagon harness, hay, corn, plows, harrows and other farming implements. Lumber consisting of plank, fence-posts and fencing boards; also household and kitchen furniture and various other articles. Sale to begin at ten o'clock a. m. Terms: Sums of five dollars and under, cash; over five dollars, a credit of ten months will be given the purchaser, giving note waiving valuation and appraisement laws, and bearing six per cent interest after maturity, with sufficient security.

JACOB R. BITTINGER,
ADAM H. BITTINGER,
Executors,

Nov. 10, 1881.

PANA, ILL., Dec. 28, 1880.—We have tried your Ague Tonic and found it good—hard to beat. J. H. YARNELL. 3

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 43-tf.

FOR SALE.—Small drug store, located at Fairfield Center, Indiana. Furniture all new and attractive. Good location, and good investment to any one who means business. For particulars enquire of BOUGHMAN & RUDOLPH,
36 2mo. Fairfield Center Ind

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered, by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

PANA, ILL., Jan. 25, 1881.—I have used your Kress Fever Tonic, and found it much easier to cure the chills with it than for me to solve your rebus. S. D. ABBOTT. 37-3w.

MONEY TO LOAN.—If you wish to borrow money on good time and easy terms, call on James E. Rose, Auburn, Indiana. 37 tf

—Please notice that Capt. W. M. Boughan is sole agent for a splendid household book, entitled, "The Home of Our Country." All lovers of good moral reading, will do well to give him a call and subscribe for his book. It is a treasure that should be in every family. 45-3w.

The Wonderful Elasticity

-OF A-

DOLLAR SHOW.

-IN-

THE DOLLAR DEPARTMENT

-OF THE-

STAR CLOTHING HOUSE.

ONE DOLLAR buys a HAT (50 styles)	worth $2.00
ONE DOLLAR secures a DRESS SHIRT	worth 1.75
ONE DOLLAR pays for a pair of JEAN PANTS	worth 1.50
ONE DOLLAR buys a splendid KNIT JACKET	worth 1.75

In fact, One Dollar will do more for you at the "STAR" than double that amount elsewhere. The largest stock always shown; the lowest prices always named

SAM, PETE & MAX

Ft. WAYNE, - - - Indiana

STILL AT THE FRONT!

:o:

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPL PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cents
BEST SHIRTING	10 cents
GOOD MUSLIN	6 cents

Everything else in proportion.

:o:

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

:o:

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

:o:

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c. per lb
Coffee A Sugar	10c. per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. per lb.
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. per lb.
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. per lb.
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb.	6 for $1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per lb
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

:o:

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

PILES
NO CURE NO PAY
FISTULA RECTAL ULCERS FISSURES
CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED
CURE BEFORE TOO LATE
DR. A.W. BRINKERHOFF'S Wonderful NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE
PATENTED
OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED
IN FOUR YEARS BY DR BRINKERHOFF'S CURE WARRANTED

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS

—In CONVENIENCE,—

DURABILITY, ECONOMY,

—AND—

GENERAL CONSTRUCTION.

BUY THE BEST!

SOLD BY KIBLINGER & CO.

Holloway' Pills.

Never dispair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispels doubt are the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co, Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made Costly outfit free. Address, True and Co Augusta, Maine. [Nov 7. 1y

—Patronize the book agent in our town, Capt. W. M. Borghan, he sells The Home of Our Country, also Life of Garfield, Happy Hours, Bibles and testaments. 45-3w.

—Don't buy any toilet soaps until you see Davenport, the druggist.

—Kiblinger & Co want 50 tons of old iron. 45 tf.

ENSLEY & HARTER

Are now showing an

Elegant Line!

—OF—

NEW GOODS

Which they have

Just Received

And are selling at

BOTTOM PRICES!

Please Examine our Goods, and compare prices.

ENSLEY & HARTER

Guide Them Aright.

—Howard McCord will teach the school south of Corunna. This is his first attempt, but if he watches his Ps and Qs, he'll pull through all right.

—Milo Thomas will teach the school in his neighborhood this term. It will be remembered that Milo was drilled by Kib last spring, and he ought to be a good instructor.

—Miss Jossie Rush will teach the Green's Corners school this winter. Jossie is a good instructor, and the neighborhood there can congratulate themselves on their good fortune.

—Archie McIntyre will teach the Sedan school this winter. We frequently go up there to See Dan, and we'll drop in on him and count the strokes which bring the unruly boy to "limerick."

—Miss Annise Cowan will conduct the school two miles west of town. She was employed at that place last summer, and the fact that she is again solicited, goes to show that the people appreciate her talent.

—Miss Rosa Shaffer will use the pointer in the Maurer's school-house, south of town. Rosa is a successful teacher, well liked by scholars and parents, and we guarantee a good school this winter at Maurer's.

All Right.

We received a note Monday which reads: "Mr. Editor, I am on the marry and would like to have you tell me what constitutes a good looking girl, Theo. Kessler." Well, sir, get one with dark hair, a prominent forehead, an elastic walk, easy gesture and good natural ability. A merry hearted, bewitching maiden, without a spark of envy or malice in her whole composition, enjoys herself and wants everybody else to do the same; always has a kind word and a pleasant smile for one and all. Such a girl will brighten the future of any man. She resembles a sunbeam which brightens everything it comes in contact with.

The Kind of a Tramp.

Last Saturday, a blear-eyed tramp, with habiliments very much dilapidated, called at our residence and asked for a bite to eat. We handed the sore-footed, care-worn looking chap a loaf of bread and a pound of butter, which he put away with remarkable speed and ease. After he had devoured the "chuck," we turned away and went into the house. In a few moments our attention was called to a "fiddling" performance on the wood pile, and upon raising the window blind, our eye mets the whole-souled tramp everlastingly making that wood-saw hum. He cut one cordwood stick twice in two, turned the saw upside down, and after running his fingers over the teeth, shook his head and pulled out for the business part of town.

High Water.

Cedar Creek has been "on a high" for several days, the water spreading over more territory than it was ever known to do before. The damage caused "along the line" is about as usual. The bottom lands, east of town, are covered with fence rails, boards, wood, etc. If this stream was cleaned out and straightened it would save a large amount of property and labor every year.

—When the boys get on a drunk in Lagrange, it is necessary to bring revolvers into use in order to tame them down

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—Four jail larks.

—The roads are bad.

—Blanket your horses.

—Good theatre weather.

—The leaves have fallen.

—Indian summer, come on.

—Persimmons are ready to eat.

—Only a few weeks more of '81.

—The county guardians are in session.

—Christmas comes on Sabbath this year.

—Erv. Scott occupies his brothers residence.

—Now, the pill peddler earns his money.

—Mush and milk festivals will soon be ripe.

—We had quite a snow storm last Friday.

—The Wabash road changed time Sunday.

—Racing among corn huskers is all the rage.

—Not enough interest taken in the band yet.

—The hack horses begin to show their ribs.

—The stores are filling up with holiday goods.

—The Eagle mills have resumed business again.

—Work on the school house has been abandoned.

—The Eackhart sidewalk is very acceptable now.

—The country trade has been very light this week.

—Esquire Ober is making money in the wood trade.

—Capt. Boughan drives his own horse and buggy.

—Now, Mr. Guiteau, we'll attend to your little matter.

—Milo Gunsenhouser threw up his cases on the Daily.

—Don Lawrence talks of moving back to this place again.

—Chris. Ashelman has put a new roof on his residence.

—Our dealers want forty cents a head for "young" chickens.

—Will our church people get up a Thanksgiving dinner?

—Wood is in demand and prices continue to drain the pocket.

—God made the country, but he left the roads for man to make.

—Ben. Williams will take his sewing machine to Butler this week.

—The Underhill lamps would not come amiss these dark nights.

—"Shoe the horse and shoe the mare and let the little colt go bare."

—Mrs. Daniel McClellan was taken to the insane asylum Monday.

—The girl who dropped a basket of eggs while flirting made a mash.

—The waves of a woman's handkerchief have wrecked many a man.

—Now the farmers should save their seed corn. We know all about it.

—Dock Beard is learning the flour and bran trade at the Eagle mills.

—Umbrella repairers and hand-organ "Profs." can pull in for the winter.

—Bro. Parker wants to dispose of one half interest in the Kendallville news.

—The Umber boys have established a wood yard. It is several miles from town.

—Mrs. Snyders brick house, south of town, is said to be gradually falling down.

—Jim. Rhodenbaugh might stoop down and tell us something of the weather.

—The roof of Houston's building was repaired this week. It don't have fall enough.

—J. L. Davis has torn out the floor leading to his store room and put in a new one.

—When an oyster train goes through on the B. & O., the Junction boys have a "picnic."

—The roads in town froze hard enough Monday night to carry up a loaded wagon.

—Rev. Dennis, of Garrett, delivered another lecture at the "soldiers" hall last Sunday.

—Guiteau says he loves new enterprises. He will soon be treated to a noose enterprise.

—Hank Mader has taken the top off his buggy. The canopy of heaven is a good enough cover for him.

—There are several stray dogs in the town. Owners can have them on application to the town dads.

—James Culbertson will erect a new brick residence in the spring. It is said that it will be a daisy.

—The school trustees of the county met in the COURIER rooms last Thursday, and transacted business.

—W. J. Austin has got through buying apples and will now give his attention to the boot and shoe trade.

—The dog collary season will soon be upon us. The epidemic will be with us in full blast the first of next April.

—We have completed a number of pension blanks for P. J. Lockwood. He does a large business in this line.

Too Slow.

We received a list of the names of those who assisted in the Cissel donation at Corunna, but they came too late for us to have them put in type. We were also requested to thank Hon. L. D. Britton for his services in the enterprise, and for making the presentation speech. The party was a fine affair, there being eighty-two guests present. "No cake."

—Mr. David Link, living west of Waterloo, brought to our office quite a natural curiosity this week, in the shape of two stalks of corn having two well-developed ears of corn on each stalk. One a dark red, and the other yellow. This is the first time that we have ever seen red and yellow corn grow on the same stalk. The curiosity can be seen at our office. We just expect that next year Dave will add sweet corn to the combination.

—In the bright lexicon of newspaper experience, we know of nothing that gives more joy to our heart than to have some of our love-sick loafers, who have been holding a conversation on "The Girl" for two hours, say, "Well, I must go." The appearance of a cash subscriber is very enjoyable, but this is only trivial compared to the coat-tail view of the young man as he trips down the stairs.

—J. L. Ferguson, the marble dealer of Columbia City, has our thanks for a fine specimen of his handiwork in the shape of a marble mantle. We will keep it as a part of our personal effects and try to work the best of our furniture up to it. In the same package we received a photograph of his fine specimen of statuary, "Clinging to the Cross" Anyone who doubts his ability and genius can call and satisfy themselves by inspecting the picture.

—One of our young ladies purchased a pound of raisins, 18 cts., and received 55 cents change. The mistake was not noticed until she reached home, and she returned immediately, but the grocer refused to give her the right money. We know the lady well, and can vouch for her honesty. The matter looks a little crooked upon the part of the merchant.

—Last Sunday Mrs. F. Picker gazed on her sixty-second birthday. She is a woman of great endurance and carries her age remarkably well. A number of the children gathered at her home and partook of a sumptuous dinner. Several presents were given her, and she seemed to enjoy the occasion with the same life and ambition as those of much more tender years.

—Sim. Tarney had to elevate his porkers at the slaughter house Sunday. Sim. very much disliked to labor on this holy day, but he was compelled to do so in order to save his hogs from a watery grave. The church bells were pealing forth, "Come sinners, come," and poor Sim. had to go it "root hog or die" in water waist deep.

—We present, this week, a full report of the work done in the institute last week, and hope every one who feels an interest in the schools will read the articles carefully. They contain matter of great value, especially to teachers, and we hope will be preserved for future use.

—We had a serenading club managed under strict resolutions. The cold weather has caused it to "bust," or, like all bright and beautiful things, it has faded away. When the spring time again opens it will be resurrected, and the lads will resume their midnight howls without arrest.

—"Dearest," sighed the young man, "do you know what of all outward things is nearest my heart?" Realy I can't say, but if you have any regard for your health in this changeable weather I should think it was a flannel shirt." She was too practical and it broke the engagement.

—When Suveyor Foltz ties his horse to the fence, while he goes to talk with his girl, and stays too long, some of the good natured farmer boys provide his noble animal with corn fodder, and also put corn in his buggy. That's the kind of a neighborhood to deal in.

—Buck Allen's Texas colt came near being killed by a Wabash train Tuesday evening. The animal ran ahead of the engine for eighty rods, and jumped a cattle-guard. It it had not been a fleet-footed animal it would have certainly been killed.

—Don't go to church in the morning—that's when they pass the contribution box around. You can attend evening services and it won't cost you anything. Lights and fuel don't cost much, and the preacher can look out for himself.

—The last day of the institute was very disagreeable, rain, snow and sleet being the main characteristics. Quite a number assembled, however, and the usual programme was ably and illustratively carried out.

—The following parties have "jined" since last week: Wm. H. Moore and Mellie Kenestrick, Levi Bennett and Angeline Hammon, Wm. Rose and Laura Hoffman. Business will brighten up as the holidays come nearer.

—The ear is a delicate creature. Ask a man for the loan of $10 and the chances are that his ear won't hear you. Softly whisper, "Come and take something," and the ear manifests an acuteness that is marvelous.

Poetical.

One day last week our town was favored with a traveling poet. He was immense in this line, and among his choice selections was "Mary's Little Lamb." He only charged one cent for each production. We paid close attention to the beautiful lines on Mary and her lamb, and we give it, in his language, to our readers gratuiously:

Mary had a little fleece,
And its lamb was white as snow,
And everywhere this creature went,
The fleece was sure to go.

He was a faithful old poet, and, although he had to repeat ten pieces to buy one drink, he managed to get gloriously drunk about six nights out of a week.

Institute Daily.

Copies of the Institute Daily can be had on application to this office. Single copies five cents, or the whole series for fifteen cents. Those who have paid and do not receive their papers, can have them forwarded by sending in their names.

—The supreme court of this state holds that the playing of billiards and pool, where the looser pays for the game, is gambling, and that the proprietor of the tables is amendable under the statue for keeping a gambling house. The theory of the decision is that the hire of the table, which is the amount charged for the game, is wagered on the skill of the players.

—S. R. Heberling, general agent of J. I. Case T. M. Co., of Racine, Wis., has purchased T. J. Cuppy's residence, south Nicholas Ensley's, and will moove to this place soon. In the future he will make this his headquartrs for the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and southern Michigan. Our citizens should give him encouragement. Inquiries see N. & G. Ensley.

—A law enacted by the last legislature prohibits the sale or giving of any kind of a weapon or catridges to boys under twenty-one years of age. Even a father cannot give his minor son a pistol, dirk or any weapon that can be concealed about a person, without laying himself liable to the penalty of the law.

—Be careful not to sow the seeds of disease just at this time. A little carelessness now may result in a winter of suffering. The present weather is provocative of pneumonia. Keep the children's feet dry.

—If our citizens look to their future interest they will make some arrangements to get a fire engine. The bucket brigade has but little effect upon a fire after it gets under full headway.

—If Frank Culbertson has any future use for his express wagon, it will be money in his pocket to find more suitable quarters for it than on Eight street. The boys handle it roughly.

—One who signs himself "A Poet," writes asking our club rates. Nothing; nothing at all. Bring along the piece you have just dashed off, and we'll do the clubbing gratis.

—Here is the way the local editor on Tom, Mays paper, down in the sunny south, writes: "Peach, apple, pear and plum trees, in some orchards, are almost in full bloom."

—The girls wear a new style hat that is very becoming. It flares up in front and flops down behind, laying, a la, close to the waist. Its the style and that settles it.

—Little Samme Halston has found her pet dog. It was returned to her without the collar on, showing that some one took a fancy to the pup besides Samme.

—Although early in the season, we announce, at the request of Mr. Vennor, that during the coming winter, water will, as usual, freeze with the slippery side up.

—I. O. Bachtel has built an awning to his mill, so that in the future his numerous customers can be in the dry while loading and unloading their grists.

—The water surrounded John Kreuger's house last Sunday. Now, if John were a duck he would have been happy; but then he isn't—he's a Dutchman.

—Do not forget the meeting at the court-house next Tuesday evening. The subject of gravel roads is of vital importance to every one.

—The citizens at the north end had to keep "on their pins" last week. It was difficult for a sober man to keep the "toe-path along the raging canal."

—The goods were moved out of Huston's room this week, preparatory to the opening of another "hoodle mill." We will have eight retail saloons.

—The weather clerk has promised us a nice day for Sunday. Let the Sunday school and church going people prepare for a full turnout.

—We hear that Mike Long talks of buying an interest in the Kendallville Standard. That is one of the best papers in Northern Indiana.

—We have emptied our waste basket to make room for the usual amount of poetic effusions on the topic of the beautiful snow.

—Plump girls are said to be going out of fashing. If this is true, the plumper the girl the slimmer her chances.

—Thanksgiving services will be had at the Presbyterian church next Thursday at half past ten a. m. Let all turn out.

Personal.

—Frank Latson is at home.

—Sherm. Hollister was away last week.

—Clark Baxter was at Waterloo, Wednesday.

—Wes. McBride was on the streets Tuesday.

—Charley Follett, the clog and jig dancer, is in town.

—Sam. Bach, Waterloo, was on the streets Monday.

—Frank Basop, of Garrett, was on the street last week.

—J. C. Henry returned Saturday from a business round.

—Frank Lens is advance agent for the Townsend troupe.

—Mrs. W. Moore, living in the north end, is lying quite low.

—The senior editor visited the Waterloo schools yesterday.

—Mr. L. Bowers and wife have returned from their Kansas trip.

Mr. M. E. Barbitz, of Mich., will move his family here next week.

—Mr. E. E. Bumpus has our thanks for late papers from Hannibal, Mo.

—Billy Little, the city shoemaker at Newville came over Saturday to see the boys.

—Daniel Swihart has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., much improved in health.

—Johnny Gossage came up from Wayne, Tuesday evening, to see his ma. Oh ma—ud.

—Reuben Lockwood, who has been dealing out west for some time past, has returned home.

—Charley Cool has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to be on the streets again.

—Elmer Bumpus left Sunday night for Kansas city, where he will carry the hod for brick masons.

—Miss Katie Baumann, who has been visiting Mrs. Charley Jackson for several weeks, has gone home.

—Oat. Welling, of Bryan, Ohio, is employed at August Stutz' "boxing hall." Oat. takes, well among the boys.

—We see by the last week's Milton, Iowa, Herald, that Will S. Baxter, of Waterloo, has arrived in that place.

—Mrs. Spencer Dills, nee Maggie Searight, of Butler, was visiting with Mrs. S. W. and A. J. Ralston last week.

—Trustee Franks, of Richland township, gave the COURIER a call the other day. He is a lively, jovial fellow.

—Charley Hoffman, a harness maker who worked for Bill Sheffer some time ago, is in town. Charley is a good-un.

—Charley Beugnot, Isaac Ditmar and D. S. Ober left Tuesday for Atlanta, Georgia, where they will attend the cotton exposition.

—Mr. & Mrs. Lamport, and Misses Ida and Rose Blair, of Waterloo, presented their smiling countenances in the COURIER sanctum, while attending the institute last week.

—J. L. Ferguson the marble man from Columbia City, was in town Saturday. We understand he has taken in a partner and will do granite and marble business on a still larger scale. Jim is solid.

—Doc. Ryan "spilt" himself down upon us again last Sunday. By the way Doc. is getting to be quite a lady's man, and we heartily recommend him to the marriageble girls at North Manchester.

—Misses Code and Emma Fisher and Miss Hattie Hoover, of Waterloo town, gave us a pleasant and interesting visit last week. They figured promently at the institute (being the best looking three) and are promising young ladies.

—Mr. O. Z. Hubbell, editor of the Institute Daily, is a happy, good-natured fellow. He can (not) set a column and a half of type in an hour, and we can only account for his speed from the fact that he learned the trade in the Butler Record office.

—We received a pleasant call Monday from H. J. Richardson, "Happy Harry" the author of the "original dialect sketches" now so popular in this country. Mr. R. shows a versatility of talent, and an ability to adapt himself to all the conditions of life represented in his sketches.

—F. E. Davenport, our pioneer druggist, it is said, will build a brick store room in the spring. He will finish it so as to use the second story for a dwelling.

—Two of the Republican boys went hunting last week. They killed two ducks (tame ones), and winged one turkey (tame), wounded a red squirrel and stole a hat full of apples.

—The hub and spoke factory will shut down this week and wait until the roads get so that timber can be hauled at less expense than now.

—Harrison, the "boy preacher," is in Chicago, filling the people with the glory of the Lord. His regular charge is $100 a fill.

—If any of our readers do not know what "sour mash" is, we have heard that John S. Boots, of Jackson township, can tell.

—The time has arrived when two oysters will go bathing in a weak dilution of milk and water and be hailed as a "church stew."

—Most of our rural schools begin this week, and the faithful pedagogue will board 'round and draw his little $30 a month.

—As soon as the roads get passable we hope our wood subscribers will favor us with a few cords. No p. elm need apply.

—Rain and snow storm Monday. This is the rain we ought to have had last summer, its slow about getting around.

—Geo. Grund and Dan. Culver had a little shoulder exercise Monday, wherein the latter came out second best. No arrests.

—Prof. G. Walter Dale gave an entertainment at Ensley's hall, last week. Yes, we'll "gwalter goldarn" if he did'nt.

—Young man take to Ingersoll. The old ones, being nearer the inevitable bye and bye, are naturally more cautious.

—Clean up the cellars and about the house. There is many a deadly germ of diptheria lurks in the neglected corner.

The Dead.

We notice, what is commonly known as the new cemetery—this resting place for the dead—is filling up very rapidly. It is used by our rural people, and the deaths which occur at Garrett are also intered here. It has been but a few years since this grave yard was layed out, and it will only be a short time until all the allotted space will be taken up. Can there be no arrangements made by which our sister village can bury their dead at home? It would not only be more convenient for them, but save the necessity of our people establishing another cemetery, which will certainly have to be done unless the change is made.

Back Again.

Our readers will remember a short time ago of seeing an article in the COURIER, stating that Hattie Sutton, of Jackson, Michigan, had poisoned herself at the Helem boarding house. She was sent home, and, from all appearances, has forgotten the "sweet song" of her lover. Hattie is in Auburn again, all right side up. She is employed in the hash room at the popular Swineford hotel, where grub is plenty and sorrow is not known. Hattie tried the arsenic route to a more congenial land, but found it a hard road to travel, and has very sensibly concluded to work for an honest livelihood, and live just as long as she can see others live.

"Over the Hill."

Some years ago John Eckerberger moved with his family to this place. He seemed to be comfortably situated on the north end of Cedar street in a little cot of his own. It was but a short time, however, until his wife and children left him, since which period he has lived a rough life. He used his money in law suits trying to save his home, but failed, and for several years he has lived from scraps of meat gathered up at our slaughter houses. The fact that a hard winter was before him, and having no means of making a livelihood, he has gone "over the hills to the poor house," where, we hope, he may end his old days in comfort, and die a christian.

Small Pox.

The citizens as Bristol, Ind., are terribly excited over several cases of the small pox within the village limits. A man coming from Chicago stopped there on account of being ill, and in a week or so died. The funeral was largely attended, and the results are, that a number of people are down with this horrible disease. He was waited upon by an old practioneer who has resided at Bristol for some time, but gave the people no hint of the nature of the man's disease. Now, there are two sides to the sequal: He is either a quack and don't know his profession, or else he is an unprincipled man. The matter needs explanation, and we hope the citizens there will see to it.

Thanksgiving.

The president has issued his thanksgiving proclamation for the 24th inst., and we earnestly hope that our citizens will observe the day in a becoming and appropriate manner. We have had some sad experience since this nation last bowed before the throne of grace. Some have suffered from the damage caused by high water, fire, sickness and other destructive agencies of nature. The hand of the cowardly assassin has caused our government father to cross the dark river of death, and left a nation mourning. Let arrangements be made for each business house to close its doors, and our christian people all meet together and offer thanks and prayer to Him who has so kindly given us health and prosperity to enjoy the privileges of another thanksgiving day.

—Careful observers have arrived at the conclusion that, while there will be undoubtedly considerable less than an average yield of corn throughout the country, the rigid economy now being practiced by everyone who has an acre of corn will result in there being nearly as much grain on hand January 1, 1882, as on the same date this year.

—The Presbyterians had a splendid social yesterday. This organization is called a "Sewing Society." They eat all they can one day, and sew the next.

—We were in Auburn Saturday, and noticed that the citizens of that town have been making some improvements in the way of building the past season.—Garrett Herald.

—The daily is defunct, "busted," gone up. The sprightly editors have left us, but, as far as we know, are alive and well.

—Doc. Cowan is going to make things "bile." He went up Seventh street with a rifle over his shoulder Tuesday.

—Stephen Martin, brother of J. J. Martin, now carries the express for the B. & O. folks from the Junction.

—Sim. Tarney has put a steam engine in his meat market. This makes things lively for hogs, dogs, etc.

—There is a bad hole in the sidewalk in front of the Perce property, on Main street. Fix it.

—The DeKalb County Republican has a new head. We mean the paper, of course.

—The Brown boys, east of town, have sold their saw-mill to a Mr. Beesoner.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1881.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

Henry King was hanged at Plattsburg, N. Y., with a rope which had done duty on fourteen similar occasions. He was a thief from New York city, where he killed a policeman who sought to arrest him, five years ago, and was sent to Sing Sing for life. Last July, after his transfer to Dannemora prison, he murdered Michael Hamilton, a fellow convict, in a quarrel about the assassination of the President.... Marchbank, formerly corresponding clerk of the Mechanics' National Bank of Newark, N. J., who defaulted in the sum of $50,000 about two years ago, has been arrested for the crime. A small depositor has attached the bank.

The Government examiner went through the bursted bank at Newark and reports assets of $2,085,252.98, and liabilities of $4,416,253.12. Shareholders will lose an amount equal to their stock, and depositors may recover 50 per cent.

Mrs. Mary M. Love and her daughter, Sarah E. McDowell, were tried and convicted at Pittsburgh of conspiracy and forgery in the procurement of a pension for a son, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the county jail, and to pay a fine of $200 and costs of prosecution. Mrs. Love is about 70 years of age, and her daughter 40.... A sad tale of suffering is that of the crew of the schooner Delia Hodgkins, which, after abandoning their vessel off the New England coast, took the ship's launch, and, in two days' exposure to the storm, five men died of cold and exposure before a passing vessel picked them up.... Hanson & Van Winkle, wholesale dealers in chemicals, of New York, have been obliged to suspend payment owing to the failure of the Newark bank. The United States Circuit Court has appointed a provisional receiver to take charge of the Nugents' factory at Newark. Baldwin has been admitted to bail in bonds of $100,000.

Two freight trains on the Erie railroad collided near Port Jervis, N. Y., and George Dorr, a conductor, and Jerome Grover and Mark Coxson, engineers, were killed. Both trains were badly wrecked.

Nugent, the aider and abettor of Baldwin, the mastodon embezzler of the Mechanics' National Bank of Newark, N. J., is worth $1,000,000 in real estate, much of which will be taken for the benefit of the bank's creditors.....Two old three-story brick tenements, on the corner of Grand street and South Fifth avenue, New York, suddenly collapsed. The firemen hurried to the scene and took out the dead and maimed. About a dozen persons were killed or fatally injured.

THE WEST.

The Apaches are reported to be depredating in the Saturipa district of Sonora. Five men, two women and one child are reported to have been killed by the red villains....At Tiffin, Ohio, a divinity student, named Charles Madder, killed Miss Phebe Barnard on the street because she did not reciprocate his love.

A few mornings ago all Omaha was startled by the announcement that Watson B. Smith, Clerk of the United States Court, had been found murdered at his office-door, in the third story of the United States Court House, in Omaha. A revolver of a large caliber was found sticking in his left pantaloons-leg, near the foot, with the butt-end exposed. His key was still in his door, which he was about to shut up on departing. The door was partly open. Two letters which he had written, directed and stamped were on the floor at his feet, as they had fallen from his hand. It was apparent that he intended to mail them down-stairs in the post-office as he should leave the building. His hat was on the back of his head full of blood. He had turned out the gas in his office, and the murderer probably turned out the gas in the hall, and laid in wait for him, and, as he was about to close his door, put a revolver to his head and fired, striking above the left temple, the ball going clear through the head and landing on the floor. At the Coroner's inquest several threatening letters were produced. Col. Smith was a prominent temperance man, and had taken an active part to enforce the Slocomb Liquor law. At a citizens' meeting indignation was expressed and $5,000 subscribed for a reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers. Deceased was a prominent and respected citizen, a man of correct habits, a zealous member of the Baptist church, and was widely known through Nebraska. He had been Clerk of the United States court for over twelve years. ....A dreadful tragedy occurred in Iowa City, Iowa. A dissolute saloon-keeper, named Anton Stein, murdered his divorced wife, stabbed his mother-in-law, and then committed suicide. He had formerly lived in Chicago, and at one time was employed on the staff of a German paper there. ....Residents of Iowa and her sister States of the West have served notice upon Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. John J. Astor that they desire no more street waifs from New York. Some of these Arabs have ripened into train-wreckers.

A party of hunters near Fort Steele, Wy. Ter., used arsenic by mistake for cooking purposes, instead of baking powder, and nearly all of them died from the effects of the dose.

Arizona advices report a fight between hostile Apaches and United States cavalry in the Apache country, in which four bucks were killed and three women and some children captured. The Apaches were scattered by the engagement.

The explosion of 400 pounds of powder in the Quincy mine, on Lake Superior, killed two men and a boy....Ah Kim, a Chinese missionary student at Marietta, Ohio, suffering disappointment in a love affair with a servant girl, killed himself with chloroform.

A Quincy paper gives the following estimate of the amount of damage in that region by the recent flood in the Mississippi river: In the Warsaw drainage district, $600,000; in the Indian Grave district, $750,000; in the Sny Island district, $1,000,000; in Quincy bay and the city, $20,000; in and about Alexandria, Mo., $250,000; to Keokuk and the St. Louis railroad, $100,000; to all other railroads, $60,000; to the open lands north of the Sny levee, and immediately south of Quincy, $150,000; making a total of $3,005,000.... Ed Williams, one of the notorious Williams brothers, has been arrested by Sheriff Killan, at a farmer's two miles south of Grand Island, and was lodged in jail, awaiting the coming of the Sheriff of Pepin county, Wis....Two cowboys were lynched at Shakspeare, Arizona, for stealing cattle.

THE SOUTH.

The Governor of Louisiana has convened the General Assembly in extraordinary session Dec. 5.

At Marion Station, Miss., on election day, a band of negroes opened fire on the whites at the polls, by which four white men were killed and two seriously wounded. A. T. Harvey, Democratic candidate for County Assessor, was slain. Two armed squads went to the scene of the trouble from Meridian, and found 100 negroes barricaded in the house of Edward Vance. After a fight, in which John Vance, colored, and A. G. Warren, of the Sheriff's posse, were killed, about thirty negroes escaped to the woods, under a hot fire.

It is claimed by those who have seen both, that the Atlanta Cotton Exposition exceeds in interest and far exceeds in value to this country the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia....The Capitol at Austin, Tex., with the archives of the old republic and the Alamo monument, have been destroyed by fire. The pecuniary loss is $300,000.

Sullivan, alias Delaney, one of the young men who was sentenced to seventy years' imprisonment in the Arkansas penitentiary for robbing a train on the Iron Mountain railroad, died a few days ago of "home-sickness." He was 23 years of age.

GENERAL.

In response to invitations from prominent Land Leaguers, desiring him to go to Ireland as a representative of the sentiment of the American people on the Irish question, Wendell Phillips sends a letter of thanks, and stating that he has not the ability to aid Ireland in the struggle, but that it is of the greatest importance that England should be defeated in her endeavor to enslave Ireland. He wishes the Irish cause a hearty godspeed.

The whaler Belvidere, which has arrived from the Arctic seas at San Francisco, brings news and mail from the Arctic relief steamer Rodgers. Lieut. Berry, of the Rodgers, has established the fact that Wrangel Land is an island. Capt. Owen, of the Belvidere, says that from his observations he would not be surprised to hear of the Jeannette coming home by way of Greenland.

The Methodist Episcopal Conference, recently held in New York, during their session appropriated for foreign and domestic missions the sum of $689,482.

Mrs. Garfield, in acknowledging the receipt of the final statement made by Mr. Cyrus W. Field with regard to the Gen. Garfield family fund, takes occasion to return to the contributors thanks for their expressions of the high esteem in which they hold her husband. She accepts the trust for herself and her children in their father's name, and hopes to use it in a way worthy of him and satisfactory to those by whom it has been bestowed.

WASHINGTON.

The bill providing for the admission of Dakota as a State has been already prepared, and some Senators and Congressmen have prepared speeches in support of the admission. The bill will be pushed vigorously.

It is stated in a Washington dispatch that the order of the War Department, rescinding its order for a court-martial to try Mason for the attempt upon Guiteau's life, has caused considerable comment, some intimating that its purpose was to let Mason off without trial. At the War Department the officers say that evidence going to show that Mason is really insane has been submitted. Upon receiving this the Department recalled the order for the court-martial, and directed that Mason be placed under medical surveillance, with a view of ascertaining whether or not he is insane. He is now in charge of surgeons at the Arsenal, who are keeping a close watch upon him. If they report him insane he will be sent to the Government Asylum without trial; but if they report him sane, another court-martial will be ordered to try him.....The President has designated Nov. 24 as a day of national thanksgiving.....John W. Foster, Minister to Russia has tendered his resignation.

An interesting incident is narrated by the Washington Star as occurring at a Cabinet meeting held soon after the Yorktown celebration. The President thought it the Attorney General's duty to conduct the prosecution of Guiteau, the assassin. Mr. MacVeagh denied this. The President thereupon named two prominent lawyers to prosecute Guiteau.

The Naval Advisory Board, which has been considering the reorganization of the navy, reports to Secretary Hunt that there are now only twenty-one ships of war efficient or worth repairing, and recommends the construction immediately of forty-one ships of various classes. It recommends wood as the best material for gunboats, and for vessels of all other kinds a steel keel covered with wood and sheathed with copper. The cost of the forty-one vessels is estimated at $31,000,000 and it will take eight years to finish them.

Following is the text of the President's Thanksgiving proclamation:

It has long been the pious custom of our people, with the closing of the year, to look back upon the blessings brought to them in the changing course of seasons, and to return solemn thanks to the all-giving source from whom they flow; and, although at this period, when the falling leaf admonishes us that the time of our sacred duty is at hand, our nation still lies in the shadow of its great bereavement, and the mourning which has filled our hearts still finds sorrowful expression toward the God before whom we but lately bowed in grief and supplication, yet the countless benefits which have showered upon us during the past twelve months call for our fervent gratitude and make it fitting that we should rejoice with thankfulness that the Lord in His infinite mercy has most signally favored our country and our people. Peace without and prosperity within have been vouchsafed to us. No pestilence has visited our shores. The abundant privileges of freedom which our fathers left us in their wisdom are still our increasing heritage, and if in parts of our vast domain some affliction has visited our brethren in their forest homes, yet even this calamity has been tempered and in a manner sanctified by the generous compassion for the sufferers which has been called forth throughout our land.

For all these things it is meet that the voice of the nation should go up to God in devout homage.

Wherefore I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do recommend that all the people observe Thursday, the 24th day of November, instant, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, by ceasing, so far as may be, from their secular labors, and meeting in their several places of worship, there to join in ascribing honor and praise to Almighty God, whose goodness has been so manifest in our history and in our lives, and offering earnest prayers that His bounties may continue to us and to our children.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this 4th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and sixth.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

President Arthur returned to Washington, on the 9th inst., from a week's visit to New York. It is said that a complete Cabinet slate will soon be prepared for presentation to the Senate. The retention of Postmaster General James will depend upon the action of the court on the star-route informations.... All the personal effects of the late President Garfield, including his books, pictures, etc., were removed last week from the White House to the Baltimore and Potomac depot for transportation to Mentor. Special cars were placed at the disposal of Mrs. Garfield by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the removal of the goods. The Alderney cow presented to the President was sent on the same train with the goods.

The amounts due the bonded Pacific railroads from the United States Government for military transportation for the year has been taken by the Secretary of the Treasury to apply to their indebtedness to the United States. It amounts to $886,638.

POLITICAL.

Judge Folger will not enter on his duties as Secretary of the Treasury until the cases now pending before the New York Court of Appeals are disposed of.

Secretary Windom is said to have proposed to President Garfield at Long Branch, the week before the latter was shot, a plan of civil-service reform for the Treasury Department. This plan, which met with the approval of the late President, proposed to allot to each State a number of appointments; the appointment of a committee of three in each State before whom candidates for the places should be examined at least once a year, the examination to be so conducted as to test the experience and capacity of the applicants; appointments to be made from among those who stood highest on the list, according as vacancies to which the State of the applicants was entitled occurred. It was also contemplated that, other things being equal, soldiers, their widows and children should have a preference.

The President has received a number of protests against the retention of Public Printer Defrees, urging the appointment of a younger and more active man....It is said President Arthur has offered the position of Secretary of the Interior to James L. Williamson, of Iowa, formerly Commissioner General of the Land Office.... The New York Herald publishes an interview with Secretary Blaine relative to the new Cabinet. He says it will be "Grant from top to bottom after Jan. 1." Blaine will retire in December.

FOREIGN.

A Dublin cablegram reports a bloody collision between the police and people of Ogonnelloe, in which several persons were injured on both sides. Belfast Commissioners of the Land Court have reduced the rents of tenants on Archdeacon Crawford's estate 30 per cent., and the feeling among the landlords is becoming more hostile toward the court, while the tenants are becoming reconciled to the Government's action in breaking up the Land League, in consequence of the favorable interpretation of the Land act toward the tenantry everywhere.... France has asked Russia for an explanation of the arrest of three Frenchmen in St. Petersburg....Turkey is preparing a naval expedition to punish the rebellious Arab tribes....Bosnia and Herzegovina will adopt the Austrian system of military service.

A journalist in Germany has been sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment for insinuating that Bismarck used his public position to crush out a peasant proprietor.

Irish landlords are alarmed over the rentals fixed by the Land Commission, and fear the practical confiscation of their property. A mass meeting of the tenants of Sir John Ennis, at Athlone, resolved to demand an abatement of rents or appeal to the Land Court.

Lefroy, who murdered Mr. Gold, a retired merchant, in a railway carriage on the Midland railroad, between London and Brighton, has been convicted of the crime. Chief Justice Coleridge's summing up was decidedly against the prisoner. After being sentenced to death he still maintains his innocence.

While a few meetings are privately held in Ireland, the Land League is practically dead. In its place a new and more respectable organization—the Home-rule League—has been revived. It has for its directors several Irish members of Parliament, and is indorsed by Parnell and his fellow-agitators at Kilmainham. The Land Court have now 17,761 cases to settle. As an instance of their radical revisions of rental, a case in Limerick county is quoted where the tenant was paying £19 a year rent on a farm of about three acres, which the court reduced to £9. Sir Maurice O'Connell, nephew of the great liberator, has made a considerable reduction in rents to his tenants at Tralee....In the Lord Mayor's procession at London, the stars and stripes were borne through the streets to Guildhall, preceded by drum and fife band playing "The Star Spangled Banner." Soon afterward followed a band from the training-ship Warspite, giving "Yankee Doodle." People in the streets gave free vent to their enthusiasm. At the office of the United States Cable Company four young ladies waved American flags from the windows, and at the American Exchange an assemblage of 300 ladies made a similar demonstration. The United States flag was conspicuous in the decorations of the city....During the month of October 490 agrarian offenses were committed in Ireland, of which only thirty-two were committed in Ulster, while Munster contributed 223, Connaught 133, and Leinster 102.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

A Mayo landlady has reduced the rent of one of her tenants from $75 per annum to $42.50, and has made proportionate reductions in other cases, rather than go before the Land Commission to fix the rent. The tenants on the Irish estates of the Earl of Buckinghamshire and Mr. Fetherston have refused to pay rents unless the landlords make a reduction of 15 per cent. all round. The Mayo farmers are making application to the Land Court..... Cape Coast Castle (Africa) dispatches state that the King of Ashantee murdered 200 young girls so as to mix their blood with the mortar used for the repair of one of the state buildings. It is a custom of the country....After a Cabinet council at Paris, Premier Ferry and colleagues handed their resignations to the President, and Gambetta was intrusted with the task of forming a new Cabinet.

In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Judge Cox decided that proceedings by information in the star-route cases was improper, holding that the crime charged against Brady and others is "infamous," and that the proceedings should be by indictment. The informations were therefore quashed, and Brady and his fellows have gained a substantial victory. Col. Cook, after Judge Cox had rendered his decision, made a personal explanation of his course in the matter. Col. Cook says that the star-route people will be now proceeded against in the regular way, by indictment, and that there will be no "let-up." The star-routers have won the first round, however, and their victory makes them defiant. Col. Totten, their leading counsel, said in open court, replying to Col. Cook, that the cases would never be brought before a petit jury.

The Produce Exchange, of New York, has decided to erect a building to cost $2,000,000....By the breaking of a rope of twisted steel, the elevator in the Belvidere Hotel in New York fell from the fifth floor, killing John Mercer and severely injuring four others.... The death is announced of Rev. Dr. John W. Mears, of Hamilton College.

Sheriff Keeter, while trying to capture a horse-thief at Yellville, Ark., was fatally shot. W. J. Fuller, a moonshiner, shot Leonard Jarrell in Habersham county, Ga., because he suspected that Jarrell gave information about his moonshining operations to the revenue authorities.

In connection with the United States Senatorship from Virginia, the names of Riddleberger, Massey and John S. Wise are mentioned....There will be two colored members in the next Virginia Senate and eleven in the House.

Two masked men entered a jewelry store in Kansas City, where only a boy was in attendance. One guarded the lad with a revolver, while the other transferred to his overcoat pocket goods valued at $1,500.

A Profitable Industry.

South California farmers have found that the graceful pampas grass can be grown with very little trouble and sold for decorative purposes at a very large profit. One of these men put three-quarters of an acre under the grass, and was able to sell each head or plunge at two and a half cents, netting about $500; another sold all he raised at seven and a half cents a plume. The industry is growing. Ten thousand plumes were disposed of in Southern California last year. Europe could take an almost unlimited number of them.

The most costly dinner ever served by Delmonico was that given fifteen years or so ago to one hundred prominent citizens of New York by Sir Morton Peto. This ostentatious individual expended $20,000 on that one night's entertainment, $200 for each guest. In a review of the dinner, the Times of the next morning described it as a "marvel of skill and art and extravagance." The saloon was smothered in the rarest flowers; the menu was in gilt on embroidered satin; some of the wine cost $25 a bottle; the cleverest musicians were engaged at fancy prices; Clara Louisa Kellogg had $1,000 for two songs, and a present besides of a diamond bracelet.

A STEAMER SMASHED.

The War Eagle Runs Against a Bridge at Keokuk and Breaks It Into Fragments.

Keokuk, Iowa, Nov. 8.

At 7 o'clock last evening shrill and continued whistling at the Keokuk and Hamilton bridge, followed by the ringing of fire bells, drew hundreds of people to the levee to find that a steamboat load of passengers had miraculously escaped death. The palatial passenger-packet War Eagle in attempting to pass through the draw was completely baffled by the eddies and cross currents and swung around against the bridge, breaking out one span and entailing a loss of $150,000 to the bridge. Several lives were lost, but the names cannot at present be learned.

The head clerk of the War Eagle makes the following statement: Capt. Jerry Wood was in command. Hiram Beadle and William Tibbles were the pilots, and both were in the pilot-house, though it was Beadle's watch. I had just eaten supper and went back into the cabin to talk to some ladies I knew. I heard the whistle blow for the bridge and the bells ring to check headway. Knowing that it was customary to drop inside the long pier, I felt no uneasiness until the alarm whistle blew twice, which meant to back her round. About that time William Holmes, third clerk, came through the cabin, in which there were only ten or twelve ladies, the remnant being on the outside at the bridge. He threw up his hand and passed out the starboard gangway. I paid no attention to him, knowing he was easily alarmed in emergencies, but in a few minutes he returned and signaled me. I then excused myself hurriedly and went to him. He said: "She's gone this time." I ran out the larboard gangway on to the larboard guard forward of the barber-shop, and saw that we were broadside to the bridge and that the boat was backing strong. I instantly rushed into the cabin and gave the alarm. I caught hold of one lady and cried out to the rest to follow me, as the boat was going to strike the bridge. We all passed out the after-door on to the starboard guard, reaching there just as the crash came. I kept calling to the passengers, who seemed bewildered, to get on the hurricane deck. They not seeming to understand I led the way, and they followed. As soon as the boat struck the bridge the span gave way with a fearful crash, and I felt considerably relieved, knowing that the chances for saving life would now be much better. I looked forward and saw that the boat was leaning on the west pier, her stern having cleared the east pier where the break in the bridge occurred, and that the people were climbing from the boat onto the bridge. I took one lady and ran forward on the larboard side down the steps abreast of the smoke-stacks, and assisted in passing the passengers out upon the bridge until the boat swung off. One lady refused to go. Seeing that a greater part of the passengers had escaped and were safe, the second clerk, Alex. Robinson, and myself determined to stay with the boat. In a very short time she swung clear of the bridge, and we went down on the lower deck to see if she was making water or not. Some one had been in the hold and reported that she was, but not very fast. I ran up stairs and quieted the fears of the few remaining ladies on the boat, and got all forward, so that in case we went down we could get off without much trouble. The boat then floated with the current with her head down stream to a point a few hundred yards below the elevator, where, with the aid of one wheel and the assistance of parties who came in a skiff and took a line ashore, she was made fast resting on the railroad track, which is covered with water, the river on the outside being about fifteen feet deep. The dredge-boat W. D. Smith came down and held her stern in until she was securely fastened.

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

Elections were held in twelve States, on Tuesday, Nov. 8. The general result of the polling is summarized below.

In New York, Maxwell, Democrat, is elected State Treasurer, and Carr, Republican, Secretary of State. The Democrats have a majority of two in the State Senate, and a majority of six in the Assembly. The four Congressmen elected to fill vacancies are equally divided between the Republicans and Democrats, being a Republican loss of one. The Democratic majority in New York city is 37,000. Brooklyn elected a Republican Mayor, Sheriff, Supervisor-at-Large, ten (out of a total of thirteen) Supervisors, and five Aldermen.

In Pennsylvania, Bailey, Republican, is elected State Treasurer by about 7,000 majority.

Massachusetts, with but two towns to hear from, made the following vote for Governor: Long (Rep.), 96,582; Thompson (Dem.), 53,568; Andrews (Prohibition), 4,775; Almy (Greenback), 1,741. The Legislature is largely Republican.

In Connecticut, out of fourteen Senators voted for, the Republicans elected ten, which gives them seventeen out of twenty-four in the Senate. The House stands 149 Republicans to 98 Democrats, a Democratic gain of eighteen over last year's election.

In Wisconsin the Republican State ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 5,000 to 7,000. The Republicans have a good working majority in both branches of the Legislature.

In Virginia the Readjusters have elected their candidate for Governor (Cameron), and captured a majority of the members of both branches of the Legislature.

The Democrats carry Maryland by a good round majority, though the Republicans gain several members of the General Assembly.

In Mississippi the Democrats sweep everything, the majority for Lowery for Governor being estimated at 25,000 to 30,000.

In Minnesota, Hubbard, Republican, is elected Governor by a majority estimated at 25,000. All the constitutional amendments of general effect were adopted. The land-bond proposition was defeated.

The election in Colorado was for the purpose of locating the State capital, and resulted in a victory for Denver by a large majority.

In New Jersey an election was held for members of the General Assembly. The Democrats gained three members of the Senate and four members of the House. The Republicans will, however, have a small majority on joint ballot.

The election in Nebraska was a very quiet affair throughout the State. The Republican candidates for Supreme Judges and University Regents were elected by majorities ranging from 18,000 to 21,000.

Tall Stories of Old Age.

From Brazil comes a story of a mulatto woman having died at the age of 187 years. Just as the Goth was "butchered to make a Roman holiday," so this unfortunate old colored lady seems to have been killed to furnish forth a newspaper paragraph. This is a pity, because she would have answered the purpose just as well in a couple of hundred years' time, if the newspaper telling the tale could have had patience to wait. She is said to have lost her sight at the age of 100, but to have recovered it somewhat later. Her death was brought about by a fall from a bench, so that there is really no knowing how long she might have lived if the Brazil paper had not arranged that fatal fall. The subject of longevity is always being disputed, some persons being credulous of all sorts of wonders and others being as skeptical as the late Sir G. Cornewall Lewis. The case of the Brazilian mulatto is put in the shade by that of Johannes de Temporibus, who, according to Stow, died in the year 1014, at the age of 361. Unfortunately, that was not an age of statistics, and marvelous statements were supplied. A native of Bengal is said to have died in 1556 at the age of 380; but here again distance of place is as important an element as distance of time in the other instance. In 1538 a native of Evercreech, Somerset, is reported to have died aged 200. In the latter end of the last century death at the age of 175 or thereabout seems not to have been uncommon, but as we come nearer to our own times the records are fewer, until now we are obliged to go to Brazil for a striking instance of extreme age. The moral would appear to be that, if in a time of registration and research this class of wonders had become extinct, the former statements with regard to them were myths. Perhaps life was so dull in those slow times that a man put his sensations into figures, and thought he had lived 200 years instead of 70.—Liverpool Post.

THE LAND COURT.

Consternation Among the Irish Landlords Over Its Verdicts.

Dublin, Nov. 7.

The Irish Land Court has given during the past week unequivocal indications of the spirit in which it intends to administer the Land act. Justice O'Hagan's definition of a fair rent is such a rent as will enable the tenant to live and thrive. This was laid down at the opening of the court, a fortnight ago, and has since been applied by the Assistant Commissioners at Belfast with startling results to the rents on the Crawford estate, and on the corn-money tenant estate of Dundonald, both of which may be called rack-rented. In both the rent was reduced an average of one-third all round. The Commissioners expressly said that neither estate had been managed with the liberality expected or usual with Irish landlords; hence the reduction is greater than the probable average. But these cases afford an example of what will happen to rack-rented estates generally. In both cases the Commissioners personally examined minutely the properties. There is no reason to suppose that their decision will be reversed if appealed from, nor is an appeal expected. The decision of the same Commission respecting improvements is regarded as still more formidable to the landlords. It substantially declares that improvements shall be presumed to have been made by the tenant unless the landlord can prove the contrary. This reverses completely the presumption supposed to have been created by the act, and shifts the burden of proof to the landlord, disregarding even express contracts between landlord and tenant, under which the improvements became the landlord's. The result is that, in fixing a judicial rent, such improvements, which in many cases cover a large portion of the value of the property, will be considered as forming no part of the capital on which the landlord is entitled to receive rent. The decision has produced something like consternation among certain classes of landlords, and will certainly be appealed from, though every act and word yet proceeding from the Land Court indicates that it is disposed to hold to this sweeping principle.

The effect is an enormous increase in the business of the court, which, before these decisions, had shown signs of becoming unmanageable. Applications pour in by the thousand. League organs are beginning to claim this as the result of their new policy. Being unable to prevent tenants from resorting to the court, they now encourage litigation with the view of creating a complete block. The truth is, the farmers are acting for themselves, having understood from Justice O'Hagan's opening address that the court was to be a Tenants' Court. From recent appearances the court will be called on to readjust the whole rental of Ireland.

When, through a slip of the tongue, Mr. Smith, Registrar of the Land Court, proclaimed, on Oct. 19, that "the Court of the Land League" was open, he unwittingly told the truth. Mr. Justice O'Hagan and his colleagues did not hesitate, at the opening day, to declare, almost in so many words, that they intended to interpret the Land act and to execute it solely in the interests of the tenant applicants, and the Sub-Commissioners are religiously living up to that profession. The landlords expected severe treatment, but they did not count on being absolutely garroted. Mr. Parnell made a great point against the Government by declaring that tenants who had been evicted during the fierce agitation in the spring would lose the benefits of the act. But Mr. Justice O'Hagan has ruled that all tenants ejected within six months before Aug. 22 (the day the Land bill became a law) are entitled to its advantages; and, furthermore, that when a reduction of rent is ordered it shall apply to all sales which have occurred since Aug. 22.

This sweeping interpretation of the foggy fiftieth and sixtieth sections of the act alarmed the landlords, and I believe some of them resolved on consulting eminent lawyers in Ireland and England, with the view of testing its soundness. But they were told what they ought to have known—that the act makes the Land Commission a court of final jurisdiction, and that there is no appeal against its decisions, not even to the House of Lords.

A Clever Rascal.

One fine day a man, meanly clad and apparently poorly fed, presented himself before Jules Sandeau. "Sir," said he, "you behold before you a great sinner, one who has been severely punished. I am a priest. One day I chanced to glance at a book. It was one of your novels, 'Marienne.'" "Continue, my good man," said Sandeau, kindly, not without some of the pardonable vanity of the author. "To make a long story short, I fell. The Bishop suspended me for neglecting the duties of my profession to immerse myself in the fascina—but enough. I do not know a soul to whom to come for monetary aid but yourself." "Here is a louis, my good fellow," said Sandeau, much moved. "Come and see me again, and I will see what I can do for you."

Next day, as Sandeau was lounging along the boulevard, he met Mery, looking pensive, not to say gloomy. "What's wrong with you?" "My dear boy," replied Mery in a hollow tone, "do you know that we authors do much harm in this world without being conscious of the fact? Now, last night, as I was sitting down to dinner, there came—" At this moment they espied Theophile Gautier bearing down upon them, his visage wrapped in a melancholy not wholly devoid of satisfaction. "I say, fellows," he cried to them from afar, "you know there are some idiots who pretend that literature is without any influence upon men, either for good or evil. Now, one of my books has ruined the career of a man I never saw in my life, and whose profession you couldn't guess if you tried a hundred times." "It was a priest, the villain!" cried Sandeau and Mery together. "Who told you?" demanded Gautier. Then, as a sense of the situation dawned upon him, he added, "Oh! I see. Well, he was a clever rascal."

When old Mrs. Bunsby had got through reading in the paper an account of the last great fire she raised her spectacles from her eyes to the top of her head and remarked: "If the fireman would wear the genuine home-knit stockings, such as we make and wear in the country, they wouldn't be a-bustin' of their hose at every fire."

Thunder can scarcely ever be heard more than twenty or thirty miles from the flash that produced it.

NATIONAL FINANCES.

Abstract of Treasurer Gilfillan's Yearly Report.

The report of United States Treasurer Gilfillan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, shows an increase in the receipts over those for 1880 from every source. Increase in customs, $11,637,611; internal revenue, $11,255,011; sales of public lands, $1,135,386; miscellaneous sources, $3,177,703; total increase, $27,355,681, which, added to the net reduction of $6,830,078 in expenditures, makes an increase in the surplus revenue of $34,185,759.

The net revenues were $[illegible]782,294, and the net expenditures $260,712,887. The excess of the receipts over payments was $100,069,404, of which $90,672,361 was expended in the redemption of the public debt.

The balance in the treasury increased $48,667,603, from $203,791,321 at the beginning, to $252,458,925 at the end of the fiscal year. The amount expended on account of interest and premium on the public debt ran down from $96,552,895 in 1880 to $[illegible], a reduction of $14,982,005. The balance standing to the credit of disbursing officers and agents of the United States with various offices of the treasury, June 30, 1881, was $[illegible]6,307.

The receipts for the fiscal year on account of the Postoffice Department were $39,757,684, and the expenditures $38,544,985, of which amounts $24,702,708 were received and expended directly by Postmasters.

The unavailable funds in the treasury amount to $20,521,632, an increase since the last report, by reason of taking up certain items previously carried in cash. At the close of the year there was held by the Treasurer in United States bonds $360,505,900 as security for the circulation of national banks, and $15,295,500 as security for public deposits in national-bank depositories. During the year $276,839,700 in bonds was deposited for these purposes, and $277,527,350 withdrawn, exceeding by far the transactions of any former year.

CURRENCY OUTSTANDING.

The amount of United States currency outstanding at the close of the year was $362,539,437; redeemed during the year, $71,169,974. Total redemptions since first issue of currency, $2,300,141,078.

United States bonds amounting to $85,304,650 have been retired during the year. The aggregate retired by purchase, redemption, conversion and exchange, from March 11, 1869, to the close of the fiscal year, was $1,933,844,800. Coupons from United States bonds of the value of $22,797,067 were paid during the year, and quarterly interest on registered stock funded loans, amounting to $44,432,790, was paid by means of 305,105 checks.

National-bank notes received for redemption during the year, $59,650,259. The aggregate redemptions, under act June 20, 1874, have been $1,099,634,772.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Comparing the condition of the treasury Sept. 30, 1881, with the condition the same day last year, the most striking changes are the increase in gold coin and bullion and standard silver dollars on hand, and in silver certificates outstanding. Deducting gold certificates actually outstanding, the gold belonging to the Government Sept. 30, the last four years, was $112,602,622 in 1878, $154,987,371 in 1879, $126,160,086 in 1880, and $149,852,746 in 1881.

The gross amount of gold and silver coin and bullion held by the treasury, without regard to obligations outstanding against it, ranged from $163,069,444, in 1878, to $232,807,368, in 1879, to $214,803,215, in 1880, and $269,706,998, in 1881. The increase last year was $55,400,000, of which $39,150,000 was in gold, and $16,250,000 in silver. The increase in gold was greater and in silver less last year than any year since the coinage of the standard silver dollar began.

The United States notes on hand slightly increased last year, notwithstanding the urgent public demand for circulation. The amount on hand above the amount required for payment of clearing-house certificates is $20,000,000, against $16,000,000 a year ago.

The practice the past year has been to make 10 per cent. of all payments in silver dollars or certificates, 40 per cent in gold coin and 50 per cent. in notes. To this rule there is one important exception. Under an arrangement between the treasury and the New York Clearing House all payments by the treasury to this institution, aggregating $275,000,000 a year, must be made in gold coin or United States notes, standard silver dollars not being receivable under its rules, although silver certificates are now being paid it by the treasury to some extent in large denominations, in lieu of gold coin, for use in the payment of customs dues. Aside from any personal views as to the expediency of reviving the silver dollar, the Treasurer says it would seem unwise for any branch of the Government to encourage an arrangement by which coin, which the law has made full legal tender, is discredited.

The gross assets of the Government, including funds held for redemption of gold, silver and currency certificates, is $331,981,210, having increased more than $64,000,000 last year, and larger than on the corresponding date in any year since 1878. The increase is due in chief part to deposits on account of silver certificates, which amounted to $45,600,000.

THE RESERVE FUND.

In referring to the reserve held for the redemption of United States notes, the Treasurer says: There is no provision in the law requiring specie reserve for redemption of United States notes. In the preparation for the resumption of specie payments a fund was created in the treasury under section 3, Resumption act of 1875, by the sale of $95,500,000 in bonds, and the accumulation of surplus revenue to protect outstanding notes. The amount of this fund has never been definitely fixed, but it has been maintained at about 40 per cent. of United States notes outstanding.

It has usually been assumed that a reserve of 40 per cent. is sufficient for the protection of United States notes, but, under the method of computation, the reserve is not merely 40 per cent. of liability represented by United States notes, but also 100 per cent. of all other liabilities. So far as gold, silver and clearing-house certificates are concerned, it is necessary, under the laws authorizing their issue, that their full amount should be set aside in gold, silver and United States notes, respectively, as funds for their redemption, but as to other liabilities there is no such obligation as this, and it is submitted no higher reserve is required for their protection than is required for the protection of United States notes. In the changed condition of trade and commerce, unless some calamity shall overtake the nation, there seems to be no probability of a run upon the reserve of the treasury. The total demand for coin in the redemption of United States notes aggregated since redemption but $12,029,086, and no notes whatever have been presented for redemption since February, 1881.

THE SPECIE RESERVE.

Should there ever be a run on the specie reserves of the treasury, United States notes will be made the basis of demand, and not the other matured obligations, which compose the very varied current liabilities of the Government. The excess over demand for liabilities of the Government, other than United States notes, is shown by a tabulated statement to be $146,443,491. Considering these liabilities as a whole, the Treasurer says: "It is clear that whatever percentage the reserve will protect United States notes will protect the other liabilities. The Treasurer does not attempt to say what this percentage should be, but is of the opinion that a uniform percentage should be fixed for all current liabilities other than the three classes for certificates, and the excess of cash in the treasury should be expended, from time to time, in the purchase or redemption of the public debt, according to some definite and publicly-announced plan. Should this be done the policy of the department would cease to be the subject of speculation and influence in the treasury, and the money market would be reduced to a minimum. During the last two years there has been a steady increase in outstanding notes of denominations of $20 and under, and a proportionate decrease in notes of higher denominations, hundreds alone excepted.

STANDARD SILVER DOLLARS.

The total amount of standard silver dollars coined to Sept. 30, 1881, under the act of Feb. 28, 1878, is $98,822,705, of which nearly 34 per cent. is in circulation and the remainder in the treasury. The amount coined last year was $27,753,955, of which $9,569,420 went into circulation and the remainder are in the treasury.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1881.

A REPUTABLE minister of Crittenden county, Ark., states that in that region Robert Nelson was paralyzed while cursing about the drought, and John Freeman was struck dead by lightning while blaspheming in regard to the dry weather, the dirt being thrown from his grave by a subsequent burst of divine wrath.

CINCINNATIANS are now living who remember when the first keg of oysters was taken there, as a wonderful novelty and luxury, one Christmas time. Other aged citizens tell how, after making the then long and expensive journey to the east, they would bring home oyster shells in their pockets to show them as curiosities to their families and stay-at-home neighbors.

THE only lien on a farm of which a Norfolk (Va.) man died seized, and which he left to his two sons, was a claim of $3. The heirs wanted a division, so the court ordered a sale of the farm. It brought $900 and was placed in the hands of Commissioners for settlement. It took six years to close matters, when the Commissioners had absorbed the entire proceeds by expenses.

EXCLUSIVE of the mortality from yellow fever the average death-rate of Memphis for five years previous to 1880 was 34 per 1,000 annually. It was supposed that the new system of sewerage would decrease this rate materially, and doubtless it would have produced that desirable effect had not the people been obliged to drink filthy water since its completion. In reality, however, the death-rate has increased alarmingly, running up to nearly 60 per 1,000.

BALTIMORE is the great oyster-packing center. During the years of 1879 and 1880 9,543 vessels brought 7,252,972 bushels of oysters, beside 25,000 bushels brought by steamers. Of this number 3,769,353 bushels were packed raw, and 2,689,030 bushels cooked and hermetically sealed. Some places along shore in Maryland are built upon oyster shells, and in the lower part of Maryland oysters pass current as money. The total amount of capital invested is $7,606,976, and the wages earned are $6,956,444.

HENRY CLARK, of Prattsburg, N. Y., married against his father's wishes and was shown the door. He thereupon leased thirty acres of good land, which he put to potatoes, doing all his work himself. The thirty acres have yielded him 4,000 bushels, 800 bushels of which he sold for $800, and the remainder of the crop bringing him 80 cents per bushel, or a total sum of $3,360, with a net profit, after deducting all expenses, of $2,700—more than his father has made in two seasons off four times the amount of ground cultivated.

AGENTS of the Internal Revenue Department, who have been making investigations in the New York breweries, have come to the conclusion that New York beer is not what it is represented to be; that, in addition to malt and hops, the brewers use corn-meal, rice, glucose and various other substances. In some of the breweries, indeed, it has been ascertained that the amount of hops used was very limited. The internal-revenue people think there should be a change, and the New York beer-drinkers are of the same opinion.

IT will be interesting to those who are afflicted with Bright's disease of the kidneys to know that Gen. Schenck, ex-Minister to England, has been cured of this generally-fatal disease. For four years he has been suffering, and much of that time has been confined to his bed, having given up all hope of recovery. Dr. W. W. Johnston, of Washington, commenced treating him six months ago, and has been giving him nothing but milk. The General, although 70 years of age, has recovered most of his strength, and is now able to be about as usual.

IN some of the richest districts of England the harvest of 1881 makes the seventh bad one in succession. In the South, in addition to bad crops, a heavy misfortune has fallen on farmers in the shape of liver rot in sheep, so that since 1874 the flocks of six southeastern counties have decreased 13 per cent., while an abstract of agricultural returns for all Great Britain shows a diminution of as much as 20 per cent. in the same period. Everywhere except in Cumberland and Westmoreland agriculture is at a low ebb of prosperity, and from the Tyne to the Thames, according to the London Times, and from the Severn to the Solent, comes the same story. From the fertile flats of Holderness and the light chalk wolds of the East Riding of Yorkshire to the broad vales of Somerset and the sheep-walks of Wiltshire; from the fens of Cambridgeshire to the hop-gardens of Kent, the cry, only varied in degree by circumstances, arises of distress and ruin. The chief causes of this distress, aside from successive bad seasons, are set down as follows: Excessive rent, unfair taxation, want of security for capital, injury from game, increased cost of labor and heavy losses of live stock from contagious disease.

THE annual report of the Lighthouse Board shows 864 lights on Western rivers. A light on Stannard's rock, Lake Superior, will be exhibited before the end of the fiscal year. The board adds: On the great lakes three coast lights are needed, one at Braddock's point, Lake Ontario, to cost $35,000; one on the west shore of Lake Huron, between Fort Gratiot and Sand Beach harbor, to cost $35,000, and one on Round island, Straits of Mackinac, to cost $20,000. Many lesser or harbor lights will become necessary with the extension of commerce. A new tower should be built at Point Betsey, on the east shore of Lake Michigan, and a light of increased power be exhibited. These changes are estimated to cost $40,000, and an appropriation therefor is recommended. The board asks $400,000 for repairs the coming year; $40,000 for the care of day beacons, and $60,000 for the fog signal service. Fifty thousand dollars is asked for the introduction of the electric lights. For salaries of light-keepers the estimate is $609,000, an increase of $24,000 over last year, owing to the additional number of keepers required. For supplies of lighthouses, $375,000; light-ships, $250,000; buoyage, $325,000; maintenance of lights on Western rivers, $175,000. Total amounts of the lighthouse establishment, $2,248,000; lighthouse and fog signals, $530,000.

THE veteran author, T. S. Arthur, created quite an excitement a year or two ago by making "Mrs. Senator Logan" the instrument of a young man's ruin by tempting him to drink wine. The scene was laid in a temperance story, and it unluckily happened that there was a real Mrs. Senator Logan and that she was an ardent temperance woman. Capt. Marryatt made a similar blunder in affixing a real name to the oppressors of his hero, "Masterman Ready," and apologized very humbly for his inadvertence. Miss Sally Pratt McLean, author of "Cape Cod Folks," a novel published last summer, has raised a real gale by her book. She was formerly a teacher in Cape Cod, and her story very faithfully, too faithfully indeed, sets forth the peculiarities of the inhabitants of that locality. Moreover, the characters of the romance have the names of living people. The supposed victims of slander are very angry, and have instituted four suits against the publishers, two for $10,000 each and two for $5,000. Since that time the book has been in great demand, as much as $5 being offered for a copy of the first edition, which has been suppressed. The later edition, in which many changes have been made, are not so popular. The property of the firm was attached until the security was given, and the prospective trial is awaited with a great deal of interest, as many new questions bearing on libel are likely to arise. The aggrieved parties do not complain that any lies have been told, but they feel that they have been held up to ridicule. The trouble with the book is that it is too true.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Product of the Mines of the United States.

About two years ago Congress voted an appropriation of $5,000 for the collection of statistics touching the production of the precious metals in the United States. The work was assigned to the San Francisco Mint Bureau.

The work of the compilers was completed about the 1st of January. The report makes a large volume of 395 pages, covering the bullion production in all the States yielding precious metals.

Following is a statement of the product of gold and silver in the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880:

	Gold.	Silver.	Total.
Alaska	$ 6,000	$..........	$ 6,000
Arizona	400,000	2,000,000	2,400,000
California	17,500,000	1,100,000	18,600,000
Colorado	3,200,000	17,000,000	20,200,000
Dakota	3,600,000	70,000	3,676,000
Georgia	120,000	....	120,000
Idaho	1,980,000	450,000	2,430,000
Montana	2,400,000	2,500,000	4,900,000
Nevada	4,800,000	10,700,000	15,700,000
New Mexico	130,000	425,000	555,000
North Carolina	95,000	....	95,000
Oregon	1,090,000	15,000	1,105,000
South Carolina	15,000	....	15,000
Utah	210,000	4,740,000	4,950,000
Virginia	10,000	....	10,000
Washington Ter.	410,000	....	410,000
Wyoming Ter.	20,000	....	20,000
Other sources	14,000	....	14,000
Totals	$36,000,000	$39,200,000	$75,200,000

After completing the above table and fortifying the correctness of the total from every available source, statistics were gathered for the last half of the calendar year of 1880, in order to show the product from Jan. 1, 1880, to Dec. 31, 1880. The result shows only a comparatively slight variation from the reported yield for the fiscal year, and is given as confirmatory evidence of the accuracy of the table presented above. The purchases of silver for coinage purposes in 1880 were 24,659,600 ounces, valued at $28,694,800. It is estimated that $2,000,000 of this was foreign production. This would leave $26,700,000 for domestic production. The amount of silver exported in 1880 was $7,750,000, and the amount consumed in the arts was $4,900,000. This gives a total product of silver for the calendar year of $38,450,000, against $39,200,000 for the fiscal year.

Following is a statement of the bullion production of the Pacific coast States and Territories, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, according to returns made by owners of mines to the Superintendent of the United States Mint at San Francisco, Cal.:

	Gold.	Silver.	Total.
California	$17,936,323	$ 757,525	$18,743,848
Nevada	2,534,792	7,776,818	10,311,610
Arizona Ter.	554,547	7,796,306	8,350,853
Idaho Ter.	1,541,634	1,078,916	2,620,550
Oregon	853,613	69,671	922,284
Washington Ter.	90,000	....	90,000
Alaska Ter.	1,900	....	1,900
Totals	$23,462,197	$17,479,203	$40,942,658

INDIANA NEWS.

THE October product of the Brazil coal fields aggregated 8,000 cars.

MRS. NANCY CLEM, confined at the Reformatory, is reported to be in bad health.

THE attempt to have water-works at Richmond was defeated by a large vote at the polls.

SMALL-POX is raging at Madison, and the public schools have been closed in consequence.

MISS ALICE DUNHAM, daughter of the late Judge Cyrus Dunham, of New Albany, has joined a theatrical combination.

SEYMOUR L. PIERCE, city clerk of Shelbyville, has just succeeded in securing a back pension which amounts to $2,800.

THE post-office at Belle Union, Putnam county, was burglarized, the thieves making away with several hundred stamps and $10 in money.

CALVIN FLETCHER, fish commissioner of Indiana, has gone to Washington to purchase $500 worth of carp with which to stock the Wabash and Eel rivers.

GEORGE W. STEPHENSON, president of of the Muncie school board, has been arrested, charged with bribery in securing his election as a member of the board.

AT Taylorsville, Bartholomew county, Jerry Tolen, a well-digger, was nearly drowned by the sudden inrushing of water while he was at work in the bottom of a well.

THE total additions to the Indiana geological cabinet this year number upward of 1,000 specimens, and its collection of upper silurian fossils is unequaled in the West.

A FARMER named Ballanger, living near Hagerstown, Wayne county, was stung on the neck by a bee. His whole face became covered with hideous sores, and, as a result of the sting, he has become insane.

A STONE train, in running backward on a switch near Greenburg, Decatur county, struck a horse, ditching several cars. The conductor, Milt Bryan, was killed, and a brakeman seriously injured.

AN intelligent township trustee in Owen county sends the following report to the bureau of statistics regarding the vocations of women: "Our women marry early, and their husbands live long and die hard."

Two burglars rode into Mount Vernon, and tried to explode the combination lock in the First National bank, failing in which they were engaged in drilling holes in the safe when discovered by the watchman.

A REPORT from Bedford says: Tomato, watermelon, and pumpkin vines full of half natured fruit, and new potatoes the size of pigeons' eggs, at this season of the year are rather unusual in this latitude, but we have them.

A COMPANY is being formed to lease and open up Wyandotte Cave, in Crawford county, in this State. It is nearly as large as Mammoth Cave, and is much finer and grander. There is fine hunting and fishing in the neighborhood, and it is thought a popular resort can be made out of it.

NEW Indiana patents: J. P. Bond, Warsaw, grain-cleaner; H. Coker, Indianapolis, steam grain-dryer; C. G. Conn, Elkhart, piston-valve musical instrument; J. R. Gilbert, Charlestown, chair or stool; T. Scantlin, Evansville, self-measuring oil-can; O. Stechhan, Indianapolis, bed-lounge.

THE Supreme Court of this State has decided that a conveyance of real estate to an assignee in bankruptcy was a judicial sale under State law. The one-third dower of a wife then becomes an actual estate, and the court holds that the wife cannot be relieved from her responsibility for a mortgage on the entire premises in which she joined; a sale of the husband's two-thirds will not satisfy the mortgage. There has been a movement on the part of wives of bankrupts to set up claims to one-third of all real estate, under the State law, but this decision settles that question.

THE Indiana Baptist State Convention held its annual session at Terre Haute. The Rev. S. E. Leonard was elected President, and the Rev. S. H. Elgin Secretary. The report of the board shows that twelve missionaries have been sustained during the year. More than $14,000 has been raised. It was shown that 300 towns in the State were without a Baptist church. The subject of education was thoroughly considered, including the relation of Franklin College to the Church. Sunday-school work and home missions were also discussed. There was a large attendance of ministers and others.

BROWN county is one of the smallest counties in this State, and at the same time one of the very best, so far as hills and hollows are concerned. For years gold has been known to exist within its limits, and in 1850 there was a great rush of people from the adjoining countries into it, who went in search of gold, which was found to exist over an extensive surface of the county, but owing to a want of mining knowledge, but few of them gathered any of the precious metal. Since then prospectors have been engaged, at intervals, in searching through the hills, and it is reported that gold quartz that is rich enough to pay handsomely for working it has been discovered.

LAWRENCE county is having a lively poor house squabble. Sometime ago the Grand Jury visited the poor asylum on a tour of investigation, and the report they handed in to Judge Watson told a story of neglect and barbarity, so far as the treatment of paupers was concerned, sufficient to disgust any decent citizen. This enraged John Scroggan the Superintendent, and he openly declared his intention to bring a suit for libel against the members of the jury. Scroggan also published a communication in the Bedford Magnet, in which he virtually charged the gentlemen with being guilty of perjury. This, in turn, has got the backs of the grand-jurymen up, and at least two of them intimate their willingness and desire to bring suit against Scroggan for libel. As the affair looks now, there will be a lively time before the affair is done with.

A SCENE occured in the Circuit Court at Shelbyville that is not often witnessed, and one that was considerably mixed with the ludicrous and pathetic elements. The case of Sandefur vs. his wife for divorce was on trail, and a considerable number of spectators was present to hear the testimony. The defendant made no case save for the custody of their child, so after all of the witnesses had been on the stand the divorce was granted by the court. As soon as the decision was rendered, Sandefur and the woman who only a moment before had been his wife were noticed to repair to one corner of the room. For a few minutes they engaged in conversation, and then their eyes were filled with tears. In another moment just such a scene of hugging and kissing transpired as few persons ever saw before in public. The couple were uninterrupted till Judge Hord broke the silence with the remark that he thought from the demonstrations made that the parties could live together, and taking up his pen he erased from the docket the decree of divorce, making them husband and wife once more. In the place of each going a separate way, the presumably happy couple have again started on life's path together.

Kind Words.

"I saw in de papers de odder day," began the old man after carefully wiping the top of his head, "a leetle item 'bout speakin' kind words to our feller-men as we trabble de highway of life. Dat's easy 'nuff to do an' a mighty cheap way of scrubbin' 'long, but I doan' want nobody to practice it on me. If I use men right, dey will use me right, an' we kin trade kind words. If you meet a man in de gutter, doan' stan' on de sidewalk an' tell him dat you am ready to bust wid sorrow, an' dat you solemnly wish he wouldn't do so any mo'. Stan' him on his feet an' start him fur home, an' let his wife an' de poker run de kind word bizness, or hunt fur a purleeceman an' have the drunkard boosted for sixty days. If you meet a poo' man whos' wife am lying dead in de house 'den wipe yer eyes an' rattle yer chin an' tell him you'd join de funeral purceshun if you only had a mule. Walk right down inter yer west pocket fur half yer week's wages to help pay fur de coffin an' odder expenses. If you meet a feller-man who am out of wood an' meat an' flour an' has a broken arm to excuse it, doan' pucker yer mouth an' tell him dat de Lawd will purvide. De Lawd doan' furnish purvishuns fur dis market. Instead of droppin' a tear of sorrow on de doah-step, stop aroun' to de wood yard an' de grocer's and lay down de cash to feed an' warm de family fur a fortnight.

"When I meet a leetle gal who has lost her doll-baby, or a leetle boy who has stubbed his toe, I take 'em up in my arms an' wipe deir leetle noses an' sot 'em down wid a handful of peanuts. When I meet a widder who am out of wood, an old man who has bin turned out doahs, or a workin' man who's home am under de shadder of death, I doan' lean on de fence an' look to Heaben for relief. If I'ze got a dollar I han'it out. I lend it or give it or make 'em take it, an' if Heaben does anyfing furder dat's extra. When you read dat it am easy to speak kind words jest reflect dat it am also de cheapest way in the world to help a naybur. Turnips am quoted at forty cents a bushel; kind words have no walue in de market.—Lime Kiln Club.

THE English admit that better flour is now made in the United States and Canada than in Great Britain. It is stated that the "new-process" flour cannot be made from most of the wheat grown in that country. The best flour made in Europe is manufactured in Hungary and France. That produced in England contains but a small amount of gluten.

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.

Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss. Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE

CHICAGO
BURLINGTON AND QUINCY R.R.
FOR ALL POINTS
EAST AND WEST

THE GREAT

BURLINGTON ROUTE.

No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to.

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition. Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.

Sold by F. L. Davenport.

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague Influences known to the world. The only absolute cure for all Affections of the Kidneys. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE

But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

Its highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

Highly recommended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH

A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to

THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

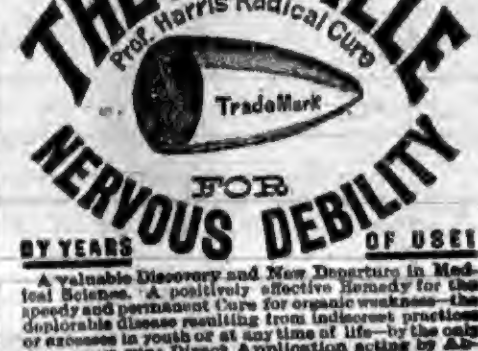
No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

Sold by all Druggists.

PROVED A SUCCESS



BY YEARS OF USE!

A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Gland, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS,
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons!

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had suffered from weakness, for 8 years past.

Iowa, Oct. 18th, '79.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 28, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

From a Physician and Surgeon.

[illegible]

From a Druggist.

[illegible]

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

MINNESOTA
WISCONSIN
COUNCIL BLUFFS
KANSAS CITY
MISSOURI

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

Is the Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

[illegible]

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.

E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

[Continued from First Page.]

She also gave little problems to solve, which showed a knowledge of fractions and the tables of compound numbers, removing the old idea that young children cannot learn such things. We here give the table showing the combination of 3's:

1 plus 1 plus 1 equals:
3 multiplied by 1 equals:
3 minus 1 minus 1 minus 1 equals:
3 divided by 1 equals:
1 plus 1 plus 1 minus 1 equals:
3 minus 1 minus 1 plus 1 equals:
1 plus 1 minus 1 plus 1 equals:
3 minus 1 minus 1 minus 1 equals:
3 minus 1 plus 1 minus equals:
3 multiplied by 1 equals:
3 divided by 1 equals:
3 divided by 3 equals:
2 minus 1 plus 2 equals:
1 plus 2 minus 1 minus 1 equals:
3 minus 2 plus 1 minus 2 equals:
2 plus 1 minus 1 minus 1 equals:
3 minus 2 plus 1 plus 1 divided by 1 equals:
1 plus 1 minus 1 plus 2 divided by 3 equals:
3 minus 1 minus 1 plus 2 minus 1 plus 1 equals:
2 plus 1 minus 2 plus 1 plus 1 minus 3 equals:
1 plus 1 minus 1 plus 2 minus 1 minus 1 plus 2 equals:
1 plus 2 minus 1 minus 1 plus 2 minus 1 minus 1 equals:

She then varied the exercise, calling the attention of the class to some numbers arranged on the board, as follows:

$$\frac{8}{9},\quad \frac{5}{9},\quad \frac{6}{9}$$

in which she said some numbers is lost, which added to the number above the space will give the number below, and called on the class to find them, which they did with much spirit. She next stated that she always used familiar names to teach combinations, substituting the names of members of the class, for the names given in problems, as children can perform the operation much more rapidly. Instead of numerical frame, she would have pupils bring beans, peas, corn etc., and cut out round pieces of pasteboard to represent money, when she drilled pupils in buying and selling, to accustom them to make change. Again, she says to pupils, "Now we will plant corn," putting two kernels in a hill, and one hill in this row and two in the next; how many hills in all? To-day we will make apple-pies, and if mamma has ten apples, how many pies can she make, by putting three apples into each pie? How many left for a turn-over? By such familiar examples, it is her experience that children make much better progress. She would vary the exercises, never continuing them beyond fifteen minutes, and often not more than ten. At the conclusion of the lesson, a spirit of inquiry arose, which showed that Mrs. L's. work was well appreciated

MR. OLCOTT.

The presence of Mr. Olcott, of Indianapolis, was discovered toward the close of yesterday's session, and he was immediately called upon to address the institute. He began by saying that it is difficult to understand why so many are here. Certainly our schools do not require as many teachers as people present. Why are those, who are not teachers, here? What is the cause? What does it mean? He remembers talking to an institute at Butler, in this county, when the house was packed, and the isles were full, and many compelled to stand. Can we account for this attendance at an institute by those who do not teach? Why, in 1856-0, in one of the oldest counties in this state, three teachers met four times a year, in what you may call an "institute," and nobody but us three. Again, in a county of which I was examiner, we had the state superintendent lecture, and we had the immense audience of seventeen souls. I got Horace Mann, one of the greatest educators of the world, to lecture, and paid him fifty dollars and his expenses. I charged each person twenty-five cents addmittance. The receipts at the door amounted to thirteen dollars. How is it now? Why, the house would be filled. And this fact means that people are becoming interested in the cause of education. Not now, and then, one who is so interested, but the masses. See what has been realized in less than one generation. We have one of the grandest public school systems in the world. The out-come has been grand. It is indicated in the fact, that no one can offer himself for a position, unless he is prepared for the place. He must be found on the bed-rock of knowledge. Meanness, chicanery, political trickery, are at a discount. All this, because of education. Was there ever a better or purer man, than President Garfield? The very best that ever lived, educated, good; (applause) Europe mourns, because Garfield died before his time. Garfield had not completed his work, but was just ready to begin. But he was called away by the bullet of a dastardly assassin. Hundreds of others are ready to take his place. They are fitted to take his work up, because the masses are educated. The day has come when none but true, honorable men can occupy positions of trust and honor. Education has done this to a great extent. These teachers have helped in this work, but they have not done it all. Those who teach now must have broad views. The times demand that you know something. There was a time when you were not expected to know much, but that time has passed. I remember when I was examined for license to teach in 1851, that was thirty years ago. I want to compare that examination with yours. We then had three examiners, in each county. One of ours was a doctor, one a lawyer and one was —, nothing. I was a timid boy, therefore I went to the third one, first. Did not find him, then went to the doctor, but he was not at home, so I had at last to be examined by the lawyer

First he looked at me, then he asked me (1) "Do you want to teach school?" I answered, "Yes, sir." He gave me ten on that answer. (laughter) But there is something in that. If you desire to teach, it is in your favor. (2) "Are you a son of Wm. Olcott?" Answer, "I am so far as I know." Got ten on that answer. Because my father had been a respectable teacher, he thought I would be. Blood will tell.

The third question: "Do you understand the 'Rule of Three?'" Ans.: "I don't know any other." Now that was true. We always used it—ciphered everything out. Never had a recitation. We had to take double position, etc., and if we failed the teacher would double us. [Laughter.] Well, I got 10 on that answer, and upon that examination he issued me a license to teach school. Thirty years ago we would have been scared to death by such an examination as you have in these days.

The teacher must be progressive. Progressiveness is the strongest element in your character. The teacher must keep abreast of his position—keep up with the times—or, some morning you will wake up to find your position gone. You are your own worst enemy. You must set an object before you—an idea—reach it, and then you are ready to teach.

Every child must be interested in what he does if he grow. There are some children who will learn in spite of the teacher. Mr. Olcott illustrated this by describing a school which he had visited. He was greeted with a hearty round of applause at the close.

FIFTH DAY'S SESSION:

DALE'S LECTURE.

Mr. Dale varied his work on yesterday, and instead of drilling the teachers, he gave them a lecture upon the importance of elocution. Declamation is not elocution, but it is part only. Elocution is the expression of thought by voice and act on. It is necessary because we are often called upon to speak publicly, and ought to have control of voice etc.

But it is also important in conversation. Conversation is an art, and has its science. It is necessary to prepare for conversation as much as for other things. To converse well we must have a pleasing expression—we should cultivate memory. We must also have knowledge. There must be an ability to listen. Pleasing address is worth more than good looks. There must be courtesy—politeness. There is such a thing as agreeable silence, But when we talk we should have a good voice. The proper quality depends upon education. Bashfulness grows from ignorance, and is not necessarily a sign of weakness of mind. Conceit, however, is unconscious ignorance. Modesty in conversation is a cardinal virtue. Lack of discretion is a most serious injury to us in conversation.

Gossip is a great curse. It comes from a lack of knowledge. People don't know what to talk about, and so grow into gossip. Discretion is next to Godliness. Again, people are not sincere, and so injure their conversational abilities. This compels good people to go out of society. We do not care to converse with insincere people. We must have mental qualifications.

(1.) Memory is indispensable. It can be cultivated by careful study.

(2.) Imagination embellishes thought.

(3) Tact is necessary to good conversation. If we lack skill, we fail. Topics must be unlimited—must know history, science, art, literature. This is acquired by reading and observation. Inability to converse often arises from mental poverty. Small talk is essential, but not too much. It should have the relation to conversation that salt does to food.

(4.) Propriety—when, where, how to say what we know.

Best talkers are best listeners. It is said "speech is silver, silence is golden," Probably because the latter is so rare. We all desire to please, but fail because we say things at wrong time.

(5) Avoid egotism—don't talk about yourself. Avoid personalities. Learn the art of making concessions. Discussions are better for the debating club than for the drawing room.

(6) Avoid affectation.

HUBBELL'S LECTURE.

The last lesson given in the institute was one on punctuation by Prof. O. Z. Hubbell, of the Butler schools. He began his remarks by stating the difference between modern and ancient writing in respect to punctuation and the use of capitals. The outline of his lecture is as follows:

[1] The marks of punctuation are of two kinds, [A] principal; [B] less important, or supplementary. The principal marks are the comma [,], the semicolon [;], the colon [:], period [.], and interrogation [?]. The supplementary marks are the exclamation [!], dash —, parenthesis, ( ), bracket, [ ], quotation, " " and apostrophe, [']. Mr. H. defined each of these marks and proceeded to give their uses.

[2] The comma. [1] Words and phrases parenthetical, [2] intermediate expressions, [3] relative clauses not restrictive, [4] absolute case, [5] inverted clauses, [6] ellipsis of verb, are either set off from the rest of the sentence by commas, or are marked by it.

[3] Semicolon. [1] This is used in sub-divided members when the members contain commas, [2] this also separates clauses having common dependence, [3] the clause additional.

4. Colon: [1] This is used before a quotation. [2] After "yes" or "no." [3] In greater divisions of sentences. [4] After a respectful address.

5. Period. [1] At end of sentence. [2] After titles. [3] Abbreviation.

6. Don't depend upon punctuation for clearness, at all times. A sentence may be properly punctuated, yet not clear. Mr. H. then read a selection, to show the importance of punctuation. In the selection, by one placing of the comma, the subject was made an extremely bad man; by removing the comma two or three words, it made the subject an extremely good man.

Mr. H. handled his exercise in a manner interesting and instructive to all, showing that he is complete master of the subject. We regret that his explanations and illustrations of the uses of the various marks cannot be given in full, as all would derive much benefit from its perusal. It was a lesson well given and well appreciated.

LANGUAGE LESSON.

Professor Fyke was called, and gave his second lesson on the method of teaching grammar in all the grades of schools. He rejoiced that his subject was so ably discussed in the morning session, by Prof. Harrison and Prof. Hubbell, and foresees in this, an awakening which will bring about a reform in our manner of teaching grammar. He wishes all to adapt, but not adopt his method.

Below we give the remainder of the outline of his work: Sixth—third reader pupils.

1. Object—mechanical facility. (a) Pupils copy daily, a paragraph from their reading lessons, to be read from their slates, in class. (b) Pupils write paragraphs from the dictation of the teacher, to be corrected, as to spelling, capitals, punctuation, spacing and neatness. (c) Methods of correction.

2. Object—Facility of expression. (a) Pupils write several simple sentences, in answer to questions given, and require answers in complete sentences. (b) Combine the statements into one simple sentence. (c) Expansion of sentences.

Fourth and fifth reader grade. (c) Combining simple sentences into complex and compound. (d) Write abstracts, from memory, of things told or read. [e] Transpose poetry into prose. [f] Completing dialogues, one part being given. [g] Forms of letter writing. [h] Compositions.

1. Preparation. [a] Observation. [b] Conversation. [c] Reading. [d] Reflection.
2. Outline.
3. Writing.
4. Criticising.
5. Correcting and completing.

HARRISON'S LECTURE.

Professor Harrison was first on programme, and began his work by stating that as he had been excused from his regular lesson, he would talk on the method of teaching grammar. He spoke of the changes through which our language is passing, hence it has a history, and as the history of nations has a cause or philosophy, so there is a philosophy of language. We should not study it, for its philosophy, but that we may obtain a ready and accurate expression of our thoughts, as it is the medium through which the same is communicated. We make a grammar, to conform to language, and the standard by which we estimate the accuracy of our language, is the custom of our best speakers, and writers. Customs are changing for what was good grammar three hundred years ago, is not so considered now. He then said that the method of learning grammar, is not by studying technicalities, but in studying the best productions of our best authors. He said let us not magnify analysis, because synthesis is by far more practical, as we have to deal with putting sentences together, instead of pulling them to pieces. He would have the study of grammar begin at home by the correction of errors when made, and let this be continued through the child's school life, by the careful attention to this matter, on the part of the teacher.

At the conclusion, very earnest and instructive remarks were made by several, one stating that in his opinion, Mr. H. had struck the key-note of a grand reform. We regret that space prevents our giving this lecture in full, as it is one which ought to be read by every man and woman in the county.

The third lesson Friday morning was an exercise in arithmetic by Prof. A. L. Lamport. Subject: "Method of Teaching Prime Numbers."

[1.] Write the numbers from 1 to 20 on the board, as follows:

1
2
3
4
5
6 etc.

Then ask the pupils what numbers make up each one, and write the results as follows:

P. 1 equals 1 multiplied by 1.
" 2 equals 2 multiplied by 1.
" 3 equals 3 multiplied by 1.
C. 4 equals 4 multiplied by 1 equals 2 multiplied by 2.
P. 5 equals 5 multiplied by 1.
C. 6 equals 6 multiplied by 1 equals 3 multiplied by 2, etc.

Now, designate the prime numbers by "P," and the composite numbers by "C," as above. Now, we want to deduce three terms and make them clear to the pupil.

First factor: Ask the question, "What is a factory?" pupils will readily answer, "A place where something is made." Then, "What is a factor?" they will answer, "One who makes something." Now, ask what numbers make a certain figure in the above table. Then, if they make it, they are its factors. Now, point out the difference between the numbers marked P and C, in this respect. This leads the pupil to see what are prime and what composite. Then they can write the definition understandingly. This method is for pupils who have never studied prime numbers. The subject is important, because so many things in arithmetic depend upon it.

Mr. L. showed how to teach compound numbers. [1] Teach measure by actually measuring something. He also gave the institute an excellent method of teaching addition. His lesson was excellent and called forth much praise.

The following are the resolutions adopted:

WHEREAS, The Teachers' Institute for DeKalb county, Indiana, has been held for 1881, in Auburn, and, appreciating the hospitable manner in which we have been entertained, and the courtesy universally shown to us during our stay here, therefore

RESOLVED, That we tender to the citizens of Auburn our sincere thanks for their encouragement to us in our work.

RESOLVED, That we favor a graded system in our country schools, and cordially recommend the co-operation of teachers, trustees and the county superintendent to secure such gradation.

RESOLVED, That we recommend that trustees should pay to teachers a salary in proportion to their qualifications and professional standing.

RESOLVED, That we return our sincere thanks to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and others, for their assistance in instructing us in our work.

RESOLVED, That the trustees should insist upon the attendance of teachers at the township institutes.

RESOLVED, That the township trustees should make a reasonable allowance for janitor's work in country schools.

RESOLVED, That, as we consider the "County Superintendency" a vital part of our school system, we heartily indorse the work of Hon. D. D. Moody and others in our last legislature, in maintaining it.

RESOLVED, That we have great confidence in the ability of Prof. James A. Barns; and that we tender to him our sincere thanks for the able manner in which he has conducted the schools of DeKalb county in the past.

O. M. MERICA,
O. Z. HUBBELL,
MRS. A. L. LAMPORT, Committee.
J. A. QUINCE,
M. M. SHOEMAKER,

INSTITUTE ROLL.

The following list contains the names of the teachers enrolled during the institute:

Jas A Barns, Auburn,
W P Myers, "
T S Merica, Garrett,
Frank Fisk, Waterloo.
J A Quince, St. Johns.
W H Hoagland, Auburn,
C J Maxwell, Butler,
C C Cissel, Corunna,
F M Merica, Garrett,
E E Buchanan, Corunna,
M S Weller, LaOtto,
Chas O Merica, Garrett,
Letitia Coats, Auburn,
L Coats, Auburn
Wm Shultz, Waterloo
Allie Goldsmith, Mt. Hope
J J Eckright, Moore's Station
T J Baxter, Summit
Aggie Baxter, "
Florence Jackman, "
U J Smith, Fairfield Center
Will Franks, Corunna,
J L Grubb, Auburn
H B McCord, Auburn
Eugene Carper, "
Samuel S Teters, "
Lottie Brundage, Butler
Kate Maxwell, "
Emma Yarlott, Moore's Station
Libbie Erehart, Mt. Hope
C Shaffer, Auburn
Ida Hatch, Butler.
Ellen Joslyn, Newville
Martha A Howard, Butler
Maggie Dolan, Garrett
Emma Wells, "
J H St. Clair, Waterloo
Nannie Hornberger, Concord
Minnie Hornberger, "
Jennie McIntyre, Sedan
Daniel Segner, Waterloo
Ella M McIntosh, Auburn
Nettie Wise, Concord
Josie Smith, "
Ada George, "
W H Bachtel, Waterloo.
A Obendorf, Butler
Alice A Wise, Concord
Jessie Douglas, Auburn
J P Ensley, Auburn
Dellate Parnell, Hudson
Nett Parnell, Hudson
Emma Husselman, Waterloo
Robert McDougall, Auburn
Milo Thomas, Auburn
J P Kandel, Auburn
J H Urey, Fairfield Center
Libbie Bevier, Waterloo
Mary Bevier, Waterloo
Minnie M Werrbaugh, Butler
Mary Gunsenhouser, Butler
J Shull, Auburn
A G Garber, Butler
M W Harrison, Auburn
J A McIntyre, Sedan
C A Dugan, Auburn
N T Shaffer, Auburn
C M Hollopeter, Leo
Ida Swartz, Butler
Sarah Zahner, Waterloo
Zella McCurdy, Butler
Rebecca Shull, Auburn
Flora Hoffman, Auburn
A Cowan, Auburn
Jennie Cowan, Auburn
Mary Fetter, Summit
Blanche Conrad, "
Eliza Gramling, Summit
Sadie Hare, Auburn
Rosa Shaffer, Auburn
T J Saxton, Auburn
W H McIntosh, Auburn
Henry E Coe, Waterloo
C M Merica, Garrett
O Z Hubbell, Butler
A L Lamport, Waterloo
Eva Link, Auburn
Carrie Shaffer, Auburn
Josie Thomas, Butler
Frank Seiler, Fairfield Center
M Ferrington, Corunna.
Mattie Carmer, Auburn,
Loa Swineford, Mount Hope,
Laura Kennedy, Waterloo,
P Coder, Auburn,
Jennie Blaker, Waterloo,
Jennie Baxter, Butler,
A J Jennings, Butler,
J W Jackman, Waterloo,
E E Barber, Butler,
Isaac N Aldrich, Hamilton,
Chas Baxter, "
Oron Bair, Fairfield Center,
Ella S St Clair, Waterloo,
Bina Monroe, Mount Hope,
Christie Blaker, Butler,
Lida Phillips, Waterloo,
Mary M Brundage, Butler,
Allie E Shoub, "
J N Boyle "
W D Miller, "
W B Brown, Concord,
W R Snyder, Angola,
Lena Crooks, Waterloo,
Hattie Crooks, "
Anna Teeters, Auburn,
W B Chiesman, Blair,
J E ermott, "
F W Nimmons, Butler,
O A Fyke, "
Laura Keeran, New Era,
Sarah Trail, Waterloo,
Maud M Shoemaker, Waterloo,
J L Ash, Waterloo,
Millie Kester, Butler,
John H. Merica, Garret,
A W Ash, Waterloo,
E J McOscar, Summit,
Will Keeran, "
Olive Nelson, Auburn,
Mollie Carmer, "
Harry Jackman, Summit,
Nancy Ball, Butler,
J W McCrory, Auburn,
F S McCullough, Corunna,
Emma Thompson, Auburn,
Mrs H C Kinzie, LaOtto.
H E Bause, Cromwell,
Frank Scholes, Blair.
Susie Scholes, "
Chas S Jackman, Summit,
W A McOscar, "
G W Crooks, Waterloo,
Hattie Smith, "
Dora Trout, "
Ella Jackson, Hicksville, O.,
W C Carmer, Auburn,
Joseph Conrad, Garrett,
Eliza Stahl, Auburn,
Tillie Hendershot, Newville,
Hattie Wise, Butler,
Eliza Nidig, "
Irene Campbell, Butler,
Henry Winslow, Auburn,
C P Houser, "
C W Stroh, Waterloo,
A F Clutter, "
C H Brown, Concord,
Rose Moody, Garrett,
Laura Clark, Auburn,
J A Rush "
Callie Britton, Corunna,
Ellen Imus, "
Marie Goldsmith, Mount Hope,
Lydia North, Waterloo,
Kate Kingsley, "
C W Wiley, Edgerton, O.,
J L Wyckoff, Butler,
F A Brink, "
M W Johnson, Waterloo,
A J Beard, "
O F Edge, "
Emma Grube, Auburn,
Minnie Mathews "
Nannie Bemenderfer, Waterloo,

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum. For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Beugnot's Store.

P. V. HOFFMAN.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT-LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street, over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will give prompt attention to collections. Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite B. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 25 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

Holloway' Pills.

Never dispair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispells doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers He has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 6 to 8 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. 4tf

W. L. BRAUN.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address, H. Hallett & Co, Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily mad Costly outfit free, Address, True and C Augusta, Maine. [No. 7.17

IMPROVE THE HOUR.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncaitis, Asthma, Coughs and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

39 Fifth Avenue. Pittsburh, Pa.
A. Macready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio For sale by all druggists.

CROWN
SEWING
MACHINE
IS THE BEST

It is the result of 20 years' experience and experiments in Sewing Machines. It combines the good points of all present and former makes, and is not a "one man" or "one idea" machine, as others are. It avoids the defects of others, and possesses new and valuable features and conveniences. It is large, light-running, noiseless, handsome, convenient, durable, and simple. Warranted and kept in repair free for 5 years. Circulars with full description sent free on request. It is surely the best. A trial will prove it. Don't fail to see it before you buy. MANUFACTURED BY FLORENCE MACHINE CO., Florence, Mass.; WHOLESALED BY GEO. F. BENT, 8 and 10 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

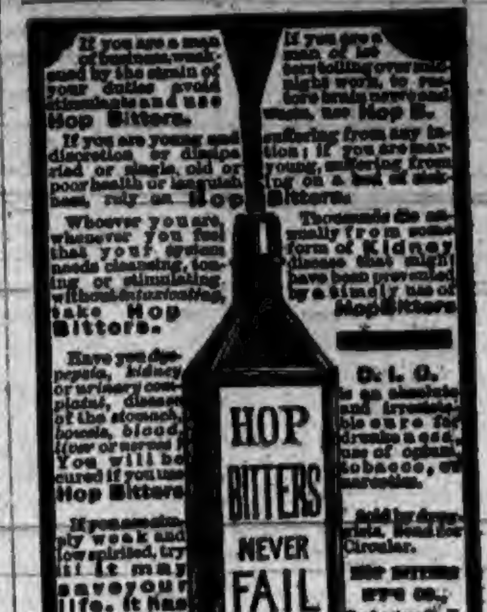
WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the BEST MACHINERY in the WORLD for

BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power!

BOOK FREE. Address

LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.



If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.
If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languishing on a bed of sickness, rely on Hop Bitters.
Whoever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.
Thousands die annually from some form of Kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of Hop Bitters
Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters
If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.
D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco, or narcotics.
Sold by druggists. Send for Circular.
HOP BITTERS MFG CO., Rochester, N. Y. & Toronto, Ont.
HOP BITTERS NEVER FAIL

KIDNEY-WORT

TRADE MARK

THE ONLY MEDICINE

IN EITHER LIQUID OR DRY FORM

That Acts at the same time on

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, AND THE KIDNEYS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL SURELY CURE KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS, by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why suffer Billious pains and aches!
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation!
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys!
Why endure nervous or sick headaches!

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health.

It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans one package of which makes six quarts of medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for those that cannot readily prepare it.

☞ It acts with equal efficiency in either form. GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's, (Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

DO Send for our New Illustrated Price-List No. 30, for Fall and Winter of 1881. Free to any address. Contains full description of all kinds of goods for personal and family use. We deal directly with the consumer, and sell all goods in any quantity at wholesale prices. You can buy better and cheaper than at home.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
227 and 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION
LANDRETH'S GARDEN SEEDS
SEND FOR CATALOGUE TO
SEEDS SENT BY MAIL
DAVID. LANDRETH & SONS. PHILA.

USE KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE.

HOME TREATMENT. A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc. The Recipes used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 435 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

CHEAP LANDS on long credit and easy terms, in a mild climate, free from heavy snows, blighting frosts, and excessive rains. MILLIONS OF ACRES for sale in the GOLDEN BELT of Kansas, by the UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY, of as rich Soil as the sun ever shone on, with good markets east and west. For Descriptive and Illustrated Books, with Maps, Sent Free, Address LAND COMMISSIONER,—Kansas Division, KANSAS CITY. MISSOURI.

REED'S

GILT EDGE TONIC

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

Recorders Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 11. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, NOVEMBER 24, 1881. Number 47.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

A doctor will sit down and write a prescription; time, five seconds; paper and ink, one-fourth of a cent; and the patient pays from 75 cents to $10 as the case may be. A lawyer writes ten or twelve lines of advice and charges from $3 to $10 for it. An editor writes a quarter or half column puff for a man, pays his compositor fifty cents to a dollar for putting it in type, prints it for several thousand people to read, and the puffed man is surprised if the printer charges him for it. Now, we have no objection to the doctor's charges, because it has taken years of patient study and dollars of money to enable him to do so. We have no objection to the lawyer's fees, because he has labored long and assiduously to perfect himself in the practice. But in addition to all this the printer has to have experience, machinery and material to enter his profession, and yet he is expected to work for nothing and board himself. Who wouldn't be a printer?

The Indiana Farmer has the following suggestions in regard to Canada thistles: "The Canada thistle (Circium arveuse) is a very troublesome weed and its extermination will tax a farmer's patience. Two methods are pursued for destroying it. One is to break the ground deeply in the early spring and stir it well with a cultivator or harrow, once a week through the season. The other method is to cut the thistles, once a week at the ground, and thus starve the roots by want of nutrition that must be furnished by the leaves. It straw could be had, sufficient to cover the infected spot to the depth of six or eight inches, the pest could be smothered. But there is no short cut—no easy road to the destruction of the Canada thistle.

"Where there is a will there's a way." We will give our saloon men a "cue," by telling them how their "pards" at Peru, Ind., dodge the late law: "When parties enter the saloon to play a game of pool, they are compelled to deposit five cents apiece before beginning the game; if billiards is to be the game, they pay one dime each. Formerly the looser paid for the game. This the last legislature pronounced gambling, and therefore fixed a penalty to prevent it. The plan of Peru saloonists is a good one, but when the game is paid for and there is no stake, the interest in the game is all lost, and the result will be a manifest decrease of pool and billiard players."

A correspondent writing from Decatur county, tells of a trap, set by certain swindlers at Greensburg for swindling the farmers, who are green enough to bite at the bait, and have so little principle as to be willing to make money by gambling. Under pretense of wanting to employ the farmer to distribute some bills in his neighborhood, they get him into an office and entice him into a game of three card monte, and of course get whatever money he can be induced to stake. It is the old story, told so often that everybody who reads knows it by heart. Its only those who can't afford to take a paper that can afford to lose their five or ten dollar bills in this way.

Women are delicate creatures, and it is man's nature to be kind and affable to their wants. Mrs. Jesse James played her game successfully at Madison, Indiana. Everybody wondered who this woman was, and now it turns out that the "strange lady" who visited Madison in June last, with a splendid horse and buggy to sell at a sacrifice, and who scooped W. Crozier, of the Courier, and A. Fisher, the livery man, to the extent of $65, was none less a personage than Mrs. Jesse James, wife of the famous bandit of James Bros. notoriety

The Lagrange Register says: "Our railroad depot presented a peculiar spectacle last week, being filled with fifty or more Amish people whose odd dress furnished the occasion of much wonderment and comment on the part of a few strangers who had never seen them before. They are a thrifty and worthy class of citizens, and a large party of kindred from Holmes county, Ohio, were on their way back after a visit with their friends, who came to see them off."

—Kiblinger & Co. sell cook stoves—that is, almost give them away. Come and see. 49 tf.

Wintry weather.

Indian summer, adieu.

French Pete sings gospel hymns.

The thanksgiving gobbler, gobbles no more.

Billy Little sent over for his lantern. She lives through a piece of woods.

Last Friday it rained from morning until night, making trade very dull.

We are glad to state that the Courier is receiving new patrons each week.

France, the mail carrier, has not yet been found. The Fort Wayne News is off its base.

The urchin who eats onions cannot attend the Goshen schools. Phew! what a school.

Judge Jenner, the popular landlord at the Central, and Gust. Mead traded steeds the other day.

If Coop. Ralston's cat could talk, it would make things lively in the gossip line for Geo. Lanning.

Venor is still contending for an open winter, nothwithstanding all theories tend to the contrary.

"Stockings, Miss; what number?" "Why, two, of course. Do you think I've got a wooden leg?"

The demand for shingles has been great this fall. Our lumber dealers could not fill all their orders.

An oyster, said Hood, is very anomalous, for you have to take it out of its bed before you can tack it in.

The Egyptian emblem of a snake with its tail in its mouth was the earliest sign of the "swallow tail."

A bachelor bequeathed his property to the girl who had refused him; "for to them I owe all my earthly happiness."

According to the Boston Herald, Dr. Bliss thinks that $25,000 will impart a laudable character to his purse cavity.

We have some very neat and tasty calling cards for ladies. The cards are of the latest patern, put up in a handsome velvet card-case. Call and see them.

The boys should be careful and not exhibit any weapon they may have upon their person. A young man was arrested at Ligonier for carrying a revolver, and he had to "jump" the town to keep out of prision.

Washington is an unhealthy place, but there is one good thought about it: None except politicians are obliged to abide there, and they are perfectly willing to take the chances.

If you are not a subscriber to the Courier now, be sure and commence the first of January. At that time the 12th volume begins, and in the language of Baxter, "We will make it one of the best papers in the county."

Johnny Knoder has just completed a lot of home-made horse shoes, made from bar iron. They are said to wear much longer than the common market shoe. He is located near the Eagle Mills, at Anderson Bros. old stand.

The Albion New Era says: "That the crop of late potatoes will be much better than has been anticipated, and the prices will rule lower after awhile. Parties having a surplus of this article are running some risk of a loss by holding for higher prices."

General Grant is to have a family reunion to-day. Mrs. Sartoris and her children will sail from England in time to be present, and it is thought that seventeen members of the family will sit down to dinner. The reception will be given in the new family mansion.

Chewing gum is a wax. It is white and sweet. Chew it awhile and stick it on the under side of the mantle piece. The hired girl will find it there and chew it awhile herself, and then put it back. In this way, one piece of gum will answer for a whole family. When the gum is no good, put it in the rocking chair for the minister or your sister's beau to sit upon.

The Journal at Angola says: "It was our pleasure a few days ago to form the acquaintance of the Rev. Mr. Mathews, of the Presbyterian church at Auburn. Mr. Mathews has recently taken charge of this church, and brings to the work such zeal and energy as will no doubt make his pastorate a successful one. He also has the Waterloo appointment."

Gravel the roads.

How about a fire engine?

The pink eye among horses has about subsided.

The laborers are making the woods ring with the sound of the ax.

Mormonism may be doomed and all that, but their converts are increasing 10,000 a year.

Another jail bird added to the combination. Particulars will be given at some future time.

January 1st completes this volume of the Courier, and we expect all back subscriptions to be paid on or before this date.

A servant girl with a homely face is apt to have an ugly temper, but somehow our wives appear willing to put up with them.

Money to Loan.—If you wish to borrow money on good time and easy terms, call on James E. Rose, Auburn, Indiana. 27 tf

Last week the "wiseacres" of this great country were going to have the world come to an end. Again they have petered out.

Sun spots are held responsible for meteorological wonders, as severe variations in the weather invariably occur during their presence.

While we thank Providence for our good fortune to-day, let us go down in our pockets and donate something to the fire sufferers of Michigan.

Don't sit around the house these long winter evenings and not have the Courier. It will give you more satisfaction than a barrel of walnuts.

Curran said of a man with a very solemn face: "Whenever I see smiles on that man's face, they remind me of the tin clasps on an oaken coffin."

The breweries in Kansas all suspended operations after the passage of the prohibitory amendment, but according to accounts, they are all starting up again.

A prominent lumberman in Burlington has had his coat-of-arms painted on the panels of his carriage, with the Latin motto, "Vidi," which by interpretation is "I saw."

Fridays are said to illustrate both extremes of weather. That is, it is either the most pleasant or the most disagreeable day of the week. Last Friday with its rain, showed the utmost extreme of the disagreeable.

When the girl who has encouraged a young man for about two years suddenly tells him that she can never be more to him than a sister, he can, for the first time, see the freckles on her nose.

The Steuben County Journal says: "A brakeman by the name of Brown, on the way freight south Friday afternoon, had his hand crushed while coupling cars at that place. The first finger was broken in several places, and others somewhat injured. It is thought they may all, with proper care, be saved."

A medical authority says when you get a chill all over and away into your bones, and begin to sniffle and almost struggle for your breath, just begin in time and your tribulation need not last very long. Get some powdered borax and snuff the dry powder up your nostrils. Get your camphor bottle, smell of it frequently, pour some on you handkerchief and wipe your nose with it whenever needed. Your nose will not get sore and you will soon wonder what has become with your cold. Begin this treatment in the forenoon and keep on at intervals until you go to bed, and you will sleep as well as you ever did.

The Pine Bluff Eagle says: "A Canadian preacher named Joseph Wild, has been telling his flock some very queer things recently. He informs them that in his opinion, Mr. Garfield's death opens up the way for the complete union of the Anglo-Saxon race, which event he claims, is plainly foretold in the bible. He prophesies that General Grant will soon proclaim a military dictatorship in the United States, to which will be amalgamated the various English speaking nations of the world. The seat of government of this great and widely scattered nation, observes Bro. Wild, will eventually be removed to Jerusalem. Well, with Lord Lorne as governor-general, and Vennor and Wild as prophets, our Canadian neighbors certainly deserve the sincere condolence of the outside world."

School Report.

Report of Auburn public schools for the month ending November 4, 1881:

1st and 2d Primary Department.

No. enrolled	92
No. belonging	90
No. withdrawn	2
Average daily attendance	83
Per cent. of attendance	92
No. half days absence unexcused	00
No. pupils unexcused	00
No. neither absent nor tardy	32

Miss E. Thomson, Teacher.

1st and 2d Primary Department.

No. enrolled	84
No. belonging	82
No. withdrawn	2
Average daily attendance	70
Per cent. of attendance	85
No. absent unexcused	4
No. half days absence unexcused	9
No. neither absent nor tardy	26

Miss Coder, Teacher.

3d Primary Department.

No. enrolled	77
No. belonging	77
Average daily attendance	68
Per cent. of attendance	88
No. neither absent nor tardy	27

Miss Coats, Teacher.

Intermediate Department.

No. enrolled	50
No. belonging	46
No. withdrawn	4
Average daily attendance	42
Per cent. of attendance	92
No. half days absence unexcused	4
No. pupils absent unexcused	1
No. neither absent nor tardy	10

Miss Clark, Teacher.

Grammar Department.

No. enrolled	41
No. belonging	41
Average daily attendance	36
Per cent. of attendance	90
No. half days absence unexcused	7
No. pupils absent unexcused	3
No. neither absent nor tardy	5

Chas. Dugan, Teacher.

High School.

No. enrolled	39
No. belonging	37
No. withdrawn	2
Average daily attendance	35
Per cent. of attendance	90
No. absent unexcused	4
No. half days absence unexcused	16
No. neither tardy nor absent	8

W. P. Myers,
M. W. Harrison, } Teachers.

Consolidated Report.

Whole number pupils enrolled	383
No. belonging	373
No. withdrawn	10
Average daily attendance	334
Per cent. of attendance	90
No. half days absence unexcused	36
No. pupils absent unexcused	12
No. cases corporal punishment	00
No. neither absent nor tardy	108

W. P. Myers, Supt.

Sheldons Publications.

These excellent text-books, now used in so many of the common schools of the country, were for the first time fully represented at the county institute. Cyrus Smith, so long connected with the publishing houses of Cincinnati, was here this week in the interest of Sheldon & Co. These books include among others, a most excellent speller—Pattersons; Colton's geography; Olney's arithmetics and algebras; Shaw's English Literature; Lossing's history; Hooker's physiology; and Alden's works on the science of government. Not only are these works good text-books for use in the schools, but they are almost indispensible to the teacher as books of reference. Correspondence solicited. Address,

Cyrus Smith,
46-tfs Indianapolis, Ind.

My Good Woman.

Why are you so out of sorts, never able to tell folks that you are well? Ten to one its all caused in the first place by habitual constipation, which no doubt finally caused deranged kidneys and liver. The sure cure for constipation is the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It is also a specific remedy for all kidney and liver diseases. Thousands are cured by it every month. Try it at once.—[Toledo Blade.

Township Institutes.

Richland Township, Nov. 23 and 24, at Corunna.

Wilmington Township, Nov. 25 and 2, at Center.

Butler and Keyser Townships, Dec. 2 and 3, at Garrett.

Franklin Township, Dec. 9 and 10, at Center.

Union and Smithfield, Dec. 17, at Waterloo.

The others will be given as soon a announced.

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week:

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price):

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,

MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, OMBRE PLUSHES, for $3, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS,

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—excellent value.

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS,

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c., 75c., $1.25 and $1.50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 an $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. - - - Ft. Wayne.

Suffering Women.

There is but a very small proportion of the women of this nation who do not suffer from some of the deseases for which Kidney-Wort is specific. When the bowels have become costive, headache torments, kidneys out of fix, or piles distress, take a package and its wonderful tonic and renovating power will cure you and give new life.—[Watchman.

Ashburnham, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skilful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I tried hop bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed. I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them used 'em and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

21 Mrs. Julia G. Cushing.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

Levi H. Cupp is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court, for a divorce, by Julia Cupp, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 18th juridical day, at nine o'clock a. m., of the next term of said court, which commences December 19, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 14th day of November, 1881

John W. Baxter,
46-3w. Clerk.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

Martin A. King, Oliver Boyer and Jacob Kahn impleaded with others, are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court for the forclosure of a mortgage by John H. Baxter; and that the same will be heard and determined on the 18th juridical day of the next term of said court, which term commences at nine o'clock a. m., December 19, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 15th day of November, 1881.

J. W. Baxter, Clerk.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Elizabeth Bickel, deceased, Christopher Welch, administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 14th day of November, 1881.

John W. Baxter,
46-2w. Clerk.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DeBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist.

1882.

Harper's Young People

AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY—16 PAGES.

Suited to boys and girls of from six to sixteen years of age. Vol. III. commences November 1, 1881. Now is the time to subscribe.

The Young People has been from the first successful beyond anticipation.—N. Y. Evening Post.

It has a distinct purpose to which it steadily adheres—that, namely, of supplanting the vicious papers for the young with a paper more attractive, as well as more wholesome.—Boston Journal.

For neatness, elegance of engraving, and contents generally, it is unsurpassed by any publication of the kind yet brought to our notice.—Pittsburgh Gazette.

Its weekly visits are eagerly looked for, not only by the children, but also by parents who are anxious to provide pure literature for their girls and boys.—Christian Advocate, Buffalo N. Y.

A weekly paper for children which parents need not fear to let their children read at the family fireside.—Hartford Daily Times.

Just the paper to take the eye and secure the attention of the boys and girls.—Springfield Union.

TERMS:

HARPER'S
YOUNG PEOPLE,

$1.50 per year; Postage Prepaid. Single Numbers Four Cents each. The Bound Volume for 1881 will be ready early in November. Price $3.00; postage prepaid. Cover for Young People for 1881, 35 cents; postage 13 cents additional.

Remittances should be made by post-office money order, or draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of Harper & Brothers.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS,
New York.

Holloway' Pills.

Never despair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question as to the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispells doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

WHISTLING BONNET.

"Whistle, whistle, daughter, and you shall have a cow;"
"I cannot whistle, mother, for I do not know how."
"Whistle, whistle, daughter, and you shall have a horse;"
"I never whistled, mother, and cannot now of course."
"Whistle, whistle, daughter, and you shall have a sheep;"
"How can I whistle, mother? To try would make me weep."
"Whistle, whistle, daughter, and you shall have a calf;"
"I cannot whistle, mother, to try would make me laugh."
"Whistle, whistle, daughter, and you shall have a doe;"
"I will not whistle, mother, I cannot make it go."
"Whistle, whistle, daughter, and you shall have a man;"
"I never whistled, mother, but now I know I can."
And like a merry mocking bird, to whistle she began,
Then went to meet the promised prize, and whistled as she ran.

A SPINNING WHEEL.

The old house stood in an infrequented lane; how infrequented was evident from the grass-grown wheel-track in the middle and the half-effaced foot-path at one side. It had a melancholy aspect, the old house, as it gazed out at the fields with its blinded and closely-shut windows. A long, untrimmed briar-rose tapped with its riotous withes on the front door, the little yard was choked with weeds, two or three missing panes had been mended by squares of pasted paper; there was just repair enough to avert a look of squalor and not sufficient quaintness to achieve the picturesque. Still, the yellow sun and the sweet air of September bathed the shabbiness and lent a peaceful air to the spot, and the same blue sky arched above which overhangs earth's fairer faces. Nature knows no favorites. Her free bounty is shed for all, and her sweetness reaches and communicates itself to unlikeliest nooks.

Forlorn as the old house was, it wore a delightful look to one pair of eyes—these, namely, of a young woman who was driving down the lane in a light country wagon, with a companion of her own age and sex beside her. They were city girls, lodging for a few weeks in a neighboring village, and this was one of many drives they had taken together, partly for enjoyment of each other and the scenery, and partly with a view to possible bric-a-brac, of which one of them was an enthusiastic collector. They had taken the turn into the lane with the expectation of finding a human habitation beyond, and when the old house caught the eye of Mattie Mason, the bric-a-brac fancier, an exclamation of capture broke from her lips. The other girl did not notice it at first. She was dreamily regarding the hedge-rows, and humming to herself:

Wild rose, delicately flushing
All the border of the dale,
Art thou like a pale cheek blushing?
Or like a red cheek?

"Well, Mattie, what is it?" as her abstraction was rebuked by a sharp poke from the elbow of her companion.

"Oh! Hester, see! Such a delicious old roost! It looks as if it were built in the year one. The very house for andirons and brass candlesticks and spinning-wheels. What'll you bet that I don't find the spinning-wheel of my dreams in that very garret which you see up there? And to think that no one told us that there was a house down this way!"

"It does look spinning-wheely," said Hester, with a smile, as her friend turned the wagon toward a side door, where was visible a row of milk-pans set out to air. The sound of wheels, hushed and veiled as it was by the spreading grass, evidently caused an excitement within, for blinds rattled and one or two heads peeped out of windows. By the time the horse had checked himself at the top of the grassy rise, the door had opened, and become, as Mattie afterward expressed it, "densely populated," no less than three women and one old man crowding at once to enjoy the unwonted spectacle of two young ladies and a wagon. Two of the women were good specimens of that hearty, though toothless and wrinkled, old age so often seen in the New England country regions; the third, a spare, shrinking little creature, did not seem of the same genus. Mattie leaned forward. She was always the spokeswoman of the two, and her voice, as she spoke, softened itself into the pretty, coaxing tone which she was accustomed to employ when there was an end to serve, or a new acquaintance to be pleased.

"Good afternoon," said the sweet voice, "we stopped as we went by to ask if by chance you happen to have in your garret an old-fashioned flax-wheel which you no longer use?"

"Well, yes, I calkerlate there is one," replied one of the women.

"Is it pretty—small, you know, and made of dark wood?"

"Yes, 'tis kind of small."

"I wonder if I might go up stairs and see it. (Seductively). I want just such an old wheel. Would you sell yours if it turns out what I want?"

"You must not ask me about that—he's the man," remarked the other woman, having paid which concession to sex, she turned sharply and said to the nobler creature indicated, in a peremptory voice: "You go along up and light a candle, so's she can see when she gets there"—a mandate which "the man" obeyed with docility. Then, turning to Mattie: "You can go up if you've a mind to, but you'll find it kind of dusty, I guess."

"Oh, I don't mind dust in the least," laughed Mattie, who adored old garrets, and was not often able to win entrance into one with so little trouble as this. She and Hester jumped out; the old woman tied the horse to the fence by his reins, and the whole party proceeded in-doors and up a narrow-walled staircase, with sharp, square turns, to the upper entry.

Here was a pause, during which the old man joined them again, a lighted tallow-dip in his hand.

"I guess we'll have to go through your room, Miss Treadgar, if it won't put you out," said one of the elder women.

"Oh, go right in. My sister won't mind, I think," was the reply, in a shy, hesitating voice.

They passed, accordingly, into a large, low-ceiled room, with windows on three sides set in a "lean-to" roof. It was furnished with some attempt at comfort. A small open-grate stove stood in the chimney, there was a high-backed rocking-chair covered with old-fashioned "patch," a bed-quilt of the same, a chest of cherry-wood drawers, and, on a square of faded carpet in one of the windows, a claw-legged table of dark, polished mahogany, before which Mattie Mason came to "point," much as a trained dog does when it detects the presence of hidden game.

"What a dear little table," she cried; "such a funny, old-fashioned shape. Do you use it much? Wouldn't you like to sell it?"

"Oh please—" began the spare little woman, in a deprecating voice, but, as if evoked by the words, out from behind the bed ran another woman, with oddly-shining eyes. She came swiftly, with hands tightly locked together, and with a motion as if to embrace the table, cried:

"Oh, no! oh, no! Don't take away my little light-stand. It's the only one I've got. I've had it always. I couldn't bear to lose my light-stand. Don't let them, Hexy, don't let them!"

"Hush, Harriet; hush, dear!" said the spare little woman, evidently the "Hexy" addressed. "The lady won't. She don't mean nothing by what she said." But still the fixed gaze continued, and the imploring voice went on: "Oh don't let them, you won't, will you, Hexy? They've taken away so many things. Leave me my little light stand!"

"Yes, dear, yes, dear," said the sister, soothingly, while Mattie, discomfited and repentant, echoed her assurances: "I wouldn't rob you of your table for the world. Pray don't suppose so for a minute. I was only asking from curiosity. Don't feel badly—please don't!" But still the pitiful pleading continued, though in a lower key: "Don't, don't," till the elder woman plucked her sleeve, and whispered:

"You'd better come away. She ain't rightly in her senses, poor creetur, and don't know what she says"—and Mattie, glad to escape from a scene which was becoming painful, willingly followed to a farther room, which proved to be a loft, whence presently the old woman's voice was heard demanding: "Now whatever can have taken that wheel? I see it just the other year—that time that Jehiel's folks was here, I guess; it was—twelve year, is it?—well, 'twas here then I'm most sure, but I don't seem able to lay my hand on it now." Hester, meanwhile, less absorbed in a special interest than her friend, lingered with the sisters, the older and feebler of the two still hovering over her property, as though she feared it might yet be snatched from her by fraud or violence.

"Is she ill?" whispered Hester, when at last the poor creature had been soothed into comparative quiet and persuaded to sit down in the rocking-chair.

"No, not worse than she often is. It's just the excitement. Nothing worries her like the idea of losing the furnitur'. 'Twas that upset her in the first place, you know—" and "Hexy" gave a troubled sigh.

"That? You mean——"

"Oh, all the talk about breaking us up and selling off the things, and sending us to the poor-house. They never did it, but the idea was enough to break Harriet all down. She had kept up heart till then. She was a master-hand for doing and encouraging, and when I got way down she would always kind of pull me up and make me take a hopeful view as well as she could. As long as we could live on in the room we had been used to always, and have our own things about us, and have just work enough to keep us goin', she was satisfied and so was I. 'Twas home—that was what Harriet always said; and we both thought a heap of it—we was together, too, and of course that counted for a good deal."

"Where was this home of yours?" asked Hester. She had seated herself, and her gentle voice and sympathetic eyes tempted the speaker on.

"It was down to the North End. Alison street it used to be called, but they've cut away and changed everything, and there ain't no such street now."

"The North End of Boston, do you mean?"

"Yes, the North End. We're Boston born, and so was all our folks. It used to be a real nice street when I was a little girl. I can recollect it some; there was ever so many big houses, and rich people lived in them. My mother took in sewing then, and Harriet and me helped, though we was pretty little to do much, but work was plenty, and we got on well. Then times began to change, and the rich people all moved away and poor people moved in, and one by one we lost all our customers. Most of them had gone to a great way off, where it was too far for them to send, and—they kind of forgot us, I suppose. It wasn't no more than natural. Still it came hard on Harriet and me. Mother was dead then, there wasn't no one left but us two. Sewing was the only thing we knew how to do, and at last there was hardly any sewing to be had."

"Couldn't you have moved too, and got a little nearer to your customers?"

"That was just what folks told us. But we didn't seem to see our way clear to do it. We was attached to our room for one thing. Harriet thought a heap of that room. We had lived there always, you see. Some folks don't mind moving, but Harriet always said she couldn't understand what they were made of. Everything stood just where it did when we was little things growing up with our mother, and we sort of clung to the spot. Then, moving costs money, and it was all uncertain how we should get along after we moved. The folks we used to work for got kind of scattered, and we didn't know any of the new-fashioned kinds of sewing. All our work was hand-work. If there was anything Harriet could not abide it was a machine. She always said the man who invented them hadn't got any poor woman-folks belongin' to him, that she was sure."

"It was very hard for you."

"Yes, 'twas. It got so bad toward the end that for more'n three months we didn't have any work at all, not a single stitch. Mis' Chandler, that was a Shrieve—did you ever know her, she's a beautiful lady?—she had sort of kep in with us always, but she'd gone up to the mountings that summer, and there wasn't nobody else that wanted anythin' done. We'd always counted a good deal on Mis' Chandler—she was real kind to us always—and when she went away we didn't know which way to turn. I don't know how we should have got along at all if it hadn't been for Mis' Ware. Do you know her? She's another real beautiful lady. She was keepin' house that time for old Mr. Ames, up on Beacon hill, and she'd taken charge of a "District" for a spell, and so she came acquainted with Harriet and me. She used to bring us things most every week. No, I can't think how we should have done without Mis' Ware."

"The Lord sent her, that's just the long and short of it," proceeded Hexy, her voice choking a little. "You see, I fell sick, and Harriet she got all wore out taking care of me, and we got out of everything, and at last the overseer of the poor come, and he judged 'twan't no use our trying to keep along any further. We must sell off what we'd got, he said, and just go into the almshouse with the town poor and be supported. I was settin' up by that time, so I see him as well as Harriet. He didn't mean to be unkind, I guess, but he said it kind of hard. I suppose he couldn't realize what one's feelings was, and he didn't make it sound no easier than it was. After he had gone away Harriet turned kind of wild. She couldn't say a word, but walked up and down the room whispering to herself and wringing her hands. I cried till I was all tired out, then I went to sleep; when I woke up she was gone!"

"Gone! where?"

"I didn't know any more than you do now. I was too weak to sit up long, and I couldn't stir to find her. It seemed as if the end of everything had come. I mistrusted the Lord that night. It seemed as if He didn't know and didn't care what beame of us two poor creeturs, and had just let us go. But there! I needn't! It was real wicked and faithless in me, for we always had been helped somehow, and we was then. The very next morning, by 9 o'clock, come Mis' Ware. He sent her of course; and when she heard what happened, she just went straight out to the police, and they writ and telegraphed about the country, and the third day they found Harriet."

"Oh, where was she?" cried Hester, thrilled with sympathy.

"Way out to the back of Milton hill. What took her that way I don't know, nor ever did. She don't remember nothing about it. She had just wandered on and on, trying to get away from her trouble, poor thing, as if any of us could do that."

A pause. Through the open door of the loft Hester heard Mattie saying:

"Yes, it is quite a nice old wheel. What will you take for it?" and the old maid's canny voice in reply:

"Wall—I don't know just what wheels is a fetchin' now."

"Mis' Ware didn't stop there, neither," resumed Hexy. "When she found how bad we felt about it, she told the overseer of the poor that she'd see we was supported somehow, without comin' on the city. I don't rightly know how it was fixed, but some of Mis' Ware's rich friends helped, and it was arranged we should stay on at the old place. Then the next year they cut the new street and we moved out here. Mis' Ware, she did it all. 'Twas better for Harriet, she thought, and all our own things was fetched out, to make her feel home-like. She's a good deal better since. She likes to look out of the window in summer time, and some days she's almost cheerful and like her old self—no, not that, but more like than I ever thought she would be."

"It is a pleasant, quiet stop for her. Are the people kind to you?"

"Well, yes. They are kind enough, as folks go. They're glad of the board, and I help along a little, and we get on very well. Harriet hasn't ever got over being strange to them, and I don't suppose she ever will; but she don't ever go down stairs and they hardly ever come up, so it don't much matter. Sitting here alone with me, she don't realize half the time that she isn't in the old place, and that quiets her mind more than anything else does."

The bargaining in the loft grew louder.

"Half a dollar was what a friend of mine gave for one the other day."

"Half a dollar! That don't seem much for a wheel that cost's much as $17 when it was new."

"When it was new! Yes! But you can't expect to use a thing fifty years and then get as much as you gave for it! Now I'll tell you," continued the little screw; "it's such a nice little wheel that I'll give you a dollar for it. That is twice as much as my friend gave."

"Wall—a dollar seems fairer," in a convinced tone. Another moment, and in they trooped, Mattie with a dusty spindle fast in her hand, the old man bearing the wheel and its appurtenances.

"Come, Hester—we must be getting home," announced Mattie, with a look which meant that she judged it expedient to be off with her prize without injudicious delay. Hester understood, and rose to go. Bump, bump went the spinning-wheel against the stairs. She lingered for a word of farewell.

"Thank you so much for telling me about your sister. I wish there was something I could do to give her or you a pleasure. Is there?"

"Oh, thank you," with a flush of grateful surprise, "no, indeed, we don't want anything at all now. Folks has been so kind since Harriet broke down." She sobbed outright for a moment. "'Tis too bad in me, only—only, I sometimes think how different 'twould be if only some one had found out and helped a little before—she—broke—down."

The words rang in Hester's ears as they drove home in the spicy, dewy twilight. "Ah, dear!" she sighed to herself—a great wave of pity and concern sweeping over her heart—"why can't people know—why don't they?—and just give the little lift, the small help, at the right moment, which means so much before and so little after the Harriets of the world 'break down?'"

THE churches will keep on until there won't be any fun left. The Presbyterians won't let people dance, the Methodists kick on smoking and kissing, and all the churches prevent something. It will get so after a while that all we can do will be to join the Baptists, and go in swimming. The Baptists will never go back on a fellow's going in swimming.—Peck's Sun.

MANY persons iron towels and fold them and place them away before they are thoroughly dry. This is an error, and sometimes leads to results not expected. In this damp condition there is a mold which forms on them called "oidium," one variety of which causes a skin disease known as ringworm.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

FAINTING persons should be left in the horizontal posture until consciousness returns.

WORRY and overwork will produce biliousness. So will the use of strong tea and coffee.

ALCOHOL is not a proper thing to take before going out and being exposed to cold.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR DIPHTHERIA.—Put the person suffering from diphtheria into a warm bed. Take a shovel of red-hot coals from the fire, sprinkle a tablespoonful or two of flour of sulphur on the hot coals, and place under the bed. Remove the shovel out of the room when the afflicted person begins to cough. Let this be done for two or three nights, and it will be found that the fumes from the sulphur will kill the throat fungus called diphtheria.

TO PUT BACK A COLD.—So soon as you feel that you are taking a cold—and you will generally have notice before it amounts to much—place your feet into water made as warm as you can bear, and keep them there about ten minutes. Change them, then, into a vessel containing cold water—if ice-water, all the better—and hold them in it about a minute; after which wipe dry and put on warm stockings. This treatment will never fail to put back a cold, as I can testify from having practiced it successfully for over three years. The feet seem to govern a cold, and this bathing them first in warm water and then in cold leaves them all aglow, the effect of which is soon felt throughout the entire system.—J. Parish Stelle.

THE FOOD REQUISITE TO SUSTAIN HEALTH.—It is difficult to lay down any strict rule as to the amount of food to be taken in twenty-four hours by grown-up people. Men require more animal food than women, and those engaged in active exercise require much more than those who live a sedentary life. Laborers can get through much more work in a day when well fed than when living on a moderate diet. The different kinds of food should be well apportioned; it is equally bad to live on a purely-farinaceous diet as it would be to take only fat or meat. What is required for a state of health is to take a fair proportion of each. It is important, also, that meals should be taken with regularity, as it is a very bad plan to allow intervals of varying lengths between meals. It has been estimated that the food required every twenty-four hours by a man in full health, and taking free exercise, is of meat 16 oz., bread 19 oz., fat 3½ oz., and of water 52 fluid oz.; that is about two and one-half pounds of solid food and about three pints of fluid.

EATING LEMONS.—A good deal has been said through the papers about the healthfulness of lemons. The latest advice as to how to use them so they will do the most good runs as follows: Most people know the benefit of lemonade before breakfast, but few know how it is more than doubled by taking another at night also. The way to get the better of a bilious system without blue pills or quinine, is to take the juice of one, two or three lemons, as the appetite craves, in as much ice-water as makes it pleasant to drink, without sugar, before going to bed. In the morning on rising, or at least half an hour before breakfast, take the juice of one lemon in a goblet of water. This will clear the system of humors and bile, with mild efficacy, without any of the weakening effects of calomel or congress water. People should not irritate the stomach by eating lemons clear; the powerful acid of the juice, which is almost corrosive, infallibly produces inflammation after a while, but properly diluted, so that it does not burn or draw the throat, it does its full medicinal work without harm, and when the stomach is clear of food has abundant opportunity to work on the system thoroughly.

A Farmer who Robbed his Boy.

A farmer found in his flock a lamb which the mother would not own. He gave it to his son, a boy fifteen years old who saved it and raised it. The boy called it his all summer, and the family called it his, and his it was. In the fall, when his father sold the other lambs, he let this one go with them, and taking the pay for it, he tucked it into his big wallet and carried it off to pay taxes, or put it in the bank.

Now this farmer did not intend to do anything wrong. Least of all did he intend to wrong his boy. Probably he did not give the matter much thought any way; and if he did he considered the boy's own eweship of the lamb a sort of pleasant fiction, or reasoned that the boy, having all his needs supplied out of the family purse, did not need the pay for the lamb, and it was better to put it into the common fund. But for all that, taking the lamb and selling it in that way, and pocketing the proceeds, was stealing. No, it was robbery; and as between this boy and his father, one of the meanest robberies that could be perpetrated. Not only this, but by robbing the boy of that two dollars the farmer did more to make the boy discontented, and drive him from home, than he can undo with ten times that amount. A boy is a little man, and if he has any of the gather and grip to him when he grows up, he begins at an early age to feel that desire to own something, and to add to the property subject to his ownership, which is at once the incentive to effect work, and the motive which reconciles men to their condition.

No matter how well the boy's wants are provided for from a fund which is common to the whole family, he takes no particular interest in adding to that fund, because he does not feel that it is his, and he tires of labor and thought, the proceeds of which he must share with several others; but give him a piece of property of his own, to manage as he pleases, to keep, to sell, or exchange, and let him feel that his ownership is secure, and that his loss or gain depends upon his own endeavors, and he will work cheerfully and contentedly.

Neapolitan Babies.

There are millions of babies in Naples—babies enough, I judge, to supply all the rest of the world if the crop should happen to grow thin anywhere. There are babies in arms, babies on balconies, babies threatening to tumble from innumerable front windows. Babies in wagons, babies under horses, babies making mud-pies in the "stradas," but about half of them under 4 years of age are as naked as when they were born. I don't think there is a cradle in Naples, any more than there is a rocking-chair in England; but here and there a mother, comparatively well-to-do, carries her infant "bound in swaddling clothes," like the people of Jerusalem and the American Indians, wrapped tightly round and round from head to foot, like a cocoon or a cigar, and sometimes its arms are also imprisoned. These minute specimens of the lazzaroni are generally good-natured, like their fathers and mothers, and where clothes can be afforded, they are always worn—more or less.—W. A. Croffut's Correspondence.

Some Whims of Authors.

Temple Bar.

Carneades, the philosopher, seldom wrote without dosing himself with hellebore. Æschylus, Eupolis, Cratinus, Ennius are said never to have sat down to compose till they were intoxicated. Dryden often had himself bled, and, like Fuseli, ate raw meat to assist, he said, his imagination. Shadwell, De Quincey, Psalmanazar, Dean Milner, Coleridge, and Bishop Horsley, stimulated themselves with opium, as De Musset was helpless without absinthe. Gray seldom sat down to compose without first reading through some cantos of the "Faery Queen." Corneille fired himself with the pursual of "Lucan." Blackstone never wrote without a bottle of port wine on his desk, nor Schiller without a flask of Rhenish within call. When his imagination was sluggish he would sit with his feet in hot water, drinking coffee "to thaw the frost on his wits." Montaigne was never happy without his cat, and with his pen in his right hand while his left was smoothing the glossy back of his favorite tabby, meditated his "Essays." Boxborne, the great Dutch scholar, could never write a word without a pipe in his mouth, and as he preferred a long pipe and yet required the use of both hands, he bethought him of a very ingenious device. He had a hat with an enormous brim, which impended in front of his face; through this he made a hole to support his pipe thus securing the double advantage of shading his eyes and enjoying without inconvenience his favorite luxury, and in this way he produced his voluminous and valuable writings. Hobbes had the same weakness, "ten or twelve pipes with a candle" being his invariable concomitants at the desk, and Dr. Parr was not less dependent on tobacco. Southey could never write a line except at his desk, with his books round him and with familiar objects near by. Milton could, he said, never compose anything to his satisfaction except between the vernal and autumnal equinox. At those seasons his poetry came like an inspiration. At other times, in spite of the most strenuous efforts, he would be unable to bring to the birth a single verse. Thomson, Collins, and Gray had the same superstition about themselves. Johnson, with his usual bluff common sense, ridicules such fancies, and calls them unworthy of any sensible man—the good doctor's theory being that a man who had the power of writing always could write "if he set himself doggedly to it." William Prynne, the voluminous author of the "Histriomastrix," was nothing "without a long quilted cap which came an inch over his eyes." Buffon was helpless without a spotless shirt and starched frill. Still stranger were the whims of Graham, the author of "The Sabbath," and Hogg, the Ettrick Shepherd, who, if we are to believe De Quincey, found eirth vein never ran happily unless they sat down to their tasks with boots and spurs on. An eminent modern novelist finds his pen and imagination powerless unless he sits surrounded by lighted candles in a darkened room, and Horace Walpole tells us that Lord Orrery found no stimulus so efficacious as a sharp fit of the gout. The great Dutch scholar, Isaak Vossius, and our own poet, John Philipps, would employ a servant to comb their hair while they meditate their works. Coleridge told Hazlitt that when engaged in composition he never found his vein so happy as when he was walking over uneven ground, or making his way through a coppice with the twigs brushing his face. Wordsworth, on the other hand, preferred a straight gravel walk where he could wander mechanically and without any impediment to and fro; in this way almost all his latter poems were composed. Lord Bacon had a fancy for inhaling the fumes of a bottle of claret poured out on earth which had been newly upturned.

A Funeral of Ants.

The ant has long been an object of special interest with naturalists and others, who say many wonderful things about him, and who back him up strongly for possessing a remakable degree of intelligence. One of these gentlemen, an acute observer of the insect, furnishes a very interesting incident of a funeral procession. Having accidently killed a number of straying soldier ants, he noted a commotion among the adjacent surviving relations, and determined to watch their proceedings closely, following four or five that started from the rest to guard a hillock, a short distance off, in which was an ant's nest. This they entered, and in about five minutes reappeared, followed by others, and all fell into rank, walking regularly two by two, until they arrived at the spot where the dead bodies of the soldier ants lay. In a few moments two of the ants advanced and took up the dead body of a comrade; then two others, and so on until all were ready to march. First walked two ants bearing a body, then two without a burden, then two others with another dead ant, and so on until all the defunct insects were elevated. Then the procession moved slowly onward, followed by an irregular body of about two hundred ants. Occasionally the two laden ants stopped, and laying down the dead ant, it was taken up by the two walking unburdened behind them; and thus they arrived at a sandy spot which seems to suit. Here the body of ants now commenced digging with their jaws holes in the ground, into each of which a dead ant was laid, and then they labored on until the graves were refilled. This did not quite finish the remarkable proceeding. Some six or seven of the ants had attempted to run off without performing their share of the digging; these were caught, brought back and promptly killed on the spot. A single grave was promptly dug, and they were all dropped into it.—Potter's American Monthly.

(This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.)

A STANDARD REMEDY
IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Holman's Pads.

TRADE MARK.

Holman's Ague, Liver & Stomach Pad, For Malaria, Ague and Stomach troubles. PRICE, $2.00

Holman's Special Pad. Adapted to old chronic cases. $3.00.

Holman's Spleen Belt. For stubborn cases of enlarged Spleen and unyielding Liver and Stomach troubles. $5.00.

Holman's Infant's Pad. For ailments of Infants and Children. $1.50.

Holman's Abdominal Pad. For Uterine, Ovarian and Bladder troubles. $5.00.

Holman's Renal or Kidney Pad. For Kidney Complaints. $2.00.

Holman's Pectorial Pad. For affections of the Chest and Lungs. $3.00.

Holman's Absorptive Medicinal Body Plaster. The best Plaster in the world. Porous on Rubber basis. 25c.

Holman's Absorptive Medicinal Foot Plasters. For Cold Feet, Headaches and Sluggish Circulation. (per pair) 25c.

Absorption Salt for Medicated Baths. For Colds, Rheumatism and all cases where a medicated Bath is needed, also an excellent foot bath. (per ¼ lb. package) 25c.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS,

Or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. The ABSORPTION SALT is not "mailable" and must be sent by Express at Purchaser's expense.

The success of HOLMAN'S PADS has inspired imitators who offer Pads similar in form and odor to the true HOLMAN'S, saying, "They are just the same," etc.

Beware of all bogus Pads only made to sell on the reputation of the genuine.

See that each Pad bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the HOLMAN PAD COMPANY, with above Trade Mark printed in green.

DR. HOLMAN'S advice is free. Full treatise sent free on application. Address,

HOLMAN PAD CO.,
(P. O. Box 2112.) 744 Broadway, N. Y.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE GREAT CURE
FOR RHEUMATISM

As it is for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS.

It cleanses the system of the acrid poison that causes the dreadful suffering which only the victims of Rheumatism can realize.

THOUSANDS OF CASES

of the worst forms of this terrible disease have been quickly relieved, in a short time

PERFECTLY CURED.

KIDNEY-WORT

has had wonderful success, and an immense sale in every part of the Country. In hundreds of cases it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.

☞ It cleanses, Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

As it has been proved by thousands that is the most effectual remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions. It should be used in every household as a

KIDNEY-WORT

SPRING MEDICINE.

Always cures BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, PILES and all FEMALE Diseases.

Is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans, one package of which makes 6 quarts medicine.

Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated for the convenience of those who cannot readily prepare it. It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00
WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,
(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

KIDNEY-WORT

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink.)

CONTAINS

HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION,

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE

All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.

$1000 IN GOLD.

Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.

Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no other.

D I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

All above sold by druggists.
Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

CHEAPEST BOOKS IN THE WORLD

Macaulay's History of England, 5 [illegible] 12mo vols. cloth; only $2.00

Taine's History of Eng. Literature, 1 [illegible] 12mo vol. handsomely bound, for only 60 cts.

[illegible] Free.

MANHATTAN BOOK CO., 16 W. 14th St., N.Y. P.O. Box [illegible]

FACTS FOR THE CURIOUS.

The lion's tongue is furnished with reverse prickles so large and strong as to be able to lacerate the skin.

In China there is a fish that crosses the meadows at its pleasure from one creek to another, often a mile apart.

A healthy man of average weight imbibes eighty ounces of water, in liquid state or mixed with solid food, every twenty-four hours.

In the year 1710 the weight of fat cattle in the London market averaged only 370 pounds at the average age of 5 years. In 1795 this was increased to 482 pounds. In 1830 the weight was 650 pounds, nearly double that of 1710. It is probable that the average weight at one year less age (say 4 years old) is at the present moment fully three times that of 1710, and the beef—owing to the superior quality of the cattle and the better methods of fattening—fully 50 per cent. more nourishing and economical to the consumer.

Dynamite has been used in agricultural operations. Signor Rossi Fedegrotti found that he saved 30 per cent. in money and 60 per cent. in time. One piece of ground required in order to dig to the depth of 1.20 meters the work of eight men for seven days and an expense of 62½ lire. The other piece of equal size was turned up to the same depth by mines three meters apart, containing each seventy grams of dynamite, No. 1. The work required the labor of eight men for only three days and a half, and cost 43½ lire.

It has no doubt been a mystery to many how the iron ball inside of sleigh bells got there, and it is said to have taken considerable thought on the part of the discoverer before the idea struck him. In making sleigh bells the iron ball is put inside a sand core, just the shape of the outside of the bell. This sand core, with the jingler inside, is placed in the mold of the outside, and the melted metal is poured in, which fills up the space between the core and mold. The hot metal burns the core so that it can be all shaken out, leaving the ball within the shell. Ball valves, swivel joints and many other articles are cast in the same manner.

Some relations between the cranium and the skeleton of human beings have been discovered by M. Manouvrier. The weight of the skull varies in a general way with the weight of the skeleton, but not proportionally as the weight of the brain. The weight of the skeleton without the cranium varies nearly in proportion to the weight of the femur. The weight of the cranium is greater relatively to that of the femur the lighter the latter is. The weight of the cranium is much more considerable to that of the femur in woman than in man—a difference so pronounced that it constitutes one of the best secondary sexual characteristics. About eighty-two women in 100 have the cranium heavier than the two femurs, while eighty-two men in 100 have it lighter. The lower jaw is heavier relatively to the cranium in the anthropoids than in man.

Village Life in Western India.

In this new work on the "Industrial Arts of India," Mr. C. M. Birdwood says of the typical village:

"Outside the entrance of the single village street, on an exposed rise of ground, the hereditary potter sits by his wheel, molding the swift-revolving clay by the natural curves of his hands. At the back of the houses, which form the low, irregular street, there are two or three looms at work in blue and scarlet and gold, the frames hanging between the acacia trees, the yellow flowers of which drop fast on the webs as they are being woven. In the street the brass and copper smiths are hammering away at their pots and pans, and further down, in the veranda of the rich man's house, is the jeweler working rupees and gold mohrs into fair jewelry, gold and silver earrings, and round tires like the moon, bracelets and tablets and nose-rings, and tinkling ornaments for the feet, taking his designs from the fruits and flowers around him, or from the traditional forms represented in the paintings and carvings of the great temple, which rose over the grove of mangoes and palms at the end of the street, above the lotus-covered village tank. At 3:30 or 4:30 in the afternoon the whole street is lighted up by the moving robes of the women going down to draw water from the tank, each with two or three water jars on her head, and so, while they were going and returning in single file, the scene glows like Titian's canvas, and moves like the stately procession of the Panathenaic frieze. Later the men drive in the mild gray kine from the moaning plain, the looms are folded up, the coppersmiths are silent, the elders gather in the gate, the lights begin to glimmer in the fast-falling darkness, the feasting and music are heard on every side, and late into the night the songs are sung from the Ramayana or Mahabharata. The next morning, with sunrise, after the simple ablutions and adorations performed in the open air before the houses, the same day begins again. This is the daily life going on all over Western India in the village communities of the Dakhan, among a people happy in their simple manners and frugal way of life, and in the culture derived from the grand epics of a religion in which they live and move and have their daily being, and in which the highest expression of their literature, art and civilization has been stereotyped for 3,000 years."

An Ingenious Swindle.

A pair of swindlers played off in Paris the following ingenious trick: A well-dressed man entered a tobacconist's shop on the Boulevard Bonne Nouvelle, and after purchasing three cigars gave a five-franc gold piece in payment; but after receiving his change he declared that it was a twenty-franc piece which he had given, and on the woman who had served him asserting the contrary, he added that it was a piece of the reign of Louis Philippe, bearing the date of 1846; the shopkeeper then looked among the gold in her till, and finding a gold coin such as described supposed she had been mistaken, and at once gave him the difference. A police agent in plain clothes happened however to be standing by, and having his suspicions excited, determined to follow the stranger. He presently saw the individual join another man in the street, and the two went together to the Place de la Bourse, where they separated, and the second entered a tobacconist's, and after making a small purchase gave in payment the identical twenty-franc piece received at the other shop. The confederate shortly after went in, and was repeating the same stratagem as before, when the police officer stepped forward and arrested him.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have advised many ladies to try your "Favorite Prescription, and never see it fail to do more than you advertise." Yours truly,

Mrs. A. M. Rankin,
141 Bates street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Quaint Sayings of the Pacific Coast.

The great West has become noted for quaint and expressive phrases coined by the rough element of the coast. The miner and prospector, as he wandered through the hills and followed the circuitous valleys and narrow passes, prefixed names to these places such as "gulches," and "canyons," until almost every canyon and gulch has been dubbed with some odd name which forever afterwards will designate the locality.

The mountaineer, after years of Western life, finds himself lost in an Eastern metropolis and fails to meet his engagement on prompt time, but is not at a loss to give a decided reason for his delay, because of "getting lost among the canyons." Terse and pointed remarks like that of the man who said: "I did not fight him, but had he come a step further the doctors would have thought, when they dissected him, that they had struck a new lead mine," are quite common among miners.

How expressive are the sayings. "He is a gushed vein, and has pinched." "He shows well on the surface, but there is nothing in the lower levels;" or, "he didn't assay worth anything." He who lacks courage is in Western parlance devoid of "grit" and has no "sand." Men who roughed it in the early days on the Pacific coast are called "old-timers," and when they die it is not uncommon for their associates to speak of their taking-off as their having "passed in their checks."

Those who have toiled through the snows and braved the dangers of crossing great mountain ridges, have coined a style of expression upon the death of an old friend which to them is fuller of meaning than the plainsman can realize—"he has gone over the range." Each State and Territory on the Pacific slope has its peculiar phrases, and there are many common to all.—Omaha Bee.

Young, middle-aged or old men, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send two stamps for large treatise, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Beautiful Voice.

Madam de Stael would have gladly parted with some of her wit if she could only have been beautiful. It would not be strange if the equally famous "George Eliot" felt the same hopeless hunger for beauty (for she was a remarkably homely woman). We see how sweet it was to her to be praised for a grace that is akin to beauty.

This little story about George Eliot is told by a Maine lady, who met the novelist at a hotel in Switzerland, just after "Romola" appeared. One day Mrs. Lewes was reading aloud in French to a little girl in the garden, and the American drew near to listen to the musical tones. Presently Mrs. Lewes glanced at the intruder and said:

"Do you understand?"

"I do not care for the matter," answered the American; "I only came to listen to your sweet voice."

"Do you like it?" said Mrs. Lewes, with some surprise.

The American warmly expressed her admiration, and George Eliot's face lighted with pleasure as she took her hand, saying:

"I thank you. I would rather you would compliment my voice than my 'Romola.'"—Youth's Companion.

The Beer Problem.

"Boy, do you know what that contains?" said a tramp to a lad who was hurrying along with a tin pail full of lager.

"Beer," responded the stripling, very promptly.

"Exactly, that is beer," continued the tramp, "and that beer contains glucose, cocculus indicus, cornstarch, rice meal and raw grape sugar, all deadly poisons, and enough to kill any man."

The lad set the pail down and moved off a little from it, whereupon the tramp picked it up and was raising it to his lips when the boy interrupted him to say:

"Ain't you afraid of it?"

"Yes; it is dreadful to die this way, but I don't care to live," and draining it empty, handed it back.

"He's a goner," muttered the boy, as he walked thoughtfully off. "Lord, what a narrow escape dad had!"

If you are bilious, take Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," the original "Little Liver Pills." Of all druggists.

It is asserted by M. Emile de Laveleye that the world's available supply of the so-called precious metals is rapidly diminishing, and, while it may not soon become exhausted, the time cannot be far hence when it must become inadequate to meet all demands upon it. It can hardly be hoped that the lack can be filled by new discoveries for any extended period, as the quantities existing at the earth's surface can at best be but very limited, although vast masses probably exist in the inaccessible interior of the globe. It is computed that the world is five times as heavy as an equal volume of water, while the rocks of the earth's surface only average two and one-half times the weight of water. It follows from this that the still molten center must contain a great amount of very heavy substances. With water as a unit, the specific gravity, or comparative weight of gold is about 19, platinum 21, and iridium 22, silver being but 10 and iron 8. When the globe was in a liquid state these metals would have had a tendency to gravitate toward the center, and those of exteme density now found by us owe their appearance near the surface to volcanic agencies. The great bulk must yet remain near the center.

Take little annoyances out of the way. If you are suffering with a Cough or Cold, use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once. This old and reliable remedy will never disappoint you. All Druggists sell it for 25 cents a bottle.

What the Director Said.

A Boston reporter, while in the office of the New York and Boston Dispatch Express Company, had a conversation with Mr. E. F. Larabee, one of the Directors of the company, who gave the following personal experience: "A little over a year ago I was taken sick. I did not know what the trouble was, but I continued to grow worse, and my complaint baffled the skill of my doctors. At last my symptoms developed into that terrible complaint, Bright's Disease, which has been pronounced incurable by all physicians. My sufferings at that time were unspeakable. I was bloated from head to foot; my heart pained me; my pulse was irregular, and I was unable to breathe except in short convulsive gasps. While suffering thus I learned of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure; and, although I had been given up to die by the prominent physicians of Boston, and they had told my friends I could not live a week, I resolved to try this remedy as a last resort. I am rejoiced to say it has effected a perfect cure in my case, and with many of my friends, who have been afflicted with kidney troubles, either of long standing or acute forms, and who, under my advice, have used this most wonderful remedy."

Try.

Try popcorn for nausea.

Try cranberries for malaria.

Try a sunbath for rheumatism.

Try ginger ale for stomach cramps.

Try clam broth for a weak stomach.

Try cranberry poultice for erysipelas.

Try gargling lager beer for cure of sore throat.

Try a wet towel to the back of the neck when sleepless.

Try swallowing saliva when troubled with sour stomach.

Try eating fresh radishes and yellow turnips for gravel.

Try eating onions and horseradish to relieve dropsical swellings.

Try buttermilk for removal of freckles, tan and butternut stains.

Try to cultivate an equable temper, and don't borrow trouble ahead.

Try the croup tippet when a child is likely to be troubled that way.

Try a hot dry flannel over the seat of neuralgic pain and renew frequently.

Try taking your codliver oil in tomato catsup, if you want to make it palatable.

Try hard cider—a wineglassful three times a day—for ague and rheumatism.

Try breathing the fumes of turpintine or carbolic acid to relieve whooping-cough.

Try taking a nap in the afternoon if you are going to be out late in the evening.

Try a cloth wrung out from cold water put about the neck at night for sore throat.

Try snuffing powdered borax up the nostrils for catarrhal "cold in the head."

Try an extra pair of stockings outside of your shoes when traveling in cold weather.

Try walking with your hands behind you if you find yourself becoming bent forward.

Try a silk handkerchief over the face when obliged to go against a cold, piercing wind.

Try planting sunflowers in your garden if compelled to live in a malarial neighborhood.

Try a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda (baking soda) in diarrhœal troubles: give freely.

Try a newspaper over the chest, beneath your coat, as a chest protector in extremely cold weather.—Dr. Foote's Health Monthly.

Is It Possible

That a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, etc., makes so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do? It must be, for when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, we must believe and doubt no longer. See other column.—Post.

Don't.

Don't sleep in a draught.

Don't go to bed with cold feet.

Don't stand over hot-air registers.

Don't eat what you do not need just to save it.

Don't try to get cool too quickly after exercising.

Don't sleep with insecure false teeth in your mouth.

Don't start the day's work without a good breakfast.

Don't sleep in a room without ventilation of some kind.

Don't stuff a cold lest you be next obliged to starve a fever.

Don't try to get along without flannel underclothing in winter.

Don't use your voice for loud speaking or singing when hoarse.

Don't try to get along with less than eight or nine hours' sleep.

Don't sleep in the same undergarment you wear during the day.

Don't toast your feet by the fire but try sunlight or friction instead.

Don't neglect to have at least one movement of the bowels each day.

Don't try to keep up on coffee and alcoholics when you ought to go to bed.

Don't drink ice-water by the glass; take it in sips, a swallow at a time.

Don't eat snow to quench thirst; it brings on inflammation of the throat.

Don't strain your eyes by reading or working with insufficient or a flickering light.

Don't be too modest to ask the way to the water-closet when you have a call that way.

Don't use the eyes for reading or fine work in the twilight of evening or early morn.

Don't try to lengthen your days by cutting short your nights' rest; it is poor economy.

Don't wear close, heavy fur or rubber caps or hats if your hair is thin or falls out easily.

Don't eat anything between meals excepting fruits, or a glass of hot milk if you feel faint.

Don't take some other person's medicine because you are troubled somewhat as they were.

Don't blow out a gaslight as you would a lamp: many lives are lost every year by this mistake.—Dr. Foote's Health Monthly.

Mr. E. G. Gartman, the business manager of the Evening Dispatch, of York, Pa., was cured of neuralgia by three applications of St. Jacobs Oil.—Boston (Mass.) Saturday Evening Express.

Glucose is used for sizing paper and for making printers' rollers.

How to Get Sick.

Expose yourself day and night, eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised; and then you will want to know

How to Get Well.

Which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters! See other column.—Express.

A Stage Driver's Story.

"I had only made one run down here," said our stage driver on a journey in New Mexico, "when, passing one of the sidings, we took on a Simon-pure, double-fisted 'gray,' one of the pioneers; these fellows who had lived a life in advance of civilization, making the way easy for others, but always leaving in time to escape the press and improvements, the foundation for which he had so surely laid. Evidently he had never before seen the interior of a car, for it was some moments before he concluded to seat himself, which he did cautiously, and with that quick, nervous twinkle of the eye which men constantly on the alert for danger exhibit. Let me say here that in this country every man carries a pistol, and generally in his back-pocket. Well, as I had already seen the other passengers' tickets I took my time about matters, and slowly walked up to my man and put my hand, with the usual quick motion, behind me to get my punch; but before I could say 'Ticket sir!' quicker than powder the muzzle of a six-shooter swelled under my eyes, and a hearty voice rang out: 'put her back, stranger; I've got the drop on ye!' You may laugh, but I shook hands with him over a free ride, anyway."

A Maryland exchange refers to Mr. Thos. G. Forward, of Belair, that State, who was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of rheumatism.—Rochester (N. Y.) Sunday Morning Tribune.

Girls as Wood Engravers.

A wood engraver, being asked why he did not employ girls, replied:

"I have employed women very often, and wish I could feel more encourage. But the truth is that, when a young man comes to me and begins his work, he feels that it is life's business. He is to cut his fortune out of the little blocks before him. Wife, family, home, happiness, and all are to be carved out by his own hand, and he settles steadily and earnestly to his labor, determined to master it, and with every incitement spurring him on. He cannot marry till he knows his trade. It is exactly the other way with the girl. She may be as poor as the boy, and as wholly dependent upon herself for a living, but she feels that she will probably marry by and by, and then she must give up wood engraving. So she goes on listlessly, she has no ambition to excel; she does not feel that all her happiness depends on it. She will marry, and her husband's wages will support her. She may not say so, but she thinks so, and it spoils her work."

If the mother is feeble, it is impossible that her children should be strong. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bone-black is used in manufacturing blacking, which is generally prepared by mixing four parts bone-black with one of sulphuric acid, adding four parts of syrup and a little water.

Physicians use Kidney-Wort in regular practice and pronounce its action perfect.

—Following is the regular monthly public debt statement, issued at Washington on the 1st inst.:

Flies and Mosquitoes.

15c. box "Rough on Rats" keeps a house free from flies, bed-bugs, roaches, rats, mice, etc.

Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

Indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all forms of general debility relieved by taking Mensman's Peptonized Beef Tonic, the only preparation of beef containing its entire nutritious properties. It contains blood-making, force-generating and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork or acute disease, particularly if resulting from pulmonary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., proprietors, New York.

Dr. Holman's Pad and Plasters will do more for a Sickly Spinal Column and Paralysis than all the known appliances combined. Neuralgia never fails to yield unto a permanent cure with the use of Dr. Holman's Pad and Plasters.

For Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

Are you bald? Carboline, a deodorized extract of petroleum, the only cure for baldness, has been improved, so that it is now the most delightful dressing in the world. The only real natural hair restorer ever produced.

The regular Frazer axle grease saves money for the consumer. The light-colored or yellow loosens the spokes.

For Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

HENRY'S CARBOLIC SALVE is the BEST SALVE for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions, Freckles and Pimples. Get HENRY'S CARBOLIC SALVE, as all others are counterfeits. Price, 25 cents.

DR. GREEN'S OXYGENATED BITTERS is the best remedy for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Malaria, Indigestion, and Diseases of the Blood, Kidneys, Liver, Skin, etc.

DURNO'S CATARRH SNUFF cures all affections of the mucous membrane, of the head and throat.

DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS are the best Cathartic Regulators.

Dr. BULL'S
COUGH
SYRUP

FACTS ABOUT UMBRELLAS.

Antiquarians say that the umbrella was invented shortly after the flood, and has been the least improved upon of all appliances for human comfort, the shape being now as it was in those youthful days of the world. An umbrella is much like a pigeon as to the question of possession—the last one who gets it owns it. The following facts about umbrellas—especially the last one—may serve every reader a splendid purpose sooner or later: To place your umbrella in a rack indicates that it is about to change owners. An umbrella carried over a woman, the man getting nothing but drippings of the rain, indicates courtship. When the man has the umbrella and the woman the drippings, it indicates marriage. To carry it at right angles under your arm signifies that an eye is to be lost by the man who follows you. To put a cotton umbrella by the side of a nice silk one signifies that "exchange is no robbery." To lend an umbrella signifies that "I am a fool." To carry an umbrella just high enough to tear out men's eyes and knock off men's hats, signifies "I am a woman." To go without an umbrella in a rain-storm shows I am sure of getting rheumatism, and will have to use St. Jacobs Oil to get well." To keep a fine umbrella for your own use and a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil always in the house, in case of rheumatism or accident, would signify that you are real philosopher.

The following communication to the editor of the Salem (Mass.) Register shows how an artist treated his visitor: "I would have accepted your kind invitation to visit you in your new quarters with pleasure before this had not my old enemy, Mr. Rheumatism, pounced on me so suddenly. He arrived last Friday, and, without stopping to send up his card, rushed in and grasped me by the hand with such a grip that in a few hours my hand and wrist were so badly swollen and painful that I felt as though one of Mr. Hatch's coal teams had run over me. Mr. Rheumatism has been a constant visitor of mine for several years; he always swells and put on a great many airs, making himself at home, devouring my substance and leaving me poor in flesh and pocket. Last winter he came and stayed two months. I then decided that the next time he came I would change his diet. I was somewhat at a loss what to feed him with, but finally concluded to give him three square meals a day of St. Jacobs Oil—morning, noon and night. This fare he is disgusted with, and is packing up his trunk and will leave by to-morrow or next day; says he cannot stop any longer, as he has pressing business elsewhere. He is a treacherous fellow, and he intends visiting some of our Salem friends; if he does, just give him the same fare that I did and he won't stop long.

J. E. Lefavour.

WATCHES Catalogue free. Address, Standard American Watch Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address True & Co., Augusta, Me.

A NAME STAMP, to print your name on clothing, books, &c., 15 cents. J. W. KING, Dubois, Pa.

$10 a day easily made by agents. Address, with stamp, I. H. Tibbals & Co., Box 182, Grand Rapids, Mich.

B4U Learn Bookkeeping or Telegraphy, send stamp to Buckeye College, Sandusky, O.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co., Portland, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address Stinson & Co., Portland, Me.

DR. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

YOUNG MEN If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest-Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. National Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Educate For Business at the Oldest & Best Commercial College. Circular free. Address C. Bayliss, Dubuque, Ia.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

GARFIELD Funeral March, by Gilman, fine edition, full size, with portrait, 10c. each. Selling by thousands. Popular music at ½ price. Western Music Co., Aldan, Ia.

WANTED Game, Poultry, Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Tallow, Furs, Hides, Dried Fruits, etc. Write or telegraph for information. New York Produce Co., 313 Wash'ton St., N.Y.

KIDDER'S PASTILLES Sure relief ASTHMA. Price 35 cts. by mail. Stowell & Co. Charlestown, Mass.

PLAYS! PLAYS! PLAYS! PLAYS! For Reading Clubs, for Amateur Theatricals, Temperance Plays, Drawing-Room Plays, Fairy Plays, Ethiopian Plays, Guide Books, Speakers, Pantomimes, Tableaux Lights, Magnesium Lights, Colored Fire, Burnt Cork, Theatrical Face Preparations, Jarley's Wax Works, Wigs, Beards, Moustaches, Costumes, Charades and Paper Scenery. New Catalogues sent free, containing full description and prices. SAMUEL FRENCH & SON, 38 E. 14th St., New York.

ANOTHER BOOM FOR AGENTS.
MARK TWAIN'S NEW BOOK is decidedly THE BEST.
The Prince and the Pauper
Will outsell all his previous works, and offers you the best chance of your life to make money rapidly. Old agents will act promptly and secure choice territory, and we advise you to do the same. Outfits now ready. Send at once for circulars and terms to
H. N. HINCKLEY, Publisher,
14 S. Canal St., Chicago, Ill.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

5,000 Agents Wanted for Life of
GARFIELD
It contains the full history of his noble and eventful life and dastardly assassination. Surgical treatment, death, funeral obsequies, etc. The best chance of your life to make money. Beware of "catchpenny" imitations. This is the only authentic and fully illustrated life of our martyred President. Fine steel portraits. Extra terms to Agents. Circulars free. Address
National Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

NEW RICH BLOOD!
Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sent everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

PRICE $20. [illegible] This N. Y. Singer Sewing Machine is the best ever made—[illegible] easy, very handsome, quiet, durable, simple, convenient, and powerful. Warranted 5 years. Sent anywhere on 5 days trial. Pay if pleased. 4,000,000 of this model Machines have been sold. Ask for circulars and testimonials. Low prices to clubs. It pays to try us. Thousands do every year, and thank us for the $10 to $50 saved in buying direct. Cut this out, and when you or a friend need a Sewing Machine be sure to address Geo. Payne & Co., 47 Third Av., Chicago, Ill.

"DIVORCED!" A Serial Story of Absorbing Interest, commenced in the November number of ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE. All new subscribers for 1882 will receive FREE the November and December Nos. of this year. Terms: $2 a year; 2 copies $3.50; 3 copies $5; 4 copies $6; 8 and one extra $12. For specimen number, containing first chapters of "Divorced," send T. S. ARTHUR & SON, Philadelphia. 10c.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c. & $1.
CONSUMPTION.

WHEAT AND CORN. Now is the time to SPECULATE.
J. T. FITZGERALD & CO.,
Commission Merchants,
GRAIN AND PROVISIONS,
122 and 124 South Clark St., Chicago.
Trading in lots of 1,000 bushels and upward. Bought and sold and carried on margins. Commission ⅛ per cent. Correspondence solicited. Send for daily market reports.

LIST OF DISEASES
ALWAYS CURABLE BY USING MEXICAN MUSTANG
LINIMENT.

OF HUMAN FLESH.	OF ANIMALS.
Rheumatism,	Scratches,
Burns and Scalds,	Sores and Galls,
Stings and Bites,	Spavin, Cracks,
Cuts and Bruises,	Screw Worm, Grub,
Sprains & Stitches,	Foot Rot, Hoof Ail,
Contracted Muscles	Lameness,
Stiff Joints,	Swinny, Founders,
Backache,	Sprains, Strains,
Eruptions,	Sore Feet,
Frost Bites,	Stiffness,

and all external diseases, and every hurt or accident. For general use in family, stable and stock yard it is
THE BEST OF ALL
LINIMENTS

SIX CTS WHY WASTE MONEY? Young man or old, if you want a luxuriant moustache, flowing whiskers or a heavy growth of hair on bald heads, or to THICKEN, STRENGTHEN and INVIGORATE the HAIR anywhere don't be humbugged. Try the great Spanish discovery which has NEVER YET FAILED. Send ONLY SIX CENTS to Dr. J. GONZALEZ, Box 1642, Boston, Mass. Beware of all imitations.

C. N. U. No. 47

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Dr. HARTER'S
Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.
GENTLEMEN:—I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your IRON TONIC, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. The old energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. Watson, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.
The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary.
IRON TONIC.
MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., No. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE.
THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.,
Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the LAST YEAR than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, twenty years since; and are now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE and ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular MEDIUM and SMALLER STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $54, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than 100 styles of Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which will be useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or, 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.
[illegible]

PETROLEUM JELLY
Sold by All Druggists.
Used and approved by the leading PHYSICIANS of EUROPE and AMERICA.
The most Valuable Family Remedy known.
VASELINE
For the Treatment of WOUNDS, BURNS, SORES, CUTS, CHILBLAINS, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, HEMORRHOIDS, Etc. Also for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Croup and Diphtheria, etc.
Try them. 25 and 50 cent sizes of all our goods.
The Toilet Articles from pure Vaseline—such as Pomade Vaseline, Vaseline Cold Cream, Vaseline Camphor Ice, Vaseline Toilet Soaps, are superior to any similar ones.
VASELINE CONFECTIONS. An agreeable form of taking Vaseline internally. 25 CENTS A BOX.
GRAND MEDAL AT THE PHILADELPHIA EXPOSITION.
SILVER MEDAL AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION.
COLGATE & CO., N. Y.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., NOV. 24, 1881.

MIGHTY is Mahone, indeed.

SOUTH Bend, Ind., is infested with small-pox.

AN Indiana woman 111 years old has gone to join Methusaleh.

THE Democrat and Review, at Elkhart, are having a little jangle.

AND now the small senator from Virginia has his eye on the cabinet.

MRS. EDWIN BOOTH died of consumption, in New York last week.

THE star route robberies, so far as heard from through the postoffice-investigations, amount to $9,000,000.

IT is reported that the small-pox has "sat down" on the town of Roanoke, Ind. Getting closer to us every day.

THE Cedar Beach association will add sixty new rooms to the club house next summer. This place is growing in population very rapidly.

WHAT the president will say in his annual message nobody can find out. Correspondents who have bored for oil in that direction have bored in vain.

IT is reported that the Studebaker Wagon Works, at South Bend, turns out a wagon every five minutes. We are not obliged to believe all rumors, however.

GUITEAU is tossing off lunatic letters at a rapid rate. They are to be used as evidence of his insanity at the trial. He'll come to his senses when the time for hemp arrives.

JIM BLAINE is becoming the biggest nuisance in the country. He has lately started a begging brigade in Europe for a Garfield fund. Surely the Garfield's will never want.

WHEN the administration gets to the bottom of the pension frauds, treasury frauds and the star route frauds we shall know a good deal more than we do now about the "purity" of the late Hayes regime.

THE Plymouth Democrat has reached its twenty-seventh year. It is a good paper, well prepared, both editorially and mechanically. The COURIER wishes Mr. McDonald and his paper a happy, prosperous future.

THE president has accepted the resignation of Attorney-General MacVeagh, and Solicitor-General Phillips will be the acting attorney-general until a new appointment is made.

IF Arthur keeps on, we will have another Grant administration, which means whisky and thieves. He is picking up Grant's old chums and sending them into office at a "break-neck" speed.

THE national butter, cheese and egg association convention and fair, to be held at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on the 29th and 30th inst., and the 1st and 2d prox., will be very largely attended by exhibitors and dealers.

A GOLD headed cane was given to Mr. Asa Ross, sheriff of Wabash last week, by the court house outfit. The affair was gotten up in honor of his birthday. A "sumptious feast" was indulged in, consisting of gingerbread, bologna and cider, and a general merry time was had.

AND now, after all that has been said about the money in the bank of England to the credit of the confederate government, the English press denies the truthfulness of the assertion, and avers that the defunct government has nothing to its account in the aforesaid bank.

THE speculators in confederate bonds know very well that nobody in the United States will recognize the confederate loan, or any part of it, but they seem to calculate that the bulk of the English public may not be so well informed and that the simple ones can be led like lambs to the slaughter.

"GOD reigns and democracy triumphs!" is the head line used by the Summit (Miss.) Times, in announcing the result of the election in that state. The editor is no doubt a gentleman of devout piety, and therefore is always ready to "praise God from whom all blessings flow."

OWING to the small number of five-cent nickel pieces in the treasury, the secretary has instructed the director of the mint to cause $17,540 in old copper cents and $104,018 in copper-nickel cents, now in the Philadelphia mint, to be recoined into five-cent nickel pieces.

A "SWAG" by the name of Bill Jones, shot Guiteau while he was returning from the court house to his prison cell. The man was on horseback, and seemed to be an adept with a deringer. The ball struck Guiteau in the arm, making only a light flesh wound. Its a piety the "Deity" didn't guide it to his head.

Additional Local.

—Almanacs for 1882 are out.

—"Plain drunks" must be tried in the circuit courts.

—Don't set your taste for buckwheat cakes—the crop was a failure.

—There couldn't be a sheriff or deputy found in town on Wednesday, last week.

—Now Treasurer Miller throws his shanks across an arm chair, and don't care whether school has recess or not.

—Fort Wayne has a number of cases of small-pox. It is reported that about seventy persons are down with the disease.

—Jno. L. Davis and lady will entertain their friends Dec. 1, being the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

—What's the object of our brine sellers to close the front doors and open the back ones to-day. This isn't Sunday.

—The Slayton Star Concert Company will give one of their grand concerts at Ensley's hall Thursday evening, Dec. 1, 1881.

—Frederick Witt was bound over in 'Squire Walborn's court last Monday for grand larceny—stealing $28.00 of John Mutzfelt.

—The time has come when raffling matches are sport among some of our citizens. Bob Showers generally furnishes headquarters for this amusement.

—The inside of the postoffice is quite a "museum." Nearly every enterprise of the day is advertised in some peculiar manner upon the walls.

—A recipe for lemon pie vaguely adds: "Then sit on the stove and stir constantly." Just as if any one could sit on a stove without stirring constantly.

—Our merchants should advertise largely for the holiday trade, and bear in mind that the COURIER is read by more people than any paper in DeKalb county.

—After the 1st of December the B. & O. express company will be abandoned and the Adams and American companies will do the business on the line between Chicago and Baltimore.

—Sim. Tarney has a new butcher, a regular "laudy doddy" pelt jerker. The other day a customer ask him if had any dog meat, when he answered, "No, we did'nt kill any dogs to-day."

—Mosier of the Bristol Banner is a "brave" quill slinger, indeed. He packed his grip and went to Butler, this county, on a visit. They have the small pox at Bristol.

—Leb. Anderson will move back to this place again and carry on the manufacture of buggies, etc. He has now under headway forty jobs which will be ready for the spring trade.

—Under the new law, owners of sheep killed by dogs must report their losses to the township trustee within ten days or forego all claims for damages.

—"Wives, obey your husbands" "Husbands, allow your wives to do as they please," are maxims which, if properly and faithfully observed, will bankrupt any divorce court.

—Under the new law, the "jury commissioners" met last week, fixed up six petit and six grand jurymen, raked in their little $3 a piece, and toddled off home.

—Next month court opens up. This term promises to be a lively one, the criminal docket being prominent as usual. Prosecutor Peterson will make matters lively.

—Guitau's trial, says his attorney, may last a month. This is imposing upon the people. He killed Garfield; give him a trial, and then hang him. One week is long enough to fool with him.

—Ligonier had a big fire last week. If a fire should break out in this place it will not be unexpected by any means, and we have no facilities whatever to extinguish the flames, with the exception of the "bucket brigade."

—Butter is now made out of cotton seed oil. The manufacture of artificial milk has become quite an industry, and an eastern firm is making an excellent article of leather out of paper. Now, if some one would invent artificial beef, the cow might as well resign.

PROFESSOR YOUNG, at one time county superintendent of Fountain county, but more recently a professor in Butler university, at Irvington, near Indianapolis, is stopping here for a few days, in the interest of Appleton's encyclopedia.

—Here is the new law in Indiana in regard to profanity: "Whoever being over 15 years of age, profanely curses, swears, or imprecates by, or in the name of God, Jesus Christ, or the Holy Ghost, is guilty of profanity, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than three dollars nor less than one dollar for each offence."

—Men, as a rule, are easily attracted by a beautiful face, but still it is an internal beauty of character by which a woman can exert the greatest amount of influence. A true-minded man, though at first enamored by the glare of personal beauty, will soon feel the hollowness of its charms when he discovers the lack of beauty in the mind. Inestimably great is the influence a sweet minded woman may wield over those around her.

Personal.

—T. C. Elson has returned from Colorado.

—Ex-commissioner Griffith called Tuesday.

—Theo. Adams, Corunna, was in town Monday.

—Geo. Paterson was in town a few days last week.

—Bob. Matheny has been suffering with a bad cold.

—Dr. Allen left last week for his home in the sunny south.

—James E. Rose and wife went north on the Saginaw Tuesday.

—Clarence Raut left yesterday for a few days rest at Ligonier.

—Mrs. J. O. P. Sherlock has been quite sick for a couple of weeks.

—Dr. Dills, of Fort Wayne, was the guest of W. H. Dills, last week.

—Humphrey Shoub left last Sunday night for Northern California.

—Frank Hoff has been under the weather—if you know what that means.

—C. Shaffer went to Albion yesterday in the interest of his business there.

—L. J. Roth, jewelry drummer, with J. C. Jackson, was in town this week.

—Mrs. C. Hare and her daughter Sadie, were visiting at Fort Wayne. several days.

—"Windy" Casebeer, boss at the Crosby House, Defiance' was here last Friday.

—Miss Mollie Matheny has been visiting friends at Fort Wayne for several weeks.

—Mrs. P. V. Hoffman and little daughter, visited at Butler, the latter part of last week.

—Miss Mate Griswold, of Auburn, was the guest of Mrs. H. F. Clark this week.—Garrett Herald.

—M. F. Long was home last week, making more noise than an agricultural display at a county fair.

—we learn that W. H. Covey, formerly an employe in the COURIER, will visit his friends here in a short time.

—Charley Dugan isn't large enough to suit his "royal highness," and will go west next spring and "grow up."

—Ezra D. Hartman and lady left Tuesday evening for Chicago, where they will enjoy the attractions of city life for a few days.

—Jimmy McClellan is on the streets again. Will he please write an essay on the "Advantages and Disadvantages of the Mumps?"

—Ira Eaton, formerly a resident here, is stopping in town. He is district agent for the Northern Indiana Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Warsaw.

—The COURIER is under obligations to Hon. D. D. Moody for our supply of cigars this week. Come up often, Dave; we enjoy the company of a good—cigar.

—Elza Shaffer was going to drive from Albion to Waterloo, last Sunday, but there was too much juice in the roads. Better drop her for the present, Elz.

—Bro. Dodge, of the Butler Record, gave us a pleasant call on Monday. He is a great big, good natured fellow and is no doubt glad that he lives. Call again.

—F. N. Larimore, esq., him of sea notoriety, spent Sunday last with the writer. Frank is a courteous and pleasing fellow, and we can't account for his "single blessedness." Gals, where art thou?

—Our young journalist, B. J. Lowry, esq., will continue to conduct the local and job departments of the Republican the same as before the change. Berry does very well considering the amount of labor he performs.

—Frank Hollis, of Columbia City, gave the COURIER a bow one day last week. He has moved his office from Churubusco to the former place, and will issue the first number this week. Of course we would like to see him do well, but he is too tender in years and young in experience to start in where two old and substantial papers have the lead.

—Letters in Auburn postoffice not called for: Miss Sarah Blattner, I. Blackmon, Robert M. Clark, Mr. D. Cook, Tomas McCrum, Flora Myers, Sarah Marts, Mr. Lean D. Robbins.

—One by one the leaves are falling,
One by one the boys are yeilding,
To the charms of wedding bells.

Geo. Crowl to Hattie A. Crooks, Jno. H. Wagner to Emma A. Gilland, Henry Mason to Elizabeth Hall, Fred. Moyer to Mary Stenry, Adam Hamman to Sarah A. Mann, Geo. Molter, Angeline Striver, Geo. W. Beber to Lydia E. Hall. All told since last Thursday.

Finnal Settlement.

Notice is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Simon Rohm, deceased, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December 1881, and show cause if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 23d day of November, 1881.

JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Testimonials.

To show how well our customers are satisfied with our way of doing business and the goods we are selling we give a few testimonials from among the many spontaneous letters of commendation which we have in our possession from prominent people in your own neighborhood, who have done business with us, and which will bear close scrutiny:

JACKSON T. P. Nov. 7, 1881.

I would say that I have had eight different organs at my house, and, after giving them a fair trial, I chose the Whitney organ. I would further say that it gives entire satisfaction. Parties desiring organs should call on Mr. Straw. His office is at S. W. Ralston's, west of public square.

JAMES HENDERSON.

I bought a Whitney organ of F. B. Straw and find it to be as he represented it to be. You will do well by seeing him before buying.

CAL. GRUBE.

I purchased an organ of F. B. Straw a few days ago, and am pleased to hear musicians from the town of Auburn say it is a good tone and a well made organ.

C. A. MEAD.

I bought a Whitney organ of F. B. Straw, and find it to be what he represented it to be. If you contemplate buying, you will save money by seeing F. B. Straw.

JEFFERSON GRUBE.

I buy my goods from the most responsible houses, and pay cash for them, hence I can sell as cheap as any in the trade. Call on, or address me by letter, and see for yourselves.

I have secured the services of Mr. J. D. Zimmerman, who is well known throughout the county as a practical and scientific repairer of pianos and organs, and whose judgment can be relied upon as to the workmanship and tone of an instrument. Mr. Z. is prepared to do all kinds of repairing upon pianos and organs on short notice.

For further information call on or address F. B. Straw, Auburn, Ind., at S. W. Ralston's store room.

St. Joe Items.

The river is on a grand old tare.

Mrs. J. Sechler is slowly recovering.

Wm. Leighty returned home Sunday morning.

Hon. S. S. Shutt was in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Widney are out of town, attending their sick daughter.

The B. and O. road changed time last Sunday. Only slight changes are made.

All places of business in town are to be closed thanksgiving.

The young people propose to be thankful by triping the fantastic toe. The Baker band will dispense the music.

Spencerville.

Miss Jennie Lawhead, of Butler, was visiting friends in town last week.

Mrs. S. E. Rhodes, of Newville, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. Tyndall, part of last week.

Mrs. J. Miner and daughter, Lida, and Mrs. Kensner returned to their home, in Monticello, Ill.

A lot of new goods just received at Miss McKay's.

Worth Coats, of Newville, was in town Saturday.

Mr. D. M. Allen, of Maysville, was in town last week.

A supper will be given by the ladies, of the M. E. church, at Provine's hall, thanksgiving night.

Stamping done at the millinery store.

School opened last week with a good attendance.

Mr. Al. Bishop and Miss Lillie Silbery were married at the home of the bride's last Thursday evening.

Miss Ollie Oberholtzer and Ella Kelso spent last week with Mrs. Dr. Bowman, of Newville.

Waterloo.

Alfred Kelley went to Syracuse last Monday, to attend the funeral of the father of Dr. Kelley, who had been visiting his son, and took sick and died.

Dr. Johnson represented the Odd Fellows at the grand lodge, at Indianapolis last week.

Mrs Wm. Crane spent two days in Auburn last week, visiting friends at that place.

J. M. Kimsey and S. J. Locke went to Auburn Saturday, on business.

Mr. J. A. Barns was in town last Wednesday, making some needed improvements on his property here.

R. M. Lockhart has established quite an extensive lumber yard near his residence.

Mr. Calvin Crane will spend nearly three thousand dollars on the Lent hotel this fall. This will make it one of the best in the country.

Misses Ida and Rosa Blair attended the institute at Auburn, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barns.

The new firm of J. R. Steves & Co., are fairly established in their new business, and take to it kindly. They are reliable men, and should have a share of the public patronage.

Sam Beck is pushing his business as lively as ever. It takes pretty bad roads to keep Sam at home.

Mrs. Ella Grate, of Sedan, spent last week in town, visiting friends.

Gen. Blair went to Ft. Wayne yesterday.

Charles Meek butchered two nine months pigs Tuesday, that weighed when dressed 677 pounds.

Frank Blair came home yesterday to spend thanksgiving with his parents.

The L. S. & M. S. pay-car passed through town Tuesday, leaving the rail-road boys happy as larks.

Ezra and Will Patterson have returned from New York, and will be at home for a few days, before starting out on their winter work.

Mr. Armstrong is still making improvements on his property.

J. D. McAnally is building an addition to his residence.

A Marvelous Growth.

The rapid and permament growth of the Northern Indiana Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Warsaw, Indiana, has not been equaled in the whole history of life insurance. From the day of its organization it has steadily and rapidly grown in favor with all classes. The company insures persons much older than the old line companies will take, but it is conducted upon strict business principles, and cannot be confounded with those wild-cat companies that are organized and managed by a set of unprincipled speculators who know nothing about the science of life insurance. There is a class of wild companies sending agents all over the land insuring people without their consent, for the benefit of strangers, without any medical examination and regardless of their health. It is such companies that are receiving the condemnation of the press, and are so justly termed, "Grave Yard Insurance Companies." The plan adopted by the Northern Indiana Mutual, is an exact copy of those English companies that have flourished for over a half century, and have in all cases been found thoroughly reliable, and are now so popular that it is almost impossible for old-line companies to do business at all in that country. No person can be insured in the Northern Indiana Mutual without his consent. Each person insured must be in good insurable health and pass a satisfactory examination before a local physician, who is a graduate of some medical college of good standing. The Northern Indiana Mutual will be a sound and reliable institution when all the grave yard companies have ceased to exist and are remembered by the people, only by the abuses they practiced. This plan of insurance seems to be without a flaw, and any one who will take the trouble to investigate the system will be compelled to admit that this plan is beyond question, the most just to all ages of any the world has yet produced.—[Mishwaka Enterprise.

In the Circuit Court of DeKalb county, Indiana, Dec. term:

John Harvey, as administrator of the estate of Margaret Bell, vs. John Bell, et. al.

To Margaret Dunton, impleaded with others you are hereby notified that the above named petitioner, as administrator of the estate aforesaid, has filed in the DeKalb Circuit Court, of DeKalb county, Indiana, a petition, making you defendant thereto, and praying therein for an order and decree of said court authorizing the sale of certain real estate belonging to the estate of said decedent, and in said petition described, to make assets for the payment of the debts and liabilities of said estate; and that said petition, so filed and pending, is set for hearing in said Circuit court, at the court house in Auburn, Indiana, on the 8th judicial day of the December term, 1881, of said court, the same being the 24th day of December, 1881.

Witness, the clerk and seal of said court, this 22nd day of November, 1881.

JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Executor's Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned executor, of the last will of George Bittinger, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, at the late residence of the testator, near Spencerville, in Concord township, DeKalb county, Indiana, on SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1881.

The personal property of said estate, Consisting of one horse, one buggy, light wagon harness, hay, corn, plows, harrows and other farming implements. Lumber consisting of plank, fence-posts and fencing boards; also household and kitchen furniture and various other articles. Sale to begin at ten o'clock a. m. Terms: Sums of five dollars and under, cash; over five dollars, a credit of ten months will be given the purchaser, giving note waiving valuation and appraisement laws, and bearing six per cent interest after maturity, with sufficient security.

JACOB R. BITTINGER,
ADAM H. BITTINGER,
Executors,

Nov. 10, 1881.

An ordinance to compel the owners of lots and parts of lots in the incorporated town of Auburn, in DeKalb county, Indiana, therein named to construct certain sidewalks whereas it is the opinion of the Board of trustees, of the incorporated town of Auburn, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana, that public convenience requires the construction of sidewalks along the streets and adjoining the lots and parts of lots herein after mentioned, therefore,

Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the board of trustees, of the incorporated town of Auburn, in DeKalb county, in the state of Indiana, that the owners and persons in possession of and claiming to own as herein after named, the herein after described lots and parts of lots in said town, shall, within thirty days from the taking effect of this ordinance, build and construct along and adjoining the lots and parts of lots they may own or are in possession of, and claiming to own where the said lots and parts of lots front upon and adjoin the streets named, a sidewalk of good and sound pine plank, one and one-half inches thick and twelve inches wide, to be laid lengthwise, and to be placed upon sleepers of sound oak timber, not less than three by five inches in width and thickness, and not more than three feet apart. Said walks to be four feet wide, and built on a grade with the street and alley crossings. Said sidewalks to be built along the street and in front of and adjoining the following named lots and parts of lots, towit:

The north end of lot No. 25, in Ensley's 2nd addition, on Ensley's avenue, owned by Cordelia Jones. The north end of lot No. 26, in Ensley's 2nd addition, on Ensley's avenue, owned by Sarah Nirkirt. The north end of lots No. 27, 29, 30, 31 and 32, on Ensley's avenue, and the east ends of lots No. 34 and 35, on Van Buren street, in Ensley's 2nd addition, owned by George Ensley.

The north end of lot No. 28, in Ensley's 2nd addition, on Ensley's avenue, owned by Nancy A. Stafford. The east end of lot No. 33 and north part of east end of lot No. 13, in Ensley's 2nd addition, on Van Buren street, owned by Fredrick Bushman. The south part of the east end of lot No. 13, in Ensley's 2nd addition, on Van Buren street, owned by John N. Myers.

The east end of lot No. 15, in Ensley's 1st addition, on Van Buren street, owned by the estate of Joseph M. Robbins, deceased.

The east end of lot No. 12, in Ensley's 1st addition, on Van Buren street, owned by Geo. Ensley.

The east end of lot No. 14, in Ensley's 1st addition, on Van Buren street, owned by Wm. Craig. The east end of lot No. 13, in Ensley's 1st addition, on Van Buren street, owned by George Ensley. The east end of lot No. 11, in Ensley's 1st addition, on Van Buren street, owned by Ernest Peters. The east end of lots No 119 and 120, in the western addition, owned by James Brinkerhoff.

Sec. 2. The ordinance shall be in force ten days from and after its publication, in the AUBURN COURIER. Attest, THOS. H. SPROTT, Town Clerk.   D. Z. HOFFMAN, President.

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPL PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cents
BEST SHIRTING	10 cents
GOOD MUSLIN	8 cents

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc,—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c per lb
Coffee A Sugar	10c per lb	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. per lb.
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. per lb.
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. per lb.
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb.	6 for $1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per lb
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens of Auburn with extra fine WHEAT RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion next week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm, and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL!

PILES
NO CURE NO PAY
FISTULA
RECTAL ULCERS
FISSURES
CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED
CURE BEFORE TOO LATE
DR. A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S
Wonderful NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE
PATENTED
OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR BRINKERHOFF. CURE WARRANTED

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS

—In CONVENIENCE,—

DURABILITY, ECONOMY,

—AND—

GENERAL CONSTRUCTION.

BUY THE BEST!

SOLD BY KIBLINGER & CO.

ENSLEY &
HARTER

Are now showing an

Elegant Line !

—OF—

NEW GOODS

Which they have

Just Received

And are selling at

BOTTOM PRICES!

Please Examine our Goods, and compare prices.

ENSLEY & HARTER

—In the case of the state vs. Jas. V. Cook, the defendant took a change of venue from 'Squire Stevens, at Waterloo, and the examination is to take place before 'Squire Walborn to-morrow.

—The Fort Wayne News issued an extra sized paper last week, owing to a rush of advertising. The news is a popular, outspoken newspaper, and the business men very sensibly choose it for their advertising medium.

—Miss Mary Ervin, daughter of Rev. Ervin, who administered gospel to the people of this place some years ago, will be married this week to one of the Studebaker boys. The ceremony takes place at Ligonier, Indiana. She has many friends here who wish her happiness.

—We have a law to punish individuals for cruelty to animals, under this would certainly come the act of leaving the poor beast of burden stand tied in the rain and storm for eight or ten hours. It is no trouble to blanket them or put them in a barn, and parties who are so heartless and negligent need to be fined.

—Hank Long, editor of the Kendallville Standard, is talked of for postmaster at that place. We would be pleased to see him get it—he is just the gentleman that will do the business in an honest, legitimate and proper way. There are none more capably of managing a postoffice or a mail car than a practical printer.

—Dr. John A. Cowan, with his usual energy and enterprise, will rearrange, renovate and place new furniture in his office rooms. Doc. is one of our old practioners and ranks among the leading physicians of the state. He always shows a spirit of enterprise and taste, and "when his work is done," he will have the finest suit of rooms in the county.

—Our job rooms have been crowded with work for the past week and the entire force has been busily engaged. We have the most of our contracts filled, however, and we are ready to receive new orders. The COURIER job rooms have the largest and best assortment of type, and does the best work of any like establishment in the county.

—Our Sunday-schools should make preparations for a Christmas tree. There is nothing that delights the little ones so much during the holidays as to know that their teachers and parents are going to put a present on the tree for them. It also gives them an opportunity to spend an evening becoming to young people.

—It is strange to see how little respect men on the streets pay to ladies who happen to pass them. We have noticed many times when the lady would be compelled to step off the pavement to pass the crowd. Due respect should be shown them while on the street, still there is no sense in giving the whole pavement to let a crowd of girls pass, who are going four abreast like a column of troops.

—A parent who is raising a family is doing a great injustice to his children if he does not place at least one good newspaper before them every week. It informs the children, gives the entire family the news of the week, and the little fellows will learn to read much more rapidly than by school books, which grow monotonous by constant perusal. The COURIER is conducted in such a manner that it will please the young as well as the old, and the small amount of $1.50 a year will not be missed very much.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—Christmas next.

—We want wood.

—Hogs on the streets.

—Guess its winter now.

—Go to the new bakery.

—Better get vaccinated.

—The pasture is "no good."

—Guard against small-pox.

—Guitean makes a good target.

—The stores are closed to-day.

—Livery business drives slow now.

—Trains over the Wabash Sunday.

—Hank Wolf makes a good janitor.

—Take good care of the house plants.

—The ladies have donned their muffs.

—Cedar Creek is going down rapidly.

—D. D. Snyder will open a furniture store.

—Buckwheat cakes. Strikes us about right.

—About ten inches of rain fell last week.

—Wash. Askew drives one of our hacks.

—The apple buyers have gone glimmering.

—The milk wagon don't pay. Chalk is cheap.

—There is almost a wood famine in Auburn.

—Are you giving thanks to-day, brother?

—The coal trade seems to be light this season.

—The roads froze pretty solid Monday evening.

—Hod Kircher works Sunday and rests Monday.

—"Joe Rothenberger's saloon" will soon be open.

—Now the boys slide down hill at the bank building.

—Trade has been picking up for a couple of days.

—Presbyterian social at the church next Wednesday.

—Our plasters have been "shut off" by the cold snap.

—Business with our teamsters has entirely subsided.

—Services are held at the Presbyterian church to-day.

—Clerk Baxter has moved into the Baldock property.

—The express and hack men talk much of the roads.

—Lanterns were very acceptable for a few evenings past.

—A post-mortem examination is held on the turkey to-day.

—Apples are beginning to come in for the retail market.

—A beautiful day Tuesday. It reminded one of spring.

—If any one has claims against Mr. Winter, they are due.

—We hear that Bill Groscop will go out of the "red-eye" trade.

—Dave Moody wants to see the man who owns a "yaller dorg."

—Rev. Meese preaches at the M. E. church in Garrett occasionally.

—Shad is happy now. He has traded his mules for a span of horses.

—Tom. Summers went hunting Tuesday. Never mind about the game.

—Have all the doctors registered according to the celebrated new law?

—There were none of our churches prepared for a Thanksgiving dinner.

—The penalty is now added to all unpaid taxes for the last installment.

—The little tads are anxiously waiting for the skating season to open up.

—The rural boys and girls will now indulge in dances and spelling schools.

—The market seems to be well stocked with cellery. Its a-bleached to sell.

—We beg leave to inform you, dear reader, that the roads are bad, very bad.

—As cold weather sets in, the wood thief gets himself in shape for business.

—The COURIER is the best paper to advertise in. It has the largest circulation.

—A little "Squib" in front of Tom Somers' saloon Tuesday evening. No arrests.

—Nobody got up a dance thanksgiving eve. Not even a party has been reported.

—The dry goods "smash" at Butler, between the creditors and Steifle Bros., has been settled.

—Fall is lingering long in the lap of spring, and playing carelessly with the locks of winter.

—Work on the Wabash reservoir at the creek has been suspended on account of the high water.

—If our citizens want to do a charity act they can have Mrs. Penny's house roofed. It leaks very bad.

—The new Star bakery, under the management of Sherm. Hollister, is starting out with a big trade.

—Last year we had a dry fall—this year a wet one. That seems to be fair on the part of the weather clerk.

—The roller skate business will soon weaken. The slippery ice is much more acceptable to the average boy.

Up Again.

Cedar Creek had just got down to her usual size when the rains of last week excited the little rivulet and she overflowed inundating some of the cellars along Cedar street. There will be some cause, however, for our poorer class to rejoice when the water goes down. A large amount of timber and wood have floated down the stream, and it can be gathered up and taken to the homes of these people with little expense.

—Butler is growing gradually. Thirty new houses have been erected, and there is a demand for more. We are glad to see it.

—Bougent & Girardot, the stave factory men, will buy timber in the tree and have a gang of laborers work it into logs, when they will be hauled to Veeley's saw mill and cut into bolts.

—We have thus far escaped the organization of a marriage insurance company; however, many of our young bloods would be willing to "bite" at the first agent's hook who would make his appearance.

—Our old-time friend at Butler, S. G. Searight, Esq., has a new patent stove damper that is selling rapidly in the market. Sam is an ingenious fellow, and is bound to live and die a patent right man.

—There is a cow in the north end that breaks into Jacob Grogg's wheat field, and Jake swears vengeance on the bovine. He says he will fill her hide full of shot the next time she presents her cowship in that field.

—Some rural chaps, wrapped in red-eye, had a go-as-you-please fight near Mrs. Fox's residence Monday night. No arrests. Byron Rainier or Billy Little ought to resent an insult from someone and fatten up the "justice" mills.

—There were no services at the Presbyterian church last sabbath evening. A number of people went to the church through the cold, only to be disappointed. Notice should be given in the COURIER when services are to be abandoned.

—The squeal of the porker greets the ear. It was at one time the custom to give a few ribs to the neighbors, but that is almost done away with. If the neighbor happens to be a banker, he gets a chunk; if a day laborer, he is "forgotten."

—There will be another road meeting to-morrow night, the 25th, at the court house. We will publish full proceedings next week, and would like to do so this week, but our space was all taken up before we received the copy. We are glad to state, however, that a number of our citizens are working earnestly for the cause.

A law suit between one of our apple dealers and an Auburn dealer, is on the near future, unless a certain bank note is quickly given up. We understand that the note is receipted for, as paid in full, but still the note is not forth coming.

—The senior editor was at Jackson Center last Friday. This week he is engaged at Fairfield Center and other points in the north part of the county. By refering to the first page of this week's COURIER, teachers can learn where and when other institutes will take place.

—The Republican has made a change. C. P. Houser is now sole proprietor. We hope Cal. will meet with financial success, and when he leaves his friends here on earth, his record as a newspaper man will be recorded in the history of all wonderful events.

—Kendallville has another paper. Messrs. Fisher and Baker have established a semi-weekly, called the Review. That town will not support three papers, and consequently there is only one question to settle; that is, some one will eventually "go up the flue."

—The Butler Record, under the new management, has been enlarged. Mr. Garrison & Dodge show newspaper ability, and the merchants there are patronizing the paper liberally. If the local and editorial departments of the paper are kept up as they now appear, it will be the leading republican paper of the county.

—The Slayton concert troupe will begin their entertainment at seven o'clock from the fact that other entertainments are arranged for the same evening. By beginning at this early hour it gives the people ample time to attend both. The company is highly spoken of and we speak for them a full attendance.

Changed Around.

To make it more convenient for advertisers, we have placed local and miscellaneous matter on the first page of this issue, thereby giving each one a "fair deal." It is impossible for us to have all of our advertisements on the inside pages, and as we use the same kind of matter on the outside, of course, it will be immaterial to our patrons which space they occupy. We shall continue this method in the future, unless some arrangements should be made that are not known to us now.

—Henry Yesbera has the "boss" suspenders. Call in and "strap on" a pair.

—Look out for counterfeit trade dollars. They are said to be in circulation.

—The work on the Wabash cistern gave several of our laborers employment.

—Bill Edgerton looked over the country from the back of a Texas pony last Tuesday.

—W. H. Keeran has taken the contract to seat and heat the opera house at Defiance.

—The old Jno. McClellan horse is again on Scott's dray line. He's like old dog Tray.

—We see by the Butler Record that Geo. Boots has sold his hotel to Wm. Aldrich & Son.

—The new lecture of Judge Tourgee, "Give Us a Rest," will meet with a hearty response.

—Jas. R. Skilling, at Garrett, has been promoted to superintendent of bridges on the B. & O.

—The Kendallville Standard says, that C. O. Myers will leave for his home in the south this week.

—The expectation that the world will momentarily wind up its affairs is losing its grip very perceptibly.

—John Casebeer—everybody knows John—will erect a brick hotel at Hicksville, Ohio, in the spring.

—It is rumored that Mr. Swineford will move the hotel if the band continues to practice in Case's hall.

—Elza Shaffer was twenty-one years old Wednesday, and his father presented him with a fine gold watch.

—Watch the humbug insurance business. There are new companies of every description springing up.

—Some of our country contemporaries are doing a lot of cheap advertising for Kendall's Spavin Cure.

—Remember the COURIER has the best assortment of job type in the county, for either card or poster work.

—Sam, Pete & Max, the lightning clothing men at Fort Wayne, have a change in their advertisement to-day.

—The sun came out bright and beautiful all day Sunday, but the air was too bracing for much out-door exercise.

—One of the pleasant events of the season, was the party at Gordon's gallery last Monday evening, celebrating the 25 aniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Gordon.

—All of our exchanges are talking up the gravel road project. Next summer they will all be "mum"—won't need them then.

—We have not heard of one case in the equine family, at this place, where the disease, pink eye, has made its appearance.

—There is more real religion in paying one hundred cents on the dollar than in some of the most eloquent prayers ever delivered.

—At this time of the year the boys are afflicted with muddy streets, mislaid umbrellas, low spirits, bad temper and "busted" wallets.

—The weather clerk is behaving himself quite well now. We hope he won't get on his ear again and punish us with another dose of mud.

—Frank Strebe is in the fish business. The boys say he bought the county right of Sam Weaver. Sam will start a bank in the spring.

—The little folks had a nice party at the residence of Mr. Silvers last Saturday, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Miss Bessie Silvers.

—Our physicians should provide themselves with pure vaccinating matter. The prevalence of the dread disease is but a short distance from us.

—A lady who dresses herself elaborately for a promenade on the streets has more wardrobe than discretion. It may be, however, that we are wrong.

New Start.

The public schools will close in two weeks. A vacation of one week will be had before the winter term begins. Next winter the new school-house will be completed, and more convenience for both teachers and scholars will be attained. The new edifice promises to be one of the handsomest in the state, and we hope evrey precaution will be taken not to have it consumed by the firey element again.

"Touch not the Wine, etc."

Harvey A. Fuller, M. S., a graduate of Ann Arbor College, is a guest of our jolly ——ay J. VanAuken. The gentleman graduated without the use of sight, and is said to be a very cultured man. He will favor our citizens with a temperance lecture next Sunday evening at the Methodist church, and we want to see a large audience. The temperance question needs overhauling badly, in this place, and from our brief acquaintance with Mr. Fuller, we feel safe in saying that he will "shake up" the subject satisfactorily. He has a neatly prepared book of poems entitled, "Stray Leaves," which will be sold at the lecture and also upon the street the following day.

Hard Times.

Our laboring class of people will find it hard to pull through this winter. Every article of food is higher than at the opening of last winter, with no prospects for a reduction. Potatoes are worth $1.25 per bushel, butter, 20 @ 22 cents; eggs, 15 cents; flour, $2.00 per sack; and, in fact, all the necessaries of life have advanced from fifty to one hundred per cent. Wages remain about the same with unfavorable prospects for a raise. A laboring man with an ordinary family finds it difficult to get along by the payment of $1.25 and $1.50 a day. If groceries and provisions are to be kept at the present price, the laborer should receive pay accordingly.

The Staff of Life.

Our popular restaurant man, Sherm. Hollister, Esq., has secured the services of a practical baker, and will open his oven next week for the comfort of the general public. He will keep a fresh stock of bread, pies, cakes, etc., constantly, and courteously solicits a share of the patronage in this line. He will supply those who are getting up parties, church socials and other like entertainments with the best and choicest articles in the market, at the usual prices. A lunch counter will also be added to his commodious rooms, where the rural chap can drop in and order that which suits his plate best. Sherm. knows how to manage these things, and we guarantee everything in city style.

'Lots of Gall."

We see by our exchanges that some neighboring towns have practicing physicians who do not know when a patient has the small-pox, until the people inform them of the fact. Their medical diplomas, hung with cord and and tassel upon the walls, cost about ten dollars, and if they ever had a course through college, it was in the front door and out the back one. When a "Prof." don't know more than other people, he ought to graduate through the back yard. Every elocutionist, singing-school teacher, writing instructor and street vender now carries the title of "Professor," and the public should scan all such egotistical, cheeky people. They are no more professors than a private soldier is a major-general, and this little matter can easily be remedied by plain talk from the newspapers and the public in general.

Don't Delay.

Now, as the evenings are long and you have plenty of time to read, come in and subscribe for the COURIER. It is chuck full of interesting reading from all parts of the footstool. Never mind the political complextion of the paper, as we never say anything but the truth, and this will not hurt the feelings of the most skeptical. The local department is kept up thoroughly, and this is the main feature for a county paper. It will only cost you $1.50 a year, and such a trifling amount will never be missed. Any one can see at a glance that it is not the money we are after; it is simply our generous nature to have the people at large furnished with interesting reading matter these long, weary evenings.

New Trial.

A. J. Johnson, living at Spencerville, who received five dollars from the commissioners of Allen county, by stating that he broke a buggy on a neglected bridge, and was sent to the penitentiary two years for embezzlement, is home again, and will have a new trial at Fort Wayne. It is stated by parties who are acquainted with him, that he is not altogether of a sound mind.

A Warning.

We hardly have time to see the wood after it is unloaded, before every boy in town is in the office to secure the job of elevating it up stairs. Their prices range from ten to twenty-five cents, it depends on the style of the boy, and the time for the contract to expire, three weeks from date. In the mean time we manage, by the assistance of our neighbors, to consume the fuel, but have to pay the boy all the same. In the future we intend to give them a little bass talk, not mixed with any tenor, and fire them out like canon balls from a French battery—that is to do the job in the latest style. Mothers, please paste this in your bonnets.

Near the End.

The first of next January will end the eleventh volume of the COURIER. As years roll on the patronage of the paper has steadily increased, and a promising future has always encouraged the editor since its first number, January 1, 1871. The COURIER has always stood firm in the grand old democratic principles, and has never ceased to be pointed and frank in its political career. It has been a helper to the prosperity and growth of the town and county, as well as every citizen within her borders. In the future we shall govern the paper as in the past, and if our democratic friends think it worthy of patronage, we ask them to use their influence to extend the circulation; if they think it is not, then don't do it.

"Dead Head Advertising."

Every town is supplied with what might be termed "dead head advertisers." They always have a "big thing" in view, and ask the editor to give them a "huge send off," remarking that we will never loose anything by doing so. This class of men generally patronize some snide printing establishment, which sends out soliciting agents, with a harder cheek than a brass monkey, for their bill-heads, letter-heads, envelopes, cards, etc. The work presents the appearance of amateur hands, and about nine-tenths of the patrons are dissatisfied with both the quality of the paper and the workmanship. Notwithstanding this fact, the oily tongue of the penny solicitor "sticks" them at every round he makes. We have never seen a good job of work, such as a practical printer would execute, come from any of these second-rate houses, so to speak. Come up in the COURIER office and look at our samples, and we'll convince you at once that you have been swindled.

—Our readers will please examine the new advertisement of Root & Co., of Fort Wayne, in another column. It is one of the best houses in the state and when you are in that city call on them and be convinced that what we say is true.

—This is the time of year for necktie parties. The new style of wear takes lots of material, but that's nothing when the fellow returns the favor by purchasing reserve seat tickets for the theater.

—We were mistaken last week in stating that "Popcorn Smith" had returned. He has a stand on Summit street, at Toledo, Ohio, and expects to build a brick block as soon as he can raise the "wherewith."

—The new paper at Butler, managed by Harry Wesmer, was launched upon the "journalistic sea," last week. It will be a republican sheet, and issued tri-weekly. Wesmer will make it interesting, but it won't pay.

—G. O. Denison, near Waterloo, has has received a supply of carp fish from the United States fish commissioner to stock his artificial lake. When they get ripe we expect to call on him.

—The Presbyterian social, last week, was one of the largest ever known in the history of the organization. The receipts were $18—expenses $20. Big investment these socials.

—Farmers came to town Saturday on foot. Trade was nothing to speak of.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000---sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM, PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1881.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

COL. J. HOWARD WELLES, an elderly gentleman of high social standing in New York, has been arrested for writing threatening letters to Jay Gould, the well-known capitalist, in which he stated that God had commissioned him to assassinate Gould. It is believed that the writer is insane.

THE iron steam-barge Brunswick, with a cargo of coal, and the schooner Carlingford, with a cargo of wheat, came into collision about twelve miles off Dunkirk, in Lake Erie, and both vessels foundered. Before they went down the crews managed to get into the small boats, but one of the boats of the Brunswick, in which were the first engineer, John Trancomb, the stewardess, Mrs. A. G. Fletcher, her daughter Millie, and Capt. Chamberlain, of Detroit, was capsized by the suction caused by the sinking of the Brunswick, and all were drowned. The crew of the Carlingford, with the exception of one man, Edward Conway, got off safe. The loss is estimated at $225,000.... The impression gains ground in New York that it will be impossible to carry out the present plan of the East river bridge with due regard to public safety. The sum of $12,000,000 has already been taken from tax-payers and sunk in the structure....A skiff ferry-boat containing nineteen persons was swamped by the swell of a propeller on the Hudson river between Troy and Fort Schuyler, and ten persons were drowned.... The Massachusetts Paper Company, of Springfield, which owes $600,000, has been thrown into insolvency ....Mrs. Edwin Booth died in New York of consumption. She was a daughter of Mrs. J. H. McVicker, of Chicago; was born in 1849, and, after a successful theatrical career, was married in 1869 to the distinguished actor whose name she bore.

A DISTEMPER is prevailing among the horses in New York which the veterinary surgeons are unable to find in books treating of diseases peculiar to those animals. The hospitals of nearly all the street-car companies are filled with sick animals, and many have died. It is regarded as a form of typhoid pneumonia. Horses have died within sixteen hours after exhibiting the first symptoms. Some animals recover in a few days and others not in weeks.

ERICSSON'S new torpedo boat was given a successful trial at New York in the presence of General Grant and others. The novel feature of the invention is a submerged gun, which discharges a torpedo four hundred feet through the water in three seconds, with unerring accuracy.....Col. J. Howard Welles, Gould's blackmailer, has been identified as a commissary who defrauded the Government out of between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 and went to Europe during the war..... The commission appointed by the Governor of Massachusetts to investigate the charges of scandalous conduct made against the Ninth regiment of that State have found "a true bill" against the regiment, and Gov. Long has instructed Col. Strachan to report the names of the culprits within thirty days that they may be dishonorably discharged.

THE WEST.

THE various departments at Washington have completed the estimates for the next fiscal year. Nearly every department will ask for an increase over the amount voted last year. The Secretary of War will ask for $2,000,000 on account of the increase in the price of supplies. The Interior Department will ask for $100,000,000 for pensions, of which $65,000,000 are for "accrued" pensions; and the Navy Department will ask for $31,000,000 for new ships. The Postoffice Department is nearly self-sustaining, and no demands will be made on Congress for any large appropriation.

SEVERAL thousand dollars has been subscribed by citizens of Omaha, as a reward for the discovery and arrest of the assassin of Col. Watson B. Smith. There is very little hope that the mystery surrounding the terrible tragedy will ever be solved....A battery of ten boilers in the saw-mill of Hamilton, McClure & Co., near East Saginaw, Mich., exploded with terrific force, tearing the building to fragments. One boiler-head dropped 900 feet distant, and a chimney 100 feet high was hurled to the ground. Four firemen were killed. The loss incurred is $25,000.

THE Biddle Market Savings Bank, at St. Louis, was robbed of $6,000 by a party of four cunning thieves, three of whom completely absorbed the attention of the officers and employes.

THE residence of Jesse Baldwin, near Youngstown, Ohio, was robbed of between $30,000 and $40,000 in gold. He kept his money in an old-fashioned safe under the stairs in the hallway of his residence. The Baldwin family slept up-stairs, and the first intimation they had of the burglary was the furious noise made by the blowing open of the safe with powder. George Lewis, Baldwin's son-in-law, fired three shots at the robbers as they left the house with the bags of gold in their arms. The burglars returned a volley. No one on either side was injured. The robbers had previously taken two of Baldwin's horses and best carriage from his stable, and had them standing at the residence. They jumped into the buggy and escaped.

A PRIZE-FIGHTING expedition was about to steam out of the harbor of Erie for a contest on Government land on the peninsula, when the revenue cutter Perry made her appearance with guns shotted and an armed force in sight, and her officers gave ample warning to the brutal crowd. The pugilistic party then proceeded by rail to the Ohio State line, and the bruising match had progressed to the fourth round, when an Ohio constable put in an appearance and broke up the fight. The principals were arrested and the crowd ran for the woods on the Pennsylvania side of the line.

THE SOUTH.

A HORRIBLE railroad slaughter occurred near Corsicana, Texas. A freight train on the International and Great Northern road ran into a gang of convicts, killing twenty-three and wounding a large number. The accident was caused by an open switch.

IN the jail yard at Frederick, Md., Felix Munshower was executed for the murder of James Wetzel. The doomed man asked for and obtained an extra hour of life after all was ready....Henry Jenkins, who killed Winfield Saunders to obtain his money, was hanged at Fayetteville, W. Va., in presence of thousands of spectators....Joe Harris, a Georgia negro, was hanged at Greensboro, in the jail yard, for killing E. T. Langston.

THE Mexican Veterans' Association held its annual meeting in the Exposition Hall at Atlanta, Ga., on the anniversary of the burning of that city by Gen. Sherman. Gen. Henry Jackson, of Savannah, delivered an oration on the history of the Mexican campaign. The speech of the day was delivered by Gen. Sherman, who said he thanked God he was an American citizen; that he could go from any spot of Maine to Texas and stop where he pleased so long as he behaved himself and obeyed the laws of the place. He said that to-day the United States was a nation with the same soldiers, the same Government and the same flag; declared himself as friendly to Georgia as to Ohio—a declaration which was received with cheers. He recalled the events of sixteen years ago at Atlanta, and expressed himself gratified at the transformation. The General was very cordially received.

GENERAL.

AMONG the numerous conflagrations are the almost complete destruction of Woodstock, N. B., a town of over 4,000 people, the loss being placed at $90,000; six hotels at Old Orchard beach, Me., valued at $72,000; the Metropolitan Iron-works at Richmond, Va., the estimated loss being $100,000; the Orphans' House at Womelsdorf, Pa.; Fowler's spoke factory at Fowlerville, Mich.; the Atlantic flouring-mill at Denver, Col., worth $40,000; Barber's shingle-mill at Cedar Springs, Mich., and various buildings at Modesto, Cal., value $50,000. ....Dr. Boynton, of Cleveland, Ohio, says, in an interview, that the original wound received by the President was not necessarily fatal; that Bliss forced himself into the management of the case, and, by his incompetency and almost-criminal carelessness at the beginning, rendered Garfield's recovery impossible....An Irish National Convention has been called to meet in Chicago Nov. 30 for a three-days' session

THE December number of the North American Review contains the professional opinions of Drs. William A. Hammond, John Ashurst, of Philadelphia, J. Marion Sims, of New York, and John T. Hodgen, of St. Louis, on the surgical treatment of President Garfield. Dr. Ashurst says the mistake made regarding the course of the ball was unavoidable; that there was no evidence of malaria in the President's system; that there was no pyæmia in the modern sense of the word, implying metastatic abscesses in the lungs and liver after death; that at no time would the surgeons have been warranted in attempting to remove the ball; that during his entire illness the President was insufficiently nourished, owing to the rebellious disposition of his stomach; that the antiseptic treatment was carried as far as should have been; and that, in short, everything was done that should have been of benefit. Dr. Sims says that probing was impossible. Death was inevitable with his spine injured as it was. The wonder is that he lived so long. He had pyæmia from July 22 at least. The surgeons did all that was possible—all that the present state of medical science would permit. Dr. Hodgen says it is incomprehensible how the President lived six hours with such a wound. Everything possible was properly done. Nothing even imprudent was attempted, and every hour the President lived beyond six after he was shot was the result of every available resource of medical science being skillfully and constantly applied. Dr. Hammond believes the President did not have the best medical treatment, and that the wound was not necessarily fatal.

DURING the three months ending the 31st of October the Irish National Land League sent to the Treasurer of the organization in Ireland $127,835. The California Land League sent in addition $4,109.

A SESSION of the Industrial League of America was held in Philadelphia—Joseph Wharton presiding—at which resolutions were adopted condemning the decision of the Treasury Department inimical to protective duties, and calling on Congress to remedy the evil results growing from these decisions; favoring the appointment of civilian Commissioners to report on the progress, needs, and conditions of American industries; advocating the reduction of internal-revenue taxes and the encouragement of American shipbuilding and shipowners' interests. A National Tariff Convention, composed of delegates from every section of the country, held a two days' session in Chicago. Resolutions were adopted that the protective policy had provided the revenue to subdue the Rebellion and diminish the public debt, and also turned the balance of trade in our favor; that maritime property should be exempt from State, municipal and local taxation, and that the internal revenue should be gradually reduced. The National Labor Congress met in Pittsburgh. Resolutions were offered demanding the repeal of the Conspiracy act and the abolition of prison labor, and declaring that no man should be permitted to hold more land than he can till.

THE last weekly bulletin of the National Board of Health reports the death-rate for American cities in every 1,000 as follows:

New York	20.3	Jacksonville	29.5
Brooklyn	23.4	Elgin	23.8
Philadelphia	21	Moline	12.4
Chicago	27.2	Rock Island	13.1
Boston	25.6	Lake	11.3
New Orleans	26	Quincy	12.6
Nashville	32.6	Milwaukee	17.5
Dist. of Columbia	20.5	Beloit	21.6
Pittsburgh	25.7	Minneapolis	23.3
Cincinnati	23	East Saginaw	13.7
Louisville	24.5	Flint	18.9
Cleveland	20	Lansing	25.4
Dayton	17.4	Port Huron	11.3
Indianapolis	18.8	Dubuque	14.1
Richmond, Ind.	8.2	Keokuk	4.3
Evansville	10.7	Davenport	14.3
Peoria	19.6	St. Louis	23.5
Aurora	17.6	Omaha	30.8

....Mr. Walter, proprietor of the London Times, who has been traveling in America for three months, in addressing his Berkshire constituents said he hoped Englishmen would come to this country; that any Englishman who is a good judge of land, and who is steady and industrious, may be assured that he will become wealthy and prosperous before he becomes 50 years old. Mr. Walter thinks that before the close of the next century the United States will have a population of 200,000,000.

POLITICAL.

JUDGE FOLGER will not enter on his duties as Secretary of the Treasury until the cases now pending before the New York Court of Appeals are disposed of.

SECRETARY WINDOM is said to have proposed to President Garfield at Long Branch, the week before the latter was shot, a plan of civil-service reform for the Treasury Department. This plan, which met with the approval of the late President, proposed to allot to each State a number of appointments; the appointment of a committee of three in each State before whom candidates for the places should be examined at least once a year, the examination to be so conducted as to test the experience and capacity of the applicants; appointments to be made from among those who stood highest on the list, according as vacancies to which the State of the applicants was entitled occurred. It was also contemplated that, other things being equal, soldiers, their widows and children should have a preference.

THE President has received a number of protests against the retention of Public Printer Defrees, urging the appointment of a younger and more active man....It is said President Arthur has offered the position of Secretary of the Interior to James A. Williamson, of Iowa, formerly Commissioner General of the Land Office....The New York Herald publishes an interview with Secretary Blaine relative to the new Cabinet. He says it will be "Grant from top to bottom after Jan. 1." Blaine will retire in December.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MACVEAGH had an interview with the President the other day. After the interview he told a reporter that his relations with Gen. Arthur were quite cordial, and stated that the recently-published stories about the Cabinet scene, in which he and the President were represented to be the chief actors, were pure fabrications. No such scene ever took place.

ACCORDING to the Washington correspondents the latest Cabinet slate is: Attorney General, Emery A. Storrs; Secretary of the Interior, ex-Senator Howe; Postmaster General, Chauncey I. Filley; Secretary of the Navy, Gen. Longstreet. Rumor does not say who is to be Secretary of State. It is said that Secretary Lincoln is about to retire from the Cabinet at his own request. Another rumor has it that ex-Senator Chaffee, of Colorado, will be Secretary of the Interior. Ex-Senator Sargent, it is believed, has no chance to get a Cabinet position.

A CONFERENCE was held in Philadelphia by twenty-five prominent Republicans who supported the regular ticket at the late election to take measures to abolish the control of Pennsylvania by the Camerons by capturing the next State Convention.

WASHINGTON.

GEN. DUMONT, Supervising Inspector General of Steamboats, in his annual report recommends that the Board of Supervising Inspectors be abolished, and, instead thereof, that the Secretary of the Treasury be empowered to convene a mixed committee composed of local and Assistant Inspectors to examine and report to him upon the efficiency of any device to be used upon steam-vessels, and which may require his approval. He also recommends the appointment of local and Assistant Inspectors by the Secretary of the Treasury on the nomination of the immediate superior officer of each grade; also, that the superior officers be given power to suspend subordinates pending investigation of charges involving incompetency, neglect of duty, or misbehavior....The annual report of Surgeon General Barnes states that $250,000 will be needed for the medical department of the army for the fiscal year. The death rate was nine per 1,000 among white and twenty per 1,000 among colored troops; the total deaths in the army from all causes were 245. He reiterates the demand for $250,000 for a medical museum at Washington.

THE annual report of the Commissioner of Customs shows that, for the fiscal year, there was paid into the treasury from sources the accounts relating to which are settled in his office $200,109,936, and paid out of the treasury on accounts under the supervision of the Commissioner $18,499,412. At the principal ports, the balances on bonds to secure duties on goods remaining in warehouse June 30, 1881, were as follows: Boston and Charlestown, $3,736,929; Baltimore, $151,236; Chicago, $173,647; New Orleans, $231,824; New York, $17,391,063; Philadelphia, $1,016,197; San Francisco, $1,055,021.

IN regard to the future action in the star-route cases, a consultation took place between Postmaster General James, Col. W. A. Cook and Hon. George Bliss. It was agreed that the quashing of the informations was of little consequence, except to settle the point that all grave offenses must be acted upon by the Grand Jury. The cases will be pushed forward, notwithstanding the vacancy in the Attorney Generalship....Judge Folger, the new Secretary of the Treasury, formally took possession of the office on the 14th inst....Attorney General McVeagh took formal leave of the Department of Justice on the 14th.

FROM May 19 to June 30 there was handled by the treasury authorities $226,000,000 worth of United States 5-per-cent. bonds for redemption and continuance at 3½ per cent. This is the largest amount ever handled by the treasury officials in a like period....An additional shortage of $40,000 has been discovered in Capt. Howgate's accounts.

FOREIGN.

CHINESE advices via San Francisco report the opening at Tien Tsin of the woman's hospital. Li Hung Chang and other high native officials were present. United States Minister Angell made the inaugural address.... Serious earthquakes have again occurred at Scio. The people have fled, and the village is sinking into the earth.

OVER 25,000 applications have been made to the Land Court in Ireland, among them being 130 on the estate of Sir George Colthurst of Cork. The Monaghan Commission made a reduction of from 10 to 20 per cent. in nearly every case....A Kerry county farmer named Gavin was dragged from his bed, fired at five times and severely wounded for having paid his rent.... By the explosion of gas in a sulphur mine at Gessolurgo, Italy, forty persons were killed and forty-one wounded....In the duel between Paul de Cassagnac and Adrien Montebello, at Paris, the latter was wounded in the right arm. The fight lasted twenty-five minutes.

IT appears from the testimony of Irish land agents and landlords that the tenants of the counties of Wexford, Clare, Kerry, parts of Cork and Limerick have determined to pay no rent, while the tenantry of Galway, Roscommon, Queen's county, Kilkenny, Sligo and parts of Limerick are paying or have paid. A landlord named Meers was shot at from behind a hedge in Westmeath in broad daylight, but escaped unhurt. Mulleague, an ex-suspect, has been rearrested in Leitrim. The landlords continue to complain of the reductions made by the Land Commissioners....Central and Southern Russia are being devastated by diphtheria, scarlet fever and small-pox.

BISMARCK proposes all kinds of popular reform now that his party has been so decidedly defeated. Among other things he proposes that minorities be represented in the Reichstag.

A CONSTANTINOPLE dispatch reports awful mortality at Mecca, the Sacred City, and shrine of Mahomet. Two hundred persons a day are said to be dying from cholera. The steamships at Djiddah, the nearest seaport, refuse to carry returning pilgrims....An explosion of dynamite on the steamer Severn, between Bristol and Glasgow, killed nine persons and badly injured forty-three others....Twenty-five farms in the County Tipperary were sold by the Sheriff and bought in by the emergency committee....At Mecca, on the 6th of November, 300 persons died of cholera.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

COMMANDER CHEYNE, of the British navy, asks the public of England and America to contribute $150,000 to enable himself and Lieut. Schwatka to reach the North pole by balloons from St. Patrick's bay....Prof. Swift has found another comet. It is located in the constellation Cassiopeia, between Polaris and the great cluster in Perseus....The exodus of Jews from Russia to America continues. A third party of them, comprising 230 persons, passed through Berlin the other day on their way to this country. More are to follow.

A NEW and fatal cattle disease has made its appearance in the vicinity of Dubuque, Iowa. One farmer lost nine cows in one night. The animals are seized with rigors and trembling, and death ensues in a few hours after they are attacked....Sylvester Dodge, a well-known cattle-dealer of Waupun, Wis., drowned himself in the river at Milwaukee.

THE new German Reichstag opened in Berlin, on the 17th inst. Prince Bismarck apologized for the absence of the Emperor, and read the speech from the throne. The legislators were assured of the peaceful prospects of the country and the policy of the Government for the session was indicated....In Tunis an important engagement has taken place between Gen. Bonier's contingent and a large body of insurgents. The French captured thousands of sheep and hundreds of camels..... Deputy Roche has introduced in the French chamber a measure for the complete separation of church and state....Father McPhilpin, an active member of the Irish Land League, has been lodged in Galway jail. In County Mayo, the County Commissioners have reduced rents 50 per cent.

THE memorial hall erected at North Easton, Mass., by the children of Oakes Ames, at a cost of $400,000, was dedicated in presence of the Governor and State officers.

H. V. REDFIELD, the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, died at the capital of hemorrhage of the lungs.

One-Eyed Gambetta.

The story that Gambetta poked out one of his eyes when a child, because his father would not permit him to do as he pleased, is perfectly true. What is not so generally known is that the elder Gambetta remained inflexible even after this display of willfulness. The boy was being educated at the Lycee of Cahors, and, conceiving a dislike for the institution, asked to be removed from it. His father refused again and again. At last Leon said: "I'll put out one of my eyes if you send me back to the Lycee." It was holiday time. "As you please," said the father, to whom it seems never to have occurred that his boy might have inherited his own strength of purpose. The same day Leon took, not a penknife, as the popular tradition has it, but an inkstand, which he dashed with such violence against the eye as to destroy it. Shocked as was old Gambetta, he would not give in, and Leon returned to the Lycee.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

Charles J. Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield, was arraigned for trial on the charge of murder in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, at Washington, on Monday, Nov. 14. Every seat in the court-room was filled. The assassin, dressed in a shiny suit of black broadcloth, was escorted into court by two officers. He took a seat beside his sister, Mr. Robinson being on the other side. The officers sat immediately behind him, and one of them, leaning over, unfastened the handcuffs from Guiteau's wrists. The prisoner then shook hands with his brother and sister, handed the latter a small pamphlet and package of paper, and then arranged the articles on the table before him, rather as if he had been the counsel than the accused. He appeared much more collected than at his arraignment, and had nothing of the frightened look that marked him at that time. When all was quiet Mr. Robinson addressed the court, asking for more time before trial. He said he had reason to know that he could get needed assistance as counsel before long, and that he had some witnesses who could not get there before Dec. 1. He was willing to give the court the names of said witnesses.

As Mr. Robinson sat down Guiteau arose and said: "If your Honor please, I desire to address the court. I did not know that my counsel was ready to make his speech this morning. I desire to speak for myself. I am here on a murderous charge, and I desire to be heard in my own defense."

"This is not the time to enter upon the defense," said Judge Cox, quietly. "It is only a question whether more time is necessary for preparing the defense."

"It is not needed," said Guiteau. "We are ready to go on with the case now."

Mr. Robinson smiled at this and asked Guiteau to sit down.

The prisoner said: "You keep still." But he did sit down, muttering, as he did so: "We are ready to go ahead now."

Col. Corkhill said he saw no reason why the time should be extended.

Mr. Robinson made an affidavit that the sole ground on which he asked delay was in order to get the necessary witnesses and counsel. He said he was practically alone in the case and needed some one.

There was developed an evident split between Messrs. Scoville and Robinson. Mr. Scoville, addressing the court, said that Mr. Robinson's application was made without his knowledge, which was certainly a strange proceeding, since he had not even seen the affidavit nor heard what counsel hoped to get. For his part he was ready to go on with the trial. He knew he was incompetent to go ahead without assistance, but he had hoped without Mr. Robinson's assistance to be able to proceed. Even now he hoped to be of some assistance to Mr. Robinson, but if he was to go on in this way, he (Scoville) should withdraw.

Here Guiteau jumped to his feet and said, in an excited manner: "I indorse every word he says. Robinson came into this case without consulting me, and I don't like the way he talks. I order him peremptorily to withdraw from the case."

Mr. Robinson renewed his application.

Mr. Scoville claimed the near relatives of the prisoner should at least know who was expected to come for the defense.

Guiteau again interposed: "We don't want Robinson, anyway. This is peremptory and he must go."

Mr. Scoville went on: "If we have time enough we could get counsel good enough and plenty without money, but if the court is going to give us time and at the same time assign counsel I don't agree with it."

With this Guiteau jumped up again. Rapping the table with his knuckles, he said: "Mr. Scoville is next to me in this case. I intend to do this business myself. Robinson is not wanted."

The officers tried to keep him quiet, but he told them to mind their own business. He was in the presence of the court, and would talk when he felt like it.

Col. Corkhill asked the court to try to keep the prisoner quiet, whereupon Guiteau sat down, saying he would do whatever the court wished him to. After that he was comparatively quiet.

Judge Cox then said he was inclined to give the defense a little more time. He intends that the prisoner shall have at least a fair trial, but he thought it would perhaps be better to allow the case to proceed so far as the selection of a jury, leaving it for counsel to arrange for time and a future continuance, and for additional counsel.

Mr. Scoville said it should be understood that he should not even question a juror until he knew exactly who was to be associated with him and Mr. Robinson in the defense.

The court said no one could be assigned without Mr. Scoville's consent.

Mr. Scoville and Mr. Robinson both expressed themselves satisfied with this arrangement, and the jury panel was then taken up. The court explained that it was a wrong interpretation of law to demand on such a jury only those persons who had formed no opinion. The only absolutely disqualified persons were those who had formed an opinion that could not be changed by any evidence whatsoever.

The first four of the jury panel stated distinctly and finally that they had opinions which no evidence could change, and they were speedily excused. The fifth seemed all right until asked if he had any scruples as to capital punishment. He smiled as he answered in the affirmative, and seemed glad to get out of it. The sixth thought he could give a verdict in accordance with the evidence, though he had repeatedly said he should hang the prisoner. This man was in the hardware business. Mr. Scoville said the juror was not wanted. The next man was a mechanic. He had an opinion, though not very decided; thought he could give a fair verdict. Mr. Scoville asked as to his politics and religion. Judge Porter, of the prosecution, objected. Mr. Scoville said he desired to know something of the juror's conscience before knowing whether he might exercise the right to a peremptory challenge. That was all he was driving at. He was willing to let that question rest until he could present authorities. This man was William P. O'Donnel, and in his case the defense made their first peremptory challenge. The eighth was excused because he held firmly to the opinion formed immediately after the shooting. The ninth man was John Hamlin, a well-known restauranter of Washington. He answered all questions satisfactorily, some as to whether he held to any infidel belief. He was accepted by the defense, and was duly sworn as the first juror.

Five jurors have been obtained and sworn in. Their names and occupations are as follows: John P. Harlin, restaurant-keeper; Fred W. Brandenbor, cigar-maker; Charles G. Stewart, flour and feed dealer; Henry J. Bright, retired from business; Thomas H. Langley, grocer.

The panel was exhausted after five jurors had been obtained, and at the suggestion of the District Attorney an order was issued for drawing seventy-five additional names from the box. The prisoner at this point slowly rose and informed the court he would like to make a speech to-morrow morning, but he was ordered by the court to take his seat. He then passed the manuscript of his speech to a newspaper reporter, but before the latter could leave the court-room Scoville called him back and compelled him to return it. This raised the anger of the prisoner, who excitedly declared he was not under control of his counsel; that he was a lawyer and knew law himself; that when he wanted help he would ask for it; and that he desired his speech to be published for the purpose of influencing public opinion. He was again silenced by the court, and it having been agreed that the sitting of the court should be from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily, allowing half an hour for recess, the court adjourned.

In the speech which Guiteau had prepared for delivery in the court he says he is charged with murdering one James A. Garfield. Nothing can be more absurd, because Gen. Garfield died of malpractice. Gen. Garfield was a good man, but a weak politician. Being President he was in a position to do vast harm to the republic, and he was doing it by the unwise use of patronage, and the Lord and himself took the responsibility of removing him. That his duty to the Lord and to the American people overcame his personal feelings toward Gen. Garfield, and he sought to remove him. Not being a marksman, Gen. Garfield was not fatally shot, but incompetent physicians finished [illegible] weak, and they, and not him, are responsible for his death. He then speaks of the breach in the Republican party, and his resolve to remove the President, and claims that the Deity ordered him to fire the shot. He refers to his work on theology, insanity in his family, his married life, and his life in prison, and appeals to those whom he says he has put in position and to the general public to send him money for his defense.

SECOND DAY.

There were few incidents of importance in connection with the trial on the 15th. Court was formally opened a few minutes after 10 o'clock, and immediately afterward counsel in the case and the brother and sister of the prisoner entered. After the lapse of a few minutes Guiteau was hurried into the court-room in custody of half a dozen policemen and deputy marshals. The handcuffs were removed, and he shook hands with his sister and brother, and took the seat reserved for him between them and his counsel. Scoville then submitted an affidavit and made an application for an order for an additional number of witnesses, which order was made by the court. Then the additional panel of seventy-five summoned the preceding day was called, most of the persons responding when called. Guiteau manifested less nervous excitability than the day before, although in his whispered conversations with his brother he was quite demonstrative and earnest in his manner.

A colored barber named Howard was the first juror to be called and examined as to his fitness to serve. His answers showed him to be not disqualified from service, but the defense challenged him peremptorily, being the fourth peremptory challenge. Next was a man named Lynch, who had the decided opinion that Guiteau ought to be hanged or burned. He was, of course, excused, as was also the next (named Bailey) who declared his belief that Guiteau was crazy. The next was a colored man, remarkable for a frilled shirt front and dramatic posture and manner, who related the history of his past life and then was peremptorily challenged by the defense. In fact, it is understood Guiteau is resolved not to have a colored man on the jury. The next was an Irishman named Michael Sheehan, with a very pronounced brogue, who had no opinion on the subject of Guiteau's crime, except that "the man was out of his head." He was sworn as the sixth juror.

William Talbott, an iron worker, having answered all questions to the satisfaction of the defense, saying that he had "never bothered his head" on the question of Guiteau's guilt, was challenged peremptorily by the prosecution. Several others in succession were excused on the statement that they had firm and decided opinions. One of them believed Guiteau ought to be hanged, and another would require convincing medical testimony to change his opinion. A long-faced young colored man named Foster, declared he was perfectly free from any prejudices in the matter, but he had mentioned it (the murder of Garfield) to several parties as quite a serious accident. He was challenged peremptorily by the defense. Samuel T. Hobbs, a native of Maryland, a plasterer by occupation, answered all questions satisfactorily, and was sworn in as the seventh juror.

G. W. Gates, a young man, native of Washington, a machinist, was sworn as the eighth juror. After that, for about an hour, every man called confessed he had formed "firm" or "decided" or "unaltered" opinions on the question of the prisoner's guilt, and was excused. There was one exception in the person of a colored man named Ralph Wormley (a plasterer by occupation) who thought he could render a fair verdict, and said he had not read more about the case than he did "in ordinary cases of that kind." He did not believe everything he read in the newspapers, because they had published things about himself that were not true. He could not say whether the President was shot by the prisoner until he would hear the testimony. Of course, if an insane man did the shooting he would be as much guilty as anybody else. The "crazy part of the business was something else." No sensible man could have done such a thing. After consultation between counsel and prisoner and his brother, Scoville said the defense would accept the juror, and so Wormley was sworn in as the ninth juror. The list of seventy-five talesmen having been exhausted, the Marshal was ordered to summon another list of seventy-five, and the court adjourned.

Guiteau was jeered and hissed as he left the court, and the cowardly wretch sought shelter behind a big policeman.

THIRD DAY.

At the opening of the third day of the Guiteau trial the court-room was filled to overflowing, the audience being a very respectable one. Court was called to order, and during the calling of the names of jurors the prisoner was brought in. His appearance was wild and excited. He tossed his hat upon the desk before him, and, turning toward his brother-in-law, Scoville, hurriedly whispered something to him in an extremely-excited manner. The two entered into conversation, and Guiteau, while speaking, used his clenched fist vigorously, as if insisting upon a matter which Scoville seemed to disapprove.

The talesmen being called, Judge Cox questioned the first, E. I. Kengla, upon his feelings regarding the prisoner. Kengla responded that he did not think there could possibly be sufficient evidence to change the opinion he had formed. The next talesman called was excused almost at once, having formed a decided opinion. A laborer, named Thomas, declared he had neither expressed nor formed an opinion, cannot read, and had never held any conversation whatever on the subject. Scoville remarked that this man was about the kind of a juror the law contemplated, but the defense did not want him. He therefore challenged him peremptorily. A colored barber named Williams was called, and, having formed no opinion, was examined by Scoville. He read the papers every morning before 7 o'clock, and, being a barber, of course had conversed a great deal on the subject. In response to an inquiry whether he had ever been a juror in a murder case, he said he had, but the jury disagreed. This remark caused considerable amusement throughout the room. After further questioning Mr. Williams was excused. William H. Browner, commission merchant, being closely questioned by Scoville, and no objection being advanced by the Government, was accepted and duly sworn, making the tenth juror. George T. Keene, in response to interrogatories, said there was nothing under the sun which could change the opinion he had formed, and several other gentlemen were as decided in their answer as was Keene. T. Heinlein, an iron worker, was sworn as the eleventh juror. Thomas H. Barron, carpenter and builder, was accepted by the defense, but the District Attorney preferred to excuse him, and interposed a peremptory challenge. The next talesman examined was C. A. Payne, boot and shoe manufacturer, who proved acceptable to the defense, but was peremptorily challenged by the Government. Joseph Prather, commission merchant, was accepted and sworn as the twelfth juror.

The court then adjourned.

During the examination of the talesmen, the following statement was prepared by Guiteau, copied by his brother, and given to the press:

To the Legal Profession of America: I am on trial for my life. I formerly practised law in New York and Chicago, and I propose to take an active part in my defense, as I know more about my inspiration and views in the case than any one. My brother-in-law, George Scoville, Esq., is my only counsel, and I hereby appeal to the legal profession of America for aid. I expect to have money shortly so I can pay them. I shall get it partly from the settlement of an old matter in New York, and partly from the sale of my books, and partly from public contributions to my defense. My defense was published in the New York Herald on Oct. 6 and in my speech published Nov. 15 (yesterday). Any well-known lawyer of criminal capacity desiring to participate in the defense will please telegraph without delay to George Scoville, Washington, D. C. If, for any reason, an application be refused, the name will be withheld from the public.

(Signed) CHARLES GUITEAU.

In Court, Washington, D. C., Nov. 16, 1881.

FOURTH DAY.

Immediately after the opening of court Counsel Scoville arose to make a personal explanation, in which he said there had been no disagreement between himself and Robinson, as would appear from certain publications. At this point Guiteau rose and objected to Robinson's taking part in his defense. He said he would manage his own case, and wouldn't trust Robinson with anything, as he had no brains. He wished the court to understand him on this point, and if counsel were forced upon him, he would make a noise about it to the country. He represented the Deity in this case, and wished the court to understand it. Continuing, he said two or three blunderings lawyers would lose the case for him, and he did not propose to submit to anything of the kind. The court informed the prisoner if he did not remain quiet he would be removed from the room. The prisoner conversed in a very excited manner with his counsel and brother, at intervals using his clenched fist upon the desk before him in an exceedingly demonstrative manner.

District Attorney Corkhill occupied about ten minutes in delivering his opening speech outlining the prosecution. He indicated that it was the purpose of the prosecution to show that Guiteau slew his victim to gratify a spirit of revenge. During its delivery the prisoner assumed an air of apparent indifference, and devoted himself to the morning papers, scanning them hurriedly. The argument was delivered by Col. Corkhill in a very effective manner, tears filling the eyes of many in the audience, but the countenance of the prisoner remained unchanged. Toward the close of the argument he laid his newspaper aside and leaned back in his chair, covering his eyes with his hand, evidently endeavoring to conceal the emotion which he undoubtedly felt. He then drew a package of manuscript from his pocket and commenced writing in a hurried and nervous manner. The prisoner constantly shook his head in approval or disapproval of the statements made in argument by Col. Corkhill. At one time he interrupted the District Attorney, which action was called to the attention of the court by Judge Porter, of counsel for the prosecution. Judge Cox announced that it was within the power of the court to try the case in the absence of the prisoner, and if he persisted in his turbulent remarks he would cause him to be removed. Guiteau, in response, said: "I will not do it again, your Honor, but I have very deep feelings in this case." Mrs. Scoville, sister of the prisoner, cried bitterly during the delivery of the argument, and her little child could be seen appealing in an affectionate manner with: "Mamma, mamma, what is the matter?" At the conclusion of Col. Corkhill's argument there was long and continued applause.

Secretary Blaine was then called to the stand by counsel for the Government, and testified that he knew James A. Garfield from 1863 to the time of his death. He said, on reaching the depot the morning of the assassination, the President turned to say good-by, but he insisted upon accompanying him to the car. He heard a pistol shot, followed almost immediately by another, and, thinking there was some trouble, touched the President for the purpose of hurrying him onward. At this moment the President threw up his arms, exclaiming: "My God! what is this?" The Secretary, continuing, detailed the circumstances of the removal of the President to the White House and other matters pertaining to the shooting, all of which have been published heretofore. In response to Col. Corkhill, the Secretary testified that Guiteau visited the department many times, seeking appointment to the Consul Generalship at Paris. He informed Guiteau there were no prospects of his receiving the appointment, and requested him to discontinue his visits. A number of letters from the files of the State Department were identified by Secretary Blaine as having been received from the prisoner, after which they were read by the District Attorney.

Secretary Blaine was cross-examined, and testified as to the locality of the shooting. He said he had received numerous letters from the prisoner, persistently urging to be assigned to speak in the Maine campaign. He at no time noticed anything which would indicate any derangement of Guiteau's mind.

Scoville, in questioning Blaine, referred to the difficulty which arose in the Republican party in New York after the appointment of Collector Robertson, and requested that the Secretary explain the situation as it existed.

Secretary Blaine answered a number of questions on the subject of the resignations of Senators Conkling and Platt and the controversy in the New York Legislature, and, upon being further questioned, suggested that he would make a political speech for the defense if it was desired.

Scoville explained his reason for putting the questions, saying he desired to show the feeling of bitterness in political circles, with a view to proving the bearing it had upon the prisoner's mind.

In reply to further questions, the Secretary stated that after the assassination of the President he paid little or no attention to the conflict in the New York Legislature, and in fact thought nothing of politics. He said he invented the term "stalwart" himself in 1875.

The prisoner at once began to expostulate with Scoville, stating that he desired him to comply with his (Guiteau's) wishes in the case, and if he did not do so there would be a big row. He was removed by bailiffs with difficulty. He desired to continue the conversation. Scoville paid no attention to his client.

The Venezuelan Minister, Mrs. Sarah B. White, the janitress of the railroad depot, and R. A. Parke, the ticket agent, were called as witnesses in the order named, and gave the facts of the assassination, already so well known, after which the court adjourned.

A Foolish Girl.

The seventeen-year-old daughter of Dr. W—, fell, or imagined she did, wildly in love with a mellow-voiced baritone in the Mapleson company. Under an assumed name she wrote him gushing and romantic little notes, and finally sent her photograph. The face was so lovely that it piqued the singer's curiosity, but it was in vain he pleaded for an opportunity to see it. Miss W— could only enjoy her escapade as long as she maintained her incognito.

Finally the baritone, noting the name of the photographer, visited his parlors and ascertained his correspondent's name. Then he wrote to her under her real address, saying he had identified her, and she could take the choice of having her picture and notes back and giving him $200 in cash, or he would tell a reporter of the Police Gazette the story and have the picture published. There is little likelihood such a threat would have been carried out, but the girl was so terribly frightened that she sent him all the money she could scrape together, and the rest of the sum in jewelry.—New York Letter.

A Blackfoot Belle's Toilette.

The Toronto Globe's correspondent out West gives this description of the costume of a Blackfoot belle: "The upper portion of her face, including forehead, eyes and cheeks, was painted in bright chromo yellow, the lower portion of her face was scarlet, she wore a scarlet thrown loosely over her shoulder, and under this was a long, loose blouse made out of a dark navy blue blanket and trimmed with pippings of scarlet and white. This blouse was fastened at the waist with a leather belt fully eight inches broad and literally covered with large bosses of polished brass. On her neck was a string of brass beads as large as cherries. One of her bracelets consisted of a coil of heavy brass wire that would weigh not less than a pound and a half, while the other, which was nearly the same weight, was made of large brass beads; several of her fingers were nearly covered with coils of brass wire and beads."

A HEALTH journal says "an attack of hiccoughs may be stopped by holding the head under water." It doesn't say how long the head should be held under water, but we should think about two hours would be plenty long enough to stop the worst case of hiccoughs ever invented.—Norristown Herald.

NEW ORLEANS ladies are said to have the prettiest feet of any ladies in the land.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1881.

THE President's only brother, a paymaster in the army, will be attached to Gen. Hancock's staff.

JAMES B. EADS, the jetties man, gave the largest individual contribution to the Michigan sufferers—$500.

JUBAL EARLY, ex-Confederate General, lives at a Lynchburg hotel and practices law. Although not yet 70, he is as bent and bowed as a man of 90 years. His drooping shoulders, his long gray beard and flowing white hair and the strong staff on which he leans make him look like the ideal Rip Van Winkle.

"PHARAOH'S daughter" has been discovered among the mummies of Thebes. She is described as "a lady of rare beauty and exquisite form, and so perfectly preserved as to appear as if recently embalmed." Her age is uncertain, but it is believed that she is an old maid.

JUDGE DAVIS, acting Vice President of the United States, owing to his being a Senator and chosen President pro tem. from that body, receives part of his salary at the treasury, and part is paid by the Secretary of the Senate. His pay as Senator, $5,000, is paid by the Secretary, the balance, $3,000, at the treasury.

THAT we are a silver-producing nation is a fact that strikes one with great force, when reading the Census Bulletin on mining. In 1855 the product was $50,000; in 1860, it was $150,000; in 1865 it was $11,000,000; in 1870 it was $16,000,000; in 1875 the amount jumped to $35,703,000, and in 1880 to $87,000,000.

A PROJECTED hotel in Toledo will have no bar-room, but, in its stead, a small chapel, in which the guests may hold religious services. The man who is going to build this house believes that hotels are wickeder than the average of travelers, and he means to provide accommodations especially for Christians. He is said to be wealthy enough to try the experiment without danger of bankruptcy.

THERE is a large number of American horses in the cavalry service of France at the present time, and so favorably impressed are the military authorities with their capabilities and efficiency that two distinguished officers were detailed a short time ago to make an inspection of our horses. Thousands of horses in France are now fed on American corn, although there was great prejudice against it a year or two ago.

THE Mexican Government is paying a high premium for immigrants. It has just concluded a contract with Senor Rizzo, who binds himself to import Italian families to Mexico; he is to receive $60 for each emigrant, male or female, over 12 years, and $30 for each child under 12 years. Beside, a premium of $15 is promised on every imported Italian. The concessions made to the immigrants by the Government are not to be excelled.

THE following table shows the cotton production of the United States, with average yield per acre, by States, as returned by the census of 1880:

STATE.	Acres.	Bales.	Bales per acre.
Alabama	2,330,086	699,654	0.30
Arkansas	1,042,976	608,256	0.58
Florida	245,595	54,997	0.22
Georgia	2,617,138	814,441	0.31
Indian Territory	35,000	17,000	0.49
Kentucky	2,667	1,367	0.51
Louisiana	864,787	508,569	0.59
Mississippi	2,093,330	955,808	0.46
Missouri	32,116	20,318	0.61
North Carolina	893,153	389,598	0.44
South Carolina	1,364,249	522,548	0.38
Tennessee	722,562	330,621	0.46
Texas	2,173,732	805,642	0.37
Virginia	45,040	19,595	0.44
Total in the U. S.	14,462,431	5,746,414	0.40

A "DEAD-BEAT BOOK," intended ostensibly to furnish the retail trade with the same information which the mercantile agencies furnish the wholesale, but probably a blackmailing affair, has appeared in St. Louis. Lawyers, doctors, members of the School Board, public officials, etc., appear on its pages. One well-known citizen is put down as a "dead-beat" because he owes for his grandmother's coffin. The refusal of the publishers to be responsible for it by publishing their own names is a pretty good commentary upon its character. The St. Louis Republican, however, does not inaccurately describe it as a "book which cures folks of wanting to see their names in print."

FOR some years a number of philanthropic and benevolent gentlemen in New York, prominent among whom is Whitelaw Reid, have been shipping every summer to several Western States, notably Iowa, consignments of small boys, whom the benevolent gentlemen wished to remove from the evils which in a great city beset them on every side. The recent exploits of some of these youngsters in the line of attempted train wrecking have, not unnaturally, been received with some disfavor by the people of Iowa, and the newspapers of that State are urging Mr. Reid and his associates in the work of sending New York gutter rats West to retire from the business. They argue, and with reason, that if the New York gentlemen have any spare change which they are desirous to invest in the reclamation of misguided urchins the money might be utilized in building a home for the youngsters in the East.

INDIANA NEWS.

COAL is 25 cents a bushel in New Albany.

SHELBYVILLE has a female notary public in the person of Mrs. Harry C. Downey.

GOVERNMENT work upon the Wabash and White rivers has been suspended for the winter.

THE safe in the store of R. W. Aiken & Sons, at Carlisle, Sullivan county, was blown open and robbed of $2,100.

A FARMER in Henry county realized $700 from the watermelons raised this season on two acres of swamp land.

A CITIZEN of Connersville is exhibiting branches cut from trees in his door-yard bearing well-developed and ripened cherries.

THE steamer Will Kyle was snagged and sunk in the Ohio river, near Mount Vernon. The boat was valued at $60,000.

JACOB NEUBAUM, living near Wabash, is probably the oldest man in Indiana. At 105 years of age he moves about without a cane.

A PROMINENT young dentist of Fort Wayne has been indicted for stealing a $20 gold piece from the cash drawer of a drug store.

THE safe in the store of Joseph N. Orr, at Selma, Delaware county, was blown open and robbed of $7,640 in cash and notes.

IN view of the presence of twelve or more cases of small-pox, the Board of Health of Fort Wayne has established ward boundaries.

MAYOR KENT, of New Albany, has issued his proclamation requesting the citizens to vaccinate at once as a preventive to small-pox.

THERE has been organized in Logansport a benefit association having for its object the payment of a premium for every baby born in lawful wedlock.

A NEW banking association, to be known as the National State Bank of Logansport, has been organized in that city. The capital stock is $100,000.

THE spontaneous combustion of rags caused a fire in the junk stores of Becker & Wile and M. N. Jacobs, at Fort Wayne, in which damage of $20,000 was inflicted.

WORKMEN digging in the cellar of a house in Vincennes dug up two infant skeletons and a number of other loose bones. The discovery created considerable excitement.

THE Board of Commissioners of Franklin county have awarded the contract for building a new jail and Sheriff's residence to McCormick & Sweeney, of Columbus, for $19,000.

FREDERICK W. NUGENT, editor of the Terre Haute Statesman, was recently sentenced to jail for twenty-five days and fined $300 for libeling the character of Mark W. Moore, of that city.

HORSE-THIEVES are busy in Floyd, Clark, Harrison, Orange and Washington counties. Several fine horses have been stolen in the neighborhood of New Albany in the past few days.

AN explosion caused the destruction of the rectifying establishment of T. & J. W. Gaff, at Aurora, valued at $20,000. William Fisher, the warehouseman, who slept in the building, was burned to death.

AS A passenger train was passing Haubstadt, Gibson county, an unknown woman, apparently 75 or 80 years of age, jumped directly in front of the locomotive and was run over, the whole train passing over her body, killing her instantly.

JUDGE A. J. SIMPSON, the oldest active attorney in the State, died at Paoli, Orange county, of heart disease, aged 85. He was a half-brother of Justice Nathan Clifford, of the United States Supreme Court.

AMONG the real-estate owners in South Bend, transcribers of legal documents have to wrestle with such names as J. Jeadrzejewski, J. Przycgsz, Wawrzyn Bartol, G. Krzenock, J. Kwiatkoski, X. Mendlekowski, F. Syperchluski and A. Szybowlez.

THE health authorities of Madison report that of all the cases of small-pox occurring in that city there is not a single instance where the afflicted person had been vaccinated. Another argument in favor of the efficacy of vaccination.

STALKS of wheat fully two feet in length have lately been shown in Columbus. The stalks had jointed in several places, and under a strong glass the germs of the heads could be distinctly seen. The growth is considered unprecedented.

THE flour-mill owners of Vincennes, six in number, held a meeting the other day and unanimously resolved to close their mills and ship no more flour. Farmers are holding their wheat for $1.50, and are firm, giving as a reason the shortness of the crop. The mills made 1,000 barrels per day, and the stop throws a number of people out of employment.

NEW Indiana patents: P. Burr and W. H. Mercer, Worthington, shoe-button and fastener; M. Crawford, Indianapolis, adjustable hog-scraping machine; F. M. Hibband, Goshen, asbestos roof-paint; H. E. Moon, Richmond, map and chart case; L. Soseman and T., Jr., South Bend, apparatus for stacking hay; U. R. Stanton, Richmond, clasp for garments.

A PLEASANT incident in the development of Indiana divorce is the establishment at Floyd of a boarding-house for the exclusive accommodation of couples desirous of shuffling off the mortal coil of marriage. Recently the house had twenty-nine inmates waiting to be unhitched. The alleged trouble in most of these cases was incompatibility of temper, which means that they had grown tired of each other's society and desired affinities.

JOHN SHERMAN.

The Testimony in the Pitney Investigation He Did Not Want Shown—When You are Secretary it is a Good Time to Build a Barn.

The Washington Sunday Gazette, in its comments upon the Treasury investigation, and upon the action of the Senate in refusing to call for the testimony, publishes what follows:

The following is a part of the sworn testimony of the investigation as to how houses and stables were repaired:

Work done by me (W. Paul Brown) in Government time, and paid for by the Government, while employed in the United States Treasury Department:

By order of Mr. Frank Hessler, worked May 15, 16, 17, 18, 1878, on Secretary Sherman's stables, in Stanton alley. Charged to the Third Auditor's Office.

Making six large doors for Secretary Sherman. Charged to Second Auditor's Office.

June 13, 14, 1878—Working on Secretary Sherman's stables. Charged to Superintendent's Office.

July 6, 1878—Working on Secretary Sherman's stables. Charged to Organization Division.

July 15, 1878—Working on Secretary Sherman's stables. Charged to Register's Office.

Aug. 29, 1878—Working two-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's house, and twenty feet of sash cord. Charged to Bureau of Statistics.

Working five-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's house. Charged to Register's Office.

Working five-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's stables. Charged to the Register's Office.

September, 1878—Working six-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's house. Charged to National Bank Redemption Agency.

September, 1878—Working five-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's house. Charged to Register's Office.

Oct. 17, 1878—Working four-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's stables. Charged to Marine Hospital.

Oct. 31, 1878—Working three-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's house. Charged to Register's file-room.

Nov. 9, 1878—Working three-eighths of a day at Secretary Sherman's house. Charged to making drawing-boards for Supervising Architect's Office.

Nov. 18, 1878—Working five-eighths of a day on Secretary Sherman's house. Charged to making drawing-boards for Supervising Architect's Office.

Jan. 11, 1878—Working one-eighth of a day on Secretary Sherman's stable, repairing drain spout. Charged to National Bank Redemption Agency.

June 5, 1879—Making and fitting fly-screens for stable windows and doors. Charged to National Bank Redemption Agency.

June 6, 1879—Working four-eighths of a day, repairing doors for manure-pits for Secretary Sherman. Charged to Marine Hospital.

This W. Paul Brown also swore that he had done a great deal of which he kept no account, but for which he was similarly paid. His wages were $3 per day now.

I will follow this by a letter regarding the Superintendent of the cabinet-shop, Frank Hessler, who directed Brown to do the work, just particularized, on Sherman's house and stable:

April 19, 1881.—In the spring of 1879 I made an affidavit against Frank Hessler, the present Superintendent of the cabinet-shop, to the Secretary of the Treasury, and by him referred to the Chief Clerk for investigation, the charges being the taking of lumber belonging to the United States Government for his own private use at home without permission, and for using the time belonging to the Government for his own interest, and for having keys by which he would enter the hardware-room after the (then) Superintendent had left the building in the evening. Said affidavit had been read to the said Hessler in my presence, and that of the Superintendent of Buildings, which he acknowledged to be true. C. M. MILLER.

There was considerable testimony taken like that I have instanced, but you won't find any reference to it in the Meline report, and accompanying letters from Upton and Power. I think you now comprehend why such strenuous efforts were made to prevent the Senate from asking Mr. Windom to produce the testimony. The flood of lively comment, however, has caused Sherman's offering a resolution directing an investigation into the treasury contingent fund for a period of ten years past. He wanted it referred to the Committee on Finance. Good old, honest, precedent-hunting Senator Morrill is its Chairman. There never was anything more adroit. It is expected by this investigation to prevent another of broader scope. Even this narrow inquiry may be broken down under astute manipulation long before it reaches the hazy period. Mr. Sherman does not appear to advantage in all this. The resolution showing "how to investigate" deceives nobody.

Esthetic Stealings in the Navy Yard.

It is reported that petty abuses and stealings have been discovered at the navy yard here similar to the operations of Pitney with the contingent fund of the treasury. The story is that a magnificent set of furniture has been made in the cabinet shops at the navy yard, which was packed in boxes marked "private property," and forwarded to the home of one of the navy officials on Lake Champlain, at a cost to the Government of $800; that 200 small bronze propellers have been cast at the foundry out of Government material, and 200 small bronze anchors from the same material, all of which were made from the screw of the Farragut flagship Franklin. Seven fac similes of the cast of the bronze head of Lincoln were taken. These have been given to political friends. The total expense of such fancy work is reported to be $10,000.—Washington dispatch.

An Ex-Confederate on Army Reunions.

Judge M. R. Cullen, of St. Louis, recently addressed the following letter to the Globe-Democrat of that city:

The St. Louis Republican erroneously stated that I was present at the meeting of ex-Confederates who anticipated attending the reunion at Moberly, Mo. As your paper circulates largely among ex-Confederates, not only of this State, but of other States, will you permit me briefly to give some of the reasons which control me when I refuse to join in these "reunions?" I know I will not be misunderstood by my old comrades when I disagree with some of them as to the propriety of having these social gatherings. My feelings are as warm for them, personally, now as when years ago we were mutual aids in a common effort. These sectional distinctive reunions of the Union soldiers and the ex-Confederates, in my humble judgment, tend to revive not only the agreeable associations and memories of friends, but to revive the slumbering and expiring fires of the hearts of enemies. It seems to me the sooner we of both sides bury in oblivion the causes of the late war, the passions engendered by that strife, and the sorrowful wrongs or resplendent glories (if any there can be on either side) connected with our mutual misfortunes, the better it will be individually and collectively for every man, woman and child in the State and nation. In those nations where each party, the victor and conquered, meet separately to glorify themselves, the spirit of hostility is kept alive and transmitted from sire to son for many, many long years and generations, and in place of peace and prosperity, eternal hate is the national calamity. I believe these separate reunions on both sides, Union and ex-Confederate, will be the source of more heart-bickerings at least than any other scheme that can be devised by cunning politicians. I was a Confederate. I have no apology to make for my conduct. I am proud of the record of that people, but I am now a citizen of the American Union, and I will not do any act to keep alive sectional ill-feeling. I am satisfied we injure the cause of emigration to our State and the cause of our friends in the North when we assemble merely as the representatives of the Lost Cause. Both sides can appropriate the large amount of money expended in these feasts more profitably by providing for the widows and orphans of the glorious dead, and for the relief of those unfortunate survivors who need assistance and a helping hand.

I wish to see the day when the patriot's tear that drops on the grave of the Confederate will trickle to the bier of the Union soldier, and the patriotic sigh for the Union soldier will echo from the tomb of the Confederate.

Yours respectfully, M. R. CULLEN,
Formerly Colonel of Cavalry on Gen. Kirby Smith's Staff, C. S. Army.

Why He Ate Beans for Dinner.

They tell a good story about one Wymane, a diminutive drummer well known here and on the Comstock. He stopped one night at Deming, New Mexico, a favorite resort of the cowboys.

"Madame," said Abe to the landlady, "give me some dinner and be quick about it. I have not dined since yesterday."

The lady brought him some bean soup.

"Madame, take that soup away. I never eat soup. Bring on the roasts right away."

The lady brought him a large plate of pork and beans.

"Madame, take that away. I never eat those things."

In vain the lady explained that pork and beans was the best the house afforded. He was obdurate, and wanted roast beef, rare. A mild mannered, blue eyed cowboy at the table then chipped in: "Beggin' pardon, stranger, but you must excuse the lady. We—"

"Who are you, sir?" retorted the drummer. "I know my business."

"You don't tell me?" said the festive cowboy, drawing his navy. "Now, you eat them beans. I'm goin' to set here an' see you fed. Light into 'em quick, or I'll open you sure, and put em' in. This is bizness with me, an' I'm shoutin' in yer ear."

The unfortunate drummer saw blood in the air, and was forced to choke four plates of the unwelcome food down before the cowboy was satisfied with his apology to the landlady.—Reno Gazette.

AN Edinburgh professor has discovered that an animal struck by lightning or by an electric shock, under scientific direction, is rendered delightfully tender in a moment. Read this paragraph out at supper in presence of the assembled boarders. It may startle the landlady, cause her to invest in an electric battery, and change the hard and stony-hearted beefsteak from "a thing of duty and a chaw forever" into a soft and tender-hearted dream of Mary's little lamb.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

THE old Cunarder Persia, in its day the finest vessel afloat, took six tons of coal to carry a ton of freight across the Atlantic; the Arizona, a new steamer about double the size of the Persia, takes a fifth of a ton. Changes like this, as well as low land rates, are swamping British farmers with Western grain.

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.

Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

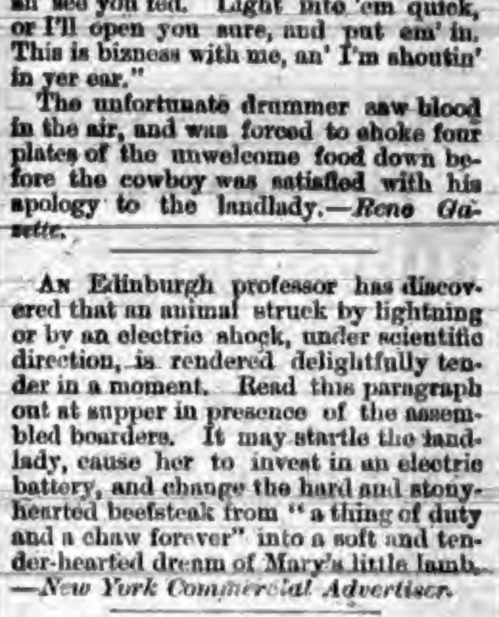
THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss. Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.



THE GREAT BURLINGTON ROUTE.

No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find travelling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

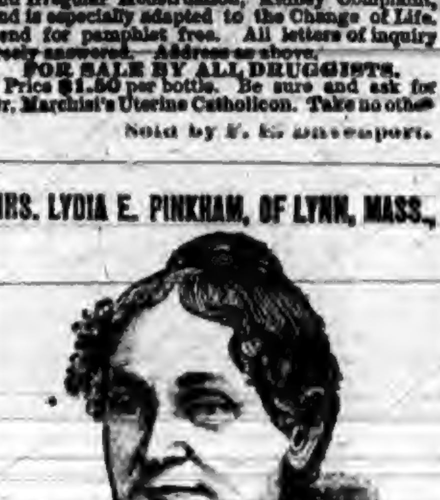
This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition.

Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhea, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.

Sold by F. E. Davenport.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,



Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

Sold by all Druggists.

AN UMBRELLA dealer says that he always "rings in" the most expensive umbrellas on the young folks who look as if they might be courting. A little observation might prove to courting couples that they were similarly treated by many other tradesmen.—Boston Globe.

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague Influences known to the world.

The only absolute cure for all Affections of the Kidneys. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE

But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

Its highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

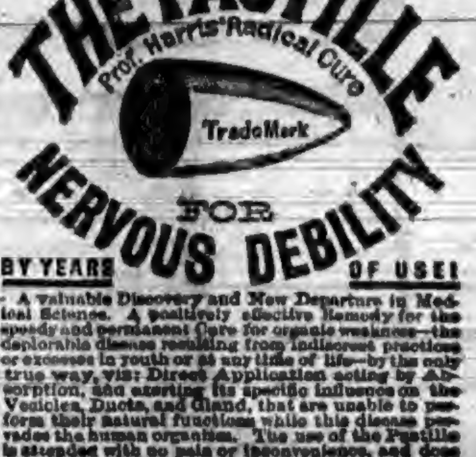
Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH

A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to

THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.



A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Gland, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS,
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons:

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had epilepsy from weakness, for 8 years past.

Iowa, Oct. 16th, '79.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 23, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

From a Physician and Surgeon.

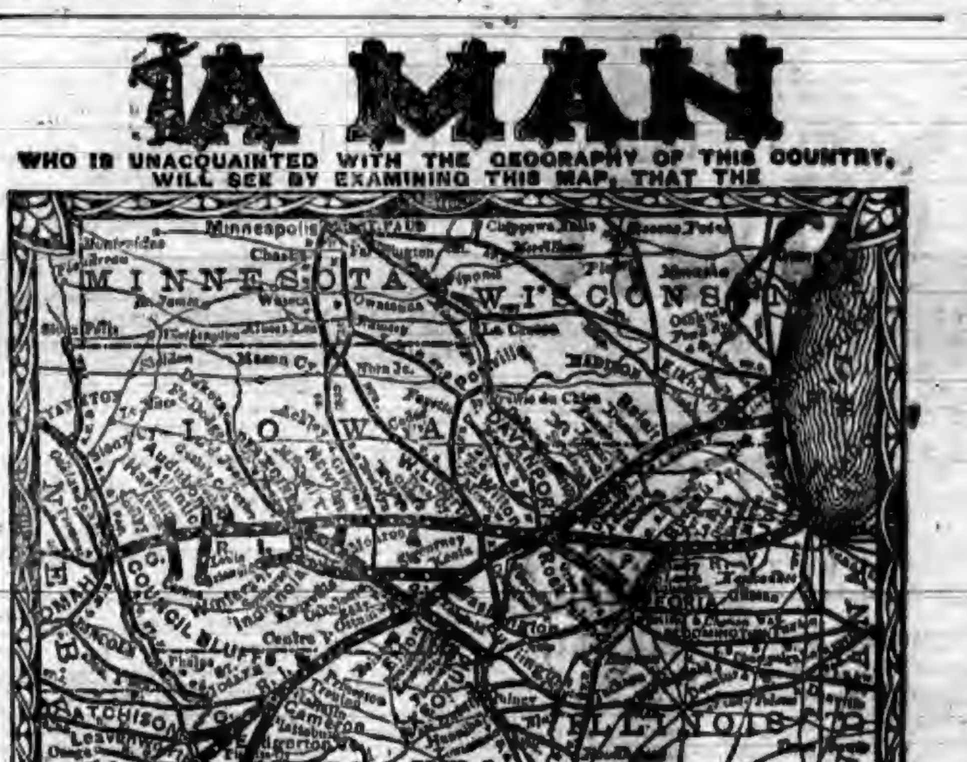
Missouri, June 21.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering and I think another will set him all right.

From a Druggist.

Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer as suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 3 box.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

At ENGLEWOOD, with the L. S. & M. S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.

At WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, with P., C. & St. L. R. R.

At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.

At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.

At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.

At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.

At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.

At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.

At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R. R.

At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)

At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C. B. and Q. R. Rds.

At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo. & N. W. R. Rds.

At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.

At ATCHISON, with Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.

At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.

At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

For information not obtainable at your home office, address,

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager,
E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent,
Chicago, Ill.

KIDNEY-WORT

DOES WONDERFUL CURES! WHY?

Because it acts on the LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS at the same time.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Disorders and Female Complaints.

SEE WHAT PEOPLE SAY:

Eugene B. Stork, of Junction City, Kansas, says, Kidney-Wort cured him after regular Physicians had been trying for four years.

Mrs. John Arnall, of Washington, Ohio, says her boy was given up to die by four prominent physicians and that he was afterwards cured by Kidney-Wort.

M. M. B. Goodwin, an editor in Chardon, Ohio, says he was not expected to live, being bloated beyond belief, but Kidney-Wort cured him.

Anna L. Jarrett of South Salem, N. Y., says that seven years suffering from kidney troubles and other complications was ended by the use of Kidney-Wort.

John B. Lawrence of Jackson, Tenn., suffered for years from liver and kidney troubles and after taking "barrels of other medicines," Kidney-Wort made him well.

Michael Coté of Montgomery Center, Vt., suffered eight years with kidney difficulty and was unable to work. Kidney-Wort made him "well as ever."

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

☞ It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form in tin cans, one package of which makes six quarts of medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for those that cannot readily prepare it.

☞ It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

GET IT AT THE DRUGGISTS. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,

(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

HOP BITTERS NEVER FAIL

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.

If you are a man of letters toiling over midnight work, to restore brain nerve and waste, use Hop B.

If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languishing on a bed of sickness, rely on Hop Bitters.

Whoever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning, or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

Thousands die annually from some form of Kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of Hop Bitters.

Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters.

If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco, or narcotics.

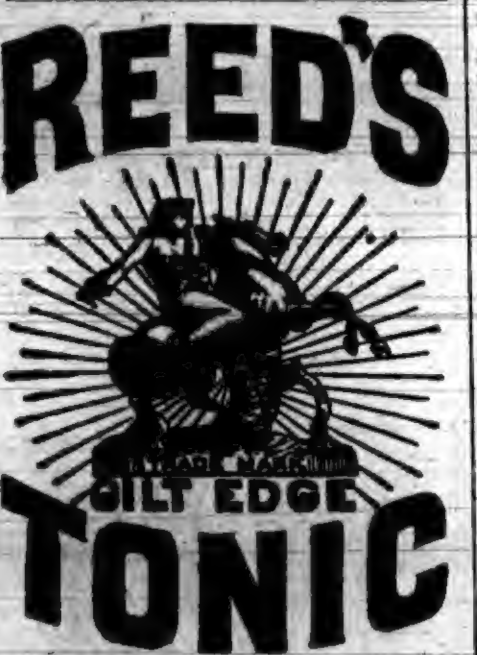
Sold by druggists. Send for Circular.

HOP BITTERS MFG CO., Rochester, N. Y. & Toronto, Ont.

DO Send for our New Illustrated Price-List No. 30, for Fall and Winter of 1881. Free to any address. Contains full description of all kinds of goods for personal and family use. We deal directly with the consumer, and sell all goods in any quantity at wholesale prices. You can buy better and cheaper than at home.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

227 and 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.



CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

CHEAP LANDS on long credit and easy terms, in a mild climate, free from heavy snows, blighting frosts, and excessive rains. MILLIONS OF ACRES for sale in the GOLDEN BELT of Kansas, by the UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY,

of as rich Soil as the sun ever shone on, with good markets east and west. For Descriptive and Illustrated Book, with Maps, Sent Free, Address

LAND COMMISSIONER,—Kansas Division, KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI.

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY TIMES

has for more than forty years maintained its position as the leading paper of the West. It ranks above all others in circulation, influence, and in the esteem of its readers, because it is just the kind of paper the people want. The Weekly Times covers the whole ground of a first class family journal. It is larger and better than any high-priced weekly offered the public; its reading matter covers a greater scope, is more entertaining and instructive, and yet it costs

BUT ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

Our agents everywhere say it is the easiest paper in the field to canvass for, and readers of one year are so pleased that they are sure to renew their subscriptions. Eight pages—Fifty-six columns for one dollar a year, and the most liberal terms to club agents.

Specimen copies free. Send for one before subscribing for any paper. Address Weekly Times, 230 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, O.

THE DAILY TIMES-STAR,

Eight pages, forty-eight columns. Only six dollars a year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months. Has the largest circulation of any paper in Cincinnati. Is the best advertising medium and the best paper for readers who would know of the world's doings as promptly as the news can be imparted. Address Times-Star, Cincinnati, O.

Monos Lake, California.

The density of the water is remarkable, being just the reverse of that of Lake Tahoe, in which the body of a drowned person never returns to the surface. A paper says that for bitterness and promiscuous meanness the waters of Mono lake surpass those of the Dead Sea. They contain so much alkali that in a windy day the lake is a regular tub of soap-suds. The writer has seen a wall of lather five feet high along the whole of that shore against which the waves were beating. Occasionally the wind would take up a bunch of lather as big as a bushel basket and carry it several hundred feet inland. So buoyant are the waters of the lake that quite a party of men may navigate them on a raft made of four or five dry cottonwood poles. Out in the lake are islands of rock (lava-like concretions,) through which streams of water boil up. The water of these springs is like that of the lake, but in one place is a large spring of fresh water. This is near the northwest corner of the lake, and at a point where there is a depth of eight or ten feet of water. It is a sort of a fountain. A column of fresh water, some three feet in diameter, is projected upward with such force that it raises to the height of at least two feet above the level of the lake in the form of a mound or knoll, and makes a rippling noise that can be heard a considerable distance. But for the fact that this fountain has a depth of eight or ten feet of water to contend against, it would probably rise to a considerable height in the air.

"Don't Hurt Aggie."

An exceedingly ludicrous incident, not to be found in the accepted Shakespearean text of "Richard III," took place last evening at the Brush street theatre during the performance of the above tragedy. The play had reached the end of the second act without interruption, but during the following act and just at a climax the even tenor of the performance was for the time being seriously disturbed. Mrs. Hayden, wife of the manager of the Keene troupe, sat in the left hand stage box with the tragedian's son, a little boy of some nine years of age, who was leaning against the rail looking about the audience, and giving an occasional glance at the people on the stage. Gloster (Keene) was disclosing the cooling of his former passion to Lady Anne, a character assumed by Miss Agnes Keene, daughter of the tragedian, and in following out the business of the character rudely seizes Lady Anne by the arm and violently pulls her across the stage. Attracted by the loud tone of voice in which his father was declaiming young Keene bestrode the rail, and seeing his sister handled in that manner, cried out, "Oh, papa, don't hurt Aggie!" The house was convulsed in laughter, and father and daughter in vain attempted to smother a laugh, and as the young disturber had been squelched in the bottom of the box, he received a round of applause that might have been envied by a more pretentious comedian.—[San Francisco Call.

EASILY PROVEN. It is easily proven that malarial fevers, constipation, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, general debility, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to this great disease conqueror, Hop Bitters. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and the infirm always.

PANA, ILL., Dec. 28, 1880.—We have tried your Ague Tonic and found it good—hard to beat. J. H. YARNELL. 3

PANA, ILL., Jan. 25, 1881.—I have used your Kress Fever Tonic, and found it much easier to cure the chills with it than for me to solve your rebus. S. D. ABBOTT. 37-3w.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp.

FOR SALE.—Small drug store, located at Fairfield Center, Indiana. Furniture all new and attractive. Good location, and good investment to any one who means business. For particulars enquire of BOUGHMAN & RUDOLPH,
36 2mo. Fairfield Center Ind.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 48-tf.

OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION IN LANDRETH'S
SEEDS
SEND FOR CATALOGUE
SENT BY MAIL
TO
DAVID LANDRETH & SONS. PHILA.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc. The Recipe used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 436 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum. For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Baugnot's store.

P. V. HOFFMAN.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street, over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, will give prompt attention to collections. Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEARING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES,

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 28 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good Sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana.

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

1881. 1881.

THE INDIANA WEEKLY SENTINEL!

Has been enlarged and improved until it is now the LARGEST and the VERY BEST paper published in the west.

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL is in all regards a superior eight page 56 column paper.

The merits of the Sentinel as a general newspaper are so well known, that commendation of it is deemed superfluous. We will add, however, that the management has arranged and fully determined that no paper shall furnish so great a practical value to its patrons for the money.

In its news, its editorials, its literary and miscellany—in a word, in its general reading—it shall not be surpassed by any paper circulated in the state. It will be particularly adapted to the family circle. No reading, thinking man in the state can afford to do without the Weekly Sentinel at the small cost at which it is furnished.

THE SENTINEL will continue to be the same earnest advocate of true American democracy in the future that it has been in the past; indeed, it proposes to battle more vigorously than ever against the party of centralization and corruption. Vast monopolies own and control the republican party, and in the future, as in the past, it cannot do otherwise than foster class legislation, thereby trampling upon the interests of the producing masses.

The motto of the Sentinel is: "Hold fast to the democratic faith and battle on," and as certainly as God reigns victory will ultimately be with the people.

The republican party cannot survive its crimes. Its monumental iniquities cast their shadows athwart the land. Just men of all political opinions are horrified at its colossal crimes. Its ambition is for plunder and imperial power. Its downward progress, from the days when Grant's thieves organized the whisky ring to raise a corruption fund, to Guiteau's tragedy, has been marked by infamy at every step. From the days when John Sherman entered federal officers for perjuries to seat Hay be crimes have followed each other in rapid succession. The flood-tide of star route thieves, treasury thieves, navy department thieves, war department thieves and signal service thieves, and Indiana has had Dorsey, the notorious star route thief and secretary of the republican national committee, in the state, organizing crimes to carry the state against the will of the people. The Sentinel will invite the people of Indiana to contemplate these republican methods to obtain and maintain power. It will keep its readers informed with regard to republican fights for spoils, the mutual denunciations of its factions, their criminations and recriminations, their mutual hates which culminated in the assassination of the president, thereby capping the climax of horrors and completing the work of infamy.

With this record of crime, the republican party asks for a new lease of power, and it will be the high ambition of the Sentinel to defeat its purposes and emancipate the country from its debauching grasp.

THE SENTINEL, in addition to its superiority, is, moreover, an Indiana paper, devoted to, and specially represents Indiana's interests, political and otherwise, as no foreign paper will or can do, and ought, therefore, to have preference over the papers of other states, and we ask democrats to bear this in mind, and select YOUR OWN STATE PAPER when you come to take subscriptions and make up clubs.

TERMS:

WEEKLY,

Single Copy, without Premium	$1.00
Clubs of 11 for	10.00
Clubs of 23	20.00
Clubs of 30	25.00

DAILY.

1 Copy One Year	$10.00
1 Copy Six Months	5.00
1 Copy Three Months	2.50
1 Copy One Month	.85
Sunday Sentinel by Mail	2.00

Agents making up clubs, send for any information desired. Specimen copies free.

Address,

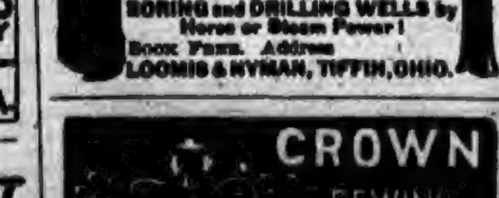
INDIANAPOLIS SENTINEL CO

Indianapolis, Ind.

WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the BEST MACHINERY in the WORLD for BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power!

Book Free. Address LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.



It is the result of 30 years' experience and experiments in Sewing Machines. It combines the good points of all present and former makes, and is not a "one man" or "one idea" machine, as others are. It avoids the defects of others, and possesses new and valuable features and conveniences. It is large, light-running, noiseless, handsome, convenient, durable, and simple. Warranted and kept in repair free for 5 years. Circulars with full description sent free on request. A trial will prove it. Don't fail to see it before you buy. MANUFACTURED BY FLORENCE MACHINE CO., Florence, Mass.; WHOLESALED BY GEO. P. BENT, 81 and 83 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers. He has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements, can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 6 to 8 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. 51tf

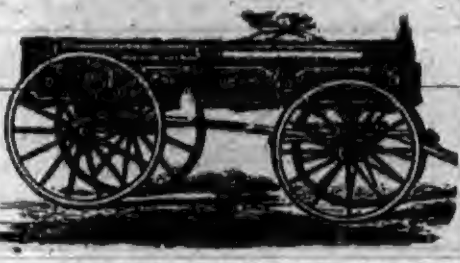
W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.,

Manufacturers of the

Best and Lightest-Running

Wagon



NOW IN THE MARKET

Nothing but first-class material is used, and consequently the work is warranted. Repairing of all kinds done promptly. Shop on South Main street, Auburn, Ind. 21 tf

CLOCKS.

WHEELERY
WALTHAM, MASS.

GOLD AND SILVER
WATCHES.

RODGERS & BROTHER'S

Plated Ware

SPOONS,
KNIVES,
AND FORKS,
RINGS,
VEST CHAINS,
CASTORS,

Necklaces, Ladies Gold Chains, and every thing in the jewelry line.

VIOLINS,
GUITARS,
ACCORDEONS.

Special attention given to repairing fine watches.

Work Warranted.

No charge for marking silverware sold at my store.

JOE ABRIGHT.

Second door north of postoffice, Auburn Indiana.

IMPROVE THE HOUR.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncaitis, Asthma, Coughs and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

39 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburh, Pa.

A. Macready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists.

DRUNKENNESS! OVER 2 000 Cases Cured in 12 months with the Double Chloride of Gold Remedy

PRICE $9.00.

Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., Surgeon of the C & A. railroad, Dwight, Ill. Send for 48-page book; also my new essay on the OPIUM HABIT.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co., Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address, True and Co. Augusta, Maine. [No. 7.-1y

Ft. Wayne & Jackson Railroad

SHORT LINE

For all points South, Southeast and Southwest including Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis Kansas, Texas and all points west.

SHORT LINE from all points in central and northern Michigan and Canada.

Time Card takes effect May 16, 1881.

SOUTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom.
Leave Bay City	3 10pm	6 30am	....
Saginaw	5 55	7 15	....
Lansing	8 37	10 10	....
Grand Rapids	10 20	5 40	11 55am
Detroit	9 50	7 00	4 05pm
Ann Arbor	11 17	8 30	5 22
Jackson	5 40am	12 00 m	6 40pm
Hanover	6 25	12 35pm	7 38
Jonesville	6 50	12 58	8 28
Bankers	7 05	1 13	8 56
Reading	7 18	1 29	9 20
Montgomy	7 27	1 43	9 45
Fremont	7 42	2 03	10 13
Angola	7 58	2 20	10 40
Pleasant Lake	8 07	2 30	10 55
Waterloo	8 30	2 52	11 30
Auburn	8 52	3 00	11 47
Auburn Junction	9 00	3 25	12 10am
Arrive Ft. Wayne	10 20	4 20	1 40
Indianapolis	6 00pm	10 50	....
Cincinnati	8 45	1 45	1 45pm
Louisville	10 10	7 15am	....
St Louis	....	8 50	8 00pm
Washingt	....	9 35	9 02am
Baltimore	....	10 50	7 40am

NORTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom.
Leave Baltimore	9 00am	12 15pm	1 15am
Washington	10 00	10 47am	2 2
Louisville	6 00	1 35pm	....
Cincinnati	9 00	7 50am	2 25pm
Indianapolis	4 10am	11 00	....
Ft Wayne	11 30am	5 00pm	2 00am
Arrive Aub	12 40pm	6 00	3 50
Auburn	12 5	6 03	3 55
Waterloo	11 00	6 15	4 25
Pleasant Lake	1 18	6 38	5 02
Angola	1 30	7 08	5 20
Fremont	1 46	7 20	5 48
Montgomery	2 03	7 47	6 20
Reading	2 15	8 00	7 05
Bankers	2 27	8 13	6 45
Jonesville	2 42	8 28	7 35
Hanover	3 07	8 53	8 28
Jackson	3 40pm	9 25pm	9 25pm
Ann Arbor	5 07	....	10 34
Detroit	6 30	7 50	11 50
Grand Rapids	10 30	20am	4 30pm
Lansing	5 45	30	....
Saginaw	9 00	25	....
Bay City	10 00	12 25pm	....

Accommodation going north daily. All other trains daily except Sunday.

CONNECTIONS.

JACKSON.—M. C.: east—12 48, 5 00, 7 18, 9 30 a. m., 3 45, 4 05, 9 37 p. m.; west—12 40, 3 50, 10 20 a. m., 12 13, 6 50, 11 30 p. m. M. C. A. L. west—8 40 a. m., 6 50 p. m. J. L. & S, 7 00 a. m., 4 15 p. m. G. R. V. 1 10, 8 35 a. m., 12 20, 6 50 p. m.

JONESVILLE.—L. S. & M. S., east 5 52 a. m. 2 38 p. m.; west 9 40 a. m., 12 58, 10 50 p. m.

BANKERS.—D. H. & S. W., east, leave, 7 10 a. m., 2 30 p. m.; arrive at Bankers, 1 10, 10 p. m.

WATERLOO.—L. S. & M. S. east, 2 50, 11 25 p. m.; west 2 15 a. m., 1 50 p. m.

AUBURN JUNCTION.—B. & O. east, 3 48 a. m., 3 25, 10 22 p. m.; west, 1 36 a. m., 12 30 p. m. E. R. east, 12 52 a. m. 12 30 p. m.; west, 7 05 a. m. 3 25 p. m.

FT. WAYNE.—Ft. Wayne, M. & C. leave 10 20 a. m., 5 20 p. m.; arrive 9 40 a. m, 4 10 p. m. W., St. L. & P. east, 5 00, 7 30 a. m., 2 10, 4 p. m., west, 5 15, 10 40 a. m. 4 40 6 55 p. m. G. R. & I. W. leave 8 15 a. m., 2 00 p. m.; ar. 2 00, 7 15 p. m. P., Ft. W. & C. east, 6 35 a. m., 2 15, 3 40, 8 15, 11 55 p. m.; west 2 20, 5 15, a. m., 12 55, 3 40, 11 48 p. m.

Arrival and departure of trains shown above is by Chicago time, same as Ft. W. & J. road.

Through tickets to all principal points. For information as to routes and connections apply to

M. D. WOODFORD Gen'l Supt
H. BROMLEY Gen'l Fr. & Pass'r. Agen

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipments! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect May 15, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	N.Y. Ex.	At. Ex	Way F't	WayF't
Chicago	9 20am	5 35pm
Elkhart	1 20pm	10 10	1 00am	7 00am
Kendallville	2 46	11 30	5 25	12 10pm
Corunna	2 58		6 35
Sedan			7 05	2 00
Waterloo	3 10	11 55	7 30	2 40
Butler	3 24	12 10am	8 20	3 40
Toledo	5 40	2 45	7 35pm

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi Ex.	Pac. Ex.	Way F't	WayF't
Toledo	11 05am	12 01am	5 30am
Butler	1 35pm	2 20	4 05pm	8 10am
Waterloo	1 50	2 35	4 50	9 30
Sedan			5 05	10 00
Corunna	2 15		5 15	10 05
Kendallville	2 20	3 00	5 35	11 25
Elkhart	3 40	4 20	9 25	4 20
Chicago	8 00	7 2

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given, trains do not stop. Accommodation Freight leaves Butler at 5 o'clock a. m. and arrives at Toledo at 10:25 a. m. Accommodation Freight leaves Toledo at 5:05 p. m., and arrives at Butler at 10:42 p. m. Close connections at Chicago. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage. J. E. CURTIS,
Supt. Mich. Div., Toledo, O.

For tickets to all points east—first-class, second class, emigrant and round-trip tickets to Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and California, rates of freight and information—apply to H. D. ARMSTRONG,
Agent, Waterloo, Ind.

Baltimore & Ohio R. R

—o—

CHICAGO DIVISION.

—o—

IN EFFECT FROM MAY 22, 1881

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	No. 1 Fast.	No. 5 Mail	Mail.
Chicago lv	10pm		8 30am
Walkerton Junction			12 05pm
Milford Junction			1 20
Syracuse			1 36
Cromwell			1 55
Albion			2 22
Avilla			2 55
Garrett	10 35	4 00am	3 35
Auburn Junction	10 42	4 08	3 45
St. Joe	4 30		4 05
Hicksville	4 45	4 45	4 20
Defiance	11 50	5 30	5 06
Deshler	12 58am	6 25	6 02
Fostoria	1 40	7 24	7 04
Tiffin	2 03	7 57	7 31
Chicago Junction ar.	3 00	9 20	8 50

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	No. 6 Fast.	No 2 Ex.	No. 10 Mail.
Chicago Junction lv	9 20am	5 45pm	8 00am
Tiffin	10 18	7 00	9 10
Fostoria	10 47	7 38	9 38
Deshler	11 18	8 58	10 30
Defiance	12 38am	10 20	11 32
Hicksville		11 18	12 15pm
St. Joe		11 34	12 30
Auburn Junction	56	11 56	12 50
Garrett	2 15	8 15am	1 20
Avilla			1 50
Albion			2 23
Cromwell			2 50
Syracuse			3 14
Milford Junction			3 26
Walkerton Junction			4 54
Chicago ar.	7 50	7 50	6 20

S. Spencer, Superintendent Trains, Ohio Division, Chicago, Ill.
J. J. Martin, Agent, Auburn Junction.

Fort Wayne, Muncie & Cincinnati and White Water Valley Railroads.

In effect February 27, 1881.

SOUTHWARD.		STATIONS.	NORTHWARD
No. 1 M	No. 3 Ex		No. 2 M	No. 4 Ex
a m	p m		p m	a m
10 40	6 40	Lv. Fort Wayne. Ar	6 45	10 00
11 58	6 57	Bluffton	3 30	8 45
p m
12 50	8 05	Hartford	2 25	7 8
1 45	9 00	Muncie	1 48	6 8
p m	p m		a m	p m
7 15	..	Cincinnati	5 40	.....
6 05	10 55	Indianapolis	11 20	4 30

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run on Columbus time.

W. W. WORTHINGTON, Gen. Supt.
GEO. B. CAMPBELL, General Ticket Agt.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway.

Condensed time card in effect Sept. 1, 1881.

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex	Fa't L'e	Pac Ex	Mail
Pittsburgh	9 15am	12 05am	1 50pm	7 30
Mansfield	5 40pm	6 56	9 20	.....
Crestline Lv.	6 35	7 50	9 45	1 45am
Ft Wayne	12 05am	1 15pm	2 40am	5 35
Chicago Ar.	6 20	7 20	8 20	10 00

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	No 3 Fast Ex	No. 5 Pac. Ex	No. 4 Nt. Ex.	No. 8 Mail
Chicago Lv.	8 50am	5 15pm	5 30pm	10 00pm
Ft Wayne	2 35pm	8 25	12 15am	6 55am
Crestline	7 10	12 35am	5 30	11 45am
Mansfield	8 03	1 10	7 20	12 35pm
Pittsburgh Ar.	2 15am	7 20	3 15pm	7 30

Trains Nos. 3, 6, 5 and 4 run daily. Train No 1 leaves Pittsburgh daily except Saturday. Train No 3 leaves Chicago daily except Saturday. All others daily except Sunday.

E. A. FORD General Ticket Ag't.
D. W. CALDWELL, General Manager.

TAKE A RIDE

—OVER THE—

WABASH
ST. LOUIS
AND PACIFIC
RY.

—AND YOU—

WILL DISCOVER

Why it is termed the Popular

PASSENGER LINE OF AMERICA!

2,500 MILES OF ROAD reaching in the most direct manner all of the

Great Cities of the West

Running the Finest Passenger Equipment and the most extended Through-Car System on the continent.

THROUGH TICKETS

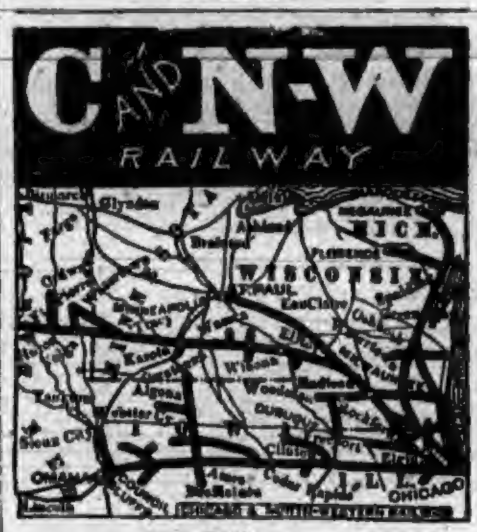
TO ALL POINTS

East, West, Northwest or Southwest

And Baggage Checked from starting point to destination.

For Maps, Time-Tables, or any information, call on or address LOUIS JOHNSON, agent, Auburn, Ind., or FRED. CLARK, Auburn Junction.

J. C. GAULT, H. C. TOWNSEND,
Gen. Manager, Gen. Passenger Agent,
St. Louis.



—THE—

Chicago & Northwestern Railway

Is the oldest, Best Constructed, Best Equipped and hence the Leading Railway

—OF THE—

WEST AND NORTHWEST.

It is the short and best route between Chicago and all points in Northern Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, California, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and to

Council Bluffs, Omaha,
Denver, Leadville,
Salt Lake, San Francisco,
Deadwood, Sioux City,

Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Columbus, and all points in the territories, and the west. Also for Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Marquette, Fond du Lac, Watertown, Houghton, Neenah, Menasha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Huron, Volga, Fargo, Bismarc, Winona, LaCrosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Northwest.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern and the U. P. Railways depart from, arrive at and use the same joint Union depot.

At Chicago close connections are made with the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ft. Wayne and Pennsylvania, and Chicago and Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

Close connections at Junction points.

It is the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

Between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

Pullman Sleepers on all night trains.

Insist upon ticket agents selling you tickets via this road. Examine your tickets and refuse to buy if they do not read over the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

If you wish the best traveling accommodations you will buy your tickets by this route ☞ AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER.

All ticket agents sell tickets by this line.

Marvin Hughitt, 2d V. P. & Gen'l Manager Chicago.

Recorders Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 11. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, DECEMBER 1, 1881. Number 48.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—The Plymouth Democrat talks thusly on the tariff question: "Most of our exchanges are engaged in discussing the tariff question. This is as it should be. It is a vital question that seems to be more imperfectly understood by the masses of the people than any other question of national importance that has ever come up for discussion. Editors and statesmen talk learnedly about it, but very few of them seem to know much about it. It is much like the financial question, its ramifications are so many that the ordinary mind becomes bewildered before a solution is arrived at. There are certain general principles underlying the question that almost any one can readily understand, but it is the fewest number that are competent to elucidate it thoroughly throughout. We agree with Mr. Hendricks that it should not be made a political issue, but that it should be submitted to a commission representing the various commercial interests of the country for adjustment."

—The Ft. Wayne News of last week, gives this item of news: This morning Sheriff A. S. Leas, of DeKalb county, arrived in this city from Auburn, and laid before Chief of Police, Smith, the facts of a recent robbery in his county, adding his belief that James McAllister, the thief, was in Fort Wayne. By dint of diligence and sagacity the chief found the man working on the Langour contract in graveling West Berry street. He was taken back to Auburn by Sheriff Leas. McAllister is charged with the theft of $86 and a watch from Cornelia Hay and the theft of a watch and suit of clothes from another person. He had been in the city but a short time, and was known to so few that the quickness of his capture is very creditable to the officer.

—Steuben County Journal says: On almost every fence along the roads may be seen different kinds of advertisements. Those already there are likely to remain until time wears them away. But not many will be printed on fences in the future, or on trees, or barns or other buildings. The late session acts make it unlawful to paint, paste or stencil upon trees, fences etc., any word, letter, sentence or figure, without the consent of the owner thereof. To do this is a public offense, and subjects the offender to a fine of fifty dollars. The act, however, makes an exception of such notices as a sheriff, executor, administrator, guardian or licensed auctioneer may be required by law to post.

—Notwithstanding the cold, chilly winds of December, the lightning rod "dead beat" is up to his little tricks as usual. The papers have notified the farmers so often to steer shy of these traveling humbugs, and it is strange to us that nearly every week they are left to the tune of a large amount. In Elkhart county, one farmer who had sold his hogs for $7.00 per hundred, and signed a contract to deliver a certain number on a specified day was presented, in a few days, with a contract for four hundred dollars worth of work in the lightning rod line. It is well to be on guard.

—The Sentinel at Easton says that some little magazine, known as Rutledge's Monthly, recently published at Portland, Pa., is hearafter to be issued from Easton, the Rutledge publishing company having located here. Mr. T. J. Meads, recently publisher of the Portland Enterprise, and well known throughout the county, has the management of the monthly in hand, and we trust he will meet with the success that his skill and ability should be able to command.

—James Crummy, living for a number of years at Corunna, is dead. Many of the b'hoys will remember Jim, and many of them are leading the way every day, which caused his death. Mr. C. has been a hard drinker for a number of years, but at last the wine cup has got the better of him, and he has gone to "that other shore." Peace to his ashes.

—It is always very annoying to a congregation to have a person hacking and coughing during services. One dose of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup relieves the worst cases. Sold by all druggists.

Dodgers.

—December "once."

—The boys are all taking to fur caps.

—There was more turkey than thanks last Thursday.

—Train up a child in the way you should have gone yourself.

—The hub and spoke factory will resume work again next week.

—Commodore Latson wears a plug hat. It is very "overcoming" indeed.

—Our farmers can make money by dealing in the wood trade this winter.

—When a doctor loses his patient it does not follow that he is out of temper.

—Now the rabbit has got to "get up and git" or the frisky hound will devour it.

—Next week ends this term of school. The winter term begins the week following.

—Go and hear the Slayton concert troupe to-night. They are said to be immense.

—A Kentucky company insures whisky, but declines to take fire risks on the customers.

—The Davis reception is an amusement feature to-night. There will be no presents given.

—We have a barber who can pull his coat and shave wagon spokes, when the country demands it.

—Charley Emanuel carries a cane. They are a great help to a man as he grows old and feeble.

—The roads were too rough for the farmer last Saturday, and in consequence trade was dull.

—Was the day ever cold enough, or did the rain ever fall fast enough to keep women off the streets?

—President Garfield's photographs are said to have a greater sale than those of any other American.

—Isaac Ochs' dry goods sign, although very frail appearing, stands the winter storms remarkably well.

—We would advise our people to put all their surplus cash into wood—for the omens bode a severe winter.

—"Now is the winter of our discontent," said a couple of tramps as they arose from a bed of shavings this morning.

—Sim. Tarney has lost a calf and a hog. That's nothing. Lots of people have lost a hog and calf, too, through Sim.

—The Slayton concert troupe gave an entertainment to a good house at Angola last night. They are highly spoken of.

—Thanksgiving was generally observed at this place; all the business houses were "closed" the greater portion of the day.

—What is home without an accomplished piano-banger? A wild, weird, unhealthy, quiet place, where a man can rest in comfort.

—There is something a little "off" in the piety of the man who never gets to church until the contribution box has gone its empty rounds.

—We have been changing our foreign mail list, and if any should not get their paper as heretofore, we wish them to notify us by mail.

—A Baltimore man remained in a trance three days recently, and they finally had to yell, "dog fight" under his window to rouse him to life.

—Almanacs for the coming year contain specifics for every imaginable ill that flesh is heir to. They also contain the usual amount of poetry, wit, etc.

—For three long months we have not seen the form of Geo. Foster on our streets, until Monday last. He looks like a thoroughbred tiller of the soil.

—In Italy they license hand-organs which are in tune. A discordant note is not permitted. Hand-organs which can't get a license are shipped to this country.

—There is no truth that our young men have to learn more important than this: "To admire that which is right is one thing, but to do what is right is another."

—The temperate drinker is much less a nuisance than the smoker or chewer—but there is now and then a man who lets his cigar go out while he is abusing alcohol.

—Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets. 48-2w.

Scare at Corunna.

The citizens at Corunna are again excited over the safty of their school building. Several years ago the rumor was afloat that the structure was not safe, and it was braced by running iron bars from the east to the west sides. We see by the late Head Light that fears are now entertained of it falling. We publish the following from that paper. "A rumor was current on the streets yesterday, that our school house is in a dangerous condition, and that the building is likely to tumble down at any time A committee of citizens examined the walls, but are at variance as to opinion respecting the security of the structure. For several years the walls of the building have been gradually giving away, and lately further evidences of a collapse have been discovered. If this is the case, it should be condemned and abandoned at once as unfit for occupancy. There are too many precious little lives housed therein from day to day to take any chances for security of limb and life in a building that has given timely warning of an impending crash. It is said that it is apparently as safe as it was four years ago, when an examination was made. This may be the case, but have we any assurance that it will not go down at any moment?"

—"When is the best time to travel?" asked a young man of the Boston Post. "When you see the old man and his bull dog coming around the corner," was the reply.

—Mark Twain, lecturing on the Fiji Islands, offered to show how the cannibals ate their food if any lady would lend him a baby. The lecture had to go on unillustrated.

—The whole Republican force went hunting again on Thanksgiving. Any squirrel that was fool enough to come out of its hole such a day as last Thursday, ought to be shot.

—Don't trifle with a severe cough or cold. Procure in time, if you wish to save doctor bills, a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup. Price only twenty-five cents; large size fifty cents. Sold by all druggists.

—There has been a lady in town selling corsets. Corsets, we believe, according to the best medical reference, are the first attempt at suicide by the young girl. But they sell well.

—Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, etc., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house. 48-2w.

—Some Presbyterian writer says: "Handkerchief flirtations are very simple, but it requires just four things to make them a success: Two handkerchiefs and two fools." Any kind of handkerchiefs will do. And we suppose almost any kind of fool will answer, after having a little instruction.

—Tom Scott has purchased a dog. It's a rattarrier dog, and we'll be dog-goned if it ain't the prettiest little "yeller" dog we ever saw. It looks like a dog that never paid taxes, and if its master don't put a dog-collar on him before next April, he'll be barred out of the canine society entirely.

—A lady whose love for flowers and whose success in cultivating them is far in advance of her own culture, was heard by a passer by to call to one of her family the other day: "Mary, go and show her my bed of double spittoonias, that grow doubler and doubler every day." Then she added: "And when my salivas is bloomed, you must be sure to come around to see them."

—The following account of a most remarkable exploit performed at the Atlanta Cotton Exposition, shows some of the mechanical advancements of the day: "This morning at day-break a lot of cotton was picked from a field near the exposition. The Williamatic Company run it through their picker and gin, spun it, wove it, dyed it, got the Wheeler & Wilson company to cut it, and make two spade-tailed suits, and before 6 o'clock in the evening, that cotton, which was in the field in the morning, was on the backs of the governor of Georgia and Connecticut, and they both looked as stylish in their new cotton suits as any of the other governors in broadcloth. These coats were lined, coat, pants and vest with silk.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 48-tf.

"Charity Folks."

Have our christian ladies or our good old deacons given the poor people of our town, a single thought, while they hang upon the eve of a long, cold winter. We are afraid not. Have they called in to see whether the little ones have food or raimant. Many a little urchin, just as cute to the eye of its mother, and just as dear to her heart, is crying for bread today, while our "good, pious" citizens are setting at the table in a warm refectory enjoying an oyster stew. When at a public gathering they are very "prominent," and cry, "charity, charity at home." They should not allow their self pride and dignity to make a tool of them. Down with your hypocracy, and call upon the poor, unfortunate neighbor. Take some clothing with you and fill a basket with vituals—gladden the hearts of these unfortunate creatures, and when you retire for the night, you can say the Lord's prayer with a clear conscience "Who are they, and where are they?" Mrs. Martin, living on Van Buren street, in Ashley's addition, has been confined to her bed for twelve weeks, and we feel safe in saying she has not been favored with a "christian call" during this period. Mrs Penney, living in the south end, needs the assistant of "God's people" at times, but receives very little from their hands. We could name a number of others, but our citizens are acquainted with them, and know their situation just as well as we do. We hope some will make a move toward helping these poor souls.

"My Back Aches So,

and I feel miserable," said a hard-working man. The doctor questioned him and found that he had been habitually costive for years, that now his kidneys were disordered and his whole system deranged. Kidney-Wort was recommended and faithfully taken and in a short time every trouble was removed. The cleansing and tonic power of this medicine on the bowels and kidneys is wonderful.—[Congregationalist.

—Our exchanges around us report numerous burglaries, both in stores and stores and private houses. Our people should be prepared. Have a good charge in the old musket, and give it to 'em in the small of the back on sight.

—What on earth is more sweet and touching than the simple faith of those people who expect to come into possession of great fortunes that belonged to their ancestors? A Madison, Ind., family brings suit for a $14,000,000 estate in Pennsylvania, and they will get it—if they wait long enough.

—Wood haulers come in town early in the morning, asking $1.50 and $1.75 for a load of wood. They will hold out all day for the high and exhorbitant prices, but finally at night take one dollar. This is foolish. They should sell their wood at reasonable prices. Quick sales and small profits will always win.

—The German proverb, "If I rest I rust," applies to many things besides the key. If water rests, it stagnates. If the tree rests, it dies—for its winter state is only a sleep. If the eye rests, it grows dim and blind. If a man's arm rests, it weakens. If the lungs rest, we cease to breathe. If the heart rests, we die. What is true living but loving? And what is loving but growth in the likeness of God?

—Talk about fish stories. We read the following from the South Bend Register: "Russell White, a fisherman, of Deal Beach, N. J., put out a large gill-net in front of the life-saving station. The net sank to a depth of forty feet in seventy feet of water, beneath which was a mussel-feeding bed. When he raised the net 253 wild ducks were found entangled in it."

—People are much alike the world over. A Wisconsin statute sets a price on wolf-scalps, and some of the natives in the backwoods have gone into the business of raising wolves for their scalps. And in Barbadoes so much injury has been done by rats that a bounty of two cents is offered for every rat-tail brought in. The rat-tail industry is enormous, and it has just been discovered that rats are bred for the purpose of obtaining the bounty.

—The Ligonier Banner says a new and dangerous attempt at manufacturing counterfeit money has come to light. The large old-fashioned one cent pieces are cut to the size of $10 pieces and the edge milled and the sides worn down so as to extinguish the letters "One cent." On the face of the coin is the head of the goddess of liberty. The coin is then washed in gold and is hard to detect as counterfeit by many. By letting a true coin and a counterfeit one fall on the counter it is impossible to tell the difference in the sound. Several of these coins have been passed on persons accustomed to handling considerable sums.

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price):

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,

MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, OMBRE PLUSHES, for $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS,

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—excellent value.

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS,

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c., 75c., $1.25 and $1.50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 an $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. - - - Ft. Wayne

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

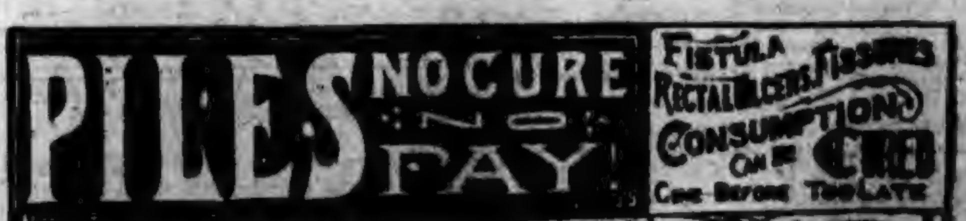
Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens of Auburn with extra fine WHEAT, RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion this week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm, and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL!



PILES NO CURE NO PAY

FISTULA RECTAL ULCERS, FISSURES CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED COME BEFORE TOO LATE

BY DR. A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S Wonderful NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE PATENTED.

OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR BRINKERHOFF. CURE WARRANTED.

SANITARY ADVICE IN VERSE.

There's a skin without and a skin within,
A covering skin and a lining skin;
But the skin within is the skin without,
Doubled inward and carried completely throughout.

The palate, the nostrils, the windpipe and throat
Are all of them lined with this inner coat,
Which through every part is made to extend—
Lungs, liver and bowels, from end to end.

The outside skin is a marvelous plan
For exuding the dregs of the flesh of man;
While the inner extracts from the food and the air
What is needed the waste in his flesh to repair.

While it goes well with the outside skin,
You may feel pretty sure all's right within;
For if anything puts the inner skin out
Of order, it troubles the skin without.

The doctor, you know, examines your tongue
To see if your stomach or bowels are wrong;
If he feels that your hand is hot and dry
He is able to tell you the reason why.

Too much brandy, whisky or gin
Is apt to disorder the skin within;
While if dirty or dry, the skin without
Refuses to let the sweat come out.

Good people all! have a care of your skin,
Both that without and that within;
To the first you'll give plenty of water and soap,
To the last little beside water, we'll hope.

But always be very particular where
You get your water, your food, and your air;
For if these be tainted, or rendered impure,
It will have its effect on your blood, be sure.

The food which will ever for you be the best
Is that you like most, and can soon digest;
All unripe fruit and decaying flesh
Beware of, and fish that is not very fresh.

Your water, transparent and pure as you think it,
Had better be filtered and boiled ere you drink it,
Unless you know surely that nothing unsound
Can have got to it over or under the ground.

But of all things the most I would have you beware
Of breathing the poison of once-breathed air;
When in bed, whether out or at home you may be,
Always open your window and let it go free.

With clothing and exercise keep yourself warm,
And change your clothes quickly if drenched in a storm;
For a cold caught by chilling the outside skin
Flies at once to the delicate lining within.

All you who thus kindly take care of your skin,
And attend to its wants without and within,
Need never of cholera feel any fears,
And your skin may last you a hundred years.

MRS. LONGMAN'S SURPRISE PARTY.

There had been a long spell of rainy weather. For six days the sun had not shown a glimpse of himself, and everything, out of doors and in, wore a look of clammy despondency. Moreover, Mrs. Longman was having one of her gloomy spells, and was looking at all created things, herself included, through the bluest kind of spectacles.

Mrs. Longman was by nature not a bad-tempered woman; on the contrary, she possessed many noble and commendable qualities; but her spirits were not equable; she would have her gloomy attacks, which, had there been any apparent cause, might have been looked upon in the light of an affliction worthy of sympathy; but as it was, even the most lenient of her friends characterized them by the name of "dumps," which, though Webster condemns it as not being an "elegant" word, was, in their opinion, quite good enough to express the state of her case.

The short November day was drawing to a close, and, although the little gilt clock on the mantel had proclaimed it to be 4 o'clock, it was getting too dark for Mrs. Longman to sew any longer upon the little cloth suits she was languidly mending, so, laying them aside, she wandered aimlessly into the kitchen, where Bridget was folding the newly-ironed clothes from the rack by the glowing grate.

"Mr. Longman will not be at home until late this evening, Bridget," said she. "Business will detain him down town, so you may just set up anything for the children; I do not feel as though I could eat anything; everything tastes alike to me and nothing tastes right!"

What the reply would have been will never be known, for, at that moment, there came a resounding knock upon the alley gate, and, throwing an old shawl over her head, Bridget hastily responded to the call.

"It is two boys, ma'am," she said, returning almost immediately, "and they have come to a party here."

"A party!" echoed Mrs. Longman in astonishment. "Who in the world told them there was a party here?"

"I don't know, ma'am. I will go and ask them," said the willing maid, who apparently would rather have got wet than not.

"Bring them in out of the rain, Bridget," called Mrs. Longman from the door, "until we find out what it means. Of course," she thought to herself, "it is a mistake, but what possessed them to come to the alley gate?"

Bridget came in followed by the boys, who had been in the meantime joined by a third, and who, notwithstanding the soaking rain, were not as wet as might have been supposed, owing to their having pieces of oil cloth around them, which, upon inspection, proved to be old carriage curtains sewed together, while the last arrival sported a gentleman's swallow-tailed dress coat, which made a useful if not a very handsome overcoat for the festive-seeking lad. They did not appear to think it was expected of them to remove their dripping hats, but stood eying the good fire and Mrs. Longman with complacent smiles.

"You say you came to a party," said the lady; "have you not made a mistake?"

"Oh, no, ma'am; this is the place your boys told us; we went to the front of the house and took the number as soon as we sold out our papers, and here it is," said he of the swallow-tail, taking a scrap of the margin of a newspaper from his pocket and showing the number, sure enough, in figures of magnificent proportions.

Mrs. Longman was bewildered. "You say as soon as you sold out your papers. What do you mean?"

"Why, you see we are newsboys, ma'am, every one of us; and we 'dailies' could get off earlier; but the Evening Telegram and the Bulletin and the Herald and the News will be along as soon as they can hire somebody to 'cry' for them, and they are going to pay them with something from the party, if you please, ma'am," with an air of cheerful confidence.

Mrs. Longman could not retain a smile.

"Go to the attic, Bridget, and call the children down," said she. "Take off your wraps, boys, and dry your feet, and we will see what can be done."

Bridget soon returned with the delinquents.

"Boys, how did you happen to invite company without telling me, so that I could be prepared for them?" said their mother, gently, but gravely.

"Why, we did tell, mamma, don't you remember? We told you that Mr. Reisinger told our class last Sunday that we were not doing as much good in the world if we invited boys to a feast who had plenty to eat and to wear, and who could invite us in return, but he said we ought to invite the poor boys to whom such things were a treat. He said Jesus loved the lame and the blind, and if we wished to be like Him we must do as He did. So Johnny and I told all the newsboys we met to come to a party here to-night and to bring all the lame and blind boys they could find. Don't you remember now, mamma?"

Poor Mrs. Longman remembered with a pang that she had been so wrapped up in her own gloomy and selfish thoughts the past week that she had paid but little attention to her boys in any way, and she reflected, "Shall I let the good seed sown by a stranger in the hearts of my children perish for want of care from their mother? Will I let my own selfish ease rob these poor boys of a pleasure which might always be a pleasant remembrance to them? No, I will rouse myself and make the best of it."

"Bridget, in the meantime, had been summoned again to the alley gate, and had secured two more guests, one a pale little cripple on crutches, who had not only succeeded in obtaining a substitute, but had borrowed an umbrella; which umbrella had seen its best days, to be sure, being minus two stays and patched with a different color, but demoralized as it was, it did not prevent the guest it sheltered from being joyfully welcomed by their compatriots already under shelter. The crippled boy in particular was warmly welcomed by Mrs. Longman, whose heart went out in sympathy to suffering in any form. She had just been upon the point of proposing that the boys should, until supper was ready, adjourn to the attic which, like the rest of the house, was warm and comfortable, but, out of consideration for the lame boy, she changed her plans and sent two of the guests with her sons to bring down such playthings as they desired into the parlor, in which with her usual good sense she had nothing too fine for use. The boys were scarcely ensconced in the parlor, when a ring of the bell drew them all scampering to the hall door, where stood three boys, one of whom, the Evening News, was spokesman.

"I hope you will excuse us, ma'am, for not coming to the alley gate this evening," said he, bowing over the heads of the boys to Mrs. Longman, who was coming to see what this method of announcement might portend, "but Buddy here," pointing to one of his followers, "is blind, and I thought you would not mind us coming to the front door; and I could not find a lame boy;" continued he, apologetically, to the Longman boys, "so I brought the charcoal man's boy, who is deaf and dumb."

Mrs. Longman escorted them to the kitchen to remove their wet wrappings and to dry their shoes, and then took them to the parlor, where the other guests were sitting rather silently gazing at the parlor and its contents, which, though to some persons it might have been considered plain, was to the boys a scene of unaccustomed luxury; then she went back to the kitchen to hold council with Bridget in regard to the all-important event of the evening supper.

"What in the world will we get, Bridget?" said she. "There are eight of them in there beside our own, which makes ten, and there may be as many more for all I know, and it is too wet to go out for anything."

"The aisiest thing in the world, ma'am. I have been considering the same while you were in the parlor. There's the chickens in the yard, that you were fattening for Thanksgiving; nothing in the world would be suitabler than them."

"But that would be only one kind of meat, Bridget, and perhaps some of them do not eat chicken; and, now that they are here, I would like them all to be satisfied."

"Trust me for that, ma'am. I never saw a boy yet that could not eat his weight in chicken, only give him the time. I will go immediately and tell the fowls their presence is wanted at a party, and the kettle is singing as though it expected a broth of a time."

"And I will make a lot of biscuits," said Mrs. Longman, "and while you are cooking the chickens we'll set the table."

"An' if you please, ma'am, while the flour and other things are around, I will make a lot of my gingercakes; for, next to chicken stew with oceans of gravy, there's nothing a boy likes better than hot gingercakes."

"Oh, Bridget, you are so thoughtful," said Mrs. Longman, and somehow her heart began to grow lighter, and, with a cripple and a mute in the next room, she began to realize that she had much for which to be thankful.

Several new additions were made to the company in the parlor, and by the time the supper was smoking upon the table the mirth was growing "fast and furious."

The boys were almost dazzled by the brilliancy of the dining-room, the glitter of china and glass and silver under the strong gas-light. Mrs. Longman had exerted herself to make it a feast indeed to those who so seldom fared except upon the coarsest viands, and her table showed no lack of dainty preserved fruits, jellies and all the little knick-knacks which she could muster on such short notice. She knew that boys leading the out-door, active life of the majority of the guests were not troubled with "nerves," so coffee the richest, and tea the purest, graced the board, while the perfume of the baking gingerbread floated through the open kitchen door, where Bridget, in the goodness of her heart, was importing a choice stock of horses, cows and other animals for each and all of the guests, cut from the luscious gingerbread.

Mrs. Longman took quiet observation of the whole company while helping them, and she observed one puzzle for which, in her own mind, she could find no solution; and that was that the blind boy had carefully laid his pieces of poultry aside.

"Here is one exception to Bridget's rule," she said to herself. "Do you not like chicken, my boy?" she inquired.

"Yes, ma'am, I love it," he replied with emphasis, "but—" and he hesitated; his pale face grew flushed.

A moment or so after he slipped from his chair, and, with the unerring accuracy with which the blind calculate distances, he came to Mrs. Longman and said, "Please, ma'am, may I touch your face?"

"Certainly, dear," she replied.

Very gently and speedily the little soft hand of the blind boy examined each feature, and then, apparently satisfied, he whispered, "I would like to take it to Nancy, she is so good to me; she is sick, and cannot get good things to eat."

Quick tears of sympathy filled Mrs. Longman's eyes. Truly, she was receiving many lessons this evening. She was giving, but it was being returned to her an hundred-fold. She kissed the boy, and whispered in return, "You are a noble little boy to remember others; eat all you wish; I will see that your friend has some also."

After supper was over, the table cleared away, and the other boys deep in the enjoyment of games, in which he could take but little part, Mrs. Longman and the blind boy had a long and confidential conversation. She gathered from his earnest lips that even the poor in purse can be rich in spirit; that the milk of human kindness sometimes made fertile hearts which had never known anything but stern, unrelenting poverty. The one he called Nancy had received him from the bedside of his dying mother, and, although she had to work early and late to support her own helpless ones, she was to the best of her poor ability faithfully fulfilling her promise.

The Longmans were not rich, but Mrs. Longman sadly compared her own selfish life with its means of doing good with that of the poor woman whose opportunities were so few, and yet whose life was a continued sacrifice of self for others. Mrs. Longman was a Sabbath-school teacher, and her conscience had many times reproved her that she had not gone into the by-ways to bring children under the influence of the gospel. Here was her opportunity, and she resolved to seize it. She argued with herself as to the propriety of using a temporal inducement for a spiritual end, and her conscience upon reflection approved.

In the meantime, Mr. Longman came home, and the cheerful smile upon his wife's lips, so different from what he was expecting, delighted him, and he gave the boys an even more cordial greeting than was his wont. When his wife had informed him how it all came about, he resolved to do his part toward giving them a good time, so sent an abundant order for apples and the beloved peanuts, the delight of the newsboy's heart, and told them to help themselves, which they did to a man.

Mrs. Longman, with Bridget's assistance, spent the balance of the evening making packages for the boys, to take home with them, and the substitutes were not forgotten. At her husband's approval, she made a proposition to the boys at the close of the evening, and that that they should all come one evening was in every month and take supper with her boys, providing that all who could go to some Sunday-school would do so. To her glad surprise the most of them agreed to the arrangement, and those who held back she found upon inquiry were constrained to object on the score of clothing, a want which she engaged to supply. She went further than that. She exerted herself to obtain admission for the blind boy into an institution for the blind, and after each of the monthly parties she paid him a visit, taking his share of the good things, always accompanied by her own sons, and sometimes by the Evening Telegram, Bulletin, or one of the dailies; and one of the most useful lessons which Mrs. Longman received from her surprise party was this: "There is no surer remedy for low spirits than doing good to others."

Who Does the Thinking?

Nature, we are told, wastes nothing. That has been said so often that we almost believe it; but it's not true any more for that. Nature lavishes brain power that is utterly wasted. Just consider that every one of the million inhabitants of this globe has a thinking apparatus ready provided—comes into the world with it ready to hand—and then ask how many of them use it? Who thinks? Perhaps a dozen men do the thinking for an entire community, and that is putting the figure high. Think? We are not allowed to think! If we knew how the critics would not let us. They give out the tune and we sing it, and unfortunately the tune is not a new one. If they only would quarrel, if only they would differ, if only they would wrangle over any one thing, there might be a chance—but they do not. The time even for critics to think independently has gone by. They can't do it. Every month sees the publication of book notices; read one, and you have read all, and have as just an appreciation as if you had read none. But you know what to think, that's the comfort of it; you need never use the machinery with which you are supplied. When the art exhibitions open who among the crowd of gazers is going to think what is good? and why it is? or what is vulgar, pretentious, unadulterated, copy? and why it is? Say two in fifty, and that is probably two too many to credit with any original thought. No, the art notices will settle all that, and save the individual the trouble, and one critic in a hundred may know what he is talking about. There might be a chance for the world at large, if his opinion happened to be the first published, but it probably will not, and so it will be useless for him to expect it at all, for no one will believe it, the world will have accepted the verdict in the popular papers, and the eyes of thousands will see what the eye of one has imagined to be there. If we must have our thinking done for us, let us at least try to have it done by competent persons.—New York Mail.

A Business Preacher.

A Maine pastor, not far from Bangor, either personally or by agents, runs three churches, a salmon fishery, a large farm, a coal office, a teamster's route, is a car proprietor, a road contractor, a stage coach owner, a chief partner in a public bath and a mineral spring, a holder of turnpike gates, a lodging-house keeper, a guardian of the poor, a member of the board of health, and last and probably least, a shepherd of the sheep.

THE undertaking business is a dead certainty.

CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED?

SOME INTERESTING LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE,

WHICH SHOULD BE READ BY THOSE AFFLICTED.

DR. SCHENCK GIVES THE EVIDENCE ON WHICH HE BASES HIS ASSERTION THAT

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

Clear and explicit statements from well-known persons which should convince the most skeptical.

For other Certificates of Cures send for Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. It gives a full description of these diseases in their various forms, also valuable information in regard to the diet and clothing of the sick; how and when exercise should be taken, &c. This book is the result of many years of experience in the treatment of Lung Diseases, and should be read, not only by the afflicted, but by those who, from hereditary taint or other cause, suppose themselves liable to any affection of the throat or lungs.

IT IS SENT FREE,

POSTPAID, TO ALL APPLICANTS.

Address Dr. J. H. Schenck & Son, No. 600 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Go and see the people who write the following letters, if possible.

Mr. Isaac Miller, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, writes:

FEBRUARY 7th, 1881.

Ten years ago I contracted a severe cold, which brought me very low. I went from one doctor to another, getting prescriptions from each, but the medicines they prescribed seemed to do me no good. I kept getting worse and worse, until at last I became so weak that if I went any distance from my house it seemed that I would never be able to get back. I was in despair, and had almost given up all hope of recovery. As a last resort, I went to Strope's Drug Store, in this city, and asked him if he had any medicine that would help me. He said he had, and he was so confident of it that he said, "Here, take this bottle of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and if it does you no good you need not pay for it." I took the bottle home and commenced using it, as you directed, and it worked like magic. By the time it was gone, I felt very much better, and so I got another bottle, which completed the cure.

I have since used the Pulmonic Syrup in my family many times, with the best results. I have also recommended it to many friends—among others, Mrs. Hesser, of Plymouth, Indiana, who had Consumption, and she was cured in a very short time by its use.

ISAAC MILLER,

Engineer on Pitts., Ft. Wayne & Chicago R. R. Residence, No. 44 William St., Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

DR. SCHENCK, Philadelphia, Pa.:

Dear Sir—We are well acquainted with Mr. Isaac Miller, and can vouch for the truth of the statement he sends you in regard to the great benefit he received from the use of your medicines.

Yours truly,

D. B. STROPE & CO., Druggists.

FT. WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 8th, 1881.

A Gentleman well known in Zanesville, Dresden and Coshocton writes from Pekin, Ill.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—In the winter of 1872 I was told by three prominent doctors that my wife had Consumption, and that she could not live until spring. Soon after this a friend, who lives in Dayton, Ohio, recommended your medicines to her; but, having been told that she was incurable, we had no faith in them. Her friend finally brought her a bottle of your Pulmonic Syrup, and insisted on her giving it a fair trial. She did so, and, thank God, by its use her life was saved. She is now entirely well.

I am well known here, as well as in Zanesville, Dresden and Coshocton, and would refer you to the druggists and others in these towns, who will remember my wife's case as a very bad one. I have recommended your medicines to a great many, and have never known them to fail in making cures where they have been given a fair trial. I am induced to send you this by the thought that it will be of such great use to suffering humanity.

A. W. WHITE,

Nov. 21, 1878. Proprietor White House, Pekin, Ill.

From Cyrus Laverty, Esq., of Charlotte, Mich.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—Nine years ago I was suffering with a severe bronchial affection, which reduced me very much in flesh. I had a severe cough, with hoarseness, and sometimes an entire loss of voice. For several months I was compelled to give up my work, and I was sick for over two years. All this time I was trying many remedies that were recommended by my friends, but without any benefit. At last Mr. J. S. Upton, of the firm of Upton & Brown, machinists, of Battle Creek, Mich., advised me to try your medicines, at the same time telling me that it had cured him of a serious affection of the lungs, after spending hundreds of dollars with physicians without benefit. I took his advice and bought some of your medicines of Schuyler Bros., druggists, of this place. The first bottle gave me great relief, and, after using several bottles, was entirely cured. My cure, I am satisfied, is permanent, as I have had no return of the disease. I candidly believe that your remedies are the best that can be used in throat and lung troubles, not only from my own experience, but from many others that I know who have used it with great benefit.

Yours truly,

CYRUS LAVERTY.

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Dec. 8, 1880.

From Cedar Falls, Iowa.

A Severe Case of Bleeding from the Lungs Cured.

J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia:

Gentlemen—About four years ago I was attacked with Hemorrhage of the Lungs, and bled profusely. A physician attended me; but, in a short time, I had another hemorrhage, and at one time I thought I would bleed to death before I could get any relief. I was advised to try your Pulmonic Syrup, which I did, and I am happy to say that it saved my life. I took five or six bottles of your Syrup, and I have not had a hemorrhage in the past two years, or since I used your medicines, and I now consider myself a well man. I believe your medicines will do all you claim for them.

Yours truly,

E. F. NELSON.

CEDAR FALLS, Iowa, Nov. 12, 1880.

Consumption Permanently Cured

CONNERSVILLE, Ind., January 21st, 1881.

DR. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—In 1861 I took a heavy cold, which quickly fastened on my lungs. I became unable to do anything. I was confined to my bed. My case went on from bad to worse, and developed rapidly into Consumption. At the time of the draft during the war the examining physician rejected me as being unfit for service, one of my lungs being nearly gone. I had given myself up to die, when John S. Benson, who formerly lived near this city, now living in Indianapolis, recommended me to use Schenck's Remedies, as he had done in his own case, and had been cured thereby. I did as he advised me, which proved to be my salvation. I procured some of your "Pulmonic Syrup," "Seaweed Tonic" and "Mandrake Pills." I commenced to use them, and found them to benefit me from the start. I continued to use your medicines faithfully, and in six months' time I was entirely cured, my lungs becoming as strong as ever; and your medicines did the work.

Yours respectfully,

SANDFORD CALDWELL.

I wish to add that since that time—twenty years ago—I have had no return of my trouble. The cure was a perfect and lasting one.

S. CALDWELL.

I know of the above case, and can certify to the truth of the foregoing.

L. RAWLS, Druggist.

From Akron, Ohio.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 17th, 1881.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—Having been asked by many in regard to your medicines, and the benefit I had received from them, I have concluded to give you an account of my case. In the winter of 1878 I was pronounced an incurable Consumptive by every physician in this place, as well as several in Cleveland. I had all the symptoms—cough, night sweats, great debility and loss of flesh. I was reduced in weight from one hundred and fifty pounds to eighty pounds. I had given up all hope of recovery, when I was told by Mr. James Scanlan that he had used your medicines with good effect, and he advised me to give them a trial, although I do not think he believed they would cure me, for I was so sick at this time that no one thought that I would ever get well. I thought, however, that they might give me temporary relief, and with this object I commenced to use your Pulmonic Syrup. I had not taken it two days before I felt great relief, especially in the severity of my cough. I then took the Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic, and in two weeks my appetite came back and I began to gain strength. I took your medicines for about three months. I was too sick to do any kind of work for two years. Your medicines made a perfect cure, and I have been in good health ever since. I do not know that I can say more than this, unless it be that I believe your medicines to be good, and that they will do all that you say they will do.

Yours very truly, J. A. REILLY.

From Mr. John G. Nothacker, of Shelby, Ohio.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, Philadelphia:

Dear Sir—In May, 1878, I caught a heavy cold, which gradually settled on my lungs, causing great difficulty and pain in breathing. I could not rest at night, being kept awake by coughing. The loss of sleep and appetite at last reduced me very much—from 160 pounds, my usual weight when in health, to 125 pounds. I took the prescriptions of physicians, but they did me no good. One day, while looking over the Cleveland Herald, I noticed that your medicines had cured many cases that were at least as bad as mine, and so concluded to use them. They were rather slow in their action at first, but after I had used them for a couple of weeks I saw that I was getting better; my appetite improved, the pain and difficulty in breathing was relieved, and after using eight bottles I felt that I was restored to perfect health. I soon recovered my former weight, and I have been quite well ever since. I am satisfied that I owe my recovery entirely to your Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

Truly yours,

JOHN G. NOTHACKER,

With C. H. Askee, Shelby, Richmond Co., Ohio.

Feb. 21st, 1881.

From Mr. Robert W. Jones, of London, Ohio.

DR. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—About four years ago I was taken sick with what my physician told me was Consumption of the Lungs. I had a bad cough, and was reduced very much in my weight. At different times I had seven physicians of this place, and also one from Bloomsburg, attending me, and, although they all thought they could help me, I grew worse very fast under their treatment. I was compelled to give up all business for over two years, and no one believed, nor did I myself believe, that I should ever get well. One day I happened to call at Mr. Auburn Smith's Drug Store, in this place, and picked up one of your pamphlets. In reading the certificates of cures, I found one case so nearly like my own that I at once concluded to give your medicines a trial. I bought the Seaweed Tonic, Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills, and began their use according to the printed directions, and I can truly say that from the first I saw a marked improvement in all my symptoms. This encouraged me to continue their use until I was entirely well. I have had good health since my recovery, and I believe your medicines saved my life. I know of several other persons in this city that have been cured by your remedies.

Yours truly, ROBERT W. JONES.

LONDON, Ohio, October 9th, 1880.

GUARD THE SYSTEM AGAINST

MALARIA

BY USING

DR. SCHENCK'S

MANDRAKE PILLS,

The Great Vegetable Substitute for Mercury.

They will cure Chills and Fever.
They will cure Diarrhea.
They will cure obstinate Constipation, leaving the Stomach and Bowels in a healthy Condition.
They will cure Liver Complaint, that great forerunner of Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S

MANDRAKE PILLS

Do not produce sickness at the stomach, nausea or griping. On the contrary, they are so mild and agreeable in their action that a person suffering with a sick headache, sour stomach or pain in the bowels is speedily relieved of these distressing symptoms. They act directly on the liver, the organ which, when in a healthy condition, purifies the blood for the whole body.

They are a perfect preparation of that great and well-known remedy, Mandrake or Podophyllin, a remedy that has displaced the use of mercury, as well as many other poisonous drugs, in the practice of every intelligent physician.

Prof. John King, of the College of Medicine, of Cincinnati, says: "In Constipation it acts upon the bowels without disturbing them or subsequent costiveness. In Chronic Liver Complaint there is not its equal in the whole range of medicines, being vastly more useful than mercurial agents, arousing the liver to healthy action, loosening the bowels, and keeping up these actions longer than any other agent with which we are acquainted. (See American Dispensatory, page 72.)

In all cases of Liver Complaint or Dyspepsia, where there is a great weakness or debility, Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic should be used in connection with these Pills.

DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES:

MANDRAKE PILLS,
SEAWEED TONIC,
& PULMONIC SYRUP

Are sold by all Druggists, and full directions for their use are printed on the wrappers of every package.

Railroads and the Farmers.

In his admirable address before the Minnesota State Fair, Col. William F. Vilas spoke of the immense benefit which the Western farmers have derived from the railroads. He said:

Before railroads were devised there was no extensive freight communication but by water. And that was valueless unless conveniently accessible. From this, the agriculture of past ages gathered around the seas and lakes, or lined the rivers' margin. It girt the Mediterranean and made famous the valley of the Nile. The unwatered world of the interior was left to the wandering nomad or the forest barbarian. It was the unknown region full of mysterious terrors. The great Hercynian wood was the home of beasts, brute and human; the latter ever the impending peril, and finally the destroyer of the civilization of the world. The reserve corps of barbarism lay back on the plains of Russia and Tartary, which nourished the fierce savages who could live on equine flesh and carouse on the milk of mares. So, too, water communication was slow and tedious, even when accessible. That is true, especially of inland navigation. It is weeks by water from St. Paul to New York, though the aid of steam be invoked; and in Northern climes that avenue is available for but half the year. Your magnificent wheat fields would mostly lie unbroken, farmers of Minnesota, had not the invention and enterprise of other men, stimulated by your demands, laid the double-lined highway to carry the freight-car laden with your precious berry to the sea; the Indian would still be master of the Territories of the West. Your lands derive their value, your industry, its reward; your homes, the luxuries, and many of the comforts they exhibit, from the railroads of the continent.

In the beautiful language of that noble lover of human liberty, once the pride and ornament of Wisconsin's Supreme bench, the lamented Byron Paine, "Railroads are the great public highways of the world, along which its gigantic currents of trade and travel continually pour—highways compared with which the most magnificent highways of antiquity dwindle into insignificance. They are the most marvelous invention of modern times. They have done more to develop the wealth and resources, to stimulate the industry, reward the labor and promote the general comfort and prosperity of the country, than any other and perhaps than all other mere physical causes combined. There is probably not a man, woman or child whose interest or comfort has not been in some degree subserved by them. They bring to our doors the productions of the earth. They enable us to anticipate and protract the seasons. They enable the inhabitants in each clime to enjoy the pleasures and luxuries of all. They scatter the productions of the press and literature broadcast through the country with amazing rapidity. There is scarcely a want, wish or aspiration of the human heart, which they do not in some measure help to gratify. They promote the pleasures of social life and of friendship; they bring the skilled physician swiftly from a distance to attend the sick and the wounded, and enable his absent friend to be present at the bedside of the dying. They have more than realized the fabulous conception of the Eastern imagination, which pictured the genii as transporting inhabited palaces through the air. They take a train of inhabited palaces from the Atlantic coast, and, with a marvelous swiftness, deposit it on the shores that are washed by the Pacific seas. In war they transport the armies and supplies of the Government with the greatest of celerity, and carry forward, as it were on the wings of the wind, relief and comfort to those who are stretched bleeding and wounded on the field of battle."

But, while we do them justice, let us not forget there are doubtless many faults to be corrected and abuses to be reformed in the administration of these highways. Corporate powers and corporate values have advanced with a more rapid step than the invention of our statesmen and law makers. The agency of the corporation is comparatively modern, and, like the agency of steam, is a mighty power. Unless subdued by proper appliances of law sufficient to control it, we are liable to disasters injurious to our welfare, as the accidents which sometimes befall the train are destructive of life.

But I must not protract this weary hour to discuss this problem foreign to my subject. Important as it is, we need not fear it. The railroad, rightly used, is the friend of the farmer and the whole people. It is the paramount interest of its owners that it should so remain. They dare not make it an enemy, and when we reflect that a single invention—the steel rail—has reduced the freight tariff 40 per cent., we may trust somewhat to time and genius to relieve the inconveniences, and continue to enjoy its blessings with composure.

A CERTAIN peculiar plant is known in New South Wales as the "shoeblack plant." The flowers contain a large proportion of a mucilaginous juice, which forms an excellent substitute for shoeblacking, producing a brilliant polish. This juice is used by Chinese ladies for dyeing the hair, and it is said that in Java the flowers are really used for blacking shoes.

DON'T think you can with impunity adopt the follies of other folks; your constitution may not be equally well able to bear abuse.

PITH AND POINT.

Fiddler's green—Amateur violinists.

It goes against the grain to gamble in corn and wheat.

When a broker goes out shooting he takes a pointer along.

Every man has his forte if he only knew how to hold it.

When a doctor loses his patients it does not follow that he is out of temper.

The girl pressed the leaves, but the boy pressed the girl. The press is mighty and must prevail.

A fashion magazine says: "Steel trimmings are no longer the style." That settles it. Lay aside your bowie knives.

Young Softhed says he never could stay angry at his wife when she coaxingly slipped her hand in his, because "a soft hand, sir, turneth away wrath."

A Pennsylvania Grand Jury indicted a man for stealing an umbrella. Look here; by and by it will be so in this country that it won't be safe to steal even a paragraph.

"Oh, you are too self-conscious," said Fogg to a young man. "I self-conscious!" exclaimed Adolescens; "I am conscious of nothing." "That's what I said," replied Fogg.

"The skoolers tell Me you spel tissick with ph. Sich teachin As this don't Goe and mus be immediately stopped," wrote an Arkansas school director to one of the teachers in his district.

A Peoria toper justifies himself in this manner: "I am fond of long life. Joviality and good feeling promote long life. Whisky engenders joviality and good feeling. Hence I cultivate whisky."

A boy defined salt as "the stuff that makes potatoes taste bad when you don't put it on." He was twin brother of the boy who said that pins had saved a great many lives by not being swallowed.

We thought "The Peanut and Other Poems" was a queer title for a book, and were not surprised, therefore, to see in the next issue of the paper a correction. It should have been "The Pageant and Other Poems."—Norristown Herald.

"Why do we commence dinner with soup?" asks a medical journal. Because the landlady sends it the first thing, and there's no show for the meats until the soup is gone. That's the explanation of the mystery at our house; we don't know how you're fixed.

"Why, my dear Mrs. Smith, whatever have you done with your piano?" "Oh, Mr. Smith insisted upon my disposing of it, and buying instead a sewing-machine for each of the girls. He says they would be much more useful, and would make much less noise."

A hungry lawyer, who was dining at a hotel, shoveled the food into his mouth with his knife till he accidentally cut his mouth, which was observed by a wag seated opposite, who bawled out: "I say, Mister, don't cut that hole in your countenance any larger, or we shall all starve."

"Fellow citizens," said the street-corner orator, standing on a dry-goods box amid the glare and smoke of many torches, "my position upon this question is a peculiar one." And just then, when the box caved in and let him down in the shape of a letter V, gripped by the neck and heels, the crowd rather thought it was.

"Madeline" sends us a sweet poem, beginning "The winds are never idle." Dog gone it, no, Madeline, neither is a sixty-day note. It can lay clear over new cider in a warm October for working. We don't take a cent's worth of interest in the busy winds, but the sixty-day note is what lifts us where the capillary growth is abbreviated.

When you see a man at the railway station, who is really looking for his trunks and valises, but who insists that he is huntıng "me boxes and bags," you may safely bet your bottom dollar he isn't entitled to vote in this blarsted, howling country—not by a trunk full of h's, he isn't. And if you can't guess to what nation he belongs, ask him. He'll tell you.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser mentions what may safely be set down as the worst case of spelling of recent record. It occurred in a "notis" of a "sellybrashun" to be held on the shores of "Lake Eary," and mentioned the occasion as a "gubile." This word troubled the editor a good deal, but, with rare perspicacity, he at length resolved it into "jubilee."

One hour after an "old master" had painted the name of a patent medicine on a big rock a cow came along, licked it off, and died before sundown. When the simple name of a medicine kills a cow, human beings want to beware of the stuff itself. A cow was never killed by licking the name of a patent medicine in a newspaper, and no other kind can be recommended.—Norristown Herald.

Ecstatic Airs.

I have often seen piano-forte players and singers make such strange motions over their instruments and song books that I wanted to laugh at them. Where did our friends pick up all these fine ecstatic airs? I would say to myself. But one day I bought me a canary bird, and hung him up in a cage at my window. By and by he found himself at home and began to pipe his little tunes, and there he was sure enough, swinging and waving about, with all the droopings and liftings and languishing side turnings of the head, that I had laughed at. And now I should like to ask who taught him all this? And me, through him, that the foolish head was not the one swinging itself from side to side, and bowing and nodding over the music, but that other, which was passing its shallow and self-satisfied judgment on a character made of finer clay than the frame which carried that same head upon its shoulders.—[O. W. Holmes.

A Novelist's "Pointer."

Mr. James Payn, the novelist, tells us that when he was a very young man, and had very little experience, he was reading on a coach-box an account of some gigantic trees. One of them was described as sound outside; but within for many feet, a mass of rottenness and decay. "If a boy should climb up, bird-nesting, into the fork of it, thought I, he might go down feet first, and never be heard of again." "Then," he adds, "it struck me what an appropriate end it would be for a character of a novel. Before I had left the coach-box, I had thought out 'Lost Sir Massingberd.' Such a process lasted for a shorter time with Mr. Payn than with the majority of novelists; with many the little seed might have germinated for years before it brought forth fruit. Yet Mr. Payn is remarkable for the clearness and coherency of his plots; they always hang together, and have a substantial backbone.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

Green wall-papers, like green confectionery, should always be regarded with grave suspicion.

Small-pox is infectious till the last scab has fallen off, and scarlatina till the last bit of skin has peeled.

Feet constantly cold are relieved by brief immersions in cold water, and the active friction with a rough towel.

Turpentine is a sovereign remedy for croup. Saturate a piece of flannel with it, and place the flannel on the chest and throat, and in very severe cases three to five drops on a lump of sugar may be taken internally. Every family should have a bottle of turpentine on hand.

Bee Tea for Strangury.—Dr. W. B. Jones, of Summerville, Ark., writes to the Medical Brief: "About twenty years ago I read in 'The Medical Adviser'—a medical work written by Rezin Thompson—that, in his hands, bee tea was almost a never-failing remedy in strangury. Since that time I have treated quite a number of cases of strangury, from different causes, with bee tea, and it has never yet disappointed me, where there was no actual mechanical obstruction."

In the Sick Room.—Under all circumstances keep the refreshments intended for the use of the invalid covered. Milk is a ready absorbent. Then there are cooling drinks, jellies, blancmanges and a variety of liquids usually seen at the invalid's bedside, which are all more or less absorbent. These should be kept covered. I once visited an invalid who had her bedside table supplied with an array of glasses, cups, tumblers, etc., the contents of not one of which could we see, all being covered with a most amusing variety of glass and porcelain lids. The invalid liked to forget the contents of each, and was amused to lift one or another of the tiny covers and select a refreshment which presented itself to her taste. And to keep invalids amused and ready to relish what is provided for them are important duties in nursing. Such slight attentions cost little trouble, while they prove to the sufferer that he or she is tenderly cared for.

Creosote for Bronchitis and Catarrh.—When going from Switzerland to Italy via Mont Cenis, some years ago, the writer contracted a severe cold, which, in the chill air of Turin, soon brought on a severe attack of bronchitis. We hastened over to the genial air of Genoa, but it afforded little relief, and the advice of Dr. Paccioti, professor in the noted Italian Medical College there, was called in. He prescribed a very simple remedy, which was at once effective, as it had been with many others to whom we have since recommended it. Put into a pint or large bottle about three gills of water, and add two drops of good wood creosote. Shake very thoroughly, take a mouthful, gargling it awhile in the throat, and swallow it. Repeat this frequently, so as to use up the mixture in the first twenty-five hours, always shaking well before taking. After the first day use three drops of creosote and the same amount of water during twenty-four hours, so long as it is needed. The same mixture has often proved very useful in catarrh. In this case a handful or two of well-shaken creosote and water is snuffed up through the nostrils until it reaches the throat and is spit out. A table-spoonful or more is also gargled in the throat and swallowed. As catarrh is an inflammation of the nasal passages, accompanied with a mucous deposit, the creosote, which is largely carbolic acid, would seem to be useful here just as diluted carbolic acid is effective in cleansing any putrid sores. Catarrh is the result of weakness and is promoted by a cold. A toning-up of the system and any simple remedy like the above is effective, unless the catarrh is severe and of long continuance as to have permanently disorganized the nasal cavities. It is folly to spend money for the much-advertised catarrh remedies, which are usually the sheerest medical quackery.—American Agriculturist.

A Quaker in Westminster Abbey.

At Westminster Abbey Isaac Hopper paid the customary fee of two shillings and sixpence for admission. The door-keeper followed him, saying:

"You must uncover yourself, sir."

"Uncover myself!" exclaimed the Friend, with an affectation of ignorant simplicity. "What do you mean? Must I take off my coat?"

"Your coat!" responded the man, smiling. "No, indeed; I mean your hat."

"And what should I take off my hat for?" he inquired.

"Because you are in church, sir," answered the door-keeper.

"I see no church here," rejoined the Quaker; perhaps thou meanest the house where the church assembles? I suppose thou art aware that it is the people and not the building that constitutes a church?"

The idea seemed new to the man, but he merely replied:

"You must take off your hat, sir."

But the Friend again enquired:

"What for? On account of these images? Thou knowest Scripture commands us not to worship graven images."

The man persisted in saying that no person could be allowed to pass through the church without uncovering his head.

"Well, friend, rejoined Isaac, "I have some conscientious scruples on the subject; so give me back my money and I will go."

The reverential habits of the door-keeper were not strong enough to compel him to that sacrifice, and he walked away without saying anything more on the subject.

Never try to raise a family without a good newspaper, provided it contains the advertisement of Dr Bull's Cough Syrup; for this valuable medicine is necessary to keep your children in good health.

Consumption in its early stages is readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," though if the lungs are wasted no medicine will effect a cure. No known remedy possesses such soothing and healing influence over all scrofulous, tuberculous and pulmonary affections as the "Discovery." John Willis, of Elyria, Ohio, writes: "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' does positively cure consumption, as, after trying every other medicine in vain, this succeeded." Mr. Z. T. Phelps, of Cuthbert, Ga., writes: "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' has cured my wife of bronchitis and incipient consumption." Sold by druggists.

The Violin.

Perhaps of all musical instruments the violin has the greatest latent possibilities: it may almost be said to possess "a soul." One does not wonder at the passionate love felt for it by all the great violinists; the most barbaric people possessed it in its rudimental form, and drew sympathetic sound from some resonant board. It is easy to understand its charm, for the harmony it produces is only by direct communication between the performer and the strings. It is the human touch upon the chord which makes the tone so human, and which carries, as it were, the very spirit of the performer into the outer atmosphere. There is no emotion that cannot be expressed by it from the agitation of the passionate heart. It is the divine quite of restful and contented love. It is curious that this, the most musical of all instruments, should have been perfected by the least musical of people, for there appears to be no doubt that it was the oldest English instrument, and that the modern name of violin is but an adaptation of the old English word viele, which, in its turn, was a Norman corruption of the original Saxon "fythel," or feethel, which becoming feedel, was popularized as fiddle, and by Norman incapacity to pronounce the difficult "le," degenerated into the smooth viele. This is the etymology given in Chappel's Popular Music, and is probably correct; or be is as it may, representations of the fiddle exist in the oldest carving and bas-reliefs of the British Isles. In the time of Charles the First it became popular at Court, but it owed its later superiority to merry Charles II., for he introduced a special band of violinists and made them play to him at table. Pepys refers to it in his pedantic diary, and about the same time we read of its introduction into churches, and of the many objections raised to its "too great liveliness," which is amusing in the face of a description of the sacred singing of his time given by old Cornelius Agrippa, who says: "They sing, not with human voices, but with the brutal noise of wild beasts, while the boys whining the descant, others low out the tenor, others yelp the counterpoint, others gnash their teeth on the bass, and although they make many sounds, no words or speech are understood." Even the despised fiddle could hardly have done worse.—Albany Journal.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is a most powerful restorative tonic, also combining the most valuable nervine properties, especially adapted to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation or ulceration, or from nervousness or neuralgic pains. By druggists.

Habits of the Condor.

The condor is peculiar to the New World, but it approaches very closely to the vultures of the Old Continent. The immense mountain-chain of the Andes, which runs down the continent of South America, is the native stronghold where these birds dwell securely. There, in the regions of perpetual snow, and of terrific storms, fifteen thousand feet above the level of the sea, on some isolated pinnacle or crag, the condor rears its brood, and looks down on the plains beneath, yet far away for food. Though here these birds find their home, they build no nest, but deposit their eggs on the naked rocks, without surrounding them either with straw or leaves. Of all birds the condor mounts highest into the atmosphere. Humboldt describes the flight of it in the Andes to be at least twenty thousand feet above the level of the sea. He says it is a remarkable circumstance that this bird, which continues to fly about in regions where the air is so rarified, descends all at once to the edge of the sea, and thus in a few minutes passes through all the variations of climate. When driven by hunger, the condor descends into the plains, but leaves them as soon as its appetite is satisfied. Like the rest of its species, it subsists on carrion, and often gorges itself so as to become incapable of flight. The Indians, who are well acquainted with this effect of voracity, turn it to account in the chase. For this purpose they expose the dead body of a horse or a cow. Some of the condors, which are generally hovering in the air in search of food, are speedily attracted. As soon as they have glutted themselves on the carcass, the Indians make their appearance armed with the lasso, and the condors being unable to escape by flight, are pursued and caught by this singular weapon.—[Home Words.

Dyspepsia, liver complaint and kindred affections. For treatise giving successful self-treatment address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

SEVENTEEN AND SEVENTY.

Oh, grandma sits in her oaken chair,
And in flies Bessie with tangled hair;
"I'm going to be married, oh, grandmamma,
I'm going to be married. Ha, ha! ha, ha!"

Oh, grandma smooths out her apron string;
"Do you know, my dear, 'tis a solemn thing?"
"'Tis solemner not to, grandmamma.
I'm going to be married. Ha, ha! ha, ha!"

Then grandma looks through her seventy years,
And sums up a woman's hopes and fears;
Six of 'em living and two of 'em dead;
Grandpa helpless and tied to his bed.

Nowhere to live when the house burned down;
Fears of fighting with old Mother Brown;
Stockings to darn and bread to bake,
Dishes to wash and dresses to make.

But then the music of pattering feet,
Grandpa's kisses so fond and sweet,
Song and prattle the livelong day,
Joy and kisses and love alway.

Oh, grandma smooths out her apron string,
And gazes down at her wedding ring.
And still she smiles as she drops a tear
"'Tis solemner not to. Yes, my dear."

Beautifiers.

Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. See another column.—Telegraph.

It is said that diptheria can be caught by kissing. A Chicago man says so can a mop handle.—Peck's Sun.

Bright Sayings.

Praise undeserved is satire in disguise.

He's armed without that's innocent within.

Misfortunes are in morals what bitters are in medicines.

Conversation is the vent of character as well as thought.

Cold natures have only recollections; tender natures have rememberances.

Hard workers are usually honest. Industry lifts them above temptation.

Rash, fruitless war from wanton glory waged, is only splendid murder.

That virtue which depends on opinion, looks to secrecy alone, and could not be trusted in a desert.

Intemperate youth, by sad experience found,
Ends in an age imperfect and unsound.

A noble heart, like the sun, showeth its greatest countenance in its lowest estate.

But while the glitter charms our gazing eyes
Its wings are folded and the meteor dies.

A masterpiece of art has in the mind a fixed place in the chain of being as much as a plant or crystal.

Elegance of language may not be in the power of every one, but simplicity and straightforwardness are.

As no roads are so rough as those that have just been mended, so no sinners are so tolerant as those who have just turned saints.

Despotism can no more exist in a nation until the liberty of the press be destroyed, than the night can happen before the sun is set.

Modesty 's the charm
That coldest hearts can quickest warm;
Which all our best affections gains,
And, gaining, ever still retains.

Time is indeed the theater and seat of illusion; nothing is so ductile and elastic. The mind stretches an hour to a century, and dwarfs an age to an hour.

Were it not worse than vain to close our eyes,
Unto the azure sky and golden light,
Because the tempest-cloud doth sometimes rise,
And glorious days must darken into night.

Life is a train of moods like a string of beads, and as we pass through them they prove to be many colored lenses which paint the world their own hue, and each shows only what lies in its own forces.

Increase and Decrease.

The census shows that the proportion of voters to the population is 1 to 5 74-100. The proportion of persons troubled with liver and kidney disorders has been alarmingly increasing, but, since the almost universal use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, these diseases are rapidly diminishing.

In illustrating the explosive character of dust mixed with air, Prof. L. W. Peck said in a lecture: "If a large log of wood were ignited it might be a week before being entirely consumed. Split it up into cord wood, and pile it up loosely, and it would burn in a couple of hours. Again, split it up into kindling wood, pile it up loosely, and perhaps it would burn in less than an hour. Cut it up into shavings and allow a strong wind to throw them in the air or in any way keep the chips comparatively well separated from each other, and the log would, perhaps, be consumed in two or three minutes; or, finally, grind it up into a fine dust or powder, blow it in such manner that each practice is surrounded by air, and it would burn in less than a second.

Worthless Stuff.

Not so fast, my friend; if you could see the strong, healthy, blooming men, women and children that have been raised from beds of sickness, suffering and almost death by the use of Hop Bitters, you would say "Glorious and invaluable remedy." See another column.—Philadelphia Press.

Talmage says that what ails the ministry is the fact that when a boy isn't good for anything else they try to make a preacher of him.

Why Should It Live?

Because it cures more cases of consumption than any other medicine. Because it cures a cough quicker than any other medicine. It helps all. It harms none. This is said of Piso's Cure for Consumption.

A. A. Snyder, of Wolcottville, Ind., says: "I have sold Piso's Cure for Consumption for 15 years; have used it in my own family with good results."

Don't Die in the House.

Ask Druggists for "Rough on Rats." It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bed-bugs. 15c.

Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

For dyspepsia, indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms, also as a preventive against fever and ague and other intermittent fevers, the Ferro Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya Bark, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal.

For Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Ellert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

A million bottles of Carboline, a deodorized extract of petroleum, will produce new hair on a million bald heads, which is something that no other preparation ever discovered will do.

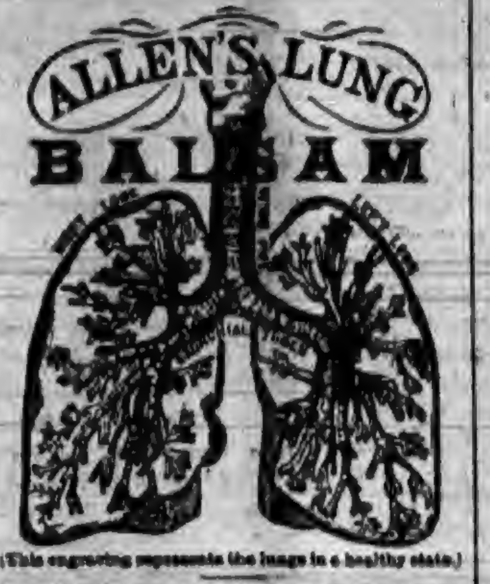
For Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

Dr BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till Cured. Dr. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

YOUNG MEN! If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.



(This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.)

A STANDARD REMEDY IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors, CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Dr. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & CO., Portland, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

WATCHES Catalogue free. Address, Standard American Watch Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

1,000 EDITORS—Either sex—wanted. "A good job the year round." RURAL PRESS, 161 Fifth Ave., Chicago, Ill.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Me.

CHEAPEST BOOKS IN THE WORLD

MANHATTAN BOOK CO. 16 W. 14th St., N.Y. P.O. Box 4580

PLAYS! PLAYS! PLAYS! PLAYS! For Reading Clubs, for Amateur Theatricals, Temperance Plays, Drawing-Room Plays, Fairy Plays, Ethiopian Plays, Guide Books, Speakers, Pantomimes, Tableaux Lights, Magnesium Lights, Colored Fire, Burnt Cork, Theatrical Face Preparations, Jarley's Wax Works, Wigs, Beards, Moustaches, Costumes, Charades and Paper Scenery. New Catalogues sent free, containing full description and prices. SAMUEL FRENCH & SON, 38 E. 14th St., New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE. Best in the World. Get the genuine. Every package has our trade-mark and is marked Frazer's. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

If you enjoy a laugh heartily ... MURRAY HILL PUB. CO., Box 788, New York City.

NEW RICH BLOOD! Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

PRICE $20.

ANOTHER BOOM FOR AGENTS. MARK TWAIN'S NEW BOOK The Prince and the Pauper ... H. N. HINCKLEY, Publisher, 14 S. Canal St., Chicago, Ill.

5,000 Agents Wanted for Life of GARFIELD It contains the full history of his noble and eventful life and dastardly assassination. ... President. Fine steel portraits. Extra terms to Agents. Circulars free. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

Every Lady Desires to be well dressed. Now it is possible for all, even those who have little time and money, to be handsomely and fashionably attired. By a System entirely their own invention. The undersigned are enabled to furnish costumes, of which this picture represents one of the styles, at the astonishingly LOW PRICES Mentioned below. Cashmere Walking Dress, in Black, Garnet, Olive, Navy, Seal Brown, or any other color, at $5.50. Same, trimmed with rich novelty goods, at $7.75. Other qualities, $9.50 to $30. Catalogues FREE.

BLOOMINGDALE BROS., GENERAL PROVIDERS, 924, 926 & 928 Third Ave., and 160 & 162 E. 56th St., NEW YORK CITY.

"DIVORCED!" A Serial Story of Absorbing Interest, is commenced in the November number of ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE. ... T. S. ARTHUR & SON, Philadelphia. 10c.

WHEAT AND CORN. Now is the time to SPECULATE. J. T. FITZGERALD & CO., Commission Merchants, GRAIN AND PROVISIONS, 122 and 124 South Clark St., Chicago. Trading in lots of 1,000 bushels and upward. ...

HOP BITTERS. (A Medicine, not a Drink.) CONTAINS HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION, AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS. THEY CURE All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints. $1000 IN GOLD. Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them. Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no other. D I C is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics. SEND FOR CIRCULAR. All above sold by druggists. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

If you are Interested In the inquiry—Which is the best Liniment for Man and Beast?—this is the answer, attested by two generations: the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. The reason is simple. It penetrates every sore, wound, or lameness, to the very bone, and drives out all inflammatory and morbid matter. It "goes to the root" of the trouble, and never fails to cure in double quick time.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY.

C. N. U. No. 46

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Dr METTAUR'S Dr. METTAUR'S HEADACHE PILLS cure most wonderfully in a very short time both SICK and NERVOUS HEADACHE; and while acting on the nervous system, cleanse the stomach of excess of bile, producing a regular healthy action of the bowels. HEADACHE A full size box of these valuable PILLS, with full directions for a complete cure, mailed to any address on receipt of nine three-cent postage stamps. For sale by all druggists at 25c. Sole Proprietors, BROWN CHEMICAL COMPANY, Baltimore, Md. PILLS

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE. THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA., DEC 1, 1881

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

Butler.

A recent flying trip to our flourishing neighbor, Butler, satisfied us, that the "boom" there, is not entirely swept away. Everything is going on with a rush, and all seem contented, and have settled down to the belief that Butler is to be the future great city of this county. We met many familiar faces. Our old-time friend and fellow teacher, T. H. Shoub, looks the picture of content in his drug store, and takes naturally to the business. Everything is bright, clean and well arranged, and shows that he has carried his habits of exactness and industry into his new calling. His partner, Dr. Fanning, adds to the efficiency of the establishment, and is one of the best looking men in the place. The doctor is looking so fresh and well, that he is evidently fitting himself up for the holidays. We found Bro. Weamer up to his wrists in bran new type, and working and sweating in a fearfully post-prandial manner over his new job press, which by the way, is a fine one. He had all the leading geniuses in town attracted to his room, and all were assisting to get off the Thursday edition of the Review. The learned professions were well represented, pedagogue, by Professor Hubbell; medicine, by Dr. Carpenter, the art preservative, by C. F. Mosier, of the Bristol Banner, while at an half open door peeped in the fair proportions, Mr. Fosdick, a very suitable emblem of the prosperity generally supported to exist in the body corporate, (or otherwise) of the disciples of Blackstone. And in the midst of all, helping all, or helping himself, we don't know which, was F. A. Brink, representing, as we suppose, several of the professions already named. Weamer and Mosier said but little, in fact Weamer hadn't anything to say, he was too full for utterance. His thanksgiving turkey was such a surprise to his internal department, that he had run off the whole edition of the Review head downwards, regardless of expense or previous condition of servitude. Mosier quietly smoked his cigar, and set up locals reflecting on the busy editor and run them in on him in his then state of obliviousness. Weamer made them up with the rest, and worked them off, utterly unconscious that they contained anything more personal than turkey and cranberry sauce. Leaving for other scenes, we drifted into the sanctum of the Record, and found the new proprietors busy getting ready to issue the next day. Mr. Dodge and Mr. Garrison are going to work to keep up their business, and promise to give their patrons a good local paper. They have our best wishes.

We found our former railroad friend, D. W. Ocker, in possession of the Commercial, and full of business. At least thirty sat down to his well-loaded tables, at each meal during our stay, and it is but justice to say that he is keeping a first-class house, and doing all in his power to make his patrons comfortable. We also met our friend, Solomon Bordner, D. W. Tomlinson, O. L. Young and numerous others not forgotton, Phil. Plum and Ira Shook, both old citizens of Waterloo but now in the employ of the Lake Shore road at Butler.

* * *

—The following named persons participated in the festivities at the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gordon:

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. R. Elson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Silvers, Mr. and Mrs. A. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Culbertson, Mr. and Mrs. S. U. Tarney, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Rant, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKay, Mr. and Mr. A. S. Leas, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Houser, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ochs, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Culbertson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Otto, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. Chas Eckhart, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Casebeer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Albright, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ehlers, Mr. and Mrs. G. Rhodenhaugh, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cass, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Penfield, Mr. and Mrs. C. Emanuel, Mr. and Mr. H. E. Altenberg, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ensley, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Ensley, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kinmont, Mr. John Weaver and wife, Mr. Geo. Ensley and wife, Mr. T. Hellam and wife, Mr. P. J. Lockwood and wife, Mr. W. J. Austin and wife, Mr. Geo. [illegible] and wife, Mr. R. Houlster and wife, Mr. S. B. Ward and wife, Mr. M. Boland and wife, Mr. C. R. Crouse and wife, Ft. Wayne, Mr. W. P. Myers and wife, Mr. C. P. Crouse and wife, Ft. Wayne, Mr. E. D. Hartman and wife, Mr. R. H. Weamer and wife, Mr. J. A. McKay and wife, Mr. W. H. McIntosh and wife, Mr. J. Gerardot and wife, Mr. G. H. Yeshera, Miss Mary Sprott, Miss Nellie Potter, Miss Precilla Coder, Miss Ella McIntosh, Miss Mate Cleveland, Mr. Silas Noel, Mr. J. E. Ensley, Miss Mollie McKay, Mrs. Martha Dawson, Miss Lydia Hogue, Miss Laura Ensley, Miss Laura Hoffman, Mr. W. R. Hoffman, Miss Rebecca Cannon, Miss Opha Rhodefer, Mrs. F. McConnehay, Miss Josie Baker, Mr. Seigel Hoffman, Ft. Wayne, Miss Jennie Ensley, Mrs. J. Barberet, Mrs. E. Jones, Miss Lizzie Tess, Mr. Oliver Ensley, Mr. Elsworth Ensley.

County Orders.

Holders of DeKalb county orders are hereby notified that all orders registered prior to April 1st, 1880, will be redeemed if presented at the treasurer's office, in said county. No interest will be paid on said orders after December 5th, 1881.

L. J. MILLER, Tres.

* * *

THE attorney-general has decided that these Mutual Aid or in other words Graveyard Insurance Companies, are operating in this state in direct violation of our statute, and some are already liable for $10,000 damages. Agents also are liable to criminal prosecutions.

DR. FURNER, of Freemont, Indiana, died last week.

* * *

THERE seems to be a little grief in Mormondom.

Additional Local.

—Now it is Indian summer.

—Wait for the new furniture store.

Toy books all kinds and prices at Davenport's.

—The new furniture store will open up next week.

Ed. Baker has added a lunch room to his bakery.

Fine handkerchief extracts and fancy oder cases at Davenport's.

—Sheffer & Rush have the cheapest lap robes, blankets, etc., in town.

—Chicago furniture, the latest styles, will be sold in Auburn next week.

—Save your money by getting your shingles sawed at Zimmerman & Co's, 2

—"Where was that fire last night?" Insure with G. B. Zimmerman, Auburn.

—Fresh bread, cakes and pies can be had at Hollister's bakery on Sunday.

—Dr. Elson will now have his office open every day (except Sundays) in the week. 2t

All the standard poems in fancy binding, and at the very lowest prices, at Davenport's.

—Its no trouble to catch a cold now. A blind man can do it without extra exertion.

—Is there a man with soul so dead, that never to himself has said, Umbor's wood yard is not under a shed?

—The new bakery is in motion, and we direct your attention to the nice assortment of bread, cakes, buns, pies etc., displayed in the show window.

—Frank Bacon has taken up the sledge again at Garrett, and will fall back on his trade, as it were, for his future support.

—If there is any person to whom you feel a dislike, that is the person of whom you ought never to speak. But we all seem to act visa versa.

—Jas. McClellan, east of the creek, wants certain boys to know that, unless they leave his chickens alone, they may get a dose of shot.

—We are pleased to notice that Rev. W. L. Meese is doing a very prosperous business in the tombstone line. He has lately sold five first-class jobs of work.

—The Original South Carolinans gave a performance here last night to an appreciative audience. They will be at Garrett to-night.

—Mr. Vennor promises us a nice day Sunday. Now, if the marshal will see that the roads are scraped, the gals will stand a chance to get a buggy ride.

—A greenback with a hole in it will be received where a silver dollar having a hole in it would be refused. Our greenback friends should make a note of that.

—The Butler Review was printed "upside down" Saturday. This is generally pay day with printers and no blame should be attached to the paper.

—We have a bar tender who attends church regularly every Sunday evening. The lucre, however, has a deeper impression upon his soul than gospel words.

—Peter Young, the new tailor, has just received a lot of the latest styles of gents furnishing goods which he is prepared to make up on short notice. He guarantees good work and a neat fit.

—The M. E. sabbath-school will give an entertainment at the church Friday evening December 9th, for the purpose of raising funds for use of the school on Christmas. All are invited.

—A meeting will be held to-morrow (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock, at the M. E. church, to organize a class in vocal music, under the direction of Mr. Henry Gordon.

The Auburn Historical society will meet at Gordon's gallery next Wednesday evening, for the purpose of reorganizing for the winter. All members and others friendly to the society are requested to be present.

—There will be a meeting at Ben. Moor's barber shop on Monday evening next to arrange for a club dance. —Butler Review.

We should think the arrangement of a "mug dance" would bring the lather to the fat girl more satisfactory than a "club dance."

—Our friend, B. F. Moody, of Keyser township, left on our table, an ear of a new variety of corn on which each kernel is enclosed in a separate husk. He also left two bolls of genuine Texas cotton of his own raising.

—We have received from White, Smith & Co., of Chicago, a few selections of new sheet music. It is prepared with a view to the holiday trade, and comprises among others, Christmas Learols, The Puss, in Boot's series of easy pieces, The Little Beauties Series, and other sparkling gems. Send to them for catalogues, or for the music.

M. B. Willis has every show-case, drawer, and corner in his store cram full of nice holidays goods. He says they must be sold, and his motto is, "The best article for the least money;" so do not fail to see him.

Useful and ornimental—those new Unique Wall Pockets, for holding your brushes and combs. They are just the thing to present to your wife, for a christmas present. For sale by Davenport, the druggist.

—We advise our Garrett readers to attend the concert to-night. They'll be fully repaid.

Waterloo.

Mr. Speer is building a new barn and otherwise improving his property.

George Crowl and Miss Hattie A. Crooks were married last week, at the residence of the bride's father, R. N. Crooks, Rev. F. F. Christine officiated. By some means the notice sent us last week, was overlooked.

F. P. Day is busy as ever putting up hardware, and selling those Gem Wringers that do up into a clothes rack when you are done washing.

John F. Maxson is making a fine veranda for his brick residence in the west part of town.

Achilles Blaker brother of Miss Jennie Blaker, who is teaching in the schools here, returned to his home in Butler, Tuesday afternoon. He shook hands with several of his friends as he went through this place, and seemed glad that his long journey of eighteen days, was so near at an end. He has resided in Oregon for nearly four years, and will pay a few weeks visit to his parents at the old home in Butler.

The passenger train going south on the Jackson road last Saturday afternoon, killed two horses for Daniel Krum, who lives north of town.

John Leas will not need to make stock buying an excuse for going to Angola, after this week. It is all right Uncle John, and we hope the matter will be in every way satisfactory.

Miss Alice Draggoo spent Tuesday in town visiting the family of her uncle, L. J. Blair.

Miss Ola Leib and Miss Emma Waterman are home for vacation. They are both attending at Hillsdale college, Hillsdale, Mich.

Bassett & Maxson are busy tying up clocks etc., for their customers, and getting things in shape for the holiday trade.

Johnny Fisher is still at his post, and expresses himself well pleased with his business prospects.

Ike Mannheimer says everything is lovely and the goose hangs high. And it will always be so with Ike when the dry goods trade is booming to suit him.

There is always a crowd about Kuhn & Co's. store. A sure sign of good business.

Brand & Duncan are as busy as ever, and the way they do up and send out groceries, is an inspiring sight. Their latest venture, however, was sending a car-load of wood to South Bend. If the South Benders were as deep in the mud as we have been in the mire in this county, for a fews weeks, it must have been a regular godsend.

The Anderson brothers, formerly of Auburn, are talking of locating here. If they do this, they will start again in the business of manufacturing of wagons and carriages. They come well recommended and are not unknown to many of our people.

C. P. Urie, the accommodating day operator, at Corunna, came down and stayed over night with F. P. Blair while he was home.

Mrs. J. A. Barns was in town last week, calling on her many friends.

Mr. B. F. Kennedy made a trip to Auburn last Friday.

Thanksgiving night some miscreants took a hand car belonging to the Lake Shore road, in position and placed it on the main track, about a mile and a half west from the station. The fast train going east struck it, but fortunately no damage was done, except to the hand car, which was converted into scrap iron and kindling wood in short order. These smart young men should be hunted down and prosecuted to the extent of the law for their muderous attempt at train wrecking. Whiskey, no doubt, played an important part in this proceeding.

Mrs. J. I. Best and family spent thanksgiving with her father, P. B. Nimons, of Willmington township.

Homer Henning is now doing duty as night station man, at the Lake Shore station.

A. C. Grubiky has resigned his position as editor of the young folks department, in the Indiana Farmer.

If you should see J. D. McAnally draw something mysterious from his inner coat pocket, don't run, thinking that he is about to make an attempt at your life with an infernal machine, for he is only going to show you his new fangled car coupler, which he has invented.

Jacob Penneton, of Fremont, Ohio, was in town last week, and disposed of his property here, in the west part of town, to Jacob Lacher.

Mrs. Daniel Smith spent Sunday in Auburn with her daughter, Mrs. Will Rainier.

W. B. Johnson & Co. have nearly sold out their stock. After this is done, they will go out of business, and return to their former home in Ohio.

Hon. Freeman Kelley is making things lively, hauling wood. He can manage two teams, each with a big load of wood, and thus equipped, he comes to town twice a day, while the roads are good. It is this disposition to roll up his sleeves and help himself, that made him so popular when he ran for congress a few years ago.

R. N. Crooks was in town Monday, getting an outfit for his new son-in-law. Judging from the loads he was taking home, he was doing better by the young couple than any one had ever done by him, when he started in life years ago. It is to be hoped that the young folks of to-day appreciate the advantages they enjoy.

Albert Buchanan and wife, of Corunna, were in town on business on Monday. Their son, Elmer Buchanan, is now teaching in Fairfield township.

E. R. Blattner was at home over Sunday.

E. E. Long is at home for a few days attending to business at the hotel.

Thanksgiving services at the M. E. church were quite interesting and well attended. The sermon by Rev. Shaffer, was an excellent one, and listened to with marked attention. The choir furnished some choice music, and assisted to make the services unusually appropriate and attractive.

* * *

FAIRFIELD CENTER.

Roads are fast drying out, and it is one of the things to which our people point with pride, that we always have the best roads in the county.

Wheat is looking fair, that is, what the fly has left of it. Those who have visited other parts of the county, say that the fly has done more damage in Fairfield than in any other township in the county.

Schools have now begun, and the teachers were all here last week, holding their township institute. They all seem wide awake and ready for the winter's work. District No. 3 has a new school house, which may delay the beginning of the school a little, owing to the non arrival of the desks.

Dr. Rudolph has severed his connection with the drug store, having sold his interest to his partner, Mr. Boughman. The doctor is getting a large and valuable practice, being called for in all directions.

Mr. Boughman has bought his partner's interest in the drug store, and has added a fine assortment of groceries and other staple articles, to supply his increasing trade. He is a good business man and believes in keeping things lively.

Solomon Reinoehl, trustee, was here during the institute, and gave the teachers some good work. It might be added, that he attended to their material wants, also, by bringing along a basket ful of provisions each day.

We noticed the following teachers on our streets Monday and Tuesday: Libbie Bevier, Emma Husselman, Callie Britton, Frank Seiler, W. N. Shatto, Oron Bair, Elmer Buchanan, Geo. Urey, Leslie Ash and J. P. Kandel.

The stores here are doing a good business, in spite of the bad weather. We have recently had an addition to our mercantile interests. Mr. M. A. Boughman has added a full line of groceries, notions etc., to his stock of goods, and is ready to take produce in exchange.

Mr. Ernest, south of our village, has the nicest flock of turkies this side of the Sea of Mormora. We would advise them to roost high about the holidays. They look tempting.

Quite a number of people from the county around here, attended the institute. Among these, were Leander Buchanan and his family. Mr. Buchanan shows great interest in the success of our schools.

CORUNNA.

Business is brisk, especially in hogs and lumber.

R. M. Lockhart and Robert Patterson, of Waterloo, and a Mr. Andrews, from London, Canada, as well as Mr. Hatch, were in town last week, to attend to shipping several car-loads of lumber, mostly walnut.

J. A. Barns was at the teachers' institute last Wednesday and Thursday. All the teachers were present, and the institute passed off very pleasantly. The following teachers were present: J. A. McIntyre, F. S. McCollough, Ellen Imus, W. Franks, C. C. Cissell, Josie Rush, Josiah Shull, Milo Thomas, Rebecca Shull, U. S. Smith, McCord and Josie Smith, Trustee Franks was also in attendance and assisted materially. All were entertained free of charge.

Henry Becher is finishing his brick house. When completed it will be one of the best farm residences in the county. He has showed excellent judgment in the arrangement, as well as the finishing of his house.

Mr. Wise is building a fine residence just north of the school house.

The usual annual scare about the school house is now raging. Mr. Orr, the director, and Mr. Franks have examined the building, and consider it safe. Means will also be taken to strengthen it, so that parents need fear no danger to their children.

Joseph Conrad has moved his family back from Garrett, and will teach school in Fairfield township this winter. His school will be in district No. 4.

Paulus Calkins is building a new house for Charles Knapp. It will be a nice, comfortable home.

The Union Hotel, kept by Mr. Imus, is still as popular as ever. The proprietor is respectful and gentlemanly in his treatment of his guests, and knows how to conduct a hotel. His thanksgiving turkey and its accompanying dishes, furnished a treat to an appreciative company, who sat down to his table that day.

Austin Imus was home from Butler last Thursday, to spend thanksgiving with his parents.

Com. Urie went to Waterloo one day last week to visit friends.

* * *

New stock of German accordeons and violins just received at Bassett & Maxson's jewelry store in Waterloo.

There is a rare chance for selecting holiday gifts and wedding presents, at Bassett & Maxson's in Waterloo.

For good lunch, hot coffee and oysters, go to Ed. Baker's lunch room, second door west of Davenport's. 48 2w.

Tub oysters at 30 cents a quart can always be found at Ed. Baker's. Give them a trial. 48-3w.

Good mince meat ready prepared at Ed. Baker's, at 12½ cents a pound. It saves time and labor. 48-3w

* * *

Gold pens, pencils and tooth picks. The best and cheapest in the world, at Davenport's.

Holiday juvenile books, also all the standard poets bound in elegant style, at Davenport's.

A splendid assortment of cloth, hair and tooth brushes, combs, dressing cases, fancy box papers, ladies hand bags, purses and card cases, at Davenport's.

—Chas. Comesky, of Jackson township has a new gate.

A JOKE ON BASSETT & MAXSON.—A few days ago a party came up to their store, and seeing a lot of barrels and boxes, wanted to know if there was the place where they packed apples. The barrels and boxes contained a large lot of their late purchases of silverware, gold and silver watches, for their fall and holiday trade.

PANA, ILL., Dec. 28, 1880.—We have tried your Ague Tonic and found it good—hard to beat. J. H. YANNELL. 3

Final Settlement.

Notice is hereby given to the creditors heirs and legatees of Simon Rohm, deceased, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December 1881, and show cause if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 2d day of November, 1881.

JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

MARRIAGES.

On Thanksgiving day by Rev. W. L. Meese, Geo. W. Beber to Lydia Hall.

On Nov. 24, by Rev. Meese, John C. Clark to Eva Wise.

On Nov. 27, by Rev. Meese Wm. J. Stroh to Laura B. Platner.

On Nov. 24, by Rev. Christine, John H. Wagner and Emma Gilland.

On Nov. 24, by Rev. Christine, Ed. B. Musser and A. E. Betts.

This is a pretty good lay out for Thanksgiving, but the holidays will unfold more wonderful tales.

—If you want something substantial always patronize a dealer who makes a specialty of the article. Go to the harness shop for robes, blankets, and other goods of this nature.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Henry Kabler, deceased, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make of proof heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

46-2w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881.

Levi H. Cupp is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court, for a divorce, by Julia Cupp, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 18th juridical day, at nine o'clock a. m., of the next term of said court, which commences December 19, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 14th day of November, 1881

JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

46-3w.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors' heirs and legatees of George W. Essig, deceased, John B. Grube, Administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

48-3w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors heirs and legatees of John J. Gall, deceased, Oliver P. Learned, Administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

48-2w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

STILL AT THE FRONT!

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPL PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cents
BEST SHIRTING	10 cents
GOOD MUSLIN	6 cents

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb.	Best Japan Tea	46c. per lb.
Coffee A Sugar	10c. per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb.
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. perlb.
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. perlb.
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. perlb.
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb. 6 for	$1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb.
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per lb.
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000--sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM, PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ENSLEY &
HARTER

Are now showing an

Elegant Line!

—OF—

NEW GOODS

Which they have

Just Received

And are selling at

BOTTOM PRICES!

Please Examine our Goods, and compare prices.

ENSLEY & HARTER

—When the young ladies are considerate enough to get up a party these long evenings, the boys should appreciate their efforts and acknowledge the invitation by their appearance. To say that they have "other business" —other business is good—(forgive us for this lie) is only a left handed insult, and such young men should take a jump out of society circles immediately—on account of their business, you know. Take the matter home, and see if it would not be a little embarassing. Prepare some wine and cigars and invite your friends to spend an evening with you. You arrange the room and have everything look inviting; but no one comes. How would you feel sitting there alone beside a big demijohn waiting in vain for your guests to appear?

—The little folks are already having pleasant dreams of Santa Clause and of the many toys he "will bring them." The dolls and china sets for the little girls, steam engines, ponies and guns for the boys. The merchants are studying the many enticing things to put up in the show window for the purchasers to gaze upon. We all look forward to a happy time, and let the days roll on speedily until the christmas day has come.

—Under the new law the judge or judges, or a majority of them, of the circuit, criminal and superior courts of each county of the state, may appoint one or more short hand reporters, to take down, in short hand, the evidence and to note proceedings in the trial, whenever the judge thinks proper to have it done, or when the parties to the case agree that it shall be done. No person is ineligible to the office on account of sex.

—After the concert Sunday evening a man who was anxious to get home, or one who had corns, was in a bad condition. Trouble is brewing and a call is momentarily expected for 100,000 soldiers, all good looking young men, to stand guard at the church doors to prevent the girls from recklessly rushing forth after services are over. Our young men should rise in their might and help put this evil down.

—Ministers and justice of the peace should understand that the law of 1852 concerning the return of the certificate has been revived by the new code. Sec. 230 says: "Whoever, having solemnized a marriage and fails to return a certificate, with the license therefor, shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $500.

—We can't help entertaining a severe respect for that science which can instantaneously photograph a living horse, but forces a man to sit for four eternal minutes in front of a camera, his head braced into a pitchfork and his nerveless eyes staring relentlessly out into the realms of the undefinable.

—The wood haulers have been rushing in that material at a rapid pace this week. Prices started out at $150 an "arm full" but are to-day down to $1 and $1.25. The town is well supplied for the present, however a number of cords would yet be purchased, if they could be obtained at living prices.

—The sun came out warm and bright last Sunday early in the morning. The men donned their white vests and the girls put on their "fixe up" hats. But along the middle of the day old Sol hid behind the clouds and a cold air caused a change of garments in the afternoon.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—Concert to-night.

—Changeble weather.

—Last Sunday was Advent day.

—South Bend has a mush factory.

—The Republican has a new dress.

—The roads are passable in town.

—The stave factory is shut down this week.

—Give us an old fashioned snow storm.

—Go and hear the Slayton company to-night.

—Have you seen the sign at the new bakery.

—Wash Askew has quit the hack business.

—Tom. Sommers is painting his saloon front.

—Now wear flannel shirts—if you have them.

—Did you read the sidewalk ordinance, boys?

—Tarney had a market full of porkers Monday.

—Sheriff Leas drives a nobby little pacing pony.

—Sherm. Hollister will open his bakery this week.

—Monday and Tuesday were delightful days.

—The store box force have been out for a few days.

—Have you tried the bread at the new Star bakery?

—Yesbera's force were on a "fishing excursion" this week.

—Bill Sthair is having new forges put in his shop this week.

—The writer is under obligations to Dennis Lanham for favors.

—Diptheria, in a very light form, is among some of our children.

—Venor's Indian summer was postponed on account of the cold.

—Will our school give an entertainment at the close of the term?

—Mrs. Daniel Kosht living northeast of town was buried here Sunday.

—The cases of small pox are uncomfortably numerous at Fort Wayne.

—Mable Hartman was the attractive feature at the Sunday-school concert.

—The Sheriff is busily engaged preparing for the coming term of court.

—Dave Ober will put a lot of men in the woods and make bolts this winter.

—Jimmy McClellan and Mr. Henry Martin (g. l.) are now city bill posters.

—Blessed is the school boy who sits upon a bent pin, for he shall rise again.

—The band meeting was all right Monday night, a full attendance being present.

—French Pete's wife attended the concert Sunday evening, but Pete was not there.

—Patty Umber caught a fellow with a Bunch of his stove wood "early in de morning."

—Some of the boys say, when they stay up all night, that they have neuralgia in the face.

—Father Young's brother will open a tailor shop in the building vacated by Zook, on Seventh street.

—D stands for doctor and also for dog. Both have to be registered according to the celebrated new law.

—Mrs. M. H. Brown was buried last Saturday. She was a daughter of Thos. Cool.

—John Ehlers has quite a curiosity in the shape of a large piece of bark form the cork tree.

—A. Kahn & Co., of Seymore, Wis., are in town buying horses. Farmers can do well with this firm.

—We place the Indianapolis Sunday Gossip upon our exchange list. It is a well arranged paper, indeed.

—A second trial of A. J. Johnson, of this county, at Fort Wayne, Monday, resulted in acquitting the defendant.

—The agricultural shed beside Pommert's barber shop has been torn down. This will give the bill posters a better show.

—S. B. Teagardner is holding meeting at Coburn's Corners. He will deliver a sermon at St. Joe, at 2:30 P. M. Dec. 4.

—Mr. Fuller made a big mistake when he placed the words on the bottom of his bills, "a collection will be taken up."

—Gamblers in New York, Boston and other cities are betting heavily that Gitteau will be hanged. We hope they'll win.

—James Potter holds up his right hand and says, that some sun-of-a-gun has stole two cords of his wood so far this winter.

—Hod Kircher is out of a situation by the change in barber shops. We are sorry for this as he is one of the best barbers in town.

—Rev. Norris, the Methodist minister, delivered the Thanksgiving sermon at the Presbyterian church. It is said to have been a fine effort.

—Devore, the great weather prophet, predicts a very mixed up assortment of weather for this winter. Uncle Gregg, we hear, is out of the business.

Thanksgiving Day.

The day was quiet and solemn, with about as much life in the business circles as there was two hundred and sixty-one years ago, when the Puritans struck this country. The national custom was fully carried out in the way of sermon and prayer. The stores were closed part of the day, and many of our business men attended services.

—We have the promise of a number of new subscribers who are republicans, as soon as their time expires with other papers. They tell us they want the local news and that they can get general reading matter a great deal cheaper than county papers give them. This is true, and the time will soon come when the patronage of country papers will depend entirely upon the local ability of its editor.

—We learn that the Kendallville Standard office took fire last Thursday night from negligence of some of the employes. Now, Hank, write up a half column something in this wise: Winter is here, and our readers should be very particular about fire. Use every precaution to have the stove pipe securely wired, and place zinc under the stove, etc.

—We noticed one of our young ladies flirting with a stranger at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The fellow was "on the mash" from the fact that he came into the church when services were half over. He did'nt come for any gospel, sure. Go it, girls, advice would only be wasted on the "desert air."

—Many of our young readers would like to know of the whereabouts of their former companion Charley Picker, jr. He is now at Coffeeville, Kansas, living with his uncle, Geo. Picker, whom many of our little fellows will remember when a resident of this place.

—We intended to write a song for the boys at the Leas hotel, but "space will not permit." Here's a starter and we'll appoint French Pete to finish it:

"The day is past and gone,
The evening shades appear."

All sing.

—All week we have had beautiful weather, making it appear more like April than November. This morning the cold, chilly winds of December made their appearance and the weather has changed.

—A New Haven young woman has twice postponed her marriage after the wedding guests had assembled, giving no reason, except that she was not quite ready. The affianced husband is hopeful.

—Wonder if this is our Doc. The Garrett Herald says, "Dr. Cowan had a dorg by a rope yesterday, leading it around. There was more rope than dog, but he will grow, and be the dog-gone-dest dog you ever saw."

—And now "Capt." Cook, who slapped the mouth of the man who said he was glad Garfield was shot, wants his "heroic patriotism" recognized by being appointed door keeper of the House of Representatives.

—One of the COURIER boys lost a small black pocket book which he would like to come in possession of again. There was nothing inside of it, except the lining. The finder will be, etc.

—There was a regular old fashion country dance at Groscop's, two miles north of town, last night. The girls danced with Sheets around their waists and Billy Murphy played tenor on a bass violin.

—Wabash Courier: "Some country editors are born poor, some achieve poverty and some have poverty thurst upon them by the blasted Ananiases who promise to pay their subscriptions in wood.

—The COURIER office printed some blanks to be filled out and signed by our rural citizens, granting the commissioners the privilege to allow the gravel road project to go bravely on.

—Thos. A. Star has sold a half interest in the Hicksville News to his brother. If its his younger brother Thomas will do the bossing and the y. b. the "locking up" business.

—The ladies of the M. E. church will give a corn social at the lecture room on next Wednesday afternoon supper from five till six. A very cordial invitation is extended to all.

—Frank Culbertson and Hank Lesh had a "political" argument last Friday. They express-ed their views very differently considering the fact that they are both republicans.

—Our readers will notice that we occasionally say "grave yard insurance". We take this from the Pennsylvania Dutchman who calls life insurance, grave yard insurance.

—Dr. Littlefield has a new kind of a "bycicle," called a road cart. It is very attractive, rides easy and is convenient when roads are in the present condition.

—Charley Pommert and Mr. Zook have consolidated their shave shops, and in the future will conduct the business at the place of the former, next door to Tom. Sommers.

—The Butler Review is noised around considerably amoung our boys. Its on the comodore style, but sends forth a large collection of condensed news from her tri-weekly battery.

Of Course, Julia.

The following note was given us Monday by a bright lad of about ten summers, who said, with a sardonic grin, "Julia sent it:"

"Hank Littell, you Told theodore Kessler What Kind of a Wif to git And I want you to tel me What kind of a feller to git, I hav not much education but other wase I am as good and sound as any girl.

JULIA JONES."

Mon Ami (that's Latin, Julia,) never marry a man with a bald head. After the honeymoon, Julia, you are liable to have an occasional jangle and the hair pulling will be all one sided. Shun the man who takes in the "rosy," Julia, because you will be compelled to wear coarse shoes and calico dresses to holiday hops. And now, while we think of it, never hook on to a printer. Printers are unlike most men; they don't like to be loved and soothed, and would rather have a woman who can swing a broom-handle with neatness and dispatch. There is something in their rough, earnest nature we cannot explain. The best sort of a man for you, Julia, would be a road agent. These fellows you can take by the nose and lead them through life so that the neighbors will know that you are boss of the ranch. And when you tell him to get up in the night in his shirt (sleeves) and bounce a burglar—and he knows it's nothing but a bob-tail cow two blocks away that you hear—he will always go, and feel as though he has done a special favor for his little wife. He will chase that lame cow across ten vacant lots with a stave splint, and clothed in nothing but a little brief authority and a night shirt. We can not describe this unseen motive that some women have. It is a nameless leverage, and will make a man get up at midnight and set the pancake batter near the parlor stove. Accordingly, Julia, we would advise you to get mashed on a road agent, and hoping we have done you a great favor for your future welfare and prosperity, we close. Au revoir (that's French, Julia).

"The Redeye."

The temperance lecture delivered by Harvy A. Fuller, at the M. E. church Sunday evening, was very well arranged and passably spoken. But to sum it down, what do these good people know about intemperance? Mr. Fuller never saw a glass of whisky—he has been blind from youth. These good people (persons who have never drank liquor, or had any temptation to do so) take it upon themselves to stand before a public audience and talk for an hour or two on a subject they know nothing about whatever. They tell the man who drinks that he is doing an injury to himself, depriving his family of the necessaries of life, degrading himself in society, etc. The very men they are telling this to know ten times more about the results of intemperance than these good people ever thought of. They are good, simply because they never had any temptation to be otherwise. Put some of them in the man's place who drinks, surround them with the influence of a rough life, and nine-tenths of these good people will be worse than the average bar customer. There is nothing or no one who can tell the drinking man of his folly as well as his own conscience and experience. The surroundings of a happy home, the cheerful appearance of a loving wife and the taking by the hand of the "good people," will do more in one week to appease the appetite of an unfortunate man than all the temperance lecturers on God's footstool could do in a century. Try our side of the question, christians, and we guarantee your abundant success.

Give Us a Boost.

In commencing the twelfth volume of the COURIER, which begins the first of January, 1882, we would like to have several hundred new subscribers added to our list. With the assistance of our democratic friends throughout the county we could easily reach that number, and if is not too much trouble, we ask them to speak a good word for us to those who are not taking the paper. We don't propose to offer any trifling premiums to induce the people to patronize us. If the COURIER itself is not worth the price asked for, don't take it. Subscribe for a city "weakly," where you read nothing but political steals and market reports, and then borrow the COURIER of your neighbors to find the county and local news.

Gravel Roads.

This community should invest $50,000 and make good roads leading to Auburn. There is nothing that will bring trade to a town in the winter time like good roads. A number of our citizens are interesting themselves at present, and are doing all they can to secure gravel roads. One or two men can not accomplish this however, and we hope every citizen in Auburn and the farmers living in this vicinity will take an earnest part in the matter and push the enterprise forward rapidly.

Personal.

—D. D. Moody went north Monday.

—Billy Kruger is back from Garrett.

—Harry Rush is at Angola this week.

—Miss Nellie Wheelock has come home.

—Hon. E. D. Hartman was at Wayne Tuesday.

—Dave Hampton came home Tuesday evening.

—Cal. Headly, of Newville, was in town Monday.

—Mrs. Geo. Schaab went south on the Saginaw Monday.

—Johnny McIntyre, of telegraph fame is about town again.

—Mrs L. J. Miller has been visiting at Corunna, several days.

—Dorse Foshey, now at Cromwell, Ind., Sundayed in town.

—Sam. Puffenberger is on the streets again, after a short illness.

—Toba Rush ate turkey and cranberry sass at home Thanksgiving.

—Tom Spratt took a Pullman coach north on the Saginaw, Monday.

—Hon. W. G. Colerick has our thanks for valuable public documents.

—J. A. McKay and son have returned home from their Michigan trip.

—Miss Hattie Brink is again stopping with the family of Clerk Baxter.

—Jacob Briggs, of St. Paris, Ohio, is visiting his son-in-law, Jacob Walborn.

—John Reesch left for Detroit, Monday morning, where he will work at his trade.

—Miss Rallie Crane, of Waterloo, was the guest of Miss Frankie Ryan last Friday.

—Miss Fanny Clark, of Waterloo, spent Sunday in town, visiting with friends.

—John Robbins came home Saturday evening and remained over Sunday with his "family."

—D. D. Snyder, esq., spent several days in Chicago last week, buying goods and doing other business.

—Mr. Knapp, at one time on the editorial staff of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, gave us a call last Thursday.

—E. P. Elson, dentist, who has been practising in Wooster, Ohio,, is now assisting his brother in this place.

—Wm. Ryan has been suffering with a sore throat this week. He uses our grandmother's cure, red flannel.

Mr. L. J. Hopkins and wife, and Ira Eaten and lady, are stopping with their parents Mr. & Mrs. W. L. Meese.

—Moses Masters, who has been out west for eight years, returned recently and will locate in Jackson township.

—Will. McOscar, of Summitt, was in town Tuesday. He intends to accept a position in the railroad office at Garrett.

—We are under obligations to G. W. Swank, of Jackson township, for a lot of the nicest new corn meal in the market.

—The party who attended the cotton exposition have returned. Wonder if Vourhees speech suited their tasts pretty well.

—Aly. Weir and his younger brother are home. They have been working at the chair trade at Indianapolis. The c. t. is a good trade.

—Miss Viola Flickinger, of South Whitley, and Miss Reprogle, of Silver Lake, are visiting in the family of J. J. Martin, at the Junction.

—We learn by postal that our young friend Frank Larimore, now at the city of St. Johns, Ind., will leave soon for the village of Chicago, Ill.

—Mr. Fuller, the temperance lecturer, gave us a call before leaving, and he spoke highly of the manner in which he was treated by our temperance people here and at Garrett.

—While at Corunna last week we called on the Head Light office, and found our friend, J. C. Loveland, temporarily off duty, attending to an attack of ague.

—We received a pleasant call from C. F. Mosier of the Bristol Banner, last Monday. Bro. M. is a former DeKalb county boy and one of the wide-awake newspaper men in Northern Indiana.

—W. W. Spangler was home from Bloomington, last week, for a short vacation. He reports all well at the University and speaks an especial good word for H. A. Hoffman who is now teaching at that institution.

—Jennie Cowan will attend to the duties of her father's office this winter while he is engaged outside. Jennie is a bright, intelligent girl, and we will vouch for her correctness and promptness; or in the language of Shakespere, she will

"With the speediest expedition Dispatch him to the emperor's court."

—County Superintendent J. A. Barns, of Auburn, one of the editors of the COURIER, was in town Thanksgiving day, and called at the Review office. He reports the schools of the county in a flourishing condition, nearly all having commenced their winter term.—Butler Review.

—Wicked boys were skating on the creek Sunday. Good little boys on their way to Sunday-school eyed the naughty boys wistfully and wondered why it was that the Sabbath breakers did'nt fall into the water and drown, as written down in Sunday school books.

—Small robberies are reported every week. It would be well to see that everything is securely locked these nights.

Sunday-School Concert.

The Presbyterian school gave a concert at the church last Sunday evening. As usual, every seat was occupied, and the audience sat so crowded that there was but little pleasure in listening to the long programme. A good way to reduce such crowds from attending these entertainments, would be to charge ten cents at the door, and we will vouch for plenty of seat room. The evening was pleasantly passed by the little folks, and all went home jubilant and happy. A wreath of evergreen on the pulpit platform showed skill of some of the scholars.

A Bold Theft.

A widow woman, living in the south end, named Mrs. Dysert, had some sneak thief enter her cellar the other night and take away all of her canned fruit. A man who would be so low and contemptible to steal from widow women, deserves being cremated alive. The party who did the act was undoubtedly acquainted with the surroundings of the premises, and there are several parties in the neighborhood who are suspicioned as being the low cur that perpetrated the crime. Our officers should look up the matter, and lay the law lash to the scoundrel in full force.

Watch for Him.

A low-lived, ill-begotten whelp, named Myron Miles, a bigamist, broke jail at Lagrange, Indiana, last week, and is now at large. We give a description of him, copied from the Register: "Height, about 5 feet 7 inches; light complexion, hazel eyes, sunken cheeks, thin face, two teeth out in front; age, about 45 years; weight, about 180 pounds; had, when he left, a thin, sandy mustache, and chin whiskers; is a patentee of a gate and ironing board; claims to be religious; sometimes exhorts or preaches; took with him two suits of clothes—one suit navy blue, the other suit gray—one black overcoat, Arctic overshoes and a stiff rim hat."

Remember This.

Those of our friends who have communications to be inserted in the COURIER must bring the same to the office not later than Tuesday to insure publication. We have the greater part of our matter written and arranged by that time, and we don't feel like wasting our time and labor for one week by throwing our articles aside and publishing long communications, which, perhaps, will only interest a few concerned. We are willing, however, to accommodate all, but if their productions are not in at the proper time, it is their fault and not ours, consequently they must attach the blame to themselves if they are not published.

The Local Editor.

If a man buys a new buggy, or if his cow can bawl three times without winking, the local is expected to proclaim it with a grand flourish. If he starts a two penny business, his first thought is to bribe the local with a five cent cigar to write up a five dollar puff. Indeed, he thinks it is a mission of the local to make his fortune for him by free "blowing." He will take the local to one side and point out the superior qualities of a rat-terrier dog, and coolly ask the local to give the dog a "hoist." He don't care anything about it, only Spriggins has a dog which he thinks is a buster, and some of 'em wanted his "put in" just to take the conceit out of Spriggins.

Everybody wants to be "put in." They are the "Great I Am," but no one says: "Here, local, put yourself inside this new suit of clothes," or "throw yourself outside of this oyster stew," or "stuff this watch into your pocket." Oh, no, of course not; that would cost something. The shoe is on the other foot, you see.

The local is supposed to know everything about other people's business, and is expected to show up all the actors in every family broil in town. If the vile tongue of scandal finds a victim, people wonder why he don't run about with his note-book and gather up the vituperative bits of slander for his paper.

If he steps into a billiard hall, he is requested to make a note of the astonishing fact that Bill Tompkins has made a run of eleven points.

When the ministrel troupe arrives in town, the agent immediately rushes into the printing office, and, calling for the local, he slips three or four tickets into his hand, and whispers: "Draw us a big house. Put it in strong." And patting him patronizingly on the shoulder, he admits the inferiority of the troupe, but we are not to "let on."

It is no sin for the local to lie. To please the lecturer, the local is forced to sit two mortal hours to hear him through an insipid discourse, so that he can "write him up."

And so it goes. All are anxious to appear in print, but few are willing to pay for it. The local's time is worth nothing but to bother his head writing puffs for ambitious persons. It doesn't cost him anything to live; he never eats, or drinks, or travels, and is of no consequence to him. Put it in! Put it in!

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1881.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

THE Pacific National Bank, of Boston, was forced into suspension by heavy advances to a mining operator named Theodore C. Weeks. Its paid-up capital is $930,000, but it has never secured membership in the Clearing-House Association....George Law, the well-known New York capitalist, died last week.

THE WEST.

THE main building of the Ohio Idiotic Asylum, near Columbus, has been destroyed by fire. There were 614 children in the school-rooms of the building at the time the fire broke out, but, owing to the perfect discipline and the coolness and presence of mind of the lady teachers, every one of them escaped uninjured. The loss is estimated at from $200,000 to $250,000....A passenger train on the Springfield and Northwestern railroad went through a trestle-work across a ravine about two miles west of the Sangamon river crossing, and was precipitated a distance of twenty feet. Fourteen persons were injured more or less seriously.

ED MAXWELL, alias Williams, who, with his brother Lon, murdered Sheriff Coleman and his brother in Wisconsin, and afterward killed the Sheriff of Calhoun county, Ill., was lynched a few days ago by a mob of excited citizens at Durand, Wis. The prisoner had been taken to the Court House, preparatory to examination before a Justice of the Peace. He made a statement, confessing the shooting of the Coleman brothers and what he claimed to be the facts connected with the affair, and that he should claim that it was done in self-defense. Immediately thereafter a rope was thrown over his neck. He made a feeble but momentary effort to release himself, but was instantly jerked down, then through the aisle down the stairway to the ground, and dragged to a tree a few rods distant. The rope was thrown over a limb and Ed Maxwell was left swinging between earth and heaven.

LIEUT. LUKE CLARK, of the United States army, threw himself in front of a moving train at Bucyrus, Ohio, and was cut to pieces. For three months he has been engaged in courting a lady....A mulatto named Chris Davis, lying in jail at Athens, Ohio, for an outrageous assault upon Mrs. Lucky, was lynched by a masked mob. The Sheriff was overpowered, while Davis was taken out and hanged to the timbers of a bridge over the Hocking river.

THE SOUTH.

SEVERAL packages of registered letters and considerable money were taken from a stage near Laredo, Texas, by two masked road agents. Seven passengers were robbed. ....Gen. Gordon has driven the first spike on the Georgia Pacific railway, at Atlanta.

IN Texas highwaymen are carrying things with a high hand. A freight train standing on a side track a few miles from Palestine was attacked by seven masked men. The train men were driven off and a dozen cars robbed of their contents. A stage-coach was halted between San Antonio and Laredo, and the passengers relieved of their money and valuables. A store and the postoffice at Smithville, Bastrop county, were robbed by a band of masked men.

WASHINGTON.

THE tenth census of the United States will be completed in a few weeks. So far the cost has been $3,860,068. When it meets, Congress will be asked for $640,000 additional to complete the work.

BILL JONES was arraigned in the Police Court at Washington for firing at Guiteau and was jailed, in default of $5,000 bail. The police failed to identify him as the man who did the shooting, and, whether he is or is not the would-be avenger, there is little likelihood of his ever being punished for the act. Public sentiment at Washington is all on his side.

ACTING POSTMASTER GENERAL HATTON has decided that matter produced by a hand stamp, type writer or copy press is prima facie subject to first-class rates of postage, but where it is shown that the matter is intended for use among more than two parties, and is not personal to the parties, it is not subject to first-class rates....Chief Justice Waite rendered a decision in the Supreme Court, holding that the capital of a bank invested in foreign countries can be taxed in the United States. ....Seven indictments against Capt. Howgate have been returned by the Washington Grand Jury.

A WASHINGTON dispatch of Nov. 23 says: "William Jones, who attempted Guiteau's life on Saturday, was brought from jail, and arraigned in the Police Court on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. Jones, by his counsel, waived examination, the court fixing his bond at $5,000. Messrs. E. G. Wheeler and Elkester Aman went on his bond in the amount named, and Jones was released. He left the court and mounted his sorrel steed, riding off amid the plaudits of the crowd. So far, $600 has been subscribed for his defense."

POLITICAL.

A CONFERENCE was held in Philadelphia by twenty-five prominent Republicans who supported the regular ticket at the late election to take measures to abolish the control of Pennsylvania by the Camerons by capturing the next State Convention.

THE official vote for State Treasurer of Pennsylvania was: Bailey, Republican, 265,295 (plurality, 7,864); Noble, Democrat, 257,431; Wolfe, Independent Republican, 49,984.

MR. BLAINE states that he will not be a candidate either for the Governorship of Maine or the United States Senatorship, but will devote himself entirely to his private affairs.

MAHONE predicts that all men opposed to sectionalism will be invited to participate in the next National Republican Convention. As a means of breaking up the solid South, he recommends filling the Federal offices in North Carolina, Mississippi and Tennessee with men who are found to be the most satisfactory to the people.

GENERAL.

NAT GOODWIN, the best and most eccentric of low comedians, is delighting large audiences at McVicker's Theater, Chicago, with his inimitable personations. The laughter-provoking burlesque "Hobbies" is the play for this week. He is supported by an excellent company. Goodwin will be followed at McVicker's by the distinguished tragedian Lawrence Barrett, in a two weeks' engagement, during which he will be seen in Hamlet, Othello, Julius Cæsar and other Shakespearian characters. He will also present "Pendragon," a new play by W. W. Young, of Chicago.

"CAPT." PAYNE and a few of his more daring followers have safely located on the town site of Oklahoma City, Indian Territory, and are in occupation of the stockade fort built by them last summer. So far they have not been molested by the Indians nor interfered with by the Federal troops.

EIGHT persons composing the families of Frank Capperuni and Charles Wilson, hotel proprietors at Eel bay, were drowned by the upsetting of a small boat while on their way to Gananoque, Ontario....Cyrus W. Field, having placed the family of the late President above want, intends to ask Congress to increase Mrs. Lincoln's pension to $5,000 per annum.

FOREIGN.

AMONG the outrages reported from Ireland are the shooting of Bailiff Dillon, near Ballyhaunis; an attempt to assassinate a nephew of Lord Digby, at Brookville, and the wounding of Farmer McManus, near Mullinger, to prevent him from paying rent.

SEVERAL arrests have been made at Limerick under the Coercion act, including a solicitor who intimidated rent-payers. In County Mayo the sub-commission has, in a majority of cases, reduced the rent below the Poor-law valuation. Miss Gafford, the holder of two small farms at Wexford, was found dead in bed....The new French Cabinet is favorable to the repeal of the decree prohibiting the importation of American pork and lard.

CENSUS BUREAU.

The Annual Report—Population of the States and Territories.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.

The annual report of the Census Bureau, covering its operations since the 1st of December, 1880, has been submitted to the Secretary of the Interior. The field-work of the census has been completed in all the departments except those relating to the department of shipbuilding, to the production of petroleum, and a few other industries, and to the population, resources, etc., of Alaska. Six agents are employed in these departments, and will complete their work in a few weeks. On the 1st of December last the number of employes was 1,094. The maximum of the clerical force was reached on the 15th of March, 1881, when the number of employes was 1,495. Five-sixths of the clerical labor of the bureau has been accomplished. The revised and corrected returns of population show the following to be accurate:

Alabama	1,262,505
Arizona	40,440
Arkansas	802,525
California	864,694
Colorado	194,327
Connecticut	622,700
Dakota	135,177
Delaware	146,608
District of Columbia	177,624
Florida	269,493
Georgia	1,542,180
Idaho	32,610
Illinois	3,077,871
Indiana	1,978,301
Iowa	1,624,615
Kansas	996,096
Kentucky	1,648,690
Louisiana	939,946
Maine	648,936
Maryland	934,943
Massachusetts	1,783,085
Michigan	1,636,937
Minnesota	780,773
Mississippi	1,131,597
Missouri	2,168,380
Montana	39,159
Nebraska	452,402
Nevada	62,266
New Hampshire	346,991
New Jersey	1,131,116
New Mexico	119,565
New York	5,082,871
North Carolina	1,399,750
Ohio	3,198,062
Oregon	174,768
Pennsylvania	4,282,891
Rhode Island	276,531
South Carolina	995,577
Tennessee	1,542,359
Texas	1,591,749
Utah	143,963
Vermont	332,286
Virginia	1,512,565
Washington	75,116
West Virginia	618,457
Wisconsin	1,315,497
Wyoming	20,789
Grand total	50,155,783

Superintendent Walker refers to and reiterates his statement in regard to the inaccuracies of some of the statistics of the ninth census, and he doubts if either of the three censuses of 1850, 1860 and 1870 obtained half of the mineral product of the country, or compassed two-thirds of the total number of the defective, dependent and delinquent classes (the deaf and dumb, blind, insane, idiotic, criminals and paupers) who have by law been made the subjects of a special enumeration.

All the statistics of the present census he considers sound and reliable. The extended work increased the expenses of the bureau.

The ninth census cost $3,336,000. Since then the population has increased 30 per cent., and other estimates of the cost of a census have increased proportionally. Had the cost of the census work kept up with the rate of increase it would have reached $4,500,000. The census for the first time collected the statistics of railroads and telegraphs, of fire, marine and life insurance, and in other departments the information obtained has been at least double that of any former census in mere matter of bulk.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

GEN. CHARLES W. HILL, of Toledo, Ohio, is dead. The common laws of Ohio were largely drafted by him, and for thirty years he was a member of the Toledo School Board. He served as a Brigadier under McClellan.... Near Spearville, Kan., five armed and disguised men boarded a Santa Fe train coming East. A brakeman walked through the coaches and warned the passengers to hide their valuables, creating wild excitement. It was arranged that aid to capture the thieves should be obtained from a wrecking train on the side-track at Spearville, but while a car was being boarded on one side the robbers sprung off on the other.

IT is stated in a Washington dispatch that, in response to Secretary Blaine's instructions to Minister Hurlbut to recognize Calderon as President of Peru, the latter was seized by the Chilians and transported to Santiago. It is likely that an American protectorate of Peru will be proposed, to protect immense claims and investments by our citizens.

THE Michigan relief fund of New York city aggregates $133,734. Gov. Jerome states that $500,000 more is needed to tide the sufferers over the coming winter....Panama advices report the foundering of the steamer Albion, with the loss of thirty-two lives. The ship and cargo were valued at $60,000.

OWING to frequent raids in County Clare, Ireland, a military patrol has been organized. A farmer named Sullivan, returning from the fair at Skibbereen, was beaten to death and his corpse concealed, for which five men were arrested....The lawyers of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts have decided that by marrying Bartlett she forfeited her interests in the Coutts Bank, and she has therefore decided to resign her interest therein to those who claim it under the will of the Duchess of St. Albans.... An iron ship, the Culcean, while being towed down the River Clyde, Scotland, was wrecked, and seventeen persons drowned.....The behavior of Guiteau in the court-room has excited the deepest disgust in Europe.

A COLLISION between a freight and lumber train, near Savannah, Ga., caused the death of six persons, train hands.

Fourteen Great Mistakes.

It is a great mistake to set up our own standard of right and wrong, and judge people accordingly. It is a great mistake to measure the enjoyment of others by our own; to expect uniformity of opinion in this world; to look for judgment and experience in youth; to endeavor to mould all dispositions alike; not to yield to immaterial trifles; to look for perfection in our own actions; to worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied; not to alleviate all that needs alleviation, as far as lies in our power; not to make allowances for the infirmities of others; to consider everything impossible which we cannot perform; to believe only what our finite minds can grasp; to expect to be able to understand everything. The greatest of all mistakes is to live only for time, when any moment may launch us into eternity.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

THE JURY.

John P. Hamlin, restaurateur.
Frederick W. Brandenburg, cigar manufacturer.
Henry J. Bright, retired merchant.
Charles J. Stewart, merchant.
Thomas H. Langley, grocer.
Michael Stephens, grocer.
Samuel F. Hobbs, plasterer.
George W. Gates, architect.
Ralph Wormley, laborer.
W. H. Branner, grocer.
Thomas Heinline, machinist.
Joseph Prather, commission merchant.

FIFTH DAY.

Upon the opening of the court Scoville requested the court to take some measures to prevent the prisoner from giving to the public his unauthorized communications, and also to prevent the annoying interruptions of the prisoner in the court room. This brought on a scene, during which Guiteau demanded that Scoville should go out of the case, insisting that he was no criminal lawyer and had no sense; that he talked one thing to him in private and another in public. Scoville endeavored to explain to the court, but Guiteau became more and more excited, and addressed himself alternately to the court, to Scoville and the bailiffs, who were endeavoring to keep him quiet.

To the court—"I represent myself, your Honor, and I shall do as I please about counsel."

Then, turning to Scoville: "You have no capacity, and I won't have you manage my case."

Then, turning to the bailiffs, he shouted: "You mind your business, you confounded fools. You ain't got no sense."

The court again stated to the prisoner, in decided tones, that he would order his removal and proceed in his absence. To this Guiteau shouted, excitedly: "I don't care if you do. The court in banc will reverse you, and I will get a trial. You have no right to remove me."

The court replied, in terms which seemed to convince Guiteau of their sincerity: "Very well, I shall do so if you persist in any more disturbance; and there are precedents in this court for such rulings."

A whispered consultation between Guiteau and Scoville followed, and the former, apparently convinced, subsided into absolute quiet and devoted himself to his papers.

Ed A. Wagner was then called as a witness, but failed to respond.

Joseph K. Sharpe was then sworn. He did not see the shooting, but saw the prisoner attempting to escape and witnessed the arrest.

Ella M. Ridgely testified to hearing a conversation between Guiteau and a hackman, while the former was arranging to be driven to the cemetery. She also witnessed the shooting and gave her evidence in a clear and straight-forward manner.

William F. Barker was called, but failed to appear.

William S. Crawford, wagon-driver, saw the firing. Could not see the President, but distinctly saw Guiteau aim and fire, and saw his arrest. He was questioned by Scoville at some length, particularly as to how Guiteau wore his hat on that occasion. Guiteau put his hat on, remarking: "They're all mistaken on that hat business; this is the way I wear my hat."

The witness—"Well, perhaps that is the way he had it, only not quite so far back."

Joseph R. Scott, Edmund L. Dubarry, Patrick R. Kearney, the policeman who arrested Guiteau, Byron R. Andrews, a newspaper correspondent, and J. Stanley Brown, private secretary to Gen. Garfield, were called as witnesses, and detailed various circumstances connected with the case of the prosecution.

Guiteau, shortly before the adjournment for the day, jumped up in his seat, and, addressing the court, said: "Your Honor, Judge Magruder, of Maryland, has offered to assist me in this trial, and I want to invite him to meet me here Monday morning. I don't know if Scoville knows about it, but I want him in the case. Scoville is doing splendidly, but I want him to have assistance. The only way I can get anything before the public is to announce it in court."

No objection was offered, and Guiteau, apparently satisfied, busied himself with writing, occasionally turning to Scoville to assure him that Judge Magruder was a splendid man and he wanted him in the case.

Aquilla Barto, a colored hack-driver, testified relating to Guiteau's wish to hire a hack to take him to the cemetery. Barton said the prisoner did not look at all excited or peculiar. "He was perfectly cool; told me to keep cool and not get excited. He knew what he was looking for." Witness was asked if the prisoner appeared to have lost any flesh since that time, and replied, "I think he looks a little thinner than he did."

At this point Guiteau, who appeared both interested and amused at the witness' replies, said: "Just here it might be well to say that I have had to-day the first square meal since the 2d of July." This sally raised a laugh, in which Guiteau joined heartily.

Counsel Scoville notified the court and the prosecution that the defense in the case would be insanity.

SIXTH DAY.

George C. Maynard, an electrician, and for many years a resident of Washington, was the first witness called on the sixth day of the trial. He was questioned by the prosecution, and testified to loaning the prisoner money last spring.

Guiteau rose to an objection to this kind of evidence. Mr. Scoville said the objection was in good faith, and Guiteau said: "I don't think it makes any difference who owes me or whom I owe. Mr. Maynard is a good fellow, and I owe him $25."

The witness testified further that he had boarded at the same house with Guiteau during his school days at Ann Arbor, Mich. He did not see him from that time until he came to borrow the $10.

"Did you notice anything strange in his appearance at that time?" asked Mr. Scoville.

"Nothing, except that he looked hungry."

"I was boarding at a first-class house at the time and had plenty to eat," interrupted Guiteau.

"Anything else?" continued Mr. Scoville, addressing the witness.

"He looked a little seedy, I thought."

Guiteau—"I had a $70 suit of clothes on. Nothing seedy about that. Again, I do not think my circumstances have anything to do with this case. I have been well fed over since I have been in Washington. I know plenty of public men, and could get all the money I wanted. If I looked hungry, it was due to mental anxiety. I had a great weight on my mind."

He spoke with his usual vehemence, but was allowed to finish.

Mr. O'Meara, a Washington pistol-dealer, was called, told the story of the purchase of the pistol by the assassin and identified the weapon.

At this point Guiteau arose and addressed the court calmly, as follows: "While this is being done I want to give public invitation to John D. Townsend, of New York, to assist me in this trial; also Leonard Swett and Mr. Trude, of Chicago. I desire thus to invite them to meet me here with Judge Magruder, of Maryland, on Monday. There are good brains on the other side, and I want some on this. Mr. Townsend has said he would come, and I think the others will do so. Reporters will please make a note of this."

Then, hesitating a moment, he went on: "Another thing I want to say: I understand there are some disreputable characters lurking about this court, intending to do me bodily harm. I want to say that the Chief of Police has kindly provided me with an escort, and I have a body-guard. I am not in fear of my life, for any one attempting it will probably be shot down at once by my body-guard."

Col. A. S. Rockwell, the next witness, began to detail the occurrences at the depot, when Scoville interposed, acknowledging the killing. Guiteau quickly shouted: "No, your Honor; we acknowledge the shooting but not the killing." Col. Rockwell briefly stated the facts within his knowledge, and, without cross-examination, was followed by Gen. D. G. Swaim.

Gen. Swaim described briefly his association with the President during his illness. An impressive scene occurred during his testimony.

"What were the President's last words?" asked Mr. Corkhill.

"His last words," replied witness, with emotion, "were, 'Oh, Swaim!'"

Dr. D. W. Bliss was then called. Witness gave a narrative covering from the time he was called to the President's side, fifteen or twenty minutes after he was shot, until his death. The immediate cause of death was hemorrhage. Witness then explained minutely the character of the wound, using the upper portion of a wired skeleton for the purpose of illustration, and detailed at great length the progress and symptoms of the case.

The sensation of the trial was produced when the District Attorney suddenly drew from a pasteboard box upon his table a section of a human backbone, and, holding it up, inquired: "Do you recognize this, doctor?"

The audience hung breathless upon the answer as the witness, in measured tones, replied:

"I do. It is a portion of the vertebra of the late President, James A. Garfield."

The vertebra was then handed the jury, and the character and extent of the injury to them explained. Dr. Bliss was followed with the closest attention on the part of the entire audience, with the sole exception of Guiteau, who devoted himself to his papers, only occasionally glancing up with the air of a man being bored with a recital in which he could have no possible interest.

After the vertebra had been returned to the District Attorney's table, Scoville reached over and requested the opportunity of examining it. It was handed him, and Guiteau, who sits immediately on the right, examined it closely as Scoville turned it over and from side to side. He made no move to touch it, however, and gave not the slightest indication of any feeling other than casual curiosity.

Upon the conclusion of Dr. Bliss' examination Guiteau here attempted to say something, when the District Attorney, bowing with mock gravity, continued: "If Mr. Guiteau will permit me, your Honor, I will move an adjournment." Guiteau appeared to relish the pleasantry, and, nodding, replied: "Oh, certainly. You shall have full chance."

The court adjourned.

SEVENTH DAY.

The crowd about the Court House was greater than on any previous day. The assassin, livid with fear, was escorted from the jail to the court-room by a squad of five policemen. Immediately upon the opening of court, Mr. Robinson arose to criticise the treatment he had received from Mr. Scoville, and announced his withdrawal from the case. Guiteau, with considerable warmth, said:

"That's an able speech, and I agree with most of it. If he had only made it last Monday there never would have been any disturbance between us."

Scoville here tried to quiet Guiteau, when he retorted upon him: "Keep quiet yourself. I'm talking now. I sympathize with him in this matter."

Scoville made a brief statement, deploring the disagreement, after which Judge Cox relieved Robinson from further connection with the defense.

Scoville began to address the court with: "We do not expect to be compelled to conduct the case entirely without assistance." Here Guiteau exclaimed: "I understood Judge Magruder was anxious to assist in this trial; also Mr. Townsend. I should like to have them appear here, as well as Swett and Trude, of Chicago." Then adding, after a short pause: "One word on the question of malpractice. My idea is simply this—that, by the physicians own statement, on the 25th of July, the President was not fatally shot. We don't want to press this subject—only desire to have it go on record, so that the court in banc may take notice of it." After a brief pause Guiteau added: "That's all there is to the malpractice business, short and to the point. I want it understood I appear as my own counsel here. I am agent of the Deity, and I expect Him to take care of me. I think He has managed it pretty well so far."

After the examination of Drs. Woodward and Lamb and the exhibition of the fatal bullet, the prosecution rested its case. The assassin was given permission to speak in his own defense. Guiteau, retaining his seat, began: "Your Honor, I was not aware I was expected to speak this morning." Scoville here leaned over and whispered to him, when Guiteau retorted, sharply, and with impatience: "I won't stand up. I'm not afraid to, however, but I have only a moment to speak, and will keep my seat. I do not care to say more than was published last Monday in my address to the public. I presume the jury all saw it. I have no set speech to make. I appear as my own counsel, and my idea is to make corrections as, we go along, just as I have done the past three or four days. I don't mean any discourtesy to any one. I only want to get at the facts. If any one says I owe them $20 and don't, I will deny it on the spot. My idea is to take things when they are hot, not let them get cold and suffer from misrepresentation. Of course, I shall go on the stand at the proper time, and be examined and cross-examined. My idea, however, is to meet a misstatement when it is hot, instead of waiting to let the matter get digested and misunderstood. I think the true way is to interject my statements as the case proceeds. I have no set speech to make, but am much obliged to your Honor and to my counsel for the courtesy of this invitation."

Mr. Scoville then proceeded to address the court. He said the question for the jury was whether or not the prisoner killed the President, and whether or not the accused was in such a condition mentally as to render him responsible for his action. He had not finished his remarks when the time for adjournment was reached.

EIGHTH DAY.

There was the usual crowd present when Guiteau was brought into the court-room. He had "a ride of honor" from the jail, a mounted escort being in attendance. He seemed in remarkably good humor, which is explained by the fact that he had just received a very nice letter, inclosing a money order for $20, from an Illinois lawyer. Mr. Scoville concluded the opening speech for the defense.

NINTH DAY.

When court opened Scoville made a formal request for the papers taken from Guiteau at the time of his arrest, stating that they were material evidence for the defense, and since the prosecution had not needed them he could see no reason why they should be withheld. The District Attorney offered to furnish copies of the papers, but Scoville insisted upon his rights in the matter and asked for the originals.

Pending the discussion Guiteau insisted upon being heard, and said: "I can throw light upon this. At the time of my arrest I had forty or fifty editorial slips showing the political situation in May and June last. These slips show the action and one of the forces that impelled me on to the President. They are very important as showing the gist of the whole matter. There were forty or fifty slips denouncing President Garfield. It was through living on such ideas as these that I was finally impelled to fire on the President with my inspiration." Scoville's request for the return of the papers was complied with, and he resumed his opening speech for the defense. He alluded to Guiteau's career as a politician, and drew the conclusion that his intellect was deficient. This view aroused the prisoner at once, and he began a series of interruptions, protesting against Scoville's conclusions as false. When reference was made to his running around from one committee-room to another, seeking to be employed as a campaign speaker, and his failure to obtain recognition was mentioned, Guiteau shouted, angrily: "'Twasn't because I had no ability, but I was not known. I had ideas, but not reputation. They wanted big guns like Gen. Grant and Senator Conkling—men who would draw." Then, in direct contradiction of his counsel's declaration to the jury yesterday, that Guiteau was a man who never made a joke in his life, Guiteau looked up with an amused smile, and added: "I presume I'd draw now." This provoked general laughter, which was promptly suppressed by the Judge, who struggled to disguise the smile upon his own features.

Mr. Scoville went on with his remarks, but was interrupted at almost every sentence by the prisoner, who soon began to get excited, and finally grew so violent that Col. Corkhill arose and solemnly protested. He got a sharp retort from Guiteau, who insisted, as he said, upon "making running statements as against a set speech." Mr. Davidge here suggested (the court having asked for something of the kind) that this annoyance might all be avoided if Mr. Scoville would only confine himself to the limits of a reasonable opening address, and bring his already long speech to a close. To the great amusement of the crowd, Guiteau heartily approved this idea, and proceeded to compliment Corkhill's address in a most flattering way. Finally the court interposed, and informed Guiteau very firmly that he must keep quiet. This he finally consented to do, and Mr. Scoville shortly closed, and was greeted with hearty approval by the audience as he sat down, though their demonstrations were quickly suppressed by the warning of the bailiff that order must be preserved.

The examination of witnesses for the defense was begun immediately. Those examined testified mainly as to the history of the family and to facts connected with Guiteau's life before he came to Washington. Generally their stories were briefly told, and little attention was given them by way of cross-examination. The witness Frank L. Union, of whom Guiteau once hired a hall in Boston, produced some merriment by detailing how the prisoner had informed him that he was a member of the firm of Jesus Christ & Co., and that he was trying to save three-fourths of the human race, who were surely going to perdition. He swore that he and the forty-nine other people who listened to Guiteau's lecture thought him crazy. Mrs. Lockwood, one of Guiteau's numerous unpaid landladies, was on the stand, and Guiteau had much to say to her and about her testimony, but the scene created little or no excitement.

THE NATIONAL POSTOFFICE.

Synopsis of Mr. James' Yearly Report.

Postmaster General James' report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1881, opens with the general financial statement, by which it appears that the total expenditures made on account of service for the fiscal year were $39,251,736.46. The revenues were $36,785,397.97, made up of ordinary receipts, $36,489,816.59, and from the money-order business, $295,581.39. The total excess of expenditures over receipts on account of the fiscal year was $2,481,129.35, of which $14,790.86 appears on the books of the Auditor for "bad debts" and "compromise accounts." In addition to the expenditures above stated, the sum of $340,829.76 was paid on account of indebtedness incurred in previous years, making the total amount expended during the year $39,592,566.22. The item of compensation to Postmasters was the only one in which the expenditure exceeded the appropriation, the latter amounting to $7,500,000, and the former to $8,298,742.79. In the remaining items there was a total unexpended balance of the appropriations of $751,907.73.

The total amount of appropriations was $39,204,901.40, leaving an excess of expenditures of $16,865.06, growing out of the excess of compensation to Postmasters. The receipts for the year were $3,469,918.63, or 10.4 per cent., more than those of the preceding year, and $4,575,397.97, or 14.2 per cent., more than the estimate which was made two years ago, before the present period of business prosperity had fairly begun, to which the increase is in a large degree attributable.

The estimated expenditure for the current fiscal year is $42,661,800; the estimated ordinary revenue is $42,561,722.65, and money-order business $180,000, making a total estimated revenue of $42,741,722.65, leaving an estimated deficit of $920,077.95 to be appropriated out of the treasury. The decrease in the estimated amount of money-order receipts is owing to a contemplated reduction of the fees on money orders for small amounts.

The total income from the sale of postage stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards for the fiscal year was $34,625,435.01, against $32,065,342.46 in the preceding year, an increase of 7.9 per cent.

The total amount of postage collected during the year on newspapers and periodicals mailed to regular subscribers from known offices of publication, and from news agencies, at 2 cents per pound, was $1,339,048.84, an increase of $172,696.95, or a little over 14 per cent.

By careful reckoning based upon an actual count made in every postoffice in the United States during the first week in December, 1880, it has been ascertained that the whole number of letters mailed in this country in the last fiscal year was 1,046,107,348. The number reaching the Dead-Letter Office during the same period was 3,323,621, or one in every 315. Of the letters and packages opened, 18,617 were found to contain money amounting to $40,587.80; 22,012 contained drafts, money orders, checks, notes, etc., the aggregate face value of which was $1,809,082.61. The records of the department show that 8,338,918 registered letters and packages were mailed in this country during the year. Of this number, only 2,414 reached the Dead-Letter Office, and of these 2,131 were finally delivered to the owners, the balance being placed on file awaiting identification by the parties interested.

The amount of unclaimed money-orders, domestic and foreign, at the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1881, is estimated by the Auditor as $1,250,000.

A postal order for sums less than $5, for 3 cents, is under consideration.

The Postmaster General recommends postal savings depositories as worthy the consideration of Congress.

In regard to inland transportation, the report states that on June 30, 1881, there were 5,156 contractors for transportation of mails on inland routes.

There were in operation 11,592 routes (of which 1,194 were railroad routes, showing an increase of seventy-six routes of this class since the last annual report), aggregating in length 344,006 miles, and in annual cost, $19,323,890. The service was divided as follows:

Railroad routes: Length, 91,569 miles: annual transportation, 105,521,229 miles; annual cost, $11,613,368 (including $1,364,107 for railway-postoffice-car service), about 11.22 cents per mile.

Steamboat routes: Length, 21,138 miles: annual transportation 5,046,507 miles; annual cost, $753,167, about 14.92 cents per mile.

"Star" routes, on which the mails are required to be conveyed "with celerity, certainty and security:" Length, 231,299 miles; annual transportation, 79,527,296 miles; annual cost, $5,957,355, about 8.74 cents per mile.

There are 5,014 offices supplied by mail messengers, at an annual cost of $763,341.

The railroad routes were increased in length 8,240 miles, and in cost $1,114,382.

The steamboat routes were decreased in length 2,182 miles, and in cost $134,654.

The "star" routes were decreased in length 5,949 miles, and in cost $364,144.

The report then says that the founders of our postal system intended that it should be self-supporting, and proceeds to give a history of its growth and the gradual reduction in postage and the annual deficiency.

According to the report of the Second Assistant Postmaster General, which he quotes, the total reductions during the last fiscal year in the star service was $655,832 per annum, but some of the orders did not take effect until the beginning of the present fiscal year. The net reduction, allowing for new and increased service, was $364,144. The aggregate reduction of the cost of steamboat service was $282,009, from which is to be deducted the cost of increased service, $30,653, making the net reduction $551,356. Thus far in the current fiscal year reductions amounting to $701,551 have been made in the star service. The net reductions from July 1 to Oct. 31, in the star and steamboat service, are $532,257.

In leaving the consideration of the star routes the Postmaster General says a minute investigation into alleged abuses in the star-route service was instituted by direction of the late President, and is still being prosecuted. The Postoffice Department has co-operated and will continue to co-operate with the Department of Justice in this investigation. No one who has not been directly concerned in the matter can fully appreciate the magnitude of the undertaking, the mass of record evidence examined, the difficulties of a personal investigation in sparsely-settled territories and the results attained by the patient and intelligent labors of the inspectors of this department. There can be no doubt, from the facts already ascertained, that the existing statutes leave the way open to great abuses, and that there is abundant ground for asking a judicial investigation of the transactions of the last few years.

The report then turns to the question of a reduction in the rates of postage, and says if the recommendations for a decrease in the cost of railway service be successfully carried out the reduction of letter postage from 3 to 2 cents will be possible within three years. It believes this reduction could be accomplished without the proportionate diminution of receipts which followed the adoption of 3-cent postage in 1851.

There were 2,916 new postoffices established during the year, and an equal number of new Postmasters. The total number of employes in the department June 30, 1881, was 61,444, against 60,530 June 30, 1880.

The report urges the extension of the free-delivery system and collection system, as it has been found that the convenience of delivery and deposit acts as an incentive to letter-writing. There was an increase during the year of 84,000,000 in the number of letters and other articles of mail matter delivered and collected by carriers.

Attention is invited to the fact that, of the 4,636 complaints of registered letters and packages as lost, rifled, tampered with and detained, 2,575 were recovered or satisfactorily accounted for, leaving only 2,061 still under investigation, or finally closed as lost, including losses by fire, highway robberies and other thefts. By comparing this number, 2,061, with the entire number of letters and packets registered during the year, namely, 8,300,000, the certainty and security of the registered mail is clearly demonstrated.

There were 16,562 ordinary letters reported lost, of which 12,108 were letters with valuable inclosures, and 4,454 contents not specified. Of this number 1,797 were reported as being delivered.

Three hundred and twenty-three robberies of postoffices were reported during the year, and ninety-two offices were burned. Robberies of mail stages on the highways numbered eighty-six. One hundred and thirty-five complaints of depredations were made by Postmasters, of which nineteen were found to have been groundless. Eleven mails were reported as burned in mail cars, in railroad accidents or in postoffices, and sixty-five were reported as lost by carriers, by floods, snow blockades or from other causes.

In concluding his report Postmaster General James has a word to say in favor of civil-service reform. He is convinced of the great public benefit to be derived from conducting the public business on business principles. The public is best served by honest, experienced and competent officers, and changes, therefore, should be made carefully and only for reasons affecting official conduct.

Odd Companions.

[Nashville American.]

It is said that the greatest difference between man and brute is shown by the love and friendship existing in the human family, which is never seen in the lowest orders of the animal creation. But it sometimes occurs that a community of feeling is exhibited in a marked degree by the brute as can be found among human beings. A gentleman living near Nashville, Tenn., owned an old blind horse. A flock of geese occupied the pasture jointly with him. An old gander seeing the difficulty the horse had to go around, attached himself to the horse, leaving his fellows for that purpose. All day long the gander could be seen going in front of the horse giving signs of his presence by a constant cackle, the horse following the sound.

The gander carried the horse to the best pasture and to water. A perfect understanding was had between them, and they seemed to know what each other wanted. At night the gander accompanied the horse to the stall, sat under the trough, and the horse would occasionally bite off a mouthful of corn and drop it on the ground for his feathered friend, and thus they would share each other's meals. Finally, on one Sunday, the old horse died. The gander seemed utterly lost, wandered about disconsolately, looking everywhere for his old comrade, refusing all food, and at the end of the week he, too, died, although his life was just begun, for a goose will live forty or fifty years. This is a true story, and can be verified by numbers of persons who often saw the strange parties marching around, and displays the wonderful affection which sometimes springs up among the lower orders.

Land-Grant Railroads.

Secretary of the Interior Kirkwood, in his annual report, says that during the last fiscal year about 6,900 miles of subsidized and land-grant railroads, subject to the supervision of the bureau, had been examined, and their books, especially those of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific roads, carefully compared with the reports rendered by the companies.

He says: "Although the past severe and protracted winter was accompanied by unusual floods and storms, which destroyed much property and materially increased the expenditures for maintaining the same, it was noticeably that a substantial improvement in the property of the roads in which the Government has direct interest had been made, and in general the reports rendered indicate a marked increase in their business."

Following are the gross and net earnings of the Pacific roads for the year ending June 30, 1881:

Union Pacific—Gross earnings, $22,765,752; operating expenses, $11,474,910; net earnings, $11,290,842. Total number of miles operated, 1,819.

Central Pacific—Gross earnings, $22,393,344; operating expenses and rentals, $13,502,504; net earnings, $9,390,840; average number of miles operated, 2,614.

Northern Pacific—Gross earnings, $2,931,802; operating expenses, $1,946,157; net earnings, $985,645. Number of miles operated, 754.

The last annual report of the operations of the Texas Pacific road has not been received at the department. Secretary Kirwood reports, however, that work upon the road is being pushed rapidly forward, and anticipated that the line will be completed and trains running to El Paso on the first day of January next.

The Secretary suggests that the Thurman act of May 7, 1878, should be so amended as to embrace the subsidized portion of the Kansas division of the Union Pacific railway.

How Piutes Cross the River.

Nature, in an article in regard to the swimming of savage people, says: "The Indians on the Missouri River, when they have occasion to traverse that impetuous stream, invariably tread water just as the dog treads it." Our Piutes practice this method of swimming. We have frequently seen them cross the Carson River in this way in the early days. Squaws, youngsters, and all marched directly across the stream. However, before starting in, the squaws and children took in each hand a stick—a piece of dead willow or cottonwood—from four to six feet in length. Holding these sticks upon the water they would move their hands forward alternately, at the same time treading water with their feet. In this way the water only occasionally came above their shoulders.—Virginia City Enterprise.

Louis the Solitary.

The young Bavarian King's nickname of "Louis the Solitary" is well earned. His avoidance of publicity amounts almost to a mania. He usually selects the night for railway traveling, because he thereby escapes being observed and nauseated with homage.

"That hat," said an ill-natured man, referring to his wife's latest purchase, "is the very climax of absurdity." "Indeed," said a lady friend who overheard the remark, "then I should think she would insist upon your wearing it."

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1881.

A YOUNG man died in New York from pyæmia, caused by decayed teeth.

EX-SENATOR ALLAN G. THURMAN intends to settle down to the uninterrupted practice of the law at his home, Columbus, Ohio.

JUDGE FOLGER was one of the nine men in New York Legislature, in 1867, who voted in favor of giving the women a ballot.

H. T. GARDNER, of Machias, Me., was a logger in the woods twenty years ago, and when he broke up camp hung his lantern on a limb. He recently went to the tree and found his lantern still hanging there, whole but rusty.

DR. BLISS has, it is alleged, lost practice and cast at Washington since his attendance upon the President. The local physicians call him to account for violating the code of medical ethics in holding on the case after the President's family physician, Dr. Boynton, made his appearance

FREDERICK DOUGLASS, after a life of strange vicissitudes, is spending his later days in comfortable prosperity. He is the possessor of $100,000 or more, and his office provides him with an annual salary of $7,000. His duties are easily performed, and he has leisure for writing and lecturing.

LIFE in Asia may have its attractions, but its perils are fearful. Leaving out of consideration the evils arising from overpopulation and despotic government, the dangers are fearful. A tornado in the western section of Tonquin has just destroyed over 2,000 buildings, rendering many thousand persons homeless. In India last year only ten less than 22,000 persons fell victims to wild beasts or snake bites. In Bengal alone 359 persons were killed by tigers, and 1,064 by serpents. One would think Hindoostan a good country to emigrate from.

CHARLES JONES, one of the two miners who discovered the famous group of Robinson mines, in Colorado, died while drunk in a Leadville saloon. He then owned a quarter interest in seven mines out of the twelve constituting the Robinson consolidation, from which the late Lieut. Gov. Robinson made his fortune of over $1,000,000. The heirs of Jones live in Vermont, and, being uninformed of the great value of his estate, were induced to accept $1,200 for an estate really worth $250,000. A legal contest is to follow.

BOB TOOMBS is as notorious for his hospitality as for being one of the most rabid of the unreconstructed rebels. Not long since it was proposed to build a hotel in Washington, Ga., where he lives, and a committee called upon him for a subscription. "What the deuce do you want of a hotel in Washington?" he cried. "Every respectable person who comes to town puts up with Bob Toombs, and is welcome; and every disreputable person leaves town because he cannot put up anywhere." Such being the case, the project was abandoned.

NO ONE can contemplate the statistics which reveal the wholesale slaughter of railroad brakemen in this country while they are engaged in the duty of coupling cars without being shocked into the conviction that some means for preventing it ought to be enforced. A law compelling the use of safety-couplers was introduced in the Connecticut Legislature during the last session and laid over for a year to afford the Railroad Commissioners of the State time to consider the subject. They are instructed to report at the coming session.

ELISHA PHILLIPS, the oldest convict in the Maine State prison, died recently, being upward of 92 years of age. He had passed over thirty-seven years of his life in prison. He was noted as the man who played a joke at one time on the Warden of the Massachusetts State prison. He told a story about having a large sum of money buried in that State, and the Warden took him out to dig for the money. After working a while, Phillips asked for rest, when the officer got in the hole to dig, and Phillips, kicking sand in his eyes, ran away.

THE United States Supreme Court, in the case of Francis H. Barton vs. John Barbour, has held that where a court of one State has a railroad or other property in its possession for administration and appoints a receiver to aid in the performance of its duty by carrying on the business to which the property is adapted, a court of another State has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit against such receiver for cause of action arising in the State in which he is appointed, and in which the property in his possession is situated, based on his negligence or the negligence of his subordinates in the performance of his or their duties.

THE peculiar real-estate venture at Wayne, thirteen miles from Philadelphia, will bring together a population of 3,000 in another year. The company bought 600 acres for $250,000, and spent $100,000 in landscape gardening, $50,000 for a water supply, and enough in drainage to swell the total investment to $500,000. The building lots are an acre each, and the purchaser is bound to select one out of twenty striking designs for a residence, costing $2,000 to $8,000. Picturesqueness is further provided for by fixing the exact spot on which the house shall stand, and locating the trees to suit the landscape. A first payment of a third part of the cost of the land and improvement is all that is required, the rest remaining on mortgage on easy terms. There will be no bar-rooms.

THE engineer corps of the army is fairly aflame with indignation over some observations made by Gen. Sherman in his annual report. The General was very careless when he remarked that the other branches of the service did all the fighting when war came, for if he had referred to any school history he would have discovered that more than half the best Generals the war produced on both sides were from the engineer corps. McClellan, Meade, McPherson, Pope, Rosecrans, Halleck, Humphries, Weitzel, Wright, Park, Gilmore, Mansfield, Baldy Smith, J. H. Wilson, Franklin and many others on the Union side, and Lee, Beauregard, Albert Sydney Johnston, Longstreet and others in the rebel army were educated as engineers. There will be a lively discussion on this point, and Gen. Sherman will receive little sympathy.

IN a dispute not long since Kennedy who is a big Wall street broker, kicked Quincy, who is a little broker, and was sued for damages to the amount of $5,000. Kennedy admitted the kicking, but claimed that the size or force of the kick had been exaggerated; that it was not a kick calculated to injure any one or lame him, or make him ill, as the kicked man averred. On the contrary, it was an exactly-measured kick; a kick adapted with the greatest nicety to produce a moral, not a physical effect; so adjusted to the occasion as to reprove the insolence of the little broker to the big one, and hence to improve his manners. In brief, instead of injuring the little broker, it ought to have done him good, and if the kick were to be put on a pecuniary footing, as it were, Quincy owed him money, instead of being entitled to recover damages from him. The influence of this plea on the jury resulted in their giving $2,500—one-half the amount claimed—to the booted broker.

A BAD SHOT.

A Third Unsuccessful Attempt Upon the Life of the Assassin of President Garfield.

Another attempt upon the life of the assassin Guiteau was made shortly after the adjournment of court on the sixth day of the trial.

The prisoner was being conveyed back to jail in the prison van. Perry H. Carson, a guardsman, stood upon the rear steps of the van. The driver, James Leonard, was accompanied by Officer Edelin, of the mounted police force but upon this occasion Edelin was not mounted, and sat upon the box by the side of the driver.

As the van turned into East Capitol street, heading for the jail, a man mounted upon a wiry sorrel gelding dashed up to the side of the vehicle. The rider deliberately looked in through the narrow barred ventilator upon the side of the wagon until he saw Guiteau crouching down upon the right hand of the van. "Oh, there you are, you son of a ——," shouted the rider, as he wheeled off and discharged one shot from a revolver through the side of the van at Guiteau. A shriek of abject terror was heard inside, Guiteau yelling: "Oh, my God! my God! I am shot! Help! Murder!" Then he fell in a fit of fright upon the floor of the wagon. The would-be assassin of the occasion dashed away without risking a second shot. As he put spurs to his horse he held his revolver upon the officers until he passed them. He bent low over his horse's neck and spurred with fiery energy toward the north. The officers were so overwhelmed with surprise at the suddenness and unexpectedness of the attack that they hardly realized what was done until the bold rider was off and away. Officer Edelin fired one shot after him, but it did not delay him at all, as it went very wide of its mark. The officers at first paid no attention to Guiteau, who kept shrieking with terror, saying that he was killed, and constantly calling for help. The officers stupidly imagined that they could pursue the fleet rider with their heavy van. It was wheeled about, and the horses attached to it were lashed to a gallop, while Edelin sat with a cocked revolver in his hand looking for a shot at the flying man. The van reached the high incline overlooking the railroad tracks only in time to see the sorrel gelding bolt straight across the tracks toward the open country. Some hours of afterward a drunken, half-witted fellow named Bill Jones was arrested in the vicinity of the Soldiers' Home, but he proved to be the wrong man, after lying in jail twenty-four hours. The real shooter escaped. The easy manner in which he succeeded in making himself scarce, and the general conduct of the police officers, leads to the belief that there is a conspiracy in Washington to make way with the assassin, and that the men who have been detailed to guard the wretch are at least disposed to wink at, if not aid, the conspirators in their plans. When the officers saw that further pursuit was impossible, they opened the van and looked for Guiteau. He was in a pitiable plight. Already he had suffered a hundred deaths from abject terror. His face was livid and bathed in a cold sweat. His teeth were chattering as if in some deadly chill. His wound was bleeding quite freely, staining his murderous right hand a bright red. His terror had also produced a spontaneous movement of the bowels, so that, all combined, he presented a disgusting appearance.

On examination it was found that the ball had just grazed Guiteau's left wrist, inflicting a mere scratch. The ball struck the opposite side of the van and fell upon the floor, where it was found on reaching the jail.

It was not until Guiteau was inside of the jail that the assassin recovered his composure in a measure. He was taken to his cell, where the slight wound was dressed, and a change of clothing provided for him. After all was done Guiteau said: "I want after this to have a strong body guard. I desire to prevent a recurrence of this attack." Then he subsided into a gloomy fit, as if the fact was beginning to pierce the dense shell of his vanity that he did not have a friend upon the earth, and that death was reaching out its hand for him from every quarter.

ONLY by intimate companionship can we learn one's true nature.

INDIANA NEWS.

A FIRE at Bedford destroyed $10,000 worth of business property.

HENRY BILLING was drowned at Fort Wayne while gathering drift-wood from the river.

THE ticket office of the Wabash road at Wabash was burglarized of $50 in money.

THE residence of John C. Leech, near St. Omer, Decatur county, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $1,200.

A YOUNG man named James Barnett, lately from the East, committed suicide at Fort Wayne by shooting himself through the head.

THE first Methodist church in Indiana was built near Charlestown in 1794—the first Methodist society, which built this church, having been organized in 1787.

HANNAH BURFORD, aged 61, of Plainfield, Hendricks county, while carrying a load of wood into the house, slipped and fell, from the effects of which she died.

VINCENNES has granted to Messrs. Gray & Swift the right to erect water-works in the city, they to furnish 144 double hydrants for fire protection at a cost to the city of $9,000.

MISS REBECCA BARUCH, a handsome woman of 18 summers, very suddenly and mysteriously disappeared from the residence of her parents in Seymour, a few nights ago, since which time no word or trail of her can be learned.

TWELVE line-builders of the Western Union telegraph, traveling on a hand-car on the track of the Evansville and Terre Haute road, collided with an express train at Vincennes, killing two of the party and wounding two others.

THE "Knights of the Switch," in the south-western part of Jackson county, are again on the war-path. From sixty to seventy of the "Knights" turned out on two nights recently, and some suspected parties were warned by a bundle of switches and a note left on their door-steps.

THE State authorities will try to make the mutual benefit life insurance societies pay the deposit of $100,000 to the State Treasurer, the same as commercial insurance companies. This will come very hard on the Royal Arcanum, Knights of Honor, and other secret benevolent bodies.

NEW Indiana patents: George F. Drake, Indianapolis, wheeled plow; N. H. Long, Muncie, rain-water filter; N. H. Long, Muncie, eaves-trough hanger; C. M. Tyler, Indianapolis, bill-file; D. Wiser, Plymouth, spark arrester; G. H. Zschech, Indianapolis, saw-guide.

AMONG those who carried off premiums at the Chicago Fat-stock show was Master Harry Davis, of Dyer, Lake county, who is but 12 years of age. This was his third appearance at the fat-stock exhibitions, and he was paid $63 in premiums awarded his swine and poultry entries. He announced his intention of returning next year.

LEVI MOORE, a farmer living near Lincolnville, Wabash county, after attending a funeral, became insane just as he reached home, and seizing an ax attempted to knock the house down and get at his family. The children ran away and returned with some neighbors, who secured the lunatic and bound him. Moore has now become lucid.

MRS. ALICE C. VAN RIPER, who married her husband, Eccles G. Van Riper, at Evansville, in 1865, and later accompanied him to Russia, where he now resides, brings suit at Evansville for alimony out of certain property which Van Riper owns there. She says herself and children were sent home in 1879, since when her husband has practically deserted her.

THE test case of Magill Bros., of Clinton, Ill., against the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific road has been decided. Magill shipped a large quantity of wool over the Wabash, which was destroyed in the floods at Toledo last winter. The matter has been under advisement of the court for some time, and at last the Magills have received judgment. Taking this as a precedent the Wabash folks will have enormous damages to pay.

MARY BACON filed an affidavit before a Justice of the Peace at Evansville, alleging that her husband had left her without proper support. After the Justice had heard all of the evidence he discharged the defendant. As he left the room the wife, who was standing in the door with a handful of powdered Cayenne pepper, threw it into his eyes. Physicians who attended the victim say it is impossible for him to recover his sight.

FIVE masked robbers broke into the residence of E. C. Rice, cashier of the Bank of Camden, Carroll county, bound and gagged Rice and took him to the bank, where they directed him to open the safe at the peril of his life. He told them that it was impossible for him to do so, as the safe was provided with a time lock, of which the robbers were convinced by Rice's producing the manufacturer's certificate. The robbers were balked, and in their rage used Mr. Rice rather roughly, and then made off. Rice gave the alarm, and the burglars were tracked to a Logansport livery stable.

AS DEVELOPMENTS progress under the new laws enacted last winter, so far as poor-houses in this part of the State are concerned, says a Bedford contemporary, a horrible state of affairs is brought to light in almost every county, and it is no wonder that paupers run away in mid-winter, as they often do. The Grand Jury of Orange has just concluded an investigation of the management of their poor asylum. Their report says they found but little bedding and but a few beds, the quarters dark as midnight in the day time when the doors are closed, the institution swarming with vermin, and no accommodations for the sick. The fact seems to be that after a man has charge of a poor-house a year or so he loses all the humane feelings he ever possessed.

A MADISON paper of a recent date contains the following: "A short time ago a gentleman hailing from Williamsport, Pa., was in this city endeavoring to purchase the claims of some of our citizens, heirs, it appears, of a vast estate, which, it has recently been learned, belonged to them in Butler and Washington counties, Pa. They declined to sell, and have begun litigation to secure their property, which at present is valued at $14,000,000. There is every prospect of their success. It appears that about sixty years ago, Mosia Rogers, who came from the North of Ireland, located in Pennsylvania in the locality above mentioned, and acquired the title to the two sections of land on which a portion of the city of Williamsport is now situated. Before the location of the city, Rogers moved West and took up a farm on Indian Kentuck creek, Jefferson county, in this State, where he resided till the time of his death. Somebody sold his Pennsylvania land without getting his quit-claim deed to it, and in the course of time it became very valuable."

Inherited Antipathies.

Cows hate dogs from their earliest calf-hood upwards. I used to doubt once upon a time whether the hatred was not of artificial origin, and wholly induced by the inveterate human habit of egging on every dog to worry every other animal that comes in its way. But I tried a mild experiment one day by putting a half-grown, city bred puppy into a small enclosure with some unhitherto unworryed calves, and they all turned to make a common headway against the intruder with the same striking unanimity as the most ancient and experienced cows. Hence, I am inclined to suspect that the antipathy does not actually result from a vaguely inherited instinct, derived from the days when the ancestor of our kine was a wild urus, and the ancestor of our dogs a wolf, on the wild, forest-clad plains of Central Europe. When a cow puts up its tail on the sight of a dog entering its paddock at the present day, it has, probably, some dim, instinctive consciousness that it stands in the presence of a dangerous, hereditary foe; and as the wolves could only seize with safety a single isolated urus, so the cows usually make common cause against the intruding dog, turning their heads in one direction with very unwonted unanimity till his tail finally disappears under the opposite gate.

Such inherited antipathies seem common and natural enough. Every species knows and dreads the ordinary enemies of its race. Mice scamper away from the very smell of a cat. Young chickens run to the shelter of their mother's wings when the shadow of a hawk passes over their heads. Mr. Darwin put a small snake into a paper bag, which he gave to the monkeys at the Zoo; and one monkey after another opened the bag, looked in upon the deadly foe of the quadrumaneous kind, and promptly dropped the whole package with every gesture of horror and dismay. Even man himself—though his instincts have all weakened so greatly with the growth of his more plastic intelligence, adapted to a wider and more modified set of external circumstances—seems to retain a vague and original terror of the serpentine form.

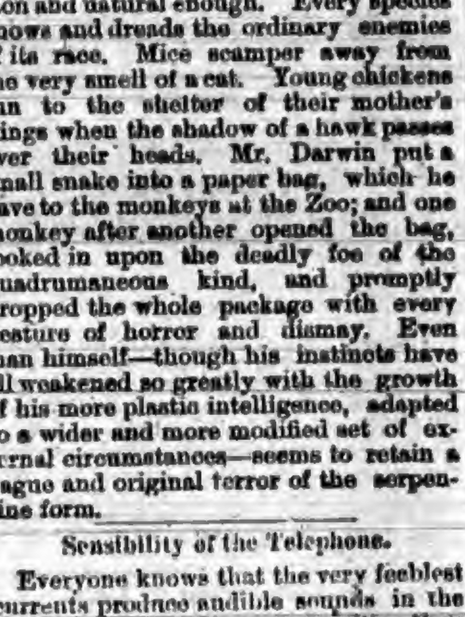
Sensibility of the Telephone.

Everyone knows that the very feeblest currents produce audible sounds in the telephone, which is more sensitive than any galvanometer to feeble currents. M. Pellat declared that the heat necessary to warm a kilogramme of water one degree would, if converted properly into the energy of electric currents, suffice to produce in a telephone an audible sound for ten thousand years continuously.—Scientific American.

"Angeline, my dear, you should not sit on the verandah in the edge of the evening. You will contract malaria," said a careful mother. "I know it, ma," was the cheerful reply. "That is what I'm trying to do. All our set have malaria. It is quite the idea, I assure you. What could mamma say?—[New Haven Reg.

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.
Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.
THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.
INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.
YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.
PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.
Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss. Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE



CHICAGO BURLINGTON AND QUINCY R.R.
FOR ALL POINTS
EAST AND WEST

THE GREAT
BURLINGTON ROUTE.
☞ No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.
The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.
The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.
Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.
Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.
Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.
All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to PERCEVAL LOWELL, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER, General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.
This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition.
Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.
Sold by [illegible] Davenport.

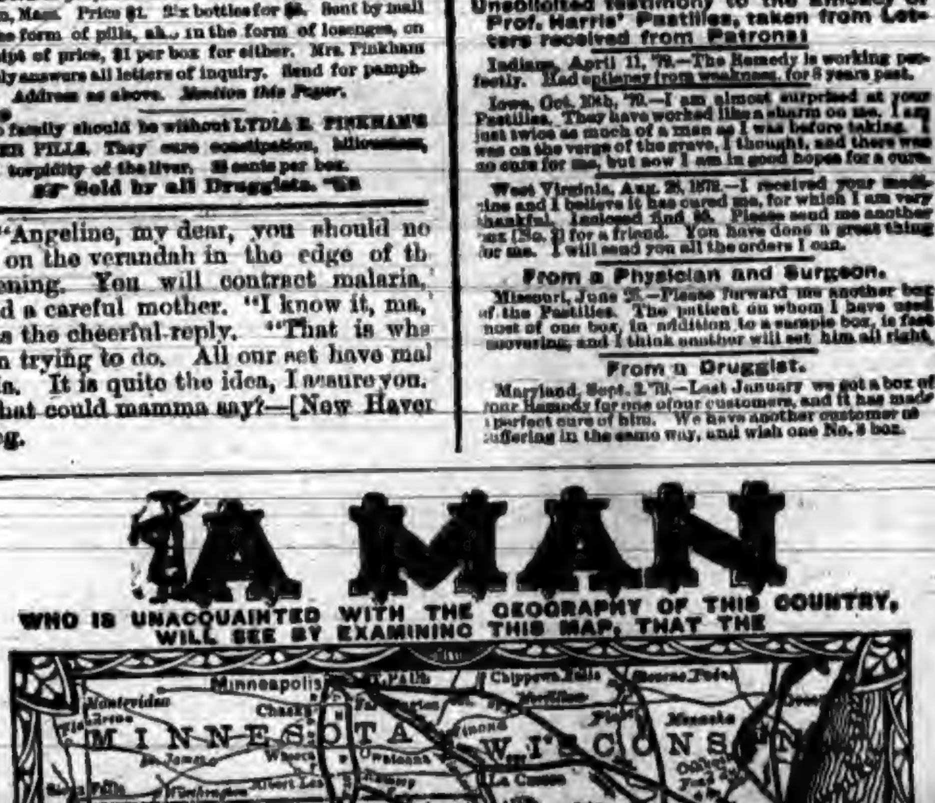
MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.
Is a Positive Cure
for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.
It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.
It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.
It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.
That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.
It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.
For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.
No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.
☞ Sold by all Druggists. ☜

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS
A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.
An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria, and all other Ague [illegible] known to the world. [illegible] sure for all Affections of the Kidneys, In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.
NOT A BEVERAGE
But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to social nature.
It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.
Its highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.
Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.
Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.
THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH
A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to
THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.
☞ We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

PROVED A SUCCESS
THE PASTILLE
Prof. Harris' Radical Cure
Trade Mark
FOR
NERVOUS DEBILITY
BY YEARS OF USE!
A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Gland, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.
Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS,
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.
Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons:
Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had epilepsy from weakness, for 8 years past.
Iowa, Oct. 18th, '79.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.
West Virginia, Aug. 28, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.
From a Physician and Surgeon.
Missouri, June 3.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering, and I think another will set him all right.
From a Druggist.
Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 2 box.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
Is the Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!
[illegible]
R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.
E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE GREAT CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

As it is for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS.

It cleanses the system of the acrid poison that causes the dreadful suffering which only the victims of Rheumatism can realize.

THOUSANDS OF CASES of the worst forms of this terrible disease have been quickly relieved, in a short time PERFECTLY CURED.

KIDNEY-WORT has had wonderful success, and an immense sale in every part of the Country. In hundreds of cases it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.

It cleanses, Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

As it has been proved by thousands that

KIDNEY-WORT is the most effectual remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions. It should be used in every household as a SPRING MEDICINE.

Always cures BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, PILES and all FEMALE Diseases.

Is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans, one package of which makes 6 quarts medicine.

Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated for the convenience of those who cannot readily prepare it. It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,
(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

KIDNEY-WORT

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink.)

CONTAINS

HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION,

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE

All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.

$1000 IN GOLD.

Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.

Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no Other.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

All above sold by druggists.
Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

CROWN
SEWING MACHINE
IS THE BEST

It is the result of 20 years' experience and experiments in Sewing Machines. It combines the good points of all present and former makes, and is not a "one man" or "one idea" machine, as others are. It avoids the defects of others, and possesses new and valuable features and conveniences. It is large, light-running, noiseless, handsome, convenient, durable, and simple. Warranted and kept in repair free for 5 years. Circulars with full description sent free on request. It is surely the best. A trial will prove it. Don't fail to see it before you buy. MANUFACTURED BY FLORENCE MACHINE CO., Florence, Mass.; WHOLESALED BY GEO. P. BENT, 81 and 83 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the BEST MACHINERY in the WORLD for BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power!

BOOK FREE. Address
LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

DO

Send for our New Illustrated Price-List No. 30, for Fall and Winter of 1881. Free to any address. Contains full description of all kinds of goods for personal and family use. We deal directly with the consumer, and sell all goods in any quantity at wholesale prices. You can buy better and cheaper than at home.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
227 and 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc.

The Recipes used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 425 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

USE KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE

REED'S

GILT EDGE TONIC

IS A THOROUGH REMEDY

In every case of Malarial Fever, Fever and Ague and Dumb Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbances of the Animal Forces, which debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It should not be confounded with the triturated compounds of cheap spirits and essential oil, often sold under the name of Bitters.

For Sale by Druggists and General Dealers everywhere.

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

BARNS & HUSSELMAN.

The Most Depraved Man on Earth.

[Eli Perkins.]

At Ft. Wayne I heard of a man who had fallen very low in the social scale. The man was up before Judge Foster for illegal voting, and in his cross examination he developed a line of family depravity seldom heard of. I confess I never heard of a family springing from such a depraved moral source.

"What has been your profession previous to your arrest?" asked Lawyer Johnson, one of the proudest lawyers in Ft. Wayne.

"I have kept a saloon, sir."

"Anything else?" asked Lawyer Thompson. "You have not kept a saloon for ten years, have you?"

"No, sir; I was a negro ministrel for a year, and then I went with Coup's circus."

"Do you think this life of a negro ministrel and a traveling circus man a very low calling?" asked the lawyer.

"Yes, sir; they are low callings, I will admit, but they are honest. You see, my father started very low, and I could not seem to get ahead."

"But your father never occupied a lower position than you, sir. He could not. Impossible," said the lawyer.

"Yes, sir, but he did."

"Well, what?"

"Why, he kept a faro bank. He had bad luck at that and kept going down hill. He ran away from mother just before I was born, leaving us children to starve. Then he began to get drunk and sleep on saloon floors. He got lower and lower, became a low tramp, and next we heard of him over in Kalamazoo, utterly shameless, practicing law."

Don't be Afraid of Work.

Don't be afraid of killing yourself with overwork, my son: Men seldom find work so hard as that on the sunny side of thirty. They die sometimes, but it is because they quit work at 6 p. m. and don't get home until 2 a. m. Its the intervals that kill, my son, The work gives you an appetite for your meals; it lends solidity to your slumber; it gives you a perfect and grateful appreciation of a holiday. There are young men who make a living by sucking the end of a cane, and can tie a neck-tie in eleven different knots, and never lay a wrinkle in it; who can spend more money in a day than you can earn in a month, son; and who will go to the sheriff's to buy a postal card, and apply at the office of the street commissioner for a marriage license, So find out what you want to be and do, son, and take off your coat and make success in the world. The busier you are the less evil you get into, the sweeter will be your sleep.

Troublesome Children.

that are always wetting their beds, ought not to be scolded and punished for what they cannot help. They need a medicine having a tonic effect on the kidneys and the urinary organs. Such a medicine is Kidney-Wort. It has specific action. Do not fail to get it for them.—[Exchange.

WINSTON, Forsyth Co., N. C.—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dispepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtues of your Bitters. Very respectfully,

48-2w. REV. H. FEREBEE.

—"What is home without a mother?" It is a place where shadows and gloom have superseded daylight and sunshine; where the angel of joy and the fragrance of sweet flowers have given place to the demon of neglect and decay; where there is no loving hand to soothe the fevered brow, and no words of encouragement to cheer us on the weary journey of life; where happy memories of the past more forcibly impress us with the utter wretchedness and desolation of lives whose light of joy went out when she ceased to be mother.

PANA, ILL., Dec. 28, 1880.—We have tried your Ague Tonic and found it good—hard to beat. J. H. YARNELL. 3

MONEY TO LOAN.—If you wish to borrow money on good time and easy terms, call on James E. Rose, Auburn, Indiana. 27 tf

PANA, ILL., Jan. 25, 1881.—I have used your Kress Fever Tonic, and found it much easier to cure the chills with it than for me to solve your rebus. S. D. ABBOTT. 37-3w.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp.

FOR SALE.—Small drug store, located at Fairfield Center, Indiana. Furniture all new and attractive. Good location, and good investment to any one who means business. For particulars enquire of BOUGHMAN & RUDOLPH,
36 2mo. Fairfield Center Ind.

Jay Gould's Mistake.

[New York Hour.]

Jay Gould probably made a mistake in taking any notice of Welles. Mr. Gould has loudly proclaimed the fact that he is physically a timid man, easily frightened. Will not this prosecution suggest to the "crank" and daring rascals to again try and frighten him and other capitalists. The spice of danger in the adventure makes it the more attractive. So many people have, or fancy they have, cause of complaint against noted street operators, that anything like violence is to be deprecated, and the extraordinary measures adopted to capture Welles are themselves likely to make others attempt a similar attack.

—A person who has been studying scientifically the cause of the squeaking of shoes, presents the following as the reason and remedy for the evil: "Squeaking shoes are caused by the vacuum between the insole and the outsole. Treading on the sole of a shoe forces the air out of the vacuum which produces the sound we call squeak. The proof of this is that a so called 'turned shoe,' having no insole, forms no vacuum, therefore does not squeak. A piece of muslin or other similar material, gummed on both sides, which will adhere to the inner and outer sole, thus filling the vacuum, will of necessity prevent squeaking. This applies to shoes in process of making. Now, as to those which are already made—three or four pegs or brads driven in the outsole, between the shank and the toe, will close the vacuum and prevent the squeak."

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Beugnot's Store.

P. V. HOFFMAN,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street, over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will give prompt attention to collections Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind,

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Halston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 23 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

In the Circuit Court of DeKalb county, Indiana, Dec. term:

John Harvey, as administrator of the estate of Margaret Bell, vs. John Bell, et. al.

To Margaret Dunton, impleaded with others you are hereby notified that the above named petitioner, as administrator of the estate aforesaid, has filed in the DeKalb Circuit Court, of DeKalb county, Indiana, a petition, making you defendant thereto, and praying therein for an order and decree of said court authorizing the sale of certain real estate belonging to the estate of said decedent, and in said petition described, to make assets for the payment of the debts and liabilities of said estate; and that said petition, so filed and pending, is set for hearing in said Circuit court, at the court house in Auburn, Indiana, on the 8th judicial day of the December term, 1881, of said court, the same being the 27th day of December, 1881

Witness, the clerk and seal of said court, this 22nd day of November, 1881.

JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DEBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist.

A $20.00 Biblical Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for December, offer the following easy way for someone to make $20.00:

To the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures by Dec. 10, 1881, we will give $20.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cents with their answer, for which they will receive the Christmas number of the Monthly, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Cut this out; it may be worth $20.00 to you. Address RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Easton, Pa.

Holloway' Pills.

Never despair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispels doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers He has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 6 to 8 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. 4tf

W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.,

Manufacturers of the

Bes and Lightest-Running

Wagon

NOW IN THE MARKET

Nothing but first-class material is used, and consequently the work is warranted. Repairing of all kinds done promptly. Shop on South Main street, Auburn, Ind. 31 tf

CLOCKS.

WM. ELLERY
WALTHAM, MASS.

GOLD AND SILVER
WATCHES.

RODGERS & BROTHER S

Plated Ware

SPOONS,
KNIVES,
AND FORKS,
RINGS,
VEST CHAINS,
CASTORS,

Necklaces, Ladies Gold Chains, and everything in the jewelry line.

VIOLINS,
GUITARS,
ACCORDEONS.

Special attentention given to repairing fine watches,

Work Warranted.

No charge for marking silverware sold at my store.

JOE ABRIGHT.

Second door north of postoffice, Auburn Indiana.

IMPROVE THE HOUR.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncoitis, Asthma, Coughs and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

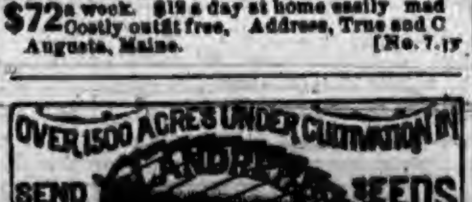
30 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburh, Pa.

A Macready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio For sale by all druggists.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co, Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made Costly outfit free, Address, True and Co Augusta, Maine. [No. 7.1y



OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION
SEND FOR CATALOGUE TO LANDRETH'S
SEEDS SENT BY MAIL
DAVID. LANDRETH & SONS. PHILA.

Ft. Wayne & Jackson Railroad

SHORT LINE

For all points South, Southeast and Southwest including Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis Kansas, Texas and all points west.

SHORT LINE from all points in central and northern Michigan and Canada.

Time-Card takes effect May 16, 1881.

SOUTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom
Leave Bay City	5 10pm	6 30am	....
Saginaw	5 55	7 15	....
Lansing	9 30	10 10	....
Grand Rapids	10 20	8 40	11 5am
Detroit	9 50	7 00	4 50pm
Ann Arbor	11 17	8 40	6 55
Jackson	5 10am	12 00 m	6 40pm
Hanover	4 25	12 25pm	7 25
Jonesville	6 48	12 46	8 25
Bankers	7 05	1 13	8 50
Reading	7 16	1 24	9 20
Montgomry	7 27	1 41	9 45
Fremont	7 42	2 03	10 13
Angola	7 58	2 20	10 40
Pleasant Lake	8 07	2 30	10 58
Waterloo	8 26	2 52	11 30
Auburn	8 38	3 05	11 47
Auburn Junction	9 00	3 25	12 10am
Arrive Ft. Wayne	10 20	4 20	1 40
Indianapolis	6 00pm	10 00	....
Cincinnati	6 15	1 45	1 45pm
Louisville	10 10	7 15am	....
St. Louis	....	8 55	8 00pm
Washingt	....	9 35	9 00am
Baltimore	....	10 50	7 40am

NORTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom.
Leave Baltimore	9 0am	12 10pm	1 15am
Washington	10 0	10 47am	2 20
Louisville	6 0	11 25pm	....
Cincinnati	9 00	7 30am	2 25pm
Indianapolis	4 10am	12 00	....
Ft. Wayne	11 30am	4 00pm	2 00am
Arrive Aub	12 45pm	6 00	2 50
Auburn	12 5	6 10	3 55
Waterloo	11 00	6 15	4 25
Pleasant Lake	1 18	6 35	[illegible]
Angola	1 30	7 05	[illegible]
Fremont	1 46	7 25	5 48
Montgomery	2 05	7 47	6 20
Reading	2 16	8 00	7 05
Bankers	2 27	8 15	6 45
Jonesville	2 42	8 35	7 35
Hanover	2 57	8 55	8 28
Jackson	3 40pm	9 25pm	9 25pm
Ann Arbor	5 07	....	10 34
Detroit	6 30	7 30	11 35
Grand Rapids	10 20	10am	1 30pm
Lansing	5 45	30	....
Saginaw	9 00	25	....
Bay City	10 00	12 40 pm	....

Accommodation going north daily. All other trains daily except Sunday.

CONNECTIONS.

JACKSON.—M. C.: east—12 45, 5 00, 7 15, 9 30 a m., 3 45, 4 05, 9 37 p. m.; west—12 40, 8 50, 10 30 a. m., 12 15, 6 55, 11 30 p. m. M. C. A. L. west—6 40 a. m., 5 50 p. m. J. L. & S. 7 00 a. m., 4 15 p. m. G. R. V. 1 10, 8 35 a. m., 12 30, 6 50 p. m.

JONESVILLE.—L. S. & M. S., east 5 02 a. m. 2 50 p. m.; west 9 40 a. m., 12 56, 10 50 p. m.

BANKERS.—D. H. & S. W., east, leave, 7 10 a. m., 2 30 p. m.; arrive at Bankers, 1 10, 10 p. m.

WATERLOO.—L. S. & M. S. east, 2 50, 11 35 p. m.; west 2 15 a. m., 1 30 p. m

AUBURN JUNCTION.—B. & O. east, 3 48 a. m., 3 25, 10 22 p. m.; west, 1 30 a. m., 12 30 p. m. E. R. east, 12 53 a. m. 12 30 p. m.; west, 7 05 a. m. 3 25 p. m.

FT. WAYNE.—Ft. Wayne, M. & C. leave 10 30 a. m., 5 20 p. m.; arrive 9 40 a. m., 4 1[illegible] p. m. W., St. L. & P. east, 5 00, 7 00 a. m., 3 10, 35 p. m., west, 5 15, 10 40 a. m. 4 50 8 55 p. m. C. R. & Ft. W. leave 8 15 a. m., 3 00 p. m.; ar. 8 00, 7 15 p. m. P., Ft. W. & C. east, 6 25 a. m., 2 15, 3 40, 8 15, 11 55 p. m.; west 2 20, 5 15, a. m., 12 55, 3 40, 11 45 p. m.

Arrival and departure of trains shown above is by Chicago time, same as Ft. W. & J. road.

Through tickets to all principal points. For information as to routes and connections apply to

M. D. WOODFORD Gen'l Supt
H. BROMLEY Gen'l Ft. & Pass'r. Agen

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipments! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York. Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect May 15, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	N Y. Ex.	At. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Chicago	9 30am	5 35pm
Elkhart	1 30pm	10 10	1 00am	7 00am
Kendallville	2 48	11 30	5 25	12 10pm
Corunna	2 58		6 35
Sedan			7 05	2 00
Waterloo	3 10	11 55	7 30	2 40
Butler	3 24	12 10am	8 20	3 40
Toledo	5 40	2 45	7 35pm

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi Ex.	Pac. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Toledo	11 05am	12 01am	5 30am
Butler	1 35pm	2 20	4 00pm	8 10am
Waterloo	1 50	2 35	4 50	9 20
Sedan			5 05	10 00
Corunna	2 15		5 15	10 05
Kendallville	2 20	3 00	5 35	11 25
Elkhart	3 40	4 20	9 25	4 20
Chicago	8 00	8 20

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given, trains do not stop. Accommodation Freight leaves Butler at 5 o'clock a. m., and arrives at Toledo at 10:25 a. m. Accommodation Freight leaves Toledo at 5:05 p. m., and arrives at Butler at 10:42 p. m. Close connections at Chicago. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage. J. H. CURTIS,
Supt. Mich. Div., Toledo, O.

For tickets to all points east—first-class, second class, emigrant and round-trip tickets to Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and California, rates of freight and information—apply to H. D. ARMSTRONG,
Agent, Waterloo, Ind.

Baltimore & Ohio R. R

CHICAGO DIVISION.

IN EFFECT FROM NOVEMBER 20, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	N. Y. Fast.	W. & B. Express	W. & O Ex.
CHICAGO lv.	5 30pm	10 00pm	8 45am
Walkerton Junction		1 06am	12 07pm
Milford Junction		2 25	1 25
Syracuse		2 35	1 36
Cromwell		2 50	1 55
Albion		3 15	2 20
Avilla		3 35	2 48
Garrett	10 35	4 00	3 30
Auburn Junction	10 42	4 08	3 40
St. Joe
Hicksville		4 45	4 24
Defiance	11 52	5 30	5 12
Deshler	12 46am	6 36	6 15
Fostoria	1 30	7 20	7 18
Tiffin	2 08	7 58	7 48
CHICAGO JUNCTION ar.	3 00	9 20	9 00

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Fast Line.	Chi. Express	Chi. Mail.
CHICAGO JUNCTION lv	9 30pm	6 10pm	8 05am
Tiffin	10 25	7 48	9 10
Fostoria	10 51	8 35	9 40
Deshler	11 52	9 43	10 40
Defiance	12 51am	10 5[illegible]	11 42
Hicksville		11 42	12 28pm
St. Joe
Auburn Junction	2 20	12 18am	1 05
Garrett	2 35	12 25	1 35
Avilla		12 36	1 52
Albion		12 58	2 20
Cromwell		1 20	2 45
Syracuse		1 36	3 06
Milford Junction		1 45	3 14
Walkerton Junction		3 05	4 30
CHICAGO ar.	6 35	6 10	7 35

Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati and White Water Railroads.

In effect February 27, 1881.

SOUTHWARD. No. 1 M	SOUTHWARD. No. 3 Ex	STATIONS.	NORTHWARD. No. 2 M	NORTHWARD. No. 4 Ex
a m	p m		p m	a m
10 50	3 40	Lv..Fort Wayne..Ar	6 45	10 00
11 53	6 37	......Bluffton......	[illegible]	[illegible]
p m
12 16	6 00	......Hartford......	2 35	7 8
1 40	8 00	......Muncie......	1 45	6 8
p m	p m		a m	p m
7 15		......Cincinnati....	5 50	......
6 00	10 55	Indianapolis....	11 30	4 30

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run on Columbus time.

W. W. WORTHINGTON, Gen. Supt.
Geo. B. CAMPBELL' General Ticket Agt.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway.

Condensed time-card in effect Sept. 1, 1881.

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex	Fa't L'e	Pac Ex	Mail
Pittsburgh	9 15am	12 05am	1 50pm	7 30
Mansfield	5 40pm	6 55	9 20	....
Crestline Lv	6 35	7 50	9 55	1 40am
Ft. Wayne	12 05am	1 15pm	3 40am	5 25
Chicago Ar	6 30	7 30	8 20	10 00

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	No. 2 Fast Ex	No. 6 Pac. Ex	No. 4 Ni't Ex.	No. 8 Mail
Chicago Lv	8 50am	3 30pm	9 20pm	10 00pm
Ft. Wayne	2 35pm	8 30	12 10am	6 55am
Crestline	7 10	12 25am	5 30	11 45am
Mansfield	8 08	1 10	7 30	12 35pm
Pittsburgh Ar.	3 15am	7 30	3 15pm	7 30

Trains Nos. 3, 6, 5 and 4 run daily. Train No 1 leaves Pittsburgh daily except Saturday. Train No. 3 leaves Chicago daily except Saturday. All others daily except Sunday.

E. A. FORD General Ticket Ag't.
D. W. CALDWELL, General Manager.

TAKE A RIDE

—OVER THE—

—AND YOU—

WILL DISCOVER

Why it is termed the Popular

PASSENGER LINE OF AMERICA!

2,500 MILES OF ROAD reaching in the most direct manner all of the

Great Cities of the West

Running the Finest Passenger Equipment and the most extended Through-Car System on the continent.

THROUGH TICKETS

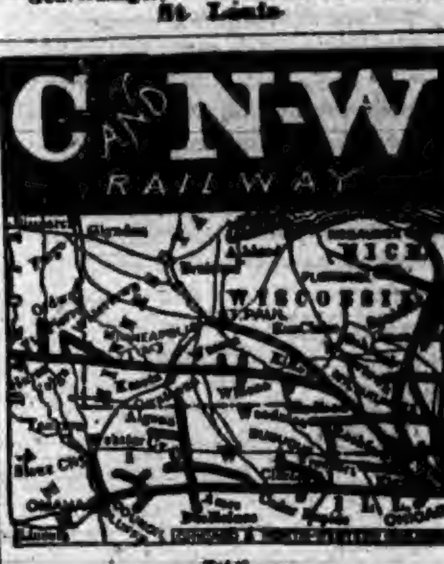
TO ALL POINTS

East, West, Northwest or Southwest!

And Baggage Checked from starting point to destination.

For Maps, Time-Tables, or any information, call on or address LOUIS JOHNSON, agent, Auburn, Ind., or FRED. CLARK, Auburn Junction.

J. C. GAULT, Gen. Manager, H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen. Passenger Agent, St. Louis.



—THE—

Chicago & Northwestern Railway

Is the oldest, Best Constructed, Best Equipped and hence the Leading Railway

—OF THE—

WEST AND NORTHWEST.

It is the short and best route between Chicago and all points in Northern Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming Nebraska, California, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and fo

Council Bluffs, Omaha, Denver, Leadville, Salt Lake, San Francisco, Deadwood Sioux City,

Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Columbus, and all points in the territories, and the west. Also for Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Marquette, Fond du Lac, Watertown, Houghton, Neenah, Menasha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Huron, Volga, Fargo, Bismarc, Winona, LaCrosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Northwest.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern and the U. P. Railways depart from, arrive at and use the same joint Union depot.

At Chicago close connections are made with the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ft. Wayne and Pennsylvania, and Chicago and Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

Close connections at Junction points.

It is the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

Between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

Pullman Sleepers on all night trains.

Insist upon ticket agents selling you tickets via this road Examine your tickets and refuse to buy if they do not read over the Chicago and Northwestern railway

If you wish the best traveling accommodations you will buy your tickets by this route AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER.

All ticket agents sell tickets by this line.
Marvin Hughitt, 2d V. P. & Gen'l Manager Chicago.

Recorders Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 11. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, DECEMBER 8, 1881. Number 49.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

BARNS & HUSSELMAN.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, post-office as second-class matter.

Lady Physicians.

A St. Louis doctor factory recently turned out a dozen female doctors. As long as the female doctors were confined to one or two in the whole country, and these were only experimental, we held our peace and did not complain; but now that the colleges are engaged in producing female doctors as a business, we must protest, and, in so doing, will give a few reasons why female doctors will not prove a paying branch of industry.

In the first place, if they doctor anybody it must be women, and three-fourths of the women would rather have a male doctor. Suppose those colleges turn out female doctors until there is as many of them as there are male doctors, what have they got to practice on? A man, if there was nothing the matter with him, might call in a female doctor, but if he was sich as horse—if a man is sick he is sick as a horse—the last thing he would have around would be a female doctor, Any why? Because, when a man has a female fumbling around him he wants to feel well. He don't want to be billious or feverish, with his mouth tasting like cheese, and his eyes bloodshot, when the female is looking him over and taking an account of stock.

Of course, these female doctors are all young and good-looking, and if one of them came into a sick room where a man was in bed, and he had chills, and was as cold as a wedge, and she should sit up close to the side of the bed and take hold of his hand, his pulse would run up to a hundred and fifty, and she would prescribe for a fever when he had chilblains, Oh, you can't fool us on female doctors! A man who has been sick, and had male doctors, knows just how much he would like to have a female doctor come tripping in and throw her fur-lined cloak over a chair, take off her hat and gloves and throw them on a lounge, and come up to the bed with a pair of marine-blue eyes, with a twinkle in the corner, and look him in the wild, changeable eyes, and ask him to run out his tongue. Suppose he knew his tongue was coated so it looked like a yellow Turkish towel, do you suppose he would want to run out over five or six inches of the lower part of and let that female doctor put her finger on it to see how fur it it was? Not much. He would put that tongue into his cheek, and would not let her see it for twenty-five cents admission. We have seen doctors put their hands under bed clothes and feel a man's feet to see if they were cold. If a female doctor should do that it would give him the cramps. There's no use talking, it would kill a man!

Now, suppose a man has heart disease, and a female doctor should want to listen to the breathing of his heart. She would lay his left ear on his left breast, so her eyes and rose-bud mouth would be looking him in the face, and her wavy hair would be scatterted all around there, getting tangled in the buttons of his night-shirt. Don't you suppose his heart would get in about twenty extra beats to the minute? You bet! And she would smile—we will bet ten dollars she would smile—and show her pearly teeth, and the ripe lips would be working as though she was counting the beats, and he would think she way trying to whisper to him, and—well, what would he be doing all this time? If he was not dead yet, which would be a wonder, his left hand would brush the hair away from her temple and kind of stay there to keep the hair away, and his right hand would get sort of nervous and move around to the back of her head, and when she had counted the beats a few minutes and was raising her head, he would draw the head up to him and kiss her once for luck, if he was as billious as a Jersey swamp angel, and have her charge it in the bill. And then a reaction would set in, and he would be as weak as a cat, and she would have to fan him and rub his head till he got over being nervous, and then make out his prescription after he got asleep. No; all of a man's symptoms change when a female doctor is practicing on him, and she would kill him dead.

—Subscribe for the COURIER, the leading paper of the county.

Small Bits.

—Congress met last Monday.

—The school boy will have a week's rest now.

—Look at the stock in the new furniture store.

Toy books all kinds and prices at Davenport's.

—Mr. Harter was door keeper for the South Carolinans.

Fine handkerchief extracts and fancy oder cases at Davenport's.

—Friends, don't forget on Christmas day to remember the poor—printer.

—Two wood subscribers have favored us with a call this winter. Ain't bad.

—Sim. Tarney's engine broke down last Friday, causing considerable trouble.

—The Guiteau circus in Washington still continues to draw an audience.

—The Tribune at Harrisburg, Ark., is for sale, rent or lease, to some practical printer.

Holiday juvenile books, also all the standard poets bound in elegant style, at Davenport's.

—The new bar has been put in "Rothenberger's saloon," and the pleading will soon begin.

—Last Friday and Saturday trade was pretty fair to what it has been for several weeks past.

—Snyder & Culbertson have opened a new furniture store, next door to the Excelsior hardware.

—We learn that J. E. Rose will erect several houses on vacant lots, which he is the owner of, at Butler.

—Pete Stutz and Chris. Baker have formed a partnership in the saloon business at the Junction.

—The "South Carolina" singers gave a very creditable concert to our citizens last Wednesday evening.

—An umbrella man and the average servant girl are somewhat similar, for they never remain long in one family.

—The honest debt of Virginia, is about thirty-four millions. The re-adjusters have a big job on their hands.

—The supreme court has decided that cigars are not among the necessities, and that their sale on Sunday is illegal.

—An advertiser in Texas calls for "an industrious man, as a boss hand over 5,000 head of sheep that speak Spanish fluently."

—The organ men continue to give the farmer music on the superior qualities of their instruments, notwithstanding the condition of the roads.

—The new law prohibits any working on Sunday. Old Mr. Baker and Dry Houghton will be in a d—l of a fix. Of course Dry won't work.

—They call a recently imported tenor a Patti-cake, but from the way the papers have "roasted" him from time to time, we should call him griddle-cake.

Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup will not cure consumption, but will give relief when coughing. Consumptives should all use it. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

—Frank Ryan has a dog with a double nose. The mouth and nose are the prominent features of a dog, and consequently he will have to be registered for double services.

—Hod. Kircher is a barber. He got an ax at Kib's. the other day to try. He tried it, brought it back, and said it wasn't "good stuff." Guess he will look up a situation out of town.

—We notice that the Fort Wayne Fin and Feather lies on the table in some of our sporting places. It's a very light and "fin" affair, and will never gain much notoriety in the newspaper army.

—We have a young man in sweet Auburn who aspires to the show business somewhat. He tries to trade complimentary tickets in part payment for printing, and wants $2.00 worth of local puffs for two tickets.

—Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets. 48-2w.

—We printed some peculiar cards for T. H. Sprott, Esq., which he will have copyrighted "last summer." By the way, Tom is making things lively in the insurance business, and his large success is owing to the first-class, substantial companies he represents.

How to Say It.

Say "for you and me," and not for "you and I."

Say "whether I be present or not," and not "present or no."

Say "not that I know," and not "not that I know of."

Say "return it to me," and not "return it back to me."

Say "I seldom see him," and not "that I seldom or ever see him."

Say "fewer friends," and not "less friends."

Say "If I mistake not," and not "If I am not mistaken."

Say "game is plentiful," and not "game is plenty."

Say "I am weak in comparison with you," and not "to you."

Say "it rains very fast," and not "very hard."

Say "thus much is true," and not "this much is true."

Say "I lifted it," and not "I lifted it up."

And last, but not least, say "I take my paper and pay for it in advance."

Let Us be Thankful.

That our appetites are good at this season of the year.

That we have an opportunity to do good by helping the poor.

That the weather has got so cold we won't be bothered by organ-grinders until next spring.

That we haven't got the dyspepsia—if we haven't.

That there is one day when men can say with pleasure, "My goose is cooked."

That there is a way to get rid of the man who talks too much.

That the temperance people are waking up.

That we are to have gravel roads.

That the doctors are not running up bills on us.

That Christmas is coming rapidly.

That you have paid for the COURIER in advance.

A Sure Cure for Piles.

Do you know what it is to suffer with piles? If you do, you know what is one of the worst torments of the human frame. The most perfect cure ever known is Kidney-Wort. It cures constipation, and then its tonic action restores health to the diseased bowels and prevents recurrence of disease. Try it without delay. The dry and the liquid are both sold by druggists.—Globe.

—The Slayton Concert Company was not very largely patronized, owing substantially to the fact that the managers were too close in advertising. The parties here who engaged the troupe are out of pocket, so to say, several dollars. When the agent of a show company gives the managing editor and local editor a ticket, and lets the boys whack up at the door, the printer plainly understands that the show is traveling the "bankrupt road to Brighton," and consequently makes but little effort to draw a house for them. Shows of this nature generally want from $2.00 to $5.00 worth of advertising for two tickets.

—S. G. Searight, of Butler, has invented a damper for use in stove pipes and drums that he warrants to save from one-third to one-half the fuel, and to warm an upper room as well as a stove. These drums gather no soot, are self-cleaners, can be regulated, opened and closed from below. The demand for them is increasing to such an extent that he has made arrangements for their manufacture at Toledo as well as Butler. His general agent, D. D. Deihl, will visit Auburn this week and locate an agent in this place.

—When the small-pox broke out at Fort Wayne, the old family physicians fled precipitately from the field, leaving the patients to fight their battles alone. The celebrated physician of Bristol, Ind., who didn't know small-pox from the seven-year itch, ought to locate at Wayne, and do business for the cowardly pill peddlers there.

—The COURIER force is under especial obligations to our popular restaurant man, Sherm. Hollister, for a nice lot of cream cake. If this is a sample of the articles baked at this new bakery, we can heartily recommend it to the public, and ask our citizens to call in and try a "hunk" for their own satisfaction.

—Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, etc., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house. 48-2w.

MY PROPHECY.

[Written for the COURIER.]

Russet hues with green ones blending,
  Yellow touchings here and there,
Hazy air the senses stilling,
  Tell that gone is summer fair.

Golden grains that barns are filling,
  Busy housewives' gathered store,
Ripened fruit in orchards falling,
  Herald gladsome summer o'er.

Through the air crisp leaves are dropping,
  Back to earth they silent come,
Summer buds have ceased their blooming,
  Rarely now the insects hum.

In the woods the hunter roaming,
  Fills his bag with fattened game,
Squirrels on ripe nuts are feasting,
  Happy hunter does the same.

So without the gypsies cunning,
  Or the wisdom of the seer,
In the book of nature reading,
  I foretell gray winter near.

L. S. K.

—Guiteau thinks he would draw now, and he certainly would if a few righteous citizens could get a rope around his neck.

—The greenback members of congress, are holding aloof from the contest over the next speaker of the house, and seem determined to make their votes felt, in case the fight is close.

—The star routers are still at large. Dorsey is on his western ranch, safe from harm, and is still secretary of the republican national committee, and is likely to remain so.

—The painters have hid from view the inside of Houston's building, and the passer by cannot gaze upon the "rosy" as it goes down the gulf of life on its way to "Stomach town."

"Where, O where are the Hebrew children?" Gone for a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup, the great cough killer. Price only 25 and 50 cents. Ask your druggist for it.

—This is the time for the winter scene, of burning the housemaid with kerosene. Swift are the waters of the dark St. Joe, as they come from marsh and plain, and smooth o'er the drowned its currents flow; they never rise again.

—What our people want now, is a good theatrical company to give an entertainment. We have got tired, completely worn out, with concert troupes, and if this should meet the eye of any traveling singers, we advise them to check their grips for the next station.

—Charley Smith will have to order a car load of revolvers by the first of April, as he will have to do all the canine shooting himself. He is the only constable in town. Brother Porter has "pulled off," you know; but then he couldn't hit the broad side of a Newfoundland dog anyway.

—Old winter has made his bow, and the dreary days of storm and wind are hurled upon us with all their force Those who are well provided for and have plenty should ever remember there are those who are in need; and a little help would bring a ray of joy into their lonely homes.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 48-tf.

FOR SALE.—Small drug store, located at Fairfield Center, Indiana. Furniture all new and attractive. Good location, and good investment to any one who means business. For particulars enquire of BOUGHMAN & RUDOLPH,
36 2mo. Fairfield Center Ind

Useful and ornimental—those new Unique Wall Pockets, for holding your brushes and combs. They are just the thing to present to your wife, for a Christmas present. For sale by Davenport, the druggist.

A splendid assortment of cloth, hair and tooth brushes, combs, dressing cases, fancy, box papers, ladies hand bags, purses and card cases, at Davenport's.

New stock of German accordeons and violins just received at Bassett & Maxson's jewelry store in Waterloo.

There is a rare chance for selecting holiday gifts and wedding presents, at Bassett & Maxson's in Waterloo.

For good lunch, hot coffee and oysters, go to Ed. Baker's lunch room, second door west of Davenport's. 48 2w.

Tub oysters at 30 cents a quart can always be found at Ed. Baker's. Give them a trial. 48-3w.

Good mince meat ready prepared at Ed. Baker's, at 12½ cents a pound. It saves time and labor. 48-3w

Gold pens, pencils and tooth picks. The best and cheapest in the world, at Davenport's.

PANA, ILL., Dec. 28, 1880.—We have tried your Ague Tonic and found it good—hard to beat. J. H. YARNELL. 3

All the standard poems in fancy binding, and at the very lowest prices, at Davenport's.

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price):

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,

MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, OMBRE PLUSHES, for $3, $3.50, $5, $5.50, $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS,

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—excellent value.

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS,

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1 00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c., 75c., $1.25 and $1 50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 an $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. - - - Ft. Wayne

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

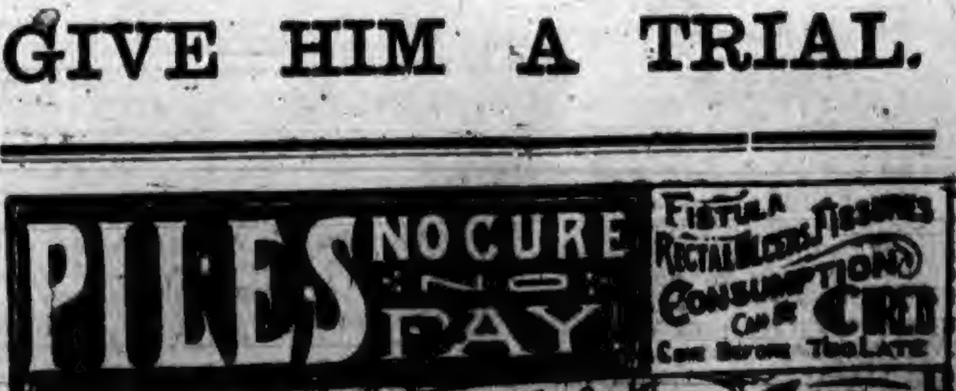
Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens of Auburn with extra fine WHEAT, RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion this week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm. and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL.



PILES NO CURE NO PAY

FISTULA RECTAL ULCERS FISSURES CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED COME BEFORE TOO LATE

BY DR. A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S WONDERFUL NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE PATENTED

OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR. BRINKERHOFF. CURE WARRANTED

WHAT I'D DO.

BY SAMUEL LOVER.

"Oh what will ye do, love, when I am going
With white sails flowing
The seas beyond;
What will ye do, love, though waves divide us,
And friends will chide us
For being fond?"

"Though waves divide us
And friends may chide us,
In faith abiding, I'll still be true;
I'll pray for you on the stormy ocean
With deep devotion,
That's what I'll do!"

"What would ye do, love, if distant tidings
Your fond confidings
Should undermine;
And I abiding 'neath foreign skies
Should think other eyes
Were as bright as thine?"

"Oh, name it not, love, though guilt and shame
Were on your name
I'd still be true;
But that heart of thine—should another share!
I could not bear it—
That's what I'd do!"

"What would you do, love, if home returning
In hopes high burning,
And wealth for you;
If my bark that bounded on foreign foam
Should be lost near home—
What would you do?"

"So thou wert spared I'd bless the morrow,
In want and sorrow,
That left me you;
And I'd welcome thee from the stormy billow,
This heart thy pillow—
That's what I'd do!"

RED PAINT.

In the matter of the chocolate-colored circles about my blue eyes, the whites of which complete the patriotic trinity of red, white and blue—those red rings, of whose origin I have been so often vexed with questions—I will tell a story which may save further inquiry. I am enabled to do so by memory of what my father used to say, and by reference to notes in a diary which he kept for many years.

Some time before I dawned upon this world, and while my spirit was probably walking with the angels with whom I kept company, my dear mother, tired of the monotony of her life at our family seat in the country, repaired alone to the city to regale herself with a sight of novelties for a month. My mother supposed that father would soon follow and rejoin her; but in this she was mistaken. He gave the housemaid a month's vacation, and was now left entirely alone, sleeping at the house and getting his meals for himself, rather than going to the city or the nearest tavern. He was an odd man, my father was, as I shall presently show. Being lonesome, he thought he would fix up things about the house to while away time, and surprise my mother by the improvements when she returned at the expiration of the month.

"I think I will do a little painting up, in the first place," thought my father. "Paint is not only an ornament, but it preserves things. The kitchen floor needs painting. The old color, what remains of it, is yellow; but I am not partial to yellow, and beside, I want a new color, for novelty. What color would probably most charm my wife? I have not much taste myself, but I have heard people praise red very highly. Sunrises, and sunsets, and comets, are often approved of by good judges, for being red. Red is said to be the most showy and effective military and dramatic color. I have seen some very handsome red flags at auction and railroad stations. Red lips and cheeks are always in the fashion. Then there is the red, red rose; and then there is my red handkerchief, the handsomest and largest I have got. I will paint the floor red; and, now that I reflect upon the supreme beauty of red, I will buy enough, and no doubt I shall find good use for it."

So my father went and bought a great quantity of red paint, and had it mixed and sent with brushes to the house.

"I will do all the painting myself that I care to have done," thought my father, when the bloody fluid blushed beneath his flaming eyes. "It will be a light, pleasing exercise, and my wife will be more delighted when she finds that I have done all the ornamentation without help. How lovely that red looks! It appears to me that all the white paint on the other woodwork in the kitchen looks as dingy now as the floor. What a capital idea it would be to paint it all red, now that I happen to have so much of it! I will do so. The kitchen, all of that color, will be the handsomest room in the house. But the main thing is the floor."

So my ancient father hastily began and painted the floor first, forgetting that it would cause him to wait until it was dry, or make tracks over it, or lay inconvenient planks, if he painted all the rest of the kitchen. He saw the mistake he had made when he began to paint the doors. The fresh paint on the floor stuck to his soles, and the marks of his flaming footsteps, like those of some destroying angel, hot from home, were everywhere and confused. They did some little damage to the carpets in other rooms, and this confused him some; but my father was not a man to stand for trifles, and, knowing that he could paint the floor over again, he went on with the other work. He had the tools, material, industry and ambition to please, and these were something for an amateur.

So, sticking as he went, my father covered all the doors with a flaming coat, inside and out, his pleasure increasing with the alteration he caused; and then proceeded to make his mark on all the remaining woodwork, including the window frames, sills and sashes, shutters, closet shelves, thresholds, the mantelpiece and sink, and then, thought he, "Why not the walls, to complete the thing and make it uniform?" And so the walls stood up and received their share; and then, as the hearth and locks and bolts and doors seemed by their nakedness to disturb the harmony, he painted them.

"By glory!" thought my father, greatly delighted with the marvelous change he had created, "if here isn't a whole sunrise in a box. What a little paint will do if well laid on, and of the right color! I shall like to live in this room. Neat, cheerful, uniform and splendid at the same time. I must paint the floor over again to hide my tracks; but let me see this time if I have finished up everything else first. No, I have not. These kitchen chairs and tables all want painting badly. I wonder I hadn't thought of them first. But they must certainly not be neglected as long as I have so much paint and of such a color, too. What a thing is the simple article of paint! What a tailor is to a man a painter is to a house; but people don't seem to know it. Even I have just found it out. I should think a man might make a fortune if he went about with paint pot and brushes and adopted my idea and astonished folks with the change it makes. Worse conceptions than this have been patented, and the accident of a happy thought enables many to roll in riches and immortal clover."

After due rest between jobs as he proceeded, my dear father gave the tables and chairs a touch of his quality, and for a while he was in doubt whether the last job was not an immense improvement on the preceding ones.

He stood off and examined, and then shut his eyes and imagined.

"No," he concluded, "neither can claim precedence. Each is admirable in itself, and yet each is necessary to the other, to give it complete effect. I wonder what kind of an artist I should have made. It strikes me I have vastly more taste than I thought, and I think I should be distinguished for what they call coloring. But am I done yet? There is more paint left. I wish this kitchen was twice as big. I don't feel quite satisfied yet. Isn't there something more to make the beauty still more beautiful, and the harmony more harmonious? There is! I have it. I see there is. Why, bless me! I haven't begun to be done yet. Why not paint all the wooden utensils which belong to kitchen use? I'll do it, if I have to send for more paint. How thought expands by exercise. At first I thought only of the floor; and now, pooh! it is the last and least of my thoughts; but I thank the floor for leading to these ideas."

In this happy mood my father resumed his decorative work on wood, and engaged himself busily for several days, during which he was obliged to send for even more paint than he had bought at first, to enable his busy brush to adorn baskets, knife-tray, bread-trough, spice-mortar, rolling-pin, dough-stick, salt-box; wash, ironing and knife-boards; clothes-horse, sleeve-board, pails, buckets, barrels, kegs, firkins, tubs, benches, brooms and brushes; and after whatever else could be painted without being rendered unfit for use had been painted, he concluded to finish off by reddening the whole store-room, from which most of them had been drawn.

"I have done enough already," thought my father, "to make my wife thankful; but then I have a great deal more paint on hand, and I can see plainly that much remains to be done. Now, why not paint the outside of the rear of the L of the house, where the kitchen is, as high up as the eaves, to correspond?"

This he did, and then thought the job would look like patchwork, unless all the outside of the L were given the same hue. And this, too, he did, and having included the L roof and chimney, he then added the rear porch, its roof and railing, and admitted that the liberality was not to be repented, but would not be a complete, symmetrical triumph unless assisted by the painting of the house, embracing in a grand red sum-total, roofs, chimneys, spouts, walls, doors, porticos, railings, pillars, window frames and trellises.

And all these, also, he did with his own hand, his red right hand, for it may be readily imagined that his hand could not have been very much of any other color, immersed as he was in such a wholesale work, and my father's diary itself states that sometimes he felt so tired, and the paint stuck so, and there was so much yet to be done, he did not think it necessary to clean the paint from his hands at the close of the day, but slept in them as they were, often dreaming that he was a white man with mahogany hands, the color seeming to have impregnated the very essence of his being.

Occasionally I am inclined to doubt my own judgment, or I should not hesitate to declare that my father seems to have been somewhat odd in this persistent fancy for red paint, but, in order to remove the possibility of such an idea in others, I will simply state that his proceedings were perfectly natural throughout.

He was a very affectionate man, and the absence of his wife, in search of novelty, led him at the outset to plan the kitchen part of his surprise, to make up for any shortcomings on his part, by giving her an excess of pleasure when she returned. This at once removes his kitchen work from all suspicion of singularity.

And now, as to the excess of red which followed. My father had daily written her a letter, hoping she was having a good time, but my mother never replied, being vexed at his not coming himself, and her continued silence, naturally rendering him uneasy, led him, as it were, to drown his sorrow by a still more profuse indulgence in red paint. Fortunately, he was not a drinking man and it was not brandy, or he might have painted himself instead of the house.

The house—and so forth; for having got as far as I have stated, he sent for still more paint, no letter having come yet, and, like one determined to give a fiery aspect to all he owned, he set to work with unabated ardor, and painted the barn, sheds, coops, sty and well-house, all the gates and fences, and then the trunks of all the trees, as high as he could reach, to keep the worms off, and perfect the prevailing consistency of color.

The month was now up, and still my mother did not come, nor yet a letter.

At this period, I think a slight oddity did really begin to appear in the conduct of my father. Summer was coming, and, reflecting that the whole of the inside of the house had not yet been painted, his diary says that he deliberated one whole forenoon, and then thought how cool it would be to do away with carpets, and have all the floors painted for naked use during the warm season. Acting upon this, he took up all the carpets, and painted every floor in the house, and, in his haste to finish before my mother should arrive, he so daubed the walls and some of the furniture that he painted them too, embracing bedsteads, bureaus, toilet-tables, wash stands, cornices, with all the wood-work, in all the kitchen style of universal flame.

And still my mother did not appear. I have heard my father say that during that particular period, while his last batch of paint was drying, he did not feel anxious for her to come. I do not doubt his intentional veracity upon any point, but I think his memory failed him in that instance; and that, in his sorrow that the paint spoiled some of her dresses when she did come, he forgot how he had longed for her.

For my mother did come before the last paint was dry.

My father was on his knees, in a suit that he had spoiled, red as a butcher, but innocent as a lamb, engaged in painting the flagstone walks in front of the house, and proposing to paint the ceilings of the house, if time should yet admit, when a carriage drove up, and my mother, so long absent, alighted at the gate—the red front gate, set in that long, red front fence, in front of that fiery red house, with the flaming L, and the burning trees, and walks not quite kindled into a complete glow.

I am the only son of the couple who then met, but I feel incapable of doing justice to their emotions at that juncture. I believe I have the idea in my head, but my pen is not equal to my father's brush, and can but darkly shadow forth what that brush occasioned.

Forgetting his sanguinary appearance, he rushed down the red walk, and through the red gateway, and embraced her, brush in hand, before she had fairly recognized him or the house. She shrieked, and gave him a push, discovering his identity at the same time that she began to scold him for soiling her dress.

"Never mind that; look at the house, Eliza," said he.

Her name was Eliza.

"Look at the house and things, Eliza," said my father, expecting an immensity of delight and praise, as he saw her hold up her hands in dumb astonishment. "I haven't been idle while you were gone, believe me. But this is nothing—mere nothing, that you see. Only come inside. I say nothing. That will speak for itself."

And so it did.

I was told my mother did not say a word till she went inside and knew the worst. And then my father knew it. He was appalled at her appallment, and stunned and stung by her loud and piercing expressions of horror, grief and disgust. She said he had done these crimes purposely, in revenge for her absence and delay. He said he had purposed it, but thought such a combination of novelty with beauty would enrapture her and thus reward him for a month of slavery. Even the kitchen, upon which he had chiefly prided himself, she declared looked like the kitchen of some demon; and, when the kitten, once white, but, by falling into a paint-pot, had become red, ran up to her, my mother shrieked at the apparition and ran behind a red chair.

It was an awful day for my father, and no less so for my dear mother; for alas! for her, for him and for me, when by-and-by she traversed all the house, and saw what he had ruined, she became suddenly overcome, and doctors and nurses were sent for with all possible alacrity.

I have but a few words to say, but those embrace a fact of considerable importance to me. On the following day I was born. Whether the hate of my mother for red paint had anything to do with my eyes others may judge. For my own part, I am thankful for my escape from being born Indian, or from having eyes as red as a white rabbit's.

What Ingenuity Does.

Every one has heard, I suppose, of Evans, the American dentist, who carries the city of Paris in his coat pocket. He was the Emperor's protege, and he has given European royalty more pain, for cash, than any man in the world. He operates in a dress suit, drives superb horses, and lives in a wonderful mansion that was given to him by Napoleon III. Well, there is his like in New York just now. I was riding through the Park the other forenoon, and my attention was called to a big, handsome man sitting with self-possession which did him credit in one of those most atrocious vehicles, a dog-cart. "That," said my companion, "is Richmond, the new dentist."

"Who is he?" I naturally inquired.

"He came here from California some two or three years ago, with some contrivance for putting artificial teeth upon natural roots, so that nothing could remove them without hauling out the whole tooth. It is called the Richmond crown setting, I believe. The crack dentists of the city went wild over it, but he had patented the whole thing, and had them where they couldn't move. He came here with only a little money and no practice. Now he employs seven skilled workmen, has offices that are simply palatial, and is enabled to support the style you saw just now. He is, in a word, a sensation, and will make $100,000 in a year. That shows what a little ingenuity will do for a man."

It did. But too much ingenuity isn't always as successful. When I was a lad, I knew an old fellow that was always inventing something. His last and greatest work in this line was the concoction of a wonderful explosive substance. He completed his work, and demonstrated its power one afternoon, when I sat on the wall that separated our yard from his orchard, viewing his apple trees with speculation in my eyes. I saw one section of his house rise a few yards in the air, and come down with a crash. I also saw where enough of him fell to hold an inquest on—and I have never invented so much as a clothes-pin.—Philadelphia Press.

Covered With Gold.

It is a curious fact that Russia, one of the poorest of civilized countries, makes a greater parade of wealth in one respect than any other state. The domes of all the great churches in St. Petersburg, Moscow, and other large towns, are plated with gold nearly one-quarter of an inch thick. The new church of the Savior represents a value of fully $15,000,000. The Isaac Cathedral in St. Petersbugh may be safely credited with at least twice that amount. So strong, however, is the old Slav belief in the inviolable sanctuary of "holy places," that, during countless seasons of widespread and bitter distress, no attempt has ever been made to plunder the gold thus temptingly exposed. Indeed, one of the finest churches in St. Petersburg, the Kazan Cathedral, owes its massive shrine to the plunder taken by the Cossacks in 1812.

It is sad but true that a man who once becomes deaf seldom enjoys a happy hear after.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

Persons struck by lightning, when not certainly killed, should have cold water poured or even dashed over them.

All copper and brass vessels should be carefully cleansed after being used, to prevent the formation of injurious acid.

All experience goes to show that people are far more liable to contract disease or contagious fevers on an empty than with a full stomach.

The only safe and immediate remedy within the reach of a non-professional in case of poisoning by prussic acid is to pour a stream of cold water, from an elevation, upon the head and spine of the patient.

Prof. Palmer, in the Louisville Medical News, recommends coca to those who desire to break themselves of the habit of opium eating, and reports a series of cases which have given the best results. Others have tried it and have also reported favorably. Coca is an excitant of the nervous system, and as such combats the terrible depression which ensues on suddenly ceasing the habit of opium eating. In many of the cases reported, this remedy has effected a cure in a week. In some cases the opium was left off gradually, but Dr. Palmer prefers a sudden cessation. He thinks coca may be employed as a substitute for opium. A dose should be taken every time a strong desire for opium is felt.

The Phrenological Journal, speaking of the healthfulness of fruit, says that when Dr. B. F. Dunkley went to Dunksburg, Mo., thirty years ago, there were no orchards, and very few vegetables raised. The diet of the people consisted chiefly of corn-bread, bacon and black coffee. Inflammatory disorders of the brain, bowels and heart, and malignant dysentery afflicted the community, and were often attended with fatal results. Dr. Dunkley told his patients that their blood needed no medicine other than vegetable acids, and ordered them to eat oranges, lemons and sheep sorrels. Now fruit and garden vegetables are abundant and diseases are not of so malignant a type, and they yield readily to medical treatment. Children who eat plentifully of apples are in excellent health, while those that eat no fruit are sickly.

In many cases of disordered stomach a teaspoonful of salt is a certain cure. In the violent internal aching, termed colic, add a teaspoonful of salt to a pint of cold water, drink it and go to bed; it is one of the speediest remedies known. The same will revive a person who seems almost dead from receiving a heavy fall. In an apoplectic fit no time should be lost in pouring down salt and water if sufficient sensibility remain to admit of swallowing; if not, the head must be sponged with cold water until the senses return, when salt will completely restore the patient from his lethargy. In a fit the feet should be placed in warm water, with mustard added, and the legs briskly rubbed, all bandages removed from the neck and a cool apartment procured if possible. In many cases of severe bleeding at the lungs, and when other remedies failed, Dr. Rush found that two teaspoonfuls of salt completely stayed the blood. In case of a bite from a mad dog, wash the part with brine for an hour, and then bind on some salt with a rag. In toothache, warm salt and water held to the part, renewed two or three times, will relieve it in most cases. If the gums are affected, wash the mouth with brine. If the teeth be covered with tartar, wash them twice a day with salt and water.

In a Tight Place.

A young Fond du Lac lawyer was out calling on a lady, when a young man and another young lady called, and the young lawyer thought it would be cunning to get down behind the lounge and not let them know he was there, and surprise them by bobbing up serenely from below when the time came. They came in and the first thing they asked was for the young lawyer, who had told the young man he would be there that evening. Then they began to talk about him, discussed the size of his feet, which they claimed were large, and the size of his head, which they asserted was child's size. He perspired and they talked about his mashing qualities, how he mashed a girl that worked in a laundry, and the opinion was expressed that he was a regular flirt. Then they talked about his family, and he tried to stuff his ears. Just then a little terrier belonging to the girl's brother came in the room, and somebody said "rats," and told the dog to hunt for them, and the dog went under the lounge and began to growl and shake something, and there was a sound of revelry by night. The other young man and two girls rushed out of the room, and the lawyer got up on his feet, pulling the dog up near his suspenders by the teeth, and the dog shook, and the young man yelled, and presently the girl's father came in and seeing the dog trying to hold what he supposed was a burglar, he took an old hair cloth covered chair and was going to brain the burglar, when the young man told who he was, and the father unlocked the dog's teeth, after he had remembered the combination, and the young lawyer took himself in his hand and went away. He won't speak to the young people now, and it is said he will sue the owner of the dog for arron or alpace, or some Latin phrase. The worst thing in the world is to be attacked by conversation or a dog, when you are not looking.—Peck's Sun.

Pears.

Over 1,800 years ago Pliny wrote "All pears whatsoever are but heavy meat unless boiled or baked," and it is probable that the varieties cultivated at that early date could hardly have been anything but small in size and bitter in taste. But when Pliny recorded this famous opinion he wrote for his time, and the idea is as little worthy of consideration to-day as the philosopher's real knowledge of the truth at the present day must have been limited. Pears are regarded at the present time as among the most wholesome and nutritious fruits. Baking or boiling may improve them for weak digestive organs, but eaten raw and freely at all times they are productive of a fine blood and healthy skin. The amount of real nutriment they contain is hardly equal to that of apples, but the fine and delicate juices are hardly excelled by any other fruit. Pears are coming to be regarded as one of the staple fruit crops, and a great deal of attention is being paid to their culture and marketing.

Bank Robbing in New York.

Looking at the bank record of this city it is surprising to observe the immunity with which our banks have been plundered by their confidential servants. I have referred to Paying Teller McGutcheon, of the Ocean Bank, who escaped all penalty. The Grocers' Bank was robbed of an equal amount by its paying teller, George Clarke, who spent the money in stylish extravagance. His case was a flagrant one, and yet no punishment could be inflicted. The Tradesmen's Bank was robbed by one of its clerks of $40,000. In this case an arrest was made, but nothing further was done. The criminal was shattered by dissipation and died in the hospital. The Fourth National also occupies a place in the list, the loss being about $30,000. The paying teller of the American Exchange Bank was noted for his rapidity and accuracy in counting money. He was in fact a prodigy in this specialty, but he wound up his career by robbing the bank of $90,000. The City Bank is one of the best managed of these institutions, its President being Moses Taylor, whose fame as a financier is widely extended. Yet in this admirable concern the heaviest defalcation ever known in this city took place. The culprit's name was Leverich. He came of a high family, and showed his dignity by the extent of his peculation, which was more than $400,000. It was admitted that nothing could be done, and there the matter ended. Paying Teller Ellis, of the Park Bank, robbed the latter of $600,000 with equal impunity.

The only instance of a bank clerk's punishment on record in this city for peculation is found in the case of the Fulton Bank. The note clerk who was son of the cashier, spent $60,000 of bank funds. I cannot give the details of the procedure here, but there was a peculiar feature in the crime which authorized an indictment. The thief actually got four years in the State Prison. This was at the rate of $15,000 a year, and for such pay many would be willing to take a similar term. One of the most curious bank defalcations of the day occurred at the the Gallatin National Bank. A leading employe had for a long time used bank funds for the purchase of "business paper." He was an expert judge of credit, and found the traffic very profitable. One day, however, his account was found short. He at once admitted the fact, and turned out a quantity of "gilt edged" to balance the discrepancy.

There can be little wonder at such robbery among the clerks when officers are so frequently dishonest. The bookkeepers and tellers are well satisfied that their employers steal at every opportunity, and hence it may be asked, Why should they not do the same? The Artisans' Bank was robbed by its Directors, and so was the Ocean Bank. The latter had suffered severely from the depredations of its paying teller, and was afterward cracked by burglars. It might have survived, but the Directors concluded to finish the work, and this they did in a very effectual manner. Their method was to discount loans on fictitious securities, such as paper railroad bonds, and the result was that in the hands of a receiver the stock was only worth 10 per cent. Such was the history of a bank whose capital was entirely paid in, the amount being a half million. The Grocers' Bank was robbed in the same manner, and the shareholders found themselves the victims of sharp practice on the part of those to whom they had committed their interests.—New York Letter.

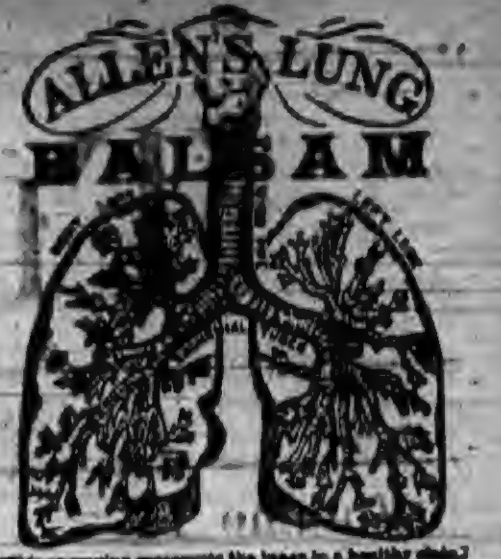
The Reason of Birds.

Several years ago a pair of my canaries built; while the hen was sitting the weather became intensely hot. She drooped, and I began to fear that she would not be strong enough to hatch the eggs. I watched the birds closely, and soon found that the cock was a devoted nurse. He bathed in the fresh cold water I supplied every morning, then went to the edge of the nest, and the hen buried her head in his breast, and was refreshed. Without hands and without a sponge, what more could he have done? The following spring the same bird was hanging in a window with three other canaries, each in a separate cage. I was sitting in the room and heard my little favorite give a peculiar cry. I looked up and saw all the birds crouching on their perches, paralyzed with fright. On going to the window to ascertain the cause of their terror I saw a large balloon passin along over the end of the street. The birds did not move till it was out of sight, when they all gave a chirp of relief. The balloon was only in sight of the bird who gave the alarm, and I have no doubt he mistook it for a bird of prey. I have a green and a yellow canary hanging side by side. They are treated alike and are warm friends. One has often refused to partake of some delicacy till the other was supplied with it. One day I had five blossoms of dandelion; I gave three to the green, two to the yellow one. The latter flew about his cage, singing in a shrill voice, and showing unmistakable signs of angel. Guessing the cause I took away one of the three flowers, when both birds settled down quietly to enjoy their feast.

Growth of Rapid Transit.

In the beginning of 1846, when a Broadway elevated railroad was discussed and illustrated in the Scientific American, it probably seemed extravagant to suggest hourly trains on a single track in Broadway. The most active imagination would scarcely have gone beyond the prediction that half-hourly trains on a double track would be required. Now what do we see? Four double lines, comprising 32 miles of elevated track, on which are run an aggregate of of over 8,000 daily trains, as shown by an inventory of property of the Manhattan Elevated Railway company. It appears that to carry on this enormous traffic 200 locomotives and 600 cars are used, which stop at 161 stations, the force employed being about 3,000 men, whose pay exceeds $5,500 per day. As many as 274,096 persons have been carried in a single day, who paid in the neighborhood of $18,000 for the accommodation.

Some people think it an excess of magnanimity to forgive those whom they have injured.



[This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.]

A STANDARD REMEDY

IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and Lungs, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.

IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOLMAN'S
PAD

CURES Without Dosing
Simply by Absorption

Is a sovereign remedy for all forms of Liver and Stomach troubles, and is the ONLY SAFE and ABSOLUTE cure for Malaria in its various types.

Dr. Holman's Pad is a genuine and radical remedy, WITHOUT TAKING MEDICINE.

It was the FIRST article of the kind that was introduced to the public generally. It was the ORIGINAL PAD, and was devised by DR. HOLMAN alone.

He struck out from the beaten path and made a NEW WAY. No sooner had he rendered the undertaking a CERTAINTY than the IMITATORS and PIRATES who hang to and infest ever successful enterprise, started up and have since followed in his footsteps as closely as the law will tolerate.

Against these DR. HOLMAN gives SPECIAL WARNING. Not only do they FAIL TO CURE, but in disappointing the purchaser they bring doubt and odium on the principal of Absorption, of which Dr. Holman's Pad is the GENUINE and ONLY TRUE EXPONENT.

Every Imitation is an emphatic endorsement of the substantial worth of the genuine article. A poor one is never copied.

Each Genuine Holman Pad bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the HOLMAN PAD CO., with the above Trade Mark printed in green. Buy None Without It.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS,
Or sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $2.00.

DR. HOLMAN'S advice is FREE. Full treatise sent free on application. Address

HOLMAN PAD CO.,
(P. O. Box 2112.) 744 Broadway, N. Y.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED!

DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS.

Cures Consumption, Colds, Pneumonia, Influenza, Bronchial Difficulties, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Breathing Organs. It soothes and heals the Membrane of the Lungs, inflamed and poisoned by the disease, and prevents the night sweats and tightness across the chest which accompany it. Consumption is not an incurable malady. HALL'S BALSAM will cure you, even though professional aid fails.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.

Woman can Sympathize with Woman.
Health of Woman is the Hope of the Race.
Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

For all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

Sold by all Druggists.

A French Barber Shop.

(Frank Bellew in San Francisco Chronicle.)

French barber inclined to dull razor. Make up for deficiency in sharpness by physical strength. In shaving, it's a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether with him. A French shave is a modified sort of assault and battery with intent to half kill. Barber's chair, straight back. Suggests garrote. No cushions. Crotch for headrest. So all over the continent, as well as in England. American must go abroad to appreciate his tonsorial luxuries at home. Foreign barber shop is ours as is a shambles to a parlor. When French barber's shave seems half over, artist remarks, "Voila!" American sits still. Barber sings out again, "Voila!" and points to washbowl. Customers regard Americans curiously. Light at last breaks in upon American. Finds out he is expecetd to arise and wash lather from his own face. Custom of the country. Everybody does it. Gets up and tries to do it. Nothing but his own fingers given to wash with. No napkin. No sponge. Washes. Or tries to wash. Leaves lather in ears or thereabouts. Washing over. Has cuts bandaged. Goes out as if from a prize fight. Barber's apprentice expects fee. Urn on counter for that purpose. Penny therein elicits chorus of "Mercis!" "Bien mercis!" from all hands, from the boss barber down. Well worth a penny to hear such an explosion of thanks.

French barber during shaving savage. Evidently one gives himself in hand-to-hand conflict with an enemy. Lathers, cuts and slashes. Barbers wives also shave customers. Shaved by one this morning. Small suburban shop. Never shaved by a woman before, except at church fairs buying four-cent pincushion for one dollar. To raise funds to paint steeple and send a missionary to India. Head French barber out on a drunk. Assistant barber shaving French infantry officer 103d regiment. Red pantaloons, long sword, gilt tassel, and 103 wherever it could be put on him. Sat down and waited for completion of the operation on the French army. Woman came from inner room. Barber's wife. Asked me to be seated in barber's chair. Sat. Wondered. Madame tucked napkin under my chin. Felt queer. Madame approached with shaving-pot and brush. Wondered if she meant business. Found she did. No nonsense. Lathered me. Wondered. Wanted to laugh. Feared to laugh. Tried to look as if I had been shaved by women all our life. Perhaps I have. More or less. Quien sabe? Nobody in the shop seemed surprised. Being then with Romans knew I must be as the Romans and not be surprised. Tried hard not to be. But I was. Madame flourished the razor. Strapped it. And scientifically. Whereon she shaved me. Strange experience. Who can tell what a day may bring forth? She shaved well. Firm and delicate touch. Not unpleasant. Shut my eyes. Feared to look at her in the face. She performed only on half my face; for the assistant had finished the red-legged officer, and I was turned over to him, the awkward gawk of a boy, who grabbed me by my free-born nose, and scraped and pulled at me with his cigarette-smelling fingers, and cut here and cut there and scarified and mopped off blood and mopped it up, and finally led me bleeding to the washbowl to clean up after the slaughter.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY.

San Leandro, Cal., Jan. 6, 1877.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have employed your "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" in my practice for the last four years. I now use no other alterative or cathartic medicines in all chronic derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. I know of nothing that equals them. J. A. Miller, M. D.

Taking out Patents.

Apropos of the editorials that are generally written on patent reforms, the Scientific American notes the fact that the line of argument is substantially identical in most newspapers. It holds that the idea that an inventor who has brought forth, painfully or otherwise, something of value to the rest of the community should be compelled to pay for the privilege, heavily or lightly, is simply absurd. Also that the penalty imposed should increase with the amount of the benefaction is still more absurd. It says: "Indirectly the successful invention does contribute to government support in taxes in proportion to the rate at which it increases individual and public wealth; but that is for service by the government other than and independent of the issuance of an official certification of the invention in the form of letters patent. The assertion that the majority of patents are worthless is so contrary to the evidence of fact that it cannot be set down to ignorance." The American denounces the advocacy of the policy of extinguishing "useless patents," on the ground that it is a mischievous assumption to presume that all patents which are not speedily developed and made commercially productive are useless. The American pointedly observes that the above-mentioned positions on this subject "are taken by those, and those only, who are pecuniarily interested—as principals or attorneys—in so modifying the operation of the patent law as to facilitate the seizure and enjoyment of patented inventions without the preliminary formality of consulting the inventor or incurring any subsequent risks of damages for infringement. With a large number of classes of inventions it rests with a few wealthy organizations to decide absolutely whether a new invention within the class, however meritorious it may be, shall or shall not be speedily developed and made remunerative to the patentee."

HOW WOMEN WOULD VOTE.

Were women allowed to vote, every one in the land who has used Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" would vote it to be an unfailing remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. By druggists.

Advancing Education.

Answers written by the Metropolitan School Board pupils to questions put by a Government Inspector.—Where is Turin?—Tureen is the Cappitol of Chiner; the people there live in birds nests and has long tales. What do you know of the patriarch Abraham?—He was the father of Lot and ad tew wifes. Wun was called Hismale and t'other Haygur. He kep' wun at home, and he hurried 'other into the dessert, where she became a pillow of salt in the daytime and pillow of fire at nite. Who was Mosee?—He was an Egypsian. He lived in a shark maid of bulrushers and he kep' a golden carf and warshipt braizen snakes and he het nothin' but kwales and manner for forty years. He was kort by the air of his 'ed while ridin' under a bow of a tree, and he was kill'd by his son Absolom as he was hangin' from the bow. His end was pease. Verbal answers—What is a miracle? Don't know. If you saw the sun shining overhead at midnight, what should you call it? The moon. But if we were to tell you it was the sun. I should say it were a lie. But suppose I declared to you that it was the sun? I should say you was werry drunk.—English paper.

Beautifiers.

Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. See another column.—Telegraph.

How a Quaker Punished a Thief.

A Quaker, having been disturbed by footsteps around his dwelling one night, arose from his bed and cautiously opened the back door to reconnoiter. Close by was an out-house, and under it a cellar, near a window of which was a man busily engaged in receiving the contents of his pork barrel from another in the cellar.

The Quaker approached, and the man on the outside fled. He stepped up to the cellar window and received the pork from the thief within, who, after a little time, asked his supposed accomplice in a whisper:

"Shall we take it all?" The owner of the pork said softly,

"Yes, take it all;" and the thief handed up the balance through the window and then came up himself. Imagine his consternation when, instead of greeting his companion in crime, he confronted the Quaker.

Both were astonished, for the thief proved to be a near neighbor, of whom none would have suspected such conduct. He pleaded for mercy, begged him not to expose him, spoke of the necessities of poverty, and promised faithfully not to steal again.

"If thou hadst asked me for meat, it would have been given thee. I pity thy poverty and thy weakness, and esteem thy family. Thou art forgiven."

The thief was greatly rejoiced, and was about to depart, when the Quaker said,

"Take the pork, neighbor."

"No, no," said the thief, "I don't want the pork."

"Thy necessity was so great that it led thee to steal. One-half of the pork thou must take with thee."

The thief insisted that he could never eat a morsel of it. The thought of the crime would make it choke him. He begged the privilege of letting it alone. But the Quaker was inflexible, and furnished the man with a bag, put half the pork therein and laying it upon his back, sent him home with it.

He met his neighbor daily for several years afterward, their families visited together, but the matter was kept a secret, and though in after years the circumstance was mentioned, the name of the delinquent was never made known. The punishment was severe and effectual. It probably was his first—it certainly was his last—attempt to steal.

Had the man been arranged before a court of justice and imprisoned for the petty theft, how different might have been the result. His family disgraced, their peace destroyed, the man's character ruined and his spirit broken.

Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" has become so thoroughly established in public favor that were it not for the forgetfulness of people it would not be necessary to call attention to its power to cure consumption, which is scrofula of the lungs, and other blood diseases, as eruptions, blotches, pimples, ulcers and "liver complaint."

Perils of Ridicule.

I know of no principle which it is of more importance to fix in the minds of young people than that of the most determined resistance to the encroachment of ridicule. Give up the world, and to the ridicule with which the world enforces its dominion, every trifling question of manner and appearance, it is to toss courage and firmness to the winds, to compass with the mass upon such subjects as these.

But learn from the earliest to insure yourself against the perils of ridicule; you can no more exercise your reason, if you live in the constant dread of laughter, than you can enjoy your life if you are in constant dread of death.

If you think it right to differ from the times and to make a stand for any valuable point of morals do it, however rustic, however antiquated, however pedantic it may appear, do it,—not for insolence, but grandly and seriously—as a man who wore a soul of his own in his bosom, and did not wait until it was breathed into him by the breath of fashion.

Let men call you mean, if you know you are just; hypocritical, if you are honestly religious; pusillanimous, if you feel that you are firm; resistance soon converts unprincipled wit into sincere respect, and no aftertime can tear from you these feelings which every man carries with him who has made a noble and successful exertion in a virtuous cause. —Sidney Smith.

A Clean Skin.

Most of our invalids are such, and many healthy people will become invalids, for want of paying the most ordinary attention to the requirements of the skin. The membrane is too often regarded as a covering only instead of a complicated piece of machinery, scarcely second in its texture and sensitiveness to the ear and the eye. Many treat it with as little reference to its functions as if it were only a bag for their bones. It is this consideration for the skin that is the cause of a very large proportion of the disease of the world. It is claimed by some scientists that four-fifths in the bulk of all we eat and drink, must either pass off through the skin or be turned back upon the system as a poison, and life depends as much upon these exhalations through the skin as inhaling pure air through the lungs; it must therefore be of vital importance to keep the channel free.

A druggist in New Richmond, Ohio, Mr. E. J. Donham, writes us the following: "I consider Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup one of the very best things made. I use it altogether in my own family and can therefore recommend it."

I Can and I Will.

How many boys there are who can, but never do, because they have no will power, or if they have, do not use it. Before undertaking to perform any task you must carefully consider whether you can do it, and once convinced that you are able to accomplish it, then say "I will do it," with a determination that you will never give up till it is done, and you will be successful. The difference between "Give up" and "I can't" and "I can and will" is just the difference between victory and defeat in all the great conflicts of life.

Boys, adopt for your motto, "If I can I will," and victory will be yours in all life's battles. "I can and I will," nerves the arms of the world's heroes to-day, in whatever department of labor they are engaged. "I can and I will," has fought and won all the great battles of life and of the world.

I know a boy who was preparing to enter the junior class of the New York University. He was studying trigonometry, and I gave him three examples for the next lesson. The following day he came into my room to demonstrate his problems. Two of them he understood, but the third—a very difficult one—he had not performed. I said to him:

"Shall I help you?"

"No, sir! I can and I will do it, if you will give me the time."

I said, "I will give you all the time you wish."

The next day he came into my room to recite another lesson in the same study.

"Well, Simon, have you worked out that example?"

"No, sir!" he answered, "but I can and I will do it, if you will give me a little more time."

"Certainly; you shall have all the time you desire."

I always like those boys who are determined to do their own work, for they make our best scholars, and men, too. The third morning you should have seen Simon enter my room. I knew he had it, for his whole face told the story of success. Yes, he had it, notwithstanding it had cost him many hours of the severest mental labor. Not only had he solved the problem, but what was of infinite greater importance to him, he had begun to develop mathematical powers, which, under the inspiration of "I can and I will," he has continued to cultivate, until to-day he is Professor of Mathematics in one of our large colleges, and one of the ablest mathematicians of his years in our country.

My young friends, let your motto ever be: "If I can, I will."—Golden Days.

Worthless Stuff.

Not so fast, my friend; if you could see the strong, healthy, blooming men, women and children that have been raised from beds of sickness, suffering and almost death by the use of Hop Bitters, you would say "Glorious and invaluable remedy." See another column.—Philadelphia Press.

Black Birch for Furniture.

Black birch is rapidly coming into favor. Black birch is a close-grained, handsome wood, and can be easily stained to resemble walnut exactly. It is just as easy to work, and is suitable for nearly, if not all, the purposes to which walnut is at present applied. Birch is much the same color a cherry, but the latter wood is now scarce, and consequently dear. It is with difficulty that cherry wood can be obtained at $50 a thousand feet, while birch wood can be purchased at any saw-mill for $1 per thousand feet. When properly stained it is almost impossible to distinguish the difference between it and walnut, as it is susceptible of a beautiful polish, equal to any wood now used in the manufacture of furniture.

"For two years I was a great sufferer from Kidney Complaints. I was unable to attend to my business, and was comfortable only when lying down, at times being in so great distress that I could rest neither night nor day. I had several doctors, but received no benefit from any. I tried about all the medicines advertised for Kidney Complaints, but experienced no relief. Having heard of the wonderful effects of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Female Complaints, and knowing that it was advertised as a remedy for Kidney Complaints, I tried it and began to improve before the first bottle was taken. I continued the use of the Compound, and in less than three months I was perfectly well, and have not been troubled since. I consider it the greatest remedy for Kidney Complaints ever yet discovered. J. P. Howard, No. 29 Park Street, Lynn, Mass.

"Ralph, my own Ralph, you see before you the most unhappy woman in the world," "Heavens!" my dearest Adelgitha, what is the matter? Has any one presumed——" "For the last month a wretched man has been pressing me—threatening me, even—that is to say—his suit." "Give me the villain's name! Within an hour from sunrise I shall meet him and settle his account." "I knew you would, Ralph; you are so generous. Here is his account—my upholsterer's—I am so glad you are going to settle it."

The physical ills which are peculiar to women are seldom mentioned, either in conversation or through the press, through false modesty; and yet the percentage of these diseases are on the increase. Thousands of women to-day cherish grateful remembrance of the Vegetable Compound, which is prepared by Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of this city. We learn that more of this preparation is sold in this city than is sold of any other medicine; and all the world should know of its curative effects. See advertisement in another column.—Lynn Transcript.

Henry Ward Beecher says: "My father used to say: 'Henry, when you kindle a fire, never throw an armful of wood on at once; that will put it out. Get some kindling that is dry, and put one shaving on, and one more, and one more, and, little by little, you can build just as big a fire as you have a mind to.'"

Socrates, at an extreme old age, learned to play on musical instruments. Cato, at 80 years of age, learned the Greek language. Plutarch, when between sixty and seventy, began the study of Latin. Dr. Johnson applied himself to the Dutch language but a few years before his death. Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham was nearly fifty years of age when she discovered her Vegetable Compound. By these facts we see that it is never too late to learn.

Observations About the Baby.

The baby does not belong to the animal kingdom; the animal kingdom belongs to him. He is a King. In fact, he is always aching. However, a baby is often spoken of as "this wheat creature;" which is why they cradle him. You can't shock him. He is not a creature comfort. The baby is sometimes called an infant, in fanciful allusion to infantry, which he is thought to resemble because he is generally found with arms about him. Bless the baby! —Boston Transcript

Queer Bedroom Companions.

A recent writer gives us an idea of the experience one may have in trying to get natural sleep in variously populated India. What would some of your readers think, while lying quietly in bed beneath the inevitable mosquito net, if they were to see, gazing intently from the ceiling right above, a long, green lizard or centipede, challenging each other to mortal combat; the centipede loses his hold, drops down on the sheet and whips under the bed; you involuntarily shut your mouth quickly, and turn over on your face, wondering whether or not he went down your throat or under the bed; you next closely scrutinize the horizon line of the mattress, and only being gifted with the power of seeing in one spot at the same time, you pivot around on your knees with a pillow upraised, ready to smash him the moment you see his eye peering over the edge—but he comes not. Your attention is next called to a half-hundred black bugs, which are indulging in a game of lawn-tennis on the floor, when in steps a bandicoot, a rat as big as a "yaller dog," and devours this whilom garden party.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the great medicine for the cure of all female complaints, is the greatest strengthener of the back, stomach, nerves, kidneys, urinary and genital organs of man and woman ever known. Send for circulars to Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Sincerity.

Whatever limit sincerity imposes upon our words, let us obey, even if it be to silence. But, that its bounds be not so narrow as this, let us cherish an honest interest in people and things outside of our immediate sphere. This is the great want of all our intercourse, the only thing that can rescue our conversation from the stigma which attaches to "small talk." Our talk is small because it comes only from the lips; it is frothy because it is on the surface; it is commonplace, because we do not care about the things we say—they are not realities to us. It is not the subject upon which we speak, but the interest we take in it which gives flavor to our words.

It is impossible for a woman, after a faithful course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to continue to suffer from weakness, druggists say.

Said the man who got left when the wine came short at communion: "I don't care for the liquor, but I think my soul is of as much account as anybody's, and, if I don't lick the deacon by whose negligence I was prevented from carrying out my religious duty, I'm a pirate."

Thousands of women have been entirely cured of the most stubborn cases of female weakness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

Life is divided into three terms—that which was, which is, and which will be. Let us learn from the past to profit by the present, and from the present to live better for the future.

The highest hopes and interest of the race rest on the purity, health and strength of womanhood. We take pleasure in referring our readers to the remarkable efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in all that class of diseases from which women suffer so much.

Some ladies, who have seen all the Presidents for over thirty years, say that Millard Fillmore was the handsomest of the number.

Keep your bowels and Kidneys in a healthy state by the use of Kidney-Wort.

Butter is being brought from Russia to England in large quantities, and is of very fair quality.

That Terrible

indigestion and sick headache will yield readily to Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Consumption Can Be Cured!

Read what Mr. William C. Digges, a merchant of Bowling Green, Va., writes under date April 4th, 1881. He says: I firmly believe that Allen's Lung Balsam will and has cured consumption if taken in time and proper care be taken of the patient both in suitable food and clothing. Six years ago my mother was attacked with pneumonia. The attending physician, "some time after," told me that the disease had settled on her lungs and that she had the consumption. Not believing that a permanent cure could be effected, but thinking I might be able to get an expectorant not containing opium which would afford some relief, I inquired of a druggist at Richmond, Va., if he had any medicine not containing opium, that was a good expectorant. He then recommended Allen's Lung Balsam, which I purchased and induced my mother to try. Before she had taken the first bottle the improvement in her condition was so marked that I purchased three more bottles. The attending physician, seeing the beneficial effects, recommended its continued use, and in about twelve months her lungs were pronounced cured. Upon my recommendation many others who had the consumption have been cured. I think you can claim for your medicine the following: Expectoration without irritation, and healing of the lungs by keeping them free from foreign substances, thus arresting and curing this dread disease. Mr. Digges says he writes because he wants us to know that Allen's Lung Balsam is doing good.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send their Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to any person afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing complete restoration of vigor and manhood.

Address as above without delay.

N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

Pure Cod Liver Oil made from selected livers, on the seashore, by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It is absolutely pure and sweet. Patients who have once taken it prefer it to all others. Physicians have decided it superior to any of the other oils in market.

There is but one way to cure baldness, and that is by using Carboline, a deodorized extract of petroleum, the natural hair grower. As recently improved, it is the only dressing for the hair that cultured people will use.

Why the true Holman Liver Pad succeeds: Because it is the first and only correct adaptation of the Holman absorption theory of cure without medicine. Why its imitators fail: Because they are worthless.

Bed-Bugs, Roaches,

rats, cats, mice, ants, flies, insects, cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c., druggists.

For Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

Every farmer and teamster should know that Frazer axle grease cures sore necks and scratches on horses. Buy it anywhere.

For Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

CONSUMPTION.

Important to the Public as well as the Medical Profession.

Hall's Journal of Health, referring to Consumption, makes the following important statement:

"Consumption usually begins with a slight, dry cough in the morning; then, on going to bed, getting more and more frequent, with more and more phlegm, increasing debility, thinness of flesh, shortness of breath, and quickness of pulse. In fatal cases its average course is about two years; hence the importance of arresting the disease at as early a stage as possible, and the sooner rational means are employed for this purpose the greater the chance of success. The disease is owing to an irritation commencing in the throat and extending to the lungs, so that their action is interfered with, and the blood does not receive sufficient oxygen to purify it. The most marked sign of lung disease is emaciation; and the most positive indication of returning health is increase in weight."

So speaks Hall's Journal of Health, and we may add that in desperate cases, and, in fact, in all cases of Consumption, or troubles of the throat and lungs, immediate relief may be obtained and a permanent cure effected by the use of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, a medicine known for more than thirty-five years as an unfailing remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all pulmonary and pectoral diseases. That the worst cases of Consumption have been cured by the use of Hall's Balsam has been attested to by the thousands who have used it, or have been cognizant of its wonderful remedial efficacy.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when, to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with diseased lungs will take Dr. William Hall's Balsam, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.

Dr. BULLS COUGH SYRUP

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address True & Co., Augusta, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address Stinson & Co., Portland, Me.

WATCHES Catalogue free. Address, Standard American Watch Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co., Portland, Me.

Dr. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

YOUNG MEN If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest-Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

Educate For Business at the Oldest & Best Commercial College. Circular free. Address C. Bayliss, Dubuque, Ia.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till Cured. Dr. J. Stephens, Lebanon, Ohio.

KIDDER'S PASTILLES. Sure relief ASTHMA. Price 35 cts. by mail. Stowell & Co. Charlestown, Mass.

25 CHRISTMAS CARDS, 10c; 3 Autumn Bouquets, 10c; 12 Perforated Mottoes, 10c; 5 Fine Chromos, 10c; 3 Oil Pictures, 10c; 3 Engravings, 10c; 2 Lithographs, 12x18, 10c. All for 50c, postpaid. J. W. FRIZZELL, Baltimore, Md.

CHEAPEST BOOKS IN THE WORLD

Macaulay's History of England. 5 Vols. 12mo vols. cloth; only $2.00

Taine's History of Eng. Literature, 1 Vol. 12mo vol. handsomely bound, for only 50 cts.

Full descriptive catalogue Free.

MANHATTAN BOOK CO., 16 W. 14th St., N.Y. P.O. Box 4580

PISO'S CURE FOR

Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c. & $1.

CONSUMPTION.

NEW RICH BLOOD!

Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sold everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

JAMES A. GARFIELD. Every New Subscriber to the Weekly Wisconsin may receive a fine large Crayon Portrait of the late President, on heavy plate paper, 19x24. The portrait is a copy of the photograph by Ryder, of Cleveland, and is the one sent to Queen Victoria by Mrs. Garfield; being considered the best picture in existence of our lamented President. Copies may be seen in every Postoffice in Wisconsin. Every person sending $1.60, and naming the premium, will receive the Weekly Wisconsin for one year, together with the portrait, which alone is worth the price. Address CRAMER, AIKENS & CRAMER, Milwaukee, Wis.

PRICE $20. NO DUTY TO PAY. This N. Y. Singer Sewing Machine is the best ever made—[illegible] simple, convenient, and powerful. Warranted 5 years. Sent anywhere on 5 days trial. Pay if pleased. 2,000,000 of this model machine have been sold. Ask for circulars and testimonials. Low prices to clubs. Be sure to try us. Thousands do every year, and thank us for the $15 to $30 saved in buying direct. Cut this out, and when you write [illegible] be sure to address Geo. Payne & Co., 47 Third Av., Chicago, Ill.

ANOTHER BOOM FOR AGENTS.

MARK TWAIN'S NEW BOOK is due daily. THE BEST.

The Prince and the Pauper

Will outsell all his previous works, and offers you the best chance of your life to make money rapidly. Our agents will act promptly and secure choice territory, and we advise you to do the same. Outfits now ready. Send at once for circulars and terms to

H. N. HINCKLEY, Publisher,
14 S. Canal St., Chicago, Ill.

5,000 Agents Wanted for Life of GARFIELD

It contains the full history of his noble and eventful life and dastardly assassination. Surgical treatment, death, funeral obsequies, etc. The best chance of your life to make money. Beware of "catchpenny" imitations. This is the only authentic and fully illustrated life of our martyred President. Fine steel portraits. Extra terms to Agents. Circulars free. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

OUR MARTYRED PRESIDENTS.

A Finely-Executed Picture of Abraham Lincoln and James A. Garfield, the martyred Presidents of the United States, will be presented to every new yearly subscriber received to The CHICAGO LEDGER before February 1st, 1882.

THE CHICAGO LEDGER is the Best Story Paper in the West, and is printed upon large, plain type. This paper is issued weekly, and mailed to any address, postage paid, for ONE DOLLAR A YEAR. A fine list of Premiums is offered to new subscribers. 3c stamp for Sample Copy. Address CHICAGO LEDGER, Chicago, Ill.

HOP BITTERS.
(A Medicine, not a Drink.)
CONTAINS
HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION,
AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.
THEY CURE
All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.
$1000 IN GOLD.
Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.
Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no other.
D I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.
SEND FOR CIRCULAR.
All above sold by druggists.
Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

An Open Secret.

The fact is well understood that the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT is by far the best external known for man or beast. The reason why becomes an "open secret" when we explain that "Mustang" penetrates skin, flesh and muscle to the very bone, removing all disease and soreness. No other liniment does this, hence none other is so largely used or does such worlds of good.

SIX CTS WHY WASTE MONEY! Young man or old, if you want a Luxuriant mustache, flowing whiskers or a heavy growth of hair on bald heads, or to THICKEN, STRENGTHEN and INVIGORATE the HAIR anywhere don't be humbugged. Try the great Spanish discovery which has NEVER YET FAILED. Send ONLY SIX CENTS to Dr. J. GONZALEZ, Box 1638, Boston, Mass. Beware of all imitations.

C. N. U. No. 49

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Dr. HARTER'S

Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.

GENTLEMEN:—I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your IRON TONIC, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. The old energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. WATSON, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.

The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary.

IRON TONIC.

MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., No. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.

[illegible]

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE.

THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.,

Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S [illegible] EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the last year than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, [illegible] now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE and ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular [illegible] STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $44, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than [illegible] Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which [illegible] useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., DEC. 8, 1881

THE name of the new republican "boss" is Billy Mahone.

GOV. FOSTER and John Sherman have quit making faces at each other.

IT is said that the chuckle of the star routers can be heard at Washington above every other kind of noise in the city.

IT is a little difficult for a man up a tree to figure out the badge of the new administration. Can't tell whether it is 329 or 306.

THE country is promised relief from the Guiteau trial in about three weeks. Quite a number of prominent physicians have testified that the prisoner is insane.

BLAINE said under oath on the witness stand in the Guiteau trial, that he invented the word "Stalwart" himself in 1875. He ought to be proud of his invention. Webster's definition of the word is "something worth stealing or taking." Very appropriate.

THE republican members of the house of representatives met in the hall of the house Saturday last, and, after balloting sixteen times, nominated Mr. Keifer, of Ohio, for speaker. The caucus also nominated Edward McPherson for clerk; J. W. Hooker, of Vermont, for sergeant-at-arms; W. P. Brownlow, of Tennessee, for door-keeper. Mr. Brownlow is a son of the late Parson Brownlow.

—Anderson Bros. have purchased shops in Waterloo and are prepared to do all kinds of custom work, and will be pleased to see their old customers as well as new ones. We will have a good assortment of carriages in the spring, which we will sell as cheap as any home work that is manufactured of good material. All our work is guranteed to give satisfaction. Call and see us before you purchase.

ANDERSON BROS.

—Just recieved notice from shippers in the east that the frieght business is so crowded that goods are delayed from 30 to 40 days, which accounts for Bassett & Maxon just receiving a large supply of their silver ware from New York by U. S. express. They now have the largest assortment of table and breakfast castors, cake baskets, berry dishes, butter dishes, cellery stands, card stands, fruit stands and in fact everything in their line ever brought to the northern part of this state.

Gravel Road Meeting.

Meeting was held at the court-house, Nov. 31. Phillip Silver was called to the chair, and John Treesh made secretary. Philo Lockwood as chairman of the committee to examine the law on the subject, made his report. Remarks were then made by Dr. Casebeer, Peter Shaffer and others. T. P. Scott, from the committee appointed to look up the supply of gravel, made his report, stating that a number of banks had been found. A committee of three was then appointed to circulate petitions for subscriptions to gravel the road toward Spencerville. This was amended so as to include the road east of town. S. J. Brandon, David Ober and Henry Mader were appointed for the Spencerville road, and C. Eckhart, Frank Baird and A. J. Carmer for the road east of town. The instructions were to solicit assistance from parties outside of town as well as those in town. A committee was appointed to prepose a report for publication in the papers. The meeting then adjourned to meet at the same place in two weeks.

P. J. LOCKWOOD,
T. P. SCOTT, } Com.
JOHN TREESH.

Obituary.

Elizabeth Kosht, wife of Daniel Kosht, died very suddenly Nov. 24, 1881, about five o'clock p. m. She complained of being dizzy, and a short time afterward she became both helpless and speechless. She was then put to bed by the family. The physician and neighbors were at once sent for, but she passed away without a sigh or struggle long before the physician arrived. She did not live longer than an hour and a half, after she complained of being dizzy. The deceased was born in Ashland or Wayne county, Ohio, July 24, 1862, being a daughter of Wm. and Barbara Lash, of Ashland, Ohio, of a family of twelve children, comprising nine sons and three daughters, she was the fourth from the oldest, she lived with her parents till 1855, when she was married to Daniel Kosht, they lived in Ashland county ten years, moving to DeKalb county, Ind., in 1865. She was a kind and an affectionate wife and mother. She leaves a bereaved husband, ten children, five step-children and a vast circle of friends and neighbors to mourn her departure. She was a member of the U. B. church, which she joined about thirty-five years ago, and has ever since been a zealous and a devoted member. She was buried Nov. 27, at the U. B. church, four miles' east of Auburn. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Gologan. The text was: "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." Philippians, 1st chapter and 21st verse. The husband and relatives desire to return their sincere and heart-felt thanks to the neighbors and friends for their kindness during their bereavement.

R. A. W.

Republican and Press please copy.

St. Joe Items.

The new school house is nearly completed.

Nelson Ulm, having sold out his business here, will move to Cedar Beach in the spring.

The gravel road excitement has reached St. Joe, and there seems to be a general wish to have better roads.

The funds to pay for a plank walk to the new school house has been secured and we are to have a much needed improvement.

Dr. W. K. Mitchell and lady were visiting at Bryan, Ohio, the fore part of the week.

The extentions to the new bridge east of St Joe, are completed, and the road is open for travel.

C. W. Widney and lady go to Bellville, Ohio, this week, to visit the family of J. F. Widney.

Additional Local.

Personal.

—Joe. Pommert, Edgerton, O., is in town.

—Mrs. L. J. Miller has returned from Corunna.

—Tom. Bell, of Hicksville, is jingling about town.

—S. M. Knott and Dr. Kester were in town Tuesday.

—John Casebeer went back to Defiance, O., Tuesday.

—Miss Mate Veeley left for Butler, Saturday for a visit.

—Wm. Ryan is not boss of the Wabash road any longer.

—Geo. L. J. Blair, of Waterloo, gave us a short call Tuesday.

—Lewis Monroe and James A. Ballentine gave us call Monday.

—Mr. Grund, of Fort Wayne, father of Geo. Grund, was in town Saturday

—Mrs. L. J. Hopkins and Mrs. Ira Eaton have returned to their homes.

—A. D. Moore returned this week from Huron, Ohio, with some fine sheep.

—Mrs. Isaac Ochs and her son visited at Jackson, Michigan, last Saturday.

—Jessie Espy, of Waterloo, is visiting some of her young friends in town.

—Miss Eliza Biglow will leave for Michigan this week, where she will make her future home.

—P. J. Lockwood was in the boil business this week. He carried a sample on his left thumb.

—J. L. Davis has had two of his brothers stopping with him for several days. They reside at Wabash.

—Our young friend Frank Griswold, now at Fort Wayne, has been shaking hands with the boys this week.

—John Zollars was limping about last Saturday with a sore foot. Probably he hurt it jumping a fence.

—Miss Eliza Stahl, of Auburn, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Carr, returned home yesterday.—Garret Herald.

—Berry Lowry and Conny Little spent Saturday evening at Waterloo. The former is attending night school there.

—Sheriff Leas was in town on Tuesday settling with parties employed in the invoice of the stocks of Steifel Bros.—Record.

—Butler Record: "I. E. Rose, of Auburn, was in town Friday defending in the assault and battery case. The defendant Rose above the conviction of the crime with which he was charged.

—Jas. W. Clark, of Smithfield, was in town last Tuesday and acted so strange that his friends demanded an explanation. He is the father of a bran new girl.

—Mr. Dodge, pencil pusher on the Butler Record, gave us a small visit Monday. He is very well satisfied with the job patronage extended to him by the people there.

—L. P. Welling went south over the Jackson road last Monday. He was, as usual, chasing the fugitive car over the plains. And they will have to be shyer than antelopes if they escape him. He can scent out a Jackson car two stations ahead.

MARRIED.—On the evening of December 1, 1881, at the residence of the bride, in Angola, Steuben county, Indiana, Mr. John Leas, of Waterloo, DeKalb county, to Miss Amanda Patterson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hale. There were about sixty friends present on the occasion. The following is a list of presents given and names of the donors: A splendid bride's cake by Mr. H. Menzentarger; silver cake dish by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Malory and Mr. and Mrs. Piper; silver spoon-holder by Mr. Darling and Mr. Lucy, Jackson; granite teapot by J. W. Snyder; bible by Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Leas and Miss S. J. Ostor; paper holder by Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Bell; silk mittens by Mrs. G. W. McConnel; Tidy by Miss Lizzie McConnel; quilted cushon by Miss Emma Kemery; silver napkin ring by Geo. M. Beard; silk handkerchief by S. R Latson; album by Mr and Mrs. J. Hoff; hanging lamp by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gale, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Leas and Mr. and Mrs. Osborne; set of furs by Wm. Patterson; bouquet of flowers by Mrs. A. J. Bowie; chromo by Miss H. Baker and Miss M. Corming; chromo by Mr. Fred Patterson; $5 gold piece by C. Mallory; silver castor by the following gentlemen who had been boarders in the family of the bride: Otto Shultz, J. H. McGillin, J. Plummer, P. Burnn, E. H. Bratton, F. Mourhardt, W. C. Burdick, D. S. Pence, J. Blizzard, O. F. Rakestraw, J. B. Hoff, J. W. Snyder, F. E. Burd and Geo. M. Beard.

Snyder & Culbertson are receiving their large stock of furniture.

Charley, son of Solomon and Catharine Deetz, died of typhoid fever, Nov. 28, 1881, aged 16 years 3 months and 2 days.

There will be a public installation of officers at the Masonic hall, on the 27th of this month. A general invitation is extended. Free supper.

The cheapest lounges you ever saw at Snyder & Culbertson's.

—T. C. Mays sent a gift of a crystal watch charm, to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davis, on the occasion of their silver wedding. It is a beautiful piece of jewelry.

—Its a fact and Lee Diehl, the Butler popular jeweler, can prove it to be a fact. Go and see.

—We are sorry to inform our readers that Mrs. S. W. Ralston, who went to Plymouth, Ohio, on a visit sometime ago, is still unable to return, on account of sickness.

Snyder & Culbertson have the largest and only establishment of the kind in northern Indiana, that can furnish their customers with a full outfit of stoves, tinware and furniture.

Snyder & Culbertson have already taken out the arch between their hardware and furniture rooms, and will have one of the handiest arrangements in town, when they get it fixed up.

Call on Snyder & Culbertson and see their new furniture.

—Mr. M. E. Barkille and wife called on us Tuesday. He has just moved into our town, and now lives in the dwelling lately occupied by D. Y. Husselman. Mr. B. begins like all good citizens, by subscribing for the COURIER.

—Judge Lowry will decide the Cooke habeas-corpus case, next Saturday, at 1 o'clock.

—List of letters unclaimed at the Auburn postoffice, Dec. 5, 1881: Frank H. Dailey, James M. Garritson, D. W. Headley, Frank Johnston, Genie Weaver.

JOS. RAINIER, P. M.

WANTED:—C. Beugnot & Co. want all the stave and heading bolts that can be got in DeKalb county. They will also buy soft timber in the log. For particulars inquire of C. Beugnot & Co.

The largest stock of holiday jewelery, watches and silver plated ware in the county, at Diehl's, the popular jeweler at Butler.

The finest quality of mince meat prepared by Mrs. S. U. Tarney, at Sim's meat market.

How Will This Suit!

Here is a "pointer" for our society young men, which we scissor from the Columbia City Post: "A number of the young people of this place are talking up the organization of a social society. The idea is to hire a room, furnish it in tasty style, get a supply of choice reading and music, and also provide for various kinds of amusements. Such an organization could certainly be made a source of great enjoyment to the young people as well as afford them advantages in society culture that are to be gained only through associations of a like nature.

Waterloo.

Frank Adams is clerking for Willis & Co,

J. C. Boyer is in Kansas, visiting his brother.

J. D. McAnally is at Akron, Ohio, on business.

Auction at Johnson's every afternoon and evening.

Phillip Plum moved his family to Butler last Thursday.

Born to the wife of C. W. Gillett, Dec. 6, a son, usual weight.

We understand that the boys are prospering with the roller skate business.

Mrs. C. A. O. McClellan is spending a few days in town, calling on her friends.

Mrs. J. R. Steves was in Auburn this week, visiting in the family of M. F. Long.

Will Getts and several of the boys were at Garrett last week, looking at the town.

Elder M. M. Gleason, of Bluffton, Ind., preached in the Disciple church last Sunday.

J. M. Somers, deputy prosecutor, has a school case on his hands. No particulars as yet.

H. Lieb and E. R. Blattner, two of our commercial men, spent Sunday with their families.

Most of our legal talent was at the county seat, Monday and Tuesday, attending to legal matters.

We have a platform now, at the junction of the railroads, for the convenience of the passengers who wish to change cars there,

Mrs. Dickinson, of Orland, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Gillett. She will go from here to Chicago to spend the winter with her son.

Cyrus Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Kelley and a number of others, were at Auburn, Tuesday on business connected with the Cooke matter.

John Leas is now at home, and again fairly established in housekeeping. We have no doubt but our people will cordially welcome the bride to her new home.

The latest news in regard to the matter of young Livergood, goes to confirm the theory that like Cadet Whittaker, he didn't have much help, but attended to matters himself.

A letter from Mrs. Dr. Hosack, formerly Miss Sadie Johnson, represents her as well pleased with her home at Fredericktown, Ohio. Her friends will be pleased to learn that she is happy in her new surroundings.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. O. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Best, Mrs. B. F. Kennedy, and Mrs. R. Wes. McBride were at Auburn last week, and attended the Davis reception. They returned well pleased with their visit.

J. B. Hoover and wife spent Saturday and Sunday in Auburn, with their sons in-law, Isaac Hague and Mr. C. Raut. It is the first time they have passed the Sabbath there together since leaving Auburn, many years ago. They spent the time very pleasantly, had many chats with old friends and called up many memories of the olden times.

David McEnterfer, trackmaster, went over the Jackson road last week, on his way to Fort Wayne, to put in a switch to connect with the Y. of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railway at that place. The two roads have made arrangements to connect in this way, at a point on the west side of the city, and seem inclined to work together in a friendly manner. This will give the already flourishing business of the Jackson road, a still greater impetus.

—The Presbyterian social will be entertained in the basement of the church next Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. J. K. Culbertson, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Abright. All are very cordially invited.

SECRETARY.

—A fine selection of gold and silver watches, gold chains, solid gold rings, garnet seal necklaces for the holidays at Bassett & Maxon's, Waterloo.

—William B. Williams and Matilda Kootz were married by Rev. Meese Dec. 1, 1881.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors heirs and legatees of John J. Gall, deceased, Oliver P. Learned, Administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

48-3w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davis took the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day, to make last Thursday evening, one of the most pleasant, our people have enjoyed for sometime. A large number of invited guests gathered at their residence that evening. Among these were several from Waterloo, including Judge Best and wife, Judge McClellan and wife, Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Johnson, Mrs. R. Wes. McBride, Mrs. B. F. Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lockhart. After supper had been served, Mr. and Mrs. Davis were decoyed into the parlor, where a surprise awaited them, in the shape of a fine silver ice pitcher, the gift of a number of gentlemen present. The presentation speech was made by W. L. Penfield in his usual felicitous style. Mr. Davis was somewhat taken aback, as his invitations distinctly showed the legend "no presents," but he rallied enough to make a few remarks, thanking the donors for their gift. A very pleasant feature of the evening's entertainment, was the presence of Professor Heine, the blind violinist, and his justly celebrated company of vocalists. These entertained the company at intervals, with some of the choicest gems, they have been giving to delighted audiences all over the country. The evening passed off delightfully, and will be long remembered by those attending. Our reporter did not learn the names of all present, but judges the number at about one hundred and fifty.

Uncharitable Somebody.

My attention was called to the article in last week's COURIER, headed "Charity Folks," which was so uncharitable in its character and unkind in its thrusts, that to pass it by unnoticed, would be to do a great injustice to the good ladies of Auburn who have been most shamefully misrepresented in the article, and it becomes more unpardonable, from the fact the injustice is not confined to the city where the citizens know it to be false, but it goes to the many readers of the COURIER, miles away. Therefore, I think it is due to the christian ladies to give the facts in the case referred to viz: Martin. The writer said "Mrs. Martin living on Van Buren street, in Ashley's addition has been confined to her bed for twelve weeks, and we feel safe in saying, she has not been favored with a 'christian call' during this period," all of which is utterly and entirely false, and shall prove the same. Since Mrs Martin's serious affliction, she has been favored with from one to five "christian calls" every day down to her convalescent condition, taking her own confession. And I have personal knowledge of certain ladies, being there from one to ten different times, carrying with them, bed clothing, clothing for herself, victuals, groceries and dainties of various kinds, besides changing and making her bed and cleaning the house the best they could. I now recall some of those parties: McIntyre, Boughan, Dawson, McKay, Gordon, Robbins, McCord, Silvers, Altenburg, McDugal, Latson, Bash and besides many ladies sent things there by the hand of another. Perhaps the writer may not call these "christian calls," if not, will he be kind enough to enlighten us, as to his preconceived ideas. As to the Penny case, I know nothing, and that is about as much as the writer of the former article knew of the Martin case. Has the humane party been to either the places? "Art married?" If so, has the good lady been to either place? If not, "cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye." It may be the would-be martyr, for humanity wants people to do their "alms before men to be seen of them." But the great Master said: "Therefore, when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men." In conclusion I refer any and all, to the above named ladies as to the correctness of my statement, also to Dr. Matheny who said "I never met one editor or newspaper reporter there."

H. J. NORRIS.

—Dr. Elson will now have his office open every day (except Sundays) in the week. 2t

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice.

S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Henry Kahler, deceased, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

48-3w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors' heirs and legatees of George W. Essig, deceased, John B. Grube, Administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

48-3w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

Come and see the new goods

FOR THE HOLIDAYS,

—AT—

J. Wm. Wagner's

GOLD MORTAR DRUG STORE!

Garrett, Indiana.

YOU CAN BUY

Smoking Sets, Toilet Bottles
Smoking Sets, Toilet Bottles

China Goods,
China Goods,

Ladies' Toilet Cases, Pocket Books,
Ladies' Toilet Cases, Pocket Books,

Traveling Bags,
Traveling Bags,

Merschaum Pipes, Merschaum Pipes,
Merschaum Pipes, Merschaum Pipes,

And all other articles usually kept in a first-class drug store. Having secured the services of a first-class Prescription Druggist, and with a carefully selected stock of pure drugs and chemicals, we are prepared to fill all Physicians' Prescriptions with care and dispatch at all times. Don't forget the place—the sign of the

GOLD MORTAR.

STILL AT THE FRONT!

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPL PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cents
BEST SHIRTING	10 cents
GOOD MUSLIN	6 cents

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c. per lb
Coffee A Sugar	10c. per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. perlb.
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. perlb.
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. perlb.
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb.	6 for $1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per lb
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET.

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000---sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM, PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ENSLEY &

HARTER

Are now showing an

Elegant Line !

—OF—

NEW

GOODS

Which they have

Just Received

And are selling at

BOTTOM PRICES!

Please Examine our Goods, and compare prices.

ENSLEY & HARTER

—A damsel with kerosene, to light the fire did hope; next day, feet first, she left the house, in a rosewood envelope.

—Dr. Humphrey, who has for some time been prescription clerk at Casebeer & Matheny's drug store, has purchased an interest therein. Doc. celebrated the occasion by supplying the COURIER force with some good cigars. We all wish him financial success.

—Doc. Cowan found his lost dog for fifty cents. The dog's name is Danger, and we think the cognomen is very characteristic of the canine. There is danger of him falling through a knot hole in the sidewalk, and being picked out with a cambric needle.

—The Columbia City Commercial came to us last week looking worse than a tramp printer crawling out of a straw stack. They might just as well have sent the blank paper, as not a stick full on the four pages could have been read without the aid of a microscope.

—A society ignoramus asked us, the other day, "When a gentleman is shaking hands with a lady, should he merely raise his hat, or take it down by his side?" Put it in your pocket, Bill, and give her the la da dah style until you get out of sight, so she can have no doubt of your lunacy.

—Our old timed citizen Billy Williams, living southeast of town, took unto himself a wife last week. We should be thankful that the heart never grows old. The skin shrivels, the color departs, the eyes fade, the features grow pinched, but the soul is heir of eternal youth. It is as beautiful at fourscore as at "sweet twenty." Time makes amends for the ravages of the body by developing the spirit. Get married, old boys, get married.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—Business continues dull.

—A blustery day yesterday.

—Advertise your holiday goods.

—Court one week from Monday.

—Commissioner's court this week.

—Are we to have a holiday dance?

—Does your neighbor take the COURIER.

—Advertise, and either grow rich or bust.

—Fall likes to linger in the lap of winter.

—The town council met last Saturday night.

—We are going to have gravel roads, "they say."

—The January thaw will come, says Mr. Vennor.

—The small-pox scare at Fort Wayne is subsiding.

—New Year cards printed at the COURIER office.

—There is a fowl time among the poultry dealers.

—Now the "bloody butcher" fastens on to the porker.

—Billy Groscop is now a retired, wealthy saloonist.

—The organ men have moved into the Dills property.

—No services at the Presbyterian last Sunday evening.

—The soup house has swallowed itself; gone up, busted.

—It is reported that Billy Kruger has "jumped" the town.

Tom. and Erv. Scott have quite a livery at the south end.

—Suicide is getting to be the latest route up the golden stairs.

—Never nail a board over a sidewalk crack. Its hard on boot toes.

—1882 ought to be a good year. It begins and ends on Sunday.

—A number of our young lads expect to go west in the spring.

—Everybody would be willing to have a good run of sleighing.

—A cheap, durable second-hand buggy for sale. Enquire at this office

—There was a happy dance at Mr. Kutzner's, north of town, last week.

—What is the matter with DeKalb county cows? Butter seems to be very scarce.

—All business men should make it a point to settle up before the close of the year.

—Hon. E. D. Hartman is occupying the bench as judge at Angola this term of court.

—Christmas comes on Sunday. A nice time for a Sunday-school Christmas tree.

—People are dying throughout the country who never died before—strange don't it?

—Ben. Williams' sawing machine is doing business in the rural country this week.

—The farmer don't complain of prices when he has anything to sell. Its only when he buys.

—We learn from the Garrett Herald that the railroad company are turning off a number of workmen.

—Those of our young ladies who will receive New Years calls should send in their names the week before.

—J. C. Henry had his peddling wagon out Monday. He don't go very far away from town, all the same.

Just What is Wanted.

We hear that interested parties are urging Mr. Ensley to take out the town hall floor and make the second and third stories into a public hall. This would give room for a gallery, and by putting in a neat and tasty stage, with appropriate scenery, we could have one of the best halls in northern Indiana. It would also have a tendancy to induce the more experienced showmen to come, and for the same money our people would receive an entertainment to the advantage of their intellect as well as amusement. We hope something will be done so as to give us a better public hall.

Wood Thieves.

We hear from good authority, that three families are stealing wood from the ward school building, in the north end. We cannot get the names of the different ones, but have the name of one family, and as soon as we can get them altogether, we shall make a public target of them. Men who are so trifling and lazy not to get fire wood without stealing it, should be held up before the public as a thief and scoundrel. If there is any notoriety whatever in stealing, a wood thief is ranked among the lowest class.

—We don't claim to have been an eye witness, but we know a fellow who was. He saw a girl scratching her back against the door. She had been eating buckwheat cakes. Her beau has an idea she is delicate, but he has never seen her tackle a plate of cakes on a frosty morning. Cakes had better roost high when she is around. If we were the girl we would wear sand-paper lining in our dress, and not be making a hair brush out of the door.

—The farmers "kick" when they can not get $1.50 for a wagon box of wood—straw barred out. They say the town people make no allowance for the hauling. Well, let us see. The farmer pays forty cents to have a cord cut. The timber is worth about ten cents, and the tiller of the soil gets one dollar for riding in on the wood. Of course he don't get anything for hauling it, but it strikes us that he receives a fair remuneration for having his team haul it.

—We received a call from Miss Julia Jones, Monday. She gave us a racket. If there are any of our young men who desires to live a real lively, enthusiastic life they will miss an opportunity by not struggling hard to win the heart and hand of Julia.

—We see by some of the papers around us, that "Prof." Morse, a traveling dog showman, who disgraces his quadrupedal companions by swindling his creditors, is ramboling this way. No decent dog would do that.

—Chris Baker has moved from the Ashley building, at Auburn Junction, and will occupy the one opposite purchased by him last summer. He will confine himself to the grocery business and not keep hotel longer.

—Nearly every week in sending out the COURIER we have some one claim that they do not get it. Those who pay us regularly should have the paper each week, and we want all such to notify us when they fail to receive one.

—If any of our readers have a few items of news, jot them down and hand them to the "local editor" or send them to the office. We will be thankful for the favor.

—Still we are without a wood yard. It seems reasonable to think that such an enterprise would prove profitable to the projector.

—Mr. Slaybaugh has traded his horse and buggy to the organ men. Music hath more charms for him than feeding horses has.

The Band.

We are glad to say that our band is now fully organized, and they play remarkably well. The boys are all taking a deep interest in its future success, and this fact alone will do as much as anything to advance their organization. The boys will play on the street occasionally, and those who cannot come out to hear them and doubt our statement, can refer to Landlord Swineford for full particulars. Prof. Smith, of Peru, Ind., gave the boys a drill last Monday evening.

—Parties from Decatur, Ind., are talking of buying the Elson farm, west of town.

—To know thy self is sensible; but to know thy neighbor is more fashionable.

—T. J. Cuppy's child, spoken of in the COURIER a few weeks ago, was buried last week.

—Mr. J. E. McDonald has purchased a half interest in the Ligonier Banner. Good luck to 'im.

—Mr. Helms had his hand badly cut with a buzz saw while feeding a sawing machine, Monday.

—An arch has been made between the hardware and furniture rooms of Snyder & Culbertson.

—The sausage grinder now takes the place of the organ grinder. The music is somewhat different.

—A new butcher shop has been started on the south side of Seventh street, next to Hoff's grocery.

—Many of our citizens are interested in the gravel road project. Agitation is the means of reform.

—The Lagrange Democrat says, "The Auburn COURIER is an excellent local paper—it spices it's sass."

—Myron Miles, the bigamist, who broke jail at Lagrange, was captured at Detroit, Mich., last week.

—The people on south Jackson street complain of having their chickens disturbed after they go to roost.

—Now the merchants claim to have "medicated underclothing." The next thing will be something else.

—The Dutchman who makes counterfeit ten cent pieces evidently wants a good dime at somebody's expense.

—We shall name in our personal column any of the boys we please, if we lose every tooth in our head, Mister.

—There is said to be a jolly old dog—a pointer—in London, who is nearly eighty years old. He is a type-setter.

—Don't forget the concert to-morrow evening, at the M. E. Church. Encourage the little ones by your attendance.

—Michael Friend, of Jackson township, had a horse-blanket taken from his wagon last week. The thief had better return it.

—Say, young lady, "listen while we sing:" The poorest man in the world for a woman to marry is one that has nothing but money.

—Kokomo has a children's temperance society. A number of big boys in this town could profit by an organization of the same nature.

—Tom. Somers laid his pocket-book down with $175 in it, and went off thinking about something else. It was picked up by an unknown party.

—Never kick a man down hill, reader. Give an angel a bad name and the simplest of us can see the impression in his face whether it is there or not.

—Next week the bar docket will take the entire attention of our job printer. There will be no selected language in this department during the week.

Coming Down.

The COURIER stated last spring, that hay would come down some in price before long. There will be no packing done here this winter, and owing to this fact the market will not consume the supply. A few months ago it was almost impossible to get hay at any price, but now we frequently hear those who have hay inquiring for buyers. This article, which sold for $12 a ton a short time ago, will not bring more than $8 in the spring, and people who have held their supply for higher prices will get most beautifully left.

—There was a wicked runaway in the south part of town last Friday.

—Old mother Shipton can be ranked among the cranks. She is off very badly about the world coming to an end.

—Some of the COURIER boys anticipate spending the holidays at Toledo, and take a whirl with our former foreman, Jack Little.

—Four months in every year is all the country chap has to struggle for knowledge. They are making good use of the time now.

—Charley Picker and Harley Bumpus went south Sunday afternoon to build a chimney. They commenced it Monday morning, however.

—Roll on silver moon, roll on. Let thy light shine so that the old man can see distinctly the use of Johnnie's arms while he is buzzing Malinda at the gate.

—Herman Groscop, living north of town, went out after night for a bucket of water and stepped upon a rake tooth which went through his foot, making an ugly and painful wound.

—The postoffice department has just ruled that postage stamps with any fraction of them missing, will not be accepted as prepayment of postage on the matter to which they are attached.

—Wheat is now about twenty cents per bushel less than it was several weeks ago. Flour has only been reduced ten cents a sack. What keeps the bread stuff so high?

—The South Carolinans receive flattering notices from the press everywhere. They are a "white" party if they do appear black.

—There is something radically wrong about our professions when a pious minister only gets forty cents for joining a couple and a wicked lawyer gets forty dollars for untying the same.

—There need be no further dissention with reference to the proper pronunciation of Arkansas—just think of how the Bible teaches that Noah looked out of the Ark-an'-saw land.

—A lady friend ask us why a man uses profane language when he hurts himself. That is easy enough. When he cuts his finger, for instance, he naturally tries to dam the flow of blood.

—An editor doesn't know everything Editors only claim to average about three times as much knowledge as the ordinary run of men. But perhaps this is a low estimate Editors are naturally modest.

—Dr. Littlefield is one of the happy men of Auburn at present. His joy is occasioned by the advent of a bran new boarder. It's a boy, and of course, is a welcome visitor. May he live long and prosper, is the wish of the COURIER.

—Here is the latest send off for lovers and they can use it during the holidays to their advantage:

2 lovers sat beneath the shade,
And one un2 the other said:
"How 14 8 that you bee
Have smiled upon this suit of mine.

If 5 a heart it palps for you,
Thy voice is mus melody—
'Tis 7 to be thy loved 1, 2—
Say oy nymph, wilt marry me?
Then lisped she softly: "Why, 1ly!"

Body Snatchers.

From the "Daily Gossip," a paper published by Mrs. Mrs. Runabout, we learn that the still, cold body of Tommy Monks was resurrected by mortal hands the other night. Tommy, it will be remembered, died very suddenly a short time ago, and some "dissecting house," either here or abroad, wants to make capital out of his carcas. He was buried in the pauper's grave-yard at the county house.

Marriage Insurance.

The marriage insurance business has gone its rounds. Thousands of la-de-da-h young men, who couldn't earn a livelihood without the aid of their parents, have contributed very liberally to this silly business. Every day the news comes from some company that they have flattened out. The company organized in Ft. Wayne recently collapsed, while the oldest company in the state is said to be in a dilapidated condition.

Small-Pox.

Henry Neville, M. D., says: "The severest case of small-pox can be speedily cured by the use of cream of tarter. Dissolve one-half ounce of cream of tarter in a glass of water and take a tablespoonful every two hours. This simple remedy is highly recommended in England and Germany, and has cured thousands. It prevents pitting and blindness. Of course strict hygenic measures must be enforced.

Do Right.

The charity article referred to by Rev. Norris has been laying in the copy box for four weeks. We did not like to publish it and put it off from time to time until last week, when the facts were again called to our notice. The writer of the article DID (four weeks ago) administer to both parties in question, and had no person in view whatever when the article was written. Naturally supposing that the christian people of the town would deem it a favor to be informed of the suffering humanity in their midst we published the article, and if any particular one "put on the coat" they did so under a very wrong impression. Newspapers are often misinformed, and the blame is generally attached to the editor when nine times out of ten he is the only innocent one connected. We are glad the COURIER article was wrong, and that the ladies gave a helping hand to this suffering creature while in need.

A Speck of a Thief.

A short time ago our town was visited by a dead beat who had a patent clothes-wringer which he recommended to be superior to all others. He carried a sample with him, and those who wanted one he took their order and was to deliver the wringer at a given time. Mrs. Os. Allen thought wringers added to the comfort of the weary housekeeper, and accordingly ordered one. When the agent made the delivery she was not at home, and he found her at her father's, A. W. Allen. Miss Maud Allen took off her gold spectacles to examine the many advantages of the wringer, and while she was thus engaged, the agent examined the quality of the glasses and put them into his pocket. They were valued at fifteen dollars, and the agent thought there was more money in the glasses than in the wringer, and decamped for new fields of "labor." He was traced near Wabash, where the the officers lost track of him, and we suppose he is on the road to "h—l and fortune" with some other people. When these peddlers come around, turn the bull dog loose; and if you have no b. d., turn yourself loose on the miserable scoundrels. They are all just alike, and have the same cheeky, unmanly games. They are a click, and one informs the others which houses he can get his nefarious and light-fingered work in best. Bounce 'em.

—Our people should pay particular attention to their stove flues. A little negligence might render numbers of women and children homeless.

—There is but one way to success, and that is to do a straight forward, upright business. It always and inevitably wins.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE

—OF—

BOOTS AND SHOES!

—AT THE—

BOOT UPSIDE DOWN

All Heavy Goods at Cost, to Reduce Stock. Now is your time to Secure a Bargain. Fine Line of HOLIDAY SLIPPERS at the

BOOT UPSIDE DOWN.

W. J. AUSTIN & CO.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1881.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

THE Receiver of Taxes of Philadelphia is paid $2,500 per annum. He has the appointment of a Receiver of Delinquent Taxes, whose emoluments last year were $400,000. This state of affairs is believed to have led to considerable addition, division and silence in the past, and investigations are now in order. ....The tannery of Kiefer, Stiefel & Co., at Allegheny, Pa., valued at over $100,000, was destroyed by fire.

A COMMISSION has been sitting in New York to take testimony in regard to the Broadway underground railroad scheme. Architect Mullett thinks the plan is fraught with danger, and would cost $2,000,000 per mile. The estimated value of property between Park place and Fourteenth street is $100,000,000, yielding a rental of one-tenth that sum.

EX-UNITED STATES SENATOR ABIJAH GILBERT, of Florida, died at the residence of his brother at Gilbertsville, N. Y. He was elected Senator in 1869, and served until 1875. He was in his 75th year.

A SWARM of rats attacked a lad of 9 years who was accidentally locked in a schoolroom at Erie, Pa. He fought desperately, and, when found, was lying senseless, with the animals tearing his flesh.

THE barns of the Maxwell brothers, near Geneva, N. Y., were destroyed by fire. Fifty Holstein cattle, fifty hogs and five horses perished in the flames. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

THE WEST.

WHAT is said to be the largest mortgage ever recorded in the United States has just been filed with the Recorder of Hamilton county, Ohio. It was for $18,000,000. The mortgage is to the Mercantile Trust Company of New York, and is by the Baltimore, Cincinnati and Western Railroad Company.

GRAVEYARD insurance has extended into Ohio. Prominent men at Findlay have secured policies on the lives of several paupers in the Hancock County Infirmary. Peter Conrad was insured for $75,000, and was induced to sign the application by the statement that it was a call for a political meeting. The companies have been notified that the policies must be canceled.

A RING in Cincinnati has cornered the coal market, and raised the price of coal. It is probable that the associated charities of the city will unite to buy coal, and sell it to the poor at wholesale prices.

THE propeller Lake Erie was wrecked at the entrance to Green bay. She was run down by the propeller Northern Queen, which was also sunk. The Captains and crews escaped in boats.

THE Federal Grand Jury at Omaha has found true bills against Superintendent Corbin, of the Sidney and Deadwood stage line; C. F. Iddings, agent at Sidney, and Fred Clary, Postmaster at the latter point, for star-route frauds.

THE SOUTH.

HENRY JOHNSTON, a colored man, was hanged at Sumter, S. C., for the murder of John Davis, also colored, on the 5th of February last. Sang Armor, colored, was hanged at Crawfordsville, Ga., for the murder of Amos Ellington, an old white man. Joe Harris, also colored, was executed at Rogersville, Tenn., for killing Bown and Heck.

BY the agreement between the Southern Pacific and the Texas and Pacific roads, a junction is to be effected 100 miles east of El Paso, beyond which point neither is to be extended.

WILLIAM A., Alonzo R., and a third son of J. P. Walker, of Russell county, Alabama, were killed near Aberdeen, Miss. Their heads were split open with an ax. The murderer has been arrested. The victims were sleeping when the foul deed was done.... Arthur Armstead, a half-crazy negro, was taken into a field at Houston, Tex., by three negro thieves, who had employed him to haul some of their plunder, where the three riddled him with bullets, cut his throat from ear to ear, and wrenched his head from the body, while his still animate lips half articulated the word "p-pray."

A FIRE broke out in the town of Augusta, Woodruff county, Ark., and in a very brief time only three buildings out of 300 were left standing. Many persons were injured by falling roofs and walls, and some, it is feared, fatally. The total loss is estimated at $250,000 or $300,000. The insurance is light....A large portion of the town of Cookville, Tenn., has been burned....The Court House at Decatur, Wise county, Texas, was burned by incendiaries. Loss, $155,000.

WASHINGTON.

THE National Grange, which was recently in session in Washington, appointed a committee to wait upon George B. Loring, the Commissioner of Agriculture, with the purpose of making an effort to lift the Department of Agriculture into the position of an executive department of the Government, the head of the department to be a member of the Cabinet. Mr. Benjamin Le Fevre, member of the House of Representatives from the Fifth Ohio district, will introduce a bill to this effect.

IT is stated that a high official of the United States Government is about to enter a remonstrance against the policy pursued by Chili toward Peru, and will intimate in rather forcible language that the United States cannot stand idly by while Peru is being deprived of all power. It is also said that the United States Government regards the terms already exacted of Peru by Chili, a oppressive and unjust, and will express itself in favor of a more moderate policy. Ministers Kilpatrick and Hurlbut will be informed of the State Department's views on this matter, and will be requested to cease their wrangling and act in accordance with the views of the State Department....The resignation of Assistant United States Treasurer Hillhouse, of New York, has been received at the Treasury Department.

POLITICAL.

FIFTY-NINE members of the Tammany Society of New York, many of whom have been personal friends of John Kelly, have deserted the organization.

SPEAKER RANDALL states that a 3 per [illegible] funding bill will soon be introduced in the House, its [illegible] feature being a provision to release $100,[illegible] of the redemption fund in the [illegible].

GENERAL.

MRS. GARFIELD receives from thirty to sixty impudent begging letters daily. She has placed the literary estate of her husband in the hands of Col. Rockwell. Joseph Rudolph, administrator, has appointed Gen. Swaim his attorney and financial agent to settle all claims....Another party of Russian Jews, numbering 230, has arrived at New York. Many of them will be sent South immediately by the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Association.

A DISTINGUISHED medical expert, not officially connected with the Guiteau case, has been attending the trial at Washington. He closely studied the prisoner at the bar, and says that Guiteau clearly shows symptoms of softening of the brain. He says that he would not be surprised to see him break down entirely—give way mentally—before the trial is over. The intense excitement of the trial is, in his opinion, hastening this culmination.

THE establishment of the American Rubber Company at East Cambridge, near Boston, and a large quantity of goods and machinery were destroyed by fire. The total loss is estimated at $500,000. The insurance is only $150,000. The company gave employment to 600 persons, of whom 450 were women.... The business portion of Kosciusko, Miss., was burned, the estimated loss being $60,000.

THE Garfield Monument Committee at Cleveland has received $50,000 in that city, and guarantees of $50,000 more from the State of Ohio, for the erection of a monument to Gen. Garfield in the cemetery were he is buried. It asks the other States to give $150,000....Capt. Payne and a large body of followers have crossed the Red river into Oklahoma.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN and Ireland have been swept by a storm of unusual violence and destructiveness. The ship Culzean, with a crew of twenty-one, was lost; a bark foundered and three seamen were drowned; the Barbara, from Rangoon for Liverpool, was wrecked off the Welsh coast; a brigantine, with a crew of seven, was also lost. Numerous disasters are also reported on land.... An unsuccessful attempt on the life of the Czar and his family was made recently, and they will remove at once from Gatschina. The police kept the discovery quiet, and arrested the Chief of Police of an important provincial city, two daughters of a high state official, and two Jewish merchants. The plot involved the use of a balloon to carry dynamite and fire-balls over the palace, where they would make terrible havoc.... Irish members of Parliament now in jail will be liberated in time for the opening of Parliament, providing that no further intimidation of law-abiding tenants is attempted and that no treasonable conspiracy exists....An Alexandria (Egypt) dispatch denies that Asiatic cholera has broken out in that city.

THE committee of Confederate bondholders state their programme is, primarily by steady and persevering appeals, first to the public and then to the Legislatures of the United States, to bring about the opinion that the time has come when the restriction imposed by the Fourteenth amendment to the constitution should be removed as far as it prohibits the Southern States from effecting a just and equitable settlement of their debts, legally contracted. The committee repudiate the idea of embarking in litigation to recover the Confederate property in Europe....Lefroy, who was convicted solely upon circumstantial evidence of the murder of Mr. Gold in an English railway carriage, has justified the verdict by making a full confession of the crime. Lefroy also confesses to the murder of Lieut. Roper, who was assassinated by some unknown person in Chatham barracks....The decree prohibiting the importation of American pork has been withdrawn by the French Government....An attempt was made at St. Petersburg to assassinate Tcherevine, Minister of the Interior.

THE evictions on the Irish estates of Lord Bantry, where the tenants were two years in arrears, were quietly effected. Eight tenants were conditionally reinstated. Michael Boyton has been released from Kilmainham jail on account of poor health. Kilian, a Dublin barrister, who was arrested with Davitt and Daly two years ago, has been reapprehended and conveyed to Dundalk for inciting the people not to pay rent....Lefroy, the English railroad-coach murderer, was hanged at London. Marwood was the executioner....Mr. Forster, Chief Secretary for Ireland, will remain in Dublin through the winter.

DUBLIN cablegrams state that seven houses were fired into last week in County Clare; that a woman near Listowel was threatened with death for giving information to the police; that the houses of two rent-payers at Knockash were willfully burned, and a farmer near Millstreet was murdered for the same offense. Butterfield, a Land-League organizer for Armagh, was arrested under the Coercion act....A story, which savors somewhat of the romantic, is telegraphed from St. Petersburg. It recites that a Jewish Nihilist betrayed his accomplices to the police for 20,000 roubles and their protection, and that he is now in New York helping the Russian Government....An anti-Jewish mob in Odessa, Russia, stoned Sarah Bernhardt's carriage as she was driving home from the theater, on the ground that she was of Jewish descent.

IRISH advices are gorged with agrarian outrages. Three tenants on Lord Kenmare's estate, in County Cork, were shot in the legs for paying rents. Three cows owned by a farmer in the same locality were found ripped open. A flock of sheep were clubbed to death on the estate of Lord Doneraile. The Sheriff of Limerick holds 800 writs of eviction. The police took the names of ladies who organized a Land League at Boyle.... Three hundred fishing boats were lost in the recent storm off the British coast....A desperate fight took place in Dalmatia between Austrian troops and insurgents, in which the former lost twenty men....A jury at Rome convicted an editor and publisher of printing articles insulting to the Pope. The former was fined 500 francs and sentenced to two months' imprisonment; the latter will have to pay 1,000 francs and be locked up for three months.

Contested Seats in the House.

Papers giving notice of contest for Congressional seats have been filed with the Clerk of the House of Representatives in the following election contests:

First district of Alabama, James Gillette vs. Thomas J. Herndon; Second district of Alabama, Paul Strabao vs. H. A. Herbert; Fourth district of Alabama, James Q. Smith vs. C. M. Shelley; Eighth district of Alabama, William M. Lowe vs. Joseph Wheeler; Fifth district of Virginia, I. T. Stovall vs. George C. Cabell; Eighth district of Virginia, S. P. Bailey vs. J. S. Barbour; First district of South Carolina, Samuel Lee vs. Joseph Richardson; Second district of South Carolina, E. W. Mackey vs. M. P. O'Connor; Third district of South Carolina, C. J. Strobrand vs. D. W. Aiken; Fifth district of South Carolina, Robert Smalls vs. George D. Tillman; Second district of Mississippi, G. M. Buchanan vs. Van H. Manning; Sixth district of Mississippi, John R. Lynch vs. J. R. Chalmers; Second district of Florida, Horace Bisbee vs. J. J. Finley; Sixth district of Louisiana, Alexander Smith vs. E. W. Robertson; Third district of Missouri, Sessinghaus vs. R. G. Frost; Sixth district of Iowa, J. C. Cooke vs. M. E. Cutts; First district of Maine, S. J. Anderson vs. Thomas B. Reed. The sitting member in all except the last two mentioned cases are Democrats. The contestants are Republicans or Greenbackers.

Irishmen in Council.

A National Convention of Irishmen assembled in McCormick Hall, Chicago. About 1,200 delegates were in attendance, representing nearly every State and Territory in the Union. John F. Finerty, of the Chicago Times, called the convention to order in a speech in which he declared that it was the duty of Irish-Americans to support their countrymen in the old land in their struggle against British domination and misrule. Mr. Wm. J. Hynes, of Chicago, was elected temporary Chairman. Messrs. Bonayne and Horgan and Mayor Powderly, of Scranton, Pa., were elected Secretaries. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., Father Sheehy and Mr. Healy, M. P., fresh from the old sod, detailed the wrongs of Ireland, the speeches being received with the wildest enthusiasm.

The convention effected a permanent organization by the selection of Rev. Dr. Betts (Protestant), of St. Louis, as Chairman, and the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions, consisting of one member from each State and Territory, one from Canada and one from Ireland. The convention was saluted by a cablegram from Patrick Egan, at Paris, announcing that tenants on 500 properties in Ireland had refused to pay rents.

A CHARLESTON dentist announces: "Teeth egstracted without pane or the yuss of gass at resonabel pries."

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

TENTH DAY.

Immediately upon the opening of court Scoville stated that Guiteau desired to make a statement. No objection being made, Guiteau read from manuscript substantially as follows:

"I propose to have all the facts bearing on this case to go to the court and jury, and to do this I have been forced to interrupt counsel and witnesses who were mistaken as to supposed facts. I meant no discourtesy to them or any one. Any fact in my career bearing on the question who fired that shot, the Deity or myself, is of vital importance in this case, and I propose that it go to the jury. Hence, my personal, political and theological record may be developed. I am glad that your Honor and opposing counsel are disposed to give a historical review of my life, and ask the press and public to do likewise. All I want is absolute justice, and I shall not permit any crooked work. I have no idea my counsel want crooked work. They are often mistaken on supposed facts, and I shall have to correct them. Last spring certain newspapers in New York and Washington were bitterly denouncing the President for breaking up the Republican party by improper appointments. I would like those newspapers to reprint those editorials now, and see how they would look and sound. In attempting to remove the President I only did what the papers said ought to be done. Since July 2 they have been deifying the President and denouncing me for doing the very thing they said ought to be done. I want the newspapers and doctors, who actually killed the President, to share with me the odium of his death. I never would have shot him of my own volition, notwithstanding those newspapers, if I had not been commissioned by the Deity to do the deed. But this fact does not relieve the newspapers from the supposed disgrace of the President's removal. If he had been properly treated he would have been alive to-day. It has been published that I am in fear of death. It is false. I have always been a religious man and an active worker for God. Some people think I am a murderer, but the Lord does not, for He inspired the act, as in the case of Abraham and a score of other cases in the Bible. The assault made upon me Saturday last by a crank has been condemned by the press. The eyes of the civilized world are watching this case, and it behooves this court and the metropolitan police to protect me at all hazards. I hereby warn all cranks, of high or low degree, to keep away from me under penalty of instant death. He would have been shot dead Saturday but for the rearing of the horses in the van. As the officer was shooting, the horses shook the van so he lost his aim, and, though the van pursued him, he temporarily escaped. I waste my arguments on cranks. All they can see in this case is a policeman's revolver. Again I say, if they value their lives they must keep away from me. I desire the court and jury to dispose of this case on facts and law, and leave all responsibility about it to the verdict."

The assassin retained his seat while reading his statement, evidently dreading that some member of the crank fraternity might not heed his warning. Scoville then asked for some printed slips taken from Guiteau after he had been arrested, and he and Corkhill had a wordy war. Senator Logan was called as a witness, but did not appear, neither did Emery Storrs, of Chicago, or Mr. Joseph B. Smith, of Freeport, Ill. Charles H. Reed, ex-Prosecuting Attorney of Cook county, was the first witness examined. The general tendency of his testimony went to show that Guiteau was somewhat insane, though not incapable of judging right from wrong. The witness was interrupted by the prisoner several times, and Guiteau could not be even suppressed by the Judge, who threatened to have him gagged. One Amerling, a Pennsylvania lawyer, and Tom North, of Chicago, were examined to prove that members of the Guiteau family were somewhat insane.

Judge Cox has received several anonymous letters of a threatening character, containing reflections upon the manner of conducting the trial.

ELEVENTH DAY.

The eleventh day of the Guiteau trial was not a very eventful one. The line of testimony related entirely to the proof of Guiteau's insanity. The prisoner was, as ever, beyond the control of the court, and kept up his continual comments upon proceedings. One of his speeches related to the Plymouth Church pastor. He said:

"I notice my friend, Henry Ward Beecher, is doing some cranky work on this case. I used to attend his church and prayer-meeting, and if your Honor knew him as well as I do you would not pay any attention to him. There are a good many people that think he is badly cranked socially, and I have no doubt that Mrs Tilton told the truth and that he lied about it, and I told him so publicly."

"Oh, well, well, prisoner, that will do for you," said Davidge.

Guiteau was apparently satisfied, and nodded with a smile, saying: "That's all right, Judge; I have had my say on Beecher. I'm satisfied."

Gen. John A. Logan then took the stand and was asked: "Do you know the prisoner?"

"Oh, yes, of course you do, General," broke in Guiteau; "you know me very well. I'm very happy to meet you again."

Witness had frequently been besieged by Guiteau to indorse his application for office, but had invariably declined, for the reason that the prisoner did not seem to be such a man as he would care to recommend for any office. He had never known him in Chicago. The first time he ever saw him was when he (Guiteau) called upon him to secure his influence. The general impression he formed of Guiteau was there was something wrong in his mental arrangements.

Edmund E. Smith, employed in the Republican National Committee rooms during the late Presidential campaign, thought Guiteau very peculiar, flighty and rambling in conversation.

Guiteau here interjected his customary comments. "This gentleman wasn't in position to know about matters there. He was only a clerk any way. Gov. Jewell, ex-Senator Dorsey, and the rest of us boys were the ones that did the work there."

John A. Morse, colored, attorney-at-law, saw Guiteau at the White House during March and April; took him to be a crazy man.

Mrs. Scoville then took the stand and gave a biographical sketch of Guiteau's life, commencing with his early childhood. Her lady-like manner and simplicity in telling the history of her unfortunate brother made a good impression upon the jury. Her evident grief and distress, too, created universal sympathy for her.

TWELFTH DAY.

Mrs. Scoville resumed her testimony. She described Guiteau's actions during his visit to her in 1878, and said she was then convinced he was insane and should be put in an asylum. Frequent objections were raised by counsel for the prosecution to the character of questions propounded by Scoville, and a continuous discussion ensued between counsel upon the admissibility of certain evidence.

George D. Burroughs and Fernando Jones, both of Chicago, testified to their belief in the insanity of the prisoner.

C. S. Joslyn, of the Oneida Community, thought Guiteau's marked characteristic was intense egotism.

The prisoner interrupted the court long enough to deliver the following speech:

"I desire to tell all those crank newspaper men that I appear here as my own counsel. That is my answer to all the silly stuff they have been delivering themselves of for some days past. Some of those newspaper men have gone crazy. I appear here in part as my own counsel, as I have a right to under the law and the constitution of America."

John W. Guiteau, the prisoner's brother, was next examined. He had not been on good terms with his brother for some years, but had not doubted his sanity until he received some letters in October. Since he had come on here and had seen his brother in the court-room and at the jail he had become satisfied he was insane. On being cross-examined witness admitted that before he had come to Washington he had always, in talking of the case, said he believed his brother was responsible. He believed him responsible, but not sane—responsible, because, as he thought, at some period of his life the prisoner had voluntarily surrendered himself to evil practices rather than good. Guiteau winced under these statements, evidently fearing his brother's candor was injuring the case, and with considerable bitterness interrupted: "My brother and I have not been on good terms for fifteen years. He always sympathized with my father on that Oneida community business, while Scoville and my sister sympathized with me. The last time I saw my brother we had some angry words, so he does not come here to testify for me with the ordinary force a brother usually does come, and I'm glad to find he has changed his views, however, in my case. I want the public to understand about this." Guiteau continued to interrupt, explain and correct witness. Once Judge Davidge attempted to stop him, but he waved his hand imperiously, saying: "You keep quiet, Judge, if you please." Shortly after witness was asked, in connection with an incident he had related, if he at that time thought the prisoner insane. Guiteau quickly anticipated his reply by saying: "Why, of course, he has always thought I was badly cranked." Witness said he never detected the slightest traces of insanity in his father.

The prisoner, accompanied by Marshal Henry and three bailiffs, walked to the stand and identified a bundle of letters written by himself to various members of the family.

THIRTEENTH DAY.

Immediately upon the opening of court Guiteau was called to the witness stand and took his place, closely watched and guarded by policemen and court officers. He was asked by Scoville to give some incidents from his earliest recollections of his mother.

Guiteau asked: "Am I to be put on as a regular witness to-day, or only to identify some letters? I suppose the latter. I am not feeling at all well to-day, but shall be much better in a week or so."

Scoville—"I had arranged to examine you to-day, and there are no other witnesses present."

Guiteau—"You should have had your witnesses on hand. I object to going on the stand when I am not feeling well, to be subjected to cross-examination by counsel for the prosecution. I have got a good deal to say. I want to go over the whole business carefully and scientifically, so to speak, and I want to be in good talking condition."

Scoville—"The court will relieve you if you feel ill."

Guiteau—"With that understanding I will go on."

Corkhill—"We cannot submit to any such arrangement as that."

After some further discussion Guiteau was removed from the stand, and Scoville proceeded to read the letters, which were put in evidence the preceding day. They were all written by Guiteau to his father and other members of his family, and covered a period of fifteen or twenty years.

As the reading of the letters progressed, Guiteau occasionally commented upon them, or suggested the proper word where Scoville hesitated. While one, dated from the Oneida community, was being read, Guiteau said: "Well, you can see I was badly cranked about that time." At another time Scoville hesitated and said: "Here is a word I cannot make out." "Civilization is the word," prompted Guiteau. "You can see how badly mixed up I got in that miserable community. It makes me mad every time I think of it. I wish those letters were out of existence."

Scoville read from one of the letters: "I am with Jesus Christ and company, and I am working for them."

"That was my sentiment," said Guiteau "and that has been my position ever since."

In another letter addressed to his father, the prisoner had requested $200 or $300. Guiteau commented upon this letter, saying: "Father didn't send the money. He always thought I was badly cranked."

Another letter was read, in which the writer criticised severely the Oneida community, and referred to a circular inclosed, which also denounced the community and their practices. Guiteau exclaimed: "Several of the New York dailies took up my circular and devoted editorial comments to it. That was a little bit of revenge I had for living in that miserable society. I'm glad to know they are broken up now. I was a virtuous man all the time I was there though. I want that understood."

The reading of the letters was finished and Guiteau resumed the witness stand. Scoville began to question him relative to his early life. Guiteau responded promptly, intelligently and with perfect coolness for some minutes, apparently enjoying the situation and his freedom to talk.

Guiteau gave his views on his father's religious belief, and was asked if he (his father) had any peculiar views on healing diseases. He replied: "Oh, yes; father was an awful crank on that subject."

Scoville—"What do you mean by crank?"

Guiteau—"Well, that's a short way of putting it, when you want to say a man is pretty badly crazed."

The witness then went on to relate his various failures in delivering his lecture in Chicago and other cities. He frequently laughed as he repeated some of the humorous incidents of his failures. Various times he was put off railroad cars for not paying his fare and arrested for not paying his board bills. At other times he grew excited in the assertion that in all he did he was like Paul, engaged in the service of God, and that God was, therefore, responsible for his board bills. "When you get down," said Guiteau, "every one is ready to give you a kick. I was thirty days in the Tombs; I have been in jail several times, but never for crime. Never was indicted before this time in my life."

Guiteau then related his efforts to secure the Chicago Inter Ocean, which he proposed to make the great newspaper organ of the West. He offered one wealthy man to make him Governor of Illinois if he would advance the money.

While the prisoner was giving his testimony he was watched most attentively by all the medical experts present, and with great curiosity by every person in the crowded court room. At times he showed his exhaustion by lowering his voice, and it was in consequence of one of those signs that, some ten minutes before the usual time for adjournment, the court, at the instance of the District Attorney, adjourned.

FOURTEENTH DAY.

The assassin continued his statement of the causes which led him to commit his great crime.

Witness was asked to identify a book handed him, and said: "Oh, yes; that is my revised work called 'Truth,' a companion book to the Bible. I haven't seen it since it was taken from me when I was arrested." Witness then desired to read a passage, and read a page or two descriptive of the trials of the Apostle Paul in endeavoring to introduce Christianity. "That was just my case," said Guiteau, striking his fist upon the desk. "I strove to enlighten the world, just as Paul did. I had no money and no friends, and I had just about as rough a time as the apostle had."

The witness said that when in New York, during the last Presidential campaign, he called on Gen. Arthur to offer his services in the campaign. Also called at Republican headquarters; saw all the big men. They were all glad to see him. He consulted with Gov. Jewell, Gen. Arthur and others. They were very friendly, but told him they must have men of big reputation, like Grant and Conkling, to do the speaking. Witness added: "I was on free and easy terms with Jewell and the rest of them." Witness made his first application for office soon after Gen. Garfield's election. He called on Gen. Garfield at the White House. "After Garfield was at leisure," said Guiteau, "I shook hands with him and handed him my speech, on which was written 'Paris Consulship.' He knew me at once. I left him reading the speech, and that's the only interview I ever had with President Garfield. I wish to state, here, that my getting office or not getting office had nothing whatever to do with my removing the President. That was an act of inspiration and was done as a political necessity." Witness then related his experience at the State Department and his interview with Secretary Blaine, describing, as he termed it, the "modus operandi of getting at the Secretary of State." Witness described his last interview with Blaine, who rather hurt his feelings by his abrupt manner, which was so in contrast with his previous cordiality. Witness then determined to see the President, and, with a considerable exhibition of excitement, related his efforts to see the President. Witness continued: "The party was at loggerheads, and I got very much worried over it. I wrote several notes to the President, telling him something must be done, but he paid no attention to it. I kept worrying," he continued, "over the political situation, and I knew this nation was coming to grief." Witness was then asked as to the inspiration which he had said impelled him to remove the President, and replied: "The inspiration, as I understand it, is where a man's mind is taken possession of by a supreme power. Where he acts outside of himself."

On the Wednesday evening after Conkling's resignation, the assassin said he thought if President Garfield was out of the way all would go well. He tried to shake it off, but it grew. In a fortnight's time it had become a fixed resolve. He never has doubted since that time, about the 1st of June, that he was inspired. He prayed and prayed, asking God, if Garfield were not to be thus removed, to get rid of him in some other way. The removal was necessary to save the nation from ruin. "I knew the Lord employed me because he always employs the best material. I felt the Lord wanted me to do it, to advertise my book."

Guiteau said he believed in special Providences, and had no concern about his personal safety. He felt the Lord and Government would take care of him. "The Lord," he said, "is no fool. He uses the best means for his work."

The assassin then briefly recited his arrest and incarceration with as little exhibition of feeling as if relating the commonest incidents of every-day life.

"When I was finally lodged in jail," said Guiteau, "I felt happy. I said, 'Thank God it is all over with.'"

After a few questions had been propounded and objected to, Guiteau broke out: "I want to define my position on this point. I believe Gen. Arthur is a friend of mine. He ought to be, for I am the man that made him, or my inspiration did, but I have never yet asked a favor of him, and I don't suppose I ever shall. I have had an idea in my head for twenty years that I should be President of the United States. I suppose the people think I have been badly cranked about that. I had that idea in the Oneida community. I went to Boston with the distinct feeling that I was on the way to the White House, and I shall make it yet. If I am ever President it will be by the act of God. I shall get the nomination as Lincoln and Garfield did, and I shall be elected as they were. I anticipate a decided change in the public opinion in regard to me. I don't care a snap of my fingers about being President. I don't care anything about it. I don't know if I should take it if I were actually nominated and elected."

FIFTEENTH DAY.

Upon the opening of the court, the assassin resumed the witness stand, and Judge Porter began a rapid fire of interrogations, eliciting from the prisoner in his several replies that physically he was a coward and always kept away from personal danger. Morally he was brave as a lion, when he thought the Deity was back of him. In his opinion the doctors killed the President. The acts of Jones and Mason, in attempting to kill him, were wrong, and they ought to be punished unless they can show that they were inspired by the Deity. The witness soon showed signs of impatience and excitability, and, striking his open hand upon the desk, emphasized every sentence he uttered. When pressed for answers, he finally became obstinate and shouted to Judge Porter: "I know you well, and I know bigger men than you are. I've seen you shake your finger at witnesses in New York, but you can't scare me." Shortly after, when asked if he believed in the ten commandments, to which he responded in the affirmative, and if he believed that the commandment "Thou shalt not kill" ought to be read in his case "Thou shalt kill," he became exceedingly violent. He refused to discuss the matter at all. There was no murder in his case and no killing. It was simply for the jury to determine whether or not his act in removing the President was inspired by the Deity or not. It was all nonsense to split hairs any longer over that word. It must be distinctly understood that the removal of the President was an act of Deity.

Witness proved decidedly obstinate, and, after flatly contradicting the testimony of Gen. Logan, Charles Reed and several other witnesses, he positively refused to answer several questions, his invariable response being: "I decline to discuss that with you." Witness seemed to be greatly annoyed at Judge Porter's habit of pointing his finger at him, as he frequently did in the way of emphasizing his interrogatories, and again broke out angrily: "You need not point your long finger at me, Judge Porter. I've seen you do that before; but you can't scare me."

Witness declined to go into boarding-house matters, as they had no bearing on the case. He supposed he owed $150 to various landladies, and some time or other expected to pay them. Judge Cox directed him to reply to questions. Witness was readily driven from one position to another, till confronted with the evidence of his own witnesses, when he would unhesitatingly pronounce their evidence false. Once he emphasized his contradiction by saying: "Anything I swear to, Judge, is true. You can put that down as a fixed fact." Being pressed as to how he proposed to raise funds, which he said he was expecting to receive, witness said: "I intended to borrow it from some of my friends;" and added: "I will tell you, Judge, how I borrow money. It may be of service to you when you want to borrow for yourself. I don't lie, nor sneak, but go right up to a man and ask him for what I want."

Guiteau became very indignant at Judge Porter's use of the word "murder," and shouted fiercely: "You seem to delight in the words 'kill' and 'murder.' There's no use in your whining in that way. The mere outward fact how I removed the President has nothing whatever to do with this case."

Guiteau was permitted to indulge his passion for talking upon the pending political situation at the time of the shooting, until, speaking of the President's ingratitude to Grant and Conkling, he was led by Judge Porter to admit that "ingratitude was the basest of crimes."

Judge Porter—"Stop there. What would you have thought of your act in killing the President had he given you the Paris Consulship, instead of having refused it?"

Guiteau had previously said that Garfield was his (the prisoner's) warm personal and political friend; that no personal motives whatever were involved in his act, and, fearing, evidently, some trap was being set for him, he hesitated a moment, and then, with great emphasis, said: "I want to just fasten you solid right here. I would not have taken the Paris Consulship after the 1st of June if I had been appointed to it and the President and Secretary Blaine had both besought me on their knees to take it. I had at that time resolved to remove the President for the good of the American people."

National Tariff Convention.

A National Tariff Convention, with about 400 delegates in attendance, met at New York, and was called to order by Col. Houston.

Hon. George B. Loring, Commissioner of Agriculture, was called to the chair, and urged the importance of a bureau of industrial returns. Peter Cooper read a lengthy address, asserting that the Government should never have permitted individual States or banks to issue paper money. Senator Miller was elected permanent Chairman. A letter from Secretary Blaine contained an expression of his belief that at no previous time has the principle of protection been so strong with the masses of the people.

John Thompson, a banker, spoke in favor of silver coinage and silver certificates; Joseph Wharton said the tariff should be arranged so as to promote American industries; John Jarrett, President of the Iron and Steel Workers' Association, said that all the members of that body (5,000 in number) were protectionists; J. B. Grinnell, of Iowa, hoped that the $275,000,000 bushels of corn raised in his State would be consumed under the American flag; J. H. Brewer, a New Jersey pottery manufacturer, thought foreign competition would be dangerous to American industries, and should be avoided; George W. Moore, of Michigan, favored a tariff convention; H. J. Stebbins, of Michigan, spoke in the interest of the lumber, copper and salt interests; Lewis W. Haldeman spoke also in behalf of the salt interests; Robert Grimshaw favored the sugar interests.

A CRACKED bell can never sound well.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

THE physicians who attended the late President have refused to send their bills to the financial agent of Mrs. Garfield, but will submit them to Congress. They have declined to take anything at all for their services unless it comes from the Government. Their bills will amount to about $60,000.

A FARMER named Hogan, who paid his rent, has been fatally shot in Tipperary, Ireland, and a farmer in Leitrim, who paid his rent, was assaulted and received twelve wounds, which it is believed will result fatally. Charles Dawson, a Parnellite member of Parliament, has been elected Lord Mayor of Dublin. A Mayo Coroner's jury returned a verdict of willful murder against Police Inspector Smith for the killing of Mrs. McDonough in a recent affray at Belmullet.

A STAGE-COACH was robbed near San Antonio, Texas, by a single highwayman....A boiler explosion at Yazoo, Miss., wounded seven colored men, four fatally....Two young lovers in New Orleans, named Margaret Vassey and Henry Menno, resolved to die together because of the hostility of the girl's mother to their union. Henry used the revolver, and both are believed to be fatally wounded.... Two negroes named Jordan and Craig, caught at Yazoo City, Miss., confessed to the murder of Robert Catlin, near Huntsfield, Miss. Both were lynched by an infuriated mob....The jail at Oxford, N. C., was raided by a mob of about 100 masked men, and two colored men, charged with the murder of T. M. Lynch, were hanged in a grove where the murder was committed. The victims confessed the crime

REV. H. W. THOMAS, of Chicago, has been kicked out of the Methodist church, and the door slammed in his face. The Judicial Court of the church at Terre Haute, Ind., refused to entertain the appeal of the reverend gentleman from the Rock River Conference, which settles the case forever, so far as the Methodist denomination is concerned. The vote on the question of entertaining the appeal was overwhelmingly against Dr. Thomas, but four out of nineteen voting to allow the case tobe heard on its merits.

THE debt statement issued on the 1st inst. shows a decrease of the public debt during November of $7,249,136; cash in the treasury, $245,042,866; gold certificates, $5,207,920; silver certificates, $66,663,830; refunding certificates, $579,250; legal tenders outstanding, $346,681,016; fractional currency outstanding, $7,093,128; decrease of debt since June 30, 1881, $62,373,471.... A marble tablet has been placed in the ladies' waiting-room of the Baltimore and Potomac depot at Washington, to mark the spot where President Garfield was shot. The tablet is American statuary marble, and consists of a sill resting upon two corbels, outside of which are two pilasters, representing an ax and fasces. Two draped flags form a canopy over the inscription, in gold letters, "James Abram Garfield, President of the United States, July 2, 1881." The whole is surmounted by an eagle with outstretched wings, holding in its talons a bundle of arrows and laurel leaves.

THE Democratic members of the Kentucky Legislature met in caucus and nominated Senator Beck for his own successor. There was no opposition to him in the caucus.

IMMENSE frauds are being discovered in the department of the Receiver of Taxes of Philadelphia. The amount will probably amount to millions of dollars.

The Woman Who Wrote "Evelina."

In 1752 Frances Burney was born. Nothing in her childhood indicated that she would, while still a young woman, secure for herself an honorable place among English writers. She was shy and silent. Her brothers and sisters called her a dunce, and not without some show of reason; for at eight years of age she did not know her letters. An education, however, which to most girls would have been useless, but which suited Fanny's mind better than elaborate culture, was in constant progress during her passage from childhood to womanhood. The great book of human nature was turned over before her, and every marked peculiarity instantly caught her notice and remained engraven on her imagination. When she was fifteen her father took a second wife, and the new mother insisted that nothing could be more disadvantageous to a young lady than to be a novel-writer; so Frances relinquished her favorite pursuit and made a bonfire of her manuscripts.

Although the propensity for writing was for a time kept down, it again rose stronger than ever. The heroes and heroines of tales which had perished in the flames were still in her mind. By degrees these shadows required stronger and stronger consistence; the impulse to write became irresistible, and the result was the famous history of "Evelina."

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

The National Butter, Cheese and Egg Association held its ninth annual convention at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Twenty-two States were represented by delegates. Gov. Gear made a felicitous address of welcome. Hon. Austin Belknap urged prompt action to prevent the adulteration of dairy products. The display of butter was the largest ever exhibited at any fair in the United States, and the collection of dairy implements could only be computed by the acre. A resolution was adopted favoring a law to prevent adulterations of dairy products.

The convention decided that bitter butter was caused by variation of temperature. Several hundred dollars were collected to prosecute oleomargarine makers. Hartman & Sanford, of Amber, Iowa, were awarded the grand sweepstakes prize for butter, and then sold their exhibit at 66 cents per pound.

The Next New State.

The question of annexing Northern Idaho to Washington Territory accompanies the other question of our admission to the Union as a State, and both will be agitated more or less vigorously from this on. Joined to our Territory, as at present constituted, the new Territory or State would have an area exceeding 80,000 square miles, or as great as that of New York and Ohio combined. The new State must be a grand one.—Seattle (W. T.) Post Intelligencer.

A PARAGRAPHER on the Boston Post reaffirms the statement that necessity is the mother of invention. "Sometimes," he says, "we want the door between our office and the one next to it closed, and the editor in that room of course feels, if we get up and shut it, that we are getting high-toned and exclusive, and it wounds him. And we don't like to do that, so we have invented a way to make him shut the door himself. We sing."

A STORY which, if true, adds one more item to the list of dangers to which humanity is exposed, is going the rounds of the English press. It is gravely asserted that a coast guard pacing his beat along the lonely shore near Eastbourne was suddenly attacked by a seal, and escaped with his life only through prompt and vigorous manipulation of a sword-cane with which he chanced to be provided.

FANCY is imagination in her youth and adolescence. Fancy is always excursive; imagination, not seldom, is sedate.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1881.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Since the regular elections last year the membership in both the Senate and House of the Forty-seventh Congress has undergone notable changes. Three Senatorial seats were vacated by calls to President Garfield's Cabinet, two others by the resignation of Conkling and Platt, and another by the death of Gen. Burnside. Mr. Windom returns to the Senate; but the other vacancies in that body have been filled by promotion from the House. The whole number of vacancies in the House, by promotion, death or resignation, have been nine, and a special election in Rhode Island, Nov. 22, having filled the last of them, the list of the new Congress is now complete.

The Senate.

Republicans, in Roman, 37; Democrats, in italic, 37; Independents, in SMALL CAPITALS, 2. Mr. McDill, of Iowa, holds by Executive appointment, and the Legislature, to meet in January, will elect for the unexpired term and for the full term succeeding it.

	Term Ex.		Term Ex.
ALABAMA.		MISSISSIPPI.
James T. Morgan	1883	James Z. George	1887
James L. Pugh	1885	L. Q. C. Lamar	1883
ARKANSAS.		MISSOURI.
Aug. H. Garland	1883	Francis M. Cockrell	1887
James D. Walker	1885	George G. Vest	1885
CALIFORNIA.		NEBRASKA.
John F. Miller	1887	Chas. H. Van Wyck	1887
James T. Farley	1885	Alvin Saunders	1883
COLORADO.		NEVADA.
Henry M. Teller	1883	James G. Fair	1887
Nathaniel P. Hill	1885	John P. Jones	1885
CONNECTICUT.		NEW HAMPSHIRE.
Joseph R. Hawley	1887	Edward H. Rollins	1883
Orville H. Platt	1885	Henry W. Blair	1885
DELAWARE.		NEW JERSEY.
Thomas F. Bayard	1887	Wm. J. Sewell	1887
Eli Saulsbury	1883	John R. McPherson	1883
FLORIDA.		NEW YORK.
Charles W. Jones	1887	Warner Miller	1887
Wilkinson Call	1885	Elbridge G. Lapham	1885
GEORGIA.		NORTH CAROLINA.
Benjamin H. Hill	1883	Matt W. Ransom	1883
Joseph E. Brown	1885	Zebulon B. Vance	1885
ILLINOIS.		OHIO.
DAVID DAVIS	1883	John Sherman	1887
John A. Logan	1885	George H. Pendleton	1885
INDIANA.		OREGON.
Benj. Harrison	1887	Lafayette Grover	1883
Daniel W. Voorhees	1885	John H. Slater	1885
IOWA.		PENNSYLVANIA.
James W. McDill	1883	John I. Mitchell	1887
William B. Allison	1885	J. Donald Cameron	1885
KANSAS.		RHODE ISLAND.
Preston B. Plumb	1883	Nelson W. Aldrich	1887
John J. Ingalls	1885	Henry B. Anthony	1883
KENTUCKY.		SOUTH CAROLINA.
James B. Beck	1883	M. C. Butler	1883
John S. Williams	1885	Wade Hampton	1885
LOUISIANA.		TENNESSEE.
Wm. P. Kellogg	1883	Howell E. Jackson	1887
Benj. F. Jonas	1885	Isham G. Harris	1883
MAINE.		TEXAS.
Eugene Hale	1887	Samuel B. Maxey	1887
Wm. P. Frye	1883	Richard Coke	1883
MARYLAND.		VERMONT.
Arthur P. Gorman	1887	George F. Edmunds	1887
James B. Groome	1885	Justin S. Morrill	1885
MASSACHUSETTS.		VIRGINIA.
Henry L. Dawes	1883	WM. MAHONE	1887
George F. Hoar	1883	John W. Johnston	1883
MICHIGAN.		WEST VIRGINIA.
Omar D. Conger	1887	Johnson N. Camden	1887
Thomas W. Ferry	1883	Henry G. Davis	1883
MINNESOTA.		WISCONSIN.
S. J. R. McMillan	1887	Philetus Sawyer	1887
William Windom	1883	Angus Cameron	1885

House of Representatives.

Republicans, in Roman, 146; Democrats, in italic, 136; Greenbackers, Independents and Readjusters, in SMALL CAPITALS, 11.

ALABAMA.

1. Thomas H. Herndon.
2. Hilary A. Herbert.
3. William C. Oates.
4. Charles M. Shelley.
5. Thomas Williams.
6. Goldsmith W. Hewett.
7. William H. Forney.
8. Joseph Wheeler.

ARKANSAS.

1. Poindexter Dunn.
2. James K. Jones.
3. Jordan E. Cravens.
4. Thomas M. Gunter.

CALIFORNIA.

1. Wm. S. Rosecrans.
2. Horace F. Page.
3. Campbell P. Berry.
4. Romualdo Pacheco.

COLORADO.

James B. Belford.

CONNECTICUT.

1. John R. Buck.
2. James Phelps.
3. John T. Wait.
4. Frederick Miles.

DELAWARE.

Edward L. Martin.

FLORIDA.

1. Robt. H. M. Davidson.
2. Jesse J. Finley.

GEORGIA.

1. George R. Black.
2. Henry G. Turner.
3. Philip Cook.
4. Hugh M. Buchanan.
5. Nath'l J. Hammond.
6. James H. Blount.
7. Judson C. Clements.
8. Alex. H. Stephens.
9. Emory Speer.

ILLINOIS.

1. William Aldrich.
2. George R. Davis.
3. Charles B. Farwell.
4. John C. Sherwin.
5. Robert M. A. Hawk.
6. Thos. J. Henderson.
7. William Cullen.
8. Lewis E. Payson.
9. John H. Lewis.
10. Benjamin F. Marsh.
11. James W. Singleton.
12. William M. Springer.
13. Dietrich C. Smith.
14. Joseph G. Cannon.
15. Samuel W. Moulton.
16. Wm. A. J. Sparks.
17. William R. Morrison.
18. John R. Thomas.
19. Rich'd W. Townshend.

INDIANA.

1. William Heilman.
2. Thomas R. Cobb.
3. S. M. Stockslager.
4. William S. Holman.
5. Cour[illegible]
6. Thom[illegible]
7. Stant[illegible]
8. Robert B. F. Pearce.
9. Godlove S. Orth.
10. Mark L. De Motte.
11. George W. Steele.
12. Walpole G. Colerick.
13. William H. Calkins.

IOWA.

1. Moses A. McCoid.
2. Samuel [illegible] Farwell.
3. Thomas Updegraff.
4. Nathaniel C. Deering.
5. William G. Thompson.
6. Madison E. Cutts.
7. John A. Kasson.
8. William P. Hepburn.
9. Cyrus C. Carpenter.

KANSAS.

1. John A. Anderson.
2. Dudley C. Haskell.
3. Thomas Ryan.

KENTUCKY.

1. Oscar Turner.
2. James A. McKenzie.
3. John W. Caldwell.
4. J. Proctor Knott.
5. Albert S. Willis.
6. John G. Carlisle.
7. Jos. C. S. Blackburn.
8. Philip B. Thompson, Jr.
9. John D. White.
10. Elijah C. Phister.

LOUISIANA.

1. Randall L. Gibson.
2. E. John Ellis.
3. Chester B. Darrall.
4. Newton C. Blanchard.
5. J. Floyd King.
6. Edward W. Robertson.

MAINE.

1. Thomas B. Reed.
2. Nelson Dingley.
3. Steven D. Lindsey.
4. GEORGE W. LADD.
5. THOMPSON H. MURCH.

MARYLAND.

1. Geo. W. Covington.
2. J. Fred Talbott.
3. Fetter C. Hoblitzel.
4. Robert M. McLane.
5. Andrew G. Chapman.
6. Milton G. Urner.

MASSACHUSETTS.

1. William W. Crapo.
2. Benjamin W. Harris.
3. Ambrose A. Ranney.
4. Leopold Morse.
5. Selwyn Z. Bowman.
6. Eben F. Stone.
7. William A. Russell.
8. John W. Candler.
9. William W. Rice.
10. Amasa Norcross.
11. George D. Robinson.

MICHIGAN.

1. Henry W. Lord.
2. Edwin Willits.
3. Edward S. Lacey.
4. Julius C. Burrows.
5. George W. Webber.
6. Oliver L. Spaulding.
7. John T. Rich.
8. Roswell G. Horr.
9. Jay A. Hubbell.

MINNESOTA.

1. Mark H. Dunnell.
2. Horace B. Strait.
3. William D. Washburn.

MISSISSIPPI.

1. Henry L. Muldrow.
2. Van H. Manning.
3. Hernando D. Money.
4. Otho R. Singleton.
5. Charles E. Hooker.
6. James R. Chalmers.

NEBRASKA.

Edward K. Valentine.

NEVADA.

George W. Cassidy.

MISSOURI.

1. Martin L. Clardy.
2. Thomas Allen.
3. R. Graham Frost.
4. Lowndes H. Davis.
5. Richard P. Bland.
6. IRA S. HAZELTINE.
7. THERON M. RICE.
8. Robert T. Van Horn.
9. NICHOLAS FORD.
10. J. H. BURROWS.
11. John R. Clark, Jr.
12. William H. Hatch.
13. Aylett H. Buckner.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

1. Joshua G. Hall.
2. James F. Briggs.
3. Ossian Ray.

NEW JERSEY.

1. George M. Robeson.
2. John H. Brewer.
3. Miles Ross.
4. Henry S. Harris.
5. John Hill.
6. Phineas Jones.
7. A. A. Hardenburgh.

NEW YORK.

1. Perry Belmont.
2. Wm. E. Robinson.
3. J. HYATT SMITH.
4. Archibald M. Bliss.
5. Benjamin Wood.
6. Samuel S. Cox.
7. Philip H. Dugro.
8. Anson G. McCook.
9. John Hardy.
10. Abram S. Hewitt.
11. Roswell P. Flower.
12. Waldo Hutchins.
13. John H. Ketcham.
14. Lewis Beach.
15. Thomas Cornell.
16. Michael N. Nolan.
17. Walter A. Wood.
18. John Hammond.
19. Abraham X. Parker.
20. George West.
21. Ferris Jacobs, Jr.
22. Charles R. Skinner.
23. Cyrus D. Prescott.
24. Joseph Mason.
25. Frank Hiscock.
26. John H. Camp.
27. James W. Wadsworth.
28. Jeremiah W. Dwight.
29. David P. Richardson.
30. John Van Voorhis.
31. Richard Crowley.
32. Jonathan Scoville.
33. Henry Van Aernam.

NORTH CAROLINA.

1. Louis C. Latham.
2. ORLANDO HUBBS.
3. John W. Shackelford.
4. Wm. R. Cox.
5. Alfred M. Scales.
6. Clement Dowd.
7. Robt. F. Armfield.
8. Robert B. Vance.

OHIO.

1. Ben Butterworth.
2. Thomas L. Young.
3. Henry L. Morey.
4. Emanuel Schultz.
5. Benj. Lefevre.
6. James M. Ritchie.
7. John P. Leedom.
8. J. Warren Keifer.
9. James S. Robinson.
10. John B. Rice.
11. Henry S. Neal.
12. [illegible]
13. [illegible]
14. George W. Geddes.
15. Rufus R. Dawes.
16. Jonathan T. Updegraff.
17. Wm. McKinley, Jr.
18. Addison S. McClure.
19. Ezra B. Taylor.
20. Amos Townsend.

OREGON.

M. C. George.

PENNSYLVANIA.

1. Henry H. Bingham.
2. Charles O'Neill.
3. Samuel J. Randall.
4. Wm. D. Kelley.
5. Alfred C. Harmer.
6. William Ward.
7. William Godshalk.
8. Daniel Ermentrout.
9. A. Herr Smith.
10. Wm. Mutchler.
11. Robert Klotz.
12. Joseph A. Scranton.
13. CHARLES N. BRUMM.
14. Samuel F. Barr.
15. Cornelius C. Jadwin.
16. Robert J. C. Walker.
17. Jacob M. Campbell.
18. Horatio G. Fisher.
19. Frank E. Beltzhoover.
20. Andrew G. Curtin.
21. Morgan R. Wise.
22. Russell Errett.
23. Thomas M. Bayne.
24. Wm. Shallenberger.
25. James Mosgrove.
26. Samuel H. Miller.
27. Lewis F. Watson.

RHODE ISLAND.

1. Henry J. Spooner.
2. Jonathan Chace.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

1. John S. Richardson.
2. Samuel Dibble.
3. D. Wyatt Aiken.
4. John H. Evins.
5. George D. Tillman.

TENNESSEE.

1. Augustus H. Pettibone.
2. Leonidas C. Houk.
3. George G. Dibbrell.
4. Benton McMillin.
5. Richard Warner.
6. John F. House.
7. Wash. C. Whitthorne.
8. John D. C. Atkins.
9. Charles B. Simonton.
10. William R. Moore.

TEXAS.

1. John H. Reagan.
2. David B. Culberson.
3. Olin Wellborn.
4. Roger Q. Mills.
5. GEORGE W. JONES.
6. Columbus Upson.

VERMONT.

1. Charles H. Joyce.
2. James M. Tyler.
3. William W. Grout.

VIRGINIA.

1. George T. Garrison.
2. John F. Dezendorf.
3. George W. Wise.
4. Joseph Jorgensen.
5. George C. Cabell.
6. John R. Tucker.
7. JOHN PAUL.
8. John S. Barbour.
9. AB. FULKERSON.

WEST VIRGINIA.

1. Benjamin Wilson.
2. John E. Kenna.
3. John B. Hoge.

WISCONSIN.

1. Charles G. Williams.
2. Lucien B. Caswell.
3. George C. Hazelton.
4. Peter V. Deuster.
5. Edward S. Bragg.
6. Richard Guenther.
7. Herman L. Humphrey.
8. Thaddeus C. Pound.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Report of the Director of the Mint.

The annual report of Horatio C. Burchard, the Director of the United States Mint, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1881, contains, in addition to the customary detailed statements of the operations of the mints and assay offices, much valuable information in regard to the production of precious metals in the United States and in the world, their use in the coinage of this and foreign countries, consumption in arts and manufactures, specie circulation, and an examination of the course of prices, comparing paper and metallic circulation for a series of fifty-six years, with the percentage of yearly prices to the mean prices of staple articles, indicating the annual variations in the purchasing price of money. Gold and silver received and operated upon by all the mints and assay offices, exceeding by more than $50,000,000 the receipts of any previous year, amounted to $226,225,522, of which $193,371,101 was gold, and $32,854,421 silver. This large increase was due to the continued influx of gold from abroad, over $95,000,000 deposited being from that source alone. The coinage facilities of the mints will be enlisted to their fullest extent in converting this bullion into coin. The gold coinage amounted to $78,733,864, of which $15,348,520 was in double eagles, and the remainder in coins of lesser denominations. The coinage of silver was confined to the minimum value of silver bullion required to be coined by the law authorizing the coinage of the standard silver dollar, $27,637,955 of which were struck; of subsidiary coins only $12,011 were coined, and of base metal or minor coins $495,109. The total coinage of silver dollars since the passage of the act for their coinage, up to Nov. 1, was $100,672,705, of which $34,0[illegible],327 are in circulation, and $58,833,770 held by the treasury for the payment of outstanding silver certificates, leaving $7,737,608 for disbursement by the treasury in ordinary payments.

The usual examinations and settlements were made at the close of the year.

The report, referring to the probable restoration of silver to its former place in the monetary circulation, says: "In view of the failure of the international monetary conference to agree upon any practical measure, and while awaiting its future action, it is a question for our serious and early consideration whether it is not desirable to suspend further coinage of silver until by international agreement and effective legislation unlimited coinage of silver and gold at common fixed rates shall have been authorized by the principal commercial nations of Europe and America. Should the $650,000,000 silver coin now full legal tender in Europe be demonetized, the United States could not, single-handed among commercial nations, with no European co-operation or allies, sustain the value of silver from an inevitable fall. With that danger menacing us, we cannot, without serious embarrassment, continue such coinage unless other commercial nations will agree upon the general use of silver as well as gold."

The ratio of 15½ to one already approved, and in use among the nations composing the Latin Union, would doubtless be chosen. This would cause, if the coinage of silver, as well as gold, at all the mints of the world were made free, as bi-metallism implies, the voluntary withdrawal from circulation of the standard dollars and their recoinage. In such case the further coinage of the silver dollars of the present weight, unless needed for circulation, is a useless expenditure. Director Burchard estimates the world's production of gold for the calendar year 1880 at $107,000,000, and of silver $87,500,000. The consumption of the world in ornamentation, manufactures and the arts is estimated for the same period at $75,000,000 gold and $35,000,000 silver. The estimated circulation of the principal countries of the world is placed at $3,221,000,000; full legal-tender silver, $2,155,000,000; limited tenders, $423,000,000; total specie, $5,759,000,000; paper, $3,644,000,000; making the total circulation, including the amount held in the Governments' treasuries, banks and in active circulation, $9,403,000,000. Upon the subject of the course of prices, and indicating the annual variations in the purchasing power of money in the United States, the Director has prepared tables showing the average annual prices of both gold and currency of the leading staple articles in the New York market for fifty-six years, with the mean price of each, and also the relation which the average annual price of each article bears to the mean price for the whole term of years. The mean percentage for each year of all articles named furnishes a basis for measuring the purchasing power of money, and is instructively compared with the per-capita circulation and estimated wealth for each year.

It Was the Cat.

There is a well-known story of the ruin of a London luncheon-shop by a spiteful and envious rival. The latter hired a boy to enter the successful shop exactly at the time when it was most crowded, and to lay on the counter before the eyes of all the wondering and horrified guests a dead cat. "That makes nine, ma'am," said the brazen-faced urchin, as he deposited his burden and left the shop. What avail were protestations of innocence from the indignant president of the counter? The plot had been carefully laid and it resulted, as was expected, in a stampede of the diners, to return no more.—Temple Bar.

A COURAGEOUS foe is better than a cowardly friend.

THE PROGRESS OF REPUDIATION.

The Repudiators have carried the day in Virginia. Their triumph is due to the open support of the Federal administration and to the large amount of money raised in Northern cities to conquer the prejudices of uncertain voters. The Postoffice and the Treasury Departments, with the entire strength of the Internal Revenue Bureau, were used by Mahone in this campaign as if they were his personal dependencies.

The negro vote was cast nearly solid for the Repudiation ticket, and joined with it were thousands of whites, glad of an opportunity to trample under foot a sacred debt, not a dollar of which can be charged to carpet-bag rule or to military government.

What are the facts of this case? The debt was contracted before the civil war, and it is represented by railroads, canals, turnpikes, institutions for the insane, dumb and deaf, and by universities and colleges founded or endowed. Every department of the State Government recognized it as completely valid and obligatory. After charging one-third of the original debt to West Virginia, as her just portion on separation, Mr. Mahone, in a written speech, delivered in Richmond Feb. 25, 1879, said:

"I would use my best endeavors to secure a vote of the people sanctioning a settlement at 3 per cent. for forty-five years, on the basis of $32,977,090.62. I would do so because I believe it to be right."

Recently, in an address before the Union League in this city, Mr. Mahone declared:

"If we carry the Legislature, as we hope to do, we shall adjust the debt on that basis ($20,000,000). On the other hand, our enemies assume a debt of $33,000,000—offering to pay $13,000,000 which they do not owe."

The Democrats adjusted this debt with the creditors, under what was known as the McCulloch bill, in a way that imposed no heavy burdens on the State, and yet saved its credit from dishonor. The Repudiators were not satisfied with that settlement. They rallied their forces in 1879, and carried the State. One of the first acts of the Legislature was to pass the Riddleberger bill, providing as follows:

1. Repudiation of $13,000,000 of the principal.

2. Taxation of the bonds, principal and interest.

3. Repeal of the provision making the interest coupons receivable for taxes.

Gov. Holliday, Democrat, vetoed this scheme. The question before the people at the last election was practically, therefore, whether repudiation should be sustained or should be rejected.

Upon that distinct issue the Republican party of the nation and the Federal administration took Mahone's side, and the result is before the country. The new Legislature will meet on the 6th of December, and it may be confidently assumed that the Riddleberger bill will be again passed, and this time it will be signed by the new Governor, a repudiator. With a single exception, all the Judges of the Supreme Court will be chosen by this Legislature, so that it will be packed in the interest of Mahone and of repudiation.

The Republican party is now committed to repudiation. The Federal administration, by the steady support and countenance given to the repudiators, have just elected for the Governor of Virginia a man who long ago made a full profession of his faith in these words:

"As to the full and final payment or liquidation of the present enormous national debt, he that knows the American people and their utter deficiency in the high qualities of truth and integrity knows that such an expectation is but an idiot's dream.

"For ourselves, we shall rejoice when the crash comes. It is a debt contracted in the prosecution of an infamous and unnecessary war."

The Attorney General of Virginia also proclaimed publicly, after the passage of the Riddleberger bill, that he was in favor of "the vigorous application of the principles of readjustment to the national debt."

Is the Republican party prepared for the next step in this career?—New York Sun.

Tardy Admissions.

The coolness of Republican leaders and organs in admitting the rascalities of the party long after the time has passed when the admission will do any good, is one of their most prominent characteristics. Years ago, when Franklin J. Moses was Governor of South Carolina, thanks to the power of a corrupt administration to override the popular will in that State, the Democracy all over the country denounced him for the corrupt scoundrel and thief he showed himself. At the time he was a necessary adjunct of Republican power; and there was not a whisper against him in that party. On the contrary, he was upheld and applauded by the party just as Mahone and Riddleberger are now, and the stories of his scandalous and wicked doings were stigmatized as "vile partisan slanders!" But a few days ago this same Moses, fallen from his high estate, brought up before a New York police court, charged with larceny. He is clearly of no further use to the Republican party; and, now that no special harm can come to the party, or any good to the cause of decency, by admitting what a rascal he was, the Republican organs are cheerfully admitting it. The New York Times says of him:

"Speaker of the Assembly, he engaged in a career of corruption, bribery and robbery, which has had no parallel in this country. He made 'no bones' of his rascally intentions. If he wanted money, horses or any species of property, he demanded these of the men who sued for his influence in the passage of bills in which they were interested. He procured the enactment of a law which gave him as Speaker unlimited power to draw upon the State treasury, and from that day his warrants, taking precedence of all other demands, were plentiful as the leaves of the forest. He owned a money mill. Having issued nearly $2,000,000 in pay certificates as Speaker, it was obvious that Gov. Moses would rule the State with all the profligacy and extravagance that he had shown in his less influential position. There was almost no limit to this man's recklessness. He seemed utterly devoid of moral sense. He levied toll on every public and private legislative measure 'with money in it' which required his signature. It is a matter of record, for example, that a valid claim of $100,000, held by a banking company against the State, could not be paid until $25,000 was handed over to Moses. He involved one of his underlings, Humbert, in a scheme by which the State was plundered of $20,000, and what seemed to be a grand larceny was attempted against the State, and when the officers went to arrest His Excellency they found him intrenched in his palace guarded by the State militia. He gave away pardons like holiday baubles. Pimps, blacklegs, criminals of every complexion, were pardoned by telegraph, by letter, by verbal orders to jailers, and with a freedom which promised immunity to crime so long as the offender owned in Moses a friend."

The frank admissions of Dorsey's rascalities are in precisely the same vein. His star-route jobbery was pointed out long ago; but he was then too useful to the party. He was using his plunder to carry States for the Republicans, and it would not do to admit that he was a thief. Now, when the admission is not needed, it is made with ostentatious frankness. It will be the same, probably, when Arthur's administration, or some other, uncovers the corruption in the departments during Hayes' term. Every Republican organ in the country will come out with the fullest account of them, and labor most industriously to show that it knew all about the corruption when it occurred.—Detroit Free Press.

Born Grown Up.

A Paris correspondent of the Newark Advertiser writes: In this precocious age children are born grown up. Little girls are dressed like their elders, and before they reach their teens are found snatching a fearful joy in stolen readings of three-volume novels. Boys have heretofore been kept youthful so far as dress is concerned, and only when called upon to do duty as pages at a fashionable wedding and attend a bride to the altar have they gone in for unusual dress. But in Paris simplicity goes for very little, and the more artificial life can be made the better. Little boys of six or nine years old are now attired as court valets, and do pretty manners in the mothers' salons. The dress is a coat of dark cashmere or cloth, dark blue or chocolate colored. It is square cut behind, fitting very closely into the back, round collar and small facings, and very high in the neck and buttoned with cut steel or silver buttons. From the waist the coat opens, slanting off so as to show a long satin waistcoat, with deep flaps and pockets. Knee breeches and silk stockings and shoes with silver buckles, on full dress occasions, complete the dress. All that is wanted is a powdered wig to make little boys look as if they were the ghosts of serving men of Louise Seize.

POUR into your age your whole life, if it be pure and good, and be sure that you have done something—your little all. There shall be no drop of that life wasted. Where you put it there it shall be, an atom in the slowly-rising monument of a world redeemed to goodness.

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.

Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss. Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE

CHICAGO BURLINGTON AND QUINCY R.R.
FOR ALL POINTS
EAST AND WEST

THE GREAT BURLINGTON ROUTE.

No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N.Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition. Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.

Sold by F. E. Davenport.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

Sold by all Druggists.

M. PASTEUR has resolved to extend his studies in vaccination to yellow fever, with a view of determining whether or not the disease is due to parasites and can be guarded against by inoculation. Great as the result of Pasteur's labors thus far have been, he seems to be as yet merely standing upon the threshold of useful discovery.

IN USE SINCE 1857
MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague influences known to the world.

The only absolute cure for all Affections of the Kidneys. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is speedy in its effects, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE

But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

Its highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH

A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to

THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

PROVED A SUCCESS
THE PASTILLE
Prof. Harris' Radical Cure
Trade Mark
FOR
NERVOUS DEBILITY
BY YEARS OF USE!

A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Gland, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoro'ly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G CHEMISTS,
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons!

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had epilepsy from weakness, for 8 years past.

Iowa, Oct. 10th, '78.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 29, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

From a Physician and Surgeon.

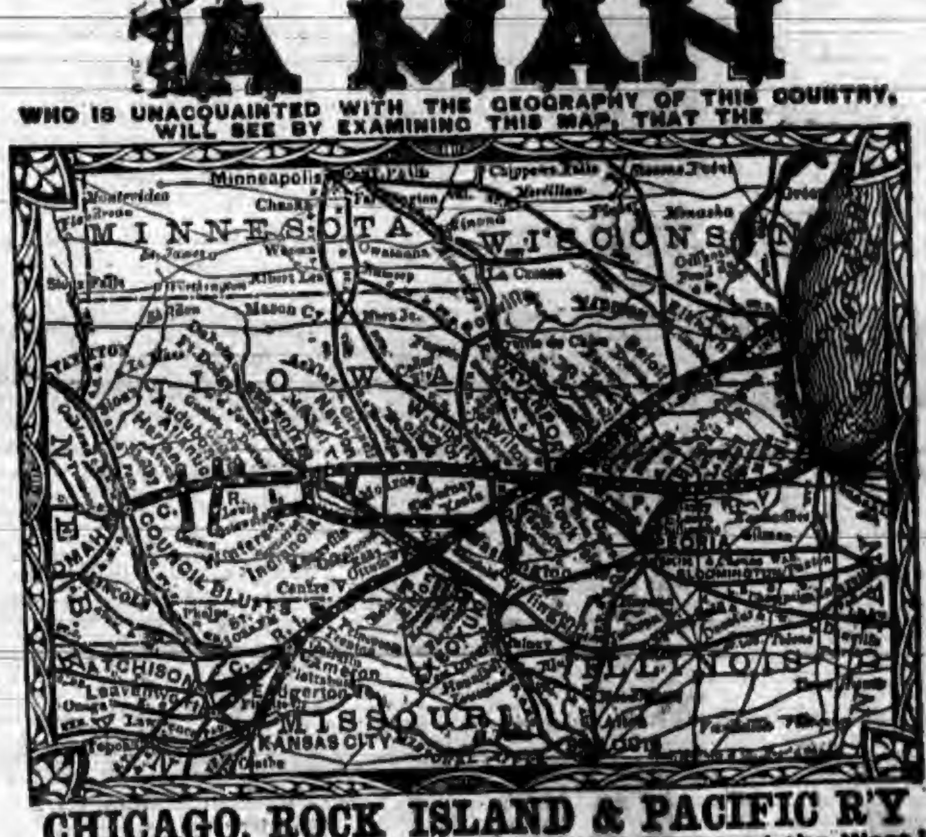
Missouri, June 21.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering, and I think another will set him all right.

From a Druggist.

Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 3 box.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.
At ENGLEWOOD, with the L.S. & M.S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.
At WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, with P., C. & St. L. R. R.
At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.
At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.
At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.
At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.
At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.
At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.
At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.
At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R. R.
At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)
At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.
At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C. B. and Q. R. Rds.
At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo. & N. W. R. Rds.
At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.
At ATCHISON, with Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.
At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.
At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

For information not obtainable at your home office, address,

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.
E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent,
Chicago, Ill.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE

IN EITHER LIQUID OR DRY FORM

That Acts at the same time on

THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, AND THE KIDNEYS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT

WILL SURELY CURE KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS, by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why suffer Billious pains and aches!
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation!
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys!
Why endure nervous or sick headaches!

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health.

It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans one package of which makes six quarts of medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for those that cannot readily prepare it. ☞It acts with equal efficiency in either form. GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00
WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,
(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink.)

CONTAINS

HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION,

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE

All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.

$1000 IN GOLD.

Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.

Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no Other.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

All above sold by druggists.
Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

CROWN SEWING MACHINE IS THE BEST

It is the result of 20 years' experience and experiments in Sewing Machines. It combines the good points of all present and former makes, and is best a "one man" or "one idea" machine, as others are. It avoids the defects of others, and possesses new and valuable features and conveniences. It is large, light-running, noiseless, handsome, convenient, durable, and simple. Warranted and kept in repair free for 5 years. Circulars with full description sent free on request. It is surely the best. A trial will prove it. Don't fail to see it before you buy. MANUFACTURED BY FLORENCE MACHINE CO., Florence, Mass.; WHOLESALED BY GEO. P. BENT, 81 and 83 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

DO

Send for our New Illustrated Price-List No. 30, for Fall and Winter of 1881. Free to any address. Contains full description of all kinds of goods for personal and family use. We deal directly with the consumer, and sell all goods in any quantity at wholesale prices. You can buy better and cheaper than at home.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
227 and 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc. The Recipes used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 435 E. [illegible] St., Milwaukee, Wis.

PATENTS

We continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, etc., for the United States, Canada, Cuba, England, France, Germany, etc. We have had thirty-five years' experience.

Patents obtained through us are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. This large and splendid illustrated weekly paper, $3.20 a year, shows the Progress of Science, is very interesting, and has an enormous circulation. Address MUNN & CO., Patent Solicitors, Pub's. of SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, 37 Park Row, New York. Hand book about Patents free.

REED'S

GILT EDGE TONIC

IS A THOROUGH REMEDY

In every case of Malarial Fever, Fever and Ague and Dumb Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbances of the Animal Forces, which debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It should not be confounded with the triturated compounds of cheap spirits and essential oil, often sold under the name of Bitters.

☞ For Sale by Druggists and General Dealers everywhere.

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

EDITORS COURIER:—Permit me to say through the COURIER, that Mr. & Mrs. Askew had a silver wedding on last Saturday. Rev. Norris addressed the audience in an appropriate little speach on the ups and downs of life, and wound up with the presentation and hearty good will. Response by Mrs. D. J. Swarts, in behalf of the bride and groom. After which we were seated around the table and partook of a bountiful repast. All agreed in saying it was a very pleasant affair, and one long to be remember. The following are the presents and donor's names: Pickle castor, by Mr. and Mrs. Casebeer and Mr. and Mrs. Norris; sugar bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Kiblinger; set of teaspoons, R. and H. Elson; sugar and salt spoons, Geo. Clark and wife; pair of vases, Mr. and Mrs. Swarts; set of table spoons, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Casebeer and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Casebeer; celery bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Abright; jell dish, Mr. and Mrs. Brown; butter knife, E. P. Elson; butter dish, Mr and Mr. Dills; pickle castor, Mr. and Mrs. Teeters, M. and Mrs. McDowell and T. C. and R. Elson.

—Don't be afraid of a little fun at home, good people! Don't shut up your house lest the sun should fade your carpets; and your hearts, lest a hearty laugh should shake down some of the musty old cob-webs there. If you want to ruin your sons, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left at the threshold without, when they come home at night. When once a home is regarded as only a place to eat, drink and sleep in, the work is begun that ends in gambling houses and reckless degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere; if they do not it at their own hearthstones, they will seek it at some other and perhaps less profitable place. Therefore let the fire burn brightly at night, and make the homestead delightful with all those little arts that parents so well understand. Don't repress the buoyant spirits of your children. Half an hour of merriment around the lamp and fire-light of a home blots out the remembrance of many a care and annoyance during the day; and the best safeguard they can take with them into the world is the unseen influence of a bright little domestic sanctum.

—Burchard, supervisor of the United States mint, has made his annual report for the fiscal year, ending June 30. The amount of gold coined during the year, exceeds seventy-eight millions, and of silver, over fifteen millions. With the usual short sightedness of republican officials, he thinks the coinage of silver should be stopped.

—Senator Voorhees does not seem to get along easy with his new ideas on the tariff. Several prominent Indiana democrats have taken him to task for his recent Atlanta speech. Some of them seem to think that ten-cent sugar is not a whit sweeter than it would be at six cents, the price at which it could be sold, if there were no tariff,

The fiend, Guiteau cracks his coarse jokes in court, and the whole assembly is in roars of laughter. And all this, at the trial, in an enlightened country, of a man who want only shot down the official head of a great nation. An outraged, people will be glad when the trial is over.

—Blaine testified in the Guiteau case, and among other things said under oath that he Blaine, invented the term, "Stalwart" in 1875. Webster says the word means "worth stealing or taking." Blaine ought to be proud of his invention. It seems to be just the thing.

—The Sentinel calls Guiteau the "missing link between man and the lower animal." A wide difference of opinion, as the assassin himself, claims to be the connecting link between the two wings of the republican party.

WINSTON, Forsyth Co., N. C.—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dispepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtues of your Bitters. Very respectfully,
48-2w. REV. H. FEREBEE.

MONEY TO LOAN.—If you wish to borrow money on good time and easy terms, call on James E. Rose, Auburn, Indiana. 37 tf

PANA, ILL., Jan. 25, 1881.—I have used your Kress Fever Tonic, and found it much easier to cure the chills with it than for me to solve your rebus. S. D. ABBOTT. 37 3w.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp.

THE new paper at Butler, managed by Harry Weamer, was launched upon the "journalistic sea," last week. It will be a republican sheet and named tri-weekly. Weamer will make it interesting, but it won't pay.—Courier.

We have never declared our intention of making the Tri Weekly Republican. Our expressed purpose is to make it a news disseminator for and to the interest of the people of Butler and vicinity, and though we shall not bar politics, we give the political news unbiased by any party prejudice, and we'll try to make it pay.—Butler Review.

Why not come right out, Harry, and say you are an "independent cuss on wheels," and that you intend to look out for Weamer's financial box first, and the political parties next. Put her there ☞.

The corrupt lobby, which disappeared while the democrats had a majority in congress, is again beginning to be heard from. It promises to assume its old place as the third and strongest house, should republicans remain in the majority a few years.

Be Sensible.

You have allowed your bowels to become habitually costive, your liver has become torpid, the same ails your kidneys, and you are just used up. Now be sensible, get a package of Kidney-Wort, take it faithfully and soon you will forget you've got any such organs, for you will be a well man.—[Albany Argus.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5,00 per annum. For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Beugnot's Store.

P. V. HOFFMAN.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street, over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, will give prompt attention to collections. Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 26 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county—In the DeKalb circuit court, December term, 1881. —Levi H. Cupp is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court, for a divorce, by Julia Cupp, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 18th juridical day, at nine o'clock a. m., of the next term of said court, which commences December 19, 1881.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 14th day of November, 1881
JOHN W. BAXTER,
46-3w. Clerk.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DEBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist.

A $20.00 Biblical Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for December, offer the following easy way for someone to make $20.00:

To the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures by Dec. 10, 1881, we will give $20.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cents with their answer, for which they will receive the Christmas number of the Monthly, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Cut this out; it may be worth $20.00 to you. Address RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Easton, Pa.

Holloway' Pills.

Never despair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispels doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which affect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the Best Machinery in the World for BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power! Book Free. Address LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers. He has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 8 to 9 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. elf

W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.,

Manufacturers of the

Bes and Lightest-Running

Wagon

NOW IN THE MARKET

Nothing but first-class material is used, and consequently the work is warranted. Repairing of all kinds done promptly. Shop on South Main street, Auburn, Ind. 21 tf

CLOCKS,

WHEELERY
LOTHOTS
WALTHAM, MASS.

GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES.

RODGERS & BROTHER S

Plated Ware

SPOONS,
KNIVES,
AND FORKS,
RINGS,
VEST CHAINS,
CASTORS,

Necklaces, Ladies Gold Chains, and every thing in the jewelry line.

VIOLINS, GUITARS, ACCORDEONS.

Special attentention given to repairing fine watches,

Work Warranted.

No charge for marking silverware sold at my store.

JOE ABRIGHT.

Second door north of postoffice, Auburn Indiana.

IMPROVE THE HOUR.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncaitis, Asthma, Congas and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

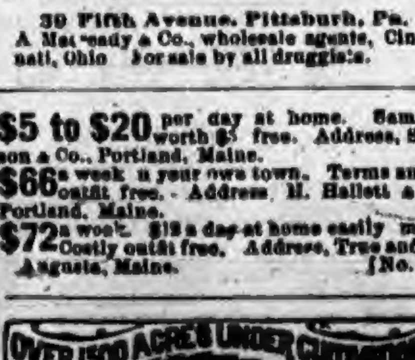
39 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A. Mecready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co. Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address, True and Co. Augusta, Maine. [No. 7-1y



OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION
LANDRETH'S SEEDS BY MAIL
SEND FOR CATALOGUE TO
DAVID LANDRETH & SONS. PHILA.

USE KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE.

Ft. Wayne & Jackson Railroad

SHORT LINE

For all points South, Southeast and Southwest including Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis Kansas, Texas and all points west.

SHORT LINE from all points in central and northern Michigan and Canada.

Time-Card takes effect May 16, 1881.

SOUTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom
Leave Bay City	5 10pm	6 30am	....
Saginaw	5 55	7 15	....
Lansing	9 30	10 10	....
Grand Rapids	10 30	6 40	11 50am
Detroit	8 50	7 00	4 00pm
Ann Arbor	11 17	8 40	5 32
Jackson	5 50am	12 00 m	6 40pm
Hanover	6 25	12 22pm	7 35
Jonesville	6 40	12 46	8 26
Bankers	7 00	1 12	8 55
Reading	7 15	1 21	9 20
Montgomy	7 27	1 40	9 45
Fremont	7 48	2 03	10 12
Angola	7 58	2 20	10 40
Pleasant Lake	8 07	2 30	10 55
Waterloo	8 36	2 42	11 30
Auburn	8 52	3 03	11 47
Auburn Junction	9 00	3 25	12 10am
Arrive Ft. Wayne	10 20	4 20	1 46
Indianapolis	3 40pm	10 50	....
Cincinnati	6 45	1 44	1 45pm
Louisville	10 10	7 15am	....
St. Louis	....	8 50	8 00pm
Washingt	....	9 35	9 02am
Baltimore	....	10 50	7 40am

NORTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom.
Leave Baltimore	9 0am	12 10pm	1 15am
Washington	10 0	10 47am	2 33
Louisville	6 0	11 35pm	....
Cincinnati	9 00	7 50am	3 20pm
Indianapolis	4 10am	11 00	....
Ft. Wayne	11 30am	6 00pm	2 05am
Arrive Aub	12 46pm	6 00	3 50
Auburn	12 6	6 05	3 58
Waterloo	11 00	6 18	4 25
Pleasant Lake	1 18	6 38	5 03
Angola	1 30	7 08	5 20
Fremont	1 46	7 23	5 43
Montgomery	2 03	7 47	6 20
Reading	2 18	8 00	7 06
Bankers	2 27	8 12	6 45
Jonesville	2 42	8 28	7 25
Hanover	3 07	8 50	8 28
Jackson	3 40pm	9 25pm	9 20pm
Ann Arbor	4 07	....	10 24
Detroit	6 30	90	11 00
Grand Rapids	10 30	7 30am	4 30pm
Lansing	5 45	30	....
Saginaw	9 00	25	....
Bay City	10 00	12 25 pm	....

Accommouation going north daily. All other trains daily except Sunday.

CONNECTIONS.

JACKSON.—M. C.: east—12 45, 5 00, 7 15, 9 30 a. m., 3 45, 4 05, 9 37 p. m.; west—12 40, 8 50, 10 30 a. m., 12 15, 6 55, 11 30 p. m. M. C. A. L. west—8 40 a. m., 6 50 p. m. J. L. & S. 7 00 a. m., 4 15 p. m. G. R. V., 1 10, 8 35 a. m., 12 30, 6 50 p. m.

JONESVILLE.—L. S. & M. S., east 5 52 a. m. 2 38 p. m.; west 9 40 a. m., 12 42, 10 50 p. m.

BANKERS.—D. H. & S. W., east, leave, 7 10 a. m., 2 30 p. m.; arrive at Bankers, 1 10, 10 p. m.

WATERLOO.—L. S. & M. S. east, 2 50, 11 35 p. m.; west 2 15 a. m., 1 30 p. m.

AUBURN JUNCTION.—B. & O. east, 3 44 a. m., 3 25, 10 22 p. m.; west, 1 26 a. m., 12 30 p. m. R. R. east, 12 52 a. m. 12 30 p. m.; west, 7 05 a. m. 3 25 p. m.

FT. WAYNE.—Ft. Wayne, M. & C. leave 10 20 a. m., 5 20 p. m.; arrive 9 40 a. m., 4 10 p. m. W., St. L. & P. east, 5 00, 7 00 a. m., 2 10, 35 p. m., west, 5 15, 10 40 a. m. 4 50 8 55 p. m. C. R. & Ft. W. leave 6 15 a. m.; 200 p. m.; ar. 3 09, 7 15 p. m. P., Ft. W. & C. east, 6 35 a. m., 2 15, 3 40, 8 15, 11 55 p. m.; west 2 20, 5 15, a. m., 12 55, 3 40, 11 45 p. m.

Arrival and departure of trains shown above is by Chicago time, same as Ft. W. & J. road.

Through tickets to all principal points. For information as to routes and connections apply to

M. D. WOODFORD Gen'l Supt
H. BROMLEY Gen'l Fr. & Pass'r. Agen

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipments! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect May 15, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	N.Y. Ex.	At. Ex	Way F't	Way F't
Chicago	9 20am	5 35pm
Elkhart	1 20pm	10 10	1 00am	7 00am
Kendallville	2 48	11 20	5 25	12 10pm
Corunna	2 58		6 35
Sedan			7 05	2 00
Waterloo	3 10	11 55	7 30	2 40
Butler	3 24	12 10am	8 20	3 40
Toledo	5 40	2 40	7 35pm

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex.	Pac. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Toledo	11 05am	12 01am	5 30am
Butler	1 35pm	2 20	4 05pm	8 10am
Waterloo	1 50	2 35	4 50	9 20
Sedan			5 05	10 00
Corunna	2 15		5 15	10 05
Kendallville	2 20	3 00	5 35	11 25
Elkhart	3 40	4 20	9 25	4 20
Chicago	8 00	6 20

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given, trains do not stop. Accommodation Freight leaves Butler at 5 o'clock a. m., and arrives at Toledo at 10:25 a. m. Accommodation Freight leaves Toledo at 5;05 p. m., and arrives at Butler at 10:42 p. m. Close connections at Chicago. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage. J. E. CURTIS,

Supt. Mich. Div., Toledo, O.

For tickets to all points east—first-class, second class, emigrant and round-trip tickets to Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and California, rates of freight and information—apply to H. D. ARMSTRONG,
Agent, Waterloo, Ind.

Baltimore & Ohio R. R

—o—

CHICAGO DIVISION.

—o—

IN EFFECT FROM NOVEMBER 20, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	N. Y. Fast.	W. & B. Express	W. & C Ex.
Chicago lv	5 30pm	10 00pm	8 45am
Walkerton Junction		1 06am	12 07pm
Milford Junction		2 25	1 25
Syracuse		2 38	1 36
Cromwell		2 50	1 55
Albion		3 15	2 20
Avilla		3 35	2 48
Garrett	10 35	4 00	3 20
Auburn Junction	10 42	4 08	3 40
St. Joe
Hicksville		4 45	4 24
Defiance	11 32	5 30	5 12
Deshler	12 40am	6 28	6 15
Fostoria	1 20	7 29	7 18
Tiffin	2 08	7 58	7 48
Chicago Junction ar.	3 00	9 20	9 00

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Fast Line.	Chi. Express	Chi. Mail.
Chicago Junction lv	9 30pm	6 10pm	8 05am
Tiffin	10 25	7 48	9 10
Fostoria	10 51	8 35	9 40
Deshler	11 52	9 42	10 40
Defiance	12 54am	10 52	11 42
Hicksville		11 42	12 28pm
St. Joe
Auburn Junction	2 20	12 13am	1 05
Garrett	2 35	12 25	1 35
Avilla		12 36	1 52
Albion		12 58	2 20
Cromwell		1 20	2 45
Syracuse		1 36	3 02
Milford Junction		1 46	3 15
Walkerton Junction		3 05	4 30
Chicago ar	6 55	6 10	7 35

Ft. Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati and White Water Railroads.

In effect February 27, 1881.

SOUTHWARD. No. 1 M	SOUTHWARD. No. 3 Ex	STATIONS.	NORTHWARD. No. 2 M	NORTHWARD. No. 4 Ex.
a m	p m		p m	a m
10 40	5 40	Lv...Fort Wayne...Ar	5 45	10 00
11 08	6 07	Bluffton	3 35	9 45
p m
12 15	8 05	Hartford	3 30	7 8
1 45	9 00	Muncie	1 45	6 8
p m	p m		a m	p m
7 15	...	Cincinnati	7 40	.....
6 05	10 35	Indinapolis	11 20	4 30

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run on Columbus time.

W. W. WORTHINGTON, Gen. Supt.
GEO. B. CAMPBELL' General Ticket Agt.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway.

Condensed time-card in effect Sept. 1, 1881.

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex	Fa't L'e	Pac Ex	Mail
Pittsburgh	9 15am	12 05am	1 50pm	7 30
Mansfield	5 40pm	8 55	9 20	......
Crestline Lv	6 35	7 50	9 55	1 55am
Ft. Wayne	12 40am	1 25pm	2 40am	5 35
Chicago Ar	6 20	7 20	8 20	10 00

GOING EAST.

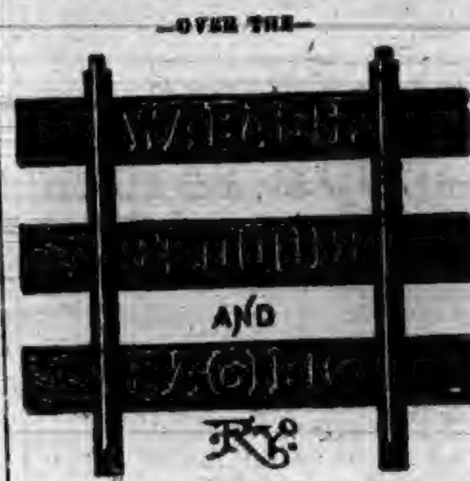
STATIONS.	No. 2 Fast Ex	No. 6 Pac. Ex	No. 4 Nt. Ex.	No. 8 Mail
Chicago Lv	8 50am	3 30pm	5 35pm	10 00pm
Ft. Wayne	2 25pm	8 35	12 15am	6 40am
Crestline	7 10	12 35am	5 30	11 45am
Mansfield	8 02	1 10	7 20	12 35pm
Pittsburgh Ar.	2 15am	7 30	2 15pm	7 30

Trains Nos. 3, 6, 8 and 4 run daily. Train No 1 leaves Pittsburgh daily except Saturday. Train No. 3 leaves Chicago daily except Saturday. All others daily except Sunday.

E. A. FORD, General Ticket Ag't.
D. W. CALDWELL, General Manager.

TAKE A RIDE

—OVER THE—

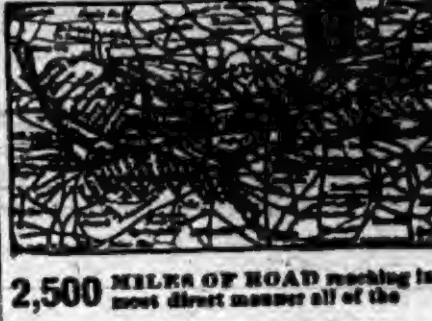


—AND YOU—

WILL DISCOVER

Why it is termed the Popular

PASSENGER LINE OF AMERICA!



2,500 MILES OF ROAD reaching in the most direct manner all of the

Great Cities of the West

Running the Finest Passenger Equipment and the most extended Through-Car System on the continent.

THROUGH TICKETS

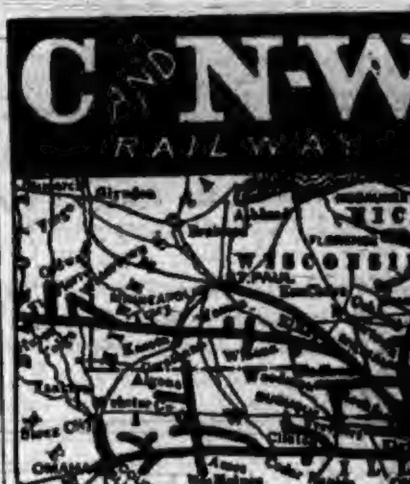
TO ALL POINTS

East, West, Northwest or Southwest!

And Baggage Checked from starting point to destination.

For Maps, Time-Tables, or any information, call on or address LOUIS JOHNSON, agent, Auburn, Ind., or FRED. CLARK, Auburn Junction.

J. C. GAULT, Gen. Manager, H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen. Passenger Agent, St. Louis.



—THE—

Chicago & Northwestern Railway

Is the oldest, Best Constructed, Best Equipped and hence the Leading Railway

—OF THE—

WEST AND NORTHWEST.

It is the short and best route between Chicago and all points in Northern Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, California, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and to

Council Bluffs, Omaha, Denver, Leadville, Salt Lake, San Francisco, Deadwood Sioux City,

Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Columbus, and all points in the territories, and the west. Also for Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Marquette, Fond du Lac, Watertown, Houghton, Neenah, Menasha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Huron, Volga, Fargo, Bismarck, Winona, LaCrosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Northwest.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern and the U. P. Railways depart from, arrive at and use the same joint Union depot.

At Chicago close connections are made with the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ft. Wayne and Pennsylvania, and Chicago and Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

Close connections at Junction points.

It is the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

Between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

Pullman Sleepers on all night trains.

Insist upon ticket agents selling you tickets via this road. Examine your tickets and refuse to buy if they do not read over the Chicago & Northwestern railway

If you wish the best traveling accommodations you will buy your tickets by this route ☞AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER.

All ticket agents sell tickets by this line.
Marvin Hughitt, 2d V. P. & Gen'l Man'ger
Chicago.

Recorder's Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 11. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, DECEMBER 14, 1881. Number 50.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

BARNS & HUSSELMAN.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. B. MOODY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Beugnot's Store.

P. V. HOFFMAN.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will give prompt attention to collections Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 28 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.

June 14, 1881.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DEBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist

1882

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

"Always varied, always good, always improving."—CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.

Harper's Magazine, the most popular illustrated periodical in the world, begins i's sixty-fourth volume with the December Number. It represents what is best in American literature and art; and its marked success in England—where it has already a circulation larger than that of any English magazine of the same class—has brought into its service the most eminent writers and artists of Great Britain. The forthcoming volumes for 1882 will in every respect surpass their predecessors.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS.

PER YEAR:

HARPER'S MAGAZINE	$4.00
HARPER'S WEEKLY	4.00
HARPER'S BAZAR	4.00
The THREE above publications	10.00
Any TWO above named	7.00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	1.50
HARPER'S MAGAZINE HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	5.00
HARPER'S FRANKLIN SQUARE LIBRARY, One Year (52 Numbers)	10.00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The volumes of the Magazine begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is specified, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to begin with the current Number.

A Complete Set of HARPER'S MAGAZINE, comprising 63 Volumes, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, freight at expense of purchaser, on receipt of $2.25 per volume. Single volumes, by mail, post-paid, $3.00. Cloth cases, for binding, 50 cents, by mail, postpaid.

Index to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, Alphabetical, Analytical, and Classified, for Volumes 1 to 60, inclusive, from June, 1850, to June, 1880, one vol., 8vo, Cloth, $4 00

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

Our Southern Trip.

Being asked by a number of my friends to give a history of our recent trip to the South, I will make my first attempt to write for the paper.

On the morning of the 14th of November, our party consisting of C. Beugnot and wife, Isaac Ditmars and wife and David Ober and myself, left Auburn at 9 o'clock A. M. for the Atlanta Cotton Exposition, and other points in the South. Arriving in the Queen City near six in the evening. The next day we took a view of the city and visited the Zoological Gardens; the elevated street cars to the gardens are quite a novelty to those who never saw them. Remaining here until the next day, when we sped on our way to the Sunny South. On the way we passed some of the most desolate looking country we ever saw. After fourteen hours riding, we arrived at Chattanooga, and were the guests of the Reed House. The next morning we visited the National Cemetery, and found the grave of Capt. Steele, a brother of our fellow townsman; also that of Capt. Gunsenhouser, of the 44th, which has a large evergreen standing upon it. The remainder of the day we spent looking through the city and vicinity, Charley Beugnot showing us the different points of each commander. The next day we employed a driver to take us to Craw-fish Spring and the battlefield of Chicamauga; after finding a number of balls and the skull of a man, who had been left on the battlefield, we started for the spring, a distance of 14 miles from the city, having what persimmons we wanted to eat on the way. The next day, Saturday, we started for Atlanta, and when we arrived it was one of the darkest, gloomiest days I ever have seen in the South. Mr. and Mrs. Beugnot stopped at Marrietta, twenty miles this side of Atlanta, to visit the National Cemetery—Mrs. Beugnot having a brother interred there, the grave of whom they found. After finding a good boarding place, and all of our party arriving, Mr. Ober and myself made arrangements to go to Andersonville, situated 164 miles from Atlanta. We took the train for Macon at twelve o'clock, arriving there at seven the next morning. After partaking of a hearty breakfast and a hurried view of the city, we left at 9 o'clock for Andersonville, that much noted place, arriving there at noon. After a walk of a half mile we reached the Cemetery, and made the acquaintance of Capt. Dunbar, the superintendent. Looking over the records and finding the numbers of the graves of some of Mr. Ober's comrades, we walked over the grounds, and found all the graves with the exception of one, and as that one died in the hospital, among strangers, it is supposed that his name was not put upon him when taken to the Cemetery; and there are nine hundred and fifty marked "Unknown," no doubt he is among that number. The Cemetery contains twenty-five acres, enclosed by a brick wall about five feet high. The graves are divided into four sections, two on the east side of the drive and two on the west, and no person is allowed to drive faster than a walk inside of the enclosure. In the southwest corner of the southeast section lie the six raiders buried in triangular form from the rest, and in the following order: beginning with Pat Delahy, Charles Curtis, Wm Collins, John Sarsfield, Wm. Rickson and A. Munn; and near the flagstaff the former superintendent lies. As our time was limited to three hours, and wishing to take a look at the stockade, we mounted the stone wall, in order to save the time it would take to walk to the gate, and as I turned around to take a last look at the quiet dead, I thought to myself, here let them rest in peace, they, who are honored by the whole world. I will state here that there are 13,717 buried here. We then took a view of the stockade, although this would not be the proper name for it now, as none of the ruined wall is standing, except here and there a small piece as a mark. Mr. Ober showed me the interesting points, viz: the wells, tunnels, swamps, the dead line, the south gate, the spot where the scaffold was erected, and the spring of pure water, of which I brought a small amount home with me. We also ate persimmons and thorn apples off of the grounds. The remark was made by a gentleman with us, and who lived near during the horrors of 1864-5, that there was no place under the rising sun where there was as much cruelty and suffering as there was on that piece of ground. It now being train time we started for the depot, and found there a number of people who had gathered there for pastime, it being Sunday, and as I neared the station house, with my bottle in my hand and carrying a few skulls, some of them sneered at me. I suppose they took the water in the bottle to be Sunday water, as the Southerners term it, but it made no difference to me; and soon we bade Andersonville farewell, perhaps forever. We only regret that we did not stay over night with Capt. Dunbar.

Arriving at Atlanta on Monday morning we took a little rest, and was ready, with the rest of our party, to take in the Exposition. After my visit to Andersonville I was asked some questions by a Dr. who was boarding where we were, about the place, and after making a reply I asked him, "if he, living at Macon all his life, had never been to Andersonville," his reply was, "no, and I have no desire to go there." Also the lady we were boarding with made several inquiries when she remarked that she was sorry to think that the place was in Georgia. It seems to be a place of attraction for Northern travelers but Southerners shun the place.

Now, to describe the Exposition, its many different kinds of machinery, works of art of every style, would be impossible. A lady, whom we met here, and who had visited the Centennial, thought it nearly equal to that. After spending two days there we began retracing our steps, arriving in Chattanooga on the evening of the 23d. While at Chattanooga, Gen. Sherman was stopping at the same hotel, being on his way from the Exposition. Some remarks were made to the effect that it was not a very healthy place for him to be, as he burned the city during the war. Mr. Ditmars and wife were favored with a glimpse of him. The next day we took a view of Lookout mountain at Mocican Point, and had a view of seven different states and Tennessee river; but it being the coldest day of our travel, and up so high, it was not so very pleasant. We left Chattanooga that night for Cincinnati, where we arrived at eight A. M., making the distance of 335 miles. Remaining here till the next morning when we started for Auburn, where we arrived about eight that evening.

Taking our trip altogether, we had a very pleasant time, and this much I must say for the southern people, they are more sociable, kind-hearted than our Northern people are. The colored people were ever ready to do us a favor and spared no trouble to make everything pleasant for us. But I will leave them where they are and not express my opinion, as some, no doubt, would differ with me. I have always thought there were other places than Auburn and wanted to go and see other parts, but so far as the South is concerned, I am satisfied to remain here. Our party received quite a compliment on our final departure from Atlanta by a Miss Hendricks. She said that she had a better opinion of the Yankees than she formerly had. I think vice versa.

MRS. HARRIET D. OBER.

Fairfield Items.

[Last week's.]

Jacob Martin and Charlie Gonser returned home last week. They have been holding forth in Wayne county, Ohio, for the past year.

Mr. E. A. Galasbpy, of West Lebanon, Wayne county, Ohio, is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity.

Albert Henney has the typhoid fever.

M. A. Boughman has received a nice supply of holiday goods, and can now furnish them to Santa Clause for young and old, he is selling them cheap.

Joseph Ruffner returned from a trip to Michigan.

Mr. Tiebbs, the miller, is doing splendid work for his customers.

Farmers are now on the war path, and great havoc is being made among the porkers.

All the standard poems in fancy binding, and at the very lowest prices, at Davenport's.

—Farmers bring your sausage-meat to S. U. Tarney's, and have it chopped by steam power.

—Lee Diehl, the Butler jeweler, will sell you a lady's solid gold watch for $18.

Regulate the Secretions.

In our endeavors to preserve health it is of the utmost importance that we keep the secretory system in perfect condition. The well-known remedy Kidney-Wort, has specific action on the kidneys, liver and bowels. Use it instead of dosing with vile bitters or drastic pills. It is purely vegetable, and is prompt but mild in action. It is prepared in both dry and liquid form, and sold by druggist everywhere.—[Reading Eagle.

—Persons traveling on the cars during the winter are subject to cold from the oft opened doors, which can be cured with a twenty-five cent bottle of Lung Syrup. Buy of your druggist.

—Children cry for Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup. It is the most pleasant preparation for coughs and colds known, and perfectly harmless. Price twenty-five and fifty cents a bottle. Sold by druggists.

Long dresses are still fashionable, but the ladies who wear the greater portion of their dress in their hands, should keep their shoes buttoned up, or state their object.

Young lover asks: "When is the best time to travel?" When you see the old man and his bulldog coming round the corner, air, travel for all you are worth.

Mrs Spriggins, when she read of the failure of the Universal Life Insurance Company, sagely remarked that she never did think much of "them Universalists."

"Everybody is speculating nowadays," moralized Ferguson, "and if you go through the streets at midnight even the mud will speck you late."

Fond mother: "Is blowing a fish horn likely to result in injury, to your boy?" "You wager it is, ma'am, if he blows it near us and we can catch him."

Gold pens, pencils and tooth picks. The best and cheapest in the world, at Davenport's.

MONEY TO LOAN.—If you wish to borrow money on good time and easy terms, call on James E. Rose, Auburn, Indiana. 27 tf

A splendid assortment of cloth, hair and tooth brushes, combs, dressing cases, fancy box papers, ladies hand bags, purses and card cases, at Davenport's.

PANA, ILL., Jan. 25, 1881.—I have used your Kress Fever Tonic, and found it much easier to cure the chills with it than for me to solve your rebus. S. D. ABBOTT. 37-3w.

—Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation for the surprising cures which daily result from the use of her Vegetable Compound in all female diseases. Send to her for pamphlets. 48-2w.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 49-tf.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

Useful and ornimental—those new Unique Wall Pockets, for holding your brushes and combs. They are just the thing to present to your wife, for a Christmas present. For sale by Davenport, the druggist.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON, Trustee Jackson tp

Oct. 11-tf.

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price):

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,

MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, OMBRE PLUSHES, for $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS'

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—[illegible]

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS,

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c., 75c., $1.25 and $1.50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. - - - - Ft. Wayne

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens of Auburn with extra fine WHEAT, RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion this week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm, and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET.

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000---sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM, PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

His First Annual Message to Congress.

A Tribute to the Memory of the Lamented Garfield.

The Financial and Other Public Questions of Interest Discussed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

An appalling calamity has befallen the American people since their chosen representatives last met in the halls where you are now assembled. We might else recall with unalloyed content the prosperity with which throughout the year the nation has been blessed. Its harvests have been plenteous, its varied industries have thriven, the health of its people has been preserved. It has maintained with foreign governments the undisturbed relations of amity and peace. For these manifestations of His favor, we owe to Him who holds our destiny in His hands the tribute of our grateful devotions. To that mysterious exercise of will which has taken from us the loved and illustrious citizen who was but lately the head of the nation, we bow in sorrow and submission. The memory of his exalted character, of his noble achievements and of his patriotic life, will be treasured forever as a sacred possession of the whole people. The announcement of his death drew from foreign governments and peoples tributes of sympathy and sorrow, which history will record as signal tokens of the kinship of nations and the federation of mankind.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The feeling of good will between our own Government and that of Great Britain was never more marked than at present. In recognition of this pleasing fact, I directed on the occasion of the late centennial celebration at Yorktown that a salute be given to the British flag. Early in the year the Fortune bay claims were satisfactorily settled by the British Government paying in full the sum of £15,000, most of which has already been distributed. As the terms of the settlement included compensation for injuries suffered by our fishermen at Aspee bay, there has been retained from the gross award a sum which is deemed adequate for those claims.

THE AUSTRALIAN EXPOSITION.

The participation of Americans in the exhibitions at Melbourne and Sydney will be approvingly mentioned in the reports of the two exhibitions, soon to be presented to Congress. They will disclose the readiness of our countrymen to make successful competition in distant fields of enterprise.

THE ISTHMUS CANAL.

In relation to the proposed canal across the Isthmus of Panama, little has occurred worthy of mention in the diplomatic relations of the country.

COPYRIGHT.

Negotiations for an international copyright convention are in hopeful progress.

SITTING BULL.

The surrender of Sitting Bull and his forces, upon the Canadian frontier, has allayed all apprehension, although bodies of British Indians still cross the border in quest of sustenance. Upon this subject a correspondence has been opened which promises an adequate understanding. Our troops have orders to avoid, meanwhile, all collisions with alien Indians.

THE FRENCH GUESTS.

The presence at the Yorktown celebration of the representatives of the descendants of Lafayette and of his gallant compatriots, who were our allies in the Revolution, has served to strengthen the spirit of good-will which has always existed between the two nations.

BIMETALLIC CONFERENCE.

You will be furnished with the proceedings of the Bimetallic Conference, held during the summer at the city of Paris. No accord was reached, but a valuable interchange of views was had, and the conference will next year be renewed.

ELECTRICAL EXPOSITION.

At the Electrical Exhibition and Congress, also held at Paris, this country was creditably represented by eminent specialists, who, in the absence of an appropriation, generously lent their efficient aid at the instance of the State Department. While our exhibitions in this almost distinctively American field of achievement have won several awards, I recommend that Congress provide for the repayment of the personal expenses incurred in the public interest by the honorary commissioners and delegates.

No new questions respecting the status of

OUR NATURALIZED CITIZENS IN GERMANY

have arisen during the year, and causes of complaint, especially in Alsace and Lorraine, have practically ceased through the liberal action of the Imperial Government in accepting our often expressed views on the subject. The application of the treaty of 1868 to the lately acquired Rhenish provinces has received very earnest attention. A definite and lasting agreement on this point is confidently expected. The participation of the descendants of Baron von Steuben in the Yorktown festivities, and their subsequent reception by their American kinsmen, strikingly evinced the ties of good will which unite the German people and our own. Our has been friendly. An agreement concluded in February last fixes a term for the labors for the Spanish and American Claims Commission. The Spanish Government has been requested to pay the late award of the Commission, and will, it is believed, accede to the request as promptly and courteously as on former occasions. By recent legislation onerous fines have been imposed upon American shipping in Spanish and colonial ports for slight irregularities in manifests. One case of hardship is specially worthy of attention. The bark Masonic, bound for Japan, entered Manilla in distress, and is there sought to be confiscated under the Spanish revenue laws for an alleged shortage in her transhipped cargo. Though efforts for her relief have thus far proved unavailing, it is expected that the whole matter will be adjusted in a friendly spirit.

INTERCOURSE WITH SPAIN

THE CZAR'S ASSASSINATION.

The Senate resolutions of condolence on the assassination of the Czar Alexander II. were appropriately communicated to the Russian Government, which in turn has expressed its sympathy in our late national bereavement. It is desirable that our cordial relations with Russia should be strengthened by proper engagements, assuring to peaceable Americans who visit the empire the consideration which is due to them as citizens of a friendly State. This is especially needful with respect to American Israelites, whose classification with the native Hebrew has evoked energetic remonstrances from this Government.

ITALY.

The consular agreement with Italy has been sanctioned and proclaimed, which puts at rest conflicts of jurisdiction in the case of crimes on shipboard. Several important international conferences have been held in Italy during the year. At the Geographical Congress of Venice, the Bonded Congress of Milan, and the Nice Congress of Turin, this country was represented by delegates from branches of the public service or by private citizens, duly accredited in an honorary capacity. It is hoped that Congress will give such prominence to the results of their participation as they may seem to deserve.

HOLLAND.

The abolition of all discriminating duties against Dutch colonial productions of the Dutch East Indies, as are imported hither from Holland, has been already considered by Congress. I trust that at the present session the matter may be favorably concluded.

TURKEY.

The insecurity of life and property in many parts of Turkey has given rise to correspondence with the Porte, looking particularly to the better protection of American missionaries in the empire. The condemned murderer of the eminent missionary, Dr. Justin W. Parsons, has not yet been executed, although this Government has repeatedly demanded his punishment.

SWITZERLAND.

The Swiss Government has solicited the good offices of our diplomatic and consular agents for the protection of its citizens in countries where it is not itself represented. This request has, within proper limits, been granted. Our agents in Switzerland have been instructed to protest against the conduct of the authorities of certain communes in permitting the emigration to this country of criminals, and to other objectionable persons. Several such persons, through the co-operation of the Commissioners of Emigration at New York, have been sent back by the steamers which brought them. A continuance of the course may prove a more effective remedy than diplomatic remonstrance.

THE DANUBIAN STATES.

Treaties of commerce and navigation and for the regulation of Consular privileges has been concluded with Roumania and Servia since their admission into the family of European States.

MEXICO.

As is natural with contiguous States having like institutions and like aims of advancement and development, the friendship of the United States and Mexico has been constantly maintained. The Government has lost no occasion of encouraging the Mexican Government to a beneficial realization of the mutual advantages which will result from more intimate commercial intercourse, and from the opening of the rich interior of Mexico to railway enterprise. I deem it important that means be provided to restrain the lawlessness so common on the frontier, and to suppress the forays of the reservation Indians on either side of the Rio Grande.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

The neighboring States of Central America have preserved internal peace, and their outward relations toward us have been those of intimate friendship. There are encouraging signs of their growing disposition to subordinate their local interests to those which are common to them by reason of their geographical relations. The boundary question between Guatemala and New Mexico has afforded this Government an opportunity to exercise its good offices for preventing a rupture between those States, and for procuring a peaceful solution of the question. I cherish a strong hope that in view of our relations of amity with both countries our friendly counsels will prevail.

The Costa Rica Government lately formed an engagement with Colombia for settling, by arbitration, the boundary question between those countries, providing that the part of the arbitrants should be offered successively to the King of the Belgians, the King of Spain and the President of the Argentine Confederation. The King of the Belgians has declined to act, but I am not as yet advised of the action of the King of Spain. As we have certain interests in the disputed territory which are protected by our treaty engagement with one of the parties, it is important that the arbitration should not without our consent affect our rights, and this Government has accordingly thought proper to make its views known to the parties to the agreement, and to intimate them to the Belgian Government.

THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT.

The questions growing out of the proposed inter-oceanic water way across the Isthmus of Panama are of grave national importance. This Government has not been unmindful of the solemn obligations imposed upon it by its compact of 1846 with Colombia as the independent and sovereign mistress of the territory crossed by the canal, and has sought to render them effective by fresh engagements with the Colombian republic, looking to their practical execution. The negotiations to this end, after they had reached what appeared to be a mutually-satisfactory solution here, were met in Colombia by a disavowal of the powers which its envoy had assumed, and by a proposal for renewed negotiations on a modified basis. Meanwhile this Government learned that Colombia had proposed to the European powers to join in a guarantee of the neutrality of the proposed Panama Council, a guarantee which would be in direct contravention of our obligations as the sole guarantee of the integrity of Colombian territory and of the neutrality of the canal itself. My lamented predecessor felt it his duty to place before the European powers the reasons which make the prior guarantee of the United States indispensable, and for which the interjection of any foreign guarantee might be regarded as a superfluous and unfriendly act.

THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

Foreseeing the probable reliance of the British Government on the provisions of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1850, as affording room for a share in the guarantees which the United States covenanted with Colombia four years before, I have not hesitated to supplement the action of my predecessor by proposing to her Majesty's Government the modification of that instrument, and the abrogation of such clauses thereof as do not comport with obligations of the United States toward Colombia, or with the vital needs of the two friendly parties to the compact.

CHILI AND PERU.

This Government sees with great concern the continuance of hostile relations between Chili, Bolivia and Peru. An early peace between these republics is much to be desired, not only that they may themselves be spared further misery and bloodshed, but because their continued antagonism threatens consequences which are in my judgment dangerous to the interests of republican government on this continent, and calculated to destroy the best elements of our free and peaceful civilization. As in the present excited condition of popular feeling in those countries there has been serious misapprehensions of the position of the United States, and as separate diplomatic intercourse with each through independent Ministers is sometimes subject, owing to the want of prompt reciprocal communication, to temporary misunderstanding, I have deemed it judicious at the present time to send a special envoy accredited to all and each of them, furnished with general instructions, which will, I trust, enable him to bring these powers into friendly relations.

THE GENEVA AWARD.

At its last extra session the Senate called for the text of the Geneva Convention for the relief of the wounded in war. I trust this action foreshadows such interest in the subject as will result in the adhesion of the United States to that humane and commendable engagement.

I regret that the commercial interests between

THE UNITED STATES AND BRAZIL,

from which great advantages were hoped a year ago, have suffered from the withdrawal of the American line of communication between Brazilian ports and our own.

Through the efforts of our Minister Resident at Buenos Ayres and the United States Minister at Santiago, a treaty has been concluded between disposing of the long-pending Patagonian boundary question. It is a matter of congratulation that our Government has been afforded the opportunity of successfully exerting its good influence for the prevention of disagreements between the republics of the American continent.

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC AND CHILI,

VENEZUELA.

The Government of Venezuela maintains its attitude of warm friendship, and continues with great regularity its payment of the monthly quota of the diplomatic debt. Without suggesting the direction in which Congress should act, I ask attention to the pending questions affecting the distribution of the sums thus far received. The relations between Venezuela and France, growing out of the same debt, have been for some time past in an unsatisfactory state, and this Government, as the neighbor of one of the largest creditors of Venezuela, has interposed itself with the French Government with the view of producing a friendly and honorable adjustment.

I am glad to inform you that

THE TREATIES LATELY NEGOTIATED WITH CHINA

have been duly ratified on both sides and the exchange made at Peking. Legislation is necessary to carry its provisions into effect. The prompt and friendly spirit with which the Chinese Government, at the request of the United States, conceded the modification of existing treaties should secure careful regard for the interests and susceptibilities of that Government in the reenactment of any laws relating to Chinese immigration. Those classes of treaties which forbid the participation of citizens or vessels of the United States in the opium trade will doubtless receive your approval, and they will attest the sincere interest which our people and Government have in the commendable efforts of the Chinese Government to put a stop to this demoralizing and destructive traffic. In relation both to China and Japan, some changes are desirable in our present system of consular jurisdiction. I hope at some future time to lay before you a scheme for its improvement in the entire East.

JAPAN.

The intimacy between our country and Japan, the most advanced of the Eastern nations, continues to be cordial. I am advised that the Emperor contemplates the establishment of a constitutional Government, and that he has already summoned a parliamentary congress for the purpose of effecting a change. Such a remarkable step toward complete assimilation with Western systems, cannot fail to bring Japan into closer and more beneficial relationship with ourselves, as the chief Pacific power.

A question has arisen in relation to the exercise in that country of the conferred upon our Ministers and Consuls. The indictment, trial and conviction in the Consular Court at Yokohama, of John Ross, a merchant seaman on board an American vessel, have made it necessary for the Government to institute a careful examination, and the nature and methods of this jurisdiction. It appears that Ross was regularly shipped under the flag of the United States, but was by birth a British subject. My predecessor felt it his duty to maintain the position that during his service as a regularly-shipped seaman on board an American merchant vessel, Ross was subject to the laws of the service and to the jurisdiction of the United States Consular authorities.

JUDICIAL FUNCTIONS

I renew the recommendation which has heretofore been urged by the Executive upon the attention of Congress, that after the reduction of such amount as may be found due to American citizens, the balance of heretofore obtained from China and Japan, and which are now in the hands of the State Department, be returned to the Governments of those countries.

THE INDEMNITY FUNDS

The King of

HAWAII,

in the course of his homeward return after a journey around the world, has lately visited this country. While our relations with that Kingdom are friendly, this Government has viewed with concern the efforts to seek replenishment of the diminishing population of the islands from outward sources to a degree which may impair the native sovereignty and independence in which the United States was among the first to testify a lively interest.

OTHER NATIONS.

Relations of unimpaired amity have been maintained throughout the year with the respective Governments of Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Hayti, Paraguay and Uruguay, Portugal and Sweden and Norway, and this may also be said of Greece and Ecuador. Although our relations with those States have for some years been severed by the withdrawal of appropriations for diplomatic representatives at Athens and Quito, it seems expedient to restore those missions, even on a reduced scale, and I decidedly recommend such a course with regard to Ecuador, which is likely, in the near future, to play an important part among the nations of the Southern Pacific waters.

The State Department still continues to publish to the country the received from its officers abroad. The success of this course warrants its continuance and such appropriation as may be required to meet the rapidly increasing demand for those publications. With special reference to the Atlanta Cotton Exposition the October number of the reports was devoted to a valuable collection of papers on the cotton-goods trade of the world.

TRADE AND MANUFACTURING REPORTS

THE INTERNATIONAL SANITARY CONFERENCE,

for which, in 1879, Congress made provision, assembled in this city early in January last, and the sessions were prolonged until March. Although it reached no specific conclusion affecting the future action of the participant powers, the interchange of views proved to be most valuable. The full protocols of the sessions have been already presented to the Senate.

As pertinent to this general subject I call your attention to the operations of the established by act of Congress, approved March 3, A. D. 1879. Its sphere of duty was enlarged by the act of June 2, in the same year. By the last-named act the board was required to institute such measures as might be deemed necessary for preventing the introduction of contagious or infectious diseases from foreign countries into the United States, or from one State into another. The execution of the rules and regulations prepared by the board and approved by my predecessor has done much to arrest the progress of epidemic disease, and has thus rendered substantial service to the nation.

NATIONAL BOARD OF HEALTH,

THE INTERNATIONAL SANITARY CONFERENCE

to which I have referred adopted a form of a bill of health to be used by all vessels seeking to enter the ports of the countries whose representatives participated in its deliberations. The form has been preserved by the National Board of Health, and incorporated with its rules and regulations, which have been approved by me in pursuance of law. The health of the people is of supreme importance. All measures looking to their preservation against the spread of contagious diseases and to the increase of our sanitary knowledge for such purposes, deserves the attention of Congress. These international rules differ but slightly from our own. They have been adopted by the Navy Department for the governance of the war-ships of the United States on the high seas and in foreign waters, and through the action of the State Department in disseminating the rules, and in acquainting the shipmasters with the option of conforming to them without the jurisdictional waters of the United States. They are now very generally known and obeyed.

THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

represents, in detail, a highly satisfactory exhibit of the state of the finances and the condition of the various branches of the public service administered by that department. The ordinary revenues from all sources for the fiscal year ending June 10, 1881, were from customs, $198,159,676.02; from internal revenue, $135,264,385.51; from public lands, $222,186,317; from tax on circulation and deposits of national banks, $8,116,115.72; from repayment of interest by Pacific railway companies, $810,833.80; from sinking fund for Pacific railway companies, $805,180.54; from customs, fees, fines penalties, etc., $1,225,514.86; from fees, consular letters, patents and lands, $22,244,984.99; for the military establishment, including river and harbor improvements and arsenals, $40,466,460.55; for the naval establishment, including vessels, machinery and improvements at navy yards, $15,686,671.66; for miscellaneous expenditures, including public buildings, lighthouses and collecting the revenue, $41,837,280.57; for expenditures on account of the District of Columbia, $3,543,912.03; for interest on the public debt, $82,508,741.18; for premium on bonds purchased, $1,061,248.78. Total ordinary expenditures, $260,712,887.59, leaving a surplus of revenue of $100,069,404.98, which was applied as follows: To the redemption of bonds for the sinking fund, $74,371,200; fractional currency for the sinking fund, $109,001.05; loan of February, 1861, $7,418,000; 10-40's of 1864, $2,016,150; 5-20's of 1862, $18,300; 5-20's of 1864, $3,400; 5-20's of 1865, $37,300; consols of 1865, $143,150,000; consols of 1867, $95,725,000; consols of 1868, $237,400; loan indemnity stock, $400,000; old demand compound interest and other notes, $18,330, and to the increase of cash in the treasury, $14,636,623.93; total $100,069,404.98.

THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE SINKING FUND

for the year amounted to $90,786,064.02, which sum included a balance of $49,817,128.78 not provided for during the previous fiscal year. The sum of $74,480,201.05 was applied to this fund, which left a deficit of $16,305,873.47.

REVENUES.

The increase of the revenues for 1881 over those of the previous year was $29,352,901.10. It is estimated that the receipts during the present fiscal year will reach $400,000,000 and the expenditures $270,000,000, leaving a surplus of $130,000,000 applicable to the sinking fund and the redemption of the public debt.

SILVER CERTIFICATES.

I approve the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury that provision be made for the early retirement of silver certificates, and that the act requiring their issue be repealed. They were issued in pursuance of the policy of the Government to maintain silver at near the gold standard, and were accordingly receivable for all customs, taxes and public dues. About $66,000,000 of them are now outstanding. They form an unnecessary addition to the paper currency, a sufficient amount of which may be readily supplied by the national banks. In accordance with the act of Feb. 28, 1878, the Treasury Department has monthly caused at least $2,000,000 in value of silver bullion to be coined into standard silver dollars; 102,000,000 of these dollars have been coined, while only about 32,000,000 are in circulation, for the reasons which he specifies.

COINAGE.

I concur in the Secretary's recommendation that the provision for coinage of a fixed amount each month be repealed, and that hereafter only so much be coined as shall be necessary to supply the demand.

GOLD CERTIFICATES.

The Secretary advises that the issue of gold certificates should not for the present be resumed, and suggests that the national banks may properly be forbidden by law to retire their currency except upon reasonable notice of their intention so to do. Such legislation would seem to be justified by the recent action of certain banks on the occasion referred to in the Secretary's report.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

Of the fifteen millions fractional currency still outstanding only about eighty thousand has been redeemed the past year. The suggestion that the amount may properly be dropped from future statements of the public debt seems worthy of approval; so also does the suggestion of the Secretary as to the advisability of relieving the calendar of the United States courts in the Southern District of New York by the transfer to another tribunal of the numerous suits pending there against collectors.

THE REVENUE FROM CUSTOMS

for the past fiscal year was $19,159,676.02, an increase of $11,637,611.42 over that of the preceding year; $38,098,562.39 of this amount was collected at the port of New York, leaving $80,251,113.63 as the amount collected at all the other ports of the country. Of this sum $47,977,137.62 was collected on sugar, melado and molasses; $27,280,624.78 on wool and its manufactures; $21,462,534.34 on iron and steel and manufactures thereof, $19,038,665 on manufactures of silk; $10,825,115.21 on manufactures of cotton, and $6,469,643.04 on wines and spirits, making the total revenue from these sources $133,058,720.81. The expenses of collection for the past year were $6,410,345.20, an increase over the preceding year of $387,410.04. Notwithstanding the increase in revenue from customs over the preceding year, the gross value of the imports, including free goods, decreased over $25,000,000. The marked decrease was in the value of unmanufactured wool, $14,023,682, and in that of scrap and pig iron, $12,810,671. The value of imports (sugar), on the other hand, showed an increase of $7,457,474, of steel rails $4,345,521, of barley $2,154,204, and of steel in bars, ingots, etc., $630,046.

Compared with the previous year, there was an increase of $676,738,688 in the value of exports of merchandise, and a decrease of $25,590,118 in the value of imports. The annual average of increase of imports of merchandise over exports thereof for ten years previous to June 30, 1873, was $104,805,922, but for the last six years there has been an excess of exports over imports of merchandise amounting to $1,180,668,105, an annual average of $196,668,017. The specie value of the exports of domestic merchandise was $376,616,473 in 1870, and $883,975,947 in 1878, an increase of $307,309,474, or 135 per cent. The value of imports was $435,958,408 in 1870, and $642,664,627 in 1881—an increase of $206,782,20, or 47 per cent, during each year. From 1862 to 1879, inclusive, the exports for specie exceeded their imports. The largest excess of such exports over imports was reached during the year 1864, when it amounted to $92,284,929, but during the year ending June 30, 1860, the imports of coin and bullion exceeded the exports by $75,891,391, and during the last fiscal year the excess of imports over exports was $91,168,650.

In the last annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury the attention of Congress was called to the fact that $469,651,050 in 5 per centum bonds and $203,573,750 in 6 per centum bonds would become redeemable during the year and Congress was asked to authorize the of these bonds at a lower rate of interest. The bill for such refunding having failed to become a law, the Secretary of the Treasury in April last notified the holders of the $195,690,400 6-per-centum bonds then outstanding that the bonds would be paid at par on the 1st day of July following, or that they might be "continued" at the pleasure of the Government to bear interest at the rate of 3½ percentum per annum. Under this notice $178,055,150 of the 6-per-centum bonds were continued at the lower rate, and $17,635,250 were redeemed. In the month of May a like notice was given respecting the redemption or continuance of the $439,841,350 of 5-per-centum bonds then outstanding, and of these $401,404,900 were continued at 3½ per centum per annum, and $38,336,456 redeemed. The 6-per-centum bonds of the loan of Feb. 8, 1861, and of the Oregon war debt, amounting together to $14,125,800, having matured during the year, the Secretary of the Treasury gave notice of his intention to redeem the same, and such as have been presented has been paid from the surplus revenue. There have also been redeemed at par $16,179,100 of the 3½ per centum "continued" bonds, making a total of bonds redeemed, or which have ceased to bear interest.

REFUNDING

THE REDUCTION OF THE ANNUAL INTEREST

on the public debt through these transactions is as follows: By reduction of interest to 3½ per cent. $1,047,395,227, by redemption of bonds $635,224,000; total, $1,682,629,225. The 3½ per centum bonds being payable at the pleasure of the Government, are available for the investment of surplus revenue without the payment of premiums.

Unless these bonds can be funded at a much lower rate of interest than they now bear, I agree with the Secretary of the Treasury that no legislation respecting them is desirable. It is a matter for congratulation that the business of the country has been so prosperous during the past year as to yield by taxation a large surplus of income to the Government. If the revenue laws remain unchanged, this surplus must year by year increase on account of the reduction of the public debt and its burden of interest, and because of the rapid increase of our population. In 1860, just prior to the institution of our internal-revenue system, our population but slightly exceeded 30,000,000. By the census of 1880 it is now found to exceed 50,000,000. It is estimated that even if the annual receipts and expenditures should continue as at present the entire debt could be paid in ten years. In view, however, of the heavy load of taxation which our people have borne, we may well consider whether it is not the part of wisdom to reduce the revenue, even if we delay a little the payment of the debt.

It seems to me that the time has arrived when the people may justly demand some relief from their present enormous burden, and that by due economy in the various branches of the public service this may readily be afforded. I therefore concur with the Secretary in recommending except those upon tobacco in its various forms, and upon distilled spirits and fermented liquors, and except also the special tax upon the manufacturers of and dealers in such articles. The intention of the latter tax is desirable as affording the officers of the Government a proper supervision of these articles for the prevention of fraud. I agree with the Secretary of the Treasury that the law imposing a stamp tax on matches, proprietary articles, playing cards, checks and drafts may, with propriety, be repealed, and the law also by which banks and bankers are assessed upon their capital and deposits. There seems to be a general sentiment in favor of this course. In the present condition of our revenues the tax upon the deposits is especially unjust. It was never imposed in this country until it was demanded by the necessities of war, was never exacted, I believe, in any other country, even in its greatest exigencies. Bankers are required to secure their circulation by pledging with the Treasurer of the United States bonds of the general Government. The interest upon these bonds, which at the time when the tax was imposed was 6 per cent., is now in most instances 3½ per cent., and besides, the entire circulation was originally limited by law, and no increase was allowable. When the existing banks had practically a monopoly of the business there was force in the suggestion that for the franchise to the favored grantees the Government might very properly exact a tax on circulation, but for years the system has been free and the amount of circulation regulated by the public demand. The retention of this tax has been suggested as a means of reimbursing the Government for the expense of printing and furnishing the circulating notes. If the tax should be repealed it would certainly be proper to require the national banks to pay the amount of such expense to the Comptroller of the Currency.

THE ABOLITION OF ALL INTERNAL REVENUE TAXES,

It is perhaps doubtful whether the immediate reduction of the rate of

TAXATION UPON LIQUORS AND TOBACCO

is advisable, in view of the drain upon the treasury which must attend the payment of arrears of pensions. A comparison, however, of the amount of taxes collected under the varying rates of taxation which have at different times prevailed suggests the intimation that some reduction may soon be made without diminution of the revenue.

THE TARIFF LAWS

also need revision, but that a due regard may be paid to the conflicting interests of our citizens, important changes should be made with caution. If a careful revision cannot be made at this session, a commission, such as was lately approved by the Senate and is now recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury, would doubtless lighten the labors of Congress whenever this subject shall be brought to its consideration.

SECRETARY OF WAR.

The accompanying report of the Secretary of War will make known the operations of that department for the past year. He suggests measures for promoting the efficiency of the army by adding to the number of its officers, and recommends the legislation necessary to increase the number of enlisted men to 30,000, the maximum allowed by law. This he deems necessary to maintain quietness on our ever-shifting frontier, to preserve peace and suppress disorder and marauding in the new settlements; to protect settlers and their property against Indians, and Indians against the encroachments of intruders; and to enable peaceable immigrants to establish homes in the most remote parts of our country. The army is now necessarily scattered over such a vast extent of territory, that whenever an outbreak occurs, reinforcements must be hurried from many quarters over great distances, and always at heavy cost for transportation of men, horses, wagons and supplies. I concur in the recommendation of the Secretary for increasing the army to the strength of 30,000 enlisted men. It appears by the Secretary's report that in the absence of disturbances on the frontier, the troops have been actively employed in collecting Indians hitherto hostile and locating them on their proper reservations; that Sitting Bull and his adherents are now prisoners at Fort Randall; that the Utes have been moved to their new reservation in Utah; that during the recent outbreak of the Apaches it was necessary to reinforce the garrison in Arizona by troops withdrawn from New Mexico, and that some Apaches are now held prisoners for trial, while some have escaped and the majority of the tribe are now on their reservations. There is need of legislation to prevent intrusion upon the lands set apart for the Indians. A large military force, at great expense, is required to patrol the boundary line between Kansas and the Indian Territory. The only punishment that at present can be inflicted is the forcible removal of the intruders and the imposition of a pecuniary fine which, in most cases, it is impossible to collect. There should be a penalty by imprisonment in such cases.

SIGNAL SERVICE.

The separate organization of the Signal Service is used by the Secretary of War, and a full statement of the advantages of such permanent organization is presented in the report of the Chief Signal Officer. A detailed account of the useful work performed by the Signal Corps and the Weather Bureau are also given in that report.

THE INDIAN BUREAU.

I ask your attention to the statements of the Secretary of War regarding the requisitions frequently made by the Indian Bureau upon the Subsistence Department of the army for the casual support of bands or tribes of Indians for which appropriation are exhausted. The War Department should not be left, by reason of inadequate provision for the Indian Bureau, to contribute for the maintenance of the Indians.

COAST DEFENSES.

The report of the Chief of Engineers furnishes a detailed account of the operations for the improvement of rivers and harbors. I commend to your attention the suggestions contained in this report in regard to the condition of our fortifications, especially our coast defenses, and recommend an increase of the strength of the engineer battalion, by which the efficiency of our torpedo system would be improved.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT.

I also call your attention to the remarks upon the improvement of the South Pass of the Mississippi river, the proposed free bridge at Georgetown over the Potomac river, the importance of completing at an early day the north wing of the War Department building, and other recommendations of the Secretary of War which appear in his report. The actual expenditures of this department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, were $42,122,201.39. The appropriations for the year 1882 were $44,889,725.42. The estimates for 1883 are $44,541,276.91.

THE NAVY.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy exhibits the condition of that branch of the service, and presents valuable suggestions for its improvement. I call your especial attention also to the appended report of the Advisory Board which he convened to devise suitable measures for increasing the efficiency of the navy, and particularly to report as to the character and number of vessels necessary to place it upon a footing commensurate with the necessities of the Government. I cannot too strongly urge upon you my conviction that every consideration of national safety, economy and honor imperatively demands a thorough rehabilitation of our navy, with a just appreciation of the fact that compliance with the suggestion of the head of that department and of the Advisory Board, must involve a large expenditure of the public moneys. I earnestly recommend such appropriation as will accomplish an end which seems to be so desirable. Nothing can be more inconsistent with true public economy than the withholding of the means necessary to accomplish the objects intrusted by the constitution to the National Legislature. One of these objects, and one which is of paramount importance, is declared by our fundamental law to be the provision for the "common defense." Surely nothing is more essential to the defense of the United States and of all our people than the efficiency of our navy.

"IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR."

We have for many years maintained with foreign governments the relations of honorable peace, and that such relations may be permanent is desired by every patriotic citizen of the republic. But if we read the teachings of history we shall not forget that in the life of every nation emergencies may arise when a resort to arms can alone save it from dishonor. No danger from abroad now threatens this people, nor have we any cause to distrust the friendly professions of other governments. But for avoiding as well as for repelling dangers that may threaten in future we must be prepared to face any policy which we think wise to adopt. We must be ready to defend our harbors against aggression, to protect, by the distribution of our ships of war over the highways of commerce, the varied interests of our foreign trade, and the persons and property of our citizens abroad; to maintain everywhere the honor of our flag and the distinguished position which we may rightfully claim among the nations of the world.

POSTAL MATTERS.

The report of the Postmaster General is a gratifying exhibit of the growth and efficiency of the postal service. The receipts from postage and other ordinary sources during the past fiscal year were $36,489,816.58. The receipts from the money-order business were $295,581.39, making a total of $36,785,397.97. The expenditure for the fiscal year was $39,251,736.46. The deficit supplied out of the general treasury was $2,481,129.35, or 63 per cent. of the amount. The receipts were $3,469,918.63 in excess of those of the previous year, and $4,575,397.97 in excess of the estimate made two years ago, before the present year of business prosperity had fairly begun.

The whole number of letters mailed in this country in the last fiscal year exceeded 1,000,000,000.

The registry system is reported to be in excellent condition, having been remodeled during the past four years with good results. The amounts of registration fees collected during the last fiscal year were $712,882.20—an increase over the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, of $345,443.40. The entire number of letters and packages registered during the year was 8,338,919, of which only 2,061 were destroyed or lost in transit. The operations of the money-order system are multiplying yearly, under the impulse of immigration, of the rapid development of the newer States and Territories, and the consequent demand for additional means of inter-communication and exchange. During the past year 338 additional money-order offices have been established, making a total of 5,499 in operation at the date of this report. During the year the domestic money orders aggregated in value $10,507,576,935. A modification of the system is suggested reducing the fees for money orders not exceeding $5 from 10 cents to 5 cents, and making the maximum limit $100 in place of $50. Legislation for the disposition of unclaimed money orders in the possession of the Post Office Department is recommended, in view of the fact that their total value exceeds $1,000,000.

The attention of Congress is again pointed to the subject of establishing a system of savings depositories in connection with the Post Office Department.

THE STATISTICS OF MAIL TRANSPORTATION

show that during the past year railroad routes have been increased in length 6,249 miles, and in cost $111,362, while steamboat routes have been decreased in length 2,182 miles, and in cost $134,054. The so-called star routes have been decreased in length 3,949 miles, and in cost $364,144. Nearly all of the more expensive routes have been superseded by railroad service. The cost of the star service must, therefore, rapidly decrease in the Western States and Territories.

The Postmaster General, however, calls attention to the constantly-increasing cost of the Railway Mail Service as a serious difficulty in the way of making the department self-sustaining.

Our postal intercourse with foreign countries has kept pace with the growth of the domestic service. Within the past year several countries and colonies have declared their adhesion to the Postal Union. It now includes all those which have an organized postal service, except Bolivia, Costa Rica, New Zealand and the British colonies in Australia.

As has been already stated, great reductions have been made in the expense of

THE STAR-ROUTE SERVICE.

The investigations of the Department of Justice and Postoffice Department have resulted in the presentation of indictments against persons formerly connected with that service, accusing them of offences against the United States. I have enjoined upon the officials who are charged with the conduct of the cases on the part of the Government and upon the eminent counsel, who before my accession to the Presidency, were called to their assistance, the duty of prosecuting with the utmost rigor of the law all persons who may be found chargeable with frauds upon the postal service.

The Acting Attorney General calls attention to the necessity of modifying the present system of a necessity due to the large increase of business, especially in the Supreme Court. Litigation in our Federal tribunals became greatly expanded after the close of the late war. So long as that expansion might be attributable to the abnormal condition in which the community found itself immediately after the return of peace, prudence required that no change be made in the constitution of our judicial tribunals. But it has now become apparent that an immense increase of litigation has directly resulted from the wonderful growth or development of the country. There is no ground for belief that the business of the United States courts will ever be less in volume than at present. Indeed, that it is likely to be much greater is generally recognized by the bench and bar. In view of the fact that Congress has already given much consideration to this subject, I make no suggestion as to detail, but express the hope that your deliberations may result in such legislation as will give early relief to our overburdened court.

COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES,

ARIZONA.

The Acting Attorney General also calls attention to the disturbance of the public tranquility during the past year in the Territory of Arizona. A band of armed desperadoes known as "cow-boys," probably numbering from 50 to 100 men, have been engaged for months in committing acts of lawlessness and brutality which the local authorities have been unable to repress. The depredations of these "cow-boys" have also been extended into Mexico, which the marauders reach from the Arizona frontier. With every disposition to meet the exigencies of the case, I am embarrassed by lack of authority to deal with them effectually. The punishment of crimes committed within Arizona, should, ordinarily, of course, be left to the Territorial authorities. But it is worthy of consideration whether acts which necessarily tend to embroil the United States with neighboring governments should not be declared crimes against the United States. Some of the incursions alluded to may perhaps be within the scope of the law, Revised Statutes, section 5,286, forbidding "Military expeditions or enterprises" against friendly states. But in view of the speedy assembling of your body, I have preferred to await such legislation as in your wisdom the occasion may seem to demand. It may, perhaps, be thought proper to provide that the setting on foot within our own territory of brigandage and armed marauding expeditions against friendly nations and their citizens shall be punished as an offense against the United States. I will add that, in the event of a request from the Territorial Government for protection by the United States against "domestic violence," this Government would be powerless to render assistance. The act of 1795, chapter 36, passed at the time when Territorial Governments received little attention from Congress, enforced this duty of the United States only as to State Governments; but the act of 1807, chapter 39, applied also to Territories. This law seems to have remained in force until the revision of the statutes, when provision for the Territories was dropped. I am not advised whether this alteration was intentional or accidental, but as it seems to me that the Territories should be offered the protection which is accorded to States by the constitution, I suggest legislation to that end.

It seems to me that whatever views may prevail as to the policy of recent legislation by which the army has ceased to be a part of posse comitatus, an exception might well be made for permitting the military to assist the civil territorial authorities in enforcing the laws of the United States. This use of the army would not seem to be within the alleged evil against which that legislation was aimed, from sparseness of population and other circumstances. It is often quite impracticable to summon a posse in places where officers of justice require assistance, and where a military force is within easy reach.

THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR,

with accompanying documents, presents an elaborate account of the business of that department. A summary of it would be too extended for this place. I ask your careful attention to the report itself. Prominent among the matters which challenge the attention of Congress at its present session is

THE MANAGEMENT OF OUR INDIAN AFFAIRS.

While this question has been a cause of trouble and embarrassment from the infancy of the Government, it is but recently that any effort has been made for its solution, at once serious, determined, consistent and promising success. It has been easier to resort to convenient makeshifts for tiding over the temporary difficulties, than to grapple with the great permanent problem, and accordingly the easier course has almost invariably been pursued. It was natural at a time when the national territory seemed almost illimitable, and contained many millions of acres far south of the bounds of civilized settlement, that a policy should have been initiated which, more than aught else, has been the fruitful source of our Indian complications. I refer, of course, to the policy of dealing with the various Indian tribes as separate nationalities; of regulating them by treaty stipulations to the occupancy of immense reservations in the West, and of encouraging them to live undisturbed, by any earnest and well-directed efforts, and to bring them under the influences of civilization. The unsatisfactory results which have sprung from this policy are becoming apparent to all. As the white settlements have crowded the borders of the reservations, the Indians, sometimes contentedly and sometimes against their will, have been transferred to other hunting grounds, from which they have been again dislodged whenever their new-found homes have been desired by the adventurous settlers. These removals, and the frontier collisions by which they have often been preceded, have led to frequent and disastrous conflicts between the races. It is profitless to discuss here which of them has been chiefly responsible for the disturbances whose recital occupies so large a space upon the pages of our history. We have to deal with the appalling fact that though thousands of lives have been sacrificed and hundreds of millions of dollars expended in the attempt to solve the Indian problem, it had until the last few years seemed scarcely nearer a solution than it was half a century ago. But the Government has of late been cautiously but steadily feeling its way to the adoption of a policy which has already produced gratifying results, and which, in my judgment, is likely, if Congress and the Executive accord in its support, to relieve us ere long from the difficulties which have hitherto beset us.

For the success of the efforts now making to introduce among the Indians the customs and pursuits of civilized life, and gradually to absorb them into the mass of our citizens, sharing their rights and holden to their responsibilities, there is imperative need for legislative action. My suggestions in that respect will be chiefly such as have been already called to the attention of Congress, and have received, to some extent, its consideration. First, I recommend the passage of an act making the laws of the various States and Territories applicable to the Indian reservations within their borders and extending the laws of the State of Arkansas to the portion of the Indian Territory not occupied by the five civilized tribes. The Indian should receive

THE PROTECTION OF THE LAW.

He should be allowed to maintain in court his rights of person and property. He has repeatedly begged for this privilege. Its exercise would be very valuable to him in his progress toward civilization. Second, of even greater importance, is a measure which has been frequently recommended by my predecessors in office, and in furtherance of which several bills have been from time to time introduced in both houses of Congress. The enactment of a general law permitting the allotment in severalty, to such Indians at least as desire it, of a reasonable quantity of land, secured to to them by patent, and for their own protection made inalienable for twenty or twenty-five years, is demanded for their present welfare and their permanent advancement. In return for such considerate action on the part of the Government, there is reason to believe that the Indians in large numbers would be persuaded to sever their tribal relations; and to engage at once in agricultural pursuits, and that it is now for their best interests to conform their manner of life to the new order of things. By no greater inducement than the insurance of permanent title to the soil can they be led to engage in the occupation of tilling. The well-attested reports of their increasing interest in husbandry justify the hope and belief that the enactment of such a statute as I recommend would be at once attended with gratifying results. A resort to the allotment system would have a direct and powerful influence in dissolving the tribal bond, which is a prominent feature of savage life, and which tends so strongly to perpetuate it there.

I advise a liberal appropriation for the support of Indian schools, because of my confident belief that such a course is consistent with the wisest economy even among the most uncultured Indian tribes. There is reported to be a general and urgent desire on the part of the chiefs and the older members for the education of their children. It is unfortunate, in view of this fact, that during the past year the means which have been at the command of the Interior Department, for the purpose of Indian instruction, have proved to be utterly inadequate. The success of the schools which are in operation at Hampton, Carlisle and Forest Grove should not only encourage a more generous provision for the support of these institutions, but should prompt the establishment of others of a similar character. They are doubtless more potent for good than the day schools upon the reservation, as the pupils are altogether separated from the surroundings of savage life and brought into constant contact with civilization. There are many other phases of this subject which are of great interest but which cannot be included within the becoming limits of this communication. They are discussed ably in the reports of the Secretary of the Interior and of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

For many years the Executive, in his annual message to Congress, has urged the necessity for stringent legislation for in the Territories, especially in Utah. The existing statute for the punishment of this odious crime, so revolting to the moral and religious sense of Christianity, has been persistently and contemptuously violated ever since its enactment. Indeed, in spite of commendable efforts on the part of the authorities who represent the United States in that Territory, the law has, in very rare instances, been enforced, and, for a cause to which reference will presently be made, is practically a dead letter. The fact that adherents of the Mormon church, which rests upon polygamy as its corner-stone, have recently been peopling in large numbers Idaho, Arizona, and other of our Western Territories, is well calculated to excite

THE SUPPRESSION OF POLYGAMY

THE LIVELIEST INTEREST AND APPREHENSION.

It imposes upon Congress and the Executive the duty of opposing to this barbarous system all the power which under the constitution and law they can wield for its destruction. Reference has been already made to the obstructions which the United States officers have encountered in their efforts to punish the violations of the law. Prominent among the obstacles is the difficulty of procuring legal evidence sufficient to warrant a conviction, even in the case of the most notorious offenders.

Your attention is called to the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States explaining its judgment of reversal in the case of Miles, who had been convicted of bigamy in Utah. The court refers to the fact that the secrecy attending the celebration of marriages in that Territory makes the suppression of that part of polygamy very difficult, and the propriety is suggested of modifying that law of evidence which now makes a wife incompetent to testify against her husband. This suggestion is approved. I recommend also the passage of an act providing that in the Territories of these United States the fact that a woman has been married to a person charged with bigamy shall not disqualify her as a witness upon his trial for that offense. I further recommend legislation by which any person solemnizing a marriage in any of the Territories shall be required, under stringent penalties for neglect or refusal, to file a certificate of such marriage in the Supreme Court of the Territory, unless Congress shall make or devise other practicable measures for obviating the difficulties which have hitherto attended the efforts to suppress this iniquity. I assure you of my determined purpose to co-operate with you in any lawful and discreet measures which may be proposed to that end. Although our system of government does not contemplate that the nation should provide or support a system for the education of our people, no measures calculated to provide that general intelligence and virtue upon which the perpetuity of our institutions so greatly depend have ever been regarded with indifference by either Congress or the Executive. A very large portion of the public domain has been, from time to time, devoted to the promotion of the cause of education. There is now a special reason why, by setting apart the proceeds of the sales of public lands, or by some other means, the Government should aid the work of education. Many who now exercise the right of suffrage are unable to read the ballot which they cast. Upon many who had just emerged from a condition of slavery were suddenly devolved the responsibilities of citizenship in that portion of the country most impoverished by war. I have been pleased to learn from the report of the Commissioner of Education that there has been lately a commendable increase of interest and effort for their instruction, but all that can be done by local legislation and private generosity should be supplemented by such aid as can be constitutionally afforded by the National Government. I would suggest that if any fund be dedicated to this purpose, it may be wisely distributed in the different States according to the ratio of illiteracy, as by this means those locations which are most in need of such assistance will reap the especial benefits.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

exhibits results of experiments in which that department has been engaged during the past year, and makes important suggestions in reference to the agricultural development of the country. The steady increase of our population, and the consequent addition to the number of those engaged in the pursuit of husbandry, are giving to this department a growing dignity and importance. The Commissioner's suggestions touching its capacity for greater usefulness deserve attention, as it more and more commends itself to the interest which it was created to promote.

It appears from

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS

that since 1860 789,063 original pension claims have been filed, 450,949 of these have been allowed and inscribed on the pension roll, 72,539 have been rejected and abandoned, being 13 per cent. of the whole number of claims settled. There are now pending for settlement 265,575 original pension claims, 22,704 of which were filed prior to July 1, 1880. These, when allowed, will involve the payment of arrears from the date of the discharge in the case of an invalid, and from the date of death or termination of a prior right in all other cases. From all the data obtainable it is estimated that 15 per cent. of the claims now pending will be rejected or abandoned. This would show the probable rejection of 34,040 cases, and the probable admission of about 193,000 claims, all of which involve the payment of arrears of pensions. With the present force employed, the number of adjudications remaining the same, and no new business intervening, this number of claims (193,000) could be acted upon in and, taking Jan. 1, 1881, as a near period from which to estimate in each case an average amount of arrears, it is found that every case allowed would require for the first payment upon it the sum of $1,350. Multiplying this amount by the whole number of probable admissions gives $250,000,000 as the sum required for first payments. This represents the sum which must be paid upon claims which were filed before July 1, 1880, and are now pending and entitled to the benefits of Arrears act. From this amount ($250,000,000) may be deducted from ten to fifteen millions for cases when, the claimant dying, there is no person who under the law would be entitled to succeed to the pension, leaving $235,000,000 as the probable amount to be paid. In these estimates no account has been taken of the 38,500 cases filed since June 30, 1880, and now pending, which must receive attention, is current business, but which do not involve payment of any arrears beyond the date of filing the claim. Of this number it is now estimated that 86 per cent. will be allowed, as has been stated. With the present force of the Pension Bureau, 675 clerks, it is estimated that it will take six years to dispose of the claims now pending. It is stated by the Commissioner of Pensions that if an addition of 250 clerks (increasing the adjudicating force rather than the mechanical), double the amount of work could be accomplished, so that these cases could be acted upon within three years. Aside from the consideration of justice which may be urged for a speedy settlement of the claims now on the files of the Pension Office, it is no less important on the score of economy, inasmuch as fully one-third of the clerical force of the office is now wholly occupied in giving attention to correspondence with thousands of claimants whose cases have been on the files for the past eighteen years. The fact that a sum so enormous may be expended by the Government to meet the demands for arrears of pensions is an admonition to Congress and the Executive to give cautious consideration to any similar project in the future. The great temptation to the presentation of fictitious claims afforded by the fact that the average sum obtained upon each application is $1,300, leads me to suggest the propriety of making some special appropriation for the prevention of fraud.

A PERIOD OF SIX YEARS,

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

I advise appropriations for such internal improvements as the wisdom of Congress may seem to be of public importance. The necessity of improving the navigation of the Mississippi river justifies a special allusion to that subject. I suggest the adoption of some measure for removal of obstructions which now impede the navigation of that great channel of commerce.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

In my letter accepting the nomination for the Vice Presidency I stated that in my judgment "no man should be incumbent of an office the duties of which he is for any cause unfit to perform, or who is lacking in the ability, fidelity or integrity which a proper administration of such office demands." This sentiment would doubtless meet with general acquiescence, but opinion has been widely divided upon the wisdom and impracticability of the various reformatory schemes which have been suggested, and of certain proposed regulations governing appointments to public office. The efficiency of such regulations has been distrusted mainly because they have seemed to exalt mere educational and abstract tests above general business capacity, and even special fitness for the work in hand. It seems to me that the rules that should be applied to the management of the public service "may properly conform, in the main, to such as regulate the condition of successful private business. Original appointments should be based upon ascertained fitness. The tenure of office should be stable; positions of responsibility should, so far as practicable, be filled by the promotion of worthy and efficient officers. The investigation of all complaints and the punishment of all misconduct should be prompt and thorough."

The views expressed in the foregoing letter are those which will govern my administration of the executive office. They are doubtless shared by all intelligent and patriotic citizens, however divergent in their opinion as to the best methods of putting them into practical operation.

For example, the assertion that original appointments should be based upon ascertained fitness "is not open to dispute," but the question how, in practice, such fitness can be most effectually ascertained is one which has for years excited interest and discussion. The measure which, with slight variations in its details, has lately been urged upon the attention of Congress and the Executive has its principal feature in the scheme of competitive examination. Save for certain exceptions, which need not here be specified, this plan would give admission to the service only in its lowest grade, and would accordingly demand that all vacancies in the higher positions should be filled by promotion alone. In these particulars it is in conformity with the existing civil-service system of Great Britain, and indeed the success which has attended that system in the country of its birth is the strongest argument which has been urged for its adoption here. The fact should not, however, be overlooked that there are certain features of the English system which have not generally been received with favor in this country, even among the foremost advocates of civil-service reform. Among them are: First, a tenure of office which is substantially a life tenure. Second, a limitation of the maximum age at which an applicant can enter the service, whereby all men in middle life or under are, with some exceptions, rigidly excluded. Third, a retiring allowance upon going out of office. These three elements are as important factors of the problem as any of the others. To eliminate them from the English system would effect a most radical change in its theory and practice. The avowed purpose of that system is to induce the educated young men of the country to devote their lives to public employment, by an assurance that, having once entered upon it, they need never leave it, and that after voluntary retirement they shall be recipients of an annual pension. That this system, as an entirety, has proved very successful, in Great Britain seems to be generally conceded, even by those who once opposed its adoption. To a statute, which should incorporate all its essential features, I should feel bound to give my approval, but whether it would be for the best interests of the public to fix upon an expedient, for immediate and extensive application, which embraces certain features of the English system, but excludes or ignores others of equal importance, may be seriously doubted even by those who are impressed, as I am myself, with the grave importance of correcting the evils which inhere in the present methods of appointment. If, for example, the English rule, which shuts out persons above the age of 25 years from a large number of public employments, is not to be made an essential part of our system, it is questionable whether the attainment of the highest number of marks at a competitive examination should be the criterion by which all applications for appointment should be put to test; and under similar conditions it may also be questioned whether admission to the service should be strictly limited to its lowest ranks. There are very many characteristics which go to make up a model civil servant; prominent among them are probity, industry, good sense, good habits, good temper, patience, ardor, courtesy, tact, self-reliance, manly deference to superior officers, and manly consideration for inferiors. The absence of these traits is not supplied by a wide knowledge of books, or by promptitude in answering questions, or by any other quality likely to be brought to light by competitive examination. To make success in such a contest, therefore, an indispensable condition of public employment, would very likely result in the practical exclusion of the older applicants, even though they might possess qualifications far superior to their younger and more brilliant competitors.

These suggestions must not be regarded as evincing any spirit of opposition to the competitive plan, which has been, to some extent, successfully employed already, and which may hereafter vindicate the claims of its most earnest supporters, but it ought to be seriously considered whether the application of the same educational standard to persons of mature years, as to young men fresh from school and college, would not be likely to exalt more intellectual proficiency above other qualities of equal or greater importance. Another feature of the proposed system, the selection by promotion of all officers of the Government above the lowest grade, except such as would fairly be regarded as exponents of the policy of the Executive and the principles of the dominant party, to afford encouragement to faithful public servants by exciting in their minds the hope of promotion, if they are found to merit it, is much to be desired, but would it be farcical to adopt a rule so rigid as to permit no other mode of supplying the intermediate wants of the service? There are many persons who fill subordinate positions with great credit, but lack those qualities which are requisite for the higher posts of duty, and, beside the modes of thought and action of one whose service in a Government bureau has been long and continued, are often so cramped by routine procedure as almost to disqualify him from instituting changes required by the public interests, and infusion of new blood from time to time into the middle ranks of the service might be very beneficial in its results. The subject under discussion is one of grave importance. The evils which are complained of cannot be eradicated at once. The work must be gradual.

The present English system is a growth of years, and was not created by a single stroke of executive or legislative action. Its beginnings are found in an order in council promulgated in 1855, and it was after patient and anxious scrutiny of its workings that, fifteen years later, it took its present shape. Five years after the issuance of the order in council, and at a time when resort had been had to competitive examination as an experiment much more extensively than has yet been the case in this country, a select committee of the House of Commons made a report to that House, which, declaring its approval of the competitive method, deprecated, nevertheless, any precipitancy in its general adoption, as likely to endanger its ultimate success. During this tentative period the results of the two methods of class examination and competitive examination were closely watched and compared. It may be that before we confine ourselves upon this important question within the stringent bounds of statutory enactment, we may profitably await the result of further inquiry and experiment. The submission of a portion of the nominations to a central board of examiners selected solely for testing the qualifications of applicants, may, perhaps, without resort to the competitive test, put an end to the mischief which attends the present system of appointment, and it may be feasible to vest in such a board a wide discretion, to ascertain the characteristics and attainments of candidates in those particulars which I have already referred to as being no less important than mere intellectual attainments. If Congress should deem it advisable at the present session to establish competitive tests for admission to the service, no doubts such as have been suggested shall deter me from giving the measure my earnest support, and I urgently recommend, should there be a failure to pass any other act upon this subject, that an appropriation of $25,000 per year may be made for the enforcement of section 1,753 of the Revised Statutes. With the aid thus afforded me, I shall strive to execute the provisions of that law according to its letter and spirit.

I am unwilling, in justice to the present civil service of the Government, to dismiss this subject without declaring my dissent from the severe and almost indiscriminate censure with which they have been recently assailed; that they are, as a class, indolent, inefficient, corrupt, is a statement which has been often made and widely circulated, but, when the extent, variety, delicacy and importance of their duties are considered, the great majority of the employes of the Government are, in my judgment, deserving of high commendation.

THE MERCHANT SERVICE.

The continuing decline of the merchant marine of the United States is to be greatly deplored. In view of the fact that we furnish so large a proportion of the freights of the commercial world, and that our shipments are steadily and rapidly increasing, it is a cause of surprise that not only is our navigation interest diminishing, but it is less than when our exports and imports were not half so large as now, either in bulk or value. There must be some peculiar hindrance to the development of this interest, or the enterprise and energy of American mechanics and capitalists would have kept this country at least abreast of our rivals in the friendly contest for ocean supremacy. The substitution of iron for wood and of steam for sail have wrought great revolutions in the carrying trade of the world, but these changes could not have been adverse to America, if we had given to our navigation interests a portion of the aid in protection which have been so wisely bestowed upon our manufacturers. I commend the whole subject to the wisdom of Congress, with the suggestion that no question of greater magnitude or farther-reaching importance can engage their attention.

IMMIGRATION.

In 1875 the Supreme Court of the United States declared unconstitutional the statutes of certain States which imposed upon shipowners or consignees a tax of $1.50 for each passenger arriving from a foreign country, or, in lieu thereof, required a bond to indemnify the State and local authorities against expense for the future relief or support of such passenger. Since this decision the expense attending the care and supervision of immigrants has fallen on the States at whose ports they have landed. As a large majority of such immigrants, immediately upon their arrival, proceed to the inland States and the Territories to seek permanent homes, it is manifestly unjust to impose upon the State whose shores they first reach the burden which it now bears. For this reason, and because of the national importance of the subject, I recommend legislation regarding the supervision to transitory care of immigrants at the ports of debarkation.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The report of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, herewith transmitted, will inform you fully of the condition of the affairs of the District. The vital importance of legislation for the reclamation and improvement of the marshes, and for the establishment of the harbor lines along the Potomac river front is undoubted. It is represented that in their present condition these marshes seriously affect the health of the residents of the adjacent parts of the city, and that they greatly mar the general aspect of the park in which stands the Washington Monument. This improvement would add to that park and the park south of the Executive mansion a large area of valuable land, and would transform what is now believed to be a dangerous nuisance into an attractive landscape extending to the river front. They recommend the removal of the steam railway lines from the surface of the streets of the city, and the location of the necessary depots in such places as may be convenient for the public accommodation. They call attention to the deficiency of the water supply, which seriously affects the material prosperity of the city and the health and comfort of its inhabitants. I commend these subjects to your careful consideration.

The importance of timely legislation with respect to the ascertainment and declaration of

THE VOTE FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

was sharply called to the attention of the people more than four years ago. It is to be hoped that some well-defined measure may be devised before another national election, which will render unnecessary a resort to any expedient of a temporary character for the determination of questions upon contested returns. Questions which concern the very existence of the Government and the liberties of the people were suggested by the prolonged illness of the late President, and his consequent incapacity to perform the functions of his office. It is provided by the second article of the constitution, in the fifth clause of its first section, that in case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President. What is the intention of the constitution in its specification of "inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office," is one of the contingencies which calls the Vice President to the exercise of Presidential functions, is the inability delegated in its nature to long-continued intellectual incapacity, or has it broader import? What must be its extent and duration? How must its existence be established? Has the President, whose inability is the subject of inquiry, any voice in determining whether or not it exists? Or is the decision of that momentous and delicate question confided to the Vice President, or is it contemplated by the constitution that Congress should provide by law precisely.

ject of national importance, and should receive prompt attention.

WHAT SHOULD CONSTITUTE INABILITY,

and how and by what tribunal or authority it should be ascertained? If the inability proves temporary in its nature, and during its continuance the Vice President lawfully exercises the functions of the Executive, by what tenure does he hold his office? Does he continue as President for the remainder of the four-years term, or would the elected President, if his inability should cease in the interval, be empowered to resume his office; and if, having such lawful authority, he should exercise it, would the Vice President be thereupon empowered to resume his powers and duties as such? I cannot doubt that these important questions will receive your early and thoughtful consideration.

Deeply impressed with

THE GRAVITY OF THE RESPONSIBILITIES

which have so unexpectedly devolved upon me, it will be my constant purpose to co-operate with you in such measures as will promote the glory of the country and the prosperity of its people. CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6, 1881.

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.

Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

(Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss.) Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed

DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE
CHICAGO BURLINGTON AND QUINCY R.R.
FOR ALL POINTS
EAST AND WEST

THE GREAT

BURLINGTON ROUTE.

No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition.

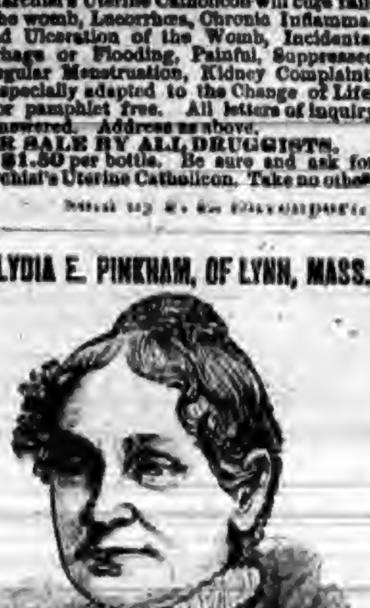
Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhea, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.

Sold by [illegible] Davenport.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,



LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.
Is a Positive Cure
for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

Sold by all Druggists.

"The wolf changes its hair every year, but remaining a wolf," says a Russian proverb. Nothing very remarkable about that. A woman sometimes changes her hair as often as two or three times a day, and still remains a woman. Let the Russians switch off to something worth mentioning when they want to compose proverbs.

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague Influences known to the world.

The only absolute cure for all Affections of the Kidneys. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE

But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, invigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

Its highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH

A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to

THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

PROVED A SUCCESS
THE PASTILLE
Prof. Harris' Radical Cure
TradeMark
FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY
BY YEARS OF USE!

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Glands, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS,
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons:

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had epilepsy from weakness, for 8 years past.

Iowa, Oct. 10th, '79.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 28, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

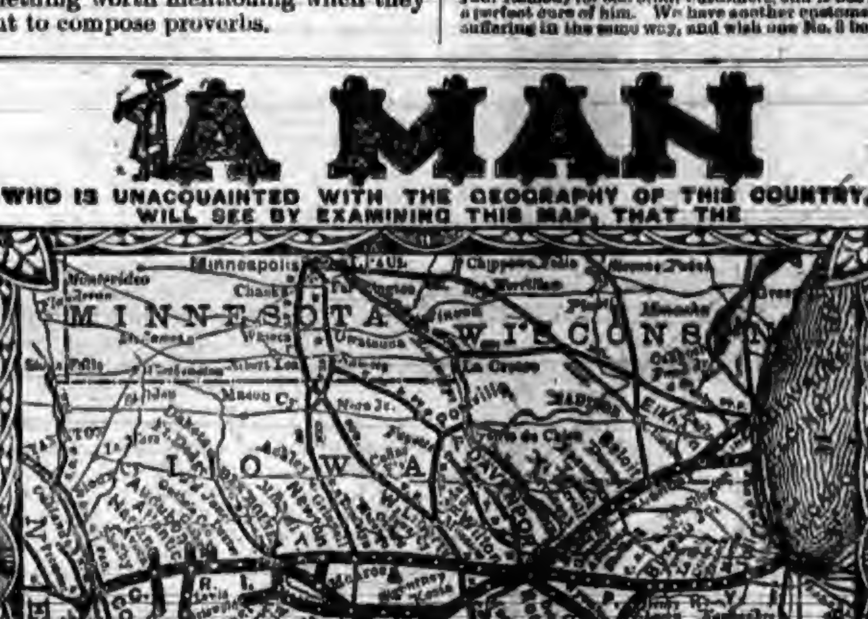
From a Physician and Surgeon.

Missouri, June 21.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering, and I think another will set him all right.

From a Druggist.

Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer also suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 3 box.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE



CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.
At ENGLEWOOD, with the L. S. & M. S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.
At WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, with P., C. & St. L. R. R.
At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.
At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.
At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.
At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.
At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.
At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.
At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.
At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R. R.
At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)
At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.
At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C. B. and Q. R. Rds.
At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo. & N. W. R. Rds.
At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.
At ATCHISON, with Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.
At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.
At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

For information not obtainable at your home office, address,

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.
E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., DEC 15, 1881

SENATOR BECK, of Kentucky, has been elected to the United States senate.

THREE of the Guiteau jurors are sick, and the whole American people nauseated over the matter.

EX-SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN has been nominated by the president to succeed Blaine as secretary of state.

THE large warehouse of D. M. Osborne & Co., Chicago, burned last Saturday morning. It was full of agricultural implements, and was a total loss.

SIXTEEN persons were burned to death in a boarding house near Pittsburg last Saturday morning. It caught from the bursting of a kesosene lamp.

ISAAC BASSETT, assistant doorkeeper of the senate, has held that position over fifty years. He was appointed to the place, originally by Daniel Webster.

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL is out once more with a bill, in favor of refunding the public debt at 3 per cent. interest. This is in substance, the same bill that Hayes vetoed to please the national banks.

SENATOR EDMUNDS has introduced a bill to punish persons, guilty of polygamy in Utah. It is in substance, the same as the one brought into the forty-fifth congress by Mr. Christiancy.

COL. JOHN W. FORNEY died last Friday, at the age of 64. He had for some years been actively engaged in politics, and as a political writer. At the time of his death, he was publishing the "Progress."

IT appears by the report of the treasurer of the United States, that about two and one half times as much gold coin is in circulation as silver. And yet republicans are afraid that the silver money will drive out gold.

GEN. JUDSON KILPATRICK died at Santiago, Chili, Dec. 8. He was about 45 years of age, and widely known throughout the country, as a dashing officer during the rebellion. He was a graduate of West Point, and at the time of his death, was our minister to Chili.

THE new legislature, of Virginia, was organized last week. As the readjuster element is in the majority, the public will look on with some degree of interest to see just how they will go about it, to cheat the holders of the state bonds out of their just dues.

THERE is said to be over fifteen millions of fractional paper currency still outstanding, and it does not seem possible to call it in. Much of it has evidently been lost or worn out, and a great deal is believed to be in the hands of people who wish to keep these old pieces as relics.

AMONG the noted men who have been called upon as witnesses for one side or the other, at the Guiteau trial are the following: Hon. C. B. Farwell, John Sherman, Gen W. T. Sherman, Geo. C. Gorham, editor of the Washington Republican, John A. Logan Ben. Harrison and many others.

THE railroad bridge over the Missouri, at St. Charles, fell again last week, carrying with it an entire freight train. The engineer went into the river with his engine, and was the only one killed. The fireman and a brakeman climbed upon the half-submerged cars, and were taken off by a boat.

THE president, in his message, favors the plan of retiring the silver certificates. He says they "are an unnecessary addition to the paper currency, a sufficient amount of which may be readily supplied by the national banks." But he fails to state why the people should be called upon to pay to those banks, the interest on this amount, namely sixty-six millions, when the silver certificates bear no interest, whatever. Another specimen of republican financial mismanagement.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the De Kalb circuit court, of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Asa Fletcher, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

Dec. 9, 1881. WILLIAM SHUTT, Administrator.

56-3w.

Commissioners Allowances.

EXPENSE OF POOR.
Jas. Jones	$ 6 40	E Kelham	$ 3 50
F. Maynard	9 46	H W Coburn	10 00
J Rummel	223 58	Strauss & Co	8 39
Hull & Wyatt	60 00	Fanning & Co	5 10
M Houston	18 89	D J Swarts	78 60
H T Smith	7 20	A H Phillips	3 71
Geo Wagoner	7 98	Crane & Co	16 31
Belle Shook	8 57	Mary Doub	29 50
Sheffer & R	3 80	H Rogers	28 60
Alfred Cass	8 00	Sam'l Edge	14 25
I Tryon	18 67	McQ & R	44 70
Kahn & Co	42 87	W Kiblinger	20 10
Hague & R	2 90	J & J A Shull	12 88
Brand & D	46 53	J L Davis	28 37
C Boyer	5 00	S Olmstead	24 00
A B Mathews	26 75	H Bowman	30 55
M Apple	11 07	J C Veley	7 84
J Porter	15 00	J Heisey	25 09
J B Bennett	28 50	Cowan & A	5 00
Wm Bevier	4 90	T P Scott	1 10
Askew & C	7 16	Anna Mowry	6 20
Isaac Ochs	26 66	D W Jenner	1 25
I Decker	2 00	C C Shaffer	10 00
Austin & Co	18 70	F A Hoff	18 78
Dr Fanning	29 00	Davenport	22 10
Brand & D	177 54	A W Allen	2 00
Dr Farrington	17 00	S Kutzner	11 90
EXPENSE OF ROADS AND BRIDGES.
A Shultz	$ 30 73	R McKinley	$ 18 60
W Rakestraw	5 00	John Shoub	70 00
A S Leas	13 05	E Kelham	60 00
J M Shull	13 50	F D Oberlin	17 50
Amos Hilkey	49 00	Geo Roos	5 00
L D Britton	40 00	Jno Buchanan	1 50
J M Brumback	1 50	H Jones	3 00
		Casebeer & Matheny	30 00
EXPENSE OF DITCHES.
A P Foltz	$ 34 25	F D Oberlin	$ 14 00
John Shoub	31 50	Casebeer & M	21 65
E Kelham	45 00	Wm H Casey	100 00
D Z Hoffman	1 50	W L Blair	6 00
A P Foltz	104 50	Clark Parker	2 00
J C St Clair	6 00	C Bowman	16 00
R S S Reed	6 00	J D Kelley	11 00
R N Crooks	4 00	F Kelley	2 00
Jas S Ridge	9 00	G W Hanes	4 00
EXPENSE OF STATIONARY.
W Burford	$334 32	Willis & Co	$ 1 75
EXPENSE OF COURT.
A S Leas	$ 40 60	A W Allen	$ 3 00
MISCELLANEOUS.
J W Baxter	$ 27 21	A Robbins	$ 50 00
M Boland	32 00	Wm Johnson	25 00
A S Leas	13 10	L J Miller	15 91
F D Ryan	6 00	Henry Wolf	20 00
W S Purdy	5 25	J L Davis	36 05
J G Lawhead	80 43	C C Shaffer	1 75
		H W Ford	1 00
EXPENSE OF CRIMINALS.
A S Leas	$210 50	D J Swarts	9 30
Miller & G	11 80	Ensley & H	6 01
EXPENSE OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.
W Murphy	$ 8 25	W Kiblinger	$ 6 40
Morell Bros	76 20	McIntosh	45 00
EXPENSE OF SALARY.
A Robbins	$481 25	L J Miller	$200 00
John Shoub	28 00	F D Oberlin	28 00
E Kelham	28 00	A S Leas	16 00
		J A Barns	202 00
EXPENSE OF PRINTING.
Barns & H	$ 18 80	C P Houser	$ 16 30

ALBERT ROBBINS, Auditor.

December 13, 1881.

THE Ring theater, at Vienna, Austria, caught fire during the performance, about half past nine in the evening last Thursday, and was burned. The house was full, and the means of escape being limited, a great many perished in the flames. The loss of life at latest accounts, is put at over 400.

VENNOR has prognosticated such a variety of weather for the month of December, that he unquestionably will hit it right in some particulars. In the first place he says the month looks "ugly and smacks of bitter cold." There are to be several snow falls during the month, but they will be, as a general thing, very light. From 1 to 3, there will be storms or indications of storms; 7 to 11, very cold; 13 to 14, milder; 15 to 20, very cold and blustry; cold before and after Christmas; 26 to 31, nothing but cold and bluster.

Attention, Knights of Honor.

Notice is hereby given, that there will be an election held on Friday evening, Dec. 30, 1881, at the lodge room, in Waterloo, Ind., of lodge No. 1436, K. of H., for the purpose of electing three trustees of said lodge, for the ensuing year. By order of the lodge.

W. H. LEAS, Reporter. JOHN KOONS, Dictator.

—According to law, a witness cannot collect fees for his services unless he is subpœnaed by the sheriff or his deputy. Formerly, parties to suits have been serving their own subpœnas, but it appears that the witness cannot be compelled to appear unless of his own accord when summoned in this way. And if he does appear, it is a matter wholly within the power of the officers, to compensate him for his appearance or not just as they choose.

—If you do have to go up-stairs to get to Gordon's gallery, you will find a first-class gallery in all respects, with experienced artists who have by many years practice, learned the "know how," and will make sharp, clean and natural pictures with good chemical effect, at bottom prices. It will pay you to go up-stairs. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Schaab, Beugnot & Co. will not be undersold on mixed or any other kind of candy. Call and be convinced before making your christmas purchases.

For good lunch, hot coffee and oysters, go to Ed. Baker's lunch room, Second door west of Davenport's.

Good mince meat ready prepared at Ed. Baker's, at 12½ cents a pound. It saves time and labor.

Tub oysters at 30 cents a quart, can always be found at Ed. Baker's. Give them a trial.

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

Come and see the new goods

FOR THE HOLIDAYS,

-AT-

J. Wm. Wagner's

GOLD MORTAR DRUG STORE!

Garrett, Indiana.

YOU CAN BUY

Smoking Sets, Toilet Bottles,
Smoking Sets, Toilet Bottles,

China Goods,
China Goods,

Ladies' Toilet Cases, Pocket Books,
Ladies' Toilet Cases, Pocket Books,

Traveling Bags,
Traveling Bags,

Merschaum Pipes, Merschaum Pipes,
Merschaum Pipes, Merschaum Pipes,

And all other articles usually kept in a first-class drug store. Having secured the services of a first-class Prescription Druggist, and with a carefully selected stock of pure drugs and chemicals, we are prepared to fill all Physicians' Prescriptions with care and dispatch at all times. Don't forget the place—the sign of the

GOLD MORTAR.

STILL AT THE FRONT!

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPLE PRICES:

OOD PRINTS . . . . 5 cen
EST SHIRTING . . . . 10 cen
OOD MUSLIN . . . . 8 cen
G

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c. per
Coffee A Sugar	10c per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. perl
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. perl
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. perl
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb. 6 for	$1.00	Best Plug	70c. per
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb. 7 for	$1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

PILES NO CURE NO PAY

FISTULA RECTAL ULCERS FISSURES CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED COME BEFORE TOO LATE

BY DR A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S Wonderful NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE PATENTED.

OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR BRINKERHOFF. CURE WARRANTED

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE

OF

BOOTS AND SHOES!

AT THE

BOOT UPSIDE DOWN

All Heavy Goods at Cost to Reduce Stock. Now is your time to Secure a Bargain. Fine Line of HOLIDAY SLIPPERS at the

BOOT UPSIDE DOWN

W. J. AUSTIN & CO.

BUY YOUR

Holiday Goods

-AT-

Ensley & Harter's.

—(o)—

CANDIES.

FANCY, MIXED, STICK and TOY CANDIES.

—(o)—

TOYS, TOYS !

Of every description, and at any price

—(o)—

Dolls, Dolls.

These goods will please you, and at prices that will astonish you. Also a

BIG ASSORTMENT

-OF-

KID GLOVES, COLLARS,
KID GLOVES, COLLARS,
TIES,
TIES;
LACES, SCARFS,
LACES, SCARFS,
HOODS,
HOODS,
SILK HANDKERCHIEFS,
SILK HANDKERCHIEFS.

—(o)—

PURE MXIED CANDY

12 CENTS PER LB 12

—(o)—

Before buying, examine our goods.

ENSLEY & HARTER

—A good run of sleighing would do considerable in waking up the stagnation which now has control of our general trade. The hub and spoke factory, the stave factory, saw mills and other enterprises are lying idle, for the want of timber. Not only the proprietors suffer in consequence of the bad condition of the roads, but also a number of families who depend upon these industries for their support. We all suffer more or less from having bad roads, and we hope that matter of gravel roads will be strictly attended to next summer.

WINSTON, Forsyth Co., N. C.—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dispepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtues of your Bitters. Very respectfully,

48-2w. REV. H. FEREBEE.

—Tom Mays, way down in Arkansaw, published our advice to Julia verbatim without credit. It just fit a girl down there who was anxious for information. It's all right as far as Tom is concerned, as we are indebted to the Evening Star for "past favors." We only wish he would move up this way, and we would give him the use of our forms each week, after our edition was off.

—We have received a cut which is handsomely arranged with the words, "A Happy New Year" thereon. Also some of the latest and best style cards, which we will work up for any one who desires New Years cards. We do not expect to make much capital out of them, and will put the material and labor down as low as possible. Call and see them.

—We had occasion to visit Dr. Jno. A. Cowan in his new suite of rooms last Sunday. To say the least, the doctor has very tastily and pleasantly arranged his office. The walls have been calcimined and "touched off" with appropriate pictures, and the room is made homelike with the beauty and fragrance of almost every kind of house plants.

—We will now call the attention of the boys to the fact that swearing off time is near at hand, and we hope all will take "time by the top knot," and wrestle hard with the tempting influences which surround the young men of to-day. Swear off if you don,t stick to it a week. Even this short time will give some sober reflection over your past life.

—Some of our young men had their letters come from North Manchester in Frank Griswold's name. They gave thems lves dead away. It is either Doc. or Greeley, and it will only be a short time until we find out.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—Court next week.

—The snow didn't stay long.

—Potatoes are $1.20 a bushel.

—The roads in town are good.

—Sam Buss has a new hat band.

—The roads are again broken up.

—Is it labor to shave on Sunday?

—Henry Ashley is back home again.

—Rhodenbaugh carries the express now.

—Last Saturday was a good day for trade.

—Give us some dramatic amusement.

—Gunning seems to be a favorite pastime.

—Have a masquerade during the holidays.

—The commissioners' court adjourned yesterday.

—Wood continues to hold $1.50 a load in price.

—Chicago has an alarming attack of the small-pox.

—New Years cards cheap at the COURIER office.

—A small quantity of the beautiful fell last Sunday.

—To insure a good holiday trade, advertise largely.

—Mrs. Stella Brooks, nee Yandes, is visiting in town.

—Mrs. F. D. Ryan has been sick for several days past.

—The Christmas turkey will be led to the altar next.

—The health of our people is remarkably good at present.

—According to the weather profit, we can look out for winter.

—Ben. Williams has his sewing machine at Angola this week.

—G. I. Patterson has been visiting a few days in Steuben county.

—Our farmers have had good pasture up to the present month.

—Edward Orr and family, of Corunna, were in town Saturday.

—Wm. Immel, of Canton, Ohio, is visiting his friend, H. A. Lesh.

—Sheriff Leas now has eight regular boarders, with prospects for more.

—The new saloon in the Houston building is the finest one in town.

—Mitch Houston had a big brother of his stay over Sunday with him.

—We hear that "Aunt Abbey Latson" is in almost destitute circumstances.

—Gold set band and 18k rings at Abright's for the holidays by the peck.

I don't allow any one to undersell me on chromos, at the book store. 50-2w.

—Mrs. Byron Rainier is out of town, being called by relatives who are sick.

—Everything in the line of holiday presents, at Abright, the Auburn jeweler's, 50-2w.

—The county clerk will do a big business in the marriage line next week.

—The Decatur Democrat has changed hands again. "Go it while you are young."

—Johnny Heble closes on Sunday now. He looks a "lettle oudt" for the new law.

—The sporting part of our community were out en masse Monday chasing the rabbit.

—Buy a watch for your boy for a Christmas present. Abright has an immense stock.

—The walking was bad Sunday, and in consequence the churches were not largely attended.

—Miss Ida Bell and her sister Neva have returned home, after a lengthy visit in Michigan.

—Abright's stock of ladies' gold watches, chains, necklaces for the holidays is now complete.

—Corn sells for 50 cents a bushel; oats, 40 @ 45 cents; chop-feed, $1.75, and bran $1.00 per hundred.

Don't fail to call at Willis,' when selecting your presents, as he has the finest goods for the money. 50-2w.

—Mr. Mitchell has erected a new building near his saw-mill in the south end, and will open a hoop factory.

If you want the finest photograph or autograph album, in the county, go to M. B. Willis' book store. 50-2w.

—Some of our young folks attended a party at the residence of Miss Hattie Hoover, in Waterloo, Saturday evening.

—The probate part of the docket is separate from the civil docket now. Another wonderful hit for our last legislature.

—Come up to the COURIER office and have some nice cards printed for your friends. They make a nice holiday present.

—We think we will send the best docket into the court room next week that has ever met the eye of the Blackstone boys.

—Coop. Ralston has a contract for keeping Jimmy McClellan's and Toad Latson's blood in order. He uses salt and electricity.

—Holiday goods so that you can't est, at Frank A. Hoff's place.

Literary Piracy.

An article in last week's Republican accuses us of borrowing an item from Bill Nye's Boomerang or some other equally delightful production. We think no one but the presiding genius of the Republican was deceived by that article, or by any other that appears in our columns. But would it not complete the picture a little more fully, if the writer had included his anti-Conkling article of last summer, an entire political leader, which he copied from the Indianapolis Times? "Physician, heal thyself." We quote this advice for fear the editor of the Republican has never heard of it, and may fall into another trap. Such innocence should be protected.

Merry Christmas on the B & O.

The B. & O. management has, with characteristic good feeling toward its patrons along the line, determined that they shall have a merry time on the road during the holidays. To this end the low rate of two cents per mile is announced from any station to any station on the main line, branches or divisions. In other words these low rate tickets will be placed on sale on Dec. 23, and will continue on sale until and including Jan. 3. They will cover all points reached direct by the B. & O., and will be good on all trains that make the stops.

—Joe Beugnot is back home.

—Mrs. Bodine has returned home again.

—Call and get your New Year cards. We have some "daisies."

Miss Josie Singler, of Garrett, was in town a few days this week, visiting friends.

—Do not forget Miss Vineyard's entertainment at Ensley's hall, to-morrow evening.

—Miss Vineyard is acknowledged to be one of the best elocutionists in America.

—The entertainment at the M. E. church, on Tuesday evening, was well attended, and a very pleasant affair.

If you want anything in the jewelry line, it will pay you to look over the stock at the book store. 50-2w.

—Mrs. Ober has an interesting letter upon the first page, giving a discription of her recent visit in the southern states.

—The roads are in a bad condition again, and those who haven't a supply of wood on hand will undoubtedly have to shiver.

—Mrs. Austin, mother of our townsman, W. J. Austin, died at her home in Wabash, Ind., last Tuesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

—It is rumored that the postoffice will be moved into Ensley's room, east of the public square, and a new boss do the business.

If you want any paper, magazine or other reading matter for next year, you can be accommodated with publishers lowest prices at the book store. 50-2w.

—G. W. Hanes, of Wilmington township, denies the allegation that he climbed a tree to get away from that "knight," and the allegator better look out.

—Our loafing brigade is accumulating somewhat on our hands, and we think of having a Stahl made in one corner of the office to put the fellows away.

—Country debating societies have succeeded spelling schools, and the leading man in the neighborhood throws himself in "spread-eagle" style.

—The following parties have been appointed to represent this county in the grand temperance council viz: Rev. W. L. Meese, Rev. J. W. Lowman and Nicholas McIntyre.

—We learn from good authority that the rumor of small-pox being among the citizens of Corunna is not substantial. People should be careful about making giddy insinuations.

A new and fine assortment of the best gold pens in the market, also toothpicks, paper, knives, charms, lockets, rings, necklaces, bracelets etc, just received and offered at bottom prices at the book store. 50-2w.

—If any of the land owners along Cedar creek, have any doubts about the depth of that stream, we will say that R. S. S. Reed measured it at or near stake No. 108, and found it about waist deep.

—One and all are hereby notified not to fool around Ben. Williams' sawing machine while it is in operation. It's liable to be blown clear across the county at any moment—Frank Larimore is fireman.

—According to our M D's, there has been but very few children vaccinated this winter. This matter should be attended to promptly, as the disease, small-pox, may make its appearance in our town at any time.

—John Kreuger has leased his ashery to his son-in-law, and will devote his time to the bakery and the buying and shipping of poultry.

—"Tom, what do you got in dem barrels?" "Don't you know, Jim; Dat is dos sauer kraut for Hoff Bros. They got it from Germany, and keep it for sale."

Tricky Boys.

Three young men named Shreeves, Smith and Hensinger, employed at the scythe snath factory, placed a plank on the track of the Wabash road for some unknown reason. Our officers have been working up the matter for awhile back, and a few days ago Shreeves turned state's evidence, and Smith and Hensinger are now mingling with the black and white at the "safety home," presided over by Sheriff Leas. There was no damage occasioned by the act, yet a lawful decision from our court will, at least, place other thoughtless boys on their guard.

—In persuance of the new law, our board of commissioners have divided the townships having more than 250 voters. The four sections in the northeast corner of Wilmington will constitute Butler precinct. The balance of the townships will vote at Wilmington Center. Keyser township is divided in the center, north and south, with both voting places in Garrett, and they are designated as East Keyser and West Keyser. Concord township is divided through the center, east and west, with one voting place at Spencerville and one at St. Joe, to be known as Spencerville and St. Joe precincts. Waterloo precinct is divided in the center, north and south, to be known as East and West Waterloo, with both voting places in Waterloo. The south half of Union township, or Auburn precinct, is divided east and west, and will be known as North and South Auburn. The territory embraced in sections 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 25 and 26 will be South Auburn, and sections 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 27, 28, 29 and 30 will be North Auburn. The dividing line with be on Seventh street through town.

—There is no one so low that something good cannot be said of him. Even Guiteau, the miserable assassin, has one redeeming trait—he does not use profane language. When questioned by a reporter a few days ago concerning an expression coupled with an oath that he was alleged to have used, he answered: "I don't swear. I abhor profanity and vulgarity. I have only associated with high-toned people—Christians and politicians of high moral principles. Whenever you see an oath coupled with any expression purporting to come from me, you can put the expression down as a vulgar falsehood." Guiteau is right in his estimate of profanity. It is vulgarity pure and simple. It is unfit for the parlor or fireside, and is disgusting anywhere. Profanity is expected of roughs and blackguards, but it sounds strangely harsh coming from the lips of a gentleman.

—Our people should not make a loafing place of barber shops. It is not only annoying to the proprietor, but also to the customers. When there are a half-dozen loafers in a shop, a man never knows when "next" comes, unless he canvasses the crowd, and asks the barber several times, "Is that me?" After a man has been shaved he can sit down awhile and not be a nuisance to the balance of the crowd; but when he hangs around until a late hour and then shaves himself Sunday, he causes many naughty words to be used by the average artist of the knife.

Anderson Bros. have purchased shops in Waterloo and are prepared to do all kinds of custom work, and will be pleased to see their old customers as well as new ones. We will have a good assortment of carriages in the spring, which we will sell as cheap as any home work that is manufactured of good material. All our work is guranteed to give satisfaction. Call and see us before you purchase.

49-4w. ANDERSON BROS.

For the next ten days, people will be busily engaged in selecting holiday presents of various kinds, and in the line of gold and silver watches, solid silver and silver plated ware, solid gold finger rings, both band and seal, in onyx, cameo, amethyst, topaz, blood stone, diamond and fine imitation of diamond, Bassett & Maxson, of Waterloo, is unsurpassed. Call and buy and save from 25 to 30 per cent.

50-2w.

—The Columbia City Post says: "To edit a newspaper to suit all, offend nobody and have everything just right, is no small task. Often items appear in papers which the editor would a thousand times rather have out. But people must remember that we men haven't time to study all sides of every two liner that makes its appearance.

—Frank Britton and a young man by the name of Metz, at Corunna, had a shooting match last week. They used tame pigeons that belonged to Mr. Geisler, and now they are going to find out, in a legal way, how much that shooting and the pigeons are going to stand them.

—In a few weeks the old year will be dead, gone forever. Many pleasant recollections of the year 1881 will be remembered, however, by a number of our people, and also many sorrowful events will never leave the mind. Let us all welcome 1882, and start in with new resolves for the coming year.

Remember your friend, by sending one of those beautiful christmas cards, that you can get at the book store.

50-2w.

—Pickles and sauerkraut at Frank Hoff's.

—For christmas trimmings, see F. Hoff.

Schuyler Colfax Coming.

The soldiers association have secured ex-Vice President Schuyler Colfax, to deliver his new lecture, "Our Martyred President," at Auburn, in Ensley's hall, on Friday evening, January 6, 1882. This is the time set for the annual meeting of "Indiana Encampment Union Soldiers Association." Look out for an interesting day and evening.

—A full line of fresh groceries at Schaab, Beugnot & Co's.

—Overcoats by the wholesale, cheaper than ever, at Schaab, Beugnot & Co's.

Geo. B. Zimmerman now represents five insurance Cos. Call and see him.

—Nellie E. Brown, wife of M. H. Brown, died Nov. 25, 1880, daughter of Thomas Cool. Aged 20 years and 6 months.

—Abright, the Auburn jeweler, sold $200 worth of watches and chains to one party for Christmas presents last Tuesday. Why? Because it is the cheapest house in northern Indiana.

—Commissioners court this week. There has been nothing exciting before the board thus far. The time has been taken up in allowing bills, granting liquor licenses etc.

—The ladies will find the best assortment of shawls in the county, at Schaab Beugnot & Co's.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the officiating minister, in Auburn, Wednesday, Dec. 7, 1881, by Rev. W. L. Meese, Abram Parrish, of Butler township, DeKalb county, to Miss Gertrude Miller, of LaOtto, Ind.

—The prospect for cheap oranges this year is excellent. Florida promises to raise and ship an immense amount, variously estimated from 50,000,000 to 85,000,000. Even these figures may be exceeded.

Buggies at cost at the Elkhart Carriage Works, until Jan. 1, 1882. After that date, full rates will be charged. Do not fail to call and secure a bargain. Buggies need not be removed until the roads are good.

—The W. S. L. & P. railroad will sell excursion rate tickets during the holidays. Tickets on sale Dec. 24, 25 and 31, 1881, and Jan. 1, 1882.

L. JOHNSON, Agent.

—Miss Vineyard, so well known to our readers, as an elocutionist, will give one of her inimitable entertainments, at Ensley's hall, Friday evening, Dec. 16. It will be a rare treat, and no one should fail to hear it.

MARRIED.—At the M. E. parsonage, in Hamilton, on Saturday evening, Dec. 10, 1881, by the officiating minister, Rev. J. G. Slusser. Mr. James Kannel, of Hamilton, Ind., to Miss Ada D. Aldrich, of DeKalb county, Ind.

—One of the finest pieces of work, that has lately been brought to our notice, is the counter or bar now in the Rothenberger saloon. It is the work of Mr. John Staudecher, of our town. Mr. S. is one of our best mechanics.

—J. C. Loveland and his sister Mollie, from the Headlight office at Corunna, were in town a short time last Saturday. Joe is getting ready for winter, having just purchased an overcoat, and his rosy cheeks were hid by a silken beard.

Examine the large assortment of wall pockets, clock-shelves, brackets, music-stands, bible-stands, work-stands, baskets, comb-cases, velvet-frames, japanese goods, majolica ware, pictures etc., at the book store, before making your choice of presents. 50-2w.

—F. D. Ryan and Dr. J. H. Ford went north on the Saginaw yesterday, armed with double-barrelled shot guns and game bags. We will get out an extra next week, giving a condensed sketch of the hunt, and the number of cars chartered for the transportation of game.

—The everlasting McEntarfer, Miser, Stoner, Miller and Rohrbaugh ditch case, occupied the attention of the commisioners last Saturday and Monday. The viewers were finally ordered back, to assess the damage, if any, and are to report at the March session.

—The vacant lot on the corner of Main and Seventh street, owned by Mrs. J. Hebel, will have a three story brick structure erected upon it in the spring. The room that J. R. Lanning now occupies will have another story added to it, connecting the two into one solid business block.

—The American Register, published at Washington, D. C., has been added to our exchange list. The Register is one of the ablest political journals in the country. It is thoroughly democratic, and deserves a hearty support. The subscription price is only $3.00 per annum.

—E. Wertenberger, of Jule City, Kansas, is visiting at the Junction with his cousin, J. J. Martin. Mr. W. is one of the substantial citizens of that state He reports a lack of rain there, and would like to have us divide with him. We wish we could.

—List of letters unclaimed at the Auburn postoffice, Dec. 12, 1881: Lydia Bowman, W. M. S Brown, B. B. Case, Louisa Davis, Ora L. Gatt, Dell Hayward, E. H. Loudenslager, Charlie Morgan, Lavina Matlers, Josie Thomas, Wm. Vivian, Geo. L. Wallace and J. H. Zeis,

JOS. RAINIER,
Postmaster.

—Elder S. B. Teagarden of Salem, Ohio, will preach at Tiffany's corners, Newville township, Saturday evening, Dec. 17; at Coburn's corners, Dec. 18, at 11 a. m. and 6:30 p. m; in the Lutheran church at St. Joe, at 3 p. m. Sunday Dec. 18. Subject, "The Ark a type of the Church of Christ." Come one, come all.

S. M. LOUNSBERY.

—Remember the first of January closes the present volume of the COURIER, and we would like to begin the new year with a large number of new subscribers. If our friends will make an effort in our behalf, together with our own solicitation, we will have a large and noble list of patrons, indeed.

—The Chicago Herald, with the fierceness of an iconoclast, attempts to tear down another idol worshipped by many zealous temperance reformers in the country. The Herald declares itself able to prove that the good wife of the great and good ex President Hayes, while ostensibly banishing wine from the White house permitted it to be furnished surreptitiously to guests who wanted it.

Watch Your Time.

Opportunity for all at Frank A. Hoff's. There's where you find it! We are now giving our customers great bargains on all of our goods, at the lowest bottom prices, during the holidays. Each one turn out and secure his purchases. We are having in stock a large and well selected variety of all holiday goods, as vases of every style, cups and saucers, mustache cups, toilet sets, wine sets, china tea sets, toy sets, animals, dolls etc. Also a large stock of fine lamps, all complete, fancy glassware suitable for holiday presents. Candy and candy toys in every shape, and very low in price. The very best mixed candies, sold lower than elsewhere. We are the leading grocers in the county, and do not want to be undersold. Yellow C. sugar, 8 cents per pound; extra white C. sugar, 9 cents per pound; good choice green coffee 15 cents per pound. This is the best coffee ever sold for that price, and every one should secure a special bargain. Tobaccos we are selling cheap, and everybody knows it. We are keeping the largest and best assortment of all kinds, to suit everyone, and at prices which can't be beat. The best plug from 50 to 65 cents per pound. Fine cuts are sold lower than elsewhere as we secured a large quantity before the advance on tobacco was made. We are selling at old prices, a No. 1 choice fine-cut at 50 cents per pound. Pure and choice teas can't be bought at any other place less than of us. Syrups are strictly pure and very low. Queensware and glassware, of these goods we have a full stock, well selected and low in price to defy any competition. Come in and satisfy yourself. Notions and dry goods, we are selling lower than ever. Also we keep a good supply of tinware, and in fact anything that can be found in any well arranged supply store. Come and see us and convince yourself. Entrance on Seventh or Eighth streets, Auburn, Ind.

FRANK A. HOFF.

Waterloo.

J. C. Boyer has returned from his western trip.

Charlie Kelley was over to Auburn, Tuesday, on business.

Daniel Goodwin and his son, Henry, left for Oregon, yesterday.

H. Frohlich went to Hicksville, Tuesday, looking up his marble business.

F. P. Day and brother have a new safe in which to keep their valuables.

For a nice hanging lamp and choice perfumery, go to Boyer & Campbell's.

George A. Yant is on the sick list. He reports the roller skate business good.

The Presbyterian and Evangelical Sabbath schools will indulge in christmas trees.

J. C. Boyer is still busy as ever, putting up quinine and pills for the billous and infirm.

Ed. Long is back again, and looks out smilingly on his old patrons at Long's hotel.

Hon. S. S. Shutt went through here Tuesday, on his way to Elkhart, on a business trip.

Fremont Bachelor, of Steuben county, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Jas. D. Campbell this week.

'Squire Smith is kept quite busy these days, two cases this week, state vs. Kapp and state vs. Trail.

Levi Kapp, the hunter, met a Link, not long since, who called the hunter to account in Justice Smith's court.

Al. Harris, one of our former typos, is doing good services as section hand. Al isn't afraid to work for a living.

F. P. Day thinks if he had a contract to furnish soft roads to outside parties, he would get ready to deliver the goods at once.

O. T. Clark is having a fine run of business in stoves, in spite of the open weather. He reports business good for this season.

Rev. Bayrer and family, of New Paris, Ind., formerly pastor of the Evangelical church, at this place, are in town visiting friends.

A walking couple arrived on No. 1 train, Tuesday. They stopped at Butt's hotel, but as the weather was warm, they paraded the street until dark, arm in arm. She is a good stepper.

John Peterman and C. W. Gillett are engaged in shipping poultry. They have fitted up the old Jackman room, and have everything convenient, especially coops for keeping live poultry.

Moses Zerkel has built himself a union depot at the railroad crossing. At any rate, that is what he allows people to call it. Mose evidently got tired of waiting for the railroads to build one.

Daniel Zahner went over to Syracuse this week, to make arrangements for starting a butcher shop. He will begin business there in about a week. The people of that place will get a good citizen.

Sheriff Leas and Constable Charlie Smith came up from Auburn, Tuesday, to look after the welfare of several of our citizens and do other work preparatory to the opening of court next week.

Go to Bassett & Maxson's for your christmas presents, they have the largest and best selected stock of silverware and jewelry ever brought to this part of the country. You can't fail to be suited.

A pleasant birthday party assembled at the residence of J. B. Hoover last Saturday evening, in honor of his youngest daughter, Miss Hattie Hoover. Several young people from Auburn were present.

Spencerville.

Becks Erick spent several days in Chicago last week.

Mr. Bowman, of Newville, visited friends in Spencerville Saturday and Sunday.

The social at Mr. H. Murray's last Friday evening was a pleasant affair.

Orders taken for Butterick's patterns, at Miss McKay's.

The M. E. Sunday-school will have a Christmas tree for the little folks Christmas eve.

Al. Bishop made a flying trip to Chicago last week.

Mrs. D. M. Miller, of Maysville, called on a few of her friends in Spencerville last Thursday.

Mr. Olds went to Toledo last week.

J. A. Provines has an immense line of holiday goods.

Call and see Miss McKay's new millinery goods.

Spencerville has a new boot and shoe store.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1881.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

THE Directors of the Mechanics' National Bank of Newark have agreed to contribute $1,000,000 toward paying the creditors and reviving the institution, which will probably result in the resumption of business.

HAIGHT'S tannery, at Milton Center, N. Y., valued at $100,000, was destroyed by fire.... Crain, Rising & Co., a boot and shoe firm of Boston, have failed, with liabilities of over $150,000.

THE WEST.

THE dwelling of J. J. Furrow, near Winterset, Iowa, was burned a few nights since. Three girls sleeping up stairs, aged 9, 12 and 17, were burned to death. Their bodies were burned to cinders. The children waked, but were afraid to jump.... Ten prisoners broke out of the jail at Kansas City by prying open the cage with the leg of an iron bedstead. Two of them were recaptured at Independence.

A NOTED Colorado highwayman and stage robber named Ham White was being conveyed to the Detroit House of Correction by United States Marshal Wilcox, of Denver. Near Pokagon, Mich., on the Michigan Central road, the convict picked the lock of his handcuffs with a toothpick and ferociously attacked the Marshal. There were seventeen men in the car who saw the whole affair, but who, in a most cowardly way, left the officer to struggle with the desperate man. In the struggle White seized Wilcox's revolver and tried to shoot him, when Mrs. Smithson, wife of a Denver engineer, on her way to New York, and the only woman in the car, sprang upon the seat behind the struggling man, seized the convict around the neck, and disabled him to a sufficient extent to enable the Marshal to once more secure control of him.... Daniel P. Eells, President of the Commercial National Bank of Cleveland, took from the vaults a pasteboard box containing $117,000 in bonds, intending to cut the coupons. His attention being directed to another matter, he turned his back upon the desk for a few minutes. When he resumed his coupon clipping he was astonished to discover that a box containing $117,000 worth of the bonds was missing, and also a genteel-appearing young man who had been waiting for an interview with the bank President. Mr. Eells is now anxious to interview the young man—so anxious, indeed, that he offers to pay $7,500 for that privilege.... Flames broke out early on the morning of the 4th inst., in one of Pillsbury's flouring mills, at Minneapolis, and speedily extended to the Excelsior, the Minneapolis, and the Empire mills, and the cotton factory of Dorilus Morrison. Then they attacked a train of loaded freight-cars, at which moment an explosion occurred in the Minneapolis mill, leveling the walls, killing three men, and severely injuring others. The mills destroyed represent one-tenth of the capacity of the city. The total loss is $416,500, and the insurance $207,175.

THE SOUTH.

THREE men were killed and several wounded by a collision of trains at Hallsville, Texas.

THE National Cotton-Planters Association, at its session in Atlanta, Ga., re-elected P. C. Morehead, President; G. M. King, Treasurer; and James N. Ogden, Secretary.

WASHINGTON.

A LETTER has been addressed by the State Department at Washington to all the United States representatives in the South American countries, in which is set forth the desire of the United States for an honorable peace between Chili and Peru. The United States representatives are instructed to make known the wish of the State Department in this matter. Messrs. Walter Blaine and William Trescott have sailed from New York for Chili for the purpose of acquainting Minister Hurlbut of the views of the President in the matter. Both gentlemen will visit Peru.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR has taken up his residence at the White House.... Mr. John Davis, nephew of Judge Bancroft Davis and son-in-law of ex-Senator Frelinghuysen, has been appointed private secretary to the President.

POLITICAL.

DOORKEEPER BROWNLOW, of the House, has appointed Richard W. Austin, of North Carolina, Assistant Doorkeeper, and Col. J. R. Popham, of Virginia, Assistant Doorkeeper in charge of the document room. Col. Popham is a Readjuster. George McNeir, son-in-law of Congressman Burrows, of Michigan, has been appointed Assistant Postmaster of the House.

GENERAL.

PANAMA dispatches are pregnant with indications of trouble to come between Mexico and her sister republics of Central America. If Mexico attacks Guatemala, it is believed the other republics will unite in her defense.

THE propeller Jane Miller, which sailed from Owen sound, Ont., Nov. 25, was wrecked in Colpay's bay, with twenty-five persons on board.

A CHICAGO lady sent Guiteau a check for "$5,000 worth of agony and distress," to be charged "to the account of his Satanic Majesty."

INFORMATION has been received at Washington of the death of Gen. Hugh Judson Kilpatrick, Minister to Chili. He died at Santiago, Chili.

FOREIGN.

THE British war vessel London espied a slaver off Zanzibar, flying French colors, and fired a gun across her bow to compel her surrender. The suspicious craft, which was manned by Arabs, replied with a discharge of rifles, killing the English Captain and two sailors, and then sailed away.

MCKENZIE & Co., contractors at Cape Town, Africa, have failed for $2,000,000.

THE Inspector General of the Irish Constabulary has advertised for 1,000 men to enlist for special protection duty, the men to serve in the constabulary for a limited period, in order to relieve the ordinary police force of "special protection" duties. The tenants of the Duke of Leinster have resolved to obey the "no-rent" manifesto.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

THE Ring Theater, in the city of Vienna, Austria, was burned on the evening of Dec. 8, shortly after the assembling of the audience. Two thousand people were in the building, about 800 of whom perished in the flames. As soon as the fire was seen, there was an explosion of gas, and the audience were plunged in darkness. On the spreading of the news of the disaster the performances at the other theaters were stopped. Thousands of people assembled in the neighboring streets, where they could hear the cries of agony of people at the windows of the theater praying to be saved. The rapidity of the flames prevented people from taking advantage of the ordinary exits. Only a small portion of the audience saved themselves by leaping from the windows, three stories high, into clothes held below.

ARCHDEACON PARNELL, Clerical Secretary of the Episcopal Synod of Kingston, Ont., is $12,000 short in his accounts.

THE Director of the Mint reports the profits on silver coinage between July 1, 1878, and June 30, 1881, to be $9,752,210. The profits on hand July 1, 1878, were $424,725, which, with $4,450 profits on trade-dollars and surplus silver bullion, made the gross profits on silver coinage $10,181,485. Of this sum $9,774,374 was paid into the treasury, $221,114 was paid for expenses of distribution, and $84,947 was paid for wastages and losses.

AFTER a trial lasting ten days, Addison and William Burns, of Pittsburgh, were convicted of complicity in the famous Missouri land frauds. District Attorney Bliss, of St. Louis, had entire charge of the prosecution, and the trial took place at Clarion, Pa. William Burns was for years President of a Pittsburgh bank.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

PARTY CAUCUSING.

The Republican members of the House of Representatives met in caucus at the Capitol in Washington on Saturday, Dec. 3, and were called to order by Mr. Hubbell, of Michigan. Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey, was chosen Chairman. A call of the roll revealed the presence of 146 Representatives, including J. Hyatt Smith, of New York, elected as an Independent. Nominations for the Speakership being in order, seven candidates were placed in the field—being Messrs. Hiscock, Keifer, Kasson, Dunnell, Orth, Burrows, and Reed. On the first ballot Keifer received 52 votes, Hiscock 44 and Kasson 15. The vote changed considerably throughout fifteen ballots, Keifer being chosen on the sixteenth. For Clerk of the House, Edward McPherson, of Pennsylvania, was selected; for Postmaster, Harry Sherwood, of Michigan; for Sergeant-at-Arms, Col. Hooker, of Vermont, and for Doorkeeper, Col. Brownlow, of Tennessee. On motion of Gen. Henderson, of Illinois, seconded by Updegraff, of Iowa, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "That the following-named honorably-discharged soldiers, minus a leg or arm, or both, and now borne on the soldiers' roll of the House of Representatives of the United States, be retained by the Doorkeeper of the House on said roll, subject, however, to dismissal for just and sufficient cause: S. H. Decker, both arms off, Ohio; John Ryan, one leg off, Pennsylvania; James L. McCormick, one leg off, Indiana; Hugh Lewis, one arm off, Wisconsin; John Rome, one arm off, New Jersey; Capt. J. W. White, one arm off, Ohio." Three of these soldiers are Republicans and three Democrats.

Soon after the adjournment of the Republican caucus the Democratic members-elect assembled, in the same hall, and organized their caucus by re-electing Representative House, of Tennessee, as Chairman, and Frost, of Missouri, and Welborn, of Texas, Secretaries. Representative Proctor Knott, of Kentucky, then offered a resolution indorsing the declarations of the Democratic National Conventions of 1876 and 1880, the supposed object being to put Democratic members on record in favor of the plank indorsing "a tariff for revenue only." The resolution was supported by Representatives Knott and Reagan, and opposed by Representatives Hammond, McLain, Hooker and Herbert. Representative Hooker moved to indefinitely postpone consideration of the resolution, and the motion was carried—ayes, 53; noes, 42. Representative McKenna then moved that the caucus indorse and put in nomination as candidates for the Democrats all the officers of the last House, and the motion was carried, viva voce, without dissent.

The Greenback members-elect of the House met in caucus and nominated Nicholas Ford, of Missouri, for Speaker; Gilbert De La Matyr, of Indiana, for Clerk of the House; Lee Crandall, of Washington, D. C., for Sergeant-at-Arms; H. Martin Williams, of Missouri, for Doorkeeper; and W. H. Moore, of Pennsylvania, for Postmaster.

The Senate convened at noon of Monday, Dec. 5, and was called to order by Acting Vice President Davis. William Windom was duly qualified as Senator from Minnesota. Mr. Garland introduced a bill providing for a commission to inquire into the relative effect upon the industries of the country on the consumer and producer of the present tariff system, and the relative merits of specific and ad valorem duties, with a view to providing proper legislation to meet defects and remedy unjust discriminations and other evils. The bill is in the nature of a substitute for the Eaton bill of last session. Mr. Lapham introduced a bill providing for the punishment of attempts on the life of the President of the United States, or others charged with the duties of President, punishment on conviction to be imprisonment for life in solitary confinement or at hard labor in the discretion of the court. Mr. Sherman introduced a 3-per-cent. funding bill; Mr. Beck a measure to recoin the trade dollars into standard pieces; Mr. Miller a bill to enforce treaty stipulations relating to the Chinese, and Mr. Logan an act to place Gen. Grant on the retired list of the army. Mr. Edmunds offered a resolution to continue all committees of the Senate as they existed last session. Senator Pugh thereupon moved an amendment authorizing the President of the Senate to decide whether the committees shall be equally or otherwise divided between both political parties. The resolution and amendment were laid over without action. At a caucus of the Republican Senators in the evening, it was resolved to support Mr. Edmunds' resolution. The House was called to order at noon by Clerk Adams. The roll call showed that only Messrs. Morey, Scales, Mills and Deuster were absent. A ballot for Speaker resulted in 148 votes for Keifer, 129 for Randall, and 8 for Ford. Objections were made to the swearing in of seven members, among them Chalmers of Mississippi and Dibble of South Carolina, but all were finally admitted, the objections being withdrawn. As soon as all the members were sworn in, the Republican caucus nominees for House officers were sworn in.

A number of bills were introduced in the Senate on the 6th inst., including one by Mr. Ingalls granting the franking privilege to Mrs. Garfield; one by Mr. Pendleton to improve the civil service, and to prevent extortion, coercion and bribery by persons in the public service; and one by Mr. Saunders admitting Dakota as a State. Mr. Edmunds' resolution continuing the Senate committees of last session was passed, Mr. Davis voting with the Republicans for the resolution. He made a speech defining his position. He said he thought it only proper that the party responsible for the legislation should have a majority of the committees. He announced his intention to vote for the present Senate officers, all Democrats, thus dividing his influence. Mr. Davis denied the charge that he had sold out to the Republican party; said that he would support the administration when it was right, and oppose it when it was wrong, and that he would strive to bring about a more cordial union between North and South. In the House, the drawing of seats and the reading of the message occupied the session, and an adjournment was voted till Friday, the 9th.

On the meeting of the Senate on Wednesday, Dec. 7, Senators Sherman, Pendleton, Dawes, Lapham, Bayard and Morgan were appointed by the chair on the joint committee for the preparation of a memorial upon the death of the late President Garfield. A large number of bills of a private nature, mainly for individual relief, were introduced and referred. Bills were introduced and referred as follows: For the erection of a public building at Quincy, Ill.; to enable the people of New Mexico to form a constitution and State Government; to establish a Department of Agriculture and Commerce; making trade dollars legal tender at their nominal value for all debts, public and private, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in contract; to provide for the allotment of lands in severalty to the united Peorias and Miamis of the Indian Territory; to procure and publish certain information relative to the demand and price of American agriculture and other products in foreign countries; granting pensions to soldiers of the Mexican war, and to soldiers engaged in the Creek, Seminole and Blackhawk Indian wars; for a public building at Peoria, Ill.

The Senate passed the bill, on Thursday, the 8th inst., conferring on Mrs. Garfield the franking privilege. Mr. Garland introduced a bill providing that, in case of the removal, death, resignation or inability of both the President and Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, or if there be no Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, or if there be neither Secretary of State nor Secretary of the Treasury, then the Secretary of War, shall act as President until the disability be removed or a President be elected by the people. Mr. Plumb introduced a bill providing that certain lands heretofore granted to railroad companies be declared forfeited to the United States in cases where the lands were granted to aid in the construction of roads which have not been constructed within the specified time. Mr. Plumb also introduced a bill providing for the exemption from taxation of saving deposits in provident associations, savings banks and savings institutions, and on so much of their deposits as have been invested in United States securities. Mr. Cockrell introduced a bill providing that Union soldiers or officers who served ninety days or over during the Rebellion, and who received honorable discharge, or, in case of their death, their widows or orphans, shall be entitled to 160 acres of public land. Mr. Pendleton reintroduced his old bill providing that Cabinet officers may have seats on the floor of the Senate and House of Representatives. Mr. Merrill made a lengthy address on the Tariff Commission bill. Mr. Vest introduced bills for a bridge across the Missouri river at a point five miles above St. Louis, for recording marriages in the Territories, and for making a wife a competent witness in a trial for bigamy in the Territories. Mr. Groome presented a measure for the erection of a monument to Gen. De Kalb. The House was not in session.

THE Des Moines (Iowa) Tri-Weekly Tribune says: "A Harrisburg (Pa.) journal mentions that Mr. D. Bensinger, No. 4 Market Square, that city, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of a violent attack of rheumatism."

BANKING AND CURRENCY.

Report of Comptroller Knox.

Comptroller Knox, in his annual report, says: Eighty-six national banks were organized during the year ending Nov. 1 last, with an aggregate authorized capital of $9,651,050, to which $5,233,580 in circulating notes have been issued. This is the largest number of banks organized in any year since 1872. Twenty-six banks, with an aggregate capital of $2,020,000 and circulation of $1,245,530, have voluntarily discontinued business during the year. National banks are located in every State of the Union except Mississippi, and in every Territory except Arizona, the total number in operation on Oct. 1 last being 2,132. This is the greatest number of banks that has ever been in operation at any one time. The total number of national banks organized from the establishment of the national-banking system, Feb. 1863, to Nov. 1 of the present year, is 2,581.25.

From the establishment of the system to Nov. 1 last, 340 banks have gone into voluntary liquidation by the vote of shareholders owning two-thirds of their respective capitals, and eighty-six have been placed in the hands of receivers for the purpose of closing up their affairs. The total amount of claims proved by the creditors of these insolvent banks is $25,906,603, and the amount of dividends paid to creditors is $18,591,608. The losses to creditors from the failures of national banks during the eighteen years since the passage of the act is $6,240,000, and the average annual loss has therefore been about $346,000 in the business of corporations having an average capital of about $450,000,000 and deposits averaging about $800,000,000. Twenty-one of these insolvent banks have paid their creditors in full, and forty of them have paid more than 75 per cent. each.

The following table exhibits the resources and liabilities of the 2,148 national banks at the close of business on the 1st day of October, 1881:

Loans and discounts	$1,169,022,303
Total resources	2,358,387,391
Capital stock and surplus fund	591,963,603
Other liabilities	1,766,424,788

The period of existence of a national bank as a body corporate commences from the date of its organization certificate, and not from that of the certificate of the Comptroller authorizing the association to commence business. The corporate existence of the national bank first organized will, under this limitation of law, expire on Jan. 1, 1882, and that of the second bank on April 11 following. From the date last named to Feb. 25, 1883, the number of banks whose corporate existence will terminate is 393, having a capital of nearly $92,000,000, and circulation of nearly $68,000,000.

The number of national banks organized under the act of June 3, 1864, the term of whose corporate existence will cease during each year prior to 1891, is 1,080, with capital and circulation of $230,871,965 and $192,561,085.

Bills will undoubtedly be brought before Congress during its present session for the extension of the charters of those banks whose corporate existence is soon to expire.

The Comptroller makes an earnest plea for the national banks and combats the claim that the profit upon their circulation is excessive. He says: "The proportion of taxation, national and State, imposed upon the banks has been shown to be much greater than that upon any other moneyed capital, being in the aggregate equal to an average rate of 4 per cent upon the amount of their issues. The amount of interest received by the banks upon the United States bonds held by them has in late years gradually decreased, and the profit upon circulation has thereby been reduced almost to the minimum. Such profit cannot now, at least, be said to be excessive."

The Comptroller recommends that an act be passed during the present session authorizing any national bank, with the approval of the Comptroller, at any time within two years prior to the date of the expiration of its corporate existence, to extend its period of succession for twenty years by amending its articles of association.

The imports of gold in excess of exports, from the date of resumption to Nov. 1, 1881, have been $197,434,114, and the estimated gold production of the mines is $104,150,000. The amount received from these two sources during the year ending Nov. 1, 1881, has been $114,749,390.

The stock of standard silver dollars is also increasing at the rate of about $2,300,000 monthly, the amount coined during the year having been $27,824,955. Tables are again given herewith showing the amount of coin and currency in the country Nov. 1, 1879, 1880 and 1881:

	Nov. 1, 1879.	Nov. 1, 1880.	Nov. 1, 1881.
Gold coin*	$355,681,532	$453,882,692	$562,568,971
Silver coin	126,009,537	158,320,911	186,637,365
Legal-tender notes	346,681,016	346,681,016	346,681,016
National b'k notes	337,181,418	343,834,107	360,344,250
Totals	$1,165,553,503	$1,302,718,726	$1,455,931,602

*Estimate of Director of Mint.

The amount of legal-tender notes has remained the same since May 31, 1878, in accordance with law. The increase of national-bank notes during the year ending Nov. 1 last was $16,510,143. This, together with the increase of the gold coin, $108,686,279, and of silver coin, $27,716,454, makes a total increase of coin and bank notes of $152,912,876.

The capital of the 2,115 national banks in operation on June 30, 1881, was $460,227,835, not including surplus, which fund at that date amounted to more than $126,000,000; while the average capital of all the State banks, private bankers and savings banks, for the six months ending May 31, 1880, was but $210,738,203. The latter amount is but little more than one-third of the combined capital and surplus of the national banks.

The total number of State and savings banks and bankers in the country May 31, 1881, was 6,796, with a total banking capital of $670,906,043, and total deposits of $2,667,343,595.

The capital and net deposits of the national banks, June 1, 1881, were $460,200,000 and $1,189,900,000; and of State, savings and private banks May 31, $210,700,000 and $1,527,400,000.

The Comptroller again repeats his recommendation for the repeal of the law imposing a tax upon bank capital and deposits, and the 2-cent stamp upon bank checks.

IT is useless to groan with rheumatism when a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil will cure it, as everybody knows.—Columbus (Ohio) Daily Times.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

Judge Porter continued his cross-examination, which proved, as usual, irritating to the prisoner, who made insolent responses occasionally. "Was it one of your purposes in removing the President to create a demand for your book?" asked Judge Porter.

Answer—"Yes, sir; with the modification that it was to preach the gospel."

Witness soon became excited, and gesticulating wildly, insisted upon his inspiration, and that the Lord had selected him to do the work. He was no fool. The Lord never selected fools to do His work. He had inspired him to remove Garfield, and left him (witness) to use his own judgment in selecting the means. Continuing, excitedly: "And the Lord has taken care of me. I've neither been shot nor hung."

Judge Porter—"And you did not expect to be?"

Answer—"I decline to discuss the matter with you. I did not have any thought on the subject. I left it all to the Deity."

Witness repeatedly refused to answer questions, or, as he termed it, to "discuss" the matters under inquiry.

Judge Porter produced Guiteau's book "Truth," which witness had claimed was the result of a direct inspiration from the Deity, and compared it paragraph by paragraph with the "Bereah," the Oneida community book written by John H. Noyes.

Similarity of ideas and identity of expression was apparent all through, and the witness struggled desperately to explain away his palpable plagiarisms.

Witness believed in the personal existence of the Deity and the devil, and when the impulse to remove the President seized him he wrestled and prayed to find if it came from the Lord or the devil, and had it not been for the political situation and evident necessity for his removal for the good of the country and American people witness would not have shot the President, but would have believed the impulse was prompted by the devil.

Witness was then asked, "Are you insane at all?" and replied: "I'm not an expert. Let these experts and the jury decide that." Being pressed for his opinion, witness declined to answer. He was then subjected to a rapid series of questions, and soon began to exhibit irritability and anger, and his replies, when given at all, were in short, jerky sentences.

He was asked if he laid in wait for the President in an alley by night, and after a short wrangle said: "Now you are on that, I'll give you a little news. I'll tell you what occurred that evening of July 1." Witness then detailed his movements up to the time he saw the President and Secretary Blaine emerge from the house of the latter and walk down Fifteenth street. Said Guiteau: "They walked along so lovingly, arm-in-arm; they had their heads together like two school-girls. Their fellowship was delightful, and it confirmed me in the belief that Garfield had sold himself, body and soul, to Blaine, and that Blaine was using him to ruin the stalwart wing of the Republican party." Guiteau here became furiously excited, and plunged into a wild harangue, denouncing Blaine as a bold, wicked, designing man, who wanted to ruin the Republican party in revenge for the two times he had been slaughtered by political conventions. Striking the desk with considerable violence, he shouted: "Yes, sir, in my opinion Blaine is morally responsible for the death of Garfield."

The prisoner, in response to questions by Judge Porter, gave his story of the shooting of the President. Blaine and the President drove up in a single-horse carriage, and not in the White House carriage, which showed how much the President was under Blaine's influence. Blaine was blowing and blowing, and the President was listening. They were on the most intimate terms. Blaine got out of one side of the carriage and Garfield out of the other. They walked up to the depot and passed within a few feet of the prisoner, who drew his weapon and fired twice, and hit him once.

Q. You shot him in the back? A. I did not fire at any particular place.

Q.—Did you not fire for the hollow of his back? A.—My intention was to shoot him in the back.

Q.—Did you think if he got two balls in his back it would remove him? A.—I thought so.

Q.—And you intended to put them there? A.—I did.

Q. And you feel no remorse? A. (In a low and almost inaudible voice.) Of course I feel remorse so far as my personal feelings are concerned. I feel remorse as much as any man, and regret the necessity of the act, but [raising his voice]——

Mr. Porter—The cross-examination is closed.

Dr. Alexander Hall, of Columbus, Ohio, was called and testified to his belief in the insanity of the prisoner.

SEVENTEENTH DAY.

Col. J. O. P. Burnside, Disbursing Officer of the Postoffice Department, and Charles C. Allen, of Missouri, were the first witnesses examined. They formerly lived in Freeport, Ill., and knew the Guiteau family. They testified to the illness of the assassin's mother about the time of his birth.

Emery A. Storrs, the well-known Chicago lawyer, was then called. His testimony was a disappointment to the defense. They had supposed he would declare that, in his opinion, Guiteau was insane. According to Mrs. Scoville, Storrs told her one day in his office that he would send a deposition to that effect. When in the witness-box, however, he declined to give an opinion, stating that he was not qualified to do so, but on the cross-examination he did say that in his acquaintance with the prisoner he saw nothing which led him to believe him irresponsible for his acts or unable to distinguish between right and wrong. Mr. Scoville did his best to prevent this testimony from going on the record, and, being overruled by Judge Cox, took an exception. The evidence created quite a stir in the court-room, and seemed to stagger those about the defense's table. The sister of the prisoner was particularly affected, and, in tones distinctly caught by the reporters, said: "He has perjured himself; that is all there is about it."

Edward Daniels testified to Guiteau's peculiar religious views, and his impression was that he was crazy.

Senator David Davis was the next witness. In answer to questions by Scoville he testified that he didn't belong to either party. He had not heard of the disruption of the Republican party, and didn't believe it would disband until the Democratic party died, and the success of either party would not imperil the republic.

Q. Do you believe the success of the Democratic party would tend, in any degree, to bring on another civil war? A. No, I don't. I think that the Southern people are the last people in the world to desire to go into any war. If there be any war, it will come from somewhere else than the South.

Mr. Scoville—That is all.

Judge Davis was evidently mystified and somewhat indignant, and asked Scoville what this was all about. The lawyer for the defense said he would see when the time came.

The next witness was E. A. Bailey, Col. Corkhill's stenographer. He testified that he made the notes from which the New York Herald interview with Guiteau was published, and was paid $500. He was introduced to Guiteau by Corkhill.

Guiteau, after Bailey's withdrawal from the stand, addressed the court, saying: "The following persons I want subpœnaed as witnesses: President Arthur, Secretary Blaine, Senator Logan, Senator Conkling, Gen. Grant, Senators Platt, Dorsey and Jones, Gov. Jewell, James Gordon Bennett, Whitelaw Reid, Gov. Jones, Charles A. Dana, and W. H. Hurlbut, and files of their papers from May to June; also George C. Gorham, of the Washington Republican, and Stilson Hutchins, of the Washington Post, and files of their papers for May and June, and W. P. Nixon, of the Chicago Inter Ocean, and files of the Inter Ocean.

EIGHTEENTH DAY.

There was an immense crowd at the court house when the prisoner arrived, and he tremblingly begged the officers to take him in by the back entrance, but he was driven forward into the building.

Dr. Kennon, editor of the Medical Review, of Chicago, gave the opinion that the prisoner was insane. The assassin became incensed at the evidence of Richard Hinton, a Washington journalist, and shouted out that he had rather be hung as a man than acquitted as a fool. Dr. Nicholas, of the Bloomingdale Asylum; Dr. Folsom of Boston; Dr. Samuel Worcester, Dr. W. W. Godding, Dr. James H. McBride, of Milwaukee, and Dr. Theodore W. Fisher, of Boston, experts on insanity, were examined by Mr. Scoville for the purpose of showing that Guiteau was insane. Their answers were in reply to hypothetical questions which assumed that the witnesses favorable to Guiteau told the truth. Guiteau demanded that Grant, Conkling and Jewell be summoned.

NINETEENTH DAY.

Hon. Charles B. Farwell, of Chicago, was called as a witness, and testified that Guiteau offered to make him President if he would loan him $200,000 with which to buy the Inter Ocean newspaper. He said he believed that the assassin was not so insane but that he could distinguish between right and wrong. Whereupon the prisoner got excited, said he wanted such nonsense stopped, that he acted from inspiration, etc.

George C. Gorham, of the Washington Republican, then took the stand, and Scoville began to question him. Guiteau again broke out, telling Scoville he was crazy, and that he (Guiteau) did not approve of his method of conducting the defense. His testimony was unimportant.

Scoville stated that he desired to have President Arthur testify in the case.

Guiteau (interrupting)—Yes, and Grant, and Conkling, and the rest of my political friends. Scoville here takes altogether too narrow a view of this case.

Scoville, continuing, said he had made every effort to secure the President's attendance, but without success. It was absolutely essential to obtain his testimony.

After some discussion, counsel for the prosecution agreed to allow Scoville to prepare interrogatories to be submitted to the President, and allow his evidence in this form to be put in later.

Guiteau read to the jury for half an hour from his book, "Truth." Counsel for the prosecution objected to the reading of the entire book, and, after discussion, it was arranged that Scoville should mark such passages as he intends to rely upon and submit the book to the prosecution. With this understanding and agreement between counsel relative to the evidence of President Arthur, Scoville announced the close of the defense.

TWENTIETH DAY.

On the opening of court Guiteau opened business by declaring himself dissatisfied with the development of the facts relating to the political situation wherein lay the gist of the alleged defense, and renewed his demand for the testimony of such men as Grant, Conkling and Platt. He announced, also, his purpose of making the closing speech for the defense.

No answer having been received from the half-dozen questions submitted in writing to President Arthur, the court said that the defense should have the benefit of the said testimony when it should come.

Mr. Scoville then called Dr. E. C. Spitzger, of New York, who failed to respond, as did Mrs. Emma Rood, of Chicago, and Mr. Scoville asked for attachments.

The defense here rested, and the prosecution called Gen. W. T. Sherman to the witness-stand. He identified the letter that was placed in his hands after the shooting, written by Guiteau, and stated that he suspected at the time there might be a conspiracy, but afterward concluded the shooting was by one man.

Guiteau thanked the General for protecting him with the military, at which the warrior smiled grimly.

Edward Barton, a lawyer from Freeport, Ill., was next sworn, and stated that he well knew the prisoner's father, whom he described as a straightforward, clear-headed man of excellent intellect, and always believed him sane.

Testimony to the same effect was given by Gardner W. Tandy; Dr. B. P. Buckley, the Guiteau family physician; A. T. Green; John S. Cochrane, Prosecuting Attorney; George W. Oyler, Anson A. Babcock, David A. Sunderland and Horace Tarbox, all residents of Freeport, Ill., and well acquainted with the assassin's father.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

Col. Corkhill called, as the first witness of the day, Mrs. Julia M. Wilson, of Leadville, Col. She knew L. W. Guiteau from her earliest recollection. He was her uncle. Witness gave a most feeling account of the life and character of her mother, Mrs. Maynard, who, it had been alleged by the defense, had died insane, but who really died from pneumonia in 1856. During the examination of this witness Scoville objected to one of her answers to a question, and a lively discussion ensued between Judge Porter and Scoville. Guiteau became enraged at Judge Porter, and shouted: "Now hold your thunder till you get to the jury, Judge. You are doing this sort of thing too much." Judge Porter, without noticing the outburst, continued in the most impressive manner to argue his point, when Guiteau broke in again: "I'm not a criminal, and I won't be till convicted. I won't have that word. You just hold your eloquence till you get to the jury." Scoville expostulated with him, but he retorted in the most vicious manner: "You shut up and mind your business; I know what I'm doing."

Witness was questioned in regard to various members of the Guiteau family, and stated positively that she never saw indications of insanity in any of them.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Wilson's testimony, John W. Guiteau, brother of the assassin, arose from his seat next the prisoner, and asked the court to rule out the question and answer relative to witness' father having died of softening of the brain.

Judge Cox—"I think the matter irrelevant."

Scoville here arose, trembling with excitement, and protested against the meddling of John W. Guiteau in this case. "He is opposed to showing insanity in the family," said Scoville, and his voice was here drowned by the prisoner, who struck his hand violently on the table and shouted: "So do I. He had better get back to Boston. He has got no business here. Just because he happens to bear the same name he thinks he will get a little notoriety out of this case. I haven't known anything about the man for years. That's all there is about him, and I want him to get right out of this case."

President Arthur's replies to the written interrogatories of counsel for the defense were read. He stated that he knew nothing about Guiteau previous to the crime of the 2d of July, except that he had seen him around the Republican headquarters at New York. A number of witnesses were called to the stand and told what they had seen of the prisoner in the various places where he has made an unsavory record for himself during the past few years. Strangely enough, none of these people ever saw in him any indications of insanity, but nearly all had found evidences of moral turpitude, sometimes to their cost. The worst story was told by the Rev. Dr. McArthur, of New York, pastor of the Baptist Church to which Guiteau united himself in 1872, and from which, after borrowing $95 from the pastor, and otherwise abusing his generosity, he was excommunicated in disgrace for gross immorality. As Mr. McArthur went into the shameful details Guiteau grew irritated and then violent. Mr. Scoville objected to the testimony, and asked the use of it. "We wish to show," said District Attorney Corkhill, "that what the defense calls the prisoner's insanity is his devilish depravity." General applause followed this declaration, and a lad of 14 was expelled from the court-room as a scapegoat. After this the confusion was so great that adjournment was a relief to all concerned.

The assassin was hooted as he was led by policemen to his van.

Adulteration.

A Harvard College professor reports that out of 119 samples of wall-papers of various colors, all obtained in Boston, he found nearly one third poisonous; and out of sixteen samples of tinted papers used in kindergarten schools, cards, tickets, window curtains, lamp-shades, shades for the eyes, covers of books and boxes, wrappers, and a variety of other purposes, and in some form met with in almost every household, he found twelve poisonous; and out of forty samples of dress goods and fabrics he found nearly one quarter poisonous; also, that he has found arsenic in children's toys, candles, writing paper, [illegible] and various other articles.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

(This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.)

A STANDARD REMEDY

IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.

IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,

CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HOLMAN'S PAD

CURES Simply

Without by

MEDICINE Absorption

The Only True Malarial Antidote.

DR. HOLMAN'S PAD is no guess-work remedy—no feeble imitative experiment—no purloined hodge podge of some other inventor's idea; it is the original and only genuine curative Pad, the only remedy that has an honestly-acquired right to use the title-word "Pad" in connection with a treatment for chronic diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Spleen.

By a recently perfected improvement DR. HOLMAN has greatly increased the scope of the Pad's usefulness, and appreciably augmented its active curative power.

This great improvement gives HOLMAN'S PAD (with its Adjuvants) such complete and unfailing control over the most persistent and unyielding forms of Chronic Disease of the Stomach and Liver, as well as Malarial Blood-Poisoning, as to amply justify the eminent Professor Loomis' high encomium: "IT IS NEARER A UNIVERSAL PANACEA THAN ANYTHING IN MEDICINE!"

The success of HOLMAN'S PADS has inspired imitators who offer Pads similar in form and odor to the genuine HOLMAN PAD. Beware of these Bogus and Imitation Pads, gotten up to sell on the reputation of the GENUINE HOLMAN PAD.

Each Genuine Holman Pad bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the HOLMAN PAD COMPANY with the above Trade Mark printed in green.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS,

Or sent by mail, post-paid on receipt of $2.00.

HOLMAN PAD CO.,

[P. O. Box 2112.] 744 Broadway, N. Y.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till Cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

NEW RICH BLOOD!

Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sold everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE.

Best in the World. Get the genuine. Every package has our Trade-mark and is marked Frazer's. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

IOWA Rail Road LAND

Over Half Million Acres

For Sale by the Iowa R. R. Land Co

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

WANNER'S SWISS BALSAM!

Contains neither grease nor poison. Cures permanently all Diseases of the Scalp and Skin. It may be safely applied to the youngest child, yet will remove the worst eruption in two weeks, rendering the skin smooth as velvet. It eradicates Dandruff, stops Falling Out of the Hair, making it soft and silky, and produces a new growth. $1 a bottle.

☞ Order through your Druggist.

WANNER & CO., Proprietors, 8 Barclay St., N. Y.

VAN SCHAACK, STEVENSON & CO., Northwestern Agents, Chicago, Ill.

"The Harp that once through Tara's Halls."

THE HARP-ETTE,

$1.50—OR—$2.50.

AMERICAN ZITHER.

The Best Low Priced String Instrument in the World. The easiest instrument to learn to play and as sweet and melodious as a fine harp or violin. By means of the instruction anyone with an ear for music can learn to play several tunes in two hours. The Harp-ette is played with the thumb and forefinger, same as a regular harp. You can learn HOW to play it in few minutes. It is tuned by pegs and a key, same as a piano, a key given free with each one, and it is played like any zither. It will play any tune played on a [illegible] or flute. Also good for dance music. You can earn one of the easy waltzes in a few minutes. They are very [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], made mostly made of hard wood, highly [illegible], and is an ornament to any room. It is a great favorite with the ladies, [illegible] are having to play [illegible]. Price, 16 strings and [illegible] $1.50, [illegible] strings, only $2.50. Instruction and 16 popular airs, set to music for the Zither free with each. N. B.—Do not confound this superior instrument with a cheap imitation, advertised as same or less price. Address [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], [illegible] Washington Street, Boston, Mass. Sent to any address on receipt of price.

On the Ægean Sea.

At last at two in the afternoon, Chios, the ill-starred, is in sight. As if she had glory enough in giving birth to "the blind old man of Scio's rocky isle," she must add to the great epic a fiery ordeal and tragedy. The isle is only about the size of Orange County, New York, thirty-two by eighteen miles, but it is big with renown! Cut off by a narrow strait from Asia, it looms upon the vision in three-fold mountainous magnificence. As we near it a breeze blows down the strait from the northwest. How do I ascertain this point of the compass? Not alone by the red, blue, and white Russian ensign, whose double eagle dallies wind and scorns the sun; not from the white plumes which shine upon the cloven helmet of the wave, but from the dozen Moslems on the deck, who, with unfailing piety, turn, by starlight or sunlight, toward Mecca, and "compass" our thought. One of these Moslems is a soldier, three are Caucasians, one an Imam, or priest, and all are pilgrims bound to Mecca. As Chios is more clearly sighted, one of this number calls to prayers! It is the Moolah. How strange and audacious his call, on this steamer of civilization! Soon the carpets are upon the deck, and the genuflections and monotones of the pilgrims begin. Then, putting upon their prayers a splendid climax, and then pulling on their slippers, they, too, take a curious look at the celebrated and ill-fated island. This isle is known to the Mohommedans, not for its wine, for they are abstinent; not for its figs, for other places are more prolific; not for its silk, for silken Broussa outvies all these isles; but for its mastic, the product of the lentisk tree, which when incised drops its gum about the middle of August. When refined it is used by the Levantine females, who are not too languid to knit like Penelope, and not too lazy to chew. It is to the female what tobacco is to our sex. It also makes liquor. This gum was the chief source of revenue to the mother of the Sultan, and the isle is said to have had some political and other advantages by reason of this peculiar product.

As we draw nearer to this isle of Chios I look about to see the terrible work of the earthquake. What a catastrophe, for ever so little a tremble! Looking away to the east for a moment the mainland appears a rocky reach of high, clear-lined mountains. They are streaked with dark lines and vales. Beyond and above Scio the shade and sunlight alternate, and at their base there are flat green spots, deltas of mountain streams. A few villages are scattered along. The city of Castro itself, which once contained 30,000 people, was the capital of the island when it had 110,000. This was before the Greek revolution of 1822. It now looks like a shriveled, twisted skeleton. Its very sea-walls give token of its shattered condition. As we approach still nearer we perceive a hundred vessels in the harbor, if it may be called one, by courtesy. The mountains above now seem topped by palisades, and still above them and remote are other dreamy Grecian mountains, full of myths and [illegible] little specks of green, where dryads, and olives, and Pan, and Nature once lurked. The sea never looked so blue in its bonnets of white. The ragged sea-walls give a still more desolate look to the harbor, to which the demolished castle adds its sad aspect. The city looks like a disordered body holding a crazy mind. There are trees amidst the ruins. They give even to the desolation a sort of sylvan Grecian beauty, for trees are now rare on these denuded Grecian isles. Now, as we come still nearer, the waves are seen to make cascades over and channels through the broken mole. Some windmills fly their sails on the lowest lands. A few other sails on the steadier element—the sea—ply their work in front of the harbor.—Congressman Cox in New York Express.

Dean Stanley.

About three years ago, on Whit-Monday—one of those occasions when the Dean delighted to mingle with the groups in the Abbey, drawing their attention to points of interest and beauty that might have been missed by working men, or explaining the history of particular monuments—a woman and her two children, a boy and girl, were lingering around Henry VII.'s Chapel. They were not exactly belonging to the artisan class, but poor evidently, and with an air of struggling respectability.

As they chanced to come near the Dean, who had been talking to others, the woman timidly asked him if it was "true that some little princes were buried in the Abbey." Immediately he took them to the chapel where are deposited the remains of the two princes murdered in the Tower, and spent some little time talking to the children, especially asking if they were learning English history at school, upon which the mother answered with pride, pointing to the boy, "Oh, yes; he learns his lessons, and he is going to be a preacher, too."

The quick sympathy of Dean Stanley was aroused at once, and with that enthusiasm which kindles young minds and is never lost upon children, he said, "Then he ought to see John Wesley's monument. Come with me." We followed him to the aisle where the monument is placed—one of many others added during Dean Stanley's time—and there he pointed out to the small, white-faced boy of twelve years old or so the image of the man he was to emulate, and spoke of the goodness, earnestness, and zeal of Wesley. Surely, the enthusiasm with which it was done, shown in voice and manner, can never be forgotten by those children, and was as characteristic of the man we mourn as was the quickness of his unfailing sympathy.—[The Spectator.

Thrilling Courtship.

"Don't contradict me," said the stern parent. "You have been holding secret interviews with Charles Mousterrat de Montmorenci." He was a proud but fashionable tailor and not to be trifled with. "How did you find it out?" sobbed the daughter. "You never saw us?" "No, I never saw you," he returned, indignantly; "but my faithful Bruno came running to me this very evening with a mouthful of cloth. I recognized the pattern at once. I cut the piece to make a pair of pants for young Montmorenci two months ago, and he hasn't paid for them yet." All she answered was, "Father, dear, it's too awfully too too," and she felt like a little faded flower at his feet.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Weeping Willow.

You have seen and admired the weeping willow tree—the Salix Babylonica—upon which the captive Hebrews hung their harps when they sat down by the rivers of Babylon and "wept when they remembered Zion." It is a native of the Garden of Eden, and not of America, and I will tell you how it emigrated to this country.

More than one hundred and fifty years ago a merchant lost his fortune. He went to Smyrna, a seaside city of Asia Minor, to recover it. Alexander Pope, one of the greatest poets of England, was the merchant's warmest friend, and sympathized with him in his misfortunes.

Soon after the merchant arrived in Smyrna he sent to Pope, as a present, a box of dried figs. At that time the poet had built a beautiful villa at Twickenham, on the bank of the Thames, and was adorning it with trees, shrubbery and flowering plants.

On opening the box of figs, Pope discovered in it a small twig of a tree. It was a stranger to him. As it came from the east he planted the twig in the ground near the river, close by his villa. The spot accidentally chosen for its planting was favorable for its growth, for the twig was from the weeping willow tree—possibly from the bank of one of the "rivers of Babylon"—which flourishes best along the borders of watercourses.

This little twig grew vigorously, and in a few years became a large tree, spreading wide its branches and drooping, graceful sprays, and winning the admiration of the poet's friends as well as strangers. It became the ancestor of all the weeping willow trees in England.

There was a rebellion in the English-American colonies in 1775. British troops were sent to Boston to put down the insurrection. Their leaders expected it to end in a few weeks after their arrival. Some young officers brought fishing-tackle with them, to enable them to enjoy sport after their brief war. Others came to settle on the confiscated land of the rebels.

Among the latter was a young officer on the staff of General Howe. He brought with him, wrapped in oil-silk, a twig from Pope's weeping willow tree at Twickenham, which he intended to plant on some stream watering his American estate.

Washington commanded an army before Boston, which kept the British imprisoned in that city a long time against their will. On his staff was his stepson, John Parke Custis, who frequently went to the British headquarters, under the protection of a flag, with dispatches for Gen. Howe. He became acquainted with the young officer who had the willow twig, and they became friends.

Instead of "crushing the rebellion in six weeks," the British army at Boston, at the end of an imprisonment of nine months, were glad to fly by sea, for their life and liberty, to Halifax. Long before that flight the British subaltern, satisfied that he should never have an estate in America to adorn, gave his carefully preserved willow twig to young Custis, who planted it at Abingdon, his estate in Virginia, where it grew and flourished, and became parent to all the weeping willows in the United States.

Some time after the war, General Horatio Gates, of the Revolution, settled on the "Rose Hill Farm," on New York Island, and at the entrance to the lane which led from a country road to his house he planted a twig from the vigorous willow of Abingdon, which he had brought with him. That country road is now Third Avenue and the lane is Twenty-second street. Gates' mansion, built of wood and two stories in height, stood near the corner of Twenty-seventh street and Second avenue, where I saw it consumed by fire in 1815. The tree which grew from the sprig planted at the entrance of Gates' lane remained till comparatively a few years ago. It stood on the northeast corner of Third avenue and Twenty-second street. It was a direct descendant, in the third generation, of Pope's willow, planted at Twickenham about 1772.—Benson F. Lossing.

Determined Success.

The writer that talks of the great things that may be achieved by a determined will—by an intense, continuous act of volition to do and be such and such a thing—forgets that this power of willing strongly is, to a large extent, a gift of nature, and as rare as any other good thing in the world. As a sensible writer says: "A man starts on his career with a tacit understanding with himself, that he is to rise. It is step-by-step progress. He probably has no distinct aim. It is only in books that he resolves from the first dawning of ambition to become owner of such an estate, or bishop of such a see. But he means to get on, and labors to that end. He fixes his thought beyond immediate self-indulgence, chooses his friends as they will help the main design, falls in love on the same principle, and habitually deferring to a vague but glowing future, learns to work toward it, and for its sake to be self-denying and long sighted. His instincts quicken; he puts forth feelers, which men who take their pleasure from hand to mouth, have no use for; he lives in habitual caution, with an eye always to the main chance. Thus, he refines and enhances the natural discretion which doubles the weight and value of every other gift, and yet keeps them on an unobtrusive level, leaving itself the most notable quality, till he is universally pronounced the man made to go on by people who do not know that it is a steady will that has made him what he is."

Mason & Hamlin Organ Company.

At the great Italian Industrial Exhibition just closing in Milan, Italy, the highest awards for musical instruments, a silver medal and diploma, were taken by an American manufacturer, the Mason & Hamlin Organ Company, whose cabinet organs were judged to be so superior that they were the only reed organs of any manufacture, European or American, which were awarded a medal. It is a great honor to these makers that in Italy itself, the very home of music, their organs should receive such distinction. They excited much interest among musicians, and were by special order repeatedly exhibited to the royal court by Carlo Ducci, the distinguished artist of Rome.

A Studious Inventor.

Ransom Cook, who died at Saratoga, last summer, was master of twenty-six trades, and owner of seventeen patents. Among the latter was one for the improvement in the manufacture of wrought iron and steel cannon. This idea was appropriated by Sir William Armstrong, who made both fame and fortune out of it. Among the other patents was one for a lunch case, one for a fan blower, one for a hydraulic apparatus for producing a blast, for an improved electro-magnetic ore separator (made by Mr. Cook when 80 years old) an improvement in blast pipes for carrying heated air and gases to furnaces, an improvement in scissors, an improved boring instrument known as the "Cook Auger," an improved machine for turning the lips of augers, an improved bit for boring wood, an improvement in ventilating and excluding dust from railway cars, an improved exhaust fan, and an improvement in the mode of straining saws for saw-mills. There were several others of more or less importance. Some of his inventions, particularly the patent auger, were very profitable. He was making a machine and wanted an auger that would bore at an angle with the grain without starting with a gouge. He hit upon the idea of examining the lips of the worm commonly known as the wood-borer, with a microscope, and from this model, furnished by nature, he made his auger, which was very successful. His workshop was a curiosity. He made all his own models, and had engines and machinery well adapted to the purpose. He has also accumulated one of the most complete and valuable collections of scientific and mechanical books in the country.

Six Hundred Victims of Whisky.

The Corwin during her voyage to Alaska landed on St. Lawrence island, having orders to investigate the wholesale starvation of the natives. At the first village at which they landed all were dead; so also at the second, where fifty-four dead bodies were counted, nearly all full-grown males. At another place 150 persons—men, women and children—were dead. At the next settlement, twelve dead bodies, and at the following thirty were found. All the inhabitants on the north side of the island, where whisky traders sold liquor, are dead—not one escaping. The general starvation occurred two years ago last winter. Since then the presence of the Corwin in the Arctic has broken up this inhuman whisky trading. The empty whisky kegs are been strewn all about. The total number of dead bodies found on St. Lawrence island was over 600. The survivors say that white traders from Honolulu sold whisky, which the natives bought and got drunk, remaining so during the season for laying in their winter supply of walrus and seal.—San Francisco Alta.

THE DEAD CANNOT BE RAISED,

nor if your lungs are badly wasted away can you be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is, however, unequaled as a tonic, alterative and nutritive, and readily cures the most obstinate cases of bronchitis, coughs, colds and incipient consumption, far surpassing in efficacy cod liver oil. Send two stamps for Dr. Pierce's pamphlet on Consumption and Kindred Affections. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

TALK about gossip. How could the world dispense with it? A party of men on the backyard fence, and a parcel of women around the tea table, would fall to sleep from innate stupidity, if there was no such thing as gossip.—New Haven Register.

"FEMALE COMPLAINTS."

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I write to tell you what your "Favorite Prescription" has done for me. I had been a great sufferer from female complaints, especially "dragging down," for over six years, during much of the time unable to work. I paid out hundreds of dollars without any benefit till I took three bottles of the "Favorite Prescription," and I never had anything do me so much good in my life. I advise every sick lady to try it. MRS. EMILY RHOADS, McBrides, Mich.

"ED" writes to know whether it is safest to carry money in the pants or vest pocket. Money is securest when it's invest-Ed.

YOUNG and middle-aged men suffering from nervous debility, premature old age, loss of memory and kindred symptoms should send three stamps for Part VII. of pamphlets issued by World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

IT may serve as a comfort to us in all our calamities and afflictions, that he that loses anything and gets wisdom by it, is a gainer by the loss.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, etc., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well-known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

"NO STAR ever rose and set without influence somewhere," says a philosopher. The same remark is applicable to a hen.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Where Sunshine Lingers.

I am thinking of a room in which what most people call untidiness was a blessed element. It is filled with sunshine and the breath of flowers. There a tired man comes home and throws off his coat and hat without looking to see what becomes of them. There is a broad table in the light, strewn with papers and magazines, with a litter of rose leaves dropping over them like a central vase. There is a wide sofa of the days of the Georges, fresh covered in chintz, with ferns and harebells for patterns, and a tired man goes down there with a great ruffled pillow under his shoulders, and open parcels and letters, dropping them on the floor as the most natural place for them. A girl's work lies near a dainty basket, heaped with bright colored crewels and silk. Nothing in the room is very fine, but everything looks spotless and bright. The chairs have no particular places, and anybody feels at liberty to draw the sofa out when it pleases him. There is no primness about the place. It is a lovely home—a place for indulgence and repose.

NO MAN knows what a ministering angel his wife is until he comes home one day, suffering with a dreadful Cold, and she happens to have a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house.

The Cost of Weddings.

Now that the season of fashionable city weddings is once more upon us, it may be interesting to know that some enemy of the human race has prepared and printed the following table of the average expense of such a festivity. For a wedding of 1,000 guests, with ushers and bridesmaids, exclusive of bridal dress and trousseau:

Cards	$ 200	to	$ 300
Matrimonial undertaker	100	to	200
Ushers' scarfs	12	to	18
Ushers' pins	20	to	60
Minister's fee	100	to	600
Sexton's fee	25	to	50
Dinner given by groom	20	to	40
Bridesmaids' dresses	400	to	600
Caterer	500	to	1,000
Music	50	to	60
Florist	200	to	600
Organist	50	to	100
Miscellaneous	100	to	300
Total	$1,887	to	$3,497

People about to incur such an outlay may either take Punch's advice or imitate the Wall street bear who recently caused a man to put his intended son-in-law up to eloping on the express ground of economy.—New York World.

Set Back 42 Years.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, etc.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old, worn-out man all over; could get nothing to help me until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial."—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

Mistaken.

An American who started to ride from Colima to Manzanillo, in Mexico, was stopped on the highway by a well-armed bandit.

"Pardon, senor," exclaimed the latter, "but I perceive that you have my coat on. Will you have the kindness to remove it?"

The American produced a six-shooter, and, cocking it, replied:

"Senor, I am of the opinion that you are mistaken about that coat."

"On closer observation I perceive that I am," the bandit answered, and disappeared in the wood.

Not Bad to Take.

Consumptive people and those suffering with weak lungs, coughs, colds, sore throat and asthma are earnestly recommended to take Piso's Cure, the best and most pleasant remedy for those diseases.

H. M. Bangs, of Chatsworth, Ill., writes: "Piso's Cure for Consumption is the best cough remedy in the market, without any exception."

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send their Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to any person afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing complete restoration of vigor and manhood.

Address as above without delay.

N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

"Rough on Rats."

Ask Druggists for it. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs. 15 cents.

DR. WINCHELL'S Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

INDIGESTION, dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all forms of general debility relieved by taking MENSMAN'S PEPTONIZED BEEF TONIC, the only preparation of beef containing its entire nutritious properties. It contains blood-making, force-generating and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork or acute disease, particularly if resulting from pulmonary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., proprietors, New York.

FOR Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

DR. HOLMAN'S AGUE AND LIVER PAD always cures because it acts upon Dr. Holman's absorption theory, now universally acknowledged to be scientifically correct. Its imitations fail because they are imitations, and of no value whatsoever.

CARBOLINE, a deodorized extract of petroleum, cures baldness. This is a positive fact, attested by thousands. No other hair preparation in the world will really do this. Besides, as now improved, it is a delightful dressing.

FOR a Christmas present buy one of the Mass. Organ Co.'s Harpettes, and your children will be delighted and give you music in your own home these long winter evenings.

FOR Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

A. BEATTY'S PIANOFORTES.—Magnificent holiday presents; square grand pianofortes, four very handsome round corners, rosewood cases, three unisons, Beatty's matchless iron frames, stool, book, cover, boxes, $222.75 to $297.50; catalogue prices, $800 to $1000; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded, after one year's use; Upright Pianofortes, $125 to $255; catalogue prices $500 to $800; standard pianofortes of the universe, as thousands testify; write for mammoth list of testimonials. Beatty's Cabinet ORGANS, cathedral, church, chapel, parlor, $30 upward. Visitors welcome; free carriage meets passengers; illustrated catalogue (holiday edition) free. Address or call upon DANIEL F. BEATTY, WASHINGTON, NEW JERSEY.

Dr. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

DR. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

WATCHES Catalogue free, address, American Watch Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Readers & Agents wanted in every town. For particulars address [illegible] St., N. Y.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

MARRIAGES MADE without fail. Address for circulars, inclosing stamp, UNION AGENCY, Postoffice Drawer 15, Buffalo, N.Y.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per cent. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

YOUNG MEN If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

DON'T READ THIS—If of the best-selling articles [illegible] sent prepaid on receipt of 25 cents. [illegible] profit sure. Sample and circulars 10 cents. Address WILLIAMS & HASSETT, Meriden, Ct. P. O. Box No. [illegible]

FRENCH or GERMAN without teacher. Can speak fluently in 10 weeks by "Meisterschaft System." Circulars free, or 25c. for Part 1, French or German. I. K. FUNK & CO., 12 Dey St., New York.

CHEAPEST BOOKS IN THE WORLD Macaulay's History of England, 5 vols. 12mo, cloth (reduced) $2.00. Taine's History of Eng. Literature, 1 vol. 12mo, handsomely bound, for only 60 cts. Full descriptive catalogue free. MANHATTAN BOOK CO. 16 W. 14th St., N. Y. P.O. Box 4580

PENSIONS! ARE PAID every soldier disabled by accident or otherwise. A WOUND of any kind, loss of finger, toe or eye, RUPTURE, if but slight, diseases of Lungs or Varicose Veins give a pension. Under new law thousands are entitled to an increase of pension. Widows, orphans and dependent fathers or mothers of soldiers get a pension. Send 2 stamps for copy Pension and Bounty Acts. Address P. H. Fitzgerald & Co., Claim Agents, Indianapolis, Ind. Refer to Ind. Banking Co. and Frees' Central Bank, both of Indianapolis.

REVOLUTION PRICES. $1.50 S. S. library books for 5 cents each. [illegible] books for 5 cents each. 50c. plays, reward cards for 10c., 3 for 25c. $1.50 holiday books for 15c. Teachers' library of 12 books for $1—worth $15; single books 15c. each. Also full line S. S. banners, pledge rolls, Band of Hope certificates, chromos, wall mottoes, etc., at prices that will astonish. Testaments at 5c. and upwards. Most complete teachers' Bibles only $1.30. See adv. religious press. Catalogue free. Address, stating kind of goods wanted, DAVID C. COOK, 148 Madison St., Chicago.

FLORIDA! Atlantic and Gulf Coast Canal and Okeechobee Land Co. of Fla. ISSUE OF 50,000 SHARES OF $10 EACH AT PAR, With bonus of 40 acres for each 10 shares, from choice lands of the "Disston purchase." OFFICES—Third and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia; 115 Broadway, N. Y., Rooms 111-112. Detailed prospectus with descriptive maps mailed free to applicants.

ANOTHER BOOM FOR AGENTS. MARK TWAIN'S NEW BOOK is decidedly THE BEST The Prince and the Pauper Will outsell all his previous works, and offers you the best chance of your life to make money rapidly. Old agents will act promptly and secure choice territory, and we advise you to do the same. Outfits now ready. Send at once for circulars and terms to H. N. HINCKLEY, Publisher, 14 S. Canal St., Chicago, Ill.

5,000 Agents Wanted for Life of GARFIELD It contains the full history of his noble and eventful life and dastardly assassination. Surgical treatment, death, funeral obsequies, etc. The best chance of your life to make money. Beware of "catchpenny" imitations. This is the only authentic and fully illustrated life of our martyred President. Fine steel portraits. Extra terms to Agents. Circulars free. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

If you enjoy a laugh heartily Then read our SCIENCE IN STORY Of Sammy Tubbs and his Spousie, The Boy Doctor & Trick Monkey; The author, E. B. Foote, M. D. Illustrated contents free. But if you're fond of lots o' fun, Just buy the Polyopticon; For Magic Lanterns are outdone. The Poly. is a picture-gun For photographs of any one. MURRAY HILL PUB. CO., Box 788, New York City.

PRICE $20. NO SUIT! NO PAY! This N. Y. Singer Sewing Machine is the best ever made—runs fast, runs easy, very handsome, quiet, durable, simple, convenient, and powerful. Warranted 5 years. Sent anywhere on 5 days trial. Pay if it pleases. 4,000,000 of this model machine have been sold. Ask for circulars and testimonials. Low prices to clubs. No risk to try us. Thousands do every year, and thank us for the $10 to $50 saved in buying direct. Cut this out, and when you or a friend need a Sewing Machine be sure to address GEO. PAYNE & CO., 47 Third Av., Chicago, Ill.

BALLOU'S Monthly Magazine For 1882. ILLUSTRATED. 100 Pages Entertainment a Month (1,200 a Year) for $1.50 per Annum, Postpaid. Charming Romances, Humorous Sketches, Love Stories, Travels and Adventures by Sea and Land, Illustrated Poems, Music, Juvenile Department, Editor's Drawer, Puzzle Page, Ladies' Department, Housekeeper's Department, Comic Illustrations, &c., all forming a Most Complete and Popular Serial and Oldest in the Country. Do not subscribe for any publication until you have sent 10 cents to the publishers of this popular monthly, and received a copy of the issue for January, 1882, with its many NEW IMPROVEMENTS. Then, if you wish to continue, it will only be necessary to remit $1.40 for the balance of the year. No notice taken of postal cards calling for samples. For sale by all Newsdealers at 15c. a copy. THOMES & TALBOT, Pubs., 23 Hawley Street, Boston, Mass.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & CO., Portland, Me.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED. In Sheep, Russia and Turkey Bindings. WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY NEW EDITION WITH SUPPLEMENT. New Edition of WEBSTER has 118,000 Words, 3000 Engravings, 4600 New Words & Meanings, and Biographical Dictionary of over 9700 Names. Get the Standard. THE Standard in the Gov't Printing Office,—32,000 copies in Public Schools,—sale 20 times as large as the sale of any other. BEST aid in a Family, in helping its members to become intelligent. Best aid for TEACHERS and SCHOLARS, in SCHOOLS. GIFT Most acceptable to Pastor, Parent, Teacher, Child, Friend; for Holidays, Birthday, Wedding, or any other occasion. Published by G. & C. MERRIAM, Springfield, Mass.

HOP BITTERS. (A Medicine, not a Drink.) CONTAINS HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION, AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS. THEY CURE All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints. $1000 IN GOLD. Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them. Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no other. D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics. SEND FOR CIRCULAR. All above sold by druggists. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

Lay the Axe to the Root If you would destroy the cankering worm. For any external pain, sore, wound or lameness of man or beast, use only MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. It penetrates all muscle and flesh to the very bone, expelling all inflammation, soreness and pain, and healing the diseased part as no other Liniment ever did or can. So saith the experience of two generations of sufferers, and so will you say when you have tried the "Mustang."

TRUTH IS MIGHTY. [illegible]

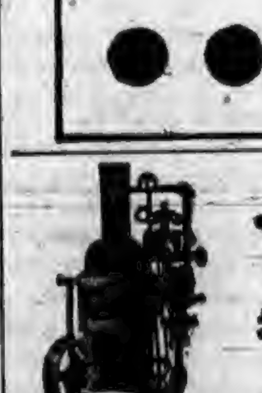
C. N. U. No. 50

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Dr. HARTER'S Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c. GENTLEMEN:—I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your IRON TONIC, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. The old energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. WATSON, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O. The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary. IRON TONIC. MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., No. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE. THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the LAST YEAR than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, twenty years since; and are now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE and ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular MEDIUM and SMALLER STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $54, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than 100 styles of Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which will be useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or, 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

Dr METTAUR'S Dr. METTAUR'S HEADACHE PILLS cure most wonderfully in a very short time both SICK and NERVOUS HEADACHE; and while acting on the nervous system, cleanse the stomach of excess of bile, producing a regular healthy action of the bowels. HEADACHE A full size box of these valuable PILLS, with full directions for a complete cure, mailed to any address on receipt of nine three-cent postage stamps. For sale by all druggists at 25c. Sole Proprietors, BROWN CHEMICAL COMPANY, Baltimore, Md. PILLS



ESTABLISHED 1844. JOSEPH C. TODD, Engineer and Machinist. Flax, Hemp, Jute, Rope, Oakum, and Bagging Machinery, Steam Engines, Boilers, &c. Sole agent for Mayher's New Patent Acme Steam Engine and Force Pump combined. Also, owner and exclusive manufacturer of The New Baxter Patent Portable Steam Engine. These engines are admirably adapted to all kinds of light power for driving printing presses, pumping water, sawing wood, grinding coffee, ginning cotton, and all kinds of agricultural and mechanical purposes, and are furnished at the following low prices: 1-horse power $150; 2-horse power 245; 3-horse power 290; 1½-horse power [illegible]; 2½-horse power [illegible]; 4-horse power [illegible]. Send for descriptive circular. Address J. C. TODD, Paterson, N. J., Or No. 10 Barclay-st., New-York.

KIDNEY-WORT

DOES WONDERFUL CURES!

WHY?

Because it acts on the LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS at the same time.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Disorders and Female Complaints.

SEE WHAT PEOPLE SAY:

Eugene B. Stork, of Junction City, Kansas, says, Kidney-Wort cured him after regular Physicians had been trying for four years.

Mrs. John Arnall, of Washington, Ohio, says her boy was given up to die by four prominent physicians and that he was afterwards cured by Kidney-Wort.

M. M. B. Goodwin, an editor in Chardon, Ohio, says he was not expected to live, being bloated beyond belief, but Kidney-Wort cured him.

Anna L. Jarrett of South Salem, N. Y., says that seven years suffering from kidney troubles and other complications was ended by the use of Kidney-Wort.

John B. Lawrence of Jackson, Tenn., suffered for years from liver and kidney troubles and after taking "barrels of other medicines," Kidney-Wort made him well.

Michael Cote of Montgomery Center, Vt., suffered eight years with kidney difficulty and was unable to work. Kidney-Wort made him "well as ever."

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES

KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

☞ It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form in tin cans, one package of which makes six quarts of medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for those that cannot readily prepare it.

☞ It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

GET IT AT THE DRUGGISTS. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,

(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink,)

CONTAINS

HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION.

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE

All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.

$1000 IN GOLD.

Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.

Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no Other.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

All above sold by druggists.

Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

CROWN SEWING MACHINE IS THE BEST

It is the result of 20 years' experience and experiments in Sewing Machines. It combines the good points of all present and former makes, and is not a "one man" or "one idea" machine, as others are. It avoids the defects of others, and possesses new and valuable features and conveniences. It is large, light-running, noiseless, handsome, convenient, durable, and simple. Warranted and kept in repair free for 5 years. Circulars with full description sent free on request. It is surely the best. A trial will prove it. Don't fail to see it before you buy. MANUFACTURED BY FLORENCE MACHINE CO., Florence, Mass.; WHOLESALED BY GEO. P. BENT, 81 and 83 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

DO

Send for our New Illustrated Price-List No. 30, for Fall and Winter of 1881. Free to any address. Contains full description of all kinds of goods for personal and family use. We deal directly with the consumer, and sell all goods in any quantity at wholesale prices. You can buy better and cheaper than at home.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

227 and 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc.

The Recipe used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 425 E. Main St., Milwaukee, Wis.

SUFFERERS from Gleet and Gonorrhea, or ladies troubled with Whites, should by all means try

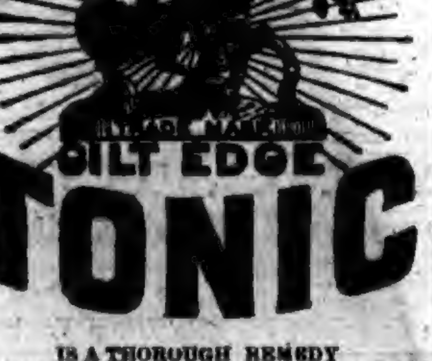
SANTINELI

It is a new cure for LEUCORRHEA or WHITES, female disease

CURES GLEET AND GONORRHEA

In from 1 to 5 days without fail. Sold by all druggists. Price, $1.00 a bottle or sent dry postpaid, on receipt of price to any part of U. S. GREAT WESTERN MEDICINE CO. 187 Central Avenue, CINCINNATI, O. Please mention this paper.

REED'S



GILT EDGE TONIC

IS A THOROUGH REMEDY

In every case of Malarial Fever, Fever and Ague and Dumb Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbances of the Animal Forces, which debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It should not be confounded with the triturated compounds of cheap spirits and essential oil, often sold under the name of Bitters.

☞ For Sale by Druggists and General Dealers Everywhere.

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

A Natural Mistake.

'Squire McGill had occasion to go to Cortland, and while there he went into a grocery and purchased a dozen lemons, making the remark to the lady clerk that he guessed he'd have some lemonade when he got home.

"Do you want a squeezer?" she asked.

"Marm?"

"Won't you have a squeeze, sir?"

"Well, marm, ef I was a young man I would. But I've been married nigh onto thirty years, and the old lady is dreffle sot agin huggin' out o' the family."

An explanation was made, and the 'squire bought a squeezer to settle it.—[Ex.

Why Wear Plasters?

They may relieve, but they can't cure that lame back for the kidneys are the trouble, and you want a remedy to act directly on their secretions, to purify and restore their healthy condition. Kidney-Wort has that specific action—and at the same time it regulates the bowels perfectly. Don't wait to get sick, but get a package to-day, and cure yourself. Either liquid or dry, for sale at the druggists.—[Binghamton Republican.

School Report.

Report of district No. 6, Jackson township, for the month ending Dec. 9, 1881: Whole number of pupils enrolled, 39; average daily attendance for the month, 36. The following named pupils were neither absent nor tardy: 5th grade, Alice Bishop, Jennie Ferguson, Jane Bishop, Ollie Tarney, Ada Shearer, Bitha Baughman, Oliver McClure, George Johnson. 4th grade, Maggie Baughman, Joseph Ferguson, Charlie Wyatt. 3rd grade, Minnie Johnson, Curtie Harris. 2d grade, Stella Tarney, Mary Shearer. 1st grade, Clara Means, John Shearer, Corma Gibford, Charlie Gibford and Thomas Morr. Punctuality and attendance are very good, and my monthly average would have been better, but that some did not commence school at the beginning of the month.

A. W. ASH, Teacher.

Must Have a Scotch Hammer.

A correspondent writes of an amusing incident which occurred at Oneonta, N. Y., and says that he knows all the persons refered to, and can vouch for the truth of it. "A carpenter and joiner in Oneonta said to his fellow-workmen: 'As soon as I can get a chance, I am going to send over home to Scotland and get a claw-hammer, one that I can work with; I can't get a decent hammer in America.' About this time a friend of his was going back to the 'auld sod,' and he commissioned him to go to the best hardware store in Glasgow and get a carpenter's claw-hammer, the best he could find, regardless of cost. In due time the friend returned, bringing the desired tool. The party gathered around him, including some of his fellow-workmen, and he proceeded to open the package, in the meantime making the remark: 'I'll show you something to make your eyes water,' as the friend had assured him that he had brought him the kind of hammer used by the best workmen in Glasgow. He affectionately unwound the wraps, and, as he took the tool and handed it over to his friends, he said: 'There, look at that!' One of his friends did so, and read the trade-mark on the hammer: 'Made at Norwich, N. Y., U. S.' There is no more bragging about scotch hammers."—[Albany Argus.

Comeskey's Corners.

Cloudy weather, with a few drops of snow last night.

Health is good in this vicinity.

Church at M. T. Olive's last Sunday.

The school in district No. 9, is progressing. All seem satisfied and well pleased with the teacher, Miss Olive Nelson.

H. L. Carnahan has moved into his new residence.

John Dove has a new roof on his house.

Miss Laura Comeskey spent a few days at home last week.

The county ditch is progressing slowly.

Peter Freeman is dangerously ill with consumption.

A surprise party at C. Comeskey's last week.

Mr. Marion Carnahan has left off traveling, and laid aside his carpenter tools, and is now learning to make stave bolts.

—A minister had a negro in his family. One Sunday, when he was preaching he happened to look in the pew where the negro was, and could hardly contain himself as he saw the negro, who could not read or write a word, scribbling away most industriously. After meeting, he said to the negro, "Tom what were you doing in church?" "Taking note, massa; all de gemmen take notes." "Bring your notes here and let me see them." Tom brought his notes, which looked more like Chinese than English. "Why, Tom, this is all nonsense." "I thought so, massa, all the time you were preaching it."

Toy books all kinds and prices at Davenport's.

A Connecticut man recently said; "Lend me a dollar, my wife has left me and I want to advertise that I am not responsible for her debts."—[Danbury News.

When you hear a man talking too much about mock modesty you may be reminded of what Lamb once stuttered: "Well, sir, there is no mock modesty about you—nor real either."

—Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, etc., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house. 48-2w.

1881. 1881.

THE INDIANA WEEKLY SENTINEL!

Has been enlarged and improved until it is now the LARGEST and the VERY BEST paper published in the west.

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL is in all regards a superior eight page 56 column paper.

The merits of the Sentinel, as a general newspaper are so well known, that commendation of it is deemed superfluous. We will add, however, that the management has arranged and fully determined that no paper shall furnish so great a practical value to its patrons for the money.

In its news, its editorials, its literary and miscellany—in a word, in its general reading—it shall not be surpassed by any paper circulated in the state. It will be particularly adapted to the family circle. No reading, thinking man in the state can afford to do without the Weekly Sentinel at the small cost at which it is furnished.

THE SENTINEL will continue to be the same earnest advocate of true American democracy in the future that it has been in the past; indeed, it proposes to battle more vigorously than ever against the party of centralization and corruption. Vast monopolies own and control the republican party, and in the future, as in the past, it cannot do otherwise than foster class legislation, thereby trampling upon the interests of the producing masses.

The motto of the Sentinel is: "Hold fast to the democratic faith and battle on," and as certainly as God reigns victory will ultimately be with the people.

The republican party cannot survive its crimes. Its monumental iniquities cast their shadows athwart the land. Just men of all political opinions are horrified at its colossal crimes. Its ambition is for plunder and imperial power. Its downward progress, from the days when Grant's thieves organized the whisky ring to raise a corruption fund, to Guiteau's tragedy, has been marked by infamy at every step. From the days when John Sherman ... tered federal officers for perjuries to seat Hay be crimes have followed each other in rapid succession. The flood-tide of star route thieves, treasury thieves, navy department thieves, war department thieves and signal service thieves, and Indiana has had Dorsey, the notorious star route thief and secretary of the republican national committee, in the state, organizing crimes to carry the state against the will of the people. The Sentinel will invite the people of Indiana to contemplate these republican methods to obtain and maintain power. It will keep its readers informed with regard to republican fights for spoils, the mutual denunciations of its factions, their criminations and recriminations, their mutual hates which culminated in the assassination of the president, thereby capping the climax of horrors and completing the work of infamy.

With this record of crime, the republican party asks for a new lease of power, and it will be the high ambition of the Sentinel to defeat its purposes and emancipate the country from its debauching grasp.

THE SENTINEL, in addition to its superiority, is, moreover, an Indiana paper, devoted to, and specially represents Indiana's interests, political and otherwise, as no foreign paper will or can do, and ought, therefore, to have preference over the papers of other states, and we ask democrats to bear this in mind, and select YOUR OWN STATE PAPER when you come to take subscriptions and make up clubs.

TERMS:

WEEKLY.

Single Copy, without Premium	$1.00
Clubs of 11 for	10.00
Clubs of 23	20.00
Clubs of 30	25.00

DAILY.

1 Copy One Year	$10.00
1 Copy Six Months	5.00
1 Copy Three Months	2.50
1 Copy One Month	.85
Sunday Sentinel by Mail	2.00

Agents making up clubs, send for any information desired. Specimen copies free.

Address,

INDIANAPOLIS SENTINEL CO

Indianapolis, Ind.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given to the creditors' heirs and legatees of George W. Essig, deceased, John B. Grube, Administrator, to appear in the DeKalb circuit court, held at Auburn, Indiana, on the 19th day of December, 1881, and show cause, if any, why the final settlement accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

Witness, The clerk of said court, this 28th day of November, 1881.

48-3w. J. W. BAXTER, Clerk.

A $2.00 Biblical Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for December, offer the following easy way for someone to make $20.00:

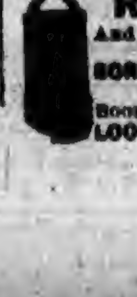
To the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures by Dec. 10, 1881, we will give $20.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cents with their answer, for which they will receive the Christmas number of the Monthly, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Cut this out; it may be worth $20.00 to you. Address RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Easton, Pa.

Holloway' Pills.

Never dispair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispells doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.



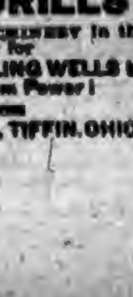
WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the BEST MACHINERY in the WORLD for

BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power!

BOOK FREE. Address

LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.



New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers. He has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 6 to 9 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. 48

W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.

Manufacturers of the

Best and Lightest-Running

Wagon

NOW IN THE MARKET

Nothing but first-class material is used, and consequently the work is warranted. Repairing of all kinds done promptly. Shop on South Main street, Auburn, Ind. 31 tf

CLOCKS.

WM. ELLERY
WALTHAM, MASS.

GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES.

RODGERS & BROTHERS

Plated Ware

SPOONS,
KNIVES,
AND FORKS,
RINGS,
VEST CHAINS,
CASTORS,

Necklaces, Ladies Gold Chains, and every thing in the jewelry line.

VIOLINS,
GUITARS,
ACCORDEONS.

Special attententiou given to repairing fine watches.

Work Warranted.

No charge for marking silverware sold at my store.

JOE ABRIGHT.

Second door north of postoffice, Auburn Indiana.

IMPROVE THE HOUR.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncaitis, Asthma, Coughs and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

39 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A. Macready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co., Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address, True and Co., Augusta, Maine. [No. 7-1y

OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION
SEND FOR CATALOGUE TO
SEEDS BY MAIL
DAVID LANDRETH & SONS. PHILA.

KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE.

Ft. Wayne & Jackson Railroad

SHORT LINE

For all points South, Southeast and Southwest including Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis Kansas, Texas and all points west.

SHORT LINE from all points in central and northern Michigan and Canada.

Time-Card takes effect May 16, 188?.

SOUTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom
Leave Bay City	5 10pm	6 30am	....
Saginaw	5 55	7 15	....
Lansing	8 20	10 10	....
Grand Rapids	10 20	5 40	11 5am
Detroit	9 50	7 00	4 35pm
Ann Arbor	11 17	8 40	6 22
Jackson	5 40am	12 00 m	6 40pm
Hanover	6 25	12 35pm	7 35
Jonesville	6 52	12 55	8 25
Bankers	7 05	1 13	8 55
Reading	7 15	1 26	9 20
Montgomery	7 27	1 43	9 45
Fremont	7 48	2 03	10 18
Angola	7 58	2 20	10 40
Pleasant Lake	8 07	2 30	10 58
Waterloo	8 35	2 52	11 30
Auburn	8 52	3 03	11 47
Auburn Junction	9 05	3 25	12 10am
Arrive Ft. Wayne	10 20	4 20	1 40
Indianapolis	6 00pm	10 50	....
Cincinnati	6 45	1 45	1 45pm
Louisville	10 10	7 15am	....
St. Louis	....	5 50	6 00pm
Washington	....	9 35	9 02am
Baltimore	....	10 50	7 40am

NORTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Accom.
Leave Baltimore	9 0am	12 10pm	1 15am
Washington	10 0	10 47am	5 20
Louisville	6 0	11 35pm	....
Cincinnati	9 00	7 50am	2 25pm
Indianapolis	4 10am	11 00	....
Ft. Wayne	11 30am	4 00pm	2 00am
Arrive Aub	12 45pm	6 00	3 50
Auburn	12 5	6 05	3 55
Waterloo	11 00	6 15	4 25
Pleasant Lake	1 18	6 38	5 08
Angola	1 30	7 08	5 20
Fremont	1 48	7 28	5 48
Montgomery	2 03	7 47	6 30
Reading	2 15	8 00	7 06
Bankers	2 27	8 13	6 45
Jonesville	2 43	8 28	7 35
Hanover	3 07	8 53	8 28
Jackson	3 40pm	9 25pm	9 25pm
Ann Arbor	5 07	....	10 24
Detroit	6 30	30	11 50
Grand Rapids	10 20	7 2am	4 30pm
Lansing	5 45	30	....
Saginaw	9 00	28	....
Bay City	10 00	12 25pm	....

Accommodation going north daily. All other trains daily except Sunday.

CONNECTIONS.

JACKSON.—M. C.: east—12 45, 5 00, 7 15, 9 30 a. m., 3 45, 4 05, 9 37 p. m.; west—12 40, 8 50, 10 20 a. m., 12 15, 8 55, 11 30 p. m. M. C. A. L. west—5 40 a. m., 6 50 p. m. J. L. & S. 7 00 a. m., 4 15 p. m. G. R. V., 1 10, 8 35 a. m., 12 30, 6 50 p. m.

JONESVILLE.—L. S. & M. S., east 6 52 a. m., 2 38 p. m.; west 9 40 a. m., 12 50, 10 30 p. m.

BANKERS.—D. H. & S. W., east, leave, 7 10 a. m., 2 30 p. m.; arrive at Bankers, 1 10, 10 p. m.

WATERLOO.—L. S. & M. S. east, 2 50, 11 35 p. m.; west 2 15 a. m., 1 30 p. m.

AUBURN JUNCTION.—B. & O. east, 3 48 a. m., 3 25, 10 22 p. m.; west, 1 36 a. m., 12 30 p. m. E. R. east, 12 52 a. m. 12 30 p. m.; west, 7 05 a. m. 3 25 p. m.

FT. WAYNE.—Ft. Wayne, M. & C. leave 10 30 a. m., 5 20 p. m.; arrive 9 40 a. m., 4 1[illegible] p. m. W., St. L. & P. east, 5 00, 7 00 a. m., 3 10, 36 p. m., west, 5 15, 10 40 a. m., 4 40 8 55 p. m. C. R. & Ft. W. leave 6 15 a. m., 2 00 p. m.; ar. 3 00, 7 15 p. m. P., Ft. W. & C. east, 6 25 a. m., 2 15, 3 40, 8 15, 11 55 p. m.; west 2 20, 5 15, a. m., 12 53, 3 40, 11 46 p. m.

Arrival and departure of trains shown above is by Chicago time, same as Ft. W. & J. road.

Through tickets to all principal points. For information as to routes and connections apply to

M. D. WOODFORD Gen'l Supt
H. BROMLEY Gen'l Fr. & Pass'r. Agent

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipments! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect May 15, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	N Y. Ex.	At. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Chicago	9 20am	5 35pm
Elkhart	1 30pm	10 10	1 00am	7 00am
Kendallville	2 48	11 30	5 25	12 10pm
Corunna	2 58		6 35
Sedan			7 05	2 00
Waterloo	3 10	11 55	7 30	2 40
Butler	3 24	12 10am	8 20	3 40
Toledo	5 40	2 45	7 35pm

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex.	Pac. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Toledo	11 05am	12 01am	5 30am
Butler	1 35pm	2 20	4 05pm	8 10am
Waterloo	1 50	2 35	4 50	9 30
Sedan			5 05	10 00
Corunna	2 15		5 15	10 05
Kendallville	2 20	3 00	5 35	11 25
Elkhart	3 40	4 20	9 25	4 20
Chicago	6 00	5 20

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given, trains do not stop. Accommodation Freight leaves Butler at 5 o'clock a. m., and arrives at Toledo at 10:25 a. m. Accommodation Freight leaves Toledo at 5:05 p. m., and arrives at Butler at 10:42 p. m. Close connections at Chicago. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage,

J. E. CURTIS,
Supt. M.ch. Div., Toledo, O.

For tickets to all points east—first-class, second class, emigrant and round-trip tickets to Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and California, rates of freight and information—apply to

H. D. ARMSTRONG,
Agent, Waterloo, Ind.

Baltimore & Ohio R. R

—o—

CHICAGO DIVISION.

—o—

IN EFFECT FROM NOVEMBER 20, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	N. Y. Fast.	W. & B. Express	W. & C Ex.
CHICAGO lv.	5 30pm	10 00pm	8 45am
Walkerton Junction		1 06am	12 07pm
Milford Junction		2 25	1 25
Syracuse		2 35	1 38
Cromwell		2 50	1 55
Albion		3 15	2 20
Avilla		3 35	2 48
Garrett	10 35	4 00	3 30
Auburn Junction	10 42	4 08	3 40
St. Joe
Hicksville		4 45	4 24
Defiance	11 52	5 30	5 19
Deshler	12 58am	6 28	6 15
Fostoria	1 30	7 29	7 18
Tiffin	2 02	7 58	7 48
CHICAGO JUNCTION ar.	3 00	9 20	9 00

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Fast Line.	Chi. Express	Chi. Mail.
CHICAGO JUNCTION lv	9 30pm	6 10pm	8 05am
Tiffin	10 25	7 46	9 10
Fostoria	10 51	8 35	9 40
Deshler	11 52	9 48	10 40
Defiance	12 56am	10 52	11 48
Hicksville		11 42	12 28pm
St. Joe
Auburn Junction	2 20	12 13am	1 05
Garrett	2 35	12 28	1 35
Avilla		12 50	1 52
Albion		12 18	2 20
Cromwell		1 10	2 45
Syracuse		1 30	3 02
Milford Junction		1 45	3 14
Walkerton Junction		3 06	4 30
CHICAGO ar.	5 55	5 10	7 35

Ft. Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati and White Water Railroads.

In effect February 27, 1881.

SOUTHWARD.		STATIONS.	NORTHWARD.
No. 1 M	No. 3 Ex		No. 2 M	No. 4 Ex
a m	p m		p m	a m
10 40	5 00	Lv..Fort Wayne..Ar	4 45	9 00
11 52	6 07	Bluffton	3 36	8 45
p m
12 [illegible]	8 00	Hartford	2 31	7 [illegible]
1 45	9 00	Muncie	1 40	6 [illegible]
p m	p m		a m	p m
7 15	..	Cincinnati	5 40	......
6 [illegible]	10 55	Indianapolis	11 20	4 20

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run on Columbus time.

W. W. WORTHINGTON, Gen. Supt.
Geo. B. CAMPBELL, General Ticket Agt.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway.

Condensed time-card in effect Sept. 1, 1881.

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex	Fa't L'e	Pac Ex
Pittsburgh	9 15am	12 05am	1 50pm
Mansfield	5 40pm	6 55	9 20	....
Crestline Lv	6 25	7 30	9 55	1 45am
Ft. Wayne	12 00am	1 15pm	3 40am	5 35
Chicago Ar	6 10	7 20	8 20	10 00

GOING EAST.

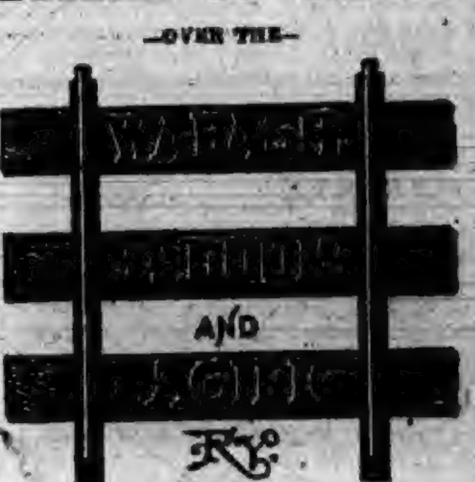
STATIONS.	No. 3 Fast Ex	No. 6 Pac. Ex	No. 4 N. L. Ex.	No. 8 Mail
Chicago Lv	8 50am	3 35pm	5 35pm	10 00pm
Ft. Wayne	2 35pm	8 25	12 15am	4 45am
Crestline	7 10	12 35am	5 30	11 40am
Mansfield	7 [illegible]	1 10	7 20	12 35pm
Pittsburgh Ar	8 15am	7 20	3 15pm	7 20

Trains Nos. 3, 6, 8 and 4 run daily. Train No. 1 leaves Pittsburgh daily except Saturday. Train No. 3 leaves Chicago daily except Saturday. All others daily except Sunday.

F. A. FORD General Ticket Ag't.
D. W. CALDWELL, General Manager.

TAKE A RIDE

—OVER THE—

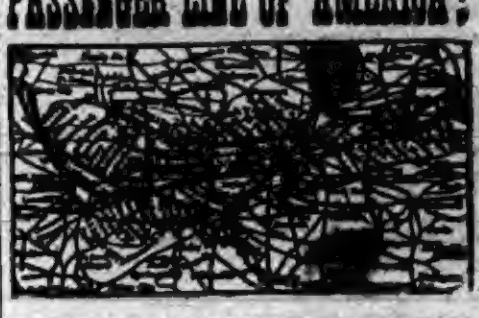


—AND YOU—

WILL DISCOVER

Why it is termed the Popular

PASSENGER LINE OF AMERICA!



2,500 MILES OF ROAD reaching in the most direct manner all of the

Great Cities of the West

Running the Finest Passenger Equipment and the most extended Through-Car System on the continent.

THROUGH TICKETS

TO ALL POINTS

East, West, Northwest or Southwest!

And Baggage Checked from starting point to destination.

For Maps, Time-Tables, or any information, call on or address LOUIS JOHNSON, agent, Auburn, Ind., or FRED. CLARK, Auburn Junction.

J. C. GAULT, Gen. Manager. H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen. Passenger Agent, St. Louis.

C N-W RAILWAY
WISCONSIN
CHICAGO

—THE—

Chicago & Northwestern Railway

Is the oldest, Best Constructed, Best Equipped and hence the Leading Railway

—OF THE—

WEST AND NORTHWEST.

It is the short and best route between Chicago and all points in Northern Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, California, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and for

Council Bluffs, Omaha,
Denver, Leadville,
Salt Lake, San Francisco,
Deadwood Sioux City,

Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Columbus, and all points in the territories, and the west. Also for Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Marquette, Fond du Lac, Watertown, Houghton, Neenah, Menasha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Huron, Volga, Fargo, Bismarc, Winona, LaCrosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Northwest.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern and the U. P. Railways depart from, arrive at and use the same joint Union depot.

At Chicago close connections are made with the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ft. Wayne and Pennsylvania, and Chicago and Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

Close connections at Junction points.

It is the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

Between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

Pullman Sleepers on all night trains.

Insist upon ticket agents selling you tickets via this road. Examine your tickets and refuse to buy if they do not read over the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

If you wish the best traveling accommodations you will buy your tickets by this route ☞ AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER.

All ticket agents sell tickets by this line.

Marvin Hughitt, 2d V. P. & Gen'l Manager, Chicago.

Recorders Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 11. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, DECEMBER 22, 1881. Number 51.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY
BARNS & HUSSELMAN.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

Communication.

ORANGE CITY, FLORIDA, Dec. 10.

EDITOR COURIER: Before my departure from Indiana I promised many friends, when I arrived in Floride to write them my impressions of the country. To write each one singley would be almost an ndless task, besides so much sameness. With your consent I will write through the COURIER. From Auburn I came to Jacksonville, Florida, by way of Cincinnati, five days being consumed in the journey. Southern railroad travel is not like northern, for up there a freight train makes better time than most of the express trains here. There also seems to be a lack of system, and all that combine to make travel speedy and comfort. By misconnections between Louisville and Nashville I was obliged to stop over twenty four hours in Atlanta, Ga. It being Sunday I was unable to "take in" the Cotton Exposition, but saw some of the Auburn excursionist who had come to Atlanta for the purpose of viewing the exposition. This, I understand, is a great success, and will do much toward developing the south. On my way down I conversed with quite a number of southerners, whom I found to be intelligent, congenial gentlemen, holding views on political questions very different from what most northern people believe they do. From Macon to Albany, Ga., over the Georgia Central R. R. I passed through Anderson, the site of the notorious Andersonville prison. The depot is some distance from the national cemetery. I could see nothing of it but the American flag. Jacksonville, the metropolis of Florida, contained, according to the census of 1880 a resident population of 14,500 and the rate of growth since has been very rapid. It is situated on the St. Johns river 18 or 20 miles from the ocean. At two p. m., Nov. 22d I took passage on the mail steamer Geo. M. Bird, of the DeBary line, for Blue Springs on the St. Johns two hundred miles by water and less than one hundred by an air line from Jacksonville. Most of the trip being in the night I did not see much of the river scenery which is so famous and beautiful. In the morning I saw my first orange grove. The trees were about fifteen years old, many of them, I was told, were holding 5,000 oranges each; about seventy being set on an acre. There is a tree in the Stark grove, near here, which now holds 10,000 oranges. Last night I saw a lemon tree, not three years old, yet holding more than two hundred lemons. The orange sells readily for a cent and a half to two cents a piece on the tree. Arriving at Blue Spring, the landing for Orange City, two and one half miles east—was met by my brother who conveyed me to his home, which is near Orange City, just in time to get a good dinner, at that time I felt the need of. This place was settled in 1876, by a company of Wisconsin men, who purchased a large tract of land from the state, and laid it out into lots of from one to two acres each. The land originally cost $1.25 per acre, and is now selling readily at from $10 to $700 per acre, according to location and improvements. There are now about 200 families in the immediate vicinity, representing nearly every state in the union, but mostly from Wisconsin. One gentleman of the company, when he came, cleared five acres, and put out an orange grove on it. Since I came, it was sold for $8,500. The land in what is known as the Volusia county orange belt, is high, rolling, sandy, pine land, with numerous clear water lakes interspersed among the hills. One of the leading features of this county, is the absence of mud. Since I came, the themometer has ranged between 88 degrees and 86 degrees, either of the extreems having been reached but once. The daily range is about as follows: Morning 65 degree; noon, 75; evening, 70 to 86; which does not seem as hot as 50 degrees does in Ind., owing, I suppose, to the constant breeze from the ocean. It seems more like June than December. To-day has been a rainy day, and cooler than usual, but I sit with no fire—windows and doors open, and coat off. In reality it is midsummer in winter. I am enjoying the best of health, as are all my people, and am very much pleased with what I have seen. If any parties wishing to come to Florida for health, pleasure or profit, will write me, I will be pleased to give them all the information at my command.

Yours Truly,
CHAS. B. ALLYN.

Correspondence.

EDITORS COURIER: Last week on Friday, the writer dropped into the store of our former townsmen, J. W. Patterson & H. T. Smith, in the town of Marion, Iowa, and found them happy and with smiling faces. And well might they be happy, as they are having a good trade. Selling goods for cash. Marion is the county seat of Linn county, and has a population of about 2,500, and a beautiful country around it, owned by rich and enterprising farmers. To give an idea of the business of the town, the town scales are controlled by the town board. They pay $40 per month for weighing and taking care of the scales. The last year's report shows the receipts to be over fourteen hundred dollars. The store of Patterson & Smith's is well located, and is a nice room, and their sales since their commencement in business, has been beyond their expectation, and is increasing every day. I also visited their families, and they are well contented and satisfied with the change. There is a great deal of wealth in the town, and all seem to be busy doing something. The Chicago, Milwaukee & Sioux City railroad company are making some additions to the town, by putting in repair shops. The town is well supplied with churches of the different denominations. Persons going west are not depriving themselves of any privileges or comfort of the older settled country. This article is already too long. I will close by simply saying what Mr. Greely said years ago: "Young man go west."

Yours Truly,
J. C. BOYER.

School Reports.

Report of Auburn public school, for the month ending Dec. 9, 1881:

1ST AND 2D PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

No. enrolled	99
No. belonging	97
No. withdrawn	2
Average daily attendance	93
Per cent. of attendance	96
No. neither absent nor tardy	34

MISS E. THOMSON, Teacher

1ST AND 2D PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

No. enrolled	84
No. belonging	84
Average daily attendance	73
Per cent. of attendance	87
No. absent unexcused	8
No. half days absence unexcused	7
No. neither absent nor tardy	25

MISS P. CODER, Teacher.

1ST INTERMEDIATE.

No. enrolled	81
No. belonging	81
Average daily attendance	74
Per cent. of attendance	92
No. neither absent nor tardy	26

MISS L. A. COATS, Teacher.

2D INTERMEDIATE.

No. enrolled	50
No. belonging	50
Average daily attendance	46
Per cent. of attendance	93
No. absent unexcused	1
No. half days absence unexcused	4
No. neither absent nor tardy	11

MISS L. E. CLARK, Teacher.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

No. enrolled	43
No. belonging	42
No. withdrawn	1
Average daily attendance	30
Per cent. of attendance	90
No. neither absent nor tardy	5

C. A. DUGAN, Teacher.

HIGH SCHOOL.

No. enrolled	39
No. belonging	39
Average daily attendance	36
Per. cent. of attendance	93
No. half days absence unexcused	18
No. absent unexcused	4
No. neither absent nor tardy	11

W. P. MYERS,
M. W. HARRISON, } Teachers.

CONSOLIDATED REPORT.

No. pupils enrolled	396
No. belonging	393
No. withdrawn	3
Average daily attendance	360
Per cent. of attendance	92
No. pupils absent unexcused	8
No. half days absence unexcused	24
No. cases corporal punishment	00
No. neither absent nor tardy	112

W. P. MYERS, Supt.

JACKSON

District No. 9. Names of those who have not been absent or tardy during the month ending Dec. 9, 1881. Cora Hilkey, Dora Hilkey, Matie Hilkey, Wm Moody, John Moody, Ebbie Carnahan, James Cochran, Wm. Depew, David Depew, Ella Essig, May Comeskey, Nettie Comeskey, Bertha Smith, Rosa Myers, Cilla Myers, Ida Zoller, Jacob Martin, Sinus Hilkey, Morton Hilkey, Maggie Reed, Anise Ferguson.

OLIVE NELSON,
Teacher.

RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

Report of district No. 8 for the month ending Dec. 9, 1881: Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy, Birdy Miller, Dollie Miller, Ettie Fansler, Linnie Gengiesparger, Nettie Franks, Mattie Franks, Isaac Shippy, Marion Shippy, Rosa Harper, Gertie Griffith, Perry Alling. No. enrolled 53.

WILL FRANKS, Teacher.

RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

Report of district No. 9. Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy, for the month ending Dec. 9: Sarah Keen, Amanda Leins, Boyd Keen, Edwin Lehner, Sidney Lenner, John Keen, Simpson Farrington, Dave Leins.

H. B. McCORD, Teacher.

BUTLER TOWNSHIP.

Report of Pleasant View school, district No. 8: Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy, Anise Simons, Ella Hanson, Noah Lung, Charley Smith, Homer Hanson, Perry Ober, Benny Hawver, Merrit Hawver, Samuel Hawver, Wilber Hawver, Ida Ober, Manda Ober, Josie Cottet, Mary Lung, Etta Ober. No. enrolled 36; average 34.

JAS. A. QUINCE, Teacher.

SEDAN SCHOOL.

Report of Sedan school, for the month ending Dec. 9. Names of pupils who were neither absent nor tardy: Sherman Gutherie, Jennie McIntyre, Oma Blucher, Louie Gutherie, Lee Hine, Mikey Rohm, Josie Zeigler, Lizzie Kruse, Sopha Kruse, Willie Kruse, Berdie Seydel, Perry Delong, Marion Delong Alice Delong, Albert Stout, Nora Stout, Jessie Grate, Hannah Wilson, Mikey Morison, Edward Rice, Wilson Rohm, Lee Reinhart, Almon Stout, Emma Rohm, Etta Mathews. No. enrolled 53, average daily attendance 48¼, Time lost by tardiness, 50 minutes, number cases of tardiness 4.

J. A. McINTYRE, Teacher.

—We are strongly disposed to regard that person as the best physician who does most to alleviate human suffering. Judged from this standard, Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western avenue, Lynn, Mass., is entitled to the front rank, for her Vegetable Compound is daily working wonderful cures in female diseases. Send for circular to the above address. 51-2w.

—He had just taken his seat in the street car, in fact had hardly got fairly down, when a lady entered. He immediately rose. "Don't rise, sir; I beg of you don't!" she said. "Good heavens, ma'am," he yelled, "I must! There is a pin three inches long set up on that seat!" She made no further objection to his rising.

RATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1879.

GENTLEMEN:—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general ability, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf.

51-2w. THOM. G. KNOX.

—"That's what I call a finished sermon," said a lady to her husband, as they wended their way from church. "Yes," was the reply; "but do you know, I thought it never would be."

—Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup is a standard remedy, and will cure a cough or cold in half the time required by ordinary remedies. Call on your druggist, and try a twenty-five or fifty cent bottle.

—By a wise provision of Providence, close beside the little tree on which nutmegs grow often stands a greater.

—"Take care!" says a timid exchange. "Yes, but take it in small doses."

—Lee Diehl, the popular jeweler of Butler, says he cannot be undersold in the county.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp

How to Get Well.

Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on these organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole man. Hundreds testify to this.—[Pittsburgh Post.

—Why suffer with such a dreadful cough or cold. For twenty-five or fifty cents you can purchase of your druggist a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup, and your cure is certain.

—A young man searching for his father's pig accosted an Irishman as follows: "Have you seen a stray pig about here?" "Faith, how can I tell a stray pig from any other."

1882.

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Harper's Weekly stands at the head of America's illustrated weekly journals. By its unpartisan position in politics, its admirable illustrations, its carefully chosen serials, short stories, sketches and short poems contributed by the foremost artists and authors of the day, it carries instruction and entertainment to thousands of American homes.

It will always be the aim of the publishers to make Harper's Weekly the most popular and attractive family newspaper in the world,

HARPER'S PERIODICALS.
PER YEAR:

HARPER'S WEEKLY 4.00
HARPER'S MAGAZINE $4.00
HARPER'S BAZAR 4.00
The THREE above publications 10 00
Any TWO above named 7.00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE 1.50
HARPER'S MAGAZINE }
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE } .. 5.00
HARPER'S FRANKLIN SQUARE LIBRARY, One Year (52 Numbers) 10.00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The Volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of order.

The last Twelve Annual Volumes of HARPER'S WEEKLY, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume,) for $7 00 each.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

Baltimore & Ohio R. R

CHICAGO DIVISION.

IN EFFECT FROM NOVEMBER 20, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	N. Y. Fast.	W. & B. Express	W. & C Ex.
CHICAGO lv.	5 30pm	10 00pm	8 48am
Walkerton Junction		1 06am	12 07pm
Milford Junction		2 25	1 20
Syracuse		2 36	1 36
Cromwell		2 50	1 55
Albion		3 15	2 20
Avilla		3 35	2 48
Garrett	10 35	4 00	3 30
Auburn Junction	10 42	4 08	3 40
St. Joe
Hicksville		4 45	4 24
Defiance	11 52	5 30	5 12
Deshler	12 46am	6 28	6 15
Fostoria	1 30	7 20	7 18
Tiffin	2 02	7 58	7 48
CHICAGO JUNCTION ar.	3 00	9 20	9 00

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Fast Line.	Chi. Express	Chi. Mail.
CHICAGO JUNCTION lv	9 30pm	6 10pm	8 05am
Tiffin	10 28	7 48	9 10
Fostoria	10 54	8 35	9 40
Deshler	11 52	9 45	10 40
Defiance	12 54am	10 52	11 42
Hicksville		11 42	12 28pm
St. Joe
Auburn Junction	2 20	12 13am	1 05
Garrett	2 35	12 25	1 25
Avilla		12 30	1 52
Albion		12 58	2 20
Cromwell		1 20	2 45
Syracuse		1 38	3 08
Milford Junction		1 45	3 14
Walkerton Junction		3 05	4 30
CHICAGO ar.	5 55	6 10	7 35

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week:

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price):

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,

MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, OMBRE PLUSHES, for $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS,

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—excellent value.

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS,

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c, 75c., $1.25 and $1 50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. - - - - Ft. Wayne

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens of Auburn with extra fine WHEAT, RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion this week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm, and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET.

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000---sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM, PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THE BLUE-BOTTLE FLY.

Buzzing and gay in the early dawn,
Fresh from a nap on the parlor wall,
Out for a flight over garden and lawn,
Fearing no trouble and dreading no fall,
Came a fly—
A lively, frolicsome, blue-bottle fly—
And his feet
Were as neat,
And his style
As complete
As his brain
Was replete
With the mischief that laughed in his eye!

"What glorious fun I'll have to-day,
When the baby's asleep and the nurse away;
When Rover lies by the kitchen door;
I'll waken them both and make them roar!
Oh, what larks!"
Cried the rollicking, reckless, blue-bottle fly;
"What a cry,"
Said the fly,
"There will be
After me
When I've done
With my fun!"
And he wickedly winked his wee eye!

"Then I'll go and dance on grandpa's head,
While he struggles to brush me away;
And tickle his ear till he'll wish I was dead!
And over the table at dinner I'll play
Back and forth,
And feast on crumbs from a freshly-baked pie!
And I'll sip
From the lip
Of each glass
That may pass
All sweet things
Dinner brings!"
Quoth this riotous blue-bottle fly.

But, alas for the plans he had laid!
And alas for the day just begun!
For this fly soon lit in the grateful shade,
To escape the hot rays of the sun,
And to dream
Of the sights that should soon greet his eye,
When, unseen,
From the green
Of a limb
Above him,
On his head—
By a thread—
Fell a spider,
Who coolly devoured that blue-bottle fly.
—Christian Union.

CHRISTINA.

She was the result of an experiment—a desperate experiment.

Mother and I lived alone in the dear old homestead, just outside of a drowsy village in Delaware. Old Sanders worked the farm, and lived in the tenant house, as he had done for thirty years, but he was getting old and cranky, and threatened every month to leave us. But our great misery—"the messenger of Satan sent to buffet us"—was the "girl" who was not in the kitchen.

With all the neighborhood, we depended for servants on the free negroes, who invariably decamped in a body, to the fields or the great canning-houses, as soon as the peach crop came in.

We tried a wandering Irish woman; she drank. A genteel American who had seen better days; and she disappeared with my one silk dress.

During the whole spring and summer mother and I worked, cleaned, canned berries, milked and churned, and "tried" a succession of poor creatures who left us with our patience worn to the last thread.

One night mother announced, "I am going to try an experiment. It shall be with a foreigner who cannot speak a word of English; who never heard of 'privileges,' of canning-houses, of the fashions or the beer-shop. I will go to Philadelphia to-morrow, board an emigrant ship and carry off an untamed savage—a woman Friday."

I laughed at it as a joke, and was a good deal startled that night when mother at prayers asked that she "might be successful in her undertaking," adding, after a little pause:

"May the woman I shall bring be of help to us, in making our daily life more cheerful and peaceable, and may we help her upward in her way through life."

"Well, mother," I said, doubtfully, as we started up to bed, "I never knew you to ask the Lord before to control the kitchen affairs."

"Some people," she said, gravely, "think it an insult to the Almighty to suppose that He concerns Himself about our little worries. Perhaps He has His messengers for such small work in the upper world, just as He has in this. I don't know. But I do know that He does attend to all the things that I ask Him about."

Mother was as simple and direct as a child, even in her religion.

The next day she visited the city, went aboard a Bremen vessel and brought home—Christina. She was about 16, fat and round as a churn, with clear skin, blue eyes, a funny little knob of hair atop of her head, a white muslin waist, short gray woolen petticoat and heavy shoes.

"She cannot speak a word of English," said mother, looking half scared. "She is a Norwegian. The agent said she had a dreadful history. But her honest face tempted me. I seemed to hear a voice saying, 'Take this one.'"

"She is an escaped convict, no doubt," I said. "That guiding voice of yours, little mother, induced you to bring Blue Peter out of the almshouse, who set fire to the barn. Well, I'll show her about the supper."

Christina followed me—dumb and watchful—from kitchen to dining-room, while I laid the table, prepared the muffins, fried chicken and made coffee.

She did not offer to touch anything or to help me. But the next morning, when I went down to make ready the breakfast, there was the table laid, and the chicken, muffins and coffee, precisely as she had seen them the night before.

She was faithful and imitative as a Chinaman, and she was already a good cook and dairy maid. She learned a few words of English, and with them she showed her gratitude for any simple kindness shown her. We fancied, too, that she took pleasure in the beautiful country about her.

It never looked more beautiful than it did that summer. The great orchards were red with fruit, constant showers kept the forests pure in tint, the wild rose and sweetbriar covered every field and roadside.

But the poor Norwegian was wretchedly unhappy. Her unsmiling face and wide, sad eyes seemed to carry misery into the barnyard and dairy, and leavened the very bread we ate. When she was safely in her own room I heard her stifled sobs until late in the night.

"One is almost tempted to remember your convict theory," said mother, anxiously, one day.

"It doesn't matter. We'll keep her if she were Lucretia Borgia herself," I said, luxuriously leaning back in the rocking-chair on the porch. "The idea of being free from pots, pans and brooms at last!"

We tasted our comfort at leisure; brought out some fancy work and books which we had never hoped to find time to read.

Then came a letter from Julia Webb. It was a thunder clap in our clear sky. Julia was a cousin only by the sheerest courtesy; a beauty; a spoiled heiress; a belle with a dozen lovers. She was coming en route to Newport, to spend a week with us.

"Very likely some of these troublesome men will follow to find how your hermitage suits poor little butterfly me," she wrote. "But you will make them welcome, darling auntie? There is a Count Pasco who is my chief nuisance just now. Such a charming, ridiculous creature! I shall be delighted to give him a peep into an American middle-class interior. And it will be a good opportunity for you and Cousin Martha to have a glimpse of a foreign nobleman. Your gloomy life needs a little cheering."

I tore the letter up, a little viciously, I confess, and mother laughed.

"Never mind, Mattie," she said. "It is true; we are middle-class people."

"It isn't that. But you know, mother, even if potatoes turn out well, we shall not have a dollar over when the year is out. How are we going to meet this high tide of company and fashion and foreign nobility? Julia is quite capable of staying a month if the whim for 'hermitage' life seizes her."

"We can do without our winter dresses," said mother, thoughtfully. "But even with that the table must be very plain."

I wondered secretly if the blessed woman had put this calamity in the care of the angels. Afterward I believed she had.

Julia came; so did the lovers; so did Count Pasco.

There was a regiment of them at the village inn, but they took our house by storm all day.

There were charade parties, picnics, excursions. Julia trailed her magnificent silks or gauzy lawns up and down the wet meadows; she called the old homestead "a charming old rookery;" pointed out the magnificent sweep of hill and valley to the east, with the great, glittering plane of the bay beyond, as a "nice little effect;" and told Count Pasco that mother and I were "queer bits of human bric-a-brac."

But she was so pretty and brilliant and willful that nobody could be angry with her.

One day I found her in the kitchen with a blue silk wrapper perched on a flour barrel, while Christina, standing before her, poured out a flood of words, sobbing and wringing her hands. Tears, too, had wet Julia's rose-leaf cheeks.

"What is the matter? Can you understand her?" I asked.

"Pretty well. You know I passed a summer in Norway, and picked up a good deal of the language. Poor thing! She was brought here by mistake."

"By mistake?"

"Yes. It seems they were frightfully poor—her mother and brother and herself—and she went as nurse with some tradesman's wife to Bremen. When her time of service was out she was sent home, but by some mistake, at night, was put aboard the steamer for Philadelphia instead of for Christiana."

"Why! We ought to send her back again!" I cried, feeling as if I had been concerned in a case of kidnapping.

"No. Better bring her family out here. She says it is so beautiful; so plenty to eat; it is like the Garden of Eden. If her mother and Jan could come, she would have nothing more to ask."

"She might save her money and bring them."

"It costs a good deal. It would take her years to earn so much. Beside, Jan is under bonds to pay a debt of his father's. I don't know how much—$1,000 or $2,000. No; she'll have to carry her burden like the rest of us. Where's the Count?" and she skipped out of the kitchen humming a song, while Christina turned hopelessly to her work.

The few stammering words in her own tongue, however, had made the poor girl a slave to Julia. She followed her around from that day, waited on her, told her her story a hundred times.

"I am horribly bored by this unending talk of 'mutter, mutter,' and 'Jan, Jan,'" said Julia, stretching her tiny mouth in a yawn.

"It is the only thing she knows," said mother, gently.

"Do keep her away from me to-day, then," impatiently.

To-day was to be signalized by an oyster-bake on the shore of the bay. The Count and four other worshipers were supposed to act as cooks and servitors, but Christina did all the work.

She built the fire of driftwood; cut the bread; made coffee and baked the oysters, running incessantly to Julia with the biggest, her round face red as a peony.

It was a gray, gusty day, too gusty for us to use the little sail-boat which was drawn up on the beach. This disappointment offered Julia a chance for petty, willful pettishness.

"Too provoking! I had set my heart on a sail!" she cried, pouting. "I will wager a rose against a pair of gloves that I have it yet, Count!" her eyes suddenly sparkling.

The bet was taken. Half an hour afterward we missed Julia, and the next moment saw her in the cockleshell of a boat drifting out of the little cove, the sail half raised, flapping in the wind. She stood on the bow, her red ribbons fluttering, kissing her hand, saucily.

"I have won! I have won the bet!" she cried.

"Put about!" shouted the Count. "You are going out to sea!"

We rushed down to the edge of the water, all shouting orders at once. Julia, terrified by the sudden consciousness of her danger, sprang on the bow. A heavy flaw came just then, and the boat was capsized instantly.

"Mon Dieu! I cannot swim," cried the Count. The other men were in the same case. Two of them, however, threw themselves into the water manfully, but were washed back. A solid body leaped into the surf with a splash! It was Christina, divested of shoes, stockings and outer petticoat, striking out boldly for the place where the girl went down.

"Hurrah for Old Norje!" cried the Count. "She swims like a frog!"

She came back with Julia, a very wet and drabbled butterfly, in her arms.

There was no justice, to my mind, in the end of the accident. Julia, when dry again, was rosy and pert and charming as ever; but poor Christina had been thrown against the hull of the boat. She was quite badly injured, and was laid up in bed for a month. Mother and I had her work to do, while Julia took wing to Newport.

"Things are strangely ordered in this world," I said, as I laid down a half-read letter from her one day in October, full of her gayeties and successes, and glanced at Christina, beginning to limp heavily about in the kitchen.

"They always come out right," said mother, quietly. "What is that on the other side?"

I turned the letter and read:

> Oh, by the way, I thought I owed "Old Norje" some reparation for her injuries in my behalf. So I wrote to our Consul in Christiana to pay Jan's debt for me, and to send him and his mother out by the next steamer. You told me that Old Sanders had finally grumbled himself into his grave. Why not take Jan as a farm hand and put him and his mother into the tenant house? I have ordered from New York a few odds and ends to make it comfortable for them. They will arrive in Philadelphia on next Monday.

I could hardly finish; the tears choked me. "I have been very unjust to Julia," I said.

We agreed not to tell Christina, but to surprise her. We had grown very fond of the patient, affectionate creature with her everlasting chatter of "mutter and Jan."

The "odds and ends" proved to be a very complete, though plain, plenishing for a house. Christina helped to clean the house for "the new farmer," and to arrange the pretty furniture.

On Monday, mother went up to Philadelphia to meet the steamer. She was to come down in the morning train next day. I watched it pass on to the little station.

A handkerchief waved out of the car window the signal that all was well. I saw from the porch three figures alight on the platform and take their way across the field.

When they had time to reach the tenant house, I said carelessly:

"Come, Christina. There is something yet to be done for the new farmer."

"I hope," she said, in her pleasant broken English, "he will be goot neighbor. It is nice house. It is as goot as our pastor lives in at home. This is fine country for the poor, Mamsel Martha."

I nodded. I was too excited to speak. When we reached the steps, mother came out, her face all in a glow.

"They are inside. They are all we could wish," she whispered, eagerly. "One minute, Christina," and she ran to the astonished girl, smoothing her fair hair, retying the gay handkerchief about her neck, while I hurried into the room.

A heavily-built man in the Norwegian dress, with honest, blue eyes, stood waiting, and beside him a tall, erect old woman, with a peculiarly gentle, kindly countenance. They were both greatly agitated, and scarcely noticed me, their eyes being on the door.

It opened. I heard mother say, with a half sob: "Go in, child. God bless you," and Christina came in.

She stood one moment dumb and still, her hands stretched out in amazement. Then came the cry: "O, Mutter! Mutter! O, Jan!"

It was the pent-up love and longing of years forcing its way into speech.

We came out and left them alone together.

Mother and I had prepared a little feast for them; a good, substantial supper as foundation, and frosted cakes, flowers and grapes as embellishments.

After awhile we brought them out to it, but they only ate to please us. They were too deeply moved for such little pleasures.

After supper we went into the kitchen, and the old mother, looking at the fire upon the hearth that had been kindled for them in a strange land, said a few words in a low voice, and they all sank reverently upon their knees while she prayed.

Mother and I knelt with them. What did it matter that the words were in a strange tongue. We understood her, and the Great Father of us all heard us as we kneeled side by side.

"I think, dear little mother," I said, as we went home that night, "God heard your prayer when you went out to find your savage that day."

"He always hears," she said quietly.
—Youth's Companion.

Womanly Modesty.

Man loves the mysterious. A cloudless sky and a full-blown rose leaves him unmoved; but the violet which hides its blushing beauties behind the bush, and the moon when emerging from behind a cloud, are to him sources of inspiration and of pleasure. Modesty is to merit what shade is to a figure in painting—it gives boldness and prominence. Nothing adds more to female beauty than modesty. It sheds around the countenance a halo of light which is borrowed from virtue. Botanists have given the rosy hue which tinges the cup of the white roses the name of the "maiden blush." This pure and delicate hue is the only paint Christian virtue should use. It is the richest ornament. A woman without modesty is like a faded flower diffusing an unwholesome odor, which the prudent gardener will throw from him. Her destiny is melancholy, for it terminates in shame and repentance. Beauty passes like the flower of the albe, which bloom and die in a few hours; but modesty gives the female charms which supply the place of the transitory freshness of youth.

Sure Cure for Small-Pox or Scarlet Fever.

The recipe given below was published by the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris. It is unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is perfectly harmless when taken by a well person.

Sulphate of zinc, one (1) grain;

Foxglove (digitalis), one (1) grain;

Half a teaspoonful of sugar;

Mix with two (2) table-spoonfuls of water;

When thoroughly mixed add four ounces of water.

Dose for an adult: One (1) teaspoonful every hour.

For children smaller doses, according to age.

Either disease will disappear in twelve hours.

Short and Long Hauls on Railroads.

Last summer the New York Chamber of Commerce propounded some leading questions to the railroad managers of the country in respect to the charges on freight and transportation, and among them was the following concerning long and short hauls:

What do you think of the practice of charging more for a short than for a long distance? For instance, $4 per 100 pounds from New York to Salt Lake City, and $2.50 from New York to San Francisco?

One of the railroad officers makes the following answer:

If the railroad company were able to fix the rates from New York to Salt Lake City, and also the rates from New York to San Francisco, and should, arbitrarily, make the lesser rate for the longer distance, it would be very foolish. It would be simply equivalent to making a present of that much money to the San Francisco shippers, and, while there might not be anything particularly wrong in it, it would hardly be considered a business transaction. But, if the rate from New York to Salt Lake City is in itself reasonable and less than the service is worth; and if the rate from New York to San Francisco was already less by water-route than the rate to Salt Lake City, then the railroad would be entirely right to compete in San Francisco for New York business at whatever rates it could get. By being free to do this, it could gain a considerable new business. Profits from this business would help to pay its expenses and interest, and contribute that much to reducing the average rates, which it could afford to make to Salt Lake City, and all other points along its line. A moment's reflection will show that Salt Lake City is one of the places against which nature has discriminated most heavily of all places of the continent, being surrounded by mountains and deserts. Before railroads were built, while the rate from New York to San Francisco—1,000 miles farther—was, perhaps, as now, $2.50, the rate to Salt Lake City was, perhaps, $100. Here, then, was a natural discrimination of $97.50 against Salt Lake City. The railroad has reduced that discrimination to $1.50. Whenever the railroad can secure a still larger amount of through business from San Francisco, and, perhaps, from China and Japan, so as to reduce its average expenses, the rate to Salt Lake can be still further reduced, and the discrimination lessened, so that, in fact, the discrimination, which enables a road to secure San Francisco business, is in the true interests of Salt Lake shippers.

Take another case illustrating the same principle:

Corinth, Miss., at the intersection of the Mobile and Ohio and the Memphis and Charleston railroads, is ninety-three miles from Memphis, and 328 miles from Mobile. A reasonable local rate on a bale of cotton from Corinth to Memphis would be, say $1 per bale. Memphis is about as good a cotton market as Mobile. Consequently, all the cotton raised in the vicinity of Corinth will go to Memphis, unless the rate to Mobile is made the same as to Memphis. Between Corinth and Mobile, however, are many stations where much cotton is brought for shipment. We will take Tupelo as an illustration, 280 miles from Mobile. Now, if $1 a bale is a reasonable rate for ninety-three miles, the rate from Tupelo to Mobile—280 miles—might very well be $2. If, therefore, the Mobile and Ohio road competes in the market at Corinth for cotton, it will be charging less for the longer haul from Corinth than for the shorter from Tupelo. And, if the law should step in and forbid this practice, the Mobile and Ohio road would simply have to withdraw from competition at Corinth. The shipper at Tupelo claims that the Mobile and Ohio road is discriminating against him when it hauls Corinth cotton for $1 and charges $2 from Tupelo. But would it benefit him to have the road give up all Corinth cotton and withdraw from competition at that place? It could not afford to reduce at Tupelo, and twenty other stations similarly situated, in order to secure a few hundred bales from Corinth at a low rate. It would then be less able to reduce rates at Tupelo, and all other local points on its line; and nobody on earth would be benefited but the Memphis and Charleston railroad, which would have a monopoly of the hauling of Corinth cotton, and Corinth would lose the benefit of competition from the Gulf.

The effect of any law to restrict the freedom of roads to act in this manner would simply destroy competition.

Take another example, illustrating the same thing, except that the competition is between the railroad and a water route. Fond du Lac, Wis., is 148 miles from Chicago, on the line of the Chicago and Northwestern railway. The lumbering interest is very large there, and the products of the saw mills, shingle mills and sash, door and blind factories are nearly all shipped to Chicago, the great distributing point for the Northwest. A car-load of lumber from Fond du Lac to Chicago, loaded and unloaded by the owner costs (say), $25. Green Bay is 65 miles farther up the line than Fond du Lac, or 213 miles from Chicago. Green Bay is largely interested in the lumber business also, but it has the advantage of being on the neck of Lake Michigan, and ships nearly all its lumber to Chicago on vessels, which is cheaper than by rail. On a certain day the Northwestern railroad has a dozen empty cars standing on the side track at Green Bay that are to be returned to Chicago. A lumber dealer telegraphs the General Manager that he will pay $20 per car for their use from thence to Chicago, and load and unload them himself. The offer is at once accepted, the service performed, and $240 is paid into the treasury of the company. The price paid was, say, $5 per car less than the rate from Fond du Lac, with sixty-five miles more haul. But the choice was between $240 and nothing, for the cost, to a railroad company, between hauling loaded and empty cars is of nominal account. There is a little more wear and tear, and it takes a few pounds more steam, but the extra expense is inconsiderable. The lumbermen at Fond du Lac are indignant at what they call "the unjust discrimination" of the railroad company in favor of their rivals in business at Green Bay, and the irate newspapers at the former place call loudly for a pro-rata tariff. Nobody complains that $25 per car is too high from Fond du Lac to Chicago, but the idea that it should cost only $20 per car-load for a haul that is sixty-five miles farther away from market is what worries them.

Now, if the Northwestern Railway Company had been prohibited from making this special agreement by the enforcement of an inflexible pro-rata tariff act, it would have benefited nobody but damaged (1) the railroad corporation to the amount of $300, ($60 to be added for drawing empty cars); (2) it would have injured the lumbermen at Green Bay, because it would have deprived them of taking advantage of competition, and placed them wholly in the power of the vessel owners; and (3) it would have damaged the lumbermen at Fond du Lac, because, being prevented from competing with the water route from Green Bay, the railroad corporation must make up its loss by keeping up its high rates at the former place.

The Schoolmaster.

The curiosity I have to show you to-day, children, is perhaps the most wonderful in the collection. He beats all.

The schoolmaster, it is said, trains the young ideas how to shoot. He is not himself given to shooting, however. He takes more delight in the rod than the gun.

The schoolmaster is supposed to know everything. This is a mistake. There is one thing he does not known. He does not know how soon the school committee will find a man who controls more votes, to take his place.

The schoolmaster is not a military man, but his principal assistant is. The name of this assistant is Corporal Punishment. It is to be hoped the corporal will soon be remanded to private life.

The schoolmaster is sometimes called a tutor, and occasionally he is called an ass. On the whole, an astuter man is seldom found.

The schoolmaster thoroughly understands the rule of three, but always insists upon the rule of one. So you see his understanding is out of all proportion to his rule.

Although the schoolmaster is a ruler of the boys, he has his own ruler. If he be no stick himself, his ruler always is.

The schoolmaster is a very inquisitive person. He is always asking questions. His is a question-able calling.

The schoolmaster can be found in all classes. He is also given to classifying knowledge. I sometimes think I would be in his classify could.

The schoolmaster is good at figures. He would cut a pretty figure if he were not. He is the figure-head of the school, or should be; but sometimes a boy gets ahead of him.

He is also good at spelling. He can stand a long spell in a good situation without flinching.

He is always correcting the errors of his pupils, and consequently has but little time to attend to his own.

The schoolmaster is not a man of war, but he often employs a monitor. He would be all at sea without his monitor. He gets the monitor to see in his place.

O shun misbehaving, children, or the see of the monitor shall overwhelm you.

The schoolmaster teaches the A B C, but he cannot make a bee see.

Every sort of ology is taught by the schoolmaster, but tautology is no better coming from him than from anybody else.

In a school of young rascals the schoolmaster is always the principal.

Some schoolmasters are actuated entirely by the law of love—love for their situations. Some entirely by hate—hate to give them up.

The schoolmaster loves to have callers at his school; but habit has so possessed him, that he not only collars his scholars, but he also scholars his callers.

I used to wonder at the schoolmaster during my school days, but my school daze will never return.—Boston Transcript.

A Lawyer's Ruse.

Thursday's proceedings in the police court, says the San Francisco Chronicle, were enlivened by an intellectual contest between a witness, who claimed to be deaf, and one of the most experienced legal lanterns that aided the court in its search for justice.

"You are deaf, are you?" shouted the attorney.

"Yes, sir," answered the witness.

"Can't hear at all?" continued the attorney, casting his well-known see-me-catch-him look upon the prosecuting attorney.

"I can hear a little," replied the witness.

"Can you hear a watch tick?" asked the lawyer, in a lower tone.

"I can, when I hold it close to my ear," came the answer.

Thereupon the legal gentleman took a ponderous six-ounce silver time-engine from his fob, and, handing it to the witness, directed him to hold it to his ear.

"Do you hear it tick?" came the question, in a tone a little louder than the ordinary.

"No, sir," promptly responded the witness.

"Can't hear it at all?" persisted the lawyer, speaking now almost in an undertone.

"I can't, sir," promptly answered the witness.

The lawyer's face began to shine like Solomon's Temple in a sunset, as he reached for his watch, remarking to the witness, "But you can understand me quite readily, can't you?"

"What's that, sir?" gasped the witness, suddenly recovering himself.

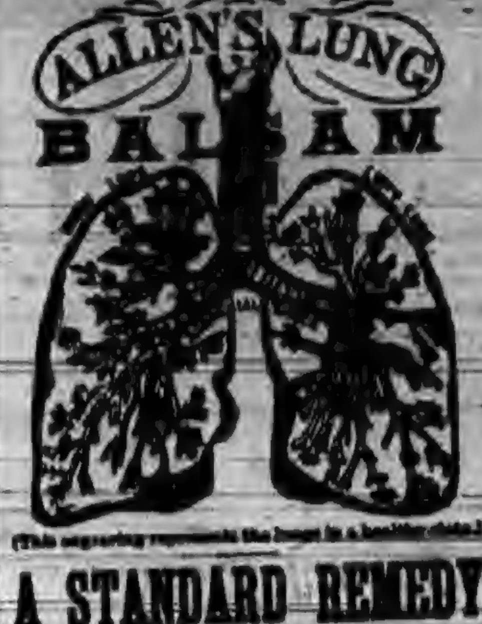
"Your Honor," said the lawyer, "it is evident that this man can hear well. He is imposing on the court."

The lawyer was about to return his watch to his pocket, having previously opened it to note the time, when he suddenly started. He held his watch to his ear, looked at it, and shook it.

"Your Honor," he remarked, with an apologetic glance at the witness, "I was mistaken; the man is deaf. My watch has stopped because it is not wound."

A few moments later the examination of the witness was taken up by the attorney, who almost burst his diaphragm in his efforts to make himself understood by the now consistently deaf witness.

THE largest accumulation of money in the savings banks of California was in 1877, when the line reached over $76,000,000.



(This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.)

A STANDARD REMEDY

IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

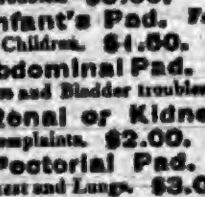
It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Holman's Pads.



TRADE MARK.

Holman's Ague, Liver & Stomach Pad, For Malaria, Ague and Stomach troubles. PRICE, $2.00

Holman's Special Pad. Adapted to old chronic cases. $3.00.

Holman's Spleen Belt. For stubborn cases of enlarged Spleen and unyielding Liver and Stomach troubles. $5.00.

Holman's Infant's Pad. For ailments of Infants and Children. $1.50.

Holman's Abdominal Pad. For Uterine, Ovarian and Bladder troubles. $5.00.

Holman's Renal or Kidney Pad. For Kidney Complaints. $2.00.

Holman's Pectorial Pad. For affections of the Chest and Lungs. $3.00.

Holman's Absorptive Medicinal Body Plaster. The best Plaster in the world. Porous on Rubber basis. 25c.

Holman's Absorptive Medicinal Foot Plasters. For Cold Feet, Headaches and Sluggish Circulation. (per pair) 25c.

Absorption Salt for Medicated Baths. For Colds, Rheumatism and all cases where a medicated Bath is needed, also an excellent foot bath. (per ½ lb. package) 25c.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS,

Or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. The ABSORPTION SALT is not "mailable" and must be sent by Express at Purchaser's expense.

The success of HOLMAN'S PADS has inspired imitators who offer Pads similar in form and odor to the true HOLMAN'S, saying, "They are just the same," etc.

Beware of all bogus Pads only made to sell on the reputation of the genuine.

See that each Pad bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the HOLMAN PAD COMPANY, with above Trade Mark printed in green.

DR. HOLMAN'S advice is free. Full treatise sent free on application. Address,

HOLMAN PAD CO.,
(P. O. Box 2112.) 744 Broadway, N. Y.

The Best Field
FOR EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON, COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an Acre.

CLIMATE MILD AND HEALTHY.

For pamphlet and maps, descriptive of country, its resources, climate, route of travel, rates and full information, address

A. L. STOKES,
Gen'l Eastern Pass'r Agent.
32 Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

BALLOU'S Monthly Magazine
For 1882. ILLUSTRATED.

100 Pages Entertainment a Month (1,200 a Year) for $1.50 per Annum, Postpaid.

Charming Romances, Humorous Sketches, Love Stories, Travels and Adventures by Sea and Land, Illustrated Poems, Music, Juvenile Department, Editor's Drawer, Puzzle Page, Ladies' Department, Housekeeper's Department, Comic Illustrations, etc., all forming a

Most Complete and Popular Serial and Oldest in the Country.

Do not subscribe for any publication until you have sent 10 cents to the publishers of this popular monthly, and received a copy of the issue for January, 1882, with its many NEW IMPROVEMENTS. Then, if you wish to continue, it will only be necessary to remit $1.40 for the balance of the year.

No notice taken of postal cards calling for samples.

For sale by all Newsdealers at 15c. a copy.

THOMES & TALBOT, Pubs.,
23 Hawley Street, Boston, Mass.

WANNER'S
SWISS BALSAM!

Contains neither grease nor poison. Cures permanently all Diseases of the Scalp and Skin. It may be safely applied to the youngest child, yet will remove the worst eruption in two weeks, rendering the skin smooth as velvet. It eradicates Dandruff, stops Falling Out of the Hair, making it soft and silky, and produces a new growth. $1 a bottle.

Order through your Druggist.

WANNER & CO., Proprietors,
8 Barclay St., N. Y.

VAN SCHAACK, STEVENSON & CO., Northwestern Agents, Chicago, Ill.

A SMALL BOY.

Trying to Break the Monotony of Domestic Prison Life by Playing the "Umpah."

A small boy leaned out of the rear third-story window of his father's house in Brooklyn, looking at the sky, and at tif as breaking out with the song, "In the North Sea Lived a Whale." His noise attracted his newspaper neighbor, who also leaned out and said, "Well, Georgie, how are you?"

"I'se a prisoner looked up on bread and water," George replied, "just 'cause I didn't know it was loaded. You see, father was in the army, and last week when you heard him firin' off his pistols he was a shootin' at a cat. He shot five times, and the cat looked up and smiled when he got frou'. Says I, 'father, did you ever kill a man when you were a soldier?' thinking, you know, that he couldn't shoot fur a cent. He says, 'I s'pose so.' 'Well,' I says, 'you muster bin close enough to hit him with an ax;' and he sent me into the house. Well, I seed where he hid his pistol in his overcoat, and yesterday I got it out, an' there was an accident. I felt sure it wasn't loaded, for didn't I hear father fire it off? I put it under my piller, 'n' I waited for supper to be over, cause I wanted to scare the girls. Girls always holler when they see a pistol. Well, our minister come to tea. Ministers are the greatest hands to come to tea; it's half their work to go 'round an' eat supper with the ladies. Father went down to the convention, and Bess and Lily, them's the girls, went into the parlor to see the minister didn't get sleepy. 'Bess,' says I, 'lend me your blanket shawl for a few minutes. I want to be a Indian brave.' I wrapped the shawl 'round me, put father's cane over my shoulder for a gun, 'n' then I got the pistol, 'n' crept softly down to the parlor so they wouldn't know Indians was skirmishin, 'round their camp. I pushed open the door, 'n' there was the minister and Bess sittin' at opposite ends of the sofy, 'n' Lil was crocheting a lamp mat. All was still, 'n' I says, 'The hour has come.' Then I give three war whoops, 'n' rushed in 'n' said, 'Surrender, or I shoot!' There was a panic. The girls went into hysterics, 'n' the preacher said, 'My son, mebbe that pistol's loaded.'

"Says I, 'S'render, pale chief, or I'll shoot yer dead in yer tracks.' They all made a rush at me to take the pistol away, 'n' I fired. Lordy, what a noise. I was skeered most to death. The bullet went into a picture of the signers of the Declamation of Independence, and took off the head of one of the signers. The preacher turned pale 'n' said I was a wicked boy. I knowd it, 'n' I knowd what I was goin' to ketch. The girls cried like as though there was a fun'ral, 'n' I was whipped. I dreamed all night I was fightin' the Indians, 'n' when I woke up this mornin' I felt sure my name would be in the papers. They gave me bread 'n' water for breakfast, 'n' wouldn't let me see a newspaper. So I thought I'd escape. I tore up the two sheets, tied one end to the bureau drawer, and was climbin' down like folks do at a fire, when somethin' gave way. I fell about a thousand feet, I thought. I come down so hard, I hit the stone area, 'n' it seemed to me as if it was night and I was lookin' at a million stars. I didn't know nothin' for a minute. Then I come to."

"What broke?"

"Nothin' broke; the bureau drawer come out. I oughter tied on to the gas fixture. Father wouldn't give me a newspaper, but he gave me another lickin' and some more bread and water. I s'pose now I'll be a month on bread 'n' water.

"But you mustn't make so much noise."

"That was op'ra I was singin'. Don't you like op'ra? Well, you don't care if I play the umpah?"

"What is the umpah?"

"Why, didn't you ever hear a brass band going down the street? One man with a little horn goes 'Ta-te-rent-ta-ta-te-ta,' and a man with a big horn goes 'um-pah, um-pah, um-pah.' That's the umpah I play."

As the neighbor drew in his head the small boy began on the "umpah," and he was playing it when the reporter went away.—New York Sun.

A practical joke of a different kind was once played by two mischievous scamps attached to the Bowery Theatre. A grand spectacular play was in preparation, in which two hundred supers arrayed as Chinamen were to be discovered on a slope, extending up to the painting room, situated at the rear end of the building, at a height about level with with the proscenium arch. Rummaging the painting room, Johnny Williams, the property boy, came upon an old wicker elephant, and confiding his discovery to another boy in the establishment, proposed to have some fun out of the supers by rolling the elephant down the slope upon them.

Upon the first night of the grand spectacle the young rascals crept into the painting room. Presently up went the curtain, discovering the whole of the stage, the mock-Chinamen covering the slope. Suddenly a monster elephant came rolling and tumbling down the incline, in a perfect cloud of dust. Supers were crushed under its mighty weight; supers were knocked off their feet, and sent rolling to the stage; supers, scared out of their wits, fled the scene. The panic was over in a few minutes, but was terrible enough while it lasted; and, although they hardly deserved such luck, its authors escaped unsuspected, the catastrophe being attributed to the breaking of the ropes by which, for years, the elephant had been suspended.

Italics and Punctuation.

Reader! when you write an article or any periodical, or a letter to a friend, never use italics except in some very unusual emergency, for their employment implies that the sentence has been badly constructed, and needs artificial emphasis before its meaning can be understood. A clause in italics always bears testimony to the writer's clumsiness. So of general punctuation. Punctuate as little as possible. Punctuation marks can usually be dispensed with if the reader be not too ignorant or too indolent to construct rightly in the first place the sentence in which they are employed. If the adverbial clauses of a sentence be properly distributed in relation to the chief statements of which they are modifications the parenthesis becomes a crooked folly and the comma a trifling superfluity. Of course some punctuation marks are needed; the period, to indicate the end of a sentence; the semicolon, to indicate where a sentence came very near ending and didn't; perhaps the exclamation point to tell the reader where to be astonished, though if he feels so disposed he may possibly learn to be shocked on his own hook; the interrogation point; now and then even a comma to prove the imperfection of language at the point of a mere human pen. But every comma is an apology offered by the writer to the reader. The parenthesis is never to be used; at most not more than once a week by a constant writer. The dash or comma is an effective substitute. Finally, let it be borne in mind that much punctuation is the infallible sign of poor writing. —American Queen.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

Parasitic diseases are communicated by imperfectly cooked meat, and especially the flesh of the pig, either fresh or cured.

Sunlight has an important bearing upon health. Introduce it freely into the house, and particularly into your sleeping-rooms.

When the joints are stiffened with rheumatism or a settled cold, the following applications are said to be capital, and enable the sufferer to move with ease: Cut into small bits (or grate) one ounce of castile soap. And a heaping table-spoonful of cayenne pepper. Have these in a small pitcher, and then pour on to them half a pint of boiling hot water. Stir until all is dissolved, and add a little cider, brandy or alcohol when bottling. An application of the above brings the blood in a glow to the joints, and on rubbing a little sweet oil to relax the muscles the patient will be enabled to walk with perfect ease.

The majority of people are apt to neglect the feet. Frequent bathing of the feet in water in which a small quantity of borax has been placed is conducive to health and comfort. Ammonia and bay rum, though cleansing, have a tendency to dry the skin and close the pores. Hosiery should be frequently changed, and the feet, ankles and calves of the legs anointed with healing oil or salve. Never use cheap or highly-perfumed soap, as it has a tendency to dry and parch the skin, and so close the pores as to prove very injurious to health. Castile, olive-oil and other vegetable-oil soaps are the best for the flesh.

Acids and caustics should never be used to destroy moles. They always leave scars, which are often greater deformities than the moles themselves. Besides, the operation is tedious and painful. Warts can generally be driven away in a few days, by wetting a piece of salammoniac and rubbing the warts with it two or three times a day.

Cabinet-makers and wood-workers generally are familiar with the uses of glue in dressing tool cuts and other slight wounds incident to their calling. The gluepot is always handy in their shops, and a glued rag answers as well as the best adhesive plaster. In a paper read before the Philadelphia Academy of Surgery, Dr. Hewson recommended the addition of acetic acid to the glue, and a little attar of roses to cover the odor of the glue and the acid. This compound spread on paper or muslin makes, he said, a good substitute for adhesive plaster for surgical use. It is easily and quickly prepared simply by putting into a vessel of boiling water a bottle containing one part of glue to four, by measure, of the acid. Common glue may be used, and officinal acid, to be had at any drug store. The mixture should be kept in a wide-mouthed bottle well stoppered by a long cork, which can always be removed by heating the neck of the bottle. Care should be taken to keep the mouth of the bottle clean by wiping it well with a cloth dipped in hot water. A bottle of this cheap and easily-prepared dressing would be a good thing to have at home as well as at the workshop.

Moles and Warts.—We could never quite understand why any gentleman, and particularly any lady, should consent to remain conspicuous, by reason of an ugly mole on the face, when the defect may be easily and safely remedied. We have extirpated a "hat full"—"be the same more or less"—and have done our work so thoroughly that there is not the ghost of a chance that a single mole will return to torment its former possessor. Our plan is this: Where there is but one mole, not too large, we simply freeze it with a spray of ether, and then make a curved incision in the direction of the folds of the skin, from a quarter to half an inch in length, on each side of the mole, and close to it, so as to close it between the curved incisions; and then we remove the mole with the small portion of skin on either side of it. We then sponge the wound till it stops bleeding, and draw the edges of skin accurately together with several very narrow strips of court plaster. In three or four days it will heal; generally so that not the least scar or line can be seen. If there are two or more moles to be taken out, or one large one, we take our patients to a neighboring dentist who administers gas, and while under the influence we can dispose of three or four moles; and then apply the plasters afterward. Thus the whole operation is painless, and entirely safe.

The Best Part of Man's Life.

[T. F. Bayard.]

It has been my lot for many years to assist in making laws for the government of this country, but the more I consider the problems of social and political arrangement, and the forces that most influence and control it, the less do I find the statute books have to do in the regulation of the actual lives and occupations of the people. I mean how few of these occupations which engross the greater portion of our time, cause our labor and anxious considerations, in which we are deeply interested, spend most of our money and bestow our powers in every way, are those to which any statute law or constitution compels us. The best part of man's life is in the world of his natural affections, and that realm has laws of its own that neither know nor heed king, kaiser nor president nor reichstags nor congress, and are deaf even to the voices of shouting popular majorities, but heed and obey rather the gentle voice of woman and the cry of helpless and feeble childhood.

A WOMAN-SEARCHER.

The Disagreeable Work Performed by a Female Prison Attache.

[From the Detroit Post.]

Perhaps searching female prisoners is not one of the most grateful tasks in the world, but that is the vocation of a lady who resides in the Hawley block, and has lived there steadily in the same suite of rooms for sixteen years. Mrs. Hoose, the lady in question, is a pleasant-looking woman, still young. Nothing in her appearance would indicate any unusual strength or determination. She was not at all averse to being interviewed, nor did she seem to think there was anything unusual or unpleasant in her calling.

"I don't mind it at all," she said, "when ladies are sober, but when they have been drinking they sometimes make me a good deal of trouble. They are all innocent, every one of them, at least they say they are, and when I find the goods on them they wonder how they could have got there. I searched two colored girls the other day who were accused of stealing $1,500 from a man who strayed into their den. They laughed at me and asked if I thought they wouldn't be smart to carry the money around with them. Anyhow they didn't have it."

"Have you many shop-lifters?"

"Yes; they are my best customers. One was brought to me not long ago who pleaded pitifully. She said she would give me all she had in the world if I would only let her go; that her husband was a respectable man and it would break his heart. I had to search her, and I found concealed under each armpit a splendid silk and bead cord and tassel. One smuggler whom I searched had no underwear on, but whole pieces of goods were rolled around her; her hair was very thick and I found several pairs of kid gloves twisted up in it. Her husband never came near her, but her brother tried his best to get her cleared."

"Do the women you search belong to a very low class?"

"I search the worst and the best. Many cases never get into the papers. Well-dressed and respectable women get drunk and disorderly, and are brought in, and they send for me to go to the Station and search their pockets for their names and address, and for morphine, as these women are all morphine chewers.

"If her husband is sent for to take her home and pay a fine, he always lays her wrong-doing to morphine. There is another class of women; old maids, who work in shops by the day, who once or twice a year go out on a spree with some gentlemen friends who are sure to accuse them of stealing their pocket-books. One man dropped his pocket-book on the street and had a lady arrested whom he said had picked it up. I searched her, but found nothing, and she was let go."

"Are they very much frightened when you examine them?"

"Yes, and they offer me everything to let them go, but I tell them I must do my duty and usually coax them a little; but if they resist they know I would use main force. Sometimes I have such hard characters to search that the policemen who bring them in are afraid to let me go in a room alone with them. But they never offer me any harm. Some of them are dressed beautifully and with good taste, too. It is not allowable for the men to search them; but one respectable lady, who was brought in for shop-lifting, or 'kleptomania,' as they call it now, refused to have me search her, and the captain of the precinct searched her. I tell you it would melt a heart of stone sometimes to hear them cry and go on. The old ones get hardened to it and don't mind, but those that are new at it, just as soon as I find the goods, will wilt right down."

The room in which she conducts this searching operation is furnished with apertures which give the public the opportunity to watch both the inspector and inspected, thus destroying any possible chance of collusion.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, etc., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well-known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See another column.—Republican.

Carlyle and the Small Boy.

[From the Atlantic.]

We passed a spot where some nobleman's grounds were being appropriated for a public park. It was only lately that people had been allowed to cross them, and all was in the rough, preparations for the change having been begun. Part of the turf had been torn up for a roadway, but there was a little emerald strip where three or four ragged children, the oldest not over ten, were turning somersaults in great delight. As we approached they paused and looked shyly at us, as if uncertain of their right on these premises, and I could see the oldest, a sharp-eyed little London boy, reviewing us in one keen glance, as if selecting him in whom confidence might be placed. Now I am myself a child-loving person; and I saw with pleasure Mr. Froude's kindly ways with his own youthful household; yet the little gamin dismissed us with a glance and fastened on Carlyle. Pausing on one foot, as if ready to take to his heels on the least discouragement, he called out the daring question:

"I say, mister, may we roll on this here grass?"

The philosopher faced around, leaning on his staff, and replied in a homelier Scotch accent than I had yet heard him use:

"Yes, my little fellow, r-r-roll at discraytion!"

Instantly the children resumed their antics, while one little girl repeated meditatively, "He says we may roll at discraytion!"—as if it were some new kind of nine-pin ball.

And now they tell us bed bug bites cure rheumatism. They discovered the fact from observing that boarders at Cincinnati hotels never have the rheumatism.—[Boston Post.

Fifty-eight million dollars is the estimated value of finger rings of this country actually worn, and still there are people mean enough to go hacking and coughing because they do not want to invest 25 cents for a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is a concentrated, potent alterative, or blood-cleansing remedy, that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humor, from the common pimple, blotch or eruption to the formidable scrofulous swelling or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration yield to its benign influences. Consumption, which is but a scrofulous affection of the lungs, may, in its early stages, be cured by a free use of this God-given remedy. See article on consumption and its treatment in Part III. of the World's Dispensary Dime Series of pamphlets, costs two stamps, postpaid. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Sophronsy Waddlesworth, aged 35, was reading the fashion notes, and when she struck the paragraph, "Babies are fashionable this season," she fainted dead away and remained unconscious fifteen minutes. It was all the fault of the intelligent compositor. The item should have read: "Rubies are fashionable this season." Something of a difference, you will observe, though both are dear little things.

A LADY WANTS TO KNOW

the latest Parisian style of dress and bonnet; a new way to arrange the hair. Millions are expended for artificial appliances which only make conspicuous the fact that emaciation, nervous debility and female weakness exist. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is sold under a positive guarantee. If used as directed art can be dispensed with. It will overcome those diseases peculiar to females. By druggists.

There is only one woman we know of who can let other women pass her by without looking after them to see whether their polonaises were shirred in the elbow and cut bias on the watch-pocket. The woman in question is a tobacco sign on Pine Street, says the Williamsport Breakfast Table.

WHAT'S SAVED IS GAINED.

Workingmen will economize by employing Dr. Pierce's medicines. His "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" and "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanse the blood and system, thus preventing fevers and other serious diseases, and curing all scrofulous and other humors. Sold by druggists.

"When are you going to commence the pork business?" asked a person of another who had a sty in the eye. "Explain," said the afflicted one. "Why, I see you have your sty ready." "True," was the reply, "I have got one hog in my eye now."

Set Back 42 Years.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, etc.; my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about; was an old, worn-out man all over; could get nothing to help me until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 72, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth a trial."—(Father.)—Sunday Mercury.

A proprietor of a circus in the West has lost several valuable animals, among them a fine specimen of a species of wildcat that attracted much attention in his show. Darwin like, he is now searching for the missing lynx.

Persons Who Stand Upon Their Feet, whether men or women, are often troubled with serious pains and weaknesses in the back, loins and other parts of the body. It has been proven beyond a doubt, however, that Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure is a certain preventive of these troubles.

A Springfield dairyman furnished butter to a circus company recently, and wanted to get in on the strength of it. The ticket agent examined the butter and granted the request.

Don't Die in the House.

Ask Druggists for "Rough on Rats." It clears out rats, mice. 15 cents.

Frazer Axle Grease.

Best in the world. Made only by the Frazer Lubricator Co., at Chicago, New York and St. Louis. Sold everywhere.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send their Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to any person afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing complete restoration of vigor and manhood.

Address as above without delay.

N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

For Dyspepsia, indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms, also as a preventive against fever and ague and other intermittent fevers, the Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya Bark, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal.

For Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

Mothers should understand that Dr. Holman's Ague and Liver Pad is a perfect preventive of Cholera infantum and other infantile and summer diseases without medicine. Be sure and get the true Dr. Holman's Pad—the only genuine. All Druggists and dealers.

An Enormous Traffic.—Pittsburgh boasts that 849,746 bottles of Carboline have been sold within the last six months. This shows that the great army of baldheads will soon be reduced to a corporal's guard.

For Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

Dr BULL'S
COUGH
SYRUP

A. BEATTY'S PIANOFORTES.—Magnificent holiday presents; square grand pianofortes, four very handsome round corners, rosewood cases, three unisons, Beatty's matchless iron frames, stool, book, cover, boxes, $222.75 to $297.50; catalogue prices, $800 to $1,000; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded, after one year's use; Upright Pianofortes, $125 to $255; catalogue prices $500 to $800; standard pianofortes of the universe, as thousands testify; write for mammoth list of testimonials. Beatty's Cabinet ORGANS, cathedral, church, chapel, parlor, $30 upward. Visitors welcome; free carriage meets passengers; illustrated catalogue (holiday edition) free. Address or call upon DANIEL F. BEATTY, Washington, New Jersey.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address Stinson & Co., Portland, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address True & Co., Augusta, Me.

WATCHES Catalogue free. Address, Standard American Watch Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

DR. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

12c. "A Violet from Mother's Grave" and 49 other popular Songs, words and music entire, all for 12c. Patten & Co., 39 Barclay St., New York.

YOUNG MEN If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address Valentine Bros., Janesville, Wis.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. National Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.

Educate For Business at the Oldest & Best Commercial College. Circulars free. Address C. Bayliss, Dubuque, Ia.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till Cured. Dr. J. Stephens, Lebanon, Ohio.

Phonography, or Phonetic Shorthand.
Catalogue of works, with Phonographic alphabet and illustrations, for beginners, sent on application.
Address BENN PITMAN, Cincinnati, O.

KIDDER'S PASTILLES. Sure relief ASTHMA. Price 35 cts. by mail. Stowell & Co. Charlestown, Mass.

FARMERS AND OTHERS WANTED as agents for the sale of our goods everywhere. Apply for information immediately.
AMERICAN EXCELSIOR COFFEE CO.,
69 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
Elocutionist Annual, No. 9, comprising latest and best productions of most popular writers. Paper, 30c.; cloth gilt, special holiday edition, $1.00. National School of Elocution & Oratory, 1416 & 1418 Chestnut St., Philad'la.

GOLD & SILVER MEDALS AWARDED
By Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics' Exhibition to CHICKERING & SONS for Best Grand, Square and Upright Piano-Fortes.

GARFIELD'S Career (3d edition), from Tow-Path to White House; full account of Obsequies. Handsome Quarto, drawing-room style, Steel Plates. Prices, $1.50, $1.75; Gilt-edge, $2.00. Agents Wanted Everywhere. Address J. A. & R. A. REID, Publishers, Providence, R. I.

ASTHMA CURED.
German Asthma Cure never fails to give immediate relief in the worst cases, insures comfortable sleep; effects cures where all others fail. A trial convinces the most skeptical. Price, 50c. and $1.00 of Druggists or by mail. Sample FREE for stamp. Dr. R. SCHIFFMAN, St. Paul, Minn.

CHEAPEST BOOKS IN THE WORLD
Macaulay's History of England. 5 l'ge 12mo vols. cloth; only $2.00
Taine's History of Eng. Literature. 1 l'ge 12mo vol. handsomely bound, for only 50 cts.
Full descriptive catalogue Free.
MANHATTAN BOOK CO., 16 W. 14th St., N.Y. P.O. Box 4580

PRICE $20. NO RISK! NO PAY!
This N. Y. Singer Sewing Machine is the best ever made—sews fast, runs easy, very handsome, quiet, durable, simple, convenient, and powerful. Warranted 5 years. Sent anywhere on 5 days trial. Pay if it pleases. 4,000,000 of this model machine have been sold. Ask for circulars and testimonials. Low prices to clubs. No risk to try us. Thousands do every year, and thank us for the $10 to $50 saved in buying direct. Cut this out, and when you or a friend need a Sewing Machine be sure to address Geo. Payne & Co., 47 Third Av., Chicago, Ill.

ANOTHER BOOM FOR AGENTS.
MARK TWAIN'S NEW BOOK is due daily. THE BEST.
The Prince and the Pauper
Will outsell all his previous works, and offers you the best chance of your life to make money rapidly. Old agents will act promptly and secure choice territory, and we advise you to do the same. Outfits now ready. Send at once for circulars and terms to
H. N. HINCKLEY, Publisher,
14 S. Canal St., Chicago, Ill.

FLORIDA! Atlantic and Gulf Coast Canal and Okeechobee Land Co. of Fla.
ISSUE OF 50,000 SHARES OF $10 EACH AT PAR,
With bonus of 40 acres for each 10 shares, from choice lands of the "Disston purchase."
OFFICES—Third and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia; 115 Broadway, N. Y., Rooms 111-113.
☞ Detailed prospectus with descriptive maps mailed free to applicants.

NEW RICH BLOOD!
Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sold everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps.
I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co., Portland, Me.

TEMPERANCE 8 weeks, 10 cents.
The leading temperance paper in the world; average weekly circulation over 30,000; 12 columns solid reading; temperance worker's portrait in every issue; elegant paper; commended by Gov. St. John, Miss Frances E. Willard and hundreds of other temperance leaders. On trial 8 weeks, 10 cents. Silver or stamps rec'd. Mention this paper. Address, The National Liberator, 105 Franklin-st, Chicago, Ill.

PISO'S CURE FOR
Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c. & $1.
CONSUMPTION.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE PICTORIAL
HISTORY OF THE WORLD
Embracing full and authentic accounts of every nation of ancient and modern times, and including a history of the rise and fall of the Greek and Roman Empires, the middle ages, the crusades, the feudal system, the reformation, the discovery and settlement of the New World, etc., etc.
It contains 672 fine historical engravings, and is the most complete History of the World ever published. Send for specimen pages and extra terms to Agents.
Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

HOP BITTERS.
(A Medicine, not a Drink.)
CONTAINS
HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION,
And the Purest and Best Medical Qualities of all other Bitters.
THEY CURE
All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.
$1000 IN GOLD.
Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.
Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no other.
D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.
Send for Circular.
All above sold by druggists.
Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

MUSTANG
Survival of the Fittest.
A FAMILY MEDICINE THAT HAS HEALED MILLIONS DURING 35 YEARS!
MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.
A BALM FOR EVERY WOUND OF MAN AND BEAST!
THE OLDEST & BEST LINIMENT EVER MADE IN AMERICA.
SALES LARGER THAN EVER.
The Mexican Mustang Liniment has been known for more than thirty-five years as the best of all Liniments, for Man and Beast. Its sales to-day are larger than ever. It cures when all others fail, and penetrates skin, tendon and muscle, to the very bone. Sold everywhere.

SIX CTS WHY WASTE MONEY! Young man or old. If you want a luxuriant moustache, flowing whiskers or a heavy growth of hair on bald heads, or to THICKEN, STRENGTHEN and INVIGORATE the HAIR anywhere don't be humbugged. Try the great Spanish discovery which has NEVER YET FAILED. Send ONLY SIX CENTS to Dr. J. GONZALEZ, Box 1669, Boston, Mass. Beware of all imitations.

C. N. U. No. 51

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

Dr HARTER'S
Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.
Gentlemen:—I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your Iron Tonic, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. The old energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. Watson, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.
The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary.
IRON TONIC.
MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., NO. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE.
THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.,
Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the LAST YEAR than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, twenty years since; and are now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE AND ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular MEDIUM and SMALLER STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $54, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than 100 styles of Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which will be useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or, 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY.
Having struggled 20 years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC, treated by eminent physicians and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last five years of my illness to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath; my sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhaling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE for ASTHMA or CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn case of Asthma in FIVE MINUTES, so the patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Any person not fully satisfied after using one-third of a box can return the remainder to the proprietor and the money will be refunded. Send me your address for a trial package FREE OF CHARGE. Should your druggist not keep the remedy, you can send it by mail on receipt of the price $1.00. For sale by all Druggists. Address D. LANGELL, Proprietor, Apple Creek, Ohio, or ALBERT INGARD, Manager, 56 Astor House Office, New York City.

☞ Six Valuable Christmas Presents Free to All!
YOU CAN SECURE ALL THE BEAUTIFUL AND USEFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS NAMED IN THIS ADVERTISEMENT AT NO COST WHATEVER! Read the Conditions! We publish a splendid Eight-page, 40-column Agricultural and Home Paper entitled The Rural Home Journal, at the low price of Fifty Cents a Year! It is handsomely illustrated, and is filled with instructive and useful reading matter for every member of the rural household. Its contents embrace Agriculture, Horticulture, Household Topics, Ladies' Fancy Work, Stories, Poetry, News, Wit and Humor, Exposures of Humbugs, etc., etc. It is in every respect a complete family paper, and every number contains hints and suggestions alone worth the subscription price. Wishing to obtain 100,000 new subscribers at once, we make this great offer: Upon receipt of only Fifty Cents in postage stamps we will send The Rural Home Journal for One Year, and to every subscriber we will send, free and post-paid, Six Valuable and Useful Premiums, as follows: 1. A Handsome Autograph Album, bound in leatherette, or imitation leather, with ornamental design on cover—a neat and serviceable book. 2. Gold-Plated Finger Ring, a plain ring of good quality of gold plate, durable, and suitable for either lady or gentleman. 3. Imitation Coral Breast Pin, of a new and very beautiful design, which will be much admired. 4. Buckner's Musical Chart, by the aid of which any one may learn to play upon the Piano, Organ or Melodeon in a short time. 5. Two Perforated Card Board Mottoes, for working with worsted or silk for book-marks or other souvenirs. 6. The Mechanical Grasshopper, a new and amusing Christmas toy, which will delight the whole family with its antics. Remember, we send all of these valuable and useful articles absolutely free to all who send fifty cents for a year's subscription to The Rural Home Journal. We make this great offer simply to introduce our paper and obtain a large list of new subscribers. It is one chance in a life-time to get a very large return for a very small sum of money. Think of it! A splendid paper a whole year for only fifty cents, with six valuable and useful premiums free! We offer no cheap trash, but only articles of genuine value and usefulness, and a paper excelled by none. All orders filled promptly, and perfect satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. As to our reliability we refer to any publisher in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies, as we have been long in business, are well-known, and our reputation is established. If you will show this advertisement and get two others to join with you, we will send you an extra copy with the premiums free for your trouble. Send at once for this unprecedented bargain. Address
F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, 27 Park Place, New York.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., DEC 22, 1881

CALIFORNIA exported two and one half million gallons of native wine and brandy during the past year.

BENJ. H. BREWSTER has been confirmed by the senate as attorney-general, and Bancroft Davis as assistant secretary of state.

THERE are nearly thirty different groups or parties in the German parlament. They can beat New York when it comes to politics.

THE latest and official account of the burning of the Ring Theater at Vienna, places the number of the dead at 794. It is one of the most shocking cases of loss of life by fire, that has ever been recorded.

THE Guiteau trial was temporarily stopped this week, by the death of the wife of one of the jurymen. The counsel on both sides agreed to a postponement, but there are some who think it will be made an excuse for getting a new trial in case this one results in a death sentence.

IT is said that the attorney-general of the United States has a load of some fifty star route cases in his gun. It will make a very unpleasant noise when he shoots it off, if he ever does, but we would not advise anybody to hold their breath until that event happens.

THE new railroad at Ft. Wayne, will probably locate its division shops at that place. They agree to build shops equal in extent and cost to those of the Pittsburg road at that place, provided the citizens will vote a bonus of $150,000 to assist them. In this case they agree to put up shops, and make other needed improvements to the amount of $450,000.

GUITEAU'S crime, the shooting down of the president in cold blood, black and horrible as it was, is a mere trifle in the injury it does the country when we compare it with the evil effects which will result from the disgusting details of his trial. The spectacle of the assassin playing the clown in the court-room to delighted audiences who nearly crack their sides at his blasphemous and ribald jokes, will go a great deal farther to demoralize public sentiment and public taste, than the commission of a thousand such crimes. People naturally abhor and loathe a desperate, plain and undisguised crime. But when it is presented to them, as it now is daily, through the glittering disguise of the assassin's brilliant jokes, his sallies of wit, his repartees to witnesses and counsel, his daring insults to a regularly constituted court of justice, his open ridicule of well-known and respectable men of high standing, and the familiarity he claims with the leaders of his party, it becomes doubly demoralizing. All this is so well calculated to throw a veil over the reality of the crime, and to so accustom the public mind to contemplate the criminal with a certain degree of complacency, that we may well pause in fear as to its ultimate evil influence on public morals. How many of those who now indulge in roars of laughter in Judge Cox's court, were but a short time ago, ready and willing to pull on the rope that would have sent their present entertainer to a felon's grave? Would they do it now? Hardly. So we say, in view of the incalculable damage which this farce of a trial is doing to public morals, it is to be hoped that it will soon end, and the disgusting spectacle taken from sight forever.

Vick's Illustrated Floral Guide.

For 1882 is an elegant book of 130 pages, two colored plates of flowers, and more than 1000 illustrations of the choicest flowers, plants and vegetables, and directions for growing. It is handsome enough for the center table or a holiday present. Send on your name and post office address, with ten cents, and I will send you a copy, postage paid. This is not a quarter of its cost. It is printed in both English and German. If you afterwards order seeds deduct the ten cents. Vick's seeds are the best in the world. The Floral Guide will tell how to get and grow them. Vick's flower and vegetable garden, 175 pages, 6 colored plates, 500 engravings. For 50 cents in paper covers; $1.00 in elegant cloth. In German or English. Vick's illustrated monthly magazine—32 pages, a colored plate in every number and many fine engraving. Price $1.25 a year; five copies for $5.00. Specimen numbers sent for ten cents; three trial copies for twenty-five cents.

Address. JAMES VICK,
Rochester, N. Y.

Attention, Knights of Honor.

Notice is hereby given, that there will be an election held on Friday evening, Dec. 30, 1881, at the lodge room, in Waterloo, Ind., of Union Lodge No. 1436, K. of H., for the purpose of electing three trustees of said Lodge, for the ensuing year. By order of the lodge.

W. H. LEAS, Recorder.
JOHN KOONS, Dictator.

For the next ten days, people will be busily engaged in selecting holiday presents of various kinds, and in the line of gold and silver watches, solid silver and silver plated ware, solid gold finger rings, both band and seal, in onyx, cameo, ametnyst, topaz, blood stone, diamond and fine imitation of diamond, Bassett & Maxson, of Waterloo, is unsurpassed. Call and buy and save from 25 to 30 per cent. 50-2w.

MOTHERS DON'T KNOW—How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, the children would be all a parent could desire." 51-2w.

Gold pens, pencils and tooth picks. The best and cheapest in the world, at Davenport's.

Schaab, Beugnot & Co. will not be undersold on mixed or any other kind of candy. Call and be convinced before making your christmas purchases.

If you want any paper, magazine or other reading matter for next year, you can be accommodated with publishers lowest prices at the book store. 50-2w.

A splendid assortment of cloth, hair and tooth brushes, combs, dressing cases, fancy box papers, ladies hand bags, purses and card cases, at Davenport's.

—"Tom, what do you got in dem barrels?" "Don't you know, Jim; Dat is dos sauer kraut for Hoff Bros. They got it from Germany, and keep it for sale."

—List of unclaimed letters at the Auburn postoffice, Dec. 19, 1881: Adam Hohman, G. A. Kerr, Mary Miller, Newton J. Ziegler.

JOS. RAINIER, P. M.

All those indebted to me for meat must positively pay up by the first of January, if you want any more credit, hereafter. S. U. TARNEY.

Toy books all kinds and prices at Davenport's.

—Buy a watch for your boy for a Christmas present. Abright has an immense stock.

Waterloo.

—Orpheus Hall was home over Sunday.

—Ed. Blattner was at home over Sunday.

—Nellie Barns visited in town over Sunday.

—James McCosh talks of moving to town soon.

—Eugene Trout is now sawing wood at present.

—Hiram Leib is home again for a short time.

—Luther Knisely was in town one day last week.

—P. B. Nimmons, of Wilmington, was in town Monday.

—Mr. Thomas Askey is here on business for a few days.

—Ab. Kelley was over to Auburn Monday on business.

—J. A. Barns was shaking hands with his friends here Monday.

—Miss Jennie McClellan is visiting her father for a few days.

—Miss Ola Leib has returned to Hillsdale, to resume her studies.

—Theo. McCosh bought a cow for $10. How is that for cheap milk?

—Mr. Eckhart, of the Auburn carriage works, was in town Monday.

—Mrs. Cyrus Kelley is absent on a visit to her mother who resides in Pierceton.

—C. Clutz has purchased the Michael Kiplinger property in the south part of town.

—Miss Ida Blair went to Butler, Saturday to visit relatives, and spend the Sabbath.

—Michael Kiplinger expects to visit his mother in Ashland county, Ohio, next week.

—John S. Boots, of Jackson township, was in town Monday. It is natural to see him around.

—O. T. Clark has a new tin roof on his awning. He is tired of experimenting with wooden ones.

—Headquarters for Santa Claus at Bassett & Maxson's. He can supply all with presents for their friends.

—F. P. Day has the boss corn sheller. It is not much bigger than a coffee-mill but it works like a full grown one.

—Edwin Thomson came home Monday afternoon on No. 4. He is now residing in the northeastern part of Laporte county.

—That union depot at the crossing turned out to be a coal bin for the use of the target men, Messrs. Grubiky and Crane.

B. F. Blair, of Newville, was here Monday. His daughter was with him and they are visiting the family of Gen. L. J. Blair.

—Charlie Clark has fixed up his store for the holidays. There is nothing like a tasty room to show off a stock of boots and shoes.

—John Kimsey, our efficient postmaster, put a new roof on one of his houses last week. John looks out for a rainy day.

—Mrs. North, of Edgewood, Ill., is stopping here at present visiting her two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Francis and Miss Lydia North.

—Joseph Lower has left his father's house like the prodical son, and removed to the former residence of Aaron Ash, in Franklin township.

—John Leas and his wife came home on the Jackson train Monday. They are now settled in the old home north of town. We hope Mrs. Leas will find her new home pleasant.

—Dr. Kelley, of Syracuse, was visiting friends here last week. He returned Friday. He reports a poor season for ducks on the lakes there.

—Mrs. J. I. Best and daughter Birdie, Mr. W. S Best and Miss Ida Blair went to Auburn Friday evening to attend Miss Vineyard's entertainment.

—Robert Patterson is off now all the time, selling boots and shoes for a firm in Newark, New Jersey. Good judges say his line of goods cannot be excelled.

—W. B. Johnson went to Ohio, Monday, by way of Auburn and the B. & O. road. He goes to Fredericktown to join his parents and sisters who are already there.

—The soldiers of Post No. 4, will give an oyster supper on Thursday evening of next week. All other posts are cordially invited to be present and assist in making it an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

—Simon Smith, living a mile or two south of town died Sunday night of lung fever and was buried Monday. The funeral was at Strong's school house. Sermon by Rev. Klotz. His age was 66 years, 11 months.

—Another firm in the poultry business now. The difference, however, between this firm and others is, that this one does not need to ship its poultry to Toledo or New York. We do not usually give advice gratis, but it will cost nothing to say to the new firm that it is not necessary to speak so loud when you say, "We'll cook 'em over here to-day."

—F. B. VanAuken, so long and well known as principal of our schools, was here Monday. He came to attend a meeting of the agricultural association. Frank expresses himself as well pleased with farm life, and is looking well. We have always claimed that an education would not prevent a man from raising good crops, and becoming in every way a successful farmer.

—The Lake Shore road has a new telegraph office at this place. It stands just east of the passenger house, and though quite a small building, will be large enough for the work required of an operator, and will be more comfortable than the old room. Still the office looks cheap for a great and wealthy corporation like the Lake Shore road. What ought to be done by the company is to put up a new depot, large enough for passenger rooms, ticket office and telegraph office.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and their daughter Della, bade adieu to their many friends last Saturday and went to their future home in Fredericktown, Ohio, where their daughter Sadie, now Mrs. C. Hosack is now residing. Mr. & Mrs. Johnson have resided here a number of years, and have endeared themselves to our people by their many good qualities. They leave many warm friends, and the young people will miss Walter, Sadie and Della very much. We hope their future may be prosperous and happy.

—Teacher's institute here last Saturday. J. A. Barns, county superintendent, was present and assisted in the work. C. P. Houser, of Auburn, was also here. The meeting was for the two adjoining townships of Smithfield and Union. Trustee Haines and Kutzner, all the teachers except two from each township, were in attendance. Those from Union township were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. St. Clair, D. Segner, A. J. Beard, Miss Nannie Hornberger, Miss Sarah Zahner, A. B. Walsworth and W. C. Carmer. From Smithfield were Frank Fisk, Laura Kennedy, May Shoemaker, Orson Edge, O. H. Taylor, Kate Kingsley, Aggie Baxter, Charles Jackman, J. H. Urey and Nettie Conrad.

Good mince meat ready prepared at Ed Baker's, at 12½ cents a pound. It saves time and labor.

—Abright's stock of ladies' gold watches, chains, necklaces for the holidays is now complete.

Don't fail to call at Willis,' when selecting your presents, as he has the finest goods for the money. 50-2w.

For good lunch, hot coffee and oysters, go to Ed. Baker's lunch room. Second door west of Davenport's.

Remember your friend, by sending one of those beautiful christmas cards, that you can get at the book store. 50-2w.

Singing Class.

At solicitation of friends the undersigned will conduct a second term of lessons in singing, commencing on Monday eve., December 26, at the M. E. church. We refer to the members of our last class as to the thoroughness of our methods of instruction. There will be a class for children at 4:30 p. m. of each day. For further information inquire of the following: Messrs. Myers, Harrison and Dugan, and Miss Coats in the public schools, and Messrs. Willis, Miller and Lewis. It will be to the advantage of every one wishing musical advancement to attend.

HENRY GORDON, Director.

Musical Convention.

Prof. S. W. Straub, of Chicago, well known in this community, has been engaged to conduct a four days musical convention at LaOtto, during the holidays, begining on Wednesday evening, Dec. 28, and closing on Saturday evening with a grand concert. There will be three sessions daily, forenoon, afternoon and evening. Parties from a distance will be boarded free. Inquire of Dr. Bawker, LaOtto, or C. R. Reed, Waterloo.

WANTED—Shingle bolts, 37 inches long, red oak, $3.50; black ash, $3.25; blue ash, and butternut, $4.25 per cord at Zimmerman & Co's.

—Lee Diehl, the popular jeweler of Butler, says he cannot be undersold in the county.

Executor's Sale.

THE undersigned, executor of the estate, of Asa Fletcher, deceased, will offer at public sale at his late residence, in Spencerville, De-Kalb county, Ind., on Saturday, January 14, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., all the personal property of the deceased. Terms made known on the day of sale.

WM. SHUTT, Executor.

51-3w.

Executor's Sale.

THE undersigned, executor of the estate, of Adam Shilling, deceased, will offer at public sale, at the late residence of Asa Fletcher, in Spencerville, DeKalb county, Ind., on Saturday, January 14, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., all the personal property of said deceased. Terms made known on the day of sale.

Dec. 20, 1881.
WM. SHUTT, Executor.

51-3w.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the De Kalb circuit court, of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Asa Fletcher, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

Dec. 9, 1881.
WILLIAM SHUTT, Administrator.

50-3w.

A $2.00 Biblical Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for December, offer the following easy way for someone to make $20.00:

To the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures by Dec. 10, 1881, we will give $20.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cents with their answer, for which they will receive the Christmas number of the Monthly, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Cut this out; it may be worth $20.00 to you. Address RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Easton, Pa.

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

Come and see the new goods

FOR THE HOLIDAYS,

—AT—

J. Wm. Wagner's

GOLD MORTAR DRUG STORE!

Garrett, Indiana,

YOU CAN BUY

Smoking Sets,
Smoking Sets,

Toilet Bottles
Toilet Bottles

China Goods,
China Goods,

Ladies' Toilet Cases,
Ladies' Toilet Cases,

Pocket Books
Pocket Books

Traveling Bags,
Traveling Bags,

Merschaum Pipes,
Merschaum Pipes,

Merschaum Pipes
Merschaum Pipes

And all other articles usually kept in a first-class drug store. Having secured the services of a first-class Prescription Druggist, and with a carefully selected stock of pure drugs and chemicals, we are prepared to fill all Physicians' Prescriptions with care and dispatch at all times. Don't forget the place—the sign of the

GOLD MORTAR.

GREAT CLEARANCE SALE

OF

BOOTS AND SHOES!

AT THE

BOOT UPSIDE DOWN

All Heavy Goods at Cost to Reduce Stock. Now is your time to Secure a Bargain. Fine Line of HOLIDAY SLIPPERS at the

BOOT UPSIDE DOWN

W. J. AUSTIN & CO.

BUY YOUR

Holiday Goods

-AT-

Ensley & Harter's.

—(o)—

CANDIES.

FANCY, MIXED, STICK and TOY CANDIES.

—(o)—

TOYS, TOYS !

Of every description, and at any price

—

Dolls, Dolls.

These goods will please you, and at prices that will astonish you. Also a

BIG ASSORTMENT

-OF-

KID GLOVES, KID GLOVES, TIES, TIES; COLLARS, COLLARS,

LACES, LACES, HOODS, HOODS, SCARFS, SCARFS,

SILK HANDKERCHIEFS, SILK HANDKERCHIEFS.

—(o)—

PURE MXIED CANDY

12 CENTS PER LB 12

—(o)—

Before buying, examine our goods.

ENSLEY & HARTER

County Items.

J. E. Thomson is still in the cheese manufacturing business at his farm in Smithfield. He has about forty cows, and is milking about thirty. He has a fine stock of cheese on hand, but it goes off rapidly, so that he is never at a loss to dispose of his stock. He now makes cheese every other day, and so gives some attention to butter making. He is now making arrangements to have farmers in his vicinity bring in their butter, freshly churned, and he can then take charge of its further preparation. He thinks that in this way, by the use of the improved methods he is now using, a much better quality of butter can be obtained, than by the ordinary methods.

J. W. Clark, so long the trustee of Smithfield township, is now the happy owner of a bouncing boy. This is not the only thing about the place to make a comfortable farm home. Mr. Clark has kept adding to his improvements until he has one of the most complete farm establishments in the country. He has this summer added a new barn, moving the old one a little to the north and putting the new one nearly on the old site. The new building is complete in all its appointments, and includes stable room, and large floor, grain room, harness room, and a large room in which are hay scales for weighing hay, stock, etc.

Mrs. John Houlton, wife of the first settler in this county, and who shared with her husband, the toils and privations common to the lot of all the early settlers, still resides in the old home in the northeast part of Franklin township. She is still hale and hearty, and enjoys life as well as many younger persons. She takes great interest in all good works, especially in schools. Her son, Roger, and his family, live in the old homestead with his mother, and the other children are settled near them.

Mr. J. P. Wagner and his kind-hearted wife still hold forth at the center of Franklin, and as usual, their house is a home for all who desire hospitality. This is usually the place selected by the district teachers for boarding place. Their son also lives on the place, and the parents are half inclined to move to Butler, where C. H. Thurstin and his wife, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, as well as another daughter, are now living.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Noragon are still at the old place, although the absence of all their children except Milton makes it sometimes rather lonesome to them. Mr. Noragon seems to have regained his health wonderfully, after the long and serious illness at the time of the loss of his arm. Still they dispense their hospitality with all their old-time liberality.

—Holiday goods so that you can't rest, at Frank A. Hoff's place.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—For christmas trimmings, see F. Hoff.

—Do not forget the Colfax lecture January 6th.

—Judge Woodhull, of Angola, is attending court.

—Sam'l Rhodefer is going back to Montana in the spring.

—Bro. Dodge, of Butler, was in town a short time on Tuesday.

—O. L. Hall, of Waterloo, made us a friendly call on Tuesday.

—Isaac Hirschler and Dr. Bolan, of Butler, were in town Tuesday.

—Call on the Courier office for nice calling cards. New stock of latest styles

—Gold set band and 18k rings at Abright's for the holidays by the peck.

I don't allow any one to undersell me on chromos, at the book store. 50-2w

—G. W. Gordon has been confirmed by the senate as postmaster at this place.

—Everything in the line of holiday presents at Abright, the Auburn jeweler's. 50-2w.

—Geo. Swander, of Coldwater, Michigan, gave us a pleasant call last Saturday.

—The prevailing inquiry among the school children is, "does your arm hurt much?"

—Wm. Shutt and Mr. Gill, of Concord township, called around to see us Tuesday.

—Those wanting cards can get them by waiting a few minutes after they order them.

Tub oysters at 30 cents a quart, can always be found at Ed. Baker's. Give them a trial.

—We are under obligations to David Link for the dog-on deal biggest beet we ever saw.

All the standard poems in fancy binding, and at the very lowest prices, at Davenport's.

—Wood piles are following the poetical figure: "Small by degrees, and beautifully less."

—Turkey! Turkey!! Turkey!!! Where is the turkey? At S. U. Tarney's meat market.

—One of our pioneers, Mrs. Puffenberger, is very sick at her home, on Van Buren street.

—The M. E. Church will have a nice christmas tree for the entertainment of the little ones on Saturday evening.

If you want anything in the jewelry line, it will pay you to look over the stock at the book store. 50-2w.

—Charlie Rainier skates well on a wet sidewalk, especially when Byron is after him with a sharp stick.

—Mr. Penfield may find the task of holding up the DeKalb circuit court by the tail a little troublesome.

—Cyrus Bowman, of Smithfield, called on us Monday. He is here looking up the Cooke matter.

—The usual number of fellows are sneaking into the grand jury room to vent their spite at some of their fellow men.

—We understand that Mrs. S. W. Ralston has sufficiently recovered to return home and will do so at an early date.

—Judge Tousley will no doubt rejoice (?) when he learns that Bro. Rose is holding his court for him over here this term.

—The Eagle mills must consume a good deal of coal if the volume of black smoke that climbs out of the stack is any evidence.

—Any one wishing to purchase nice Poland China pigs, should peruse the advertisement of Mr. McInturf on the eighth page of this paper.

—Our readers will find a very interesting letter on the first page of this week's paper from our former townsman, Dr. Charles B. Allyn.

—Rumor says that the many friends of Hon. S. S. Shutt are talking about conferring congressional honors upon him. Count us in on that.

—Thomas H. Sprott is walking around town on a kind of a snail trot gait, all on account of an attack of "Rheumatix." "We have been dar."

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church have passed an ordinance not to pass the turkey to republican editors more than three times the same evening.

—Commencing Sunday Dec. 18, the Wabash, St Louis & Pacific Railroad Company will abandon the Sunday passenger trains between Detroit and Peru.

—Judge Tousley being in such poor health as to not permit his occupying the bench, Clerk Baxter, Sheriff Leas and Auditor Robbins appointed James E. Rose judge for this term of court.

—All who are expecting to put presents on the Christmas tree at the M. E. church on Saturday, are requested to have them properly labeled before 3 o'clock p. m. COM.

—Wood wanted at this office, either for cash or on subscription. We hope those of our subscribers, who wish to pay in wood will do so whenever the roads are so they can come. 2t

If you want the finest photograph or autograph album, in the county, go to M. B. Willis' book store. 50-2w.

Miss Vineyard.

Miss Vineyard's entertainment last Friday evening was well attended, as she is too well and favorably known in this county to have it otherwise. She has always been popular with our people, and they showed their appreciation by a full attendance. The programme given was almost new to us, but was one of extraordinary interest. Her "Queen Elizabeth" and "Mrs. Doodles" were particularly striking, showing as they do, two characters so unlike. Both were rendered in her happiest manner and called out enthusiastic applause. The audience could not resist the desire to hear some of her older pieces, and these she gave in a manner that shows how much she has studied and labored since we heard her first. We seem never to tire of that little gem, "The Bobolink," which was given with many additions and improvements, and which shows as much as anything can, the untiring efforts the fair reader is making to keep herself at the front in her chosen profession. She will always be welcomed here.

—The sheriff still has twelve prisoners in jail, with prospects for more. The grand jury is also at work yet.

—Reserved seats for the Colfax lecture, Jan. 6. 35 cents. Tickets for sale at Willis' book store, on and after Monday next.

—New stock of New Years cards at reasonable prices. Come and see them and order enough to assist you to usher in the New Year in good style 2t.

PAY UP.—Quite a number of our subscribers are still behind on their subscription. Don't forget to call and square up your accounts before new years. 2t

A new and fine assortment of the best gold pens in the market, also toothpicks, paper, knives, charms, lockets, rings, necklaces, bracelets etc, just received and offered at bottom prices at the book store. 50 2w.

—John Leas, of Waterloo, called in this week to pay his regards to the COURIER folks. He and his new wife are getting things in order for housekeeping. We wish them success.

—Mrs. J. E. Thomson, of Smithfield, has our thanks for a nice roll of butter. She, as well as her husband, has made dairying a study, and as a result, no better butter and cheese can be found in the county.

—The secretary of the Board of Health has issued circulars to the several county auditors, to convene the board of commissioners on January 2, 1882, for the purpose of organizing a county board of health.

—When some of the members of the bar were informed what had been done by the sheriff, clerk and auditor, it was not received as a very juicy slice of news, and some are still down in the mouth about it.

—Mrs. J. V. Cooke gave the COURIER office a short visit the other day. Mrs. C. is a writer of considerable ability and her serial, "Victory at Last" published a few years ago, shows a fine talent for work of fiction.

—Bro. Stoll, of the Ligonier Banner, will soon be in shape to compare himself with the late Col. Forney. He will have an interest in two papers, "both weekly" in this case. We are glad to note these evidences of his prosperity.

—Among the Butler folks who were over here to attend Miss Vineyard's entertainment we noticed W. H. Carpenter and his sister Ida, the efficient postmistress there, Miss Cora Vineyard and Mr. Knisely, of the firm of Knisely Bros.

—G. S. McCord drove down Seventh street Tuesday with the finest evergreen Christmas tree that we have seen since that happy time, in the days of our youth, when we roamed through the wilds of Michigan. It is for the M. E. church.

—All accounts for job work and advertising done at this office should be settled before January 1. It will be a great accommodation if our patrons would call on us and attend to this, as our time is so occupied that it is inconvenient for us to call on all. 3t.

—The Wabash Plain Dealer has the following strange item: "A large number of wild geese flew over Wabash Monday evening, after the electric light was lit. They circled around the dome of the court house in great confusion, and seemed greatly bewildered by the dazzling light.

—We see by the Butler Record, of last week that Corrie Blair, son of W. L. Blair, of that place, came near bleeding to death last week, caused by the extraction of a tooth. It was nearly twenty hours before the bleeding could be stopped. Better get a false tooth, Corrie, they don't act that way.

—Francis Guy, of Larwill, in Whitley county, passed through here Monday on the Jackson road. He had been at Ann Arbor for treatment, and was on his way home to stay a short time at least. We did not understand whether he expected to return to Ann Arbor for further treatment or not.

—Walter Olds, of Columbia City, was in town a short time on Monday forenoon. He had been requested to come up here and hold court and got ready to make the early train. All for the purpose of being informed that he was not wanted. We do not regard such treatment as being just the thing.

Colfax.

The new lecture by Mr. Colfax, which is to be given here January 6, under the auspices of the Soldiers' association is highly spoken of by the press of the country. The following are a few of these notices selected at random:

The Madisonensis (college paper of Madison university, N. Y.,) speaks of Mr. Colfax's lecture as follows: "The hall was filled at an early hour by an intelligent and enthusiastic audience. The lecturer and lecture were just what we expected. The one pleasing, the other thoughtful and instructive. The speaker gave a vivid review of Garfield's life, and brought out the leading characteristics of each president. The humorous turn of Lincoln was pleasantly portrayed. His periods were well rounded. His comparison of the two noble lives was beautiful."

Minneapolis, Minn., Tribune: "Mr. Colfax has so re-written his notable lecture, or monograph on the life of President Lincoln as to cover also a graphic sketch of the life and career of our second martyred president, Garfield. In many respects, aside from their tragic death, these two illustrious men had many characteristics in common, and a single discourse prepared by one who knew them both most intimately, and who has Schuyler Colfax's power of analyzing character, furnishes an evening's entertainment of no common sort."

South Bend, Ind. Times. (Dem.): "Mr. Colfax spoke for one and a half hours, and every word dropped from his lips was listened to with rapt interest by every person in the hall. The lecture needs no eulogy from us. It was a masterly effort, and deserved the high commendation which it received from all who heard it. Mr. Colfax reviewed at length the life of Lincoln, recounting many of his noble deeds at the time when the country was at war with an internal foe. How he oftentimes allowed his tender feelings for his fellow men to almost get the better of his judgment, erring, if he did err, always to the side of mercy. He alluded in touching terms to the time when Lincoln was stricken by the assassin's bullet, when he was even then devising means to reconcile the conflicting sections of the country to one another. The lecturer made frequent allusions to the late President Garfield, bringing out strong points of similarity of character between him and Lincoln."

Auburn Fruit House.

An opportunity for all at Frank A. Hoff's. There's where you find it! We are now giving our customers great bargains on all of our goods, at the lowest bottom prices, during the holidays. Each one turn out and secure his purchases. We are having in stock a large and well selected variety of all holiday goods, as vases of every style, cups and saucers, mustache-cups, toilet sets, wine sets, china tea sets, toy sets, animals, dolls etc. Also a large stock of fine lamps, all complete, fancy glassware suitable for holiday presents. Candy and candy toys in every shape, and very low in price. The very best mixed candies, sold lower than elsewhere. We are the leading grocers in the county, and do not want to be undersold. Yellow C. sugar, 8 cents per pound; extra white C. sugar, 9 cents per pound; good choice green coffee 15 cents per pound. This is the best coffee ever sold for that price, and every one should secure a special bargain. Tobaccos we are selling cheap, and every one knows it. We are keeping the largest and best assortment of all kinds, to suit every one, and at prices which can't be beat. The best plug from 50 to 65 cts per pound. Fine cuts are sold lower than elsewhere as we secured a large quantity before the advance on tobacco was made. We are selling at old prices, a No. 1 choice fine-cut at 50 cents per pound. Pure and choice teas can't be bought at any other place less than of us. Syrups are strictly pure and very low. Queensware and glassware, of these goods we have a full stock, well selected and low in price to defy any competition. Come in and satisfy yourself. Notions and dry goods, we are selling lower than ever. Also we keep a good supply of tinware, and in fact anything that can be found in any well arranged supply store. Come and see us and convince yourself. Entrance on Seventh or Eight streets, Auburn, Ind. FRANK A. HOFF.

Soldiers Attention !

HEADQUARTERS IND. ENCAMPMENT
UNION SOLDIERS' ASSOCIATION,
AUBURN, IND., DEC. 20, '81.

To the officers and members Indiana Encampment Union Soldiers' Association: You are hereby notified that the second annual meeting of above named organization will take place in Soldiers' hall, Auburn, Ind., at 2 o'clock p. m., on Friday, the 6th day of January, 1882, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and transacting other important business in the interest of the association. It is expected that each post will be fully represented. Ex-Vice-President Schuyler Colfax will deliver his new lecture, "Our Martyred Presidents," on the evening of the same day, in Ensley's hall. Soldiers as they arrive in the city during the day, will please report at Soldiers' hall.

E. D. HARTMAN, Secretary.
G. W. GORDON, Pres. I. E., U. S. A.

Examine the large assortment of wall pockets, clock-shelves, brackets, music-stands, bible-stands, work-stands, baskets, comb-cases, velvet-frames, japanese goods, majolica ware, pictures etc., at the book store, before making your choice of presents. 50-4w.

Court Items.

The attendance at court is about as large as usual this term. On Monday some probate business was disposed, and the grand jury was set at work.

On Tuesday the civil docket was called for, defaults, rules etc. Mrs. Smith, of Spencerville, was granted a divorce from Joseph Smith, and the custody of the children was awarded to her.

John Conley plead guilty to grand larceny, and was sentenced to states' prison for one year, and was taken to prison the same night.

Messrs. Boggs, Smith, Hensinger and Witt have all been arraigned and have had D. D. Moody assigned as counsel to defend them for the several crimes with which they stand charged.

Mrs. Rohrbaugh was divorced from her husband, Samuel Rohrbaugh.

Eureka. I have found it. Found what? The place to buy my Christmas turkey. Where? At S. U. Tarney's.

—W. H. Becker Esq., of Butler called in to see us on Tuesday. He seems to be a pleasant, affable gentleman, and we are told is a competent attorney. He is also cashier of the bank at Butler.

—Ike Mannheimer, the jolly clerk of J. Kahn & Co., in Waterloo, came sailing in on us Tuesday. He is about to change his location, as he will be with J. Kahn & Co. only till January 1, when he will try his fortune in another place. We predict that Ike will make a success of it wherever he goes.

—The firm of G. H. Lohman & Co., druggists of Kedallville, has been dissolved, and a new partnership formed by G. H. and D. H. Lohman. This is the firm so well known to our readers as the proprietors of the Marshall remedies, the Lung Syrup and Bromoline.

—The Wabash Plain Dealer has this piece of news which will be read with interest: "After May 1st, it is announced that the Wabash Railway will increase its shop facilities at Fort Wayne, manufacturing their own locomotives there. The shops at Peru and LaFayette are to be removed to Fort Wayne."

—Remember the first of January closes the present volume of the COURIER, and we would like to begin the new year with a large number of new subscribers. If our friends will make an effort in our behalf, together with our own solicitation, we will have a large and noble list of patrons, indeed.

—We have received the last number of that excellent magazine, the Waverly. As usual it is full to the brim with excellent reading matter. All its stories are short and no one need be afraid of losing a part of the story when his subscription ends, as each number is complete in itself. Send to Waverly Magazine, Boston, Mass.

—W. H. Rakestraw made us a friendly call, the other day. He has been engaged a part of the summer in the construction of some of those nice new dwellings at Garrett. He is building a new house for Dr. Spooner at Peru. As Mr. Rakestraw was at one time one of successful teachers, it gives us all the more pleasure to note these evidences of his success as a mechanic.

—J. L. Ferguson, the marble cutter of Columbia City, gave us a friendly call Tuesday. He was on his way to Spencerville, where he is putting up a monument for Mr. Bishop, of that place. Mr. F. has started the undertaking business in connection with his other work, and will be ready to accommodate the public in both lines. As Mr. F. is a first-class workman, we know the public will receive honest work at his hands.

—The Presbyterian social last Wednesday evening, was one of the best attended of these popular gatherings, although of late, they have generally been well patronized. The receipts on this occasion, were somewhat over twenty dollars. The ladies of the congregation deserve great credit for the pleasant faculty they seem to possess, of making their socials so attractive. We hope to see them kept up.

—We are in receipt of the Song Friend, for December. It is a valuable number, containing several interesting and instructive editorials; a beautiful Christmas poem by Miss Maria Straub; the musical news of Chicago, Boston, New York and the country generally; besides a fine lot of well selected miscellany. It also contains one of Lange's most desirable piano pieces, "Pure as Snow," a beautiful new song and chorus, "Iola of the Dell," by the popular composer, Mr. T. M. Towne; and a Christmas anthem, "Hark! What Mean those Holy Voices?" by S. W. Straub. This anthem we predict, will be sung by many choirs throughout the country Christmas morning, as it is very beautiful. The Song Friend has been enlarged, but the price remains the same, $1.00 per year. A very low price for so valuable a journal. It is published by S. W. Straub, 60 Dearborn street, Chicago.

The State Teachers' Association meets in Indianapolis Dec. 27, 28 and 29. This is the twenty-eighth annual session of the society, and the programme is one of unusual interest. It is to be hoped the attendance will be full. Persons desiring to attend, can secure reduced rates on railroads by addressing E. H. Butler, Winchester, Ind., enclosing stamped envelop for the return of certificate. This certificate will entitle the holder to purchase his ticket over the railroads at 4 per cents a mile for the round trip. Hotels also give reduced rates.

44th Regiment.

The third annual reunion will be held in Lagrange, Lagrange county, Ind., January 3d, 1882. This is the anniversary of the battle of Stone River, in which the regiment was engaged. We hope to see as many of our old comrades present as can attend.

ALEX KINMONT,
Sec'y. Reunion Ass'on.

S. U. Tarney has beef, pork, meat, mutton, sausage, bologna, headcheese, mince meat, turkeys, ducks, chickens, geese, fish, smoked ham, bacon, pickled pork and every thing you want.

—Mrs. J. A. Woodhull, of Angola, died last week, and was buried Sunday. She had suffered for several years from an incurable disease. She was a lady who stood high in the community and her death will be a sad loss to a large circle of friends. Her bereaved husband and children have our heart-felt sympathy.

—We see by a circular received from Mayor Zollinger, of Fort Wayne, that the small-pox has ceased to be a matter of anxiety in that place. No new cases have been found and all danger may now be considered as over. We believe our people have not had any scare over the matter, and have continued to go to Fort Wayne as usual.

—The Jackson road has a new time card that went into effect Sunday. Trains now pass this place going south at 7:35 and 10:18 a. m., and at 3:3 p. m., with a way freight that should be here at 4:15 p. m. Going north the trains are at 3:05 and 7:55 a. m. and 12:48 and 6:08 p. m. Going south at 7:35 stays all night in Waterloo, and starts from there at 7.10. The corrected table will appear in our next issue.

—The old soldiers' organization will give a social at their hall on Friday evening of this week. The bill of fare will be such as is found on board a man-of-war, and as a hard tack supper is intended to call to mind the bill of fare the boys used to have on the tented field, so is this intended to be a reminder of that enjoyed by our jolly tars on the briny ocean.

—D. P. Hale, so well known to all of our citizens, is now a resident of Sioux City, Iowa. He has engaged in business there, and is president of the Sioux City Button Manufacturing Company, a corporation extensively engaged in the manufacture of buttons from horn and vegetable ivory. We believe he is also stockholder in a bank there. In fact, we think a man of his stirring business habits will winter through wherever he may be.

—We have received the latest number of that sterling, scientific journal, the Scientific American. This number is one of unusual interest, and in addition to the matter it generally contains, has a thorough treatment of the theory of the explosion of steam boilers, the plan of the proposed new water works in Chicago, and a treatise on dynamic electricity. Every mechanic and scientific man should be a subscriber to this leading scientific paper.

Anderson Bros. have purchased shops in Waterloo and are prepared to do all kinds of custom work, and will be pleased to see their old customers as well as new ones. We will have a good assortment of carriages in the spring, which we will sell as cheap as any home work that is manufactured of good material. All our work is guranteed to give satisfaction. Call and see us before you purchase.

49-4w ANDERSON BROS.

—The following special rule has been issued by the state board of health on the subject of vaccination: After Jan. 1st, 1882, no person, until they have been successfully vaccinated shall be admitted into any public or private school or institution of learning within this state, either in the capacity of teacher or pupil, and all persons admitted therein shall present to the principal thereof the certificate of a reputable physician as to the fact of their being successfully vaccinated.

It shall be the duty of all unvaccinated persons within this state to be successfully vaccinated within sixty days from January 1, 1882. And all unvaccinated persons within this State shall be required to be vaccinated within sixty days after coming into the State.

All children born within this state shall be successfully vaccinated within twelve months after birth. All vaccination shall be with reliable [illegible] virus.

THAD. M. [illegible],
Sec'y State [illegible] Health

—Pickles and sauerkraut at Frank Hoff's.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1881.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

An Italian named Tacucito, aged 21 years, shot his young wife, aged 14, in Thompson street, New York, then shot his mother-in-law, and ended by sending two balls into his own head....Col. John W. Forney passed peacefully away on the morning of the 9th inst., at his Philadelphia home, of Bright's disease. He was 64 years of age, and leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters.

Two aged maiden sisters, named Means, aged respectively 80 and 83 years, were murdered by unknown parties in Westmoreland county, Pa. They were living alone, and were reputed to be quite wealthy....Graff, Bennett & Co.'s new iron-mills, at Bennett Station, near Pittsburgh, were burned. The loss is estimated at over $200,000.

Henry Villard is to expend $1,600,000 in the erection of a residence on Madison avenue, near Fiftieth street, N. Y. Sidney Dillon is building a mansion which will throw Vanderbilt's into the shade. Bonanza Mackay is arranging to outrival all by a palace at Central Park.

The Directors of the Mechanics' Bank of Newark, N. J., have raised $700,000 with which to reorganize. Small depositors will be paid in full, while 75 per cent. will be disbursed on large sums.

The point is sent out from Wall street that Vanderbilt is about to retire from the management of his railways, leaving Cornelius and Mr. Rutter in practical control....A cordage manufactory was burned at Philadelphia. Loss, $200,000. Three hundred men were at work, but escaped safely.

THE WEST.

Three little brothers went through the ice while skating, at Manitowoc, Wis., and were drowned....Ex-Congressman Banning, of Ohio, is dead.

A frightful accident occurred at Pfister & Vogel's tannery, Milwaukee. Five employes took their places on the elevator, when the iron rope slipped on the drum and the elevator descended about forty feet at a frightful rate, striking on the floor with a thud that shook the entire building. Four of the unfortunate passengers were killed, the fifth miraculously escaping.

Chris Gilson, the oldest scout in the Government service, reports to Gen. Pope that there will be an uprising of the Utes, Piutes and Navajoes in New Mexico in the spring. The reds on the Utah reservation are being freely furnished with arms by the Mormons. ....Graveyard insurance, that is, a speculation for obtaining insurance policies on the lives of old or sick persons, has become common in some parts of Indiana.

Articles of incorporation of the Consolidated Railway Life and Accident Insurance Company, with a capital of $25,000,000, have been filed at Davenport, Iowa. Among the Directors are W. B. Strong, S. S. Merrill, John C. Gault, A. A. Talmage, M. E. Ingalls and Geo. H. Nettleton....Gov. Shepherd, of Washington, while inspecting an old mine in Chihuahua, Mexico, was bitten by a tarantula, and it is feared will have to lose his leg by amputation.

THE SOUTH.

In the Tennessee Senate, Hon. L. T. Smith denounced John J. Vertrees, an attorney of Nashville, as a liar and slanderer. Senator Smith, after the adjournment, went to the Maxwell House, where Vertrees walked up to him and shot him in the left shoulder, firing twice more without effect.

Oscar A. Rice, Internal Revenue Collector of New Orleans, pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement recently, and was sentenced to two years at hard labor and to pay a fine of $10,304.....At Murfreesboro, Tenn., a party of masked men entered the jail and forcibly re-cued a man named Odom, who had murdered his wife's father.

Near El Paso, Texas, a band of robbers entered the express car of a Southern Pacific train, disabled Messenger Banvard with the butt of a revolver, and took from his safe $3,000 in cash and $12,000 in valuable property. As the train slowed up at Rogers Station the thieves dropped off, and doubtless crossed into Mexico.

WASHINGTON.

Secretary Blaine, with the assent of the President, has furnished for publication the instructions given last summer to the United States Ministers in Chili and Peru. They contain nothing pointing to armed interference, and, while opposing the intention of Chili to annex certain territory of her prostrate enemy, recognize her right to do as she pleases. The Calderon Government is favored, because it is supposed to represent the character and intelligence of Peru. The Secretary expresses the hope that neither side will invoke the intervention of any European power.

The dynamite fiend is abroad in Washington. Warden Crocker has received letters warning him to remove prisoners from the wing of the jail in which Guiteau is confined so that in the event of a dynamite explosion no life except that of the assassin will be endangered....Jones, of Nevada, says he advised President Arthur not to follow the mistake of President Garfield in taking his Cabinet from the Senate....Postmaster General James will retire from that office on the 1st prox., and will become the President of the Lincoln Bank, New York.

George Scoville gave a lecture in Washington to a small but sympathetic audience, who passed resolutions approving his course. He pictured the desire for vengeance permeating the country; called attention to the constant danger of the assassination of Guiteau, and declared that the question of capital punishment was itself on trial. He said the prisoner's mail was filled with threatening letters, and that no Christian minister had called upon him as a sane murderer to urge repentance.

Postmaster General James handed in his resignation on the 14th inst., to take effect about the 1st of January. He assigns pressing and important business as the reason for resigning. Chauncey I. Filley, of St. Louis, and First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton are mentioned in connection with the vacancy. ....A strong effort is being made to repeal the Arrears-of-Pension act. A bill introduced by Mr. Hewitt, of Alabama, will cut off 200,000 claims already pending should it become a law. Several other bills on the same subject are promised.

Mr. Hatton, acting Postmaster General, has ruled that no supplements containing advertisements will be admitted to second-class rates unless the publisher swears that the advertisers paid the same rates in the supplement as were charged in the main sheet.

POLITICAL.

A Washington dispatch says there is quiet talk among some Democrats of the House, in connection with the coming contested-seat cases, about the report that Curtin and other Democratic members from Pennsylvania are threatening to retaliate upon the Southern members for voting against Curtin in his contest for Yocum's seat in the last Congress.... H. H. Riddleberger received the unanimous vote of the Readjuster caucus for Senator for Virginia.

Senator Cockrell, of the sub-committee to investigate the expenditures of the contingent funds, and especially of the treasury, says they are determined to make a thorough, sweeping and impartial investigation, and to publish all they find out, no matter who it may hurt.

GENERAL.

The weather on the Atlantic ocean continues to be frightfully rough. The steamer Nederland, which arrived at New York, the other day, had not a vestige of her bulwarks, and the iron stanchions were bent and twisted. Four small boats were wrenched from their fastenings and lost. The wheelhouse was crushed in, and the screw-steering gear broken to pieces.

Exports of petroleum and petroleum products for ten months ending Oct. 31 were $34,017,990; corresponding period of 1880, $28,829,940.

Hanlan has at last agreed to row Boyd on the River Tyne, England, for the championship of the world and £500 pounds, April 3, 1882....Five overdue steamships arrived in New York the other day, each reporting hurricanes, hail-storms, torrents of rain and thunder and lightning.

Chief Arrogatti and thirty warriors, the main remnant of Victoria's band, were captured on the Northern Rio Grande, by Mexican troops under Francisco Grodino. The chief and several bucks were immediately shot.

FOREIGN.

The British steamer Saxon Monarch is supposed to have foundered in the Bay of Biscay, with forty persons on board.....A colliery explosion in Belgium killed sixty-six persons.

Near Killaloe, Ireland, a magistrate named Stoddard was fired upon by unknown persons. The agent of Sir Roger Palmer is reducing his entire rental on the basis of decisions by the Land Court. At Cork forty seized farms were offered for sale, and twenty-one were purchased for the landlord.....The funeral of the victims of the Vienna theater disaster took place on Monday, the 12th inst. The ceremonies were held in the Roman Catholic cathedral, and were quite solemn and impressive. Several church dignitaries assisted, and the Emperor and the members of the royal family were present. One American, name unknown, is said to be among the victims. The disaster has greatly affected the Emperor of Germany, who has directed that the utmost precautions be taken to protect life at the Berlin court theaters.

Yellow fever has assumed alarming proportions at Barbadoes and in San Domingo. ....Gen. J. H. Martindale, at one time Attorney General of New York, died lately at Nice, France, whither he had gone for his health.

The London papers continue to criticise Secretary Blaine's course in reference to the troubles between Chili and Peru. The Times says that intervention on the part of the European powers will be necessary if their interests are affected in South America by interference of the United States....Italy continues to ignore the French protectorate in Tunis, and has sent a man-of-war to Susa.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

Statistics show that the total number of families burned out by the terrible Michigan fires last fall was 1,157. The insurance on dwellings, barns, stores and shops was $632,632. Amount of relief, including money, clothing, agricultural implements, seed wheat, etc., so far, is placed at $500,000. The total loss is stated at $2,346,000, and there were destroyed 1,138 dwellings, 130 stores and offices, 38 school houses, 16 hotels, 8 churches and 28 saw mills.

Three skiffs containing eight men were caught in the current in the Government Lock No. 3, near Charleston, W. Va., and carried over the dam. Five of the men were drowned.

The members of the New York Mining Stock Exchange have had made an elegant piece of solid silver for presentation to Mrs. Garfield. The piece is eight by twelve inches in measurement, and is artistically chaste. It is set in a rich frame of silver and ebony. The plate is of a peculiar rectangular shape. The frame is embossed with a capital "G" in gold encircled by a chaplet of green and golden palm leaves. The whole is inclosed in a case of morocco. On the plate is engraved a copy of the resolutions passed at a meeting of the board expressive of the grief felt by the nation at the death of President Garfield.

Mrs. Langtry, "the Jersey Lily," made her debut at the London Haymarket Theater as Mrs. Hardcastle in "She Stoops to Conquer." The representation was eminently successful. Old play-goers, it is declared in the dispatches, "were astonished at the ease with which Mrs. Langtry glided into her part, and the felicity of her execution throughout." ....The police at Dublin entered the office of United Ireland, arrested a clerk and sub-editor, and removed all papers to the castle.

The last spike on the International road, at Laredo, was driven a few days ago. There is great disorder on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, and many white railroad laborers are returning to Texas. The high wages paid to track-layers served to strip the Mexican haciendas of workmen.

John Kelly has ordered the Tammany members of the New York Legislature not to enter the Democratic caucus until the treatment they will receive has been definitely ascertained.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Only the House of Representatives was in session on Friday, the 9th inst., and there was very little business done, the appointment of a committee on the death of President Garfield and on mileage by Speaker Keifer being the only matters which excited much comment. A. H. Smith, of Pennsylvania, was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Mileage. An adjournment to Tuesday, the 13th, was taken.

Mr. Edmunds introduced a bill in the Senate, on the 12th inst., for the payment of reasonable expenses incurred in behalf of the late President, not to exceed $100,000. Among other bills introduced was one by Mr. Edmunds, providing that jurors in trials for polygamy and bigamy in the Territory of Utah may be challenged, and another for the scientific exploration of Alaska under the direction of the Secretary of War, and appropriating $68,000 for the purpose; and a bill by Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, granting the right of way through the State of Alabama to the Gulf and Chicago Air-Line railway. Mr. Call, of Florida, introduced a resolution authorizing the Committee on Territories to inquire into the expediency of establishing Territorial government for Alaska. Mr. Garland addressed the Senate on the Tariff Commission bill. He alleged that the tendencies of a protective policy were that they were but a step to and led up to monopolies. Mr. Beck, on the same side, asserted that Mr. Morrill's bill was in favor of "Congressional pets," and that under a protective tariff the American mercantile marine had been driven from the sea, and that we are now paying foreigners $130,000,000 a year, instead of receiving from them $25,000,000 a year as in 1860, under the protective tariff of 18 per cent. F. T. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, was nominated for Secretary of State, and confirmed without an objection.

Mr. Davis, of West Virginia, introduced resolutions in the Senate, on the 13th inst., instructing the Senate Committee on Pensions to inquire into the working of the Arrearages-of-Pensions act. Mr. Edmunds introduced a resolution calling for full copies of the correspondence between the State Department and Ministers of Chili and Peru. Mr. Vest introduced Eads' bill for a ship railway across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, the projector to expend $70,000 in preliminary work before any guarantee are given by Congress. Mr. Logan reported favorably from the Committee on Military Affairs his bill for placing Gen. Grant on the retired list. Mr. Pendleton spoke at great length on the bill to improve the civil service. The President nominated Jas. G. Watmough to be Paymaster General of the Navy and John H. Stevenson to be Inspector. The names of over 100 Postmasters were sent in. In the House, 781 bills were introduced. Of these bills 121 were introduced by the Kansas Congressmen, and the industrious Illinois legislators introduced 117, while Louisiana's representatives introduced eighty-nine, Kentucky's eighty-two, Indiana's sixty-seven and Iowa's forty-seven. The bills deal with a great variety of subjects, but principally with the tariff, the currency, national banks, inter-State commerce and transportation. Mr. Page offered a bill to restrict Chinese immigration; Mr. Springer, an act for the appraisement of telegraph lines, and Mr. Morrison, a measure to reduce all tariff duties 10 per cent. A select committee of eleven was ordered to audit claims incident to the illness and burial of President Garfield and to consider what allowance should be granted the widow. The House adjourned to Friday, the 15th.

Mr. Garland's Presidential succession bill was debated at considerable length in the Senate on the 14th inst. The debates partook of a legal and technical character, and made it evident that the bill will not pass until considerably amended. Mr. Beck strongly opposed that portion of the bill investing the succession in the Cabinet officers. Mr. Hoar addressed the Senate in favor of the appointment of a committee to investigate the question of woman suffrage, and incidentally denounced the brutal treatment to which women were subjected under the old common law of England. Mr. Vest vigorously opposed the appointment of the committee. To confer the ballot upon them would, in his opinion, have the effect to lower them to the grade of the ward politician, the constable and the Justice of the Peace. Mr. Plumb introduced a bill to amend the statutes so as to make mandatory the issue of gold certificates. A favorable report was made on the bill to straighten the northern boundary of Nebraska.

Mr. Garland's Presidential-Succession bill was discussed again on the 15th at considerable length in the Senate by Mr. Garland, who defended the bill, and who urged the necessity for the adoption of some such measure, and by Beck, and Jones of Florida, who took exception to some of the provisions of the measure. Mr. Hoar's Woman-Suffrage Committee resolution was discussed briefly, Mr. Vest indulging in some caustic remarks. He said that to establish woman suffrage would add "tremendously" to the volume of illiterate voters, and that, while the "women" of the country would rush to the polls, not one "lady" in a thousand would go there. Ingalls, of Kansas, introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Pensions to inquire and report what increase of pension, if any, should be allowed the widow of Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Hale introduced four bills on the subject of Congressional reapportionment, in order to bring the whole subject before the Census Committee, of which he is Chairman, with a view to securing final legislative action on the subject during the present session. The following among other bills were introduced by Mr. Coke: To regulate inter-State commerce and to prohibit unjust discrimination by common carriers; by Mr. Beck, to repeal taxes on deposits with banks, banking associations and bankers; by Mr. Plumb, to authorize the issue of silver certificates and standard silver dollars on deposit of silver bullion. After listening to the views of Secretary Folger, the Senate Finance Committee unanimously indorsed John Sherman's 3-per-cent. Funding bill, with amendments providing that not over $25,000,000 in deposits shall be received at one time, and that the bonds to be issued shall not exceed $200,000,000. The House was not in session.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

TWENTY-SECOND DAY.

Rev. Dr. McArthur resumed the witness stand, and continued to testify to the assassin's rascality and meanness. Scoville objected to this character of evidence, but the court ruled its admissibility, as tending to show the general character of the prisoner. The assassin at this point broke out into one of his noisy harangues.

Col. Corkhill desired the court to restrain the prisoner, when Guiteau turned to him and said: "You go slow, Corkhill. You are spotted, and as soon as this business is over the President will remove you."

W. S. Caldwell, a physician, treated L. W. Guiteau during his last illness. He never detected any evidence of mental unsoundness.

George W. Plummer, a Chicago lawyer, was called. Guiteau immediately shouted: "I owe this man $20, but it has cost the Government $200 to get him here. I think the President's attention had better be called to the way you are squandering the Government's money."

Witness allowed the prisoner to occupy a desk in his law office at Chicago some months. He seemed to have a deal of collection business, and went in and out like any business man.

Guiteau continually interrupted, and finally witness said to him: "It seems that your close relations with the Deity of late have corrupted your manners."

The prisoner laughed heartily at this sally and said: "Well, that ain't so bad, Plummer, for a Western man."

"Did you ever see anything in his conduct that indicated unsoundness of mind?" was the next question.

"No, sir," replied witness, "nothing whatever. He seemed to be a man of ability, vain and conceited."

Stephen English, editor and proprietor of the Insurance Times, New York, took the stand.

Guiteau called out: "This man was in Ludlow street jail, and I got him out for $300."

Witness gave the circumstances under which he became acquainted with the prisoner. Witness was in jail under $40,000 bonds, charged with libel. The prisoner acted as his attorney.

Guiteau frequently and noisily interrupted witness, calling him liar and perjurer. At one time he shouted: "There isn't an insurance man in New York that doesn't know what a fraud you are."

Witness continued: "The prisoner swindled me out of $300, and also swindled many poor creatures in the jail by promising to help them and getting their money and then never raising a finger in their behalf."

Guiteau shouted at witness: "Why, I would not spit on you on the street, you old scoundrel! I'll get some insurance men to show you up. You are lying all the way through, English, you old fraud."

Witness was asked if he ever detected any signs of insanity in the prisoner, and replied: "On the contrary, he was a remarkably clear-headed, shrewd lawyer. He completely outwitted me."

Warren G. Brown, attorney-at-law, New York, was counsel for Mrs. Guiteau in obtaining a divorce from the prisoner. He believed the latter perfectly sane.

Guiteau (excitedly)—"I want to know Corkhill, what all this kind of evidence has got to do with the real issue—who fired the shot that killed Garfield, the Deity or I? I think it is devilish mean to rake up my character in all its details. The only issue here is, who fired that shot, the Deity or I. Just take that home, Corkhill, and think it over till to-morrow morning. I want to know what all this has got to do with the question of my sanity or insanity on the 2d of July. As I told you before, I had time enough to go crazy a hundred times in the interval."

Senator Ben Harrison, of Indiana, was called, and testified to seeing the prisoner around Washington last spring, and saw nothing in his conduct to raise a question in his mind of the man's sanity.

D. McLean Shaw testified that Guiteau told him he was bound to have notoriety some way or other. He might kill some big man and imitate Wilkes Booth.

The prisoner—I have not known anything about this man Shaw for eight years; but when he repeats this kind of testimony I say to him: "You are a liar, a dirty liar!" I never had that kind of conversation with you in my life, and you know it.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

The day was devoted to the examination of Dr. Edward Charles Spitzka, of New York, who claimed to have made the study of nervous and mental diseases a specialty. He had, on the preceding day, examined the prisoner in jail, and was satisfied of his insanity. He considered the main features of the prisoner's case to be a tendency to the formation of delusive opinions and morbid projects, and strong indication of imbecility of judgment. "And while," said witness, "I have no other evidence than the expression of his face, I should have no doubt that he is a moral imbecile or moral monstrosity."

Witness would not undertake to express a decided opinion as to the mental condition of the prisoner July 2.

Guiteau—"There was no depravity about this business at all, and I think it is a burning shame for gentlemen of the prosecution to harp upon that word depravity. I have been a consistent Christian all my life, and because I committed adultery to get rid of a woman I did not love, and owe a few hundred dollars, it is a burning shame for the prosecution to blacken my character."

Despite cries of "Silence, silence," and "Order," Guiteau continued to strike upon the table and shriek out at the top of his voice: "I am not afraid to go to the gallows if the Lord Almighty wishes me to go there. I expect an act of God that will blow this court and jury out that window to protect me, if necessary. I want to thunder this in the ears of the American people."

Davidge (with an air of disgust)—"Oh, this pantomime business is getting played out!"

Guiteau—"You are getting played out, and your theory of prosecution, too."

About this time some one in the audience, incensed at the assassin's impertinence, created a sensation by crying out, "Shoot him now!" The bailiffs restored order after a few moments, and the trial proceeded.

Col. Corkhill sharply questioned the witness in regard to an article he had contributed to a medical journal. A spicy colloquy followed, which Guiteau interrupted by shouting: "It seems to cause you considerable trouble. You had better cool off, Corkhill. I haven't seen you heated so before. It's 3 o'clock. We had better go home."

The witness was asked if he had not appeared as an expert in a certain case, and, after taking a fee on one side, returned it, and taken a larger one from the other side.

The witness replied with some warmth, "You have no basis for such a question; and no man dares make the assertion upon which he could found it."

Guiteau again interrupted in a great rage, and, in a voice which completely drowned the utterances of the counsel and witness, yelled out: "That's a very dirty question for you to ask, Corkhill. It just suits your brain. I'm going to ask Arthur to kick you out of this case. Why, this man is one of the first scientists of the country. Why, he would'nt condescend to spit on you, Corkhill. You are in bad repute, Corkhill, with every member of this bar. You are an unmitigated nuisance in this case."

The witness finally answered, "Most decidedly, no."

The court adjourned without concluding the examination.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY.

Dr. Spitzka resumed the witness stand. Corkhill handed to witness a slip of paper upon which was drawn a diagram and human head, and said: "Now, supposing this to be the prisoner's head, will you please point out the inequalities to which you referred yesterday?"

Before any reply could be made Guiteau raised a laugh by saying: "That accounts for it. A hatter came to see me this morning and offered me a hat if I would let him take my head. I got the hat, but you don't pay for it, Corkhill. Oh, no, the Government will have to do so."

Witness went on, giving his reasons for considering the prisoner insane.

Upon a question being asked by Corkhill, Guiteau broke in with: "I have been looking up your record, Corkhill, and I'll show you up."

Subsequently, Guiteau again interrupted the examination, and shouted: "I see that crank, Talmage, has been doing some sensationalism business in this case. He had better go slow. He has been before his synod several times for lying. I have got my eye on several of these cranks, and if they don't go slow I'll give some more of them some free advertising. The high-toned portion of the American people are beginning to take the right view of this case."

Witness thought the proper way to summon experts would be for the court to summon them, irrespective of the chances of what their testimony might be.

Corkhill insisted the witness had attacked the character and honesty of the experts who were supposed to entertain opposite opinions from himself on the prisoner's sanity.

Guiteau interrupted in his most angry mood, and, shaking his head at Col. Corkhill, shouted: "It's the unanimous judgment of the American people that you are a consummate jackass, Corkhill. This gentleman is an honest man, and if your skull was not so thick you would see it."

Witness desired to explain his position, and said: "I do not hesitate to reiterate my opinion that the expert who will in this court testify that the prisoner is sane is, in my opinion, no expert, or a dishonest one."

Dr. Fordyce Barker, of New York, was next examined. The audience listened intently as the distinguished physician defined insanity and the several phases thereof. Dr. Barker's comprehensive and positive conclusions were all in accord with the theory of the prosecution. Judge Cox requested witness to explain to the jury what he meant by irresistible impulse, and the answer was: "Perversions of emotion to such a degree as to produce conduct entirely at variance with the individual's former life, and to such a degree as to completely control the will power, constitute an irresistible impulse."

Guiteau—"Doctor, I want to ask you, where a man is impelled to commit crime by an impulse he can't resist, is he sane or insane?"

Answer—"When that fact can be proved, sir, it is insanity."

Guiteau—"That's just my case, sir," with an air of perfect satisfaction; then, turning to Scoville: "Come, that's the whole case. Now let's have recess. I'm getting hungry."

Mrs. Scoville desired to ask a question.

Guiteau (impatiently)—"Oh, you keep still; it's all they can do to put up with me."

Judge Cox assented, and Mrs. Scoville asked: "Can a man be born insane?"

Answer—"No, madame; he could be born an idiot or imbecile. Insanity is an acquired state after birth."

Dr. Barker, in answer to a question, declared positively that he thought Guiteau responsible for his crime.

Mr. Gobell, in the insurance business, H. T. Ketcham, a lawyer, Mr. Wood, and Samuel D. Phelps, a broker, each testified to the perfect saneness of the assassin, whose bitterness of language increased as the insanity dodge was weakened by their evidence.

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

Rev. Dr. John L. Withrow, of Boston, was placed upon the witness stand. He said the prisoner desired to deliver a lecture in his (witness') church, in answer to Ingersoll, but witness declined to have the church used for that purpose. Witness observed him during the winter at meetings and social gatherings of the church. Never saw the least indication of unsoundness of mind, but, on the contrary, thought he possessed unusual shrewdness. Correcting himself, witness added: "I should say cuteness."

Guiteau—"What's the difference, doctor?"

Answer—"The one means brighter than the other."

Col. Corkhill—"And of larger caliber."

Guiteau—"He didn't say that, Corkhill. You must have slept well last night. That's the smartest thing you have said yet."

Witness said the prisoner generally took part in discussions upon whatever subject might be under discussion, that he was always critical and accusative rather than conciliatory and kind.

Guiteau—"I always spoke to the point, incisive and gritty. That's me. There's no nonsense or romance in my composition. If there had been I might have gone through the world more smoothly. It's very evident to the mind of every one that the sole object of this kind of examination is to show that I knew the difference between right and wrong. That has nothing whatever to do with this case. The only question is, whether or not my free moral agency was destroyed when I was impelled upon the President. That's the point, Judge; and it knocks the bottom out of your theory."

After a short pause he broke out again, and with increased vehemence: "I'm not here to save my neck from the gallows. I'm here for vindication, for justice, and for right."

Judge Cox—"Well, that will do now. Suspend your remarks."

Guiteau—"All right. When I get to the jury I am going to talk to them on this subject. This is just a little incidental speech."

Charles A. Bryan, of the New York Equitable Life Insurance Company, knew the prisoner in New York. Witness was proceeding to relate the circumstances of Guiteau's connection with his company, when Guiteau indignantly shouted: "Well, now, I want to say right here, when a witness comes here and tells what is false I shall tell him, You are mistaken, sir; that is false; that is a lie; and, finally, you are a miserable whelp; that is as far as I shall go. It's equivalent to the bar-room expression, 'Go down below,' but I don't go that far."

Witness said the prisoner asked a loan on the strength of a Consulship he was to have. He considered him sane.

Henry M. Collier, attorney, of New York, took the stand.

"I remember you, sir," shouted Guiteau. "If you are the man that put up that Herald job on me—. Keep quiet, sir (turning to Scoville). I will dispose of this man in short order. He brought suit against me to pay over certain money, and the court ruled I should keep it. That kills his evidence."

Witness related an instance of Guiteau's collecting $175, and failing to pay it over. His evidence proved extremely damaging to the prisoner's oft-asserted claim of having always lived an upright Christian life, and Guiteau wriggled and expostulated, and vainly attempted to explain the transaction. Witness at one point said:

"I informed Judge Donahue at that time that I considered Guiteau a thief and a scoundrel."

Guiteau (excitedly)—"You did not dare say so to me. I would have knocked you down."

One of the jurors here stated to the court that he was too ill to concentrate his thoughts on the evidence, and an adjournment was taken.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

At the opening of the trial the assassin addressed the court and said: "I want to make a little speech. It will be a great misfortune if anything should happen to this jury. They are very honest, intelligent men, and I want the best care taken of them. There are some of them who are not accustomed to good wholesome food, and consequently are liable to have indigestion. I want the court to order them out every morning before breakfast for a walk of four or five miles. I have two or three more little speeches to make, but this will do for the present."

Judge Cox—"The court will attend to the wants of the jury."

J. M. Justice, a lawyer, of Logansport, Ind., met the prisoner in 1878. The prisoner was selling a book entitled "The Life of Moody."

Guiteau—"Well, you are a liar, sir—a miserable liar. That is the best way to dispose of you."

Witness, continuing, said the prisoner remained in Logansport about three weeks, selling the book.

Guiteau continually interjected abusive comments, and finally shouted: "You miserable whelp, to come in here and make me out as a book agent. I was preaching the gospel and I sold my own productions."

Rev. Rush R. Shippen testified that in three months' intercourse in a boarding-house he saw in the prisoner no signs of insanity. Dr. Noble Young, the jail physician, swore that the accused is perfectly sane. Mrs. Scoville desired to ask a question, saying that her husband did not know how to do so. When she had written it out, Guiteau ordered her to attend to her own affairs, and the witness was dismissed.

Guiteau gradually worked himself into a towering rage, and declared against the witness, the prosecution and the cranks, whom he claimed threatened him with violence, his billingsgate being especially directed against the Prosecuting Attorney. Referring to Col. Corkhill he said: "He is getting too dirty and too stinking to live, and the first thing he knows God Almighty will take him off and send him down below."

The most important witness examined during the day was Gen. Joseph S. Reynolds, of Chicago, in whose office the assassin studied law. The evidence of Gen. Reynolds went to show that Guiteau never thought of the inspiration theory of defense until the 14th of July, and not then until he was informed by Gen. Reynolds that Gen. Grant, Mr. Conkling and the Stalwarts as severely condemned his crime and himself as the warmest friend of President Garfield. This announcement seemed to strike terror to the heart of Guiteau. He expected that there would be a reaction of public feeling in his favor; that, as Gen. Arthur would benefit by his crime, he would therefore condone it. When he found how much mistaken he was he fell back on the inspiration theory. Gen. Reynolds' evidence had a very marked effect on the assassin. He seemed to be thoroughly dismayed and terrified, and his anger found vent in the foulest abuse of the witness and the District Attorney.

They Will Sin No More.

An Eighteenth Ward baker, John S. Sapter, put up a job of exceeding cruelty on the small boys who make life pleasant for the residents in the vicinity of Fullerton street and Broadway. Every afternoon when the baker drew up at a store, it was the reprehensible custom of the wicked lads to mount the wagon in the owner's absence, and appropriate whatever samples of pie and ginger-snaps came in their way. One afternoon four of the boys were at there post when the baker arrived. A half dozen pieces were suspiciously easy to get at, but the guileful "kids" had no thought of wrong in others, and, with many expressions of satisfaction, fled to a contiguous ravine with the provendor, and in a remarkably short space of time had coiled round the indigestible. Their sensation of repletion was all too brief. The baker had seasoned his pastry with tartar emetic, and the only reason the young bandits retained their shoes was because they were tied on. The agony ended at last, and four woe-begone, pallid-faced small ones, with stomachs as empty as the promise of a politician, but their hearts filled with intentions of future honesty and uprightness, crept and tottered toward their respective homes.—Cleveland Leader.

Saddle Horses and Saddle Gaits.

There is an increasing demand of late for good saddle horses. The gaits that especially command a horse for use in the saddle are the walk, the fox trot, the single foot and the rack. The walk is a gait understood by everybody, but everybody does not understand that a good saddle horse ought to be able to go a square walk at the rate of five miles an hour. The fox trot is faster than the square walk and the horse will usually take a few steps at this gait when changing from a fast walk to a trot. The single-foot differs somewhat from the fox trot and has been described as exactly intermediate between the true trot and the true walk. Each foot appears to move independently of the other, with a sort of pit-a-pat, one-at-a-time motion, and it is a much faster gait than the fox trot. The rack is very nearly allied to the true pacing gait, the difference being that in the latter the hind foot keeps exact time with the fore foot of the same side, making it what has been called a literal or one-side-at-a-time motion, while in the former the hind foot touches the ground slightly in advance of the fore foot on the same side. The rack is not so fast a gait as the true pace, but is a desirable gait in a saddle horse.—National Live Stock Journal.

FRIGHTFUL CALAMITY.

Burning of the Ring Theater, in Vienna.

The burning of the Ring Theater, at Vienna, and the loss of nearly 700 lives, is one of the most appalling calamities of modern times.

The fire originated on the stage. The curtain was still down at the time. The precise manner in which it started is not known. Some of those who were on the stage at the time, and who escaped, say that the fire was caused by the dropping of an oil-lamp among the scenery. Others assert that the fire came up from the engine-room, and was generated by the engine below the stage, which was supplying the theater with electric lights. However it was, when the flames made their appearance they did so so suddenly and were in such alarming proportions as to throw the stage people into an instantaneous and thorough panic. The stage had but one exit to the street, and for this narrow place of egress the entire 200 rushed. The flames were between the curtain and this door, and this fact was the cause which prevented any one trying to escape to the body of the house. No one on the stage was bold enough to face the flames in that direction, and so the great audience had no one to duly notify them of the terrible danger from which most of them might have escaped, had they been warned in time. At the stage exit the actors got jammed and the door was literally plugged up with human bodies, and it is believed that most of the number were burned to death.

During all this time the flames were having it all their own way among the tinder on the stage. There was in the theater an iron curtain, which, when down, completely severed the stage from the audience. This iron curtain was up, and in the panic on the stage was forgotten or cut off from approach by the flames. When the fire behind the drop became great enough to be seen through the painted fabric by the audience, they naturally supposed it the result of the stage experiment with a calcium to be used during the ballet, and paid no further attention to it. The flames attacked the drop-curtain from all points simultaneously, and it seemed to instantly disappear, and the whole auditorium was in a thought's time in the complete grasp of the fire, which spread like one vast sheet of lightning in a hurricane.

What followed is indescribable. The people became demented and fell upon one another like wild beasts. Some few got into the passages, but the hall was dark. Both gas and the electric lights were cut off. In the midst of all this terror, the noise of a terrible explosion showed that the gas tank had burst, and this time the flames burst through the roof and through most of the windows, and the entire space between the walls of the large building was like a vast furnace in white heat, with living human bodies for coals.

The sight attracted the whole town to the scene, and thoughtful people took thither clothes, rope, ladders and axes. The great Turners' fire brigade was soon at the theater and assumed charge of the life-saving operations. By actual count it was ten minutes from the time the fire had possession of the auditorium before a single life was saved by outside assistance, and during all this time the people within the furnace were either burning up or trampling one another to death. Men and women, crazed with heat and demented with the prospect before them, destroyed themselves by leaping from the front seats of the galleries into the seething abyss below. Up to this time none escaped except the few who got from the stage, the fewer who managed to stumble out through the darkened passage-ways from the pit to the street, and the few who dropped from the windows of the first floor above the pit into the street. The Turners began at once knocking in the walls around the exits and dragging out the bodies piled thereby. In this way they managed to save several lives, but the flames soon drove them away from the walls. The sturdy fellows then organized a blanket service and invited those at the windows on the high first floor to jump. Fifty persons answered the invitations, and the Turners caught every one of the entire fifty in outstretched blankets and saved them without injury. There were no windows in the street walls higher than this first floor, and it is hardly a matter of doubt that every occupant of the galleries was burned to death.

When the fiftieth person had been rescued by the blanket service the whole building was a mass of white fire, so hot that no near approach was possible. After that no human being got outside the walls, and the assembled crowds, vast in number, were compelled to stand around and witness the most appalling and heart-rending scene of modern times. Bodies could be seen falling from the upper floors into the white fire below—some still and limp, as if lifeless, others in the wildest movements of agony. One was seen as if plunged from the highest part of the house. It was that of a man, and he fell headforemost, both arms crushed under the face.

A Vienna dispatch of the 9th inst. says: Researches show that the upper gallery must have fallen into the pit, where the only remains found are small fragments of bones. Beyond a doubt 500 gallery tickets had been issued. Only 100 of these are known to have jumped from windows, and competent judges fear the loss of life will be found to be fully 700.

Additional Particulars—The Death-Roll Reaches Nearly a Thousand.

Vienna dispatches of the 12th state "the official list gives the number of the missing as 917. So far, 580 bodies have been recovered. The Hebrew dead were conveyed to the Jewish portion of the cemetery. The scenes at the graves were painful to witness. The ruins of the theater were surrounded by crowds of people to-day. The work of removal of the debris was resumed. It is feared hundreds more of bodies will be found in the blocked-up passages. The Captain of the fire brigade states that all the inside of the theater is a heap of human bones and charred remains. The attitude of the dead is of the strangest character. Some men were found grasping each other's throats, the nails of their fingers being imbedded in the flesh. Some show self-inflicted mortal wounds, while several children were found in the pit that had been thrown from the galleries by their frantic mothers. Further inquiries as to the origin of the fire establish the fact that the persons intrusted with the duties of firemen on the stage ran off affrighted at the first blaze. One even tumbled headlong from the 'flies' to the stage-floor, and another, who had charge of the gas, thinking that an explosion had occurred, or would occur, turned off the gas at the meter, plunging the theater into total darkness, until it became illuminated with the blaze of the conflagration. There was a wire-gauze curtain ready to be let down in case of emergency, and supposed to be attended to by a special mechanic, well drilled in his duties. Had this curtain been lowered, it is probable every person in the theater would have escaped. But either the attendant could not find the key to the apparatus-box, or he was also seized with the panic. In one passage of the theater, without an outlet, forty persons lost their way, and, being unable to return, were suffocated. The Reichsrath has voted £50,000 for the sufferers by the fire. The general relief fund amounts to 50,000 florins, of which the Emperor subscribed one-half. Suicides caused by grief at the loss of relatives and friends in the fire are common. The number reported by the police as missing amounts to 1 156. The Government has ordered that two policemen shall go to each theater an hour before the commencement of the performance, to see that all proper precautions have been taken to guard against fire."

M. Roman, a French engineer, states that the cultivation of the interesting plant, the Soja or Soya has been largely developed in Hungary and in various parts of France. He thinks that it may in the future become as important an article of food as the potato. It grows in any soil, even the dryest; and the plant is an excellent fodder for cattle. The seeds are very nutritious, and have the form of small kidney beans. An agreeable soup may be made of them. The Chinese use them for various kinds of cheese, to make a condiment with oil, etc. In France, the seeds have been roasted like coffee, and M. Roman says the decoction of the Soja bean is very similar to that of average coffee.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1881.

Wendell Phillips is 70, and Judge Jere Black is 72.

The arrests the past year for depredations upon the mails were 461, of whom 110 were in the postal service.

In 1861 the War of the Rebellion broke out, and in 1871 occurred the great fires at Boston and Chicago. The year 1881 is crammed full of startling events.

The United States Supreme Court has decided that a Sheriff is not personally responsible for damages resulting from the execution of a mandate of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Enterprise is a marked characteristic of at least one business firm in London. This house has chartered a big steamer which will be fitted up with rooms for samples and with berths for the representatives of commercial houses. It will then be sent around the world.

John J. Murphy, a Boston billiard-saloonkeeper, refused to let Frank Francellow play in his place because he is a negro. Francellow sued him, and the United States Court is now trying to decide whether or not a billiard hall is a "place of public amusement" within the meaning of the civil-rights statute.

There is one encouraging fact about literary work. Men and women who engage in it seldom become insane. Perhaps they are as crazy as people get before they enter the field, but, be that as it may, it is found that out of 139,143 men and women engaged as authors, editors, reporters, translators, etc., in England, but twelve are reported as lunatics.

Ohio, strange as it may seem, has never before had a Speaker of the House of Representatives. Of the twenty-eight Speakers before Gen. Keifer, three have come from Pennsylvania, four from Massachusetts, three from Kentucky, two from New Jersey, one from Connecticut, one from North Carolina, two from South Carolina, one from New York, four from Virginia, two from Tennessee, three from Indiana, one from Maine, and one from Georgia.

Substantial progress has been made in the work of boring the tunnel under the English channel—on the French side a distance of 1,800 meters and on the English one of 1,600, or 3,400 meters in all, which are something more than one-tenth of the entire distance to be pierced. It is believed that if the required $100,000,000 can be raised the work might be finished in a comparatively short time. One estimate is that the tunnel could be made fit for traffic in four years.

The overshadowing size and strength of Prussia, as compared with the other states that compose the confederacy of the German empire, are shown by the recent budgets submitted to the Federal Council in relation to the imperial army. The total standing force is 425,274 soldiers and non-commissioned officers, and 18,134 commissioned officers. Of these the several states have as follows: Soldiers and non-commissioned officers—Prussia, 330,629; Bavaria, 50,224; Wurtemburg, 18,815; and Saxony, 27,606. Commissioned officers—Prussia, 41,008; Bavaria, 2,216; Saxony, 1,137; Wurtemburg, 773.

A letter from Chattanooga, Tenn., to the Louisville Courier-Journal tells this romantic story; "In 1863 Elijah Walraven, of Marietta, Ga., enlisted in the Confederate army, and when he returned his wife and three children were missing. He searched long in vain, and all that he could learn was that they had gone North. Finally, he instituted suit for divorce, and it was granted. He then married a second time, but in November, 1878, his second wife died. His first wife, thinking her first husband dead, had also married, and her second husband also died in November, 1878. About that time one of Walraven's sons found a trace of him, and induced him to visit his mother. Mutual explanation ensued, and after eighteen years' separation the couple were happily married Thursday."

A great sensation was made in New York upper-crust society last summer by the wedding, in Astoria, a suburb of New York, of Miss Hattie Cole and Charles Wesley Ayers, and the sensational developments which followed the union. On returning from their wedding tour the couple at once separated, and rumors were current that the bride's mind had given way. Her father made an effort to have her admitted to the Bloomingdale asylum, but a medical examination developed the fact that the young lady was perfectly sane. These proceedings and the fact of his wife's departure from him so affected Mr. Ayers that he became broken down in health and died, his funeral occurring within two months of the marriage. Just as the affair was beginning to die out, except in the minds of the parties directly interested, it is brought to the surface again by the action of Mr. Ayers' widow, who has begun proceedings to compel the father of her late husband to give an accounting of his son's property, which the lady would like to handle herself.

Laura Bridgman, the blind deaf-mute, wrote a sympathetic little note to Mrs. Garfield in regard to her wounded husband, and received in return this kind and gracious letter: "Washington, D. C., July 29, 1881.—My Dear Miss Bridgman: I have just received your letter, and, while I thank you, I am filled with wonder that from out the silence and darkness of your life you can speak to me. When I was a very little girl I heard of you, and I have always felt that your spirit must be a great deal stronger and brighter than that of any ordinary mortal, to enable you to do so well what we with all our faculties are only able to do. I think the President will recover, and it will be a great pleasure to know that you remembered him in his suffering. With great admiration and regard, your friend, Lucretia R. Garfield."

John Hay does not approve Col. Rockwell's translation of the phrase Strangulatus pro Republica, written by Garfield on the 17th of July last, into "slaughtered for the republic." He writes from Cleveland, saying: "The Latin strangulare, in its literal sense, applies exclusively to death by choking or suffocation. It is derived, without change of meaning, from the corresponding Greek verb, which comes in turn from the noun straggala, a halter. So good a Latinist as the President would scarcely have chosen a word of such narrow and inappropriate meaning, when the better word occisus, to describe death by wounding, must have been ready to his hand. But there is a metaphorical meaning of strangulatus which is used in the poets and in writers of post-classical prose, especially writers upon law, which was probably in Gen. Garfield's mind as he lay chained to his bed in that long midsummer agony. The word, in that sense, means 'tortured' or 'tormented.' There is authority for such use of it in Ovid, Seneca and Juvenal. All the evidence we have indicates that on the 17th of July the President's own hope of recovery, as well as that of his attendants, was still strong. May we not, then, reasonably infer that this most impressive and memorable legend means 'Tortured for the Commonwealth?'"

The New Orleans Picayune give as serious warning to practical jokers. At 2 o'clock on a recent morning a gentleman left his club in that city with a friend, and, the latter returning for his cane, the former concealed himself in the bottom of the big box that holds the balancing weights of the elevator and is called a "lift case." The friend came back and went away, disgusted at finding no traces of the jolly joker. The latter, as he entered the lift case, had closed the door. He tried to open it, but could not, for it opened without a key only from the outside. He laughed heartily to see the biter bit, but presently he heard a noise which he could not misinterpret. The lift was slowly falling down from the fourth floor. He, in groping for the door, had pulled the rope which set it free. Death stared him in the face, for that immense mass of iron would inevitably crush him as flat as a pancake, and by a slow torture that would make dying seem an agony of horrors. He became frantic with fear. He flung himself against the door of the lift case as only despair could do. He shrieked for help. His shrieks were heard by the janitor, who found him in a swoon and dragged him out when the lift was only fifteen feet off. A physician was summoned. Consciousness was restored. The unfortunate gentleman sprang to his feet and screamed incoherently with wild gestures. He was crazy.

Organized Charity for the Unfortunates.

There should be some organized charity to meet the sudden revolutions in fortune. Many a man driven to the wall, with prompt assistance, might stand the shock and regain his losses.

The idea of organized assistance for those who meet with misfortune is not a new or untried theory. It has been in operation in the city of Liverpool for years, and out of its workings much good has risen up. There a man who has met with misfortune applies to the society, is promptly rendered pecuniary aid, and is often enabled to pay it back with ten-fold interest. Such a society could be made equally successful in America. Say that a number of capitalists organize such a society. The necessary capital could be acquired by subscription and endowment, and be profitably invested. A man meeting with reverses in business could apply to the society, and on investigation, proving worthy, be advanced whatever sum should be thought necessary, never to exceed a stated amount, giving his note for the payment of the money with interest.

Such a society would prove of great benefit in assisting young men. Many a young man who has the genius and the ability to work out important commercial and mechanical problems, is unable to move for the want of a few hundred dollars. This money such a society might very easily advance, to be paid back in one, two or three years, at a reasonable rate of interest, or it might be returned in monthly or yearly installments. In this way the society would not often lose. Loans should only be made after thorough investigation, and upon the very best authority.

All In Line.

[Free Press.]

At a reunion of Company A, Fifth Michigan Cavalry, nearly every member present had an anecdote to narrate of Lieutenant Henry Starkey, of Company H, who was for a few months, in command of Company A. At the dinner-table one winked at another and said: "Ben, do you remember the time Custer complimented Starkey on his military skill?"

The twinkling of Ben's eyes indicated that he was not adhering to the strict truth, but he promptly replied in the negative.

"Strange that you never heard of it? It was the talk of the entire army. Custer complimented him on making the most brilliant military movement of the war—getting his company in advance of the advance guard. The fact is, his company broke ranks to go blackberrying and got lost in the woods, and, when Custer came up with a detachment he found Starkey and his men gorging themselves within the enemy's lines."

"Oh, yes," responded Ben. "Us fellows in Company A were fond of blackberries, and if there was any one place they tasted better than another, it was in rebel territory. And that reminds me of the time we went blackberrying down at Ashby's Gap. We——"

"Hold on!" interrupted Starkey. "If that story has got to be told, I want to tell it, for it shows the utter fearlessness of Michigan soldiers. We were in reserve, and I had orders to swing around to the right until we reached an old stone wall, and there await further orders. It was a long and fatiguing march through the woods, and when we reached the wall I was pretty nearly 'blown.' We were right on to the enemy's flank, and I ordered the boys to 'stand close' behind the wall, and I climbed over and laid down under a tree to rest. It's just possible I might have been dozing, but if so, I was awakened by the rapid gallop of a horse, and up dashed Major Clark. Pulling his horse back upon his haunches, he excitedly exclaimed: 'The rebs are close upon us! are your men in line?'

"'In perfect line, major,' said I, at the same time pointing toward the wall where—there was not a single blue coat in sight. Every man of them had leaned his musket against the wall and gone blackberrying; and if the rebs could have found a dozen of them in an hour, they would have been better on a search than I was. That shows the difference between old soldiers and raw recruits. These veterans, right in the face of the enemy, had laid down their arms and gone berrying as thoughtless of danger as if they were in Michigan instead of Virginia; but a company of green recruits would have stood behind that wall, knees trembling, blanched faces, muskets at full cock and finger on the trigger."

An Eastern and Western View.

The New York Herald thinks the Mississippi and Missouri rivers should be improved, but it does not believe in the proposed method. The States bordering on these rivers, that paper thinks, should be at the expense of their improvement. It says: "The ambition to improve the great water artery of the Mississippi Valley is laudable and worthy of all support. We should like to see it accomplished. We believe it would help the enrichment of the Nation, but at the same time we see no sufficient reason why the Nation should enter upon it. Ten States would be immeasureably benefitted. There would be an increase in the value of farm lands along the banks of the great river such as has never been seen in all its history. Towns would arise where now there are only swamps. Millions of immigrants from Germany and France and England and Scotland and Ireland would be attracted towards the wastes and wildernesses of to-day, which would become so many paradises to-morrow. But it is not clear that it is within the constitutional power of Congress, nor is it clear whether if Congress has the power it would be just, to accomplish so desirable a result at the cost of the Federal Treasury."

It seems to us that this great metropolitan journal takes a superficial view of this question. If the contemplated improvement "would help the enrichment of the whole Nation," why should not the Nation pay for it?

The whole Nation has expended millions of dollars in the improvement of the rivers and harbors of the North and East, and the great West has not grumbled at the cost, although she has been taxed her full share; but now that a demand has been made for something in return that it is acknowledged would be a benefit to the whole country, we are met with the flimsy plea that "New York built her own canals" and the West should improve her rivers! This kind of reasoning is pure nonsense. In fact, it is no reasoning at all, but pure fallacy. The fear that some trade may be drawn off from New York is the secret of the Herald's inspiration. Float the commerce of this mighty valley down the river to the sea, instead of around by the Northern lakes and railroads, and it would undoubtedly take away something of the trade of New York; but then, this country will soon have commerce enough to build up more than one great city. It is a matter of congratulation that the West and Southwest can make themselves heard pretty loudly in the halls of Congress, and have sufficient voting strength to make their demands heeded.—Kansas City Journal.

Telegraph Repairers.

A Western telegraph pole-climber tells a stirring tale of the hardships endured by men of his trade. They are often forced to climb rotten poles, especially in the rural districts. In one case, when a pole broke under him, he held on to the cross-piece and the wires let him down gently to the ground. But perhaps the greatest danger is from the electricity, which sometimes knocks men from the poles. In damp weather, especially, they are liable to receive severe shocks when they touch two wires at once with different parts of their bodies. The climber said: "I tell you, it's a fearful contract to undertake to fix a broken wire on a wet day. I have seen some of the boys kick and squirm on the cross-pieces and yell so loudly that you would think they had gone off into spasms. I have in my mind one young man in particular who came near breaking his neck. He was what you call one of your 'smart Alecks.' It was a damp, rainy day in September when he went up to splice a wire. As soon as he reached the first cross-piece he thought he would make the boys laugh by performing various antics, so he sat astride one of the wires near the pole and caught hold of another. The batteries attached at the ends of both wires were heavily charged and he was so badly shocked that the men were compelled to go up and take him down. In fact, the shock almost killed him."

The Unfortunates Who Do Not Plead for Charity.

People seldom think of charity without they are importuned. They are willing to give, always ready to extend a helping hand to their less fortunate fellow man; but not feeling the sting of want, they never find the opportunity of giving until it is brought forward and laid at their feet. There are thousands of humane, charitably-disposed people; kind, noble and generous, yet all around there are much want and suffering. It does not follow that those only who ask for charity are deserving of it. Thousands there be who suffer every day without complaining; the time has been when they were masters of their wants and wishes, and they have too much of their old pride remaining to solicit assistance; but they go struggling on, and are every day forced to deny themselves some want or comfort. There are homes in every large city where the support depends upon the woman, and their only way of earning money is with the needle. Hard is their struggle—working continuously, denying to their lives every pleasure, and wasting their health and strength, they are hardly able to gather together enough money to meet expenses. The insufficiency of wages paid to sewing women has much of the sorrow and the suffering of the world to answer for. Often it will be found that these girls have lived in happy and comfortable homes, and this changed condition of affairs is wearying and killing to them; they feel the weight of charity, and long for the companionship of which the change of fortune has robbed them. They do not cry over their misfortune or go out and court charity, but, as long as strength and health is left, go struggling on, seeking to hide from the world their sorrow and suffering, like a proud man does his deformity. Such people are deserving. Assistance offered in a friendly manner, and without ostentation, could not offend, but would be gladly received and let the sunshine into many a dark hour.

The Politest Man in Boston.

The politest man in Boston has been discovered. He was hurrying along a street when another man, also in violent haste, rushed out of an alley way, and the two collided with great force. The second man looked mad, while the polite man, taking off his hat, said: "My dear sir, I don't know which of us is to blame for this encounter, but I am in too great a hurry to investigate. If I ran into you I beg your pardon; if you ran into me, don't mention it"—and he tore away at redoubled speed.—[Boston Journal.

DR. BUTTS
DISPENSARY.
Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss. Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE

CHICAGO
BURLINGTON
AND QUINCY RR
FOR ALL POINTS
EAST AND WEST

THE GREAT
BURLINGTON ROUTE.

☞ No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition.

Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.

Sold by F. E. Davenport.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

☞ Sold by all Druggists. ☜

"Woman is ever ready to sacrifice herself to save man," says a Boston journal; and the wicked Philadelphia Chronicle exclaims: "'True, too true' often she will do it with a kerosene can in hastening his breakfast." And what does man, the ungrateful wretch, do? He growls about the expense.

IN USE SINCE 1858
MISHLER'S
HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague influences known to the world.

The only absolute cure for all Affections of the Kidneys. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is specially efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE

But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enabling every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

The highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH

A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to

THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

☞ We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

PROVED A SUCCESS
THE PASTILLE
Prof. Harris' Radical Cure
Trade Mark
FOR
NERVOUS DEBILITY
BY YEARS OF USE!

A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Gland, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G. CHEMISTS.
Market and 8th Sts. St. Louis, Mo.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons!

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had epilepsy from weakness, for 8 years past.

Iowa, Oct. 19th, '78.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 28, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

From a Physician and Surgeon.

Missouri, June 23.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering, and I think another will set him all right.

From a Druggist.

Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 3 box.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

MINNESOTA
WISCONSIN
Minneapolis
Chippewa Falls
Stevens Point
La Crosse
Madison
IOWA
Davenport
Council Bluffs
Omaha
Peoria
Bloomington
Keokuk
Quincy
ILLINOIS
Atchison
Leavenworth
Cameron
Edgerton
MISSOURI
Kansas City

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

At ENGLEWOOD, with the L. S. & M. S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.

At WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, with P., C. & St. L. R. R.

At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.

At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.

At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.

At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.

At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.

At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.

At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R. R.

At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)

At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C. B. and Q. R. Rds.

At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo. & N. W. R. Rds.

At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.

At ATCHISON, with Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.

At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.

At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

For information not obtainable at your home office, address,

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.

E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent,
Chicago, Ill.

KIDNEY-WORT

THE GREAT CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

As it is for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS.

It cleanses the system of the acrid poison that causes the dreadful suffering which only the victims of Rheumatism can realize.

THOUSANDS OF CASES

of the worst forms of this terrible disease have been quickly relieved, in a short time PERFECTLY CURED.

KIDNEY-WORT

has had wonderful success, and an immense sale in every part of the Country. In hundreds of cases it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.

☞It cleanses, Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

As it has been proved by thousands that is the most effectual remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions. It should be used in every household as a

KIDNEY-WORT

SPRING MEDICINE.

Always cures BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, PILES and all FEMALE Diseases.

Is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans, one package of which makes 6 quarts medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated for the convenience of those who cannot readily prepare it. It acts with equal efficiency in either form. GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00 WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's, (Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

KIDNEY-WORT

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink,)

CONTAINS

HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION.

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE

All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.

$1000 IN GOLD.

Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.

Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no Other.

D.I.C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

All above sold by druggists.
Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

CROWN SEWING MACHINE IS THE BEST

It is the result of 20 years' experience and experiments in Sewing Machines. It combines the good points of all present and former makes, and is not a "one man" or "one idea" machine, as others are. It avoids the defects of others, and possesses new and valuable features and conveniences. It is large, light-running, noiseless, handsome, convenient, durable, and simple. Warranted and kept in repair free for 5 years. Circulars with full description sent free on request. It is surely the best. A trial will prove it. Don't fail to see it before you buy. MANUFACTURED BY FLORENCE MACHINE CO., Florence, Mass.; WHOLESALED BY GEO. P. BENT, 81 and 83 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

DO

Send for our New Illustrated Price-List No. 30, for Fall and Winter of 1881. Free to any address. Contains full description of all kinds of goods for personal and family use. We deal directly with the consumer, and sell all goods in any quantity at wholesale prices. You can buy better and cheaper than at home.

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
227 and 229 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc.

The Recipes used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 436 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

SUFFERERS from Gleet and Gonorrhea, or ladies troubled with Whites, should by all means try

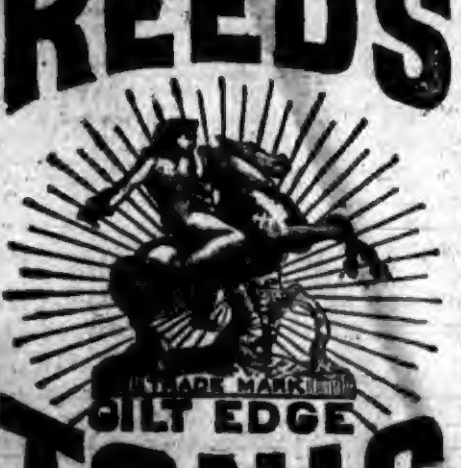
SANTINELI

It is a sure cure for LEUCORRHEA or WHITES, female disease

CURES GLEET AND GONORRHEA

in from 1 to 5 days without fail. Sold by all druggists. Price, $1.00 a bottle or sent dry postpaid, on receipt of price to any part of U. S. GREAT WESTERN MEDICINE CO., 167 Central Avenue, CINCINNATI, O. Please mention this paper.

REED'S



GILT EDGE TONIC

IS A THOROUGH REMEDY

In every case of Malarial Fever, Fever and Ague and Dumb Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbances of the Animal Forces, which debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It should not be confounded with the triturated compounds of cheap spirits and essential oil, often sold under the name of Bitters.

☞For Sale by Druggists and General Dealers Everywhere.

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

Better Yet.

On a Canada Southern train a Detroiter had a seat behind a couple who got on at a little station near St. Thomas, and he thought he had seen the man's face before. He was looking at him sharply and trying to remember where he had met him, when the man turned and asked:

"Aren't you Thomas ——, of Detroit?"

"Yes; and aren't you William ——, of Buffalo?"

"Yes"

"I thought so when you came in. And ain't you running away with old Judge Black's daughter, of St. Thomas?"

"I've got a better thing than that," whispered William, as he leaned over the seat, "I'm running away with his wife!"—[Detroit Free Press.

Kidney Diseases.

Kidney diseases afflict the greater part of the human race, and they are constantly on the increase, but where the virtues of Kidney-Wort have become known, they are held in check and speedily cured. Let those who have had to constantly dose spirits of nitre and such stuff, give this great remedy a trial and be cured. In the dry form it is most economical, in the liquid the most convenient.—[Philadelphia Press.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 48-tf.

PANA, ILL., Jan. 25, 1881.—I have used your Kress Fever Tonic, and found it much easier to cure the chills with it than for me to solve your rebus. S. D. ABBOTT. 37 3w.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

Useful and ornimental—those new Unique Wall Pockets, for holding your brushes and combs. They are just the thing to present to your wife, for a Christmas present. For sale by Davenport, the druggist.

Holloway' Pills.

Never dispair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispells doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞There is considerable saving by taking he larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co. Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily mad Costly outfit free. Address, True and C Augusta, Maine. [No. 7.1y

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Bengnot's Store.

P. V. HOFFMAN.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will give prompt attention to collections Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES,

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 26 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DeBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist

STILL AT THE FRONT!

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPLE PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cents
FEST SHIRTING	10 cents
GOOD MUSLIN	6 cents

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c. per lb
Coffee A Sugar	10c. per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. per lb
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. per lb
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. per lb
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb. 6 for	$1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per lb
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

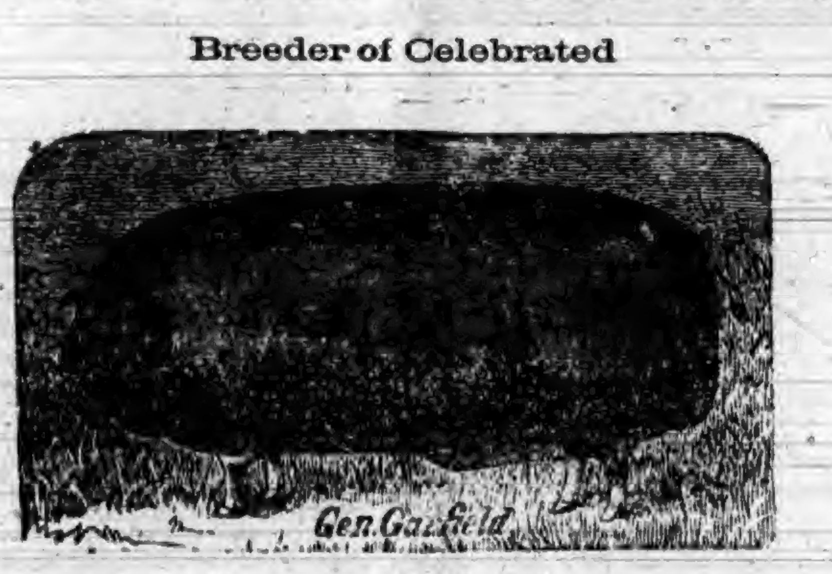
Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store
ISAAC OCHS.

Wm. M. McInturf,

Breeder of Celebrated



Poland China Swine.

Our stock is large and fine, of superior style, and can be relied on. Fatten readily at any age, and yet attain great weight at maturity. All stock pedigreed eligible for registry, when desired. Some very choice stock for sale at reasonable rates. Come and see my herd, four miles east of Kendallville, or address all orders to

WM. M. McINTURF,
KENDALLVILLE, IND.

PILES NO CURE NO PAY

FISTULA RECTAL ULCERS, FISSURES CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED COME BEFORE TOO LATE

BY DR. A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S Wonderful NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE PATENTED.

OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR BRINKERHOFF. CURE WARRANTED

New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers. He has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 6 to 8 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. 4tf

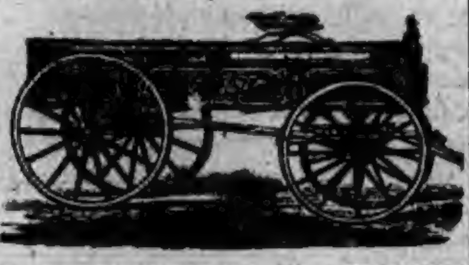
W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.,

Manufacturers of the

Best and Lightest-Running

Wagon



NOW IN THE MARKET

Nothing but first-class material is used, and consequently the work is warranted. Repairing of all kinds done promptly. Shop on south Main street, Auburn, Ind. 21 tf

CLOCKS.

WELLESLEY
WALTHAM, MASS.

GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES.

RODGERS & BROTHER'S

Plated Ware

SPOONS,
KNIVES,
AND FORKS,
RINGS,
VEST CHAINS,
CASTORS,

Necklaces, Ladies Gold Chains, and everything in the jewelry line.

VIOLINS,
GUITARS,
ACCORDEONS.

Special attention given to repairing fine watches.

Work Warranted.

No charge for marking silverware sold at my store.

JOE ABRIGHT.

Second door north of postoffice, Auburn Indiana.

IMPROVE THE HOUR.

TRADE MARK.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncoltis, Asthma, Coughs and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

30 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. A. Macready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists.

WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the Best Machinery in the World for BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power! Book Free. Address LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION IN

SEND FOR CATALOGUE TO LANDRETH'S SEEDS BY MAIL

DAVID LANDRETH & SONS, PHILA.

USE KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipments! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect May 15 1881

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	N. Y. Ex.	At. Ex	Way F't	Way F't
Chicago	9 20am	5 35pm
Elkhart	1 30pm	10 10	1 00am	7 00am
Kendallville	3 45	11 30	5 25	12 10pm
Corunna	3 58		6 35
Sedan			7 05	2 00
Waterloo	3 10	11 50	7 30	40
Butler	3 24	12 10am	9 20	2 40
Toledo	5 40	2 45	7 35pm

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi Ex.	Pac Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Toledo	11 05am	12 01am	5 30am
Butler	1 35pm	2 20	4 05pm	8 10am
Waterloo	1 50	2 35	4 50	9 30
Sedan			5 05	10 00
Corunna	2 15		5 15	10 05
Kendallville	2 30	3 00	5 35	11 25
Elkhart	3 40	4 20	9 25	4 20
Chicago	8 00	8 30

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given, trains do not stop. Accommodation Freight leaves Butler at 8 o'clock a. m., and arrives at Toledo at 10:25 a. m. Accommodation Freight leaves Toledo at 5:05 p. m., and arrives at Butler at 10:42 p. m. Close connections at Chicago. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage J. B. CURTIS,
Supt. Mich. Div., Toledo, O.

For tickets to all points east—first-class, second class, emigrant and round-trip tickets to Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and California, rates of freight and information—apply to H. D. ARMSTRONG,
Agent Waterloo Ind.

TAKE A RIDE

—OVER THE—

WABASH
ST. LOUIS
AND PACIFIC
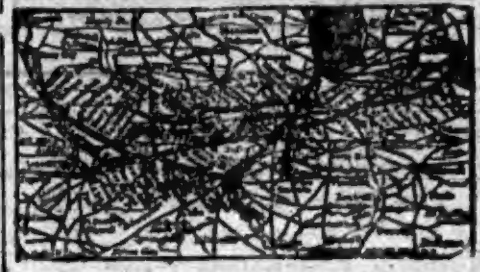
RY.

—AND YOU—

WILL DISCOVER

Why it is termed the Popular

PASSENGER LINE OF AMERICA!



2,500 MILES OF ROAD reaching in the most direct manner all of the

Great Cities of the West

Running the Finest Passenger Equipment and the most extended Through-Car System on the continent.

THROUGH TICKETS

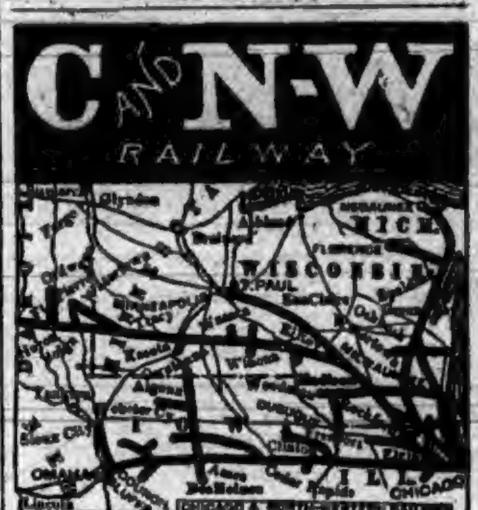
TO ALL POINTS

East, West, Northwest or Southwest!

And Baggage Checked from starting point to destination.

For Maps, Time-Tables, or any information, call on or address LOUIS JOHNSON, agent, Auburn, Ind., or FRED. CLARK, Auburn Junction.

J. C. GAULT, Gen. Manager,
H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen. Passenger Agent,
St. Louis



THE

Chicago & Northwestern Railway

Is the oldest, Best Constructed, Best Equipped and hence the Leading Railway

—OF THE—

WEST AND NORTHWEST.

It is the short and best route between Chicago and all points in Northern Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, California, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and for

Council Bluffs, Omaha, Denver, Leadville, Salt Lake, San Francisco, Deadwood, Sioux City,

Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Columbus, and all points in the territories, and the west. Also for Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Marquette, Fond du Lac, Watertown, Houghton, Neenah, Menasha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Huron, Volga, Fargo, Bismarck, Winona, LaCrosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Northwest.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern and the U. P. Railways depart from, arrive at and use the same joint Union depot.

At Chicago close connections are made with the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ft. Wayne and Pennsylvania, and Chicago and Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

Close connections at Junction points.

It is the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

Between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

Pullman Sleepers on all night trains.

Insist upon ticket agents selling you tickets via this road. Examine your tickets and refuse to buy if they do not read over the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

If you wish the best traveling accommodations you will buy your tickets by this route ☞AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER.

All ticket agents sell tickets by this line.

Marvin Hughitt, 2d V. P. & Gen'l Manager Chicago.

Recorders Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 11. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, DECEMBER 29, 1881. Number 52.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

BARNS & HUSSELMAN.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, post-office as second-class matter.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Bengnot's Store.

P. V. HOFFMAN.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will give prompt attention to collections Also represents first-class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 28 1y

SUTT'S HOTEL.

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Sutt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LONG'S HOTEL

FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good Sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DEBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist

Holloway' Pills.

Never dispair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispells doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking he larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co. Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily mad Costly outfit free. Address, True and C Augusta, Maine. [No. 7.1y

Executor's Sale.

THE undersigned, executor of the estate, of Asa Fletcher, deceased, will offer at public sale at his late residence, in Spencerville, DeKalb county, Ind., on Saturday, January 14, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., all the personal property of the deceased. Terms made known on the day of sale. WM. SHUTT,
51-3w. Executor.

Executor's Sale.

THE undersigned, executor of the estate, of Adam Shilling, deceased, will offer at public sale, at the late residence of Asa Fletcher, in Spencerville, DeKalb county, Ind., on Saturday, January 14, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., all the personal property of said deceased. Terms made known on the day of sale.
Dec. 20, 1881. WM. SHUTT,
51-3w. Executor.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk, of the DeKalb circuit court, of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Asa Fletcher, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.
Dec. 9, 1881. WILLIAM SHUTT,
50-3w. Administrator.

A $7.00 Biblical Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for December, offer the following easy way for someone to make $20.00:

To the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures by Dec. 10, 1881, we will give $20.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send 20 cents with their answer, for which they will receive the Christmas number of the Monthly, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. Cut this out; it may be worth $20.00 to you. Address RUTLEDGE PUBLISHING COMPANY, Easton, Pa.

Correspondence.

[Written for the COURIER.]

Our earthly friends to us how dear,
So kind and true are they;
Delight we prove when they are near,
But sadness when away.

Away? Yes often far are those
Whose hearts are strung with ours;
Days, months and years interpose,
To cloud the passing hours.

But when we rise to realms of light,
And meet with kindred there,
We'll stand and sing with angels bright,
And mingle with friends so dear.

But we must wait the passing hours,
'Till God shall call us from this earth;
Then kindred dear, those friends of ours,
Shall welcome us from trials and mirth.

To mingle with the blood washed throng,
Who've washed their robes in crimsoned blood,
Now linger near the Savior's throng,
With out-stretched arms across the flood,
They welcome us to heaven and God.

S. A. COMESKEY.

What They Knew Four Thousand Years Ago

From one of these books, compiled after the manner of our modern encyclopaedias, and the compilation of which is shown to have been made more than 2,000 years B. C., it has been ascertained, which has long been supposed, that Chaldea was a parent land of astronomy; for it is found, from this compilation and from other books, that the Babylonians catalogued the stars. and distinguished and named the constellations; that they arranged the twelve constellations that form our present zodiac to show the course of the sun's path in the heavens; divided time into weeks, months and years; that they divided the week, as we now have it, into seven days, six being days of labor, and the seventh a day of rest, to which they gave a name from which we have derived our word "Sabbath," and which day, as a day of rest from all labor of every kind, they observed as rigorously as the Jew or the Puritan. The motion of the heavenly bodies and the phenomena of the weather were noted down and a connection, as I have before stated, detected, as M. de Perville claims to have discovered, between the weather and the change of the moon. They had invented the sun-dial to mark the movements of the heavenly bodies, the water clock to measure time and they speak in this work of the spots on the sun, a fact they only could have known by the aid of telescopes, which it is supposed they possessed, from observations that they have noted down of the rising of Venus and the fact that Layard found a crystal lens in the ruins of Nineveh. The "bricks" contain an account of the deluge, substantially the same as a narrative in the Bible, except that the names are different. They disclose that houses and lands were then sold leased and mortgaged; that money was loaned at interest, and that the market-gardeners, to use an American phrase, "worked on shares;" that the farmer, when plowing with his oxen, beguiled his labor with short and homely songs, two of which have been found; and, to connect this very remote civilization with the usages of to-day, I may in conclusion, refer to one of the bricks of this library, in the form of a note, which is to the effect that visitors are requested to give to the librarian the number of the book they wish to consult, and that it will be brought to them; at the perusal of which one is disposed to fall back upon the exclamation of Solomon, that "There is nothing new under the sun."—[Chief Justice Daly, in Popular Science Monthly.

Mosby Outwitted.

[Philadelphia Times.]

Mosby was seldom defeated and never outwitted to my knowledge but once. He had crossed the mountains with few men into Clark county, when he was informed that a Federal officer with a squad of cavalrymen was in the vicinity. The officer had stopped at 'Clay Hill," 'the residence of Mr. Whiting, and Mosby made up his mind to capture officer and men. His action was prompt, as usual. He went to Clay Hill, captured the Federal officer while he was seated at supper, and carried him off prisoner to Upperville, east of the Blue Ridge. There had been nothing unpleasant about the whole affair. Mosby and his prisoner were on the most friendly terms. The partisan had ridden his favorite gray mare on the scout, and at Upperville was standing beside her ready to mount when he Federal officer said: "That's a superb animal Colonel?"

"Yes," was the gratified reply of the partisan as he patted the mare's neck The officer sauntered closer.

"A very fine animal!" he repeated. "I'll try her paces!" And throwing himself into the saddle he disappeared at full speed, and Colonel Mosby never again saw his favorite gray mare or his prisoner.

A Spidar Draws up a Mouse by the Tail.

A very curious and interesting spectacle was to be seen on Monday afternoon in the office of Mr. P. C. Clever's livery stable in this city. Against the wall of the room stands a tolerably tall desk, and under this a small spider, not larger than a common pea, had constructed an extensive web, reaching down to the floor.

About half-past eleven o'clock Monday forenoon it was observed that the spider had ensnared a young mouse by passing filaments of her web about its tail. When first seen the mouse had its hind legs off the floor, and could barely touch the floor with its fore feet. The spider was full of business, running up and down the line, occasionally biting the mouse's tail, making it struggle desperately. Its effort to escape were unavailing, and the slender filaments about its tail were too strong for it to break. In a short time it was seen that the spider was slowly hoisting its victim into the air. By two o'clock in the afternoon the mouse could barely touch the floor with its fore feet; by dark the point of its nose was an inch above the floor. At nine o'clock at night the mouse was still alive, but had made no sign, except when the spider decended and bit its tail. At this time it was an inch and a half from the floor.

The next morning the mouse was dead and hung three inches from the floor.

The news of the novel sight soon became circulated, and hundreds of people visited the stable to witness it. The mouse is a small one, probably less than half grown, measuring about one and one-half inches from the point of its nose to the root of its tail. How the spider succeeded in ensnaring it is not known. The mechanical ingenuity of the spider, which enables her to raise a body which must weigh forty or fifty times as much as herself, has been the subject of much comment and speculation, and no satisfactory solution of the difficulty has been found. All agree that it is a most remarkable case, and one that would be received with utter incredulity if it were not so amply attested.—[Lebanon, Ky., Standard.

Troy Township.

A.G. Coats, one of DeKalb's pioneers, died last Tuesday.

Some one stole a lot of corn from John Robinet' last week.

Mrs. Hisler, aged 60, walked eleven miles to attend the funeral of Louisa McClellan, and was just fifteen minutes to late. Such friendship is scarce now days.

Grave yard insurance has struck Troy, two agents, one a doctor, have been working here. Eight dollars a thousand on persons from seventy to one hundred years of age, is the price. Various persons have taken policies to the amount of twenty-four thousand dollars on a man eighty-five years old. They wont insure a young man.

Robert Johnson, of Iowa, is visiting with his sister, Sarah McDonald.

John Zigler, of Fulton, Ohio, is visiting relatives in Troy.

—And got the girl: A healthful moonlight evening is good for building houses. No money is required only talk. Two young lovers discuss the future—after they are married. They sit down, with their arms entwined around each other, and say they will build as soon as they are married and the season has advanced a little. They will have a two-story house with an attic. They will have a three-story house, perhaps. It shall have this or that number of rooms. This convenience or that convenience will make it much more desirable than any other house. Hundreds of little points are discussed. The season advances. The season passes. No house built. The other fellow builds the house.—[Vicksburg Herald.

—Mitigated misery: "Go in the room and bring that cake off the table," said an Austin mother to her son. "Its too dark; I'm afraid to go into the room." "Go right into that room this instant or I'll go in and bring out the strap." "If—you bring—out the—strap," replied the boy, sobbing, "bring the—cake along—too."—[Texas Siftings.

—A real christian is a man who prays on Sunday and then helps the Lord to answer his prayer all the rest of the week.

—The lazy boy fears that if he once begins to earn his own living he will be always expected to do it.—[New Orleans Picayune.

Useful and ornimental—those new Unique Wall Pockets, for holding your brushes and combs. They are just the thing to present to your wife, for a Christmas present. For sale by Davenport, the druggist.

Six Little Shoes.

The Cromwell correspondence, of the Ligonier Banner, contains the following, which we think well worth of reproducing for our readers. It was written by G. H. Barney, a citizen of Cromwell:

Six little shoes in chaotic row,
Six can it be? Is it really so?
One, two, three, four, five, six, there's no mistake.
It seems like a dream, though I know I'm awake.
There is Bessie, my baby; why, how time has flown!
She's a Miss now of six years, almost a woman grown.
She complacently mentions her various beaux.
Then Corinne, little chubby, with four-year-old grace.
Holds in our affections a strangely sweet place.
While Harry, our baby, with infantile glee,
Makes a heaven of home as near as can be.
So six little shoes sitting there in confusion
We find are all right; they are not a delusion.
If but one little pair were missing to-night,
All, all would be darkness where now all is light.

VALET.

School Reports.

JACKSON TOWNSHIP.

Report for the month ending Dec. 12, 1881, district No. 7: No. pupils on roll, 45; average number belonging, 40; average attendance, 36; No. cases of tardiness 19. Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy during the month, Della Furnish, Sylvia Shutt, Nancy Cramer, George Cramer, Pearly Boots, Ira Cramer, Della Farner, Walla Shutt, Sadie Hilterbrand, Reuben Mullen, Mable Henderson, Francis Furnish, Alice Foltz, Ivan Farner, Nancy Kester, Clyde Boots. Names of pupils whose deportment for the month was 100: Della Furnish, Pearly Boots, Sylvia Shutt, Laura Means, Della Farner, Nancy Cramer, Emma Farner, Jennie Kester.

S. M. HIGH, Teacher.

JACKSON TOWNSHIP.

Report of school No. 5. for the month ending Dec. 16, 1881: No. of males enrolled, 32, No, of females, 14; whole number 46. Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy. Arthur Clark, Geo. Essig, Lizzie Essig, Alda Elson, Martin Elson, Emma Garber, Libbie Garber, Charlie Garber, Raulen Moffet, Walter Moffet, Ella Masters, Frank Osburn, Harris Squires, Vincent Squires, Frank Stafford, Ella Walter, Geo. Willis. Total times absent 110, total times tardy 6, average attendance 40.5.

J. L. GRUBB, Teacher.

JACKSON TOWNSHIP.

Report of school No. 4: The following are the names of the pupils who were neither absent nor tardy during the month ending Dec. 9, 1881 Clara Freeman, Andrew Dancer, Lean Robbins, Miles Osburn, Queena Lawhead.

J. B. SCOTT, Teacher.

JACKSON TOWNSHIP

Report of school No. 3: The following are the names of the pupils neither absent nor tardy for the month ending Dec. 9, 1881, Cordelia Culver, Addie Miller, Perry Feagler, Viola Cool, Birdie Culver, George Ditmars, Della Shugers, Allie Swisher, Nora Carr, George Cool, Cora Feagler, Ida Culver, Ethelinda Cupp, William Culver, Clara George, Geo. Feagler.

MRS. J. B. SCOTT, Teacher.

UNION TOWNSHIP.

Report of school district No. 6, for the month ending Dec. 9: No. of pupils enrolled, 28; average daily attendance, 20; No. of times tardy, 5. Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy, Mally Springer, Ona Nelcewander, Simon Likens, Estus Likens, Etna Sherwood, Willie Blodget, Jennie Hoffman, Frank Pile, Willis Shreve, Clarence Cobbler, Ora Cobbler, Willie Hoodlemeier, Dwight Hoodlemeier, Cecil Metcalf, Homer Likens. Absent on account of sickness, Joe Springer.

A. B. WALSWORTH, Teacher.

RICHLAND TOWNSHIP.

Report of school No. 9, for the month ending Dec. 9: Names of pupils who were neither absent nor tardy, Nettie Lintz, Minnie Thomas, Nola Wert, Nettie Monroe, Mary Monroe, Nettie Bolser, Emma Wert. No. enrolled, 26; average daily attendance, 22; cases of tardiness, 2.

MILO THOMAS, Teacher.

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price):

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,

MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, OMBRE PLUSHES, for $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS,

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—excellent value.

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS,

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c, 75c., $1.25 and $1 50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 an $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. - - - Ft. Wayne

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens to Auburn with extra fine WHEAT, RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion this week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm, and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL.

PILES
NO CURE NO PAY
FISTULA
RECTAL ULCERS, FISSURES
CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED
CURE BEFORE TOO LATE
BY DR. A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S WONDERFUL NEW, SURE, PAINLESS CURE
PATENTED
OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR. BRINKERHOFF
CURE WARRANTED

BIG BEN BOLTON.

BY EUGENE J. HALL.

I remember big Ben Bolton, and the little Leontine.
He could carry off a millstone, but she ruled him like a Queen.
He stood seven feet in his stockings; she was hardly three feet high;
But she wound him round her finger, and she ruled him with her eye.

The women used to snicker, and the hardy miners smiled,
To see the brawny giant with the gentle little child.
And the gamblers, up from 'Frisco, when they saw them, used to swear
That they looked as fitly mated as a rabbit and a bear.

He would drop his pick and shovel when she came in working hours;
They would go among the gulches after gay and gaudy flowers;
He would climb the dizzy ledges, he would scale the mountain-side,
Bearing her upon his shoulders, whom he called his "little bride."

He could bend an iron crowbar, he could lift a half a ton,
He could twist a wagon-tire, or the barrel of a gun,
With his fingers; but it often used to make us laugh
When we saw Leontine lead him as a butcher leads a calf.

When the hard days' work was over, when the crescent silver moon
Arose above the mountain pines, we met at "Blood's saloon,"
When Ben Bolton used to give us exhibitions of his skill
In bending iron crow-bars or in twisting off a drill.

One day Ezekiel Parsons sent to 'Frisco on the sly,
And bought a bar of tempered steel, for brawny Ben to try.
The boys who understood the game came down to Blood's one night,
And stood serenely round the bar and waiting for the sight.

Ben Bolton grasped the bar of steel, he brought it to his knee,
And like a locomotive puffed, the trick he could not see;
The sweat ran down his honest face, upon his hands he spit,
He tugged and worried with all his might, it would not budge a bit.

Ezekiel Parsons shook his sides, the boys all laughed aloud,
Ben lost his reputation and had to treat the crowd.
It cut him so completely, and it made him feel so mean,
He quit the camp next morning with the little Leontine.

II.

A storm comes up the valley, a cloud bursts on the hills,
The stream becomes a river, that sweeps away the mills,
And downward through the hollow the maddened torrent roars,
O'er rocks, through glens and gulches, and mining camps it pours.

A cry comes from the hollow, and rushing down the ridge
The miners see Ben Bolton like a giant at the bridge.
The water settles about him, the bridge rocks to and fro;
He holds it with a crow-bar—in a minute it must go.

Beneath the narrow ledge near by, with bright disheveled hair,
They see the little Leontine—her hands are clasped in prayer.
The structure quakes, the strong man shakes, no fear is in his face;
"Go! save the child," he shouts aloud, "I'll hold the bridge in place."

Zeke Parsons bounds upon the bridge, the women wail with fear;
He lifts the child in his strong arms, the miners loudly cheer;
He leaps upon the trembling logs, the waters round him roar;
He slips, he falls, he creeps, he crawls, he springs upon the shore.

The child is saved, Ben Bolton, but who will help you now?
The crow-bar in your brawny hands breaks like a rotten bough,
And down the glen goes bridge and man, with broken logs and stones
That rend and gash his stalwart form and crush and break his bones.

Adown the hill the miners run, with outcries of despair;
They find him wedged between the rocks, and hanging helpless there;
They bear the mangled form away, without the glen they pass
With words of pity and of love, and lay him on the grass.

The crimson blood runs down his face, he shudders and he sighs;
His pale lips move, he moans, he groans, then to a comrade cries:
"I've saved the little Leontine, be kind to her, dear Joe.
I've [illegible], Zeke Parsons, for I'm ready now to go!"

His head droops limp and lifeless down, his eyes grow dull and dim,
His broad breast heaves, a shiver runs through every broken limb,
Then, with a smile upon his lips, he sinks upon the sod,
And the soul of brave Ben Bolton is at peace with man and God.

"CAVED."

"It's caved!" exclaimed Bill Beaver, bursting into the cabin where I was leisurely eating breakfast and reading the news from last year's papers that were pasted on the wall. "The ground has caved! it came down mighty sudden; and little Jimmy was at the breast. I was further out in the drift, and had the start of it; but it made such a close call for me that I knew he must o' got ketched."

This technical jargon revealed to me the fact that our mine had caved, and had buried one of our companions, for "Little Jimmy" was not an infant, but a man—a miner and a friend. He had been working at the "breast," or farthest end of the "drift," but was now perhaps sleeping his last sleep in the bottom of the mother of us all.

Three years before we had come to this creek, we had prospected the "side gulches" and the bars, and found "colors" everywhere. Indications favorable, so we "staked" a body of ground along the main creek; built cabins, organized a company, of which the writer was elected President, and went to work to open our claim.

Those three years had been years of toil and privation. We were in the heart of the Rocky mountains. Our camp was pitched in a little basin of a valley, warm and sunshiny, and just at the entrance of a deep and gloomy canon, which we named "The Devil's Gate," and through which our sparkling little stream foamed and tumbled down to the great river, the Missouri. Our ground was deep and very wet. Drainage was necessary, and we had driven a tunnel for this purpose through the earth and bowlders that filled the primeval bed of the creek, until we had attained a horizontal distance of 1,000 yards; but the slope of the gulch was so gradual that we had not reached the "bed rock" where we hoped to find the gold laid in heaps. "Bed rock," being the objective point, must be reached; so we sank a shaft at the head of our tunnel and betook ourselves to a pump.

As it was a couple of thousand miles to the nearest foundry, and we could not afford to await the completion of the North Pacific railroad, a pump under the circumstances was a problem; so I will tell you how we got one. We had blacksmith's and carpenters' tools, which most of us could use; there was plenty of timber growing on the mountains, and a pair of dilapidated freight wagons supplied our stock of iron. Great slabs or segments were cut from the fir trees and hewed and dressed on one side to a smooth plane. The other side was rounded to an arc or convex surface, so that when four such segments were placed together lengthwise, secured with pins at the edges, which were first squared and then made parallel, they formed a long, hollow trunk or barrel, four square within, but outside cylindrical, and tapering slightly from one end to the other.

Upon this were driven hoops or bands of iron, which forced the joints close like those of a cask, and thus we had pumps or pipes of considerable length and solidity. It was easy to fit to them valves and pistons, and to work them with a wooden walking beam, moved by the crank of a water wheel. This crank was a master piece. It had an arm or leverage of two feet, and was forged from the iron axle of one of our wagons, and its dungeons or bearings were turned in a lathe of our own contriving. This was a heavy job for our own resources, but it was finished after an age (it seemed to us) of toil, puzzling and perspiration, and we had produced machinery that was capable of raising to a height of nearly thirty feet many tons of water per day, and which answered all our requirements for drainage, so that we were able to reach that long-sought "bed rock" at a depth of ninety feet below the present bed of the creek. I will mention here that our pump was twelve inches square inside, and had a stroke of four feet, raising the water twenty-nine feet into our drain tunnel, whence it flowed out to the surface 1,000 yards down the canon.

We had reached "bed rock," but had not "struck it very rich," and were running a drift or tunnel on bed rock across and up the gulch in search of the "pay streak" which we were hoping every day to find, when the announcement of a startling accident was made. Here was the ruin of our hopes and the death of our friend; for there was little room to hope for any other result.

It must not be supposed that much time was wasted in such reflections, for, telling Bill to rouse the entire camp, I rushed off to the mine. Such of the men as had heard of the occurrence hurried from their work, bringing with them their picks and shovels as likely to be needed, and the miners from wet diggings came clad in coats, high boots and helmet-shaped caps of India-rubber, and looking like knights in armor. Knights they were, too, for that matter, for, though armed only with shovels and picks, they were as daring and as generous as ever belted Prince who rode with lance at rest to right imaginary wrongs; and they were ready now to risk every danger to save the poor fellow buried in the mine beneath.

On reaching the scene I found our machinery apparently uninjured, but looking more closely I discovered that the pump was raising not a drop of water, and it would not be long before the entire mine would be flooded. The pump must be relieved at once or we could not hope to save the mine, much less to rescue our friend. Calling Bob Piper, a tall, black-bearded miner, who had worked at his trade in every mining country from the English channel to the Pacific ocean, and who, in skill, courage and experience, was the mining oracle of our camp—I pointed him to the pump, which was wearing itself out in vain, for it lifted no water.

"Bob," said I, "we must fix that pump! It is our only hope to save Little Jimmy."

"We'll fix it," replied Bob, quietly. "The pump is starved—choked up at the bottom. We'll fix it; and as for the poor lad we'll git un out."

Bob was a West of England man, and his dialect stuck to him.

"We'll get un out, Benny; I think he bean't dead. I've helped dig men out in the old country and this, too; an' God will help us we'll get un out now; won't us, Benny?"

Benny, thus appealed to, answered with an emphatic "You bet," and the next moment he and Bob, followed by two others, were clambering down the steep and slippery flight of ladders that led into the mine, until their candles, glimmering like stars, were one by one swallowed up in the black shaft. Axes had been sent down in the bucket, and in a few moments were heard blows ringing on the mass of wood and iron that composed the barrel of the pump. They were cutting holes to let water into the pump below. It had already risen above their waists, and the mouth of the lowest drift was nearly submerged.

The machinery was creaking and groaning, and the wheel dashing round, and it was idle show, and the mine was filling up, and soon the men would be driven out; but meantime we could hear the blows of the axes. Presently the clumsy walking beam quit groaning, stood still and began to tremble. The wheel had stopped for a moment, then began to move slowly, and went round with a surge. There was a great rush of water through the pump, and it was all right. Our old wooden pump was equal to the occasion. The flood-gates were opened to the great overshot wheel, and it was required to do its best. It rushed round steadily, and in an hour the mine was freed from water so that men could press into the drift.

It was arranged that if Little Jimmy was found alive the fact should be telegraphed aloft by two strokes of the signal bell; but if dead, one tap should announce it. Men were working underground as only such men would work. They had been told off into gangs of four each, which spelled or relieved each other every fifteen minutes; and, as they advanced into the avalanche of rock and earth that filled the drift, every inch had to be propped with heavy timbers, for the vast mass above them had been shaken and had lost its cohesion, and at every moment might crash down like a mountain.

Presently, to those who waited above, there came a sharp peal of the bell—then another. He was alive! What a shout went up from the men assembled there. Out of the depths of that canon, above its cliffs and crags, and over the trees that waved on their summits, and above the mountains that towered beyond—far above them all it rose like incense. It ascended into heaven, for it was a prayer—a prayer of thanksgiving and of praise. Not formed in speech, not framed in language, but the overflowing of the heart that can not be uttered in words.

My story is done. Little Jimmy had been overwhelmed with an avalanche, his candles extinguished, and he dashed down with his face to the earth; but the rocks and timbers had formed an arch over him, and, resting his elbows on the ground, he was just able to support his head above it. In a little while he would have drowned where he lay, but he was safe now. Strong hands had dragged him out of this grave. They had harnessed themselves to the "horse whim," and had hoisted him into the glorious sunshine. They bore him to his cabin, and placed him in the tender care of "Doc." Here we will leave him.

The three drinking saloons in our camp proclaimed open doors and free whisky for the rest of that day, and, as the boys were about to take a drink, Bob Piper asked leave to offer a sentiment.

"Genelmen," said he, "I told you we'd git un out, if so be as God would help us. Genelmen, He did help us."

"You bet!" was the applauding and emphatic response.

Hoffenstein on Poor People.

[New Orleans Times.]

"Herman," said Hoffenstein, as he glanced over a book in which he kept small accounts, "has dot shoemaker vot keeps de corner around baid vat he owes de adore yet?"

"No, Mister Hoffenstein," replied the clerk, "but I dhink he vill. He vas a goot man if he vas poor."

"Dot may be so, Herman, but you had pedder vatch him. Don't let him haf noding more on gredit. You must always dink a man vas a rasgal until he bays vat he owes; if you don't you vill lose money, by dinking he vas goot. My gr-r-a-cious, Herman, I haf seen blenty uf poor men who vere goot. Dey vould get dings at my adore on gredit, and spend dere cash mit some von else. Vatch de shoemaker, Herman, I haf been poor myself vonce."

"De shoemaker, Misder Hoffenstein," said the clerk, "would half baid before dis if he don't haf been so poor."

"But he don't got no pisness being dot vay," replied Hoffenstein. "A man vat vas poor, Herman, don't can blame no von but himself. Vy don't he get velty like odder beople?—If a man vas sadisvied mit being poor he don't can be vert anyding you know. Ven I vas bedding I vent to a velty merchant to get some goods on gredit. He don't let me haf dem, und I dold him dat I vas honesd if I vas a poor man. Vat you dink, Herman, he says: 'My frent, hell vas so full of beoble in your fix dat dere legs vas sticking de vindows out.' Dot exberience, Herman, learned me dot a poor man don't haf got invulence enough in dis vorld to make de dogs bark at him, und I vent to vork. Dree years afder dot I half a dry goods adore, und vas de bresident uf a bolitical association. My gr-r-e-cious, Herman, nefer vant to be a poor man. De only ding vot a poor man can get vas religion, und he wouldn't get dot if it cost anyding. Recgolleck dot berseverance in pisness vill make you velty, und dot if you vail in de righd vay dere vas money in it. Ven I vas keeping a redail adore in the gountry, pisiness got dull, und I vent to Simon Krausman, my vife's uncle, und I says: 'Simon, I dink I vill vail, dere vas no money in de pisness any longer.' 'Reuben,' he says, 'de boys vas baying as high as dwenty cents dis year, und I dink you petter vait.' I dook his advice, Herman, und nexd year ven dey vas only baying ten cents, I vailed und made ofer four dousand dollars. Shust dink uf it. Now dere vas Solomon Opponheimer, who put a leetle adore up avay out in Arkansas, und de gountry for fifteen miles around vas so poor dot all de fleas vent away. Vell, he put his adore dere und for seex years he vailed in pisiness, und now Solomon owns a gouple of brick adores in Houston, Texas. He made all uf dot by his berseverance. Dink uf it, Herman, und vile you dink of it, don't let de shoemaker ve vas dalking abodd get avay mitout baying vat he owes."

By actual merit the famous substance, St. Jacobs Oil, has steadily won its way until it is to-day the national remedy for rheumatism. Lawyers, physicians, clergymen—all use it.—Cincinnati (Ohio) Daily Enquirer.

A Queer Maori Marriage.

[New Zealand Letter to the London News.]

A good clergyman who was working amongst the native population was anxious to establish the sanctity of marriage among them. Among others who were candidates for the rite was a much married aboriginal named Ngatapaparapa. On arriving at the clause of the formula where candidates for matrimony are directed to join hands, a strange scene occurred. No sooner had the direction been given than a whole bevy of inamoratas sprang forward, two or three hanging on by the hands and arms of the would-be-Benedict, with an equal number clinging to his legs. He was completely besieged, pinned hand and foot and confusion was made worse confounded by a hugging and tugging by which the unfortunate fellow was in iminent danger of dismemberment. Seeing the turn things had taken the priest naturally enough paused and looked on in dismay. "Go on," cried the hapless bridegroom, "or can't you see for yourself these abominable wretches will have me dragged limb from limb?" Still the reverend gentleman hesitated, seemingly at a loss what to do under the circumstances. "If you don't get along," cried the man, "and bring this kind of a thing to a finish there'll be another dozen of them here in less than no time, and when they find I have not got a flopper left to hang on by they will drag off the last shred of blanketing I have over me."

The situation was now perplexing in the extreme, and there was nothing for it but to hurry over the service and bring the comedy to an end. The sequel to the story is worth adding. In course of time this much-married man died, as did the seven-times married woman of the gospels. The question then arose as to who was his lawfully married wife. Some five-and-twenty claimants appeared before the judge of the native law court, and the question to be determined was—had the woman who got hold of the deceased's hand precedence over her who merely tugged at his legs. As there was considerable property left behind counsel were employed by the respective claimants, and it is said that their learned disputations on the respective importance of arms and legs left the unfortunate judge in the dilemma of the man without a leg to stand upon.

The Pittsburgh Sunday Leader quotes: Mr. Martin Karg, Silver Creek, Minn., cured a badly-wounded horse with St. Jacobs Oil.

THE GHOSTS OF TO-DAY.

The Mysterious Warning in the Earl of Airlie's Family.

(London Telegraph.)

Mrs. Ann Day (formerly Gladden), 31 Burgoyne road, S. W., writes questioning the statement of Mr. McLeod that the traditional warning of impending disaster in the Airlie family consists only of the sound of a drum. She says:

"Early in the year 1845 I went to Cortachy Castle in attendance upon Miss Margaret Dalrymple, who was paying a two-days' visit to the Earl and Countess of Airlie. We arrived in the evening, and Miss Dalrymple had only just time to dress for dinner. As she rested for a few minutes on a sofa, however (this she told me some time after we had left the castle), she heard distinctly, as if immediately beneath the floor, the sound of fifes and afterward the beating of a drum. While at dinner she remarked to Lord Airlie, who sat near her, 'What is that strange music you have about the house? You assuredly have an excellent piper.'

"Lord Airlie, without replying, dropped his knife and fork and retired from the dining-room. Later in the evening the place seemed all in confusion, and I learned that Lord Airlie, after leaving the table, went to the library and dined in solitude.

"The next morning, while the family were at breakfast, I was quite alone in Miss Dalrymple's room, and as I stood before the fire I heard, as I thought, a carriage drive up, and stop dead, directly under my feet. Immediately there followed the sound of another carriage driving up and stopping in precisely the same manner. And then, as if following the vehicles, came the tramp, tramp, tramp, of marching soldiers. Then I heard some shrill notes of the fife so distinctly that I looked round instinctively, expecting to see a piper in the room. In another moment I was still more startled by the beating of a drum. About this there was something indescribably disagreeable; it seemed as if the drummer was making his way through the floor. Being a perfect stranger to the place, I thought there might be a coach road and an entrance door to the castle, near the room in which I stood, and that some distinguished guests were arriving or departing. On looking out of the window, however, I found there was no door or coach road near, and not a human being was to be seen. I concluded, therefore, that the sounds must have been echoed from a distance.

"The next morning, before our departure, Lady Airlie came to the door of Miss Dalrymple's room, to give her a £5 note for an orphan school in which she was interested. Neither of us ever saw the Countess again. She was confined of twins at Brighton some months afterward, and died. It was not until Miss Dalrymple, a few days after we left the castle, asked me if I had heard 'the strange music there,' that I disclosed my experience, and then for the first time I learned from her the tradition about the Airlie drummer boy. She told me that she herself had been totally in ignorance of it until her allusion at the dinner-table to the music she had heard elicited from another guest an explanation."

Driving With the Parasol.

The other evening the Hawk-Eye jester was bathing his eyes in cold water, and suspended the operation long enough to remark:

"If a woman can't take her parasol to heaven when she dies, she won't be happy there. She will come back after it."

An impressive quiet followed this dogmatic statement, and the parasols of the court knew some of them were in for it.

"We were driving this afternoon," the aggrieved jester resumed, "and the princess kindly shaded my head with her parasol. It was very kind indeed. It limited my view of the country, at times, to my knees and the dash-board of the wagon. Whenever we met a team, especially if the road was very narrow, the princess lowered her parasol between myself and the passing wagon, so that I turned out by faith, or stood on my head to catch a glimpse of the colliding wheels. When we started down a steep hill she lowered the parasol between me and the horses, and I trusted to the good sense of the animals to keep out of the ditch. When we met any acquaintance to whom I wished to bow, she knocked my hat over my eyes. When she would point my admiring gaze to some exquisitely tinted autumn leaves, she jabbed a projecting parasol rib into my eye. When she turned to speak to any one in the rear seat, she rasped the back of my neck. Oft as the carriage struck a stone or lurched over a rut, she prodded my long-suffering head with vicious little jabs. I drew my head down between my shoulders and sat crouched and bent, but the remorseless parasol still pursued me. I have been pelted and rasped and prodded, and all from a mistaken sense of kindness. A woman's unselfishness and kindness of heart always prompts her to hold her parasol over the man who drives. And if the man who drives is allowed to choose for himself, he will choose sunstroke in preference to the parasol every time. I do not complain, mind you. I merely make a simple statement of plain fact. Any man who has had to drive a pair of horses while some gentle-hearted woman held a parasol over him, knows what I have suffered. And when she holds an umbrella it is infinitely worse. Then the man is utterly and hopelessly extinguished, and the material world is to him only a wild, blank chaos of alpaca and whalebone."

But here her little serene highness closed the debate by deciding that the nose caught it, but the eyes had it, and without appealing from the decision of the chair, the house adjourned.

Glass Eyes That Seem Natural.

"What's the cost of a glass eye?" "From $10 to $15. Perhaps the doctors charge more." "Sometimes they move like a genuine eye, do they not?" "Oh, yes. Surgical operations are performed on the eye more delicately than formerly, when it was deemed necessary to take the eye out entirely. Then the artificial eye was a fixed, glassy, staring object. Now, amputations of portions of the eye can be performed quite often, and the glass eye fitted on the stump, which moves quite naturally. Some people have several glass eyes, with pupils painted in them, which are of different sizes, so as to represent the dilations which occur at different times in the day. Thus a man will have a morning eye, an afternoon eye and a large-pupiled eye to wear of an evening at a party." "What colored eyes are the most sold?" "That depends. In New Orleans almost all are dark eyes. In Chicago and Cincinnati light eyes are more common."—Interview with an oculist.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

To Cure Warts.—Dissolve as much common washing soda as the water will take up; wash the warts with this for a minute or two, and let them dry without wiping. This repeated will gradually destroy the largest wart.

One great preventive of taking cold is to never remain in wet clothes and to use outside wraps that will absorb wet and not allow it to penetrate. Above all to avoid wet feet; also to keep the feet warm, and if a cold has been caught to use mustard and hot water for the feet at once. The foot bath must not be taken higher than the ankles.—[Food and health.

The exciting and stimulating properties of pure oxygen are well known, and every one has felt the invigorating influence of fresh air, yet no practical application has been made of these beneficial properties of a substance so cheap and universal. When the body is weak, the brain fatigued, and the whole system in a state of lassitude, just go into the open air, take a few vigorous inspirations, and the effect will be instantly perceived. The individual trying the experiment will feel invigorated and stimulated, the blood will course with freshness, the lungs will work with increased activity, the whole frame will feel revived, and nature's stimulant will be found the best.

The Hygiene of the Face and Eyes.—It is a mistake to believe that a good complexion depends upon the use of such and such cosmetics. It really depends upon digestion, which itself depends upon our mode of life. Persons who rise early and go to bed regularly at 10, who take plenty of air and exercise, eat with moderation at regular hours, having their meals at intervals long enough for the digestion of one to be thoroughly accomplished before they begin the next—these persons are sure to digest well, and in consequence have clear, healthy complexions, which will require no other cosmetics but plenty of soft water and good toilet soap. The hygiene of the eyes is very simple. For them, as well as for the complexion, good digestion is equally necessary; more so, for no cosmetic could attenuate the yellow tinge which biliousness imparts to them; and, if some myterious pencils can supply the insufficient shadow of rare eyelashes, good health alone can give them that brightness which is their principal beauty. Never read in bed or in a reclining attitude; it provokes a tension of the optic nerve very fatiguing to the eyesight. Bathe your eyes daily in salt water; not salt enough, though, to cause a smarting sensation. Nothing is more strengthening, and we have known several persons, who, after using this simple tonic for a few weeks, had put aside the spectacles they had used for years, and did not resume them, continuing, of course, the oft-repeated daily use of salt water. Never force your eyesight to read or work in insufficient or too broad light. Reading with the sun upon one's book is mortally injurious to the eyes.

Paper Blankets.

Everybody knows that a layer of newspaper over a bed affords as much warmth at night as the ordinary counterpane. Various attempts have been made of late years to turn this to account, but owing to the crackling nature of the paper and the impossibility of securing free ventilation beneath paper coverings the idea has been abandoned again and again. A Manchester (England) firm, are however, credited with having overcome these objections, and have invented a paper blanket which furnishes a perfect ventilation as takes place beneath an ordinary woolen blanket. The new covering is made of two sheets of paper, between which a layer of wadding, chemically prepared, is inserted in such a way that it cannot gather together in lumps, while the edges are strongly whipped, so there is no possibility of a separation of the two pieces taking place. The paper is manufactured from the strongest fiber known, and is softened by a special process until it is free from the objectionable crackling and rustling sound of paper. It is true there is a slight crisp feeling when new, but this soon wears off and the coverlet becomes soft and limp. At the same time the strength is much greater, having regard to the material from which it is manufactured. As far as looks go the new blanket has all the appearance of a woolen one, while the warmth it affords exceeds that possessed by its predecessor when the size and weight of the two are brought into comparison. It is, moreover, much cheaper.

A Rule That Works Both Ways.

"That must be a false rule," says the Interior, "requiring virtue, cleanliness and good temper and conduct in women, while men may go on to any length almost, and society one and all wink, if not blink at our faults. Whatever degrades a woman also degrades a man. Take some of the vices and habits of the day. A man smokes a filthy cigar, or carries about a half an ounce of tobacco in his cheek, and yet expects his wife to preserve a clean mouth and a sweet breath. Again, a young man starts out to spend the evening with his adored Evelina. Should he find her not at home, but in the neighboring saloon, however genteel it might be, that would be his last visit. In his estimation she would have sunk below his level, and yet that young man himself is a daily visitor to that same saloon, and engages in all its exercises."

When Rosa was 5 and Eugene was 3, at bed-time Rosa would hear Eugene say the Lord's prayer. After saying amen he would commence at "Thine is the kingdom," and repeat. Rosa told him a great many times not to say that ever again, but at last she became impatient and said: "Mamma, I never did see such a boy as Eugene is. He is not satisfied with saying his prayer; he always has to backstitch it."

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

(This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.)

A STANDARD REMEDY

IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.

If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languishing on a bed of sickness, rely on Hop Bitters.

Whoever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters.

If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

If you are a man of letters toiling over your midnight work, to restore brain nerve and waste, use Hop B.

Thousands die annually from some form of Kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of Hop Bitters.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco, or narcotics.

Sold by druggists. Send for Circular.

HOP BITTERS MFG CO., Rochester, N. Y. & Toronto, Ont.

HOP BITTERS NEVER FAIL

For Two
Generations

The good and staunch old stand-by, MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, has done more to assuage pain, relieve suffering, and save the lives of men and beasts than all other liniments put together. Why? Because the Mustang penetrates through skin and flesh to the very bone, driving out all pain and soreness and morbid secretions, and restoring the afflicted part to sound and supple health.

The Best Field
FOR EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 200 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON, COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an Acre.

CLIMATE MILD AND HEALTHY.

For pamphlet and maps, descriptive of country, its resources, climate, route of travel, rates and full information, address

A. L. STOKES,
Gen'l Eastern Pass'r Agent,
62 Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Books Make the Best Presents.

WE HAVE A BEAUTIFUL ASSORTMENT OF THE POETS,

Red Line, Full Gilt Edges

AT

WONDERFULLY CHEAP PRICES,

And other books suitable for CHRISTMAS GIFTS. Send for Catalogue.

Cheapest Bookstore in the World,

MANHATTAN BOOK COMPANY,
16 West 14th St., New York.
P. O. BOX 4580.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

M. TISSANDIER is having constructed in France an elongated balloon, to be driven by a small and very light electric motor. The force in the first experiment will be supplied by an electric accumulator, which will develop considerable energy for a brief period.

SATISFACTORY evidence shows that a great fire must have occurred in the out-croppings of a Nova Scotia coal district at a remote time. From the number of annual rings borne by trees growing over the spot, it is estimated that not less than three hundred years have elapsed since the fire was extinguished. But three centuries have not cooled the ashes, and an area of some two acres is known to be now abnormally heated to such a degree that frosts never penetrate far in the severest cold and snow soon melts.

BOTANISTS in the Fontainebleau district of France have noticed a considerable change in the flora of that region in recent times. A number of species have disappeared chiefly on account of the severe winters. The winters of 1564, 1709, 1788 and 1876-80 were disastrous to vegetation, especially in places but little protected by snow. Among the plants which have been frozen out, or nearly so, in Central France, are the maritime pine (the loss of which was a national misfortune), the broom heather, ivy, holly and box. The elder, the oak, the chesnut and the walnut have all seriously suffered. The loss to the Fontainebleau flora in these and other species is replaced to some extent by the appearance of various new species in recent times.

THE average descent of larger rivers, exclusive of cascade regions, is seldom more than twelve inches to the mile, and occasionally does not exceed a third of this amount. From Memphis down, a distance of eight hundred and fifty miles, the Mississippi has a pitch of less than five inches at low water, and above the Missouri, from its source, of only eleven and three-fourths inches. The Missouri in its greatest length of nearly three thousand miles, descends twenty-eight inches to the mile; but from Fort Benton to St. Joseph, over two thousand miles, only eleven and one-half inches; and only nine and one-fourth inches below St. Joseph to the mouth, a length of nearly five hundred miles. The average pitch of the Amazon is a little more than six inches to the mile; of the lower Nile, less than seven; of the lower Ganges, about four. The Rhone is notable for a great pitch of eighty inches per mile from Geneva to Lyons, and thirty-two inches below Lyons to the mouth.

The researches of scientific men have shown that thought is not so rapid as is usually believed, but that every action of the brain requires an appreciable time. Hirsch proved that less time is required to recognize a touch than a sound, and that it took more time to see them than to hear, but the question still remained as to what part of the time was consumed in the act of recognition. This problem was solved by Donders. By means of very ingenious apparatus, he has found that the double act of recognizing a sound and giving a response occupied seventy-five thousandths of a second, of which forty thousandths were required for the simple act of recognition, leaving thirty-five thousandths for the act of volition. One twenty-fifth of a second was occupied in judging which of the irritants was acting upon the same sense; but a slightly longer time was necessary to determine the priority of signals sent by different senses, as those of seeing and hearing. The described results were obtained from a man of middle age, the young were somewhat quicker; but the average of many experiments showed that the time required for a simple thought is never less than the fortieth of a second. The mind, therefore, at its greatest activity, can perform not more than twenty-four hundred simple acts per minute—not a very great speed when it is considered how many of these "simple acts" must be combined to form any process of reasoning or continued thought.

A Selfish General.

One night in the spring of '62, General Richardson, who then commanded a brigade, took it into his head to inspect the picket line. Coming upon a reserved picket of about thirty men under command of a captain of the Second Michigan Infantry, the General saw fit to interrogate as follows:

"Captain, in case of an alarm from the advance pickets, what would you do?"

"Send off a reinforcement at once."

"And if the firing continued?"

"I should move up with the remainder of my force."

"And suppose a whole company of the enemy should press forward?"

"We'd whip them."

"But if it was a regiment?"

"I'd form a line of battle and check them until I sent back and got orders to charge and capture the whole lot."

"Well, suppose a brigade should move down on you in battle line?"

"I'd order a charge, split the column in two, and whip both halves in detail."

At midnight the brave captain was relieved from further duty on picket. He was very indignant, and considerably puzzled, but after thinking it over for a while, he said to a brother officer:

"Say, I've struck it! Old Rich was afraid my company might gobble the whole Confederate army and throw him out of a summer's job! If that ain't selfishness, then I'd like to know what is?"

A King's Daughter Who Teaches School.

Among the few persons that we met was the daughter of Joseph Bonaparte, ex-King of Spain. Her mother was Mme. Dellafolie, who was for many years the owner and occupant of a charming residence on a bend of the Indian river, near Evans' Mills, a village ten miles north of Watertown, and who, as tradition says, while Bonaparte was a resident in that section of New York State, traveled to Europe with him as the wife of his private secretary. The daughter, Caroline, who is a lady of elegant accomplishments and refinement, is the wife of Howell Benton. I was told that the Bentons are now residents of Watertown, and that Mrs. Benton, the daughter of a King, devotes her time to teaching a class of young ladies French, drawing and music, for which her skill and accomplishments eminently qualify her.—Watertown (N. Y.) Letter.

The Limit of Human Life.

In the Revue Scientifique M. de Solaville considers the question debated by physiologists so much, "Can man reach and pass the age of one hundred years?" His article is republished in the Popular Science Monthly, and it presents an interesting array of opinions and statistics. Buffon, the first man in France to raise the inquiry as to the limit of human life, argued that as man becomes an adult at 16 he ought to live to be six times that age, that is 96. Heusler, the German, thought that a year previous to the age of Abraham was equal to but three months of our time, among the people of the East, but even he declared that "man kills himself rather than dies." Dr. Hufferand and other German physiologists held that man does not become an adult until 25, and that he ought to live to be eight times that age, or 200. Dr. Gardner, an English physiologist, believed that a century is nearly the limit of human life.

As to the greatest age attained by man in modern times there is a conflict of opinion, Sir George Cornewall Lewis believing that the existence of a centenarian has not been demonstrated. M. de Solaville, however, furnished statistics which rebuke such skepticism. He says Hippocrates, father of medicine, lived to be 90. Terentia, the divorced wife of Cicero, passed 110, although her life was vexed by four successive husbands, and in almost all countries there are many instances in which men and women have survived a century, a few having lived almost two hundred years. As to the means of attaining the greatest possible longevity various suggestions are given, the fact being noted that centenarians have almost invariably been temperate, regular in the use of plain food, accustomed to much walking and devoted to the dictum of "early to bed and early to rise."

A summary of such advice is contained in the following quotation from Hoffman, the wise and witty German physiologist: "Avoid excess of everything, respect old habits, even bad ones, breathe a pure air, adapt your food to your temperament, shun medicines and doctors, keep a quiet conscience, a gay heart and a contented mind." M. de Solaville finds that more people pass sixty years of age in France than in any other country, but the number of French centenarians is not increasing. What is better, however, is the fact that the average duration of human life is increasing in that country. As physiological laws come to be better understood, the average duration of life will be increased throughout the world. For example, the irregular habits of most New Yorkers may not permit us to cherish the hope of producing many centenarians, but the fact that the great mass of the American people are becoming more familiar with and more obedient to the laws of health justifies the expectation that the average duration of life will steadily increase in the United States.

Youthful Train Robber.

A lightning express was booming along at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Every car was full, many standing in the aisle with that meekness and patience only seen on an American railroad, to accommodate the fellow who wants four seats all to himself.

The lamps blazed fitfully over the passengers' dusters, which seemed to fit fully as well as traveling dusters usually do.

The conductor had passed through (which was more than he could allow anyone else to do without the requisite pass,) punching people into wakefulness in order to that he might punch their tickets.

The train boy had filled the passengers' laps with books, to keep them from bouncing in their seats while going over rough places.

The brakeman had put his head in and shouted: "The next stopping place is —!" the name of the station being lost in the slamming of the door.

The boy who is always dry had made his fifty-second pilgrimage to the water tank.

And the woman who wants air had just torn off her last remaining finger nail in trying to get her window up.

This was on a railroad in the State of Arkansas.

Suddenly the car door opens.

A youthful figure appears, holding something in his hand upon which the light glitters. He present it in a significant manner and cries:

"Now, gentlemen, your money—"

Fifty men turn pale and cry: "Don't shoot."

Twenty females scream with one voice and some faint.

There is a hasty thrusting of watches and pocketbooks beneath cushions and into boots.

Strong men fight for a place under the seats where they can secret themselves.

"Gentlemen," again cries the boyish voice, rising high and clear above the screams of the women and din of the train (gasps for mercy from some of the men,) "let me sell you some of this excellent tropical fruit," and he extends in his dexter hand—a banana!

It was the train boy, pursuing his useful and harmless vocation.—Cincinnati Saturday Night.

A Dinner in Coaching Days.

"The coach stops half an hour, gentlemen; dinner quite ready!"

'Tis a delightful sound, and what a dinner! What a profusion of substantial delicacies! What mighty and iris-tinted rounds of beef! What vast and marble-veined ribs! What gelatinous veal pies! What colossal hams! and how invigorating is the smell of those various and variegated pickles! Then the bustle emulating the plenty; the ringing of bells, the clash of thoroughfare, the summoning of ubiquitous waiters, and the all-prevading feeling of omnipotence, from the guests, who order what they please, to the landlord, who can produce and execute everything they can desire. 'Tis a wondrous sight. Why should a man go and see the pyramids and cross the desert, when he has not traveled in a coach?

A CERTAIN amount of opposition is a great help to man. Kites rise against and not with the wind. Even a head-wind is better than none. No man ever worked his passage anywhere in a dead calm Brief Interview With a Man Who Attended the Show.

A representative of the Indianapolis News, found a gentleman who had been to the show, and was granted an interview, of which rare chance the reporter was not slow to avail himself. The first question submitted was:

"Do you think it wrong to attend shows?"

"I do, my boy; it is undoubtedly very wrong."

"Then why did you go?"

The witness demurred, and the demurrer was sustained, the court holding that the show business would be ruined if the public were compelled to categorically answer why it went.

Without attempting to lead the witness, the reporter insinuated that perhaps the animals were an attraction.

"What's the use of lion?" was the ambiguous answer.

"Then you think that the idea of the wild animals being the attraction is a delusion?"

"Yes, my son; a great phantasm—elephantism, in fact."

"Hath music charms for thee?"

"Aye, my cherub, my bosom swells when the melody rolls over the arena, but I do not think it is right to beat the drumedary."

"What animal do you regard as the most graceful?"

"The camel, oh, pard!"

Here the faithful scribe seated himself in order to take a reckoning of his bearings, his temperature, respirations, etc., being bulletined as sec. 20, town 16, range 7, west, containing forty-two acres, more or less, which was an improvement over the same hour yesterday.

"But really," persisted the young man, "do you not think a man may attend a show and not compromise his character?"

"It is entirely owing to what prompted the yak," was the slow reply. Whereupon he of the pencil apparently fell over the guy rope of the centre-pole. Gathering himself together again, the reporter gallantly returned to the charge.

"How many people use the menagerie as a cloak to steal into the main tent?"

"Snakes to impossible to say, my friend."

A glass of pink lemonade was administered, the customary milk and rum not being on hand, and the patient revived enough to inquire what animal he regarded as the most useless and despicable, and was seized with a rigor when he heard the reply:

"The wild ass of ta-ta-ry."

"Are you willing to qualify to all of this?"

"Witness my hand and seal," he said, holding up one and pointing to the other.

The news-gatherer was growing confused and discouraged, when the band struck up and the gentleman disappeared in the pavilion, simply remarking that if any one inquired for him to tell them that he is in-tent on business.

A Testament Reviser's Opinion.

The eminent author, Prof. A. C. Kendrick, D. D., LL. D., who is professor of Hebrew, Latin and Greek in the University of Rochester, and was one of the revisers of the New Testament, in general conversation with a number of gentlemen, a short time since, said: "I have received from the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure very marked benefit, and I can most cordially recommend it to others."

Fashionable People.

There is this remarkable circumstance to be noted in everything associated with my Lady Deadlock as one of a class—as one of the leaders and representatives of her little world. She supposes herself to be an inscrutable Being, quite out of the reach of ordinary mortals, seeing herself in her glass, where indeed she looks so. Yet every dim little star revolving about her, from her maid to the manager of the Italian opera, knows her weaknesses, prejudices, follies, haughtinesses and caprices, and lives upon as accurate a calculation and as nice a measure of her moral nature as her dressmaker takes of her physical proportions. There are deferential people, in a dozen callings, whom my Lady suspects of nothing but prostration before her, who can tell you how to manage her as if she were a baby; who do nothing but nurse her all their lives; who, humbly affecting to follow with profound subservience, lead her and her whole troop after them; who, in hooking one, hook all and bear them off. "If you want to address our people, sir," say Blaze and Sparkle, the jewelers—meaning by our people Lady Dedlock and the rest—"you must remember that you are not dealing with the general public; you must hit our people in their weakest place, and their weakest place is such a place." "To make this article go down, gentlemen," say Sheen and Gloss, the mercers, to their friends the manufacturers, "you must come to us, because we know where to have the fashionable people, and we can make it fashionable." "If you want to get this print upon the tables of my high connection, sir," says Mr. Sladdery, the librarian, "or if you want to get this dwarf or giant into the houses of my connection, sir, or if you want to secure to this entertainment the patronage of my high connection, sir, you must leave it, if you please, to me; for I have been accustomed to study the leaders of my high connection, sir; and I may tell you, without vanity, that I can turn them around my finger," in which Mr. Sladdery, who is an honest man, does not exaggerate at all.—Chas. Dickens.

Women and Falsehood.

It is one of the worst misfortunes of women that falsehood is not, as a rule, considered a dishonor among them. To call a man a liar is like calling him a coward—an offense to the very soul and heart of his manhood, the very integrity of his being. To call a woman deceitful, a romancer, or falsifier, is not to honor her, certainly, but not to dishonor her as it would dishonor her husband or brother. She is privileged to wear two faces under one hood, because nothing better is expected from her, and society condemns her sin as the sin of weakness, which she is expected to commit, just as you expect a frayed rope to break.—Exchange.

"I MOVE," said a delegate in a Virginia convention, "that our Chairman take a dose of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; he is so hoarse that I cannot understand him." That gentleman had no doubt tried this wonderful medicine.

SNAKES AS LIFE DESTROYERS.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredible. Yet Consumption, which is as wily and fatal as the deadliest Indian reptile, is winding its coils around thousands of people, while the victims are unconscious of its presence. Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" must be used to cleanse the blood of the scrofulous impurities, for tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy for all forms of scrofulous disease, or King's evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever sores, scrofulous sore eyes, as well as for other blood and skin diseases. By druggists.

Bacon and Hopefulness.

Men who despair of mankind and of the future are, happily, seldom successful in persuading others to accept their advice or their systems. There is a healthy instinct in man which leads him to believe that the future will be better than the past, and that the labors of the present generation will not be without their effect in improving the condition of the next. No man was ever inspired with this feeling more strongly than Bacon. He stood like a prophet, on the verge of the promised land, bidding men leave without regret the desert that was behind them, and enter with joy and hopefulness on the rich inheritance that was spread out before them.

TAKEN OUT OF BED.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have to thank you for the great relief received from your "Favorite Prescription." My sickness had lasted seven years, one of which I was in bed. After taking one bottle I was able to be about the house. Respectfully,

AMANDA K. ENNIS, Fulton, Mich.

WHAT is that which has three feet but no legs, is all body but no limbs, has no toes on the feet, no head, moves a great deal but never uses its feet for that purpose, has one foot at each end and one in the center of the body; never walks out, but goes with one foot where the head might be, dragging the other foot behind? Answer—A yardstick.

FITS, FITS, FITS,

successfully treated by World's Dispensary Medical Association. Address, with stamp for pamphlet, Buffalo, N. Y.

A VERY corpulent man passing through one of the meat markets was assailed with the usual cries: "Buy, buy—what d'ye buy, sir?" when an arch fellow stepped up to the man of fat, and said: "If you do not want anything, sir, only say you buy your meat of me, and my fortune will be made."

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half-bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y. See other column.—American Rural Home.

IT is understood that the six Governors of New England are all total abstainers.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send their Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to any person afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing complete restoration of vigor and manhood.

Address as above without delay.

N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

It Has No Equal.

Piso's Cure for Consumption has been on the market for many years, and as a cure for coughs, colds and consumption has not been equaled by any other medicine.

L. A. Gardner, Cedar Springs, Mich., reports: "I am selling very much of your Piso's Cure, and it gives excellent satisfaction."

A. L. Hopwood, of Vinton, Iowa, says, "Your medicine can't be beat."

DR. WINCHELL'S Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

BALD-HEADED men are informed that there is but one avenue of escape from their affliction, and that is CARBOLINE, a deodorized extract of petroleum, the great hair renewer, which, being recently improved, is more efficacious than ever, and is absolutely faultless.

FOR Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

PURE COD LIVER OIL made from selected livers, on the seashore, by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It is absolutely pure and sweet. Patients who have once taken it prefer it to all others. Physicians have decided it superior to any of the other oils in market.

FOR Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

A BEATTY'S PIANOFORTES.—Magnificent holiday presents; square grand pianofortes, four very handsome round corners, rosewood cases, three unisons, Beatty's matchless iron frames, stool, book, cover, boxes, $221.75 to $297.50; catalogue prices, $800 to $1000; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded, after one year's use; Upright Pianofortes, $125 to $255; catalogue prices $500 to $800; standard pianofortes of the universe, as thousands testify; write for mammoth list of testimonials. Beatty's Cabinet ORGANS, cathedral, church, chapel, parlor, $30 upward. Visitors welcome; free carriage meets passengers; illustrated catalogue (holiday edition) free. Address or call upon DANIEL F. BEATTY, Washington, New Jersey.

HOW TO SECURE HEALTH.

It is strange any one will suffer from derangements brought on by impure blood, when SCOVILL'S SARSAPARILLA AND STILLINGIA, or BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, will restore health to the physical organization. It is a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and the BEST BLOOD PURIFIER ever discovered, curing Scrofula, Syphilitic disorders, Weakness of the Kidneys, Erysipelas, Malaria, Nervous disorders, Debility, Bilious complaints, and Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Skin, etc.

BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA cures pain in man and beast.

DR. ROGER'S WORM SYRUP instantly destroys WORMS.

DR. BULL'S
COUGH SYRUP

At Yorktown.

The Yorktown celebration recalls the memory of old "Uncle Nelse" a colored veteran who used to act as guide over the field at Yorktown "befo' de wah." He had heard the story of the surrender so often, and talked over it so much, that early in life he became persuaded that he was really there and saw the whole affair, and a dialogue with a party of visitors would run in this wise:

"So, you're quite certain, uncle, that you were here and saw it all?"

"O, sartin fo' shuah, massa."

"Is it possible! Well, now, tell us all about it."

"Well, you see, Massa Lawd Cawnwallis he stood right dah, and Massa Gineral Washington he stood right heah. Jes' so soon ez Massa Lawd Cawnwallis seen Massa Gineral Washington, he pulled off his hat, and he sez, sez he:

"'Good-mawnin', Massa Gineral Washington.'

"'Who is you?' sed Massa Gineral Washington, looking very cross.

"'Why, I'se Lawd Cawnwallis, sah,' sez he, a-bowin' and a-scrapin.'

"'Is ye, ye son-of-a-gun!' sez Massa Gineral Washington; and pullin' out his sword he chopt his head clean off."—Toledo Blade.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wilder, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much and have had the doctors visiting us so often."

"Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy. I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctors' bills. Three dollars' worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time."

"Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

AN EXCHANGE speaks of "a male train." The sex of trains has always been a matter of some doubt; but a train should not be called a male because it smokes and "choos."

DR. HUNTER, 103 State st., Chicago, treats successfully Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address TRUE & Co., Augusta, Me.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest-Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. NATIONAL PUBLISHING Co., Chicago, Ill.

YOUNG MEN If you would learn Telegraphy in four months, and be certain of a situation, address VALENTINE BROS., Janesville, Wis.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till Cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

"LIGHT IN DARK PLACES"—Charming Holiday Story, Illustrated, New; handsome binding; price, $1.25. Send order to FOWLER & WELLS, New York.

WANTED—Agents everywhere to sell the best Puzzle since the "15." Just the thing for the holidays. Send for circulars. Sample, 15c. ACME PUZZLE Co., P.O. Box 2033, New York, & P.O. Box 2260, Boston, Mass.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
Elocutionist Annual, No. 9, comprising latest and best productions of most popular writers. Paper, 35c.; cloth gilt, special holiday edition, $1.25. National School of Elocution & Oratory, 1416 & 1418 Chestnut St., Philad'a.

STANDARD AMERICAN WATCHES.
all styles, Gold, Silver and Nickle, Chains, &c., sent by mail or C. O. D. to be examined. Write for Catalogue to STANDARD AMERICAN WATCH CO., PITTSBURGH, PA.

IOWA Rail Road LAND
Over Half Million Acres
For Sale by the Iowa R. R. Land Co.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

If you enjoy a laugh heartily
Then read our SCIENCE IN STORIES
Of Sammy Tubbs and his Spousie,
The Box Doctor & Trick Monkey;
The author, E. B. Foote, M. D.
Illustrated contents free.
But if you're fond of lots o' fun,
Just buy the Polyopticon;
For Magic Lanterns are outdone.
The Poly. is a picture-gun
For photographs of any one.
MURRAY HILL PUB. CO.,
Box 788, New York City.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE PICTORIAL
HISTORY OF THE WORLD
Embracing full and authentic accounts of every nation of ancient and modern times, and including a history of the rise and fall of the Greek and Roman Empires, the middle ages, the crusades, the feudal system, the reformation, the discovery and settlement of the New World, etc., etc.
It contains 672 fine historical engravings, and is the most complete History of the World ever published. Send for specimen pages and extra terms to Agents.
Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING Co., Chicago, Ill.

HOUSEHOLD ACCIDENTS.

The following suggestions are not designed to induce the public to attempt the duties of the regular surgeon, but, merely to place the readers of these pages in possession of a means of treatment of the minor accidents occurring daily in the household, and which, while not dangerous in themselves, are exceedingly annoying. Burns, bruises, scalds, sprains, etc., are principal among these troublesome and annoying occurences, and demand immediate treatment with the best means at hand. In the kitchen, the dining-hall, the nursery and the sitting-room they are liable to happen, and, instead of fear and alarm at the sight of the cut or mashed finger, or bruised or burned arm, or scalded surface, a cool and quiet manner should be assumed, and after washing away the blood, (if required), the injured parts should be dressed with that most valuable remedy—ST. JACOBS OIL. Its surprisingly quick relief, its cleansing properties, its tendency to quickly remove all inflammation, and its wonderful efficacy in the above as well as in all muscular and other pains, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, stiffness of the joints, etc.—these render ST. JACOBS OIL pre-eminently the best external remedy now before the people: which claim is fully substantiated by the strongest kind of testimony from all classes of people. The value of human life is so supremely important that anything that tends to its prolongation is entitled to the highest consideration. Charles Nelson, Esq., proprietor Nelson House, Port Huron, Mich., says: "I suffered so with rheumatism that my arm withered, and physicians could not help me. I was in despair of my life, when some one advised me to try ST. JACOBS OIL. I did so, and, as if by magic, I was instantly relieved, and by the continued use of the Oil entirely cured. I thank heaven for having used this wonderful remedy, for it saved my life. It also cured my wife."

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

NEW RICH BLOOD!
Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sold everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

FRAZER
AXLE GREASE.
Best in the World. Get the genuine. Every package has our Trade-mark and is marked Frazer's. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

FLORIDA! Atlantic and Gulf Coast Canal and Okeechobee Land Co. of Fla.
ISSUE OF 50,000 SHARES OF $10 EACH AT PAR.
With bonus of 40 acres for each 10 shares, from choice lands of the "Disston purchase."
OFFICES—Third and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia; 115 Broadway, N. Y., Rooms 111-113.
Detailed prospectus with descriptive maps mailed free to applicants.

PRICE $20. NO SUIT! NO PAY!
This N. Y. Singer Sewing Machine is the best ever made—sews fast, runs easy, very handsome, quiet, durable, simple, convenient, and powerful. Warranted 5 years. Sent anywhere on a free trial. Pay if pleased. [illegible] of this model machine have been sold. Ask for circulars and testimonials. Low prices to clubs. [illegible]

PENSIONS!
ARE PAID every soldier disabled by accident or otherwise. A WOUND of any kind, loss of finger, toe or eye, RUPTURE, if but slight, disease of Lungs or Varicose Veins give a pension. Under new law thousands are entitled to an increase of pension. Widows, orphans and dependent fathers or mothers of soldiers get a pension. Send 2 stamps for copy Pension and Bounty Acts. Address,
P. H. Fitzgerald & Co., Claim Agents, Indianapolis, Ind. Refer to 100, Banking Co. and Pres't Central Bank, both of Indianapolis.

This Riding Saw Machine cuts off a 2 foot log in 2 minutes, and warranted the best and cheapest that is made. We will not be undersold if we know it. We want the address of every one who intends to cut logs, wood or ties. The person sending us such names can buy our machine at wholesale price. Circular free. United States Manf'g Co., Washington, D. C.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY. The "original and only" Prof. MARTINEZ the [illegible] [illegible] Address Prof. L. Martinez, 10 [illegible] Boston, Mass.

O. N. U. No. 52

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

DR. HARTER'S
Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.
GENTLEMEN:—I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your IRON TONIC, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. The old energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit.
J. P. WATSON, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.
The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary.
IRON TONIC.
MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., NO. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE.
THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.,
Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the last YEAR than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, twenty years since; and are now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE and ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular MEDIUM and SMALLER STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $44, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than 100 styles of Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which will be useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

PETROLEUM JELLY
Sold by All Druggists.
Used and approved by the leading PHYSICIANS of EUROPE and AMERICA.
The most Valuable Family Remedy known.
VASELINE
For the Treatment of WOUNDS, BURNS, SORES, CUTS, CHILBLAINS, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, HEMORRHOIDS, Etc. Also for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Croup and Diphtheria, etc.
Try them. 25 and 50 cent sizes of all our goods.
The Toilet Articles from pure Vaseline—such as Pomade Vaseline, Vaseline Cold Cream, Vaseline Camphor Ice, Vaseline Toilet Soaps, are superior to any similar ones.
VASELINE CONFECTIONS.
[illegible] Vaseline internally.
GRAND MEDAL AT THE PHILADELPHIA EXPOSITION.
SILVER MEDAL AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION.
CHESEBROUGH MANUFACTURING CO., N. Y.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., DEC 29, 1881

There is to be a statue to the memory of Daniel Webster erected in the city of Washington.

There has been a terrible storm on the coast of China. The sea was forced over the land several miles, and a number of towns and villages submerged. Several thousand of the inhabitants perished.

The success of the democratic plan of using silver money in this country, has induced England to agitate for the same thing. Great mass meetings are now being held for that purpose. An officer of the bank of England presided at one of them.

They are having trouble in Chicago over the butterine question. This is a sort of butter made by mixing pure butter with fresh leaf lard. It is said to be a good substitute for the real article, but dealers in the genuine thing are fighting it.

The custom duties received at Cincinnati during the year just past, amounts to more than eleven hundred thousand dollars. This seems all the more remarkable, as it is an inland town. The cost of collecting this sum was about twenty-four thousand dollars.

The annual report of the earnings of the Lake Shore road for the year just past, is nearly eighteen millions, being a decrease from last year's earnings of about one and a half millions. This decrease is due, not to a decrease of work, but to the decrease in freight rates, caused by the verious railroad quarrels of the last year.

A noted phrenologist, Clark Mills, has taken a cast of Guiteau's head. He finds the organs on one side much larger than those on the other, and says that there is greater difference in the organs on the two sides, than he ever noticed before. This strange difference, he thinks, will account for the badly balanced mind of the great republican political boss.

An order was recently issued by the department of the Interior at Washington, under which about five thousand acres of marsh lands, lying near Toledo, were sold. These lands still belonged to the general government and had been lying waste on account of their worthlessness. It is believed they can be drained and made useful.

The present open winter is a favorable one to the sufferers by the great Michigan fires. Still it is estimated that at least two hundred thousand dollars will be needed to get them safely through the winter. This will be needed partly for feed for stock and partly for seed of all kinds for planting next spring. A great deal of sickness is also prevailing in the burned district.

James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald, and who is now in Europe, has given $6,000 toward the expense of bringing the crew of the Jeannette, from the mouth of the Lena river, to the Russian settlements, and thence home to the United States. It is thought they will not reach home before next April, as the distance to be traveled is great, and nearly all of the first four thousand miles must be made by means of sledges drawn by dogs, and by other modes equally slow.

The lost exploring vessel, Jeannette, has been heard from. She was crushed in the ice in the Artic ocean, north of Siberia. The crew left the vessel in three boats, two of which have reached land near the mouth of the Lena river, and the other has not been heard from. One boat's crew has reached the settlements, and the men are well cared for. The persons in the other boat that came to land, have not yet been reached by the parties sent out to rescue them. When found, they will be taken to Yakutsk, in Siberia, and then sent home. The Russian government is doing all in its power to assist the unfortunate men.

Some one who is good at figures has been looking up the national debts of the leading nations of the world. According to his statement, France heads the list, with a debt of over three thousand eight hundred millions; Great Brittain, three thousand seven hundred millions; Russia, three thousand three hundred millions; Spain, two thousand five hundred millions; Italy about the same as Spain, and the United States, sixth in the list, with a debt of two thousand one hundred and seventy millions. Austria and Turkey come next in the list, while the great German empire is next to the bottom, having a debt of only forty-nine millions as a charge upon the empire proper. Still it must be understood that this good showing for Germany does not include the separate debts of the several states and other divisions that compose the empire. These would, if taken collectively, make a grand total that would place the fatherland about on an equality with other countries in the matter of a "national blessing."

The wife of the new attorney general, Brewster, is a descendant of Benjamin Franklin. Her father was Robert J. Walker, Polk's secretary of the treasury.

The tariff question is likely to be made a prominent one during the present session of congress. Even Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, the leader of the high tariff party, thinks the present law should be revised.

At a church in London last Sunday, a thief was caught in the act of picking pockets during christmas services. He raised a cry of fire in order to escape, and a panic ensued. About forty persons were trampled to death in trying to escape.

Guiteau's disgusting trial still goes on. He says he had a good time on Christmas, with plenty to eat, and plenty of fruits, flowers and lady visitors. It is to be hoped that this warm christmas will give him a foretaste of several warmer ones yet to come.

Our government is having some trouble about Blaine's instructions to our minister in Peru. Several speculators in this country have been trying to get possession of a controlling interest in the guano deposits of Peru, and in its great saltpeter mines, and are asking our government to keep Chili from getting from Peru the territory in which these deposits are. As the quarrel and the war between Chila and Peru do not concern us, it is not likely we will care to get involved in their troubles.

The Chicago Times has the following additional weather item in its Saturday issue: "Like ourselves, the English appear to be having an unusually mild season. In some parts of the isle of Wight, fine raspberries have been gathered in the open fields during the present month, strawberries are to be found in comparative abundance, and at Shanklin, peas are to be seen in bloom and in pod. The valleys are full of spring flowers, including violets and primroses, and the summer flowers are still blooming, and to all appearance, will retain their verdure until the coming summer without undergoing the usual autumnal decay."

"One farmer near Cazenovia, N. Y., has fifty trees tapped, and is making maple sirup and sugar at a lively rate. And in that same vicinity the buds are bursting, the honeysuckles have new leaves an inch long, and the hyacinths are well on the way to blossom."

Cedar Creek.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, met at their residence Christmas eve., and had a very pleasant meeting. Friends and relatives were present from Ionia county Michigan, as well as from Petoskey and Harbor Springs in that state. Roast turkey and other good things graced the table, and a very enjoyable evening was passed. Mrs. Bell has been in ill health for a long time, but is now getting better, and her many friends look forward hopefully to her speedy recovery.

John Harvey.

St. Joe Items.

Mrs. Wm. Leighty is visiting at Mason, Michigan.

J. D. Leighty and wife returned Saturday evening from their southern trip.

Geo. Headley, of Newville, was in town Saturday. Geo. is talking seriously of becoming a citizen of our little burg.

W. B. McClaran paid his respects to one of Spencerville's fair ones, Saturday night.

The worst abused man in St. Joe, is Bill Bleaks, and all on account of taking unto himself a better half.

One of our saloon keepers is in hot water, the grand jury paid him their respects.

G. W. and B. A. Woodcox were in Ft. Wayne, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Jerry Andrews informs us that he settled the dificulty between himself and one of Auburn's fruit men (or boy) by taking one-half what was due him, simply because he could not help it. The aforesaid fruit man (or boy) pleading infancy.

L. S. Saylor has purchased and moved into the Al. Bair property.

Nelson Ulm has purchased the old school house, and will remodel it into a residence.

A few of the many friends of Aunt Tolly Woodcox assembled at her residence, near Newville, on Monday, Dec. 26, to celebrate her 68 birth day. Among the useful presents was a spring bed bottom. The lady is one of the old pioneers of DeKalb county. Having located here in 1836 on the farm now owned by C. C. Walters, then an unbroken wilderness.

A big thing in the shape of a scandal, may be looked for soon, not a thousand miles from St. Joe, unless the parties thereto leave off their evil doings. They are known, and the affair will be aired if there is any more occasion.

S. U. Tarney has beef, pork, meat, mutton, sausage, bologna, headcheese, mince meat, turkeys, ducks, chickens, geese, fish, smoked ham, bacon, pickled pork and every thing you wan

Waterloo.

Reuben Loutzenheiser is off on a visit this week.

Mrs. Ella Grate, of Sedan, was in town Tuesday.

Harry Fisher come up from Toledo to spend the holidays.

J. D. Kelley and Freeman Kelley were on our streets, Monday.

Ed. Blattner was home Sunday, to pass Christmas with his family.

Mrs. David McEnterfer, of Angola, is visiting friends in town this week.

Mrs. Ed. Taylor who has been sick for a number of months, is worse this week.

Peter Fisher is taking things easy this winter. He is now settling up his old accounts.

Miss Rose Blair spent last week in Auburn, visiting Mrs. J. A. Barns and other friends.

Mrs. Gilla Bower, of Kendallville, is visiting with the family of B. F. Kennedy this week.

H. K. Leas is making some more needed improvements on his residence on Center street.

Billy Fisher was on the streets Monday. His health is somewhat improved, but he is still feeble.

Doc. Kelley, of Syracuse, won two games of seven-up, at his last visit here. Doc's luck must be turning.

Mary Homer and Lilly Shoner left Monday, for Holgate, O., to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

John Seiler, of Fairfield township, took charge of the singing at the evangelical church Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, of Butler, spent Christmas with Mrs. Snyder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller.

Charlie Lacy is at home from school at Oberlin, for the purpose of spending the holidays with his parents.

The soldiers' oyster supper Tuesday evening, at Haines' hall, was quite a success, considering the stormy weather.

Sam Beck is still in the poultry trade, although the warm weather has forced him to be cautious about overdoing it.

Judge McClellan was at Ann Arbor, over Sunday, with his family, returning on Monday to be ready for work at court.

Stella Shull and Ida McEnterfer are spending the holidays in Toledo with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Elkiah Zerkie.

Mr. T. A. Ward and family, of Detroit, Mich., are spending the holidays with Mrs. Ward's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sol. Stough.

Mrs. Thomas Segner who has been so long confined to her room, is so much improved, that she was able to attend church last Sabbath.

Hon. L. D. Britton came down on No. 4, on the Lake Shore road Monday, and went south to take the B. & O. east to visit friends in Ohio.

Postmaster, J. M. Kinsey, is billed to lead the music at the reunion of the old 44th, at Lagrange, January 3, 1882. So say the Lagrange papers.

Our venerable friend, Jacob Garrison, is a representative of Revolutionary times, as one of his uncles was killed at the battle of Long Island.

L. A. Henning will soon move to Columbia City, where he expects to go into business. We understand he will start a first-class meat market there.

Mrs. W. S. Best, of Minneapolis, Minn., is lying quite ill with lung fever, at her sister's, Mrs. Jas. I. Best. At latest accounts, she was improving.

Isaac Speer has been appointed administrator of the estate of his father-in-law, Mr. Coats, who died recently at his home in Troy township, a few miles northeast of Butler.

J. G. Brown is spending the winter at home, but expects to return to his work on the Wabash road in the spring. The train he had under his charge was taken off during the winter.

Will Fisher has been at home a few days for the holidays. The show business seems to agree with him, as he is looking well. He goes this week to Detroit, where he has an engagement in a theater there. He expects to spend the greater part of the winter in filling engagements in theaters in different leading cities of the west.

Gillett and Peterman have purchased the meat market of Samuel Edge, and removed their material into that building. They will carry on a butcher shop in connection with the poultry business.

John Clark is about to engage in the sale of the popular gate, known as the "Ohio Farm Gate." It was on exhibition at the fair last fall, and attracted a great deal of attention. We believe he will do well.

The Willis families and Dickinson families had a nice family christmas tree at the residence of F. W. Willis, Monday evening. It was a very pleasant reunion and many were the happy receipients of suitable gifts.

Our town was literally jammed full last Saturday. It seemed like a show day. Everybody was here with his family, and trade was lively. Holiday goods were especially in demand. Boyer & Campbell's, Willis' book store and Bassett & Maxson's jewelry store were crowded nearly to suffocation all day. Trade in this line never was better, and these firms are no doubt wishing for "many happy returns" of the day.

Jacob Garrison was in town Saturday. He has sad news from his relatives in Montcalm county, Michigan. Two of the children of John Evans were burned to death last Wednesday, at Sheridan, in that county. They were great grand children of Mr. Garrison, and one was about three years of age, the other a mere infant. Mr. Garrison's daughter, who is at present keeping house for him, started for Michigan as soon as the sad news reached here.

The Waterloo glee club are billed for an entertainment at Haines' hall, Friday evening, Dec. 30. The company composed of Misses Carrie and Jessie Espy, Miss Rallie Crane, Miss Tillie Williamson and Miss Lillie Spencer, Wm. Dickinson, O. W. Shull, S. A. Till and Frank Long. Miss Lydia North is organist. The programme is a fine one, and we hope to see the entertainment well patronized. It has been our experience that home talent often furnishes better entertainments than those given by traveling companies at double the price.

Auburn Fruit House.

An opportunity for all at Frank A. Hoff's. There's where you find it! We are now giving our customers great bargains on all of our goods, at the lowest bottom prices, during the holidays. Each one turn out and secure his purchases. We are having in stock a large and well selected variety of all holiday goods, as vases of every style, cups and saucers, mustache-cups, toilet sets, wine sets, china tea sets, toy sets, animals, dolls etc. Also a large stock of fine lamps, all complete, fancy glassware suitable for holiday presents. Candy and candy toys in every shape, and very low in price. The very best mixed candies, sold lower than elsewhere. We are the leading grocers in the county, and do not want to be undersold. Yellow C. sugar, 8 cents per pound; extra white C. sugar, 9 cents per pound; good choice green coffee 15 cents per pound. This is the best coffee ever sold for that price, and every one should secure a special bargain. Tobaccos we are selling cheap, and every one knows it. We are keeping the largest and best assortment of all kinds, to suit every one, and at prices which can't be beat. The best plug from 50 to 65 cts per pound. Fine cuts are sold lower than elsewhere as we secured a large quantity before the advance on tobacco was made. We are selling at old prices, a No. 1 choice fine-cut at 50 cents per pound. Pure and choice teas can't be bought at any other place less than of us. Syrups are strictly pure and very low. Queensware and glassware, of these goods we have a full stock, well selected and low in price to defy any competition. Come in and satisfy yourself. Notions and dry goods, we are selling lower than ever. Also we keep a good supply of tinware, and in fact anything that can be found in any well arranged supply store. Come and see us and convince yourself. Entrance on Seventh or Eight streets, Auburn, Ind.

Frank A. Hoff.

—One chance left to make your friends happy. You that have made presents can make more, and you that have made none, should not rest until you have made some one happy, with a present of some value. You can yet find a great variety and at reduced prices at the Book Store.

Anderson Bros. have purchased shops in Waterloo and are prepared to do all kinds of custom work, and will be pleased to see their old customers as well as new ones. We will have a good assortment of carriages in the spring, which we will sell as cheap as any home work that is manufactured of good material. All our work is guranteed to give satisfaction. Call and see us before you purchase.

49-4 Anderson Bros.

—All accounts for job work and advertising done at this office should be settled before January 1. It will be a great accommodation if our patrons would call on us and attend to this, as our time is so occupied that it is inconvenient for us to call on all. 2t.

—Dr. Humphrey has purchased a one-third interest of Dr's. Casebeer and Matheny in the drug store, practice of medicine and livery stable, and the firm name hereafter will be Casebeer, Matheny & Humphrey. See card in another column.

—Turkey! Turkey!! Turkey!!! Where is the turkey? At S. U. Tarney's meat market.

Notice.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice.

S. J. Brandon,
Trustee Jackson tp
Oct. 11-tf.

Sale of Real Estate.

NOTICE is hereby given, that by virtue of an order of the DeKalb circuit court, at the December term, 1881, on the 20th day of December, 1881, the same being the [illegible] judicial day thereof, the undersigned executor of the estate of Joseph Boyer, deceased, will offer at private sale at the law office of Wm. H. Leas, in Waterloo, DeKalb county, Indiana on Saturday, the fourth day of February, A. D., 1882, the following premises towit:

The southwest quarter (¼) of southeast quarter (¼) of northwest quarter (¼) of section seventeen (17), all in township thirty-five (35), north of Range fourteen (14) east, in DeKalb county, in state of Indiana, except such interest as Franklin township has in the following described tracts. Commencing at the northwest corner of the southeast quarter (¼) of the northwest quarter (¼) of said section, (17) seventeen, running thence in a southwesterly course, along the center of said road, to the west line of said section, thence north on said line to the place of beginning. Also except the following tracts towit;

Beginning at the southwest corner of the said southwest quarter (¼) of said section seventeen (17), thence east along the south line of said section, thirty-two (32) rods to a stake, thence north on a line parallel with the west line of said section, thirty (30) rods thence west parallel with the south line of said section seventeen (17), thirty-two (32) rods to the section line, thence south on said section line, thirty (30) rods to the place of beginning. Also except the following: Beginning at the northeast corner of said southeast quarter (¼) of northwest quarter (¼) of said section seventeen (17) and running thence south 45 degrees west, eight (8) chains and five (5) links, thence west fifty (50) links, thence north five (5) and eighty hundredths chains, thence east six (6) and ten hundredths chains to the place of beginning. All in DeKalb county, state of Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE:

One-fourth (¼) cash on day of sale, one-fourth (¼) in six months from date of sale, one-fourth (¼) in 12 months from date of sale, and one-fourth (¼) in eighteen months from date of said sale. Deferred payments to bear interest, and secured by mortgage on the premises sold. Each note to waive valuation and appraisement laws, and include ten per cents. for attorneys fees. Sale to begin at 10 o'clock a. m.

John Leas,
Executor.
52-4w.

STILL AT THE FRONT!

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPLE PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cen
FEST SHIRTING	10 cen
GOOD MUSLIN	6 cents

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terribly Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERIES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c per lb
Coffee A Sugar	10c. per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. per lb
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. per lb
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	55c. per lb
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb.	6 for $1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Aroso	18c. per lb	Best Crackers	8c. per lb
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET.

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000---sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM, PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BUY YOUR

Holiday Goods

—AT—

Ensley & Harter's.

—(o)—

CANDIES.

FANCY, MIXED, STICK and TOY CANDIES.

—(o)—

TOYS, TOYS!

Of every description, and at any price

Dolls, Dolls.

These goods will please you, and at prices that will astonish you. Also a

BIG ASSORTMENT

—OF—

KID GLOVES, COLLARS,
KID GLOVES, COLLARS,
TIES,
TIES;
LACES, SCARFS,
LACES, SCARFS,
HOODS,
HOODS,

SILK HANDKERCHIEFS,
SILK HANDKERCHIEFS.

—(o)—

PURE MXIED CANDY

12 CENTS PER LB 12

—(o)—

Before buying, examine our goods.

ENSLEY & HARTER

1882.

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

This popular journal is a rare combination of literature, art and fashion. Its stories, poems and essays are by the best writers of Europe and America; its engravings possess the highest artistic excellence; and in all matters pertaining to fashion it is universally acknowledged to be the leading authority in the land. The new volume will contain many brilliant novelties.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS.

PER YEAR:

HARPER'S BAZAR	4 00
HARPER'S MAGAZINE	$4.00
HARPER'S WEEKLY	4.00
The THREE above publications	10 00
Any TWO above named	7.00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	1.50
HARPER'S MAGAZINE HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	5.00
HARPER'S FRANKLIN SQUARE LIBRARY, One Year (52 Numbers)	10 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The Volumes of the Bazar begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of order.

The last Twelve Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume,) for $7.00 each.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

J. B. CASEBEER, M. D.
T. G. MATHENY, M. D. V. A. HUMPHREY, M.D.

Dr's. Casebeer, Matheny and Humphrey have associated themselves for the practice of medicine and surgery. Also in the drug and livery business. They are prepared to answer calls in their line. Office at the Physicians' drug store, Main street, Auburn, Ind.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Alonsan G. Coats, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

ISAAC SPEER,
Administrator.

Dec. 26, 1881.
52-3w.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county, ss. In the DeKalb circuit court, February term, 1882: Mary A. Wildasin, Jennie Schloss, Jonas Schloss impleaded with others are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to foreclose a mortgage by John C. StClair as administrator of the estate of Daniel Till, and that the same will be heard and determined on the first juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences February 27, 1882.

Witness, The Clerk of said court. this 22d day of December, 1881.

JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.
52-3w.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—Mud,

—Muddier,

—Muddiest.

—Wipe off your chin.

—D. D. Metcalf was in town Monday.

—Only one rainy day so far this week.

—Miss Jessie Douglas is visiting at Corunna.

—J. B. Taylor, of Waterloo, was in town Monday.

—G. W. Downs, of Fairfield, was in town this week.

—Dr. Bowman, of Newville, was in town last week.

—The Christmas tree at Sedan was valued at $163.00.

—J. C. Loveland, of the Head Light, was in town Monday.

—"Vanderbilt," of Angola, was in town a few days recently.

—Wm. Little, of Newville, spent Sunday with his parents.

—They are putting in a new cistern at the German parsonage.

—Frank Rush and wife, of Orland, spent Christmas in town.

—John McKay, now of Greenville, Mich., is home on a furlough.

—Mr. Lewis White of Wayne county O, is visiting relatives in town this week

—Professor Gordon's class in music began on Tuesday evening of this week.

—J. J. Martin has been stepping around for a few days in a new rubber coat.

—Abram McCoy, of Smithfield township, was in town this week on business.

—Fresh and guaranteed pure bovine vaccine virus at the Physicians' drug store.

—Jerome Showalter and wife, of Decatur, were here over Sunday visiting their friends.

—Henry Hood, of Smithfield township, is stopping in Auburn at present. He is a juryman, —Frank McDowell, who is attending school at Ann Arbor, is at home during the holiday vacation.

—Moses Perry and Henry Hull, of Concord dropped in to see us this week. Come again, gentlemen.

—We are ready to receive sealed proposals from any responsible party who desires to steal our wood pile.

—Mrs. John Weeks, one of the early settlers of this county, died last week and was buried on Saturday.

—The six men over in the courthouse have made a good many of the boys uneasy for a week or more.

—P. B. Nimmons, of Wilmington township, is here on the jury. We have not learned how well he likes it.

—Judge Lowry came up on Tuesday to dispose of some of the cases in which a change of venue had been taken.

—Every one who comes to town now, comes on business. They don't come for the fun of it. Not for the ride, anyway.

—Miss Louie Henry, attending school at the Acadamie, came home last Friday to remain during the holidays.

—John Beard went to Elkhart last Saturday and came back Monday afternoon. He says there is mud even in that fine country.

—Don't you forget that you must positively pay up your meat account by January 1st, 1882, or no more credit for you until you do. S. U. TARNEY.

—Cedar Creek has set a good example to all who get on a high. It has subsided as soon as it could do so, and has returned to its legitimate business.

—John Ralston and wife, former residents of our town, and now of Texas, are here visiting their friends. They speak very highly of the sunny south.

—Mrs. T. J. Cuppy has been in town for a week or two, the guest of her father, G. W. Stahl. We are glad to learn that her health is very much improved.

—They had a right old fashion Texas jamboree at the Junction, Saturday night. It was a hand-to-hand and beer-glass-to beer-glass encounter. No lives lost.

—Frank Leas was the happy recipient of a silver shaving cup. We hope this convenient arrangement will induce his mustach to develop a little more willing.

—Conny Little, of the COURIER, will go to Toledo Saturday to spend a few days with his brother, A. J. Little, who is at present working on the Daily Telegram there.

—John Bartley, son and daughter, of Noble county, were visiting over Sunday with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Martin, at the Junction.

—Holiday goods were on a boom last Saturday, and in fact all the week. At Ensley & Harter's, at Willis,' at Davenport's and at Abright's, the sales were unprecedented. All these had choice stocks. We are glad to see them so well patronized.

No Small-Pox.

Some irresponsible individual started the report this week that there was a case of small-pox in Auburn, and of course the report went out like wild-fire. Our citizens, and especially Wm. McIntyre, cashier of the First National Bank, took pains to trace the matter out, and found the individual complained of to be no other than Mr. Stevens, who had been vaccinated, and, having taken cold, his arm was somewhat swollen. But he has not even been sick, and has been around town all the time.

—For christmas trimmings, see F. Hoff.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Davis, of Fort Wayne, called on us yesterday.

—We hear that they had a very fine christmas tree at Norris' chapel, east of town.

—Will Francis and wife, of Waterloo, were in town yesterday, and made the COURIER a pleasant call.

—Calling and address cards, family records, marriage certificates, etc., etc., neatly written and filled out by G. B. Zimmerman, Auburn Ind.

—Govenor Porter has pardoned Nessel who killed his brother in Fairfield township last year. He has served out six month of his two years sentence.

—New stock of New Years cards at reasonable prices. Come and see them and order enough to assist you to usher in the New Year in good style. 2t.

—J. C. Maxwell, of Wilmington, called on us this week. Mr. M. is one of the live teachers of that township, and we are glad to make his acquaintance.

—The Christmas tree at the school house at the Junction, was a fine one, and many costly and useful presents were given. The occasion was a pleasant one.

—Several of our exchanges came to us in double form last week, and a few have double holiday editions this week. We are glad to note these evidences of improvement and enterprise,

—Wood wanted at this office, either for cash or on subscription. We hope those of our subscribers, who wish to pay in wood will do so whenever the roads are so they can come. 2t

—The sixth annual show of the Northern Indiana Poultry Association will be held in Huntington, January 17 to 21, 1882. Send to W. A Jones, secretary, for premium lists.

—Stephen Girardot is at the head of the wood hauling industry at present. Mud and rain do not seem to discourage him. He deserves the thanks of many of our woodless citizens.

—List of letters unclaimed at the Auburn postoffice, Dec. 26, 1881: S. H. Caskey, John Coll, D. E. Hutton, E. A. Lason, Joseph Mathews.

JOSEPH RAINIER, P. M.

—The Ft. Wayne & Jackson road has in this issue, a notice of the annual meeting of stockholders for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

—The soldiers, of Auburn, Ind., will furnish dinner and supper at a reasonable price, to all who attend their quarterly meeting and the lecture by Mr. Colfax, Jan. 6, 1882. Com.
52-2w.

—Rev. Norris will probably not be around town much for a while. He will no doubt put in most of his time holding down the nice upholstered rocking-chair that his friends presented to him on Christmas eve.

—In naming the parties who came over from Butler to attend Miss Vineyard's entertainment last week, we unintentionally omitted the name of our young friend, Miss Josie Thomas. Can't say how it happened.

—C. M. Smith, of Silver Lake, Kosciusko county, formerly a teacher in this county, will visit this section soon, to establish an agency for the sale of the latest great work on history. The conspectus of the federal government and political parties.

—Don't it look like a waste of raw materal for a judge to disfranchise a boy seventeen years old? Two years will seem long to the young man, as for that length of time he can neither vote nor be elected to office—two things most dear to the average American.

—On Tuesday of this week, our friend Josiah Boyer, of Fairfield township, called on us, and his face wore a broader smile than usual; but, of course, he gave no reason, and we never "tumbled," as the boys say, until after he was gone, when we were told that he had just been (ahem!) getting married. The lucky lady is Mrs. McClish.

—The Masonic installation on Tuesday evening of this week, was a very pleasant affair. The installation ceremonies were conducted by deputy Grand Master, Jas. E. Rose, and the officers installed were: F. E. Davenport, W. M.; Wm. Sheffer, S. W.; S. H. Rush, J. W.; W. H. McQuiston, Treas.; J. J. VanAuken, Sec'y.; J. W. McKay, S. D.; G. H. Yesbera, J. D.; J. A. Potter and D. C. Headley, Steward; John Treesh, Tyler. The festivities ended up with a splendid banquet at Sherm. Hollister's.

Fort Wayne & Jackson Railroad Company's Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fort Wayne & Jackson railroad company, for the election of directors for the ensuing year, and the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it, will be held on Saturday, January 28, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the general office of the company, in Jackson, Mich. The transfer books will close January 10, and remain closed until Jan. 30.

52-4w. R. G. ROLSTON,
New York, Dec. 26, 1881. Secretary.

—Pickles and sauerkraut at Frank Hoff's,

—Holiday goods so that you can't rest, at Frank A. Hoff's place.

Eureka. I have found it. Found what? The place to buy my Christmas turkey. Where? At S. U. Tarney's.

PAY UP.—Quite a number of our subscribers are still behind on their subscription. Don't forget to call and square up your accounts before new years. 2t

—Our friend, Edwin Smurr, of Wilmington township, is the happy father of a fine girl. This happy event occurred last week—an event that for some reason unknown has not occurred for the past twelve or thirteen years. Hence our friend is supremely happy.

—We see that some of our citizens are discussing the penalty imposed on Hensinger and Smith, the two young men, who placed obstructions on the Wabash track. While we admit that two years in states prison may appear to be a severe penalty for a crime that did not result very seriously, yet it must not be forgotten that they did all they could to throw the train off the track, and if they had succeeded, some lives would likely have been lost, and many thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed. If young men have a desire to destroy life and property by the wholesale, they must take the consequences of their acts. If all cases of this kind are severely dealt with, the traveling public will ride with a great deal more safety.

Court Items.

They are making rapid strides towards clearing the court docket. An unusual amount of business has been done so far this term.

Judge Lowry, on Tuesday of this week, decided the case of Vandercook vs. Work, in favor of the defendant.

Judge Rose overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of the state of Indiana vs. Peter Bayo, on Monday morning, and the defendant was taken to Michigan City.

Edmun L. Boggs plead guilty to stealing a shot gun, (to a certain extent not because he was really guilty but because he could not prove himself innocent) and was sentenced to state's prison for one year.

Geo. A. Hoffman plead guilty on Monday, to stealing cigars and sardines at Garrett, and was sent up for one year.

Aug. Stutz plead guilty last Saturday, to selling liquor to a minor, and was fined $50. and cost, by Judge Rose.

Henry Brown, the colored man, who has been in jail for sometime, on a charge of robbing, was tried by a jury last week, and acquitted.

Daniel Hensinger and Vincent Smith, two boys about 18 years of age, were each tried by a jury, and found guilty of obstructing the track of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific railroad, east of town, and were sentenced to two years in the state's prison.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Leas conveyed Vincent Smith to Michigan City last week.

Frederick Witt was tried on yesterday, for stealing some money, was sent to the penetentiary for one year, and fined $27, and was disfranchised for two years.

James McAlaster is on trial for grand larceny, but the early hour at which we go to press, prevents us giving the result.

On yesterday, after the jury acquitted James McAlaster, he procured a license and got married in open court. to Cordelia Hay. Hurrah for James and Cordelia.

A Healthy State.

People are constantly changing their homes from east to west and from north to south or vice versa, in search of a healthy state. If they would learn to be contented, and to use the celebrated Kidney-Wort when sick, they would be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy. See large adv.

—The Christmas trees were unusually fine this year, That at the Presbyterian church, was mainly for the benefit of the children of the Sabbath school. Although some of the older ones were not forgotten. The presents were very tasty, and at the same time were quite appropriate. At the M. E. church, they had a more elaborate arrangement, and the gifts were more general in their character. The tree was one of the finest ever seen in town, and everything passed off satisfactory. At the German church, there was also a christmas tree, that was well loaded with choice gifts. Altogether, the celebration of this most pleasant holiday, has been observed this year more universally then ever before, and we think, all things considered in a very sensible manner.

MOTHERS DON'T KNOW—How many children are punished for being uncouth, wilful, and indifferent to instructions or rewards, simply because they are out of health! An intelligent lady said of a child of this kind: "Mothers should know that if they would give the little ones moderate doses of Hop Bitters for two or three weeks, the children would be all a parent could desire." 51-2w.

—Get a diary and start in with the new year, by recording all interesting events that may be worth a fortune to you during life. Many have done so, and been able to produce evidence that saved them much trouble afterward. A good assortment may be found at the Book Store.

—"Tom, what do you got in dem barrels?" "Don't you know, Jim; Dat is dos sauer kraut for Hoff Bros. They got it from Germany, and keep it for sale."

All those indebted to me for meat must positively pay up by the first of January, if you want any more credit, hereafter. S. U. TARNEY.

TAX LIST FOR 1881.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF DeKALB COUNTY:

In compliance with the laws of the State of Indiana, I, L. J. MILLER, treasurer of said county, hereby notify the tax-payers thereof, that the rates of taxation for the year A. D. 1881 are correctly stated in the following table, showing the amount of tax in cents levied upon each one hundred dolliars valuation and on each poll, in the several townships and incorporated villages in said county, as the same appears on the tax duplicate of DeKalb county, for said year:

TOWNSHIPS AND TOWNS.	STATE HOUSE TAX.	STATE TAX.	SCHOOL TAX.	COUNTY TAX.	TOWNSHIP TAX.	ROAD TAX.	COM. SCHOOL TAX.	SPC'L. SCHOOL TAX.	ADDITIONAL SPC'L. SCHOOL TAX.	INT. ON BONDS.	CORPORATION TAX.	BOND SINKING FUND.	TOTAL TAX.
Butler Township	2	12	16	65	5	10	5	10		10			135
Poll		50	50				25						125
Jackson Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	20		10			155
Poll		50	50					50					150
Concord Township	2	12	16	65		20	10	35		10			150
Poll		50	50					50					150
Newville Township	2	12	16	65	15	10	5	20		10			135
Poll		50	50				10						150
Stafford Township	2	12	16	65	5	10	5	10		10			135
Poll		50	50										100
Wilmington Township	2	12	16	65	5	15		5		10			130
Poll		50	50										100
Union Township	2	12	16	65	2	15	5	5		10			132
Poll		50	50					50					150
Richland Township	2	12	16	65	5	15	5	30		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Fairfield Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	25		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Smithfield Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	10		10			145
Poll		50	50					50					150
Franklin Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	10	5		10			145
Poll		50	50				25						125
Troy Township	2	12	16	65	5	15	5	10		10			140
Poll		50	50										100
Keyser Township	2	12	16	65	2	15	5	5		10			132
Poll		50	50				25						125
Auburn Town	2	12	16	65	2	15		50	50	10	40	10	272
Poll		50	50					50	25		25		200
Waterloo Town	2	12	16	65	2	15	10	25		10			157
Poll		50	50										100
Butler Town	2	12	16	65	5	15		30	25	10		15	195
Poll		50	50						25				125
Garrett Town	2	12	16	65	2	15	25	50	90	10	50	10	347
Poll		50	50				25	100	100		25		350

Also $1 for one dog, $2 for each female dog, and $2 for each additional dog, for the collecting of which I may be found at the county treasurer's office, in the town of Auburn, on and after January 1st, 1882.

Taxes may be paid in full or in two installments. The first installment, including all road taxes, can be paid on or before the third Monday in April, 1882, the second installment, on or before the first Monday in November, 1882. If the first installment is not paid when due, both installments become delinquent, ten per cent. will be added, and I shall at once proceed, as the law requires, to collect the same, together with the costs that may accrue by distress and sale of personal property.

Road receipts will not be received after the third Monday in April, only on delinquent taxes. No road receipts will be received on the November installment.

Examine your receipts before leaving the office, and see that all your property is included.

No county order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes.

The annual sale of lands and lots for delinquent taxes will occur on the first Monday in March, 1882.

Come early and avoid the rush of the last few days.

The books will positively be closed on the evening of the third Monday in April, and no one will be allowed to pay after that date, without penalty.

Parties sending by others, or by letter, to pay tax, should not fail to send description of their lands and lots.

No receipt will be made out hereafter, for any party, until they are ready to pay for the same.

L. J. MILLER, Treasurer of DeKalb County.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1881.

CALENDAR FOR 1882.

1882	S	M	T	W	T	F	S	1882	S	M	T	W	T	F	S
Jan.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	July							1
	8	9	10	11	12	13	14		2	3	4	5	6	7	8
	15	16	17	18	19	20	21		9	10	11	12	13	14	15
	22	23	24	25	26	27	28		16	17	18	19	20	21	22
	29	30	31						23	24	25	26	27	28	29
									30	31
Feb.				1	2	3	4	Aug.			1	2	3	4	5
	5	6	7	8	9	10	11		6	7	8	9	10	11	12
	12	13	14	15	16	17	18		13	14	15	16	17	18	19
	19	20	21	22	23	24	25		20	21	22	23	24	25	26
	26	27	28						27	28	29	30	31
Mar.				1	2	3	4	Sept.						1	2
	5	6	7	8	9	10	11		3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	12	13	14	15	16	17	18		10	11	12	13	14	15	16
	19	20	21	22	23	24	25		17	18	19	20	21	22	23
	26	27	28	29	30	31			24	25	26	27	28	29	30
April							1	Oct.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
	2	3	4	5	6	7	8		8	9	10	11	12	13	14
	9	10	11	12	13	14	15		15	16	17	18	19	20	21
	16	17	18	19	20	21	22		22	23	24	25	26	27	28
	23	24	25	26	27	28	29		29	30	31
	30
May		1	2	3	4	5	6	Nov.				1	2	3	4
	7	8	9	10	11	12	13		5	6	7	8	9	10	11
	14	15	16	17	18	19	20		12	13	14	15	16	17	18
	21	22	23	24	25	26	27		19	20	21	22	23	24	25
	28	29	30	31					26	27	28	29	30
June					1	2	3	Dec.						1	2
	4	5	6	7	8	9	10		3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	11	12	13	14	15	16	17		10	11	12	13	14	15	16
	18	19	20	21	22	23	24		17	18	19	20	21	22	23
	25	26	27	28	29	30			24	25	26	27	28	29	30
									31

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE WEST.

THE convention of General Passenger and Ticket Agents was held at Chicago. The subject under consideration was the proposed abolition of the system of allowing commissions to agents upon the sale of railroad tickets, and the convention adopted an agreement which contemplates putting an end to the practice.

A PARTY of cow-boys raided the town of Caldwell, Kan. Talbot, the leader killed Mike Meagher, ex-Mayor, which he threatened to do last year. The citizens of Caldwell at once organized to crush out the raid, and, as the murderers rode out of town toward Indian Territory, one of them was shot dead and several others wounded.... John Malloy and Ed Patton walked through the streets of Independence, Col., and fired revolvers at the windows in stores. They afterward captured a saloon, drove all out, and stood the constable's posse off with pistols. A party of citizens commanded the desperadoes to desist. They refused, and the citizens shot both dead.

THE school-house and farm-house at the Wichita Agency, in Indian Territory, were destroyed by an incendiary fire, eighty pupils escaping in their night clothes.

Two passengers on a Hannibal and St. Joseph train drew revolvers and demanded the money of the passengers. Conductor Bushnell and the train crew threw the ruffians into the ditch at Utica, and sent back men to arrest them.

A FIRE in West Bay City, Mich., which burned three business blocks and destroyed the public records, caused a loss of $80,000, on which there was $35,000 insurance.

THE EAST.

COL. STRACHAN, of the Ninth Massachusetts regiment, says that after a most searching investigation into the charges of misconduct made against his regiment during the visit to Virginia in connection with the Yorktown celebration, he finds that twenty-one men were guilty of improper conduct, and that this improper conduct consisted of simple intoxication, disobedience of orders, and unsoldierly and ungentlemanly conduct committed under the influence of liquor.

DR. ISAAC I. HAYES died suddenly at New York, of heart disease, aged 49 years. He will be chiefly remembered for his explorations in the Arctic ocean, which made his name known in every part of the civilized world. He was elected a member of the New York Legislature for six successive terms.... A fire in Crosby street, New York, destroyed mercantile property of the estimated value of $325,000.... A wholesale-grocery firm at Erie, Pa., had steadily missed bank bills from its cash drawer The other day workmen discovered a large mouse nest made entirely of paper money, immediately back of the cash receptacle. Many of the notes were uninjured.

JOHN A. INGRAM, a miner residing at Mount Union, Pa., placed a small quantity of dynamite on the stove to melt the ice. Almost instantly there was an explosion like an earthquake. Four children were blown to atoms and the father and mother were fatally injured.

SIRO DELMONICO, who recently became the head of the famous catering-house in New York, died of apoplexy the other day, leaving Charles Delmonico, a bachelor, the last of the family on this side of the Atlantic.

MISS LELIA OSGOOD VANDERBILT, youngest daughter of the millionaire, was married to Dr. W. S. Webb, son of Gen. J. W. Webb, at St. Bartholomew's Church, New York city. The bride was attired in one of Worth's masterpieces of silver satin on traine, richly adorned with lace and looped with diamonds. It is rumored that her well-to-do papa made her a present of a $500,000 house and $250,000 in cash "on the nail." Other wedding presents were of the richest kind.

THE SOUTH.

THE bodies of three Mexicans, who had been robbing travelers near San Antonio, were found hanging to a tree. German farmers of that section are believed to have done society this favor.

A COMMITTEE of the Arkansas Legislature, appointed last winter to investigate the books of State Treasurer Churchill, now Gov. Churchill, has made a report showing a shortage in Churchill's accounts of from $75,000 to $80,000. Gov. Churchill says that the discrepancy is apparent and can easily be explained by him. It arises, he says, from the fact that certain bonds ordered burned had through mistake been charged to him.

WASHINGTON.

A CRANK named Tachynutis, a native of Greece, wrote fifty letters to President Garfield, and has sent twelve to President Arthur, begging for office.

THE Senate Appropriations Committee, in its investigation into the management of the Treasury Department by John Sherman, took the testimony of Custodian Piney. He stated that $600 worth of stationery was taken from the department to furnish the Sherman committee rooms in the last campaign, and that the lunch taken at that time was paid from the treasury funds on vouchers for candles.

A SUSPICIOUS-LOOKING package, which was thought to be an infernal machine, sent to George Scoville, Guiteau's counsel, was, after formidable precautions, opened, and the box was found to contain a coil of rope with a noose at the end. The box also contained a poetic note saying: "With the compliments of the Garfield and Arthur Club of Meyersdale, Pa".... District Attorney Corkhill thinks that the final argument in the Guiteau case will not be ended before the 10th of January.... It has been decided by the Washington Monument Commission to ask Congress for an appropriation of $200,000 to continue the work of completing the monument.... The catalogue of monstrosities has been swelled by the taking of a plaster cast of the head of Guiteau. Clark Mills, the sculptor, performed the operation in the Washington jail.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL HATTON has decided that advertising, insurance and other sheets of a similar character shall not be admitted to the mails as second-class matter.

MR. JOSEPH K. MCCAMMON, Commissioner of Railroads, in his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, says that the indications are that within a short time there will be five different routes to the Pacific coast, where less than a year ago there was but one. The tendency is toward increased developments, principally in the West and South. It is believed that operations in railroad construction this year will exceed any previous year.... An effort is being made by the Southern members of Congress to procure the repeal of the law restricting the sale of tobacco in the planters' hands, and several bills have been introduced with that general purpose. Some of the Southern men favor the repeal of all the internal-revenue laws.

ALL the jurymen in the Guiteau case attended the funeral of the wife of Juror Hobbs. They were accompanied by a Deputy Marshal and Bailiffs.

POLITICAL.

SPEAKER KEIFER was given a complimentary reception at the Masonic Temple in Washington under the auspices of the Ohio Republican Association. Judge Lawrence delivered the address of welcome. Speeches were also made by ex-Speaker Randall, Senators Logan, Pendleton and Sherman, Representatives Orth, Dunnell, Hiscock, Robeson, Reed and Gov. Foster.... Collector Robertson, of New York, had a long interview with the President the other day, and it was semi-officially announced that he will serve out his term.

THE Greenbackers in Congress are determined to join any party or element in the House that will oppose the restriction of the silver coinage. Representative Ladd said in a conversation, the other day: "If the Democrats take a sensible stand on this question they can carry the next Congress. The East as well as the West is opposed to the restriction of silver coinage and the administration has made a big mistake in recommending it. Every Greenback member will vote against it."

H. H. RIDDLEBERGER, the Readjuster candidate for Senator from Virginia in Congress, received the solid vote of the General Assembly at Richmond.

GENERAL.

ONCE more Cannon, the Mormon, has received a setback in his attempt to get into Congress. As a result of a rehearing of the case, Chief Justice Hunter, of the Utah Supreme Court, refused to modify or set aside the order previously made holding as fraudulent and void the certificate of naturalization obtained by Cannon, and in effect once more declaring him to be an alien and not entitled to a seat in Congress.

IN a public written statement Guiteau, the assassin, reviews his trial, with which he says he is well pleased. He thinks that Judge Cox believes in his idea of inspiration. He holds that the Deity compelled him to act in the shooting of President Garfield just as a highwayman compels a man to give him money after placing a pistol at his head. The victim might know it was absolutely wrong to give money that his wife and children needed, but how could he help it with a pistol at his head?

DURING the five months ending the 30th of November 291,318 immigrants arrived in this country, against 254,202 during the same period of last year.... The bill conferring the franking privilege on Mrs. Garfield has become a law, and is, therefore, the first law of the present session of Congress.

A STORY of severe suffering is told by the survivors of the steamship Bath City, which foundered off the coast of Newfoundland. The crew of twenty-seven men embarked in two boats; four were drowned by the boat capsizing, and the Captain and five of the men died from exposure. The survivors, seventeen in number, were picked up by a vessel and carried to Liverpool.... The Canadian authorities seized a number of Pullman palace cars in Montreal to satisfy a claim by the Dominion Government for $160,000 which, it is alleged, the Dominion Government has been defrauded of by the Pullman Company because of the company's failure to pay duties on cars manufactured in the United States and imported into and used in Canada.

FOREIGN.

THE London Standard (Tory organ) seems to think Secretary Blaine's suggestion for the modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty preposterous, and the Daily News (Gladstonian organ) thinks that Britain can never consent to the modifications, and is inclined to believe that the American people do not demand them.... A boat containing fourteen persons left Galway Thursday for the Islands of Arran. When about midway on the passage a storm arose and all hands were wrecked.

PRESIDENT CALDERON, of Peru, being still held prisoner by the Chilians, and Pierola having fled to Europe, Vice President Montero is the only person with whom negotiations for peace can be carried on.... Storms and floods of a destructive character occurred throughout England. Hundreds of trees were uprooted in the vicinity of London, and many minor casualties among the shipping are reported.... The constabulary barracks at Croboy, Ireland, was burned Friday night. The men barely escaped with their lives. Arrests were made of the suspected incendiaries.... A large quantity of arms, ammunition and dynamite were seized in a house in Dublin, and four persons were arrested.... The correct list of the deaths by the Ring Theater fire, at Vienna, is 794.

ANOTHER of those terrible mining accidents which are unfortunately so frequent in England occurred at Orrell, in Lancashire, causing the death of about 180 persons. The system of working the mine was purely mechanical, and the cause of the explosion cannot be ascertained.... The movement in Ireland against the payment of rent is becoming universal. Persons who have appealed to the Land Court, those who have paid or are suspected of paying rents, have their names posted on the doors of churches. It is rumored that the Government intends to arrest the female Land Leaguers. Two Irish noblemen have decided to leave the island on account of the disturbed condition of affairs. The type and presses of United Ireland, organ of the Land League, have been sent to London. The Irish constabulary are dissatisfied at the enlistment in their ranks of militiamen and time-expired soldiers. Aylward, the ex-Secretary to Joubert, the Boer General, who was a prominent Fenian, has arrived in London.... From Algiers, North Africa, a cablegram states that by the bursting of a dam 400 persons were drowned.... No less than 1,500 arrests for political offenses were made in Russia during the present year. Many of them were by false accusations, and the maligners are to be prosecuted.

THE Governor General of Eastern Siberia carried news to St. Petersburg that the Arctic exploring steamer Jeannette has been discovered and assistance rendered the crew. Hoffman, Charge d'Affaires of the United States, sends a cablegram to Secretary Frelinghuysen, stating that the Jeannette was crushed in the ice June 11, the crew embarking in three boats, which were separated by wind and fog. One party, Capt. De Long and thirteen men, reached Lena in a pitiable condition, and were promptly succored. The second boat has not been heard from. The third boat, containing eleven men, with Engineer Melville in command, reached the mouth of the Lena Sept. 19.

A STRANGER, on taking his seat in the pit of a theater, accosted a gentleman who sat near him, with: "Pray, sir, have you a bill?" When, to the stranger's amazement, the gentleman, starting from a reverie in which he had been plunged, exclaimed: "No, sir, but I have two next week and both unprovided for."

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY.

The Prosecuting Attorney was a little late in reaching the Criminal Court, and Guiteau improved the opportunity to make one of his little speeches "To put in time." Looking over the vacant seat, he said, with a chuckle: "I understand Gen. Reynolds is sick this morning. I wonder if Corkhill is. I guess they got more than they wanted yesterday. It's about time for Corkhill to get sick, and stay sick."

The first witness called was Deputy Clerk Barnard, of the New York Supreme Court, who presented the record in the divorce case of the prisoner. The prisoner shouted out that he committed adultery to get rid of a woman he did not love.

Gen. Joseph S. Reynolds, of Chicago, was called.

Guiteau at once broke in, petulantly, saying, "I hope you will cut off Gen. Reynolds and not waste any more time on him. He told all he knows about this case, and a good deal more."

Scoville cross-examined the witness. Guiteau frequently interrupted, contradicted and insulted the witness. At one time he shouted out: "I would have been hung a hundred times in July last but for the national troops, and all through your lying and Corkhill's. I'm going to get even with both of you, too."

Witness explained that when he visited Guiteau his trial had not been arranged. President Garfield was still living, and he (witness) had no thought of being subpœnaed as a witness.

"You lie!" shouted Guiteau. "You came to my cell as a spy in the employ of the District Attorney."

Gen. Reynolds read from notes he had taken on the occasion of his first interview with Guiteau. Quoting the prisoner's words, he read: "If there is a stalwart in the land, I am he. Grant, Conkling, Logan and Gov. Cornell are big guns among the stalwarts, and I rank with them."

Guiteau retorted: "I never said I could rank with them; but as a matter of fact I think I can."

A number of newspaper slips which witness had read to the prisoner at this interview, to show him what were the sentiments of Grant, Conkling and others in regard to his (the prisoner's) crime, were then read by the District Attorney.

When the letter of Gen. Grant's was read, in which the writer, speaking of Guiteau, said: "My son tells me he is a dead-beat," Guiteau became very angry and shouted: "This is what Fred Grant says. He's a nice pill, isn't he? Hanging around his father. I should say he is a bigger dead-beat than I am."

Another passage was read, which spoke of Guiteau's crime as a "most audacious act." Guiteau interrupted: "And so it was, to enter that depot and shoot down the President of the United States, surrounded as it was by all his friends. I have wondered at it a good many times—how I ever did it. I thought to myself this morning I would not undertake it again for a million dollars, but I was in such a desperate state of mind I could not resist. I was impelled upon the President by a pressure I could not resist."

Ellen C. Grant was called, and Guiteau shouted: "Mrs. Grant is the lady I boarded with prior to the 1st of July. She is a very fine lady, and I owe her $47. I trust I shall pay you soon, Mrs. Grant. As soon as these fellows holding fat offices shall respond to my call (striking the table excitedly). I made them. If they don't soon contribute I shall call out their names in meeting."

Witness never suspected the prisoner was insane.

Mrs. Anna S. Dunmore, Guiteau's divorced wife, was then called to the witness stand. She testified in very plain language that she never thought the assassin was insane. For a wonder Guiteau kept quiet while she was giving her testimony, which was probably owing to the fact that her present husband stood by her while she was testifying.

The trial was temporarily interrupted by the death of the wife of Juror Hobbs, which occurred on Sunday morning, Dec. 18. Mrs Hobbs was taken with a stroke of apoplexy. Word was immediately sent to Mr. Hobbs, and the Bailiff communicated with the Marshal, who consulted with Judge Cox. The result was that Judge Cox suggested that the counsel for the Government and the defense should agree that Hobbs might be released from the custody of the Marshal and be permitted to return to his home. Hobbs was not long at his house before his wife died.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY.

Dr. Frank H. Hamilton, of New York, was examined. His evidence was unfavorable to the defense, bearing as it did, against the theory of insanity.

Dr. Worcester, of Salem, Mass., who refused, when upon the stand for the defense, to answer the hypothetical question proposed by Scoville, testified that, in his opinion, the prisoner was a sane man.

Guiteau (sharply)—"How much do you expect to get for that opinion, sir? I suppose that will be worth $500 to you. That is the way Corkhill is running, but I don't think it will be worth a snap with that jury—not a snap, sir."

Corkhill then read the hypothetical question, which covered all the material facts in the prisoner's history from boyhood down to his act on the 2d of July, and inquired, "Assuming all these facts to be true, in your opinion, was the prisoner sane or insane when he killed the President?"

Answer—"I believe him to have been sane."

Guiteau (sneeringly)—"Yes, sir, and you expect to get $500 for your opinion."

All through the reading of the hypothetical question Guiteau continually shouted, "That's false," "Absolutely false." At one time he said, "That's false, sir. Get the facts right for your hypothesis, or whatever you call it. Judge Porter must have got that stuff up for you, Corkhill. You certainly have not got brains enough.

"I want to say right here that Col. Corkhill has made a very good outward statement of facts, but he hasn't touched at all upon what was going on in my mind at that time. That's a matter for the jury, the court, the Deity and me to decide. We four."

The witness stated that at one time he believed that the prisoner was insane. He had however, changed his opinion, because he no longer believed to be true the statements upon which he had based his opinion before coming to Washington.

Guiteau (impatiently)—"Don't you understand, Scoville, that $500 has modified his views. What's the use of wasting time on him? Let him go!"

Scoville was about to resume the examination when Guiteau struck the table violently and called out: "Make the matter short. It's simply a matter of fact for the jury to determine whether my free agency was destroyed or not. I claim it was, and I won't have you compromise my life, as you are doing, by your stupid, blunderbuss way of examining witnesses."

As the examination proceeded Guiteau frequently interrupted, and roundly abused Scoville for his incompetency, and charged him with compromising his case. Turning toward the Judge, Guiteau added, depreciatingly: "Scoville is a perfect idiot in this matter, and between him and Corkhill I have a pretty hard time. [General laughter.] I'm a good-natured man [laughing], but I can't stand a buzz, and when I'm buzzed I want to talk right back."

Scoville, who had borne everything heretofore with apparent equanimity, seemed to feel very keenly this last evidence of heartless ingratitude. His voice trembled, and for a minute he was unable to go on. Even the prisoner realized the injustice of his conduct, and hastened to apologize, saying, "You are doing very well, Scoville—to the best of your ability."

Several times afterward during the examination of Dr. Worcester Guiteau denounced Scoville, at one time with evident anger, and again with a sarcastic smile. "Why, your Honor," he shouted out, "if I were indicted for manslaughter I would be hanged for murder if Scoville should defend me."

Mrs. Scoville reached over to speak to Guiteau, when he snarled at her: "You keep your mouth shut. You're as big a fool as your husband. You're a crank on this business. If you had all stayed in Chicago it would have been far better for my case. These relatives are a nuisance. I would be better off if I didn't have any. I would have plenty of friends if this pack of relatives were out of the way."

Mrs. Scoville whispered some expostulatory reply, when he turned again angrily and shouted: "You have been an unmitigated nuisance in this case all the way through."

Then, changing quickly from anger to mirth, he added with a laugh: "You're a queer lot, you Scovilles."

Adjourned.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

MR. VOORHEES addressed the Senate on the 16th inst., in opposition to the recommendation of Secretary Folger as to the limitation of silver coinage. He criticised Secretary Sherman's financial policy, and intimated that President Arthur and Secretary Folger were mere agents of the national banks. He defended the greenback theories of a few years ago, and claimed that they had triumphed. He was very severe on monopolies, corporations, etc. Mr. Van Wyck presented a petition from 3,000 citizens of Nebraska, praying for an Inter-State commerce bill to prohibit railway discriminations. The President nominated B. H. Brewster to be Attorney General; N. A. Adams for Pension Agent at St. Louis and Wallace R. Finch as Surveyor of Customs at La Crosse, Wis. In the House 387 bills were introduced, among them the following: By Mr. Townsend, of Ohio, to appropriate $50,000 for the relief of the widow of President Garfield; by Mr. Neal, of Ohio, to incorporate the Garfield Memorial Hospital Society; by Mr. Miller, providing for the discharge in bankruptcy of one or more of the innocent members of a partnership when another partner has been guilty of some illegal act; by Mr. Shallenberger, to prevent persons living in bigamy from holding any office of trust or emolument in the United States Territories, and regulating marriage in the Territories; by Mr. Chalmers, to pay the public debt and stop the manufacture of money by corporations; by Mr. Hatch, to permit planters to sell tobacco of their own production without payment of license or tax, to the amount of twenty-five pounds annually. Mr. Robinson, of New York, tried to make himself heard upon the question of imprisonment of American citizens in Ireland, but the Speaker called him to order. A resolution was adopted for a holiday recess from Dec. 21 to Jan. 5. Speaker Keifer announced the following as the committee on the expenses attending the illness and burial of President Garfield: Taylor, Pound, Cox, Lefevre, Belford, Blackburn, Page, Springer, O'Neill and Shelley.

Among the bills introduced in the Senate on the 19th was one by Mr. Williams, of Kentucky, to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle and the spread of infectious diseases among domestic cattle; and one by Mr. Hoar to provide for and regulate the counting of electoral votes cast for President and Vice President of the United States. Mr. Allison presented the memorial of the Illinois and Michigan Canal and River Improvement Company, asking for the construction of the Hennepin canal. The President sent in the following nominations: Thomas C. Acton, to be Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New York, vice Hillhouse; Chief Justice Gray, of Massachusetts, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; William Henry Trescott, of South Carolina, to be Special Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to the republics of Chili, Peru and Bolivia; George M. Duskin, to be Attorney of the United States for the Southern District of Alabama. The nomination of B. H. Brewster to be Attorney General, and J. C. Bancroft Davis to be Assistant Secretary of State were confirmed. In the House, the bill to grant the franking privilege to Mrs. Garfield was passed. Mr. Tellman handed in a bill to authorize national banks to make loans by mortgage on real estate. Mr. Reagan introduced a bill to permit the purchase and register of foreign built ships by citizens of the United States. A new Income-Tax bill was presented by Mr. McMillan, which provides for a 3-per-cent. tax on all incomes of corporations, companies and individuals whose net incomes shall exceed $3,000; also to make the trade dollar legal tender. Bills were also introduced: To provide for a drawback of 10 per cent. on all goods hereafter imported in American-built ships, owned exclusively by citizens of the United States; to regulate the customs duty on sumac; to regulate the duty on sheep and goat skins imported for the purpose of making morocco; to abolish the tax on tobacco; for the admission of Dakota, New Mexico and Washington Territories into the Union as States.

A bill was introduced in the Senate, Dec. 20, to exempt pension-money from seizure or attachment by process of law, and also pension money when invested in homesteads. Mr Ingalls made a favorable report on the bill for the sale of the lands of the Miami Indians. The Committee on Finance reported favorably on Mr. Morrell's bill which provides for a special committee of experts exclusively. Mr. Hoar gave notice that he would introduce a bill in favor of female suffrage, and that he would particularly direct his attention to the enfranchisement of women in the Territories. The House resolution for an adjournment from Dec. 21 to Jan. 5 was concurred in. Acting Vice President Davis announced that he had signed the bill giving the franking privilege to Mrs. Garfield. Mr. Blair introduced a bill providing that Collectors of Internal Revenue shall be appointed for a term of four years. Mr. Pendleton reported adversely on the bill to authorize Lieut. Commander Sigsbee to accept a decoration from the Emperor of Germany. Timothy O. Howe was nominated for Postmaster General, and William A. McCleary for Postmaster at Pittsburgh. Timothy O. Howe was confirmed as Postmaster General, Horace Gray as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, W. H. Trescott as special Envoy to Peru and Chili, and Thomas C. Acton as Assistant Treasurer at New York. The House was not in session.

Mr. Harrison introduced a bill in the Senate, Dec. 20, for a public building at Fort Wayne. Mr. Beck called for information as to the rate of duties imposed on American manufactures by France and Germany. Mr. Plumb introduced a bill to fix two years as the period required in homesteading public lands. In executive session, A. J. Edgerton was confirmed as Chief Justice of Dakota, Pierre C. Van Wyck as Superintendent of the assay office at New York, and Jesse Spalding as Collector of Customs at Chicago. Adjourned till Jan. 5. In the House, Mr. McKinley introduced a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, that both houses of Congress will assemble, at a date to be fixed by the joint committee, and listen to an address by James G. Blaine on the life and character of James A. Garfield. A message from the President recommended an appropriation of $550,000 for work on the census. A resolution was adopted calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information as to the establishment of naval coaling stations on the Isthmus of Panama. After the announcement by Speaker Keifer of the standing committees, the House adjourned till the 5th of January. The committees are constituted as follows:

Ways and Means—Kelley, Chairman; Kasson, Dunnell, McKinley, Hubbell, Haskell, Russell, Errett, Randall, Tucker, Carlisle, Morrison, Spear.

Appropriations—Hiscock, Chairman; Robeson, Cannon, Burroughs, Butterworth, Caswell, Ryan, O'Neil, Ketcham, Blackburn, Cox, Atkins, Forney, Lefevre, Ellis.

Banking and Currency—Crapo, Chairman; Weber, Dingley, Moore, Connell, Bruckner, Hardenburg, Flower, Ermentrout.

Education and Labor—Updegraff, Chairman; Sherwin, Carpenter, Davis, Page, Tyler, Willis, Clements, Money, Dobbie, Dowd.

Rules—Mr. Speaker, Chairman; Orth, Robeson, Randall, Blackburn.

Mileage—Jorgensen, Chairman; Rich, Ward, Cobb, Moulton.

Elections—Calkins, Chairman; Hazelton, Wait, Thompson, Ranney, Ritchie, Pettibone, Miller, Paul, Beltzhoover, Jones.

Judiciary—Reed, Chairman; Willetts, Robinson, Briggs, Humphrey, Taylor, McCook, Kasson, Norcross, Nott, Hammond, Culberson, Guenther, Townshend (Ill.).

Agriculture—Valentine, Chairman; Updegraff, Carpenter, Anderson, Gottschalk, Wadsworth, Hoe, West, Cullen, Hazelton, Hatch, Dibrill, Aiken, Black, Poel.

Postoffices and Post Roads—Bingham, Chairman; Anderson, Jorgenson, Lacey, Farwell, Morey, Springer, Money, Evans, Armfield, Beenta.

Public Buildings and Grounds—Shallenberger, Chairman; Lewis, Cutts, Dezouth, Scranton, Ford, Smith, Cook, Hewitt, Singleton, Herbert.

Mines and Mining—Van Voorhis, Chairman; Davis, Bingham, Fulkerson, Hobbs, Calkins, Young, Cassidy, Berry, Wood, Brumm, Oury.

Manufactures—Campbell, Chairman; Hammond, Mills, Gottschalk, West, Chase, Finley, Marsh, Morse, Stockslager.

Mississippi River Improvements—Thomas, Chairman; Carpenter, Prescott, Darrell, Rice, Moore (Tenn.), Jones, Burroughs, King, Thompson, Guenther, Carty, Whitthorne.

Foreign Affairs—Williams (Wis.), Chairman; Orth, Kasson, Rice, Dunnell, Ford, Walker, Blount, Wilson, Deuster, Belmont.

Coinage, Weights and Measures—Fisher, Chairman; Belford, McClure, Lackey, Washburn, Payson, Hamilton, Stevens, Singleton, Blade, Luna.

Commerce—Page, Chairman; Rich, Townsend, Washburn, Hoar, Chandler, Ward, White, George, Guenther, Laing, Ross, Herndon.

Naval Affairs—Harris (Mass.), Chairman; Robeson, Harmer, Thomas, Watson, Ketcham, Dezendorf, Morris, Davison, Talbot, Harris (N. J.).

Military Affairs—Henderson, Chairman; Hiscock, Bayne, Steele, Davis, Spaulding, Spooner, Sparks, Upson, Bragg, Wheeler, McGinnis.

Invalid Pensions—Brown (Ind.), Chairman; Joyce, Cullen, Ray, Dawes, Pettibone, Parker, Rice, Wadsworth, Matson, Caldwell, Simonton, Cadwell, Latham, McMillan.

Interior Department Expenditures—Hubbel, Chairman; Crapo, Wood (N. Y.), Schulz, Simonton, Blanchard, Burroughs (Mo.).

Navy Department Expenditures—Robeson, Chairman; Harris (Mass.), Harmer, Neal, Morris, Phelps, Turner.

Public Expenditures—Randall (Pa.), Chairman; Blackburn, Walker, A. Wood, DeMotte, Lewis, Ladd, Fulkerson, Martin, Guenther, Berry.

District of Columbia—Neal, Chairman; Heilman, Barr, Urner, Smith (N. Y.), Pierce, Dezendorf, Clotz, Garrison, Cassidy, Allen.

Pensions—Marsh, Chairman; Hepburn, Rice, Stone, Steele, Weber, Fulkerson, Hewitt, Cox, Robinson, Burroughs (Mich.).

Railroads and Canals—Townsend (Ohio), Chairman; Dwight, Henderson, Campbell, Schultz, Lord, Brewer, Kenna, Hoblitzell.

Civil Service—Orth, Chairman; Kasson, Horr, Briggs, Neal, Hubbell, Butterworth, House, Randall, Tucker, Phelps.

Territories—Burroughs, Chairman; Aldrich, Van Voorhis, Miller, Dawes, Crowley.

Postoffice Department Expenditures—Cannon (Ill.), Chairman; Walker, Pound, Farwell, Reagan, Tilghman, Ladd.

Law for the Election of President and Vice President—Updegraff, Chairman; Camp, Crapo, White, Fisher, Jacobs, Lindsey, Stevens, Morrison, Carlisle, Hewitt.

Pensions, Bounty and Back-Pay—Joyce, Chairman; Brown, Lindsey, Houk, Whitthorne, Curtin, Mosgrove.

War Department Expenditures—Briggs, Chairman; Miles, Steele, Marsh, Blackburn, Jones (Texas), Sparks.

Enrolled Bills—Aldrich, Chairman; Pearce, West, Shellabarger, Kellogg, Warner, Belmont.

Consuls—Prescott, Chairman; Sherman, Tyler, Bain, Fulkerson, McCord, Pearce, Cox, Colburn (Mass.), Tilghman.

Indian Affairs—Deering, Chairman; Rice, Mason, Spaulding, Buck, Richardson, Hooker, Scales, Welborn, Blanchard, Ainsley.

Revision of Laws—McKinley, Chairman; Robinson, Buck, George, Brumm, Hall, Chadwin, Covington, Richardson, Jones, McMillan.

Accounts—Urner, Chairman; Skinner, Brew, Caulder, Morton, Hardy, Houk.

Patents—Young, Chairman; Skinner, Farwell, Jones, Spooner, Vance, Turner, Scoville, Bisbey.

Claims—Crowley (N. Y.), Chairman; Taylor, Bowman, Mason, Thompson, Ray, Peel, Hill, Smith (Ill.), Mills, Hutchinson, Turner, Clarke, Otis.

Public Lands—Pond, Chairman; Belford, Hepburn, Dwight, Watson, Straight, Rice, Cobb, Foster, Muhler.

Militia—Strait, Chairman; Reine, Houk, Morey, Guenther, Valentine, Thompson, Musgrove, Jones (Texas).

Pacific Railways—Hazelton, Chairman; Harmer, Camp, Robinson (Ohio), Hammond, Paul, Darrell, Farwell, McKenzie, Bliss, House, Dunnell, Dolan.

Private Land Claims—Patchoco, Chairman; Norcross, Hazelton, Cornell, Morey, Cutts, Mullrow, Williams, Ford, Shackleford, Houk.

War Claims—Houk, Chairman; Updegraff (Iowa), Smith, Danney, Nodmen, Hall, Robertson, Geddes, Holman, Barber, Chapman.

Treasury Expenditures—Belford, Chairman; Reed, Holman, Scranton, Thornton, Buckner, Curtin.

Expenditures of the Department of State—Deering, Chairman; Lindsley, Barran, Williams (Wis.), Herndon, King, Frost.

Department of Justice Expenditures—Willets, Chairman; McCord, Norcross, Neal, Singleton, Brunt, Bragg.

Public Buildings Expenditures—Errett, Chairman; Robinson (Ohio), Houk, Grant, Wise, Garrison, Lanham.

Patents.

New Illinois patents: James M. Blackman, Chicago, ventilator wheel or fan; J. W. Blogett, Chicago, loop and lockstich sewing machine; James Brady, Dixon, cultivator; C. B. Brainard, Joliet, frame for supporting and stretching woven-wire mattresses; J. Burton, Geneva, manufacturing sized paper; G. E. Buschick, Chicago, boiler furnace; D. Carskden, Chicago, machine for separating ores; L. W. Craney, Chicago, convertible table and bed; Thomas H. Hodge, De Kalb, barbed fence-wire; S. Elliott and T. B. Jeffery, Chicago, sewing-machine; C. D. Field, Chicago, magazine-stove; P. W. Gates, Chicago, machine for breaking stone and crushing ores; W. W. Giles, Chicago, drilling-machine; W. Hayden, Chicago, needle-bar for sewing-machines; N. W. Holt, Chicago, dust-collector; A. J. Hull, Sterling, pump; James W. McDonough, Chicago, telephone; B. Phelps, Moline, corn-planter; B. Phelps, Moline, check-row corn-planter and check-knob for corn-planter; J. N. Seem, Macomb, clock-calendar; P. H. and T. A. Sprague, Cornell, pump-plunger; D. Sprecher, Richview, nut-lock; J. E. Stoetzel, Peru, hearse and coffin barrow; L. M. Summerfield, Mattoon, carpet-stretcher; L. M. Summerfield, Mattoon, shirt; D. C. Thompson, Chicago, bellows; James Thompson, Chicago, box-joint for sewer-pipes; J. A. Thompson, Chicago, boot and shoe strap; K. Tysdal, Lee, mitten; D. F. Van Liew, Aurora, grain-car door; C. Wahl, Chicago, vacuum-pan; A. Wemple, Chicago, machine for cutting grain; G. L. Williams and H. Rundle, Edwardsville, billiard-cue.

Grangers in Council.

The annual meeting of the Michigan State Grange was held at Lansing. Three hundred and fifty-two subordinate granges are represented by the delegates present. Grand Master Cyrus G. Luce, in his annual address urged united and persistent work to secure legislation, both State and national, to protect the farmers against patent-wrights swindlers and railroad extortion.

The State Grange of Indiana held its annual session at Indianapolis, with over 100 delegates. The report of the Secretary, J. H. Walker, shows that the total membership in the State is about 7,000 divided among 300 lodges. The report of the Treasurer, J. P. Oliphant, for the past year, shows: Receipts, $5,283.55; disbursements, $2,588.61; balance on hand, $2,984.89. Aaron Jones, Master, in his annual report, called attention to the blank memorials sent to each grange by the Secretary, to be filled out and sent to Congress, urging a national freight-regulating statute. He also urged the necessity for scholastic and agricultural education, and advised that mutual benefit and fire associations, for the exclusive benefit of the granges, be organized. Gov. Porter delivered an address. A strong anti-monopoly resolution was offered, and unanimously passed, declaring that the Grange would support no man of whatever party who was pledged to or would support monopolies.

Had Done Two Things.

While 5-year-old Fred was in the country last summer he developed a great fondness for collecting "specimens," which term was made to include any bright bit of rock or shell he came across. One afternoon when his grandfather had taken him to the beach and Fred had accumulated a number of treasures, the youngster on reaching home remarked, with a patronizing air: "There, grandpa, I've done two things this afternoon; I've got my specimens and I've amused you."

UNCLE REMUS says the mellow apple that drops on the ground without any shaking is most too willing.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

Secretary Blaine's Letter to Minister Lowell—A Document Which Made the British Lion Lash His Tail.

The letter of Secretary Blaine to Minister Lowell, explaining the position of this Government in reference to a modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, dated at the State Department, Nov. 19, 1881, and transmitted to Congress by the President on the 15th inst., in response to a resolution of the Senate, is a lengthy and comprehensive document. It is couched in plain, straightforward language, with but little of the flavor of diplomacy about it. It was intended solely for the instruction of Minister Lowell and not for the public eye, and Mr. Lowell is expressly notified that, unless requested to do so by Lord Granville, the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, he is not to furnish him with a copy, the reason being that the foreign policy of Great Britain is discussed in it in a manner not altogether complimentary.

In the letter Mr. Blaine declares that the conditions under which the Clayton-Bulwer treaty were made have long since ceased to exist, and can never be reproduced. The development of the Pacific States has created new duties and responsibilities for our Government, and to the proper discharge of these duties a modification of the treaty is necessary. In reference to the Panama canal, it says that it would be no more unreasonable for the United States to demand a share in the Suez canal fortifications, or their neutralization, than for England to make demand for the perpetual neutralization of the Panama canal. Mr. Blaine takes occasion to reaffirm the Monroe doctrine, and suggests the following modifications in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty: That every part which forbids the United States fortifying the canal and holding political control over it in connection with the United States of Colombia be canceled; that every part in which Great Britain and the United States agreed to make no acquisition of territory in Central America shall remain in force; that the United States will not object to maintain the clause referring to the establishment of a free port at each end of the canal, if England desires that provision retained; and that the provision by which the two Governments agree to a joint protectorate of whatever railroad or canal may be constructed be considered obsolete. The letter closes with the statement that the United States will make joint proclamation with the country in which the canal is located that it shall be open in time of peace to the commerce of every country, but in time of war will be impartially closed to war-vessels of all nations.

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

THERE is very general dissatisfaction among Congressmen at the make-up of the Congressional committees. The Western Representatives say that the East has received the most important Chairmanships, and the lion's share of the good committees. The New York men are angry because New York is not represented on the Commerce Committee, and the Southern members say that their section as not had sufficient recognition.

SEVERAL persons were recently arrested in St. Petersburg, and oranges containing dynamite were found on their persons.... The income of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts has been reduced by £75,000 on account of her recent marriage.

Guiteau, Dorsey & Co.

The embarrassment under which the President suffers, because of the character of a couple of men who claim to have made him, is grimly portrayed by a Washington correspondent. Dorsey carried Indiana. Guiteau swore: "I think a great deal of President Arthur; I made him President." "But Guiteau is in court, and very likely to hang for making Arthur President, while Dorsey is threatened with the penitentiary for his manner of scraping money together to make Arthur Vice President. There probably never was an administration so embarrassed about its paternity. It is a case of etiquette not provided for in Mrs. Admiral Dahlgren's able work on that subject, nor is it laid down in the rules for governing the elevator in the war and navy offices. It must be a tough thing on the President to contemplate the probability of having to decide which of the two made him—Dorsey or Guiteau. There can be no question of identity. Mr. Arthur has formally acknowledged Dorsey at that banquet, and Guiteau has admitted the promotion under oath. It can not be charged that Dorsey was insane when he was distributing the small bills of the Indiana campaign—$1 and $2 bills—nor has he pleaded insanity as an offset to the star-route frauds. Yet it will be a bad day for party discipline and boss rule when a President of the United States rewards his most conspicuous political friends by hanging them and clapping them into the penitentiary, instead of giving them office as is customary. True, there is more room in Hades and the penitentiary than in the civil service, but the example might frighten off a good deal of boss support. The question is: What is to be done with the stalwart firm of President-makers—Guiteau, Dorsey & Co.?"—Chicago Times

National Health Bulletin.

The National Board of Health bulletin makes the following death-rate of leading cities in every 1,000 inhabitants:

FOREIGN CITIES.
Montreal	27	Edinburgh	22
Victoria	32	Bremen	17
Curacoa (W. I.)	38	Munich	30
Aspinwall	59	Dresden	27
Acapulco	13.4	Vienna	24
Vera Cruz	85	Warsaw	29
Rio de Janeiro	29	St. Petersburg	38
Dublin	21	Alexandria	44
Belfast	20	Bombay	28
Cork	17
AMERICAN CITIES.
New York	29	Cincinnati	19.6
Brooklyn	22.7	Dayton	18.8
Philadelphia	20	Cleveland	26.1
[illegible]	24	Indianapolis	14.8
Cambridge	15	Richmond, Ind.	24.6
Portland	15.4	Evansville	14.8
Bangor	28	Chicago	24.8
Pittsburgh	26	Peoria	17.8
Dist. of Columbia	27	Aurora	13.2
Wilmington, N. C.	30	Jacksonville	9.6
Charleston	39	Elgin	6
Augusta	26	Moline	26.1
Mobile	25.6	Rock Island	32.6
Richmond, Va.	42.5	Lake	8.8
Norfolk	21.4	Quincy	14.4
Jacksonville	6.5	Milwaukee	16.1
New Orleans	26.9	Minneapolis	34.8
Shreveport	33.2	East Saginaw	8.3
Baton Rouge	29	Flint	12.4
Galveston	28.1	Davenport	14.3
San Antonio	41.1	St. Louis	24.1
Nashville	18	Kansas City	9.8
Memphis	40.3	Omaha	15.4
Knoxville	19.1	Lawrence	6.1
Louisville	24.9

"This butter, Mr. Spicer," said the dealer, "carried off the prize at the farmer's fair;" and Seth spat out a taste of the compound, and remarked, "Unless the prize was a ship's anchor and chain cable, I should think the butter could have carried it off easily."

POLITICAL economy—buying a vote for twenty-five cents, when the voter wanted a dollar for it.

GREAT truths are never hard to understand.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1881.

SENATOR VOORHEES.

His Answer to the Recommendations of Secretary Folger—He Believes the Silver Dollar Cured Us of the Terrible Panic of 1873, and if the Goldbugs Could Strangle Silver Currency, They Would Bring the Hard Times Back—Shall the People Trust Themselves to the Mercies of the Bankers?

In the Senate of the United States, Dec. 16, Mr. Voorhees' resolution, referring to the Finance Committee parts of the President's message relating to a repeal of the laws authorizing silver coinage and the issue of silver certificates, was taken up and that Senator addressed the Senate. He referred to the financial distress of the country during five years prior to 1879 and following the act demonetizing silver, and said that, while this distress was not due to that legislation, the act was a potent factor in the general scheme for the contraction of money and the consequent overthrow of business property. It was one of several kindred measures designed to the same evil, and looking to the benefit of the money-lending usurers engaged in making money scarce and dear, the rate of interest high, wages low, and the times hard for all but bond and mortgage holders. The law of the Democratic Congress, in 1878, restoring the silver circulation by means of certificates and coin, broke the nightmare spell of financial prostration and quickened the vitality of every business enterprise. It gave positive assurance of a much-needed gradual increase of our circulating medium. Everybody could then know how much was coming, and at what rate, and could prepare for business accordingly. None of the vehement prognostications of evil then made against the use of silver money had been verified. The capricious exercise by the different Secretaries of the Treasury of the vast and dangerous power of contracting the currency and tightening the money market at the instance of the national banks, who would have driven out the circulation of all kinds of money but their own, in order that they might have the whole financial field and all its profits to themselves, together with the demonetization of silver, more than all other causes combined, created and continued the panic of 1873. The act of May 31, 1878, prohibited greenback money from being touched, and the treasury was thereby told to let the greenback circulation alone at the amount then outstanding. The answer to the cry that the greenback cause was a failure is given in the fact that the amounts of greenbacks in circulation in 1878 and 1881 respectively are exactly the same. That cause had achieved a great and important victory, for the greenback currency remained a steadfast, undeviating and honored one. Beside the act of securing the greenback from further molestation, a subsequent step making it receivable for import duties raised it to a par with gold, and there it has remained ever since. By these measures the currency has been reasonably expanded by the use of silver, and our entire circulation rendered stable and uniform in value, and to this was due the business prosperity of the country. It had been accomplished against the avowed hostility and the active energy of a Republican administration. Under the act of Feb. 28, 1878, about $92,000,000 of legal-tender silver money has been coined, and silver certificates to the amount of $66,663,800, based, dollar for dollar, on that amount of coin now in the treasury, and pledged for their redemption. These certificates are in the pockets of the people, performing all the offices of money in daily business.

It was deliberately proposed to retire more than $66,000,000 and destroy it, and the consequence of this could be imagined. The bare proposition to contract and disturb the currency at this time would create disorder and panic. But Congress is wiser than the Executive Department, and will pay no heed to this recommendation. In asking authority over the silver coinage and discretion to coin much or little, or none at all, the Secretary's obvious object is to drive silver entirely out of circulation. The Secretary complains that $66,000,000 of coin is in the vaults and will not circulate, although great efforts have been made to that end, and yet he also makes the statement that $66,000,000 of par paper money, based on this very coin, is in circulation in every State in the Union. The Secretary's report shows a silver circulation, in round numbers, of $100,000,000 — $66,000,000 in certificates, $34,000,000 in coin. What, then, can be thought of his candor and intelligence in trying to leave the impression that silver money is a drug and a failure, and that the people don't want it? This assault upon $100,000,000 of currency on a special basis will be met by the country and its authors sternly rebuked. The source of the inspiration for it is apparently the Secretary, who, as the mouthpiece of the banks and to quiet the fear of the public mind of destructive financial contraction, says in his report: "There need be no apprehension of a too limited paper circulation. The national banks are ready to issue their notes in such quantity as the laws of trade demand; and as security therefor the Government will hold an equivalent in its own bonds." With supreme, and he (Voorhees) might say insolent complacency, the entire control of the supply and circulation of the currency is handed over, in a few words, to the care of moneyed corporations whose tenderest mercies are legalized cruelty and multiplied usuries. The country is to depend on the generosity of the banks for its supply of money. Men neither qualified by knowledge, unselfishness nor breadth of views to pass upon the wants of labor and of active business are average national bankers. The banks desire to destroy silver and greenbacks, so that their fabulous profits may be extended over the entire currency of the country. An average of not less than $17,000,000 per year is received by the banks in interest on Government bonds, pledged for circulation; and for eighteen years this has aggregated over $300,000,000, which the people have had to pay for the blessings of bank money. Add to this the profits of the banks on their circulation and deposits, and they have received from the pockets of the people since their creation enough gains to pay off at least two-thirds of the national debt; and all this simply for our privilege of receiving through their hands a little more than one-third of our currency, of no better quality than other currencies for whose circulation there was no tax. Was this such a showing as would induce Congress to abandon the whole financial question to the banks?

Why will they not learn wisdom, and forbear their greedy and repulsive demands? We have heard, here and elsewhere, many earnest admonitions against financial legislation. Who have been the agitators? Those who make new, avaricious, and arrogant demands each session of Congress, or those who stand here to resist encroachment and oppression upon the rights and labor of the people? Mr. Voorhees charged that every financial agitation from March, 1869, changing the contract under which bonds were to be paid to the present hour have been forced upon Congress by an insatiate, relentless demand by the banks and owners of bonds for unrighteous privileges and powers. People were weary and alarmed at their persistent agitation of the business of the country to promote their own selfish ends, and, if they persisted, he knew it was only a question of time when the people would turn and render them powerless. He would commend the history of the downfall of the United States Bank half a century ago to the present associated banks and their official friends in high places. He then quoted from the Philadelphia papers of that day, descriptive of the popular indignation attending the closing of that institution.

The resolution was agreed to.

CHANDLER ON HAYES.

How the Michigan Stalwart Used to Denounce the Fraudulent President.

[From the Boston Post.]

Zach Chandler was a profane man, and, in his own forcible phrase, "the Hayes crowd was pizen" to him. It is unnecessary to make any further allusion to this questionable habit, except to say that when he is quoted the reader may lard the conversation at his pleasure. The listener to whom Mr. Chandler made proclamation of his hopes and intentions had brought a message to the Senator from Mr. Hayes. The message was to the effect that Mr. Hayes desired closer communion with the stalwarts. He had announced to a friend, who had given the message to him, who now delivered it to Mr. Chandler, that he saw no reason for any difference between the stalwarts and himself; that, while he recognized the fact that the same forces in the Republican party which put them out put him in, he had never used the power of his administration against them. Since he had been elected President, Logan, and Carpenter, and Chandler had all come back into public life without any opposition from him or his administration. He hoped they could be friends.

The message was delivered. Then the old man broke forth. He was almost white with rage, as he walked back and forth in the little room. When he found his voice he shouted: "Hayes is the most wonderful liar I ever saw! He lies all the time and on every subject!"

Then, loosening his necktie and gathering himself up for a discourse that he intended should go down to posterity, he told the story of how Hayes once tried to use him, on the pretence that he wanted to be friends with the stalwarts, somewhat as follows: "Don't tell me anything more that comes from that liar! I know him as no one else knows him! I know him through and through. Why, I made him President of the United States, and every man, woman and child in the United States, except Hayes, knows that. He is an ungrateful, cowardly liar!" and the old man's wrath almost choked him. He went on: "Why, when his administration began I went to him and told him that, if he would send Christiancy down to Peru, nothing in God's world could stop my coming back to the Senate, and I wanted to be on at least equal terms with a Republican President as a Confederate Senator would be. 'Oh, my dear Mr. Chandler,' said Hayes, 'is that what you want? How excellent a thing it is that you have come to me in this friendly—may I say brotherly—way. I love the stalwarts as I do my own people, and nothing would so fill my heart with gladness as to have in the Senate some such stalwart as you for a friend. You could do so much toward making the factions come together into a more fraternal union.' 'Is that all you want?' said I," and the old man roared after his wont. "'Well, I'll fix that right off.'

"'How can you fix it?' said Mr. Hayes. 'I'll fix it; you leave it to me.'

"'But how can you?' said he. 'Give me a dinner party,' said I. 'You'll invite twenty and I'll invite twenty, and we'll arrange it over a glass of wine. Oh, you needn't be afraid; I'll pay all the bills. It won't cost you anything. You just invite your twenty and I'll give you a list of my twenty.'

"Well, I went away, and Mr. Hayes never had the dinner party. I was elected Senator, and Confederate Senators had a good deal more influence at the White House than I ever did. Once only I heard from that dinner. One night I was sitting in my room and Evarts came in. I didn't know what business he could have with me, and I waited to hear. We talked about the weather and passed the time of day, and the chat got very dull, when Evarts cleared his throat once or twice and finally stammered out: 'We'—the fellows always said we, as though they were afraid to stand alone—'We have come to the conclusion not to have that dinner as you suggested, but I'll give one.'

"'Well, I don't care how it's given,' said I; 'all I care for is to do it. You can give the dinner or I will. I don't care so long as it's given.'

"Evarts went away, and I never heard of the dinner again. Hayes thought he could keep us along and make us stand by him by lying to us and pretending that he wanted to be friends."

The old man told other stories on this interesting occasion. Among other things, he told how Hayes came to veto the Army bill. Chandler had taken Mr. Christiancy's place during the winter of 1879, and was present at the extra session, during which what was known as the political legislation was under consideration. He was the loud-voiced champion of the retention of all extreme measures that had been put on the statute books during the war and during the period of reconstruction. He was then, as always, the incarnation of stalwart Republicanism. And then, as always, Hayes was very weak and very untrustworthy. It was generally believed up to the last moment that he would sign the bill restricting, as it did, the use of troops at the polls. The stalwarts were in a frenzy. They looked upon such a course as a base surrender to the Democrats. They regarded it as giving up some of the dear-bought fruits of the war. The rumors that Mr. Hayes would sign the bill spread until, on the night of the 20th of April, Chandler made up his mind that he would compel the President to veto it. Mr. Hayes was still keeping up the pretence that he desired the friendship of Mr. Chandler and the other stalwarts, and so Mr. Chandler took advantage of his friendly status and drove around to the White House at midnight. There he made speech after speech to the mild-mannered man for whose projected dinner party he was to pay. They were like the speeches that he bellowed out in the Senate, admitting that he believed in the necessity of blood-letting when the war began. He proposed to sit up with Hayes until a veto message had been signed. "I was going to stay by him," he said, "and if he had gone to bed I'd have got into the same bed." The end was that Hayes signed the veto message, and the Army bill failed to become a law.

Hour after hour was consumed by the excited and angry Senator in laying bare Hayes' duplicity. He denounced him for almost every political crime on the calendar, and, among other things, for his hypocrisy about spending money for campaign purposes.

"Of course he spent money," he roared, "but he used mine. I didn't believe in his cant about purity and all that, for he begged me for money for himself, and I gave him $27,000 to be spent in his own State. What do you think of that? Taking money from the outside to be used in his own State! Did you ever hear of meanness greater than that? But I made him send for the money over his own signature, and I have got the letter now. I made the drafts, too, payable to his order. He'd better not deny all this history, for I've got the drop on him. He knows better than to make an issue with me on that subject. I'll let daylight into the transactions of that campaign if he does. He got my money and used it. I never refused money to anybody who would do the Republican party any good with it; and the campaign cost me a good deal of hard money. When I got through and figured up I was out $37,000. And then, what do you think? Some months afterward the treasurer of the committee came to me with bills for odds and ends. About $4,000 was due, and I told him to go to Hayes. I had done enough for him, and he might pay his own bills in the future. Well, they went to Hayes." Here the old man stopped and laughed till his face grew red and the tears streamed down his cheeks. Several times he started to go on, but the laughter choked him. "Why," he continued, "what do you suppose he did then? Did he pay it? You don't know Hayes. No, sir; the civil-service reformer, this ranting author of Order No. 1, directed that an order should be issued to the clerks of the departments to the effect that they must pay up their political assessments. He did, actually, and the order was printed, and we had to get in our work pretty fast to stop it. I had to pay that $4,000 with the rest."

This is a sample of the way Zach Chandler talked about the man he made President of the United States. Mr. Chandler did not hesitate to talk among the friends of Mr. Hayes in just this way. Perhaps this may explain why Mr. Hayes refused to purchase a copy of "The Life of Zachariah Chandler."

HENRY L. NELSON.

INDIANA NEWS.

PINKEYE is very bad among the horses of Fort Wayne.

A SON of Richard Jackson, of Lawrence county, was kicked to death by a horse.

A VICIOUS boar, belonging to Frank Ray, of Montgomery county, killed a $150 horse by goring him with its tusks.

THE New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad has been graded, and is ready for the ties and rails through Kosciusko county.

A CHILD of F. M. Goby, 2 years old, living near Logansport, was crushed to death by a wood pile tumbling down upon it.

WALTER E. SAVAGE has been awarded $3,000 damages from the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railroad for being put off a train at Aboite, Allen county, while drunk.

MRS. JAMES EPSEY, a most estimable lady, of Rising Sun, died the other day, of lock-jaw, caused by a wound received in her face while taking up flowers in her garden.

TWO MORMON priests have been secretly working for some months in the vicinity of West Lebanon, and the result is said to be twenty-two converts, most of whom will soon go to Utah.

POLICY holders in the Northern Marriage Dowry Association, at Muncie, were bled the other day $168 a head to meet matured policies. The marriage dowry business is growing too heavy, and a crash is anticipated.

THE clothing of Mrs. Ralph Prosser, of Huron, Lawrence county, took fire from a stove burning her body from her ankles to her shoulders. When she discovered her clothing on fire she ran out of the house and crossed the creek twice and, strange to say, never thought of lying down in the water.

THE saloon of John Cawley, at Bainbridge, Putnam county, was entered at night by burglars, who, after robbing the till of several dollars, wasted all the liquors on the floor, broke up the furniture, defaced the pictures, and turned the whole institution into a total wreck. This is the second time the saloon has been demolished within a year.

A SALOON-KEEPER of Cloverdale, Putnam county, named Hart, took an ounce of laudanum with suicidal intent. After a night of work by the physician his life was saved. Hart is a young man, and only recently embarked in the liquor business. His conscience condemned him so strongly that he sought to atone for his sin by taking his own life.

THE Indiana State Board of Health published an order forbidding any person to enter any public or private school, either as pupils or teachers, after the 1st of January, until they have been successfully vaccinated. The order also requires all persons who shall come into the State to be vaccinated within sixty days after date of arrival in the State.

BENJAMIN SINGLETON and Smith Call brothers-in-law, got into an altercation, near their homes, eight miles from Greencastle, over an old feud in regard to a partition fence. Call stabbed Singleton several times in the side, giving him injuries that are pronounced fatal.

THE annual report of the managers of the State Female Reformatory shows that there are forty-five prisoners in the penal department, and 143 in the reformatory; average number, 187; deaths during the year, one; expenditures, $26,052.28. The claim is made that 75 per cent. of the inmates have been reclaimed from evil ways, and that the institution throughout is in superb condition.

GEN. JOHN S. SIMONSON, who died lately at New Albany, was the oldest regular soldier in the United States. He served as a volunteer in the war of 1812, served through the Mexican war, took part in the Indian wars up to 1861, and served through the war for the Union. In 1865, on the recommendation of Gen. Grant, he was breveted Brigadier General for long and faithful service, and was afterward placed on the retired list. At the time of his death he was 85 years of age.

THE annual report of the Auditor of State, after the usual recommendations, makes the following financial exhibit: Balance in treasury Oct. 31, 1880, $885,865.37; net cash receipts during the year, $3,281,877.69; total of receipts and balance, $4,167,743.06. Net cash disbursements during the year, $3,427,092.34; cash balance chargeable against the treasury, Oct. 31, 1881, $740,650.72. The receipts of the new State House funds up to date are $266,465.17, and the disbursements $191,534.40. The principal items of expense of the State charged to the general fund during the last year were as follows: Circuit Judges, salaries, $103,471.43; Insane Hospital maintenance, $210,384.83; Deaf and Dumb Asylum, $59,522.30; Blind Asylum, $27,548.32; Northern Prison, $81,504.52; Southern Prison, $80,249.10; House of Refuge, $40,000; interest on non-negotiable bonds, $234,286.99.

THE lady who uses her husband's meerschaum pipe to drive tacks with is no gentleman.

A ST. LOUIS woman has earned a national reputation as a maker of boxing-gloves.

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.

Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

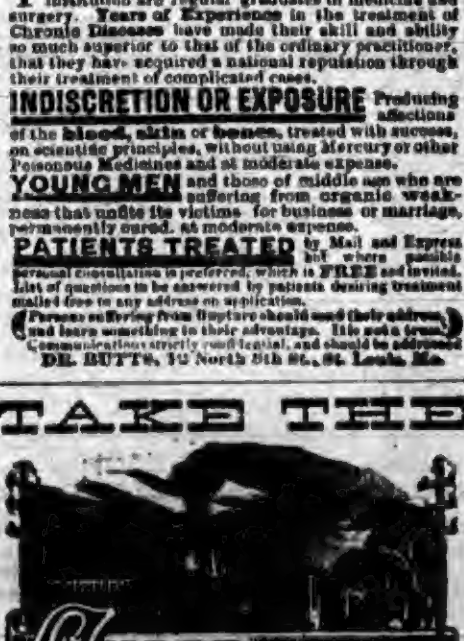
INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

(Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss.) Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE



THE GREAT
BURLINGTON ROUTE.

No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition.

Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhea, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.

Sold by F. E. Davenport.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

Sold by all Druggists.

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague influences known to the world.

The only effective cure for all Affections of the Kidneys, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE

But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, invigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

Its highest commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH

A large sized paper descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to

THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails, is easy to take, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

PROVED A SUCCESS

THE PASTILLE
Prof. Harris' Radical Cure
Trade Mark
FOR
NERVOUS DEBILITY

BY YEARS OF USE!

A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Gland, that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease pervades the human organism. The use of the Pastille is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded to be the most rational means yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month,) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases,) $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by

HARRIS REMEDY CO. MFG. CHEMISTS,
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons!

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had suffered from weakness for 8 years past.

Iowa, Oct. 10th, '79.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 29, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

From a Physician and Surgeon.

Missouri, June 22.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering, and I think another will set him all right.

From a Druggist.

Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 3 box.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE Minneapolis

MINNESOTA
WISCONSIN
IOWA
COUNCIL BLUFFS
OMAHA
ATCHISON
Leavenworth
KANSAS CITY
MISSOURI
ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

At ENGLEWOOD, with the L. S. & M. S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.

At WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, with P., C. & St. L. R. R.

At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.

At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.

At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.

At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.

At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.

At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.

At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R. R.

At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)

At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C. B. and Q. R. Rds.

At KEOKUK, with Tol., Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L., Keo. & N. W. R. Rds.

At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.

At ATCHISON, with Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe; Atch. & Neb., and Cen. Br. U. P. R. Rds.

At LEAVENWORTH, with Union Pac. and Kan. Cent. R. Rds.

At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

For information not obtainable at your home office, address,

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.

E. ST. JOHN,
General Ticket and Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Wonderful Power.

When a medicine performs such cures as Kidney-Wort is constantly doing, it may truly be said to have wonderful power. A carpenter in Montgomery, Vt., had suffered for eight years from the worst of kidney diseases, and had been wholly incapacitated for work. He says, "One box made a new man of me, and I sincerely believe it will restore to health all who are similarly afflicted." It is now sold in both liquid and dry form.—[Danbury News.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 43-tf.

KIDNEY WORT

DOES WONDERFUL CURES! WHY?

Because it acts on the LIVER, BOWELS and KIDNEYS at the same time.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary Diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Disorders and Female Complaints.

SEE WHAT PEOPLE SAY:

Eugene B. Stork, of Junction City, Kansas, says, Kidney-Wort cured him after regular Physicians had been trying for four years.

Mrs. John Arnall, of Washington, Ohio, says her boy was given up to die by four prominent physicians and that he was afterwards cured by Kidney-Wort.

M. M. B. Goodwin, an editor in Chardon, Ohio, says he was not expected to live, being bloated beyond belief, but Kidney-Wort cured him.

Anna L. Jarrett of South Salem, N. Y., says that seven years suffering from kidney troubles and other complications was ended by the use of Kidney-Wort.

John B. Lawrence of Jackson, Tenn., suffered for years from liver and kidney troubles and after taking "barrels of other medicines," Kidney-Wort made him well.

Michael Coto of Montgomery Center, Vt., suffered eight years with kidney difficulty and was unable to work. Kidney-Wort made him "well as ever."

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form in tin cans, one package of which makes six quarts of medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for those that cannot readily prepare it.

It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

GET IT AT THE DRUGGISTS. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,

(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink,)

CONTAINS

HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION,

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE

All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and especially Female Complaints.

$1000 IN GOLD.

Will be paid for a case they will not cure or help, or for anything impure or injurious found in them.

Ask your druggist for Hop Bitters and try them before you sleep. Take no Other.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for Drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics.

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

All above sold by druggists.

Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y., & Toronto, Ont.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc. The Recipe used in my practice for 25 Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 426 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

SUFFERERS from Gleet and Gonorrhea, or ladies troubled with Whites, should by all means try

SANTINELI

It is a sure cure for LEUCORRHEA or WHITES, female disease

CURES GLEET AND GONORRHEA

In from 1 to 3 days without fail. Sold by all druggists. Price, $1.00 a bottle or sent by mail, on receipt of price to any part of U. S. GREAT WESTERN MEDICINE CO. 181 Central Avenue, CINCINNATI, O. Please mention this paper.

REED'S

GILT EDGE TONIC

IS A THOROUGH REMEDY

In every case of Malarial Fever, Fever and Ague and Dumb Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbances of the Animal Forces, which debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It should not be confounded with the triturated compounds of cheap spirits and essential oil, often sold under the name of Bitters.

For Sale by Druggists and General Dealers Everywhere.

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

PATENTS

We continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, etc., for the United States, Canada, Cuba, England, France, Germany, etc. We have had thirty-five years' experience.

Patents obtained through us are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. This large and splendid illustrated weekly paper, $3.20 a year, shows the Progress of Science, is very interesting, and has an enormous circulation. Address MUNN & CO., Patent Solicitors, Pub's. of SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, 37 Park Row, New York. Hand book about Patents free.

A Straight Answer Wanted.

One of the east-bound trains coming into Detroit the other day was heavily loaded, and a passenger who got on at Ypsilanti walked through the cars and finally halted at a seat occupied by a small man and a grab-bag, and inquired:

"Is this seat occupied?"

"Of course this seat is occupied," was the reply.

"Are both halves of this seat occupied?" was the next query.

"Of course both halves are occupied."

"Well, my friend," said the new arrival, as he let go of his sachel, "I want to bother you with one more query. Had you rather I would toss that grab-bag out of the window and sit down with you, or chuck you out and ride into Detroit with the grab-bag?"

The grab-bag man got mad at that, and wouldn't ride anywhere else except on the wood-box.

—An Iowa paper speaks of a couple who "were separated by a cold cloud of realism." This is a new name for the old man's boot.

—'Squire: "Got your eye in mourning again, I see, Pat." Pat: "Oi have; It's in mournin' for the batin' I gave that brute Rafferty this day."

—"Do you catch on?" asked the omnibus driver, as he swung his whip lash to the rear. "Yes, I tumble," answered the small boy as he rolled into the gutter.

—Top of the style: A young lady's hat blew off and was run over by a broad-wheeled cart. The ribbons were somewhat soiled, but the hat is now the very latest fall shape.

—Proud parent—"Why, Florence, my dear, how are you fixed up. Dressed for a party?" Dutiful daughter—"Yes, pa, but he hasn't come yet. Perhaps he won't to-night."

—"Something to eat?" Tramp: "Yes'm. But I don't want no quail, 'cause it's been aufal hard on 'em this winter, and they have had to feed on all sorts of pisen berries."

—We don't see why the revised edition won't suit a big percentage of the folks. It has just as handsome bindings, looks as well on a center table and is just as good to press leaves with.—Boston Post.

—"Can there be happiness where there is no love?" solemnly queries an author in a book on marriage. Not much happiness, perhaps, but if the girl is awfully rich, there can be lots of fun.

—According to the Boston Globe, Vennor applies a red-hot poker to the nose of his cat, and then predicts that "the spring will be backward." When little Vennor puts a tack on his chair, it will be early.

—What is home without a baby? Many children have coughs and colds just now and should have the greatest care, and a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup. Price twenty-five and fifty cents a bottle.

—Out of proportion: An Oil City man purchased a small hand bellows, took it home and told his wife he had concluded to blow his brains out; whereupon she replied that a smaller sized bellows would have answered the purpose better.

—A kind father: The father of a St. Louis bride presented his son-in-law with 80,000 head of cattle. "Papa, dear," exclaimed his daughter, when she heard of it, "That was so kind of you; Charley's awful fond of ox-tail soup."

—Numerical impossibility: "Mary says you can't come to see her any more," said a boy to his sister's admirer. "Why not?" "Because you come to see her every evening now, and how could you come any more.—Rome Sentinel.

—Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup takes the lead of all medicines for coughs, colds, asthma, sore throat and pulmonary complaints generally. Call on your druggist and try a bottle of it. Price only twenty-five and fifty cents. Sold by all druggists.

—An exceedingly fat gentleman had to travel by coach from Macon, in France, and, requiring more room than an ordinary passenger, sent his servant to book two places and pay for them. When he went to the office the next day to take his place, he found one seat had been booked inside and one out.

RATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 31, 1879.

GENTLEMEN:—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestion and general ability, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf.

—We are strongly disposed to regard that person as the best physician who does most to alleviate human suffering. Judged from this standard, Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western avenue, Lynn, Mass., is entitled to the front rank, for her Vegetable Compound is daily working wonderful cures in female diseases. Send for circular to the above address. 51-2w.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

THERE has been a ruling by the post office department, that will affect all, or nearly all newspaper men to a greater or less extent. All papers that issue supplements, can have them sent through the mails as second-class matter, only when the adversing they contain is paid for, at the same rate as that found in the body of the paper itself. To this, the publisher must make an affidavit.

FIVE or six hundred manufacturers recently met in New York city and called themselves a convention for the upbuilding of the tariff. Each manufacturer was in favor of some more tariff to protect his particular business. And while republicans are in majority, they are likely to keep up the high tariff. But should five millions of farmers go and ask for protection, they would go home empty handed.

ONE of the standard type of republican cranks, assaulted Postmaster Wildman, in Indianapolis the other day. Like all of his class, he wanted an office. His especial weakness was for a position as clerk in the Indianapolis post office. Not receiving much encouragement from Mr. Wildman, he threatened to draw a seven-shooter and said, "I have a great mind to snuff out your light." Wildman siezed a chair and drove him out. As he left, he said he would "go down to the governor's office and knock the sand off Porter's feet." But Porter was not in, so he missed his anticipated recreation.

No better illustration of the mismanagement of our government in regard to commercial and naval affairs could be given, than the statement that with all our vast wealth and resources, and with all our import and export business on the high seas, nearly all of our commerce is carried on by British vessels. The ruinous policy of the government has destroyed ship building and rendered ocean commerce either unprofitable or impossible. The merchant vessels owned by citizens of the United States, have a tonnage of about 400,000, while that of Great Britain is over 3,000,000, or seven and one half times as great as ours.

THE papers of St. Petersburg, Russia, have made a bitter attack on President Arthur, on account of his remarks in the message in regard to the hardships to which Jews are subjected in that country. It is apparent to every thinking person, that our friendly relations with Russia have had for their basis nothing more than the politeness with which we have always treated their tyrannical institution. Under Grant, it was not to be wondered at, that these Russian ideas should be tolerated as a part of that public opinion that he was supposed to mould, but as our people stop to consider the matter, it will soon appear how little that despotic government over the sea has in common with our notions of a proper form of government, or our ideas of personal liberty.

MANY are expressing the belief that Brewster, the new attorney general, is favorable to the star routers, and inclined to let them off easy. Then, too, there are certain members of congress from some of the southern states who think that most of the star routes should be kept up. They claim that Postmaster General James made a mistake when he tried to abolish them and give the business of carrying the mails entirely into the hands of the railroads. They say that where he clamed to have saved the government over two millions, he really lost over a million, by extra prices to railroads. All these things go to show that a determined effort will be made to let these swindlers off with as light a punishment as possible, or with none at all. And it is also to be remarked that these thieves still stand as high in their party as ever.

DURING the last congress, the democrats tried to pass a bill, and did finally pass one, to refund that portion of the debt that would soon come due, at 3 per cent. interest, and making it necessary for national banks, under certain conditions, to hold these three per cents. as security for their circulation, instead of those bearing a higher rate. Republican members opposed this reasonable scheme to lighten the burden of public taxation. The excuse they made for this course was, that it could not be funded at that rate of interest. They managed to defeat it, after it had received a majority in both houses, by using that willing tool, Hayes, who vetoed the bill. So, the debt falling due was largely refunded at three and one half per cent., thus imposing on the people a useless burden of one half per cent. And all this was done, evidently for no other purpose than to keep democrats from receiving the credit of refunding the debt at a better rate of interest. Now the republicans have a majority in both houses, and the first thing done is for Mr. John Sherman, one of the most bitter opponents of the democratic three per cent. bill, to introduce a bill, asking that future refunding be done at 3 per cent. It is the other man's ox that is to be fed this time. And in the meantime, the patient people have been paying their three and one half per cent, where by both parties it is now admitted that three per cent. only would have done.

New Meat Market

Opposite Hall's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers as he has a good Refrigerator, and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 8 to 9 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. tf

W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.,

Manufacturers of the

Best and Lightest-Running

Wagon

NOW IN THE MARKET

Nothing but first-class material is used, and consequently the work is warranted. Repairing of all kinds done promptly. Shop on south Main street, Auburn, Ind. 41 tf

CLOCKS.

WM. ELLERY
WALTHAM, MASS.

GOLD AND SILVER
WATCHES.

RODGERS & BROTHER'S

Plated Ware

SPOONS,
KNIVES,
AND FORKS,
RINGS,
VEST CHAINS,
CASTORS,

Necklaces, Ladies Gold Chains, and every thing in the jewelry line.

VIOLINS,
GUITARS,
ACCORDEONS.

Special attention given to repairing fine watches.

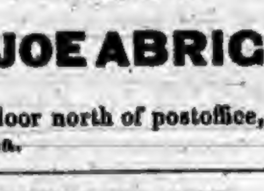
Work Warranted.

No charge for marking silverware sold at my store.

JOE ABRIGHT.

Second door north of postoffice, Auburn Indiana.

IMPROVE THE HOUR.



TRADE MARK.

GUENTHER'S LUNG HEALER

CURES CONSUMPTION,

Spitting of blood, Broncaitis, Asthma, Congestion and all diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Price 50 Cents and One Dollar.

GUENTHER & CO. PROPRIETORS

39 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburh, Pa.

A. Macready & Co., wholesale agents, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists.

WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the Best Machinery in the World for BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power! Book Free. Address LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION

SEND FOR CATALOGUE TO

LANDRETH'S SEEDS BY MAIL

DAVID LANDRETH & SONS. PHILA.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRANDON,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp.

Ft. Wayne & Jackson Railroad

SHORT LINE

For all points South, Southeast and Southwest including Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis Kansas, Texas and all points west.

SHORT LINE from all points in central and northern Michigan and Canada.

Direct Route to Baltimore and Washington via. Auburn Junction and the B. & O. R. R.

Time-Card takes effect Dec. 19, 188[illegible].

SOUTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Acc'm.
Lv. Bay City	3 35pm	7 00am	....
Saginaw	4 20	7 45	....
Lansing	6 15	10 22
Grand Rapids	10 30	5 40	11 50am
Detroit	9 50	7 00	4 00pm
Ann Arbor	11 17	8 40	5 20
Jackson Lv.	7 15am	12 00 m	7 00
Hanover	7 40	12 25pm	8 55
Jonesville	8 10	12 55	9 00
Bankers	8 30	1 10	9 23
Reading	8 42	1 23	9 55
Montgomery	8 55	1 42	10 25
Fremont	9 12	[illegible]	10 55
Angola	9 20	2 10	11 25
Pleasant Lake	9 40	2 30	11 45
Waterloo	10 02	2 52	12 35am
Auburn	10 12	3 02	7 25
Auburn Junction	10 17	3 25	8 50
Arrive Ft. Wayne	11 15	4 20	9 30
Indianapolis	5 20pm	10 50	4 30pm
Cincinnati	8 55		6 25
Louisville	10 15	7 25am	7 20
St. Louis	....	8 40	....
Washington	....	9 05pm	....
Baltimore	....	10 15	....
NORTH.	Ex.	Ex.	Acc'm.
Leave Baltimore	9 10am	....	8 10pm
Washington	10 20	....	9 27
St. Louis	6 40pm	....	7 50am
Louisville	....	6 00am
Cincinnati	9 00	7 25am	2 25pm
Indianapolis	4 30am	11 00	....
Ft. Wayne	11 45	3 00pm	1 00am
Arrive Auburn Junc.	12 45pm	6 00	3 00
Auburn	12 48	6 03	3 03
Waterloo	1 00	6 15	3 40
Pleasant Lake	1 18	6 37	4 25
Angola	1 30	7 05	5 05
Fremont	1 42	7 23	5 25
Montgomery	2 03	7 40	6 15
Reading	2 15	7 53	6 40
Bankers	2 27	8 05	7 05
Jonesville	2 42	8 20	7 35
Hanover	3 07	8 47	8 30
Jackson	3 40	9 22pm	9 25am
Ann Arbor	5 07	......	10 34
Detroit	6 30	11 40	11 50
Grand Rapids	10 30	7 30am	4 30pm
Lansing	5 2[illegible]	8 20	......
Saginaw	8 25	10 55	......
Bay City	9 20	11 50am	......

All trains daily except Sunday. Accommodation south from Waterloo Mondays, not Sundays.

CONNECTIONS.

JACKSON.—M. C.: east—12 40, 5 00, 7 15, 9 30 a. m., 3 45, 4 05, 9 25 p. m.; west—12 40, 5 50, 10 20 a. m., 12 15, 6 55, 11 05 p. m. M. C. A. L. west—10 25 a. m., 6 50 p. m. J. L. & S, 7 00 a. m., 4 15 p. m. G. R. V., 1 10, 8 35 a. m., 12 30, 6 50 p. m.

JONESVILLE.—L. S. & M. S., east 5 52 a. m., 2 28 p. m.; west 9 40 a. m., 12 50, 10 50 p. m.

BANKERS.—L. S. & M. S., east, leave, 2 50 p. m., freight train Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 7 40 a.m.; arrive at Bankers 12 00 m.; freight train Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 3 30 p.m.

WATERLOO.—L. S. & M. S. east, 2 50, 11 35 p. m.; west 2 15 a. m., 1 30 p. m.

AUBURN JUNCTION.—B. & O. east, 2 44 a. m., 3 20, 10 24 p. m.; west, 2 00 a. m., 12 45 p. m. W., St. L. & P.; east—7:31 a. m. 2:10 p. m.; west—11:06 am. m., 7:34 p. m.

FT. WAYNE.—Ft. Wayne, M. & C. leave 10 10 a. m., 5 20 p. m.; arrive 9 40 a. m., 4 50 p. m. W., St. L. & P. east, 7 00 a. m., 2 10, 7 36 p. m., west, 5 36, 10 40 a. m. 4 50 8 50 p. m. C. R. & Ft. W. leave 6 15 a. m., 2.00 p. m.; ar. 8 00, 7 15 p. m. P., Ft. W. & C, east, 5 50 a. m., 2 35, 8 10, 9 00, 11 41 p. m.; west 12 20, 6 00, a. m., 12 40, 6 40, 8 35 p. m.

Arrival and departure of trains shown above is by Chicago time, same as Ft. W. & J. road.

Through tickets to all principal points. For information as to routes and connections apply to

M. D. WOODFORD Gen'l Supt.
H. BROMLEY Gen'l Fr't. & Pass'r. Agent

Baltimore & Ohio R. R

CHICAGO DIVISION.

IN EFFECT FROM DECEMBER 18, 1881.

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	N. Y. Fast.	W. & B. Express	W. & C Ex.
Chicago lv	5 30pm	9 10pm	8 45am
Walkerton Junction		12 06am	12 07pm
Milford Junction		1 20	1 25
Syracuse		1 36	1 36
Cromwell		1 52	1 55
Albion		2 11	2 20
Avilla		2 34	2 46
Garrett	10 25	2 55	3 20
Auburn Junction	10 42	3 04	3 40
St. Joe
Hicksville		3 40	4 24
Defiance	11 52	4 25	5 12
Deshler	12 44am	5 22	6 15
Fostoria	1 39	6 20	7 18
Tiffin	2 02	6 46	7 48
CHICAGO JUNCTION ar.	3 00	9 10	9 00

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Fast Line.	Chi. Express	Chi. Mail.
CHICAGO JUNCTION lv	9 30pm	6 10pm	8 05am
Tiffin	10 25	7 48	9 10
Fostoria	10 54	8 35	9 40
Deshler	11 52	9 43	10 40
Defiance	12 56am	10 52	11 48
Hicksville		11 42	12 28pm
St. Joe
Auburn Junction	2 25	12 13am	1 05
Garrett	2 45	12 25	1 35
Avilla		12 36	1 52
Albion		12 58	2 20
Cromwell		1 20	2 45
Syracuse		1 36	3 02
Milford Junction		1 45	3 14
Walkerton Junction		2 05	4 30
CHICAGO ar	8 55	6 10	7 35

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway.

Condensed time-card in effect Sept. 1, 1881.

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex	Fa't L'e	Pac Ex
Pittsburgh	9 15am	12 05am	1 50pm
Mansfield	5 40pm	6 55	9 20
Crestline Lv.	6 25	7 50	9 55	1 45am
Ft. Wayne	12 05am	1 15pm	2 40am	5 25
Chicago Ar.	6 20	7 20	8 20	10 00

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	No. 2 Fast Ex	No. 6 Pac. Ex	No. 4 Nt. Ex.	No. 8 Mail
Chicago Lv.	8 50am	3 50pm	5 35pm	10 00pm
Ft. Wayne	2 35pm	8 35	12 15am	6 55am
Crestline	7 10	12 35am	5 30	11 45am
Mansfield	8 03	1 10	7 20	12 35pm
Pittsburgh Ar.	3 15am	7 30	3 15pm	7 30

Trains Nos. 3, 6, 5 and 4 run daily. Train No 1 leaves Pittsburgh daily except Saturday. Train No. 3 leaves Chicago daily except Saturday. All others daily except Sunday.

E. A. FORD, General Ticket Ag't.
D. W. CALDWELL, General Manager.

Ft. Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati and White Water Railroads.

In effect February 27, 1881.

SOUTHWARD. No 1 M	No. 3 Ex	STATIONS.	NORTHWARD. No. 2 M	No. 4 Ex
a m	p m		p m	a m
10.40	5 40	Lv. Fort Wayne Ar	6 45	10 00
11 52	6 57	Bluffton	3 56	9 46
p m
12 15	8 05	Hartford	2 35	7 30
1 48	9 00	Muncie	1 45	6 20
p m	p m		a m	p m
7 15		Cincinnati	7 50	.....
6 05	10 55	Indianapolis	11 20	4 50

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run on Columbus time.

W. W. WORTHINGTON, Gen. Supt.
Geo. B. CAMPBELL General Ticket Agt.

KING'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipment! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect May 15 1881

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	N. Y. Ex.	At. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Chicago	9 35am	5 35pm
Elkhart	1 20pm	10 10
Kendallville	2 45	11 30	1 50am	7 00am
Corunna	2 55		5 35	12 10pm
Sedan			[illegible]
Waterloo	3 10	11 58	7 20	3 00
Butler	3 24	12 20am	7 40	3 40
Toledo	5 40	2 40	7 30pm

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Chi. Ex.	Pac. Ex.	Way F't	Way F't
Toledo	11 05am	12 01am	5 20am
Butler	1 20pm	2 20	4 05pm	8 10am
Waterloo	1 30	2 30	4 50	9 20
Sedan			5 05	10 00
Corunna	2 15		5 15	10 05
Kendallville	2 20	3 00	5 35	11 24
Elkhart	3 40	4 20	6 25	4 30
Chicago	8 00	8 20

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given, trains do not stop. Accommodation Freight leaves Butler at 5 o'clock a. m., and arrives at Toledo at 10:25 a. m. Accommodation Freight leaves Toledo at 5:05 p. m., and arrives at Butler at 10:42 p. m. Close connections at Chicago. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage. J. E. CURTIS,
Supt. Mich. Div., Toledo, O.

For tickets to all points east—first-class, second class, emigrant and round-trip tickets to Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota, Missouri, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and California, rates of freight and information—apply to H. D. ARMSTRONG,
Agent Waterloo Ind.

TAKE A RIDE

—OVER THE—

WABASH ST. LOUIS AND PACIFIC R'Y.

—AND YOU—

WILL DISCOVER

Why it is termed the Popular

PASSENGER LINE OF AMERICA!

2,500 MILES OF ROAD reaching in the most direct manner all of the

Great Cities of the West

Running the Finest Passenger Equipment and the most extended Through-Car System on the continent.

THROUGH TICKETS

TO ALL POINTS

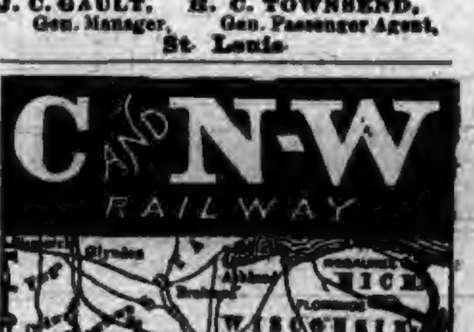
East, West, Northwest or Southwest

And Baggage Checked from starting point to destination.

For Maps, Time-Tables, or any information, call on or address LOUIS JOHNSON, agent, Auburn, Ind., or FRED. CLARK, Auburn Junction.

J. C. GAULT, Gen. Manager, H. C. TOWNSEND, Gen. Passenger Agent, St. Louis.

C AND N-W RAILWAY



—THE—

Chicago & Northwestern Railway

Is the oldest, Best Constructed, Best Equipped and hence the Leading Railway

—OF THE—

WEST AND NORTHWEST.

It is the short and best route between Chicago and all points in Northern Illinois, Iowa, Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, California, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and for

Council Bluffs, Omaha,
Denver, Leadville,
Salt Lake, San Francisco,
Deadwood, Sioux City,

Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Columbus, and all points in the territories, and the west. Also for Milwaukee, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Marquette, Fond du Lac, Watertown, Houghton, Neenah, Menasha, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Huron, Volga, Fargo, Bismarc, Winona, LaCrosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Nort west.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern and the U. P. Railways, depart from, arrive at and use the same joint Union depot.

At Chicago close connections are made with the Lake Shore, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Ft. Wayne and Pennsylvania, and Chicago and Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

Close connections at Junction po

It is the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

Between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

Pullman Sleepers on all night trains.

Insist upon ticket agents selling you tickets via this road. Examine your tickets and refuse to buy if they do not read over the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

If you wish the best traveling accommodations you will buy your tickets by this route AND WILL TAKE NO OTHER.

All ticket agents sell tickets by this line.

Marvin Hughitt, 2d V. P. & Gen'l Manager Chicago.

Recorders office Dekalb Co.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 12 AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, JANUARY 5, 1882. Number 1.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

BARNS & HUSSELMAN.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, post-office as second-class matter.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum. For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Bouquet's store.

S. V. HOFFMAN.
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of main street over [illegible] Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, will give prompt attention to collections [illegible] first class insurance companies. Office over [illegible] & Co's. bank store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second door in Coal's block opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBLIC, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Auburn, Indiana.

DR. B. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and [illegible]. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

[illegible] MORRISON & LIPES,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to day or night.

J. L. LITTLEFIELD.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 11th st., opposite F. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 35 ly

BUTT'S HOTEL.
FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor. John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

LOMB'S HOTEL.
FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good Sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana.

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DEBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D. 916 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. Sold by Davenport [illegible]

[illegible] Pills

[illegible] something that never fails—Fever and Ague.—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man, the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may argue and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispels doubt as the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address Stinson & Co. Portland, Maine.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. Hallett & Co. Portland, Maine.

$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address True and Co. Augusta, Maine. [No. 7 ly

Executor's Sale.

THE undersigned, executor of the estate, of Adam Sohm[illegible], deceased, will offer at public sale, at the late residence of Asa Fletcher, in Spencerville, DeKalb county, Ind., on Saturday, January 14 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., all the personal property of said deceased. Terms made known on the day of sale.
Dec. 20, 1881. WM. SHUTT, Executor.
51-3w.

Executor's Sale.

THE undersigned, executor of the estate, of Asa Fletcher, deceased, will offer at public sale at his late residence, in Spencerville, DeKalb county, Ind., on Saturday, January 14, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., all the personal property of the deceased. Terms made known on the day of sale. WM. SHUTT, Executor.
51-3w.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Alonsan G. Coats, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.
Dec. 28, 1881. ISAAC SPEER, Administrator.
52-3w.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county, ss. In the DeKalb circuit court, February term, 1882. Mary A. Wilkinson, Jennie [illegible], Jonas Schlose impleaded with others are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to foreclose a mortgage by John C. St.Clair, administrator of the estate of Daniel Tillotson [illegible] the same will be heard and determined on the first juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences February 27, 1882.

Witness, The Clerk of said court, this [illegible] day of December, 1881.
52-3w. [illegible] W. [illegible], Clerk.

A Downhill Fight.

TWO MINERS ENGAGE IN A FIERCE FIGHT, AND ROLL FIVE HUNDRED FEET DOWN MOUNT ELBERT.

[Leadville Democrat.]

One of those curious and dangerous episodes that characterize the miner's life in the snowy mountains of Colorado, was brought to the attention of the reporter yesterday. Tom Cox and Jim Null are two miners working far up on the bleak, snowy slopes of Mount Elbert, near Twin lakes. They sleep in a tent near the mouth of the Golden lode, in which they are working. Yesterday morning the two men, who had been working all night, went into the tent for the purpose of going to sleep. One of them got in bed, and, enveloping himself with the blankets, was snug, and comfortable and drowsy in a moment. The other, not in so great a hurry, noticed that the melting snow was dripping through the roof the tent and right on the spot where had to sleep. He couldn't stand a wet couch, and rousing his companion, asked him to get up so that the bed could be moved to a position where the melting snow would not touch it. His sleepy partner growled out a refusal. There was a hot reply, and in less time than it takes to write it, the two were engaged in a fierce personal encounter. They were both clad in their night shirts alone, and a small tent is but limited space for two angry men to fight with each other. They had hardly clinched before one carried the other through the front flaps of the tent. Right here it is necessary to say that the tent was pitched on the fearfully steep slope of Mount Elbert, and there wasn't more than two feet of level ground between the front of the tent and the precipitous slope of the mountain. This slope was covered with four feet of soft snow, and it extended down for 2,000 feet before there was a resting place. In the fierce fight between the two miners they were carried down the dizzy slope, and with their hands upon each other's throats, they went whirling down the mountain like a pair of boulders. They had gone but a short distance when anger vanished in the presence of a possible death, and each man turned his attention to the paramount work of saving his life. Down they went along the fearful slant of the great mountain, and at each revolution they sank in the soft snow, sometimes head first and sometimes feet first. They were paralyzed with fright, and no sound escaped their lips. The further down they went, the greater the momentum of their bodies, and when about 500 feet from the point where they started, they bounded in the air and alighted in snow so deep they stuck fast. After arduous efforts they managed to extricate themselves and get back to their tent, bruised and bleeding and their quarrel healed. No matter what the future has in store for these two men, they will never forget the time when they were whirling down the snowy slope of the continental divide of North America, and a snow-drift saved them from landing 1,500 feet below in a condition in which none but the coroner and undertaker would feel any practical interest in them. They are the best of friends now, and will doubtless continue so.

◆

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880.
I wish to say to you that I have been suffering the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor, but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after taking four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOUSE.
1-3w.

◆

—A couple of threadbare loafers were sitting in front of a saloon stove, one of them reading the legislative proceedings.

"Hello!" exclaimed the man with the newspaper, "do you remember Charley Wilson?"

"Certainly I do."

"Well, he has come to grief at last. He is a member of the legislature."

"He is? Well, I've got no sympathy for him. He was always trying to make out he was as good as either of us. He deserves just what he has got."—[Galveston News.

Correspondence.

EAST TOLEDO, O., Dec. 26, 1881.

EDITORS COURIER:—There is at present a great force of men at work repairing the Cherry street bridge, which has been considered very unsafe. They are busily engaged in putting in new ice-breakers which were torn to pieces by the floating ice last winter. They are also going to take down the two east end spans of the bridge and fill it up, which will make it several hundred feet shorter. Quite a crowd of people, both men and women, gathered themselves along the bridge last Saturday to see the plucky bell-diver go under the water and work. His costume consists of a rubber suit air tight, a large lead band is tied on his shoulders, and he has a pair of lead bottom shoes to weight him down while under the water at work. A large, hollow, copper ball is then fastened over his head, and he sees to work by means of glass windows in his copper helmet. A rubber hose is then fastened to the top of the copper ball, through which he receives the air he breathes, by means of a pumping apparatus pumped from above by two men. His tools consist of large sledge hammers, wrenches, augers, picks, etc., and he stays under the water from four to five hours without coming up.

Men are also at work tearing down the large, stone postoffice, corner of Madison and St. Clair streets, and opposite the well-known Boody House and Produce Exchange building. A large custom house is to be built on the ground, and when finished, it is said will be the finest in the state. The ground on which a part of this building will be erected, is said to have cost the government $450 a foot.

SCOTT LOTERN[illegible]

◆

Celery Culture.

The demand for celery increases [illegible] the demand has been greater than the supply in all parts of the country. The past season, was a most unfavorable one for this crop. The spring was cold and wet and the summer hot and dry. The leaves were generally small and very often ill-shaped. The culture of this plant has been greatly simplified during the past few years. The system of planting in trenches has been abandoned by nearly all market gardeners. This effects a great saving of labor. The plan of starting the plants in hot-beds has also been given up by most persons. The seed is sown in well-prepared beds in the open ground, but great care is taken to prepare the soil for the growth of the tender young plants. Some burn the soil as they do when preparing the seed bed for tobacco, so as to have no trouble with weeds. The seed is sown in rows about eight or ten inches apart and the soil between them frequently stirred to hasten the growth of the plants to prevent the springing up of weeds. The young plants are rendered stocky by shearing off the tops two or three times before they are put in the rows where they are to mature. In June and July they are placed in rows three feet apart and six inches in the row. As soon as they become established, the soil is kept well supplied with water. Unless there are reasonable rains, water is supplied by means of pipes or rubber hose. Some have located celery plantations on the banks of streams or the sides of lakes, so that the water may be easily supplied. Gardeners have been slow in finding out that celery is by nature an aquatic plant, and they are now treating it to all the water it wants.

◆

Ponder on These Truths.

Kidney-Wort is nature's remedy for kidney and liver diseases, piles and constipation.

Sediment or mucous in the urine is a sure indication of disease. Take Kidney-Wort.

Torpid liver and kidneys poison the blood. Kidney-Wort revives them and cleanses the system.

Headache, bilious attacks, dizziness, and loss of appetite are cured by Kidney-Wort.

◆

—He rose to remark that he had the only choice collection of flowers in the market, that he didn't 'arbor anything but the best and that he proposed to stand gardner not allow anything gorse to creep in—not if vine know myself. This talk was calculated to impress her with the idea that it was her best chance to invest and weed out not it had this effect, but she hadn't botany when we left.—[Peoria Transcript.

School Report.

Report of school No. 6, Keyser township, for the month ending Dec. 16, 1881. No of pupils neither absent nor tardy: Clara McClure, Clara Hough, Warren McClure, Samuel Hough, Charley Stoops, Samuel McClure, Charley Hough, Frank Lehmback, Dillman Hough. Those perfect in deportment and recitations, Clara Hough, Clara McClure, Orpha Stoops, Dora Hough, Mary Hough, Lizzie Lehmback. No. enrolled, 19; average attendance, 16.

ROSE MOODY, Teacher.

◆

Exacting a Pledge in Advance.

According to the Franklin Democrat, a Gypsy woman, encamped with a band of her people in the neighborhood of Lafayette, and belonging to the same party that visited Wabash last summer, started a temperance society in a novel way a few days ago. She appeared with her lover before a magistrate and both declared their desire to be married. But before the ceremony, she presented a Bible, and her intended had to kiss it and then swear that he would never touch liquor unless administered by her own hand. She then declared her willingness to marry him and the knot was tied. The average American girl waits till after marriage for the "swearing off," and generally waits in in vain. The Gypsy plan is an improvement on the American custom.

◆

The Rhinoceros.

The rhinozerus lives in Ashar and you kant stick a pin in 'im 'cause his werskit is bilt ov de stoves. When a rhinozerus is gonter be kild you must alwaze go up to him from before so'z he'll kno somethin' ov it an' try an' make a place for a bullit to git in. His nose is got a upper teeth that's got no businez ware it is, an' if a boy should set down on it he better stay plugged up with the tooth [illegible] one pore. I'd rather be a polliwig if I was a rhinozerus, tho' I spose if I wuz I wouldn't.—[Little Johnnie.

◆

"It is Curing Everybody,"

writes a druggist. "Kidney-Wort is the most popular medicine we sell." It should be by right, for no other medicine has such specific action on the liver, bowels and kidneys. If you have those symptoms which indicate biliousness or deranged kidneys do not fail to procure it and use faithfully. In liquid or dry form it is sold by all druggists.—[Salt Lake City Tribune.

◆

—E Pluribus Erin Go Braugh! the Irishman said when he found his boy was recovering from a severe cold by the use of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup. Price twenty-five and fifty cents a bottle.

—The highest hopes and interest of the race rest on the purity, health and strength of womanhood. We take pleasure in referring our readers to the remarkable efficacy of Lydia A. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in all that class of diseases from which women suffer so much.
1-2w.

"Seizing the gigantic Indian around the waist, the brave boy lifted him into the air and flung him headlong down the chasm. Panting, the boy stood and watched the Indian's body fall from crag to crag until it disappeared in the darkness below. Just at this moment—" Just at this moment the father of the boy who was reading this trash came along, lifted the youngster by the ear, and in the wood-shed matinee that followed, the boy had no thought of flinging the old man down a chasm. There was no chasm handy.

—Could play upon the pipes: "Can I see the lady of the house?" inquired the peddler. "Well, yes, you can if you ain't blind!" snapped the woman who had answered the bell. "Oh, beg pardon, madam; you are the lady of the house then?" "Yes, I am! What d'yer take me for? Did yer think I was the gentleman of the house, or the next door neighbor, or one of the farm hands, or the cat, or the ice-chist?" "I didn't know, madam, but you might be the youngest daughter." "Oh, did yer? Well, that was nat'ral, too," she replied. "What d'ye want, sir?" Then the peddler displayed his wares, and when he left that doorstep half an hour later his face was full of pleasure and his pockets were full of money. He understood human nature and had made a good sale.—[Boston Transcript.

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

Black Brocade Silks.

We have just MARKED DOWN the prices of three lines of Rich Black Brocade Silks (22 inches wide, and elegant designs) for the purpose of closing them out this week

10 pieces reduced from $1.25 to $1.00.
12 pieces reduced from $1.50 to $1.25.
15 pieces reduced from $1.85 to $1.40.

PLUSHES.

Of these scarce and very desirable goods we have now in stock over 75 pieces in all the leading colors now used. (No advance in price).

Black, Cardinal, Bronze, Wine, Seal Brown, Plum, Navy Blue,
MYRTLE, OLD GOLD, GREEN PLUSHES, for $[illegible], $[illegible], $[illegible], $[illegible], $4, and $4.50 per yard.

BLACK BROCADE,
COLORED BROCADE,
and STRIPED VELVETS.

BLACK SKIRT VELVETS,

27 inches wide for $2.50, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50 per yard—[illegible]

PLAIN GROS GRAIN SILKS

All colors, for 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.25 and $2.00 per yard, all very cheap.

COLORED BROCADE SILKS

for 50c., 75c., $1.25 and $1.50 per yard; suitable for evening or street use, to match any shade of silks or dress goods.

BLACK SILK VELVETS

For trimming uses (17, 19, 21 and 24 inches wide) for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 per yard—superior color and finish.

ROOT & CO. Ft. Wayne

GUITEAU EATS HARDTACK,

BUT

SHERM. HOLLISTER

Proposes to throw himself back on his "shanks" and furnish the citizens to Auburn with extra fine WHEAT, RYE, and CORN

BREAD.

He will start his bake-oven in motion this week, and he has secured the services of an artist who knows how to "FIRE UP, FIRE IN and FIRE OUT" every article kept in a city bakery. We ask our people generally to call on Sherm. and give his articles a trial. He will give you all

A SQUARE DEAL.

GIVE HIM A TRIAL.

PILES NO CURE NO PAY
FISTULA, RECTAL ULCERS, FISSURES, CONSUMPTION CURED
BY DR. A. W. BRINKERHOFF'S [illegible] PAINLESS CURE
OVER 30000 OPERATIONS PERFORMED IN FOUR YEARS BY DR. BRINKERHOFF'S CURE

LEARNING A LITTLE EVERY DAY.

Little rills make wider streamlets,
 Streamlets swell the river's flow;
Rivers join the mountain billows,
 Onward, onward, as they go!
Life is made of smallest fragments,
 Shade and sunshine, work and play;
So may we, with greatest profit,
 Learn a little every day.

Tiny seeds make boundless harvests,
 Drops of rain compose the showers,
Seconds make the flying minutes,
 And the minutes make the hours!
Let us hasten, then, and catch them
 As they pass us on the way;
And with honest, true endeavor
 Learn a little every day.

Let us read some striking passage,
 Cull a verse from every page;
Here a line, and there a sentence,
 'Gainst the lonely time of age:
At our work or by the wayside,
 While the sunshine's making hay;
Thus we may by help of study
 Learn a little every day.

A CRISIS.

Mr. Jonathan T. Ward, or, as his card more modernly expressed it, "J. Templeton Ward," looked [illegible] supremely satisfied with his fortune and himself.

He had just received a particularly gratifying letter from his sister in New York, calling him to the city on a flattering errand, and, as he entered the cars this pleasant October morning, the universe seemed irradiated with his own private sense of happiness. He dropped his hand-bag, cane and light overcoat carelessly in the vacant corners, and, thus comfortably extended, he found himself able to contemplate his plebeian and more crowded neighbors with urbane condescension.

After a few moments his fingers instinctively sought an inner pocket, and he re-read the letter which had so contributed to his self-gratulation. It was from his favorite sister Rose, who had married Henry Molineux, a wealthy broker, and whose happy married life had caused no diminution in her home affection. The Molineux were, in their way, very good people, grander than the Wards, for they counted larger store of shekels and lands and antique heirlooms, and Rose's alliance had been fully approved by her brother. Rose herself was a bit of a match-maker, and had long cherished a dream of a double connection between the two families by the marriage of her brother with her husband's sister, Miss Winifred Molineux. Unfortunately for her plans, shortly after her own wedding her husband's family had sailed for Europe, remaining abroad four years, and the objects of her romantic schemes had never met. Very deftly, however, Miss Rose Molineux had managed her cards, keeping up Miss Winifred's interest in the unknown paragon by means of shrewd allusions and items of interest, but never waxing sufficiently enthusiastic to alarm the shy girl with apprehensions of a matrimonial pitfall arranged for her unsuspecting feet. With her brother Mrs. Molineux's maneuvers had been less strategic and delicate. The matter had been frankly discussed between them, and Mr. J. Templeton Ward acknowledged himself prepared to become Miss Winifred's willing slave at first sight. Indeed, he nearly persuaded himself that he was already in love with her, and he brooded over his sister's letter with all the benign serenity of an accepted lover.

"Dear Templeton," (wrote Mrs. Molineux—"Henry's father and mother have at length returned from Europe, and have agreed to let me have Winifred for the winter. I want you to drop everything else and devote yourself to us, to escort Winifred to all the exhibitions, symphony rehearsals, receptions, etc., of the season. She is looking remarkably well, and, what is better, has returned heart free. I was afraid some French Marquis would be attracted by her dot, and snatch her up. I know that you are very sensitive on such matters, and will not thank me for telling you, but by the death of her Uncle Robert in Pernambuco she has come into possession of thirty thousand dollars, which, in addition to her expectations from Papa Molineux, makes her a very pretty heiress. As What's-his-name says, 'A crisis comes once in the life of every man.'"

There is a trite old saying in regard to cup and lip which I forbear quoting, remarking only that it is a mistake to confide delicate porcelain to baby fingers. Mr. Ward's cup would probably never have slipped had it not been for a baby of whose influence upon his fate he was as yet blissfully unconscious. It was a sorry day for him when the three weird sisters converted Mr. Templeton Ward's cup of happiness—which had hitherto been as carefully guarded as though it had been a veritable bit of blossomed Dresden or fragile specimen of Sevres in Pompadour rose—into a plaything for a ruthless and irresponsible baby.

Mr. Ward had drifted into a day-dream, when he was recalled suddenly to the actualities of the present by a sweet voice at his elbow inquiring diffidently, "Is this seat engaged?"

Turning sharply, he saw a dignified but youthful lady, with a face like that of one of Raphael's Madonnas. His impressible heart paid her homage at once, and he was about to spring to his feet with spontaneous politeness, when the pleasurable emotion was checked by one of dismay. She held in her arms a baby—well dressed, neat, chubby, bright, and, to a parental eye, a cherub of a child; to Mr. J. Templeton Ward, his pet aversion and peculiar horror.

He looked at the child with an expression of intense disapprobation. "I think you will be more comfortable at the other end of the car," he remarked, slowly raising his eye-glasses and surveying the perspective of crowded seats.

"I will try another car," replied the lady, with quiet dignity.

Mr. Templeton Ward's good-breeding asserted itself. "Indeed, madam, I had not observed that there were no vacant seats. Pray do not imagine me so ungraciously selfish;" and the little lady was quickly seated at his side. For some time the baby conducted itself in an exemplary manner, drumming on the window-pane and watching the rapidly whirling landscape, and Mr. Templeton Ward had time to observe that the lady was dressed in that alleviated mourning which allows certain concessions to fashion and becomingness in the toleration of white at the throat and wrists, and solitaire pearls in either ear.

"You have a fine little boy, madam."

The lady smiled. "She is a very good baby."

Mr. Ward was momentarily confused. "Your little daughter resembles you strikingly," he remarked.

Again the rarely sweet smile flickered across the lady's lips.

"You could not compliment me in a more gratifying manner," she replied.

He turned to the baby and endeavored to interest it in an exhibition of his watch and seals.

"What is her name?" he asked, hoping that the reply might involve that of the mother.

"We call her Dimple. Don't you think a baby the most delicious thing in the whole world?"

"Well, no, it had never occurred to me in that light before, but you know I have not had the advantage of an acquaintance with Miss Dimple."

"You could not help liking her. She never cries; she is absolutely angelic."

Mr. Ward was on the point of remarking, "I said she resembled you," but he checked himself; they were not sufficiently intimate yet for flattery.

The conversation became impersonal, and drifted through a wide range of subjects, Mr. Templeton Ward becoming more and more interested in his traveling companion, and quite ignoring the presence of the baby. This young person at last became fidgety, and even cross.

"The precious infant!" exclaimed the lady. "How forgetful I am! She should have been fed twenty minutes ago."

A basket was produced, and a little rummaging brought to light a nursing bottle. "Dear! dear!" murmured the baby's guardian; "here is the bottle, but where is the milk? How stupid in Maggie to forget it!"

The baby at the sight of the bottle at first chirruped with gleeful excitement, then became frantically impatient, and finally burst into a roar of anger as the train paused at an out-of-the-way country station.

"I see farm-houses, and cows grazing in the pastures," suggested Mr. Ward; "perhaps I can obtain some milk for you."

"Oh, no, no; pray do not trouble yourself," replied the lady; "if you will kindly watch the baby, I can get it." And, before he had time to insist, she was out of the car and running toward one of the farm-houses. Mr. Ward explained the situation to the conductor, who agreed to wait two minutes beyond the usual time for her return. Two minutes, three minutes, four minutes passed, and still she came not.

The engineer sounded the whistle, the conductor shouted: "All aboard! I can't wait any longer. She's had plenty of time. I must reach the next station before the up-train," he explained, and the train moved on. Mr. J. Templeton Ward gazed in a stupefied manner from the window; the baby howled. "Come, this will never do," he said, as he endeavored simultaneously to realize the situation and to quiet the distracting baby, his thoughts and words keeping up a running fugue somewhat in this manner:

Thought: "What can have detained her?"

Aloud: "Precious little Dimple, so—"

Thought: "Where did she disappear to, anyway?"

Aloud: "—it was. Shall have the pretty watch."

Thought: "Great Cæsar! Can it be—"

Aloud: "Angelic little cherub!"

Thought: "—a case of desertion?"

Aloud: "Never cries—no, never."

Thought: "Of course not. She was a perfect lady; impossible."

Aloud: "Shut up this minute, or I'll—"

Thought: "What shall I do with the consumed—"

Aloud: "—speak to you like a father."

Thought: "—thing when I get to the city?"

Aloud (to old lady who offers a peppermint): "Thank you, ma'am." (To baby): "There, choke your blessed throat!"

Thought: "What a figure I'll cut at the depot!"

Aloud (attempting to sing): "Oh, where shall rest be found?" "Byelo, byelo" (shaking child violently) "go to sleepy."

Thought: "Suppose Rose should be at the station with Winifred to meet me?"

Aloud: "Darling popsy wopsy, chicka biddy chum! See how funny it looks in big man's hat!" (Extinguishes it in light-colored high hat.)

Thought: "She said a baby was the most delightful thing in the whole world. Any woman who can lie like that is capable of deserting her unprotected offspring."

Aloud (removing the hat): "Good gracious. It's black in the face; its going into convulsions!"

Thought: "I'd like to know what everybody is laughing at. If I had a pistol I'd shoot somebody."

Aloud: "Look here, now, Miss Dimpsy Impsy. Come, let us reason together. This thing has got to be stopped. Be calm—I say be calm."

Thought: "I'll leave it in the seat, take my baggage and put for the smoking-car." (Suits the action to the idea. Settles himself comfortably. Newsboy appears almost immediately with the baby, still screaming.)

Newsboy: "Please, sir, you left part of your baggage." (Train comes to a stop in New York depot.)

Thought: "There's a policeman. I'll hand the wretch over to him, and get him to carry it to the station-house or the foundling hospital."

A few minutes later and Mr. J. Templeton Ward gayly mounted the steps of his brother-in-law's brown-stone mansion. A great incubus had been removed from his mind, and he now felt disposed to treat the adventure with hilarity. His sister met him most cordially, and, throwing himself upon the sofa by her side, he related the story, decorated with considerable imaginative embroidery.

"Think, Rose," he said, solemnly; "what a tremendous escape! There I was, a complete victim. Why, I actually took her for a respectable and fascinating little widow, and was flirting with her in the most confiding manner."

"Do you really think she meant to desert the baby?" asked Mrs. Molineux.

"Oh, without doubt. She had got herself up nicely on purpose to deceive, and to think that I did not suspect her designs when she asked me if I did not think that execrable baby delicious!"

"Was the baby pretty, Templeton?"

"Pretty! I should think not. I wish you could have seen it. It bore the marks of depravity stamped upon its brow. When it howled, it glared at me with demoniac eyes, and fisted like a prize-fighter. I am morally certain that its father is one of the champions of the ring."

"And what did you say you did with it, dear?"

"I got rid of it as quickly as possible, I assure you. I handed it to a policeman, and requested him to drop it into the East river. I had the satisfaction, however, of pinching it well before I saw the last of it."

"Do you suppose the man thought you were in earnest, Templeton?"

"Of course not. He has carried it off to the Home of the Friendless, or the Asylum for Little Wanderers, or some institution of that sort, I suppose. But let's drop the baby. Where's Winifred?"

"I expect her every moment. There's the door-bell now. Let me see."

Mrs. Molineux motioned back the servant, and herself opened the hall-door, finding herself, to her surprise, face to face with her husband, who wore an anxious expression. Mr. Ward, who sat just within the parlor, heard their conversation distinctly.

Rose. "Why, Henry, what's the matter?"

Mr. M. "Nothing. Don't be alarmed; only a telegram from Winifred. She was left and will come on the next train."

Rose. "Oh! is that all? Then she ought to be here now; the train runs every hour."

Mr. M. "Winifred's all right, but I don't want to alarm you. Be calm—"

Rose. "The baby! is she sick?"

Mr. M. "Don't get excited. The baby is not sick."

Rose (desperately.) "Is she dead?"

Mr. M. "No, no. You always imagine the very worst that can happen. She is only lost."

A piercing shriek followed and Mr. Ward sprang into the hall just in time to see his sister faint in the arms of her husband. They carried her into the parlor, and she was at once surrounded by frightened domestics. In the confusion that followed Winifred Molineux arrived. There was no time for introductions, and indeed none were needed, for Mr. Ward to his utter dismay recognized his companion of the train, the supposed mother of the baby.

"I was bringing Dimple home from a visit to her grandmother," she explained and added: "Is it possible that you are Mr. J. Templeton Ward? Then the baby is safe."

Mrs. Molineux opened her eyes, and suddenly, sitting bolt-upright, assumed a tragic attitude. "Winifred," she demanded, "why did you abandon my precious Dimple?"

"I left her to get some milk," Winifred replied, good-humoredly, "and as I was coming out of the dairy a horrid goat barred my passage. The woman drove him away, but he stopped me again at the pasture bars, and I did not reach the station until the train had left."

Mrs. Molineux laughed hysterically. "Jonathan Templeton Ward," she exclaimed, "what have you done with your sister's child?"

"How was I to know it was yours?" he asked, deprecatingly. "I had forgotten that Miss Winifred would be in mourning for her uncle, and I thought she was a widow."

"You thought!" interrupted his sister. "The least said about that the better. He sent his niece to the foundling hospital; he insulted Winifred and all of us in a manner not to be repeated. Oh, my precious Dimple, my lovely pet! He told the policeman to drop her into the East river. Henry, he said you were a prize fighter. Winifred, he is not worthy of your slightest thought. Why do you stand there staring at me in that idiotic manner, Jonathan? I disown you; you are not worthy to be uncle of that cherub darling."

Mr. Templeton Ward did not wait to hear all. He darted out of the door, murmuring to himself, "A crisis comes once in the affairs of every man;" and, seeking the policeman with frantic haste, Miss Dimple was in a few hours returned to the bosom of her family. His sister, however, refused to see him, and it was not until the marriage of Miss Winifred Molineux to an officer in the United States navy that Mr. J. Templeton Ward finally made his peace with his outraged relatives.—Harper's Magazine.

The Pleasures of the Table.

The simplest food will not suffice to maintain a community in mental and physical health, and to produce the highest form of efforts. A people who live on rice will usually be found unfit to do anything better than grow rice. Monotony in food, as in other things, begets dullness. For all classes there must be something in life to look forward to if men are not to become soured; and, constituted as we are at present, the pleasures of the table must continue to form an important element among the pleasures available for man. But if the use of luxurious food be defensible on these grounds, absolute waste of food, at any rate, produces the ill effect pointed out, without any compensating advantage. The dinner at every gluttonous city feast contributes his quota to the already existing distress in some other part of the community. So does the guest at a charity dinner. The money he subscribes to the charity is merely a transfer of wealth which leaves the world neither rich nor poorer; the dinner he eats or leaves increases the poverty of his neighbor.—The Fortnightly Review.

The Babylon (L. I) South Side Signal quotes from a Missouri paper: Mr. Wm. F. Quinlan, Crystal City, Mo., suffered occasionally from rheumatic pains in his knees, for which he successfully tried St. Jacobs Oil.

A Rockland man saw advertised "a sure cure for drunkenness." He forwarded the necessary dollar, and received by return mail, written on a valuable postal card, in beautiful violet ink, the magic words—"Don't Drink."

The Milwaukee (Wis.) Evening Wisconsin says: "In all our experience we have never heard so many favorable reports from all classes as we have concerning St. Jacobs Oil."

A Guyer Guyed.

An attenuated individual, with a great affluence of hair, and a soft, seductive smile, gently swaggered into a restaurant, hung his hat on a nail, took a seat, and commenced to drum for a waiter. The latter appeared in due time, and began to brush around the tumblers with a great deal of energy.

The diner ordered some turtle soup, and, while he was sipping it, chipped in:

"Pretty good soup this; what's the vintage?"

"Ten a. m.!" replied the waiter, as he prepared to hurl the check down like a boomerang.

"Made of land turtles?" inquired the festive guy.

"Land turtles?" repeated the waiter in astonishment.

"Yes, land turtles," continued the diner; "those big, corpulent, speckled, punch-nosed reptiles that walk around rye fields with initials and dates cut on their backs?"

The waiter assured him that he was positive that was not the brand of the turtle employed in the construction of their best soup in the city for ten cents a plate, including a roll.

"No, I suppose it is not," continued the guest: "I suppose it is not; I presume you use these little black, red-spotted specimens that infest woodland brooks and bird-stores at three for a quarter. These little polka dot rascals that float on corks, chuck full of meditation. I suppose you get them in quantities and open them like Little Neck clams, and spring the result on innocent people for terrapin. Does my intellect light on the scheme?"

The waiter didn't reply, and the guest went on:

"Perhaps you use snapping turtles. These fellows that grab at anything so hard that it makes them tired. These ignoble beasts that draw the skin over their eyes when you look at them, and who have skin enough for each eye to make a Masonic apron, strings and all, and—"

"We use iron turtle," broke in the waiter, who was tired of being guyed.

"An iron turtle?"

"Certainly, an iron turtle."

"To make turtle soup?"

"Why, of course; to make turtle soup, not to make lamb stew, or a fricandeau of nightingale's soul, or an epigramme of taper's kidney."

"But," said the diner, "how do you make soup of an iron turtle?"

"Why, we wind him up."

"Wind him up?"

"Precisely; he has a key-hole in his back, you wind to your right, until you can't wind any longer. Then you throw him into the soup, and the machinery starts, and he kicks and splashes around for hours. We have a few eighty-day turtles that—

"But where does the nourishment come from?" inquired the astonished guest in tones of excitement.

"Why, from the ingredients—the calf's head, and the beef, and the carrots, and the lemon."

"Then what is the use of putting in the turtle?"

"Why, he furnishes the motion."

"What, motion in soup?"

"Of course; we throw him into the soup, and he splashes around with his great paddle feet—"

"To tone the system with iron?"

"Oh, no, just to keep the soup from burning. It's a great deal cheaper to work the turtle than to hire a boy to do the stirring."

Then the out-guyed diner left with a sadful look, as though he had just come down stairs with some manuscript, and half a dozen series of editorial foot prints all over him.

Hunting Alligators in Florida.

Parties are hunting the 'gators way down on the Caloosahatchie and Kissimmee Rivers, and upon the numerous lakes in that region. Nothing is used except the skins upon the belly and legs, the rough, scaly plates upon the back of the animal being rejected. The heads are cut off and buried for a few days, when the tusks can be detached. It was announced some days since that one person had collected alligators' teeth to the amount of three hundred and fifty pounds. This fact alone will give some idea of the destruction now going on among these creatures. On the St. John's River a new method has been devised for the successful pursuit of this game. A dark lantern with a powerful reflector is used on suitable nights, and no difficulty is experienced in approaching the quarry. The animals appear to be perfectly bewildered by the strong glare, and make no effort to escape. The gun is held within a few feet of the head, a touch to the trigger, and there is a 'gator less in Florida.

This new process is very effective, as the hunters are enabled not only to kill, but to secure the prey. It is sad to reflect that the race of saurians is in danger of being extirpated. Thousands are slain annually by tourists and others for amusement merely, in addition to those slaughtered for profit. Thousands of baby 'gators are stuffed or sent off alive as curiosities, while myriads of eggs are blown and disposed of by dealers. Amid all these causes combined the brute seems in good way to become extinct. This is somewhat unfortunate, as the beast is a constant source of interest to our Northern brethren, and every hunter from that section eagerly craves the distinction of adding an alligator scalp to his list of trophies. If their wholesale destruction continues it will be necessary to call on the Fish Commissioners to restock our lakes and rivers with these valuable animals.—Jacksonville Correspondent Savannah News.

New Electrical Marvels.

Dr. Siemens, of Edinburgh, has been making experiments with electricity upon growing crops, and has reached some astonishing conclusions, which seem to be justified by the tests he has been applying. He finds that plants will grow continuously, winter as well as summer, if subjected to the electric light inclosed in glass. It has long been know that light as well as heat was one of the factors in the growth of plants. It has also been understood that some plants would grow continuously without any period of rest, and it now seems that, by using the electric light, a plant can make as much progress at night as by day, and in winter as well as summer. If this is true, a new agricultural era has dawned upon the world. The grains will have their seasons shortened, and be much sooner brought to market if the electric light is used, while the ability to produce vegetables of all kinds would be trebled. Are we not justified in thinking that science will soon make this world a very different one to live in, and much better than it has been in the past.—Demorest's Monthly.

Writing Compositions.

The use of too many words is one of the greatest faults in writing. We were attracted the other day by an article in a newspaper entitled "Gumption," and hastily concluded that a writer who could use so homely and strong a word as the title to his article must have something good to say about it. And so he had; but he employed a wide superabundance of words to express his thoughts. For example:

"There are many persons, the majority of persons, in fact, who see, but do not perceive."

This awkward sentence becomes a good one by simply leaving out the redundant words, thus: "The majority of persons see, but do not perceive." It would still be better, perhaps, to avoid the long word majority, and say: "Most persons see, but do not perceive."

Thus, by erasing nine words from a sentence of sixteen, the thought is more clearly expressed because it is more directly stated. The writer then remarks that many persons have a habit of "postponing and putting off, what ought to be done at once." The words "and" and "postponing" are useless. In explaining the "process" by which men are to get gumption, he throws about his words with a lavish hand.

"It is neither," he says, "more nor less than the doing and completing of anything that needs to be done on the instant, without delay or postponement, and at the same time a careful observation of what is going on around one."

By the omission of more than half the words of this bad sentence, it is converted into a fairly tolerable one: "It is the doing of what needs to be done upon the instant, and carefully observing what is going on around."

We advise our young readers, after they have "done" there compositions, to let them lie in their desks awhile, "to get cool," as Washington Irving used to say. Then go over them again, bearing in mind Sydney Smith's recipe for good writing, "leave out every other word." It is often possible to obey this rule almost literally, as we see in the sentences quoted above.

Daniel Webster tells us that whatever excellence he may have attained in the art of composition, he owed to a discovery which he made when he was about nineteen years old. He learned that "all true power in writing is in the idea, not the style." From that time he pruned his sentences of redundant words, and gave his ideas with directness and simplicity.

Down in the World.

It may almost be said that New York swarms with men, who, once well up the social ladder, if not actually at the top, tumbled clean into the mud at the bottom, and are still lying there, with no prospects of ever again getting up. Such men are to be seen in the streets every day, and any one making a tour of the cheap lodging houses in Chatham street and the Bowery would probably find a good many of them. In some cases the fall is the result of misfortune, but in most it is caused by—faults. A special case came to my attention some days ago. A shabbily-dressed man, with the general look of a tramp, passed me in the street. In glancing at his face I thought it was familiar. As he slouched along the sidewalk I noticed that he looked into the gutters and bent his head over ash barrels and boxes. A tramp, beyond a doubt. A full look at him took me back twenty-five years. Long before the war, the same figure was a familiar one on Broadway. He was one of the dandies then, and his natty dress and curling hair, that hung thick to his shoulders, made him an object of attraction on the promenade. He followed no business, but his family—theatrical and operatic people—were pretty well off, and he had all the spending money he wanted. And now—well, he is a tramp, picking crusts of bread out the ash-boxes, sleeping in the station-houses, perhaps, or possibly in the parks, and as miserable a creature, this one-time dandy of Broadway, as it is possible for man to be. And there are scores, if not hundreds, of just such examples in the streets every day. Other places have a fair share of the same class, no doubt, but New York has the largest variety.—Hartford Times.

Why a Publisher Failed.

Says the editor of the Denison (Tex.) Democrat: "There is a man at present living in Denison, who thought he could run a newspaper. His idea was to adopt the sensational style, so he let out, and in a week his partner dissolved with him, but still he kept on, and in two weeks he had been whipped twice, had locked himself up in his room once, had been put in the calaboose three times, and paid over $100 in fines. He saw this would not pay, and so he dropped down to the conservative whine, and all his old customers quit reading the paper. Then he published an anti-prohibition article, and the churches and temperance people sat down on him. Then he let a temperance article go into his paper, and the whisky men at once refused him credit for drinks. Then he tried blank verse, and his exchanges all published him as a fool. Then he wrote a poem, and his wife threatened to leave him. He then went in on obituaries and the relatives of the party deceased mobbed him. Then he did nothing for two weeks, and his advertisers all withdrew their cards. That man was ourself."

A good minister out West preached a sermon on peace making, and aimed at two of the deacons of his church who had long been at sword's point, and such was his eloquence and earnestness that directly after the benediction was pronounced one of the deacons went over to the other and remarked, with tears in his eyes, "Brother Stiggins, after such a sermon, there must be peace between us. Now I can't give in, so you must."

Lady Lodger—"Your dog, sir, is unbearable. He howls at night." Male lodger—"Indeed! Well, he might do worse than that; he might play the piano all day."

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

(This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.)

A STANDARD REMEDY IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredient to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED!

DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS.

Cures Consumption, Colds, Pneumonia, Influenza, Bronchial Difficulties, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Breathing Organs. It soothes and heals the Membrane of the Lungs, inflamed and poisoned by the disease, and prevents the night sweats and tightness across the chest which accompany it. Consumption is not an incurable malady. HALL'S BALSAM will cure you, even though professional aid fails.

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.

If you are a man of letters toiling over your midnight work, to restore brain nerve and waste, use Hop B.

If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languishing on a bed of sickness, rely on Hop Bitters.

Whoever you are, wherever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

Thousands die annually from some form of Kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of Hop Bitters.

Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters.

If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

HOP BITTERS NEVER FAIL

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco, or narcotics.

Sold by druggists. Send for Circular.

HOP BITTERS MFG CO.,
Rochester, N. Y. & Toronto, Ont.

LIST OF DISEASES ALWAYS CURABLE BY USING

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

OF HUMAN FLESH.	OF ANIMALS.
Rheumatism,	Scratches,
Burns and Scalds,	Sores and Galls,
Stings and Bites,	Spavin, Cracks,
Cuts and Bruises,	Screw Worm, Grub,
Sprains & Stitches,	Foot Rot, Hoof Ail,
Contracted Muscles	Lameness,
Stiff Joints,	Swinny, Founders,
Backache,	Sprains, Strains,
Eruptions,	Sore Feet,
Frost Bites,	Stiffness,

and all external diseases, and every hurt or accident

For general use in family, stable and stock yard it is

THE BEST OF ALL LINIMENTS

Educate For Business at the Oldest & Best Commercial College. Circular free. Address C. BAYLIES, Dubuque, Ia.

The Best Field FOR EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 150 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON, COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known. RAILROAD LANDS offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an Acre.

CLIMATE MILD AND HEALTHY.

For pamphlets and maps, descriptive of country, its resources, climate, route of travel, rates and full information, address

A. L. STOKES,
Gen'l Eastern Pass'r Agent,
62 Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

FUR BEARING ANIMALS OF MAINE.

The Pelts and Skins and their Customers.

The value of the fur business done in the State of Maine annually exceeds $100,000. The largest individual dealer is a man in Brewer, who handles nearly $25,000 worth per year. The number of fur buyers in the State is not large. Their chief source of supply are in the regions at the headwaters of the Androscoggin, Kennebec, and Penobscot Rivers and the streams entering into them. Sportsmen and occasional hunters furnish a few pelts, but the bulk of the furs is furnished by the professional trappers. There are many hundreds of men in Maine who earn their living and support their families by hunting, trapping, and fishing, and who do nothing else, except, perhaps, act as guide for pleasure seekers in the summer months for the whole year. Every year the fur catch decreases, and the bounds of the trapping lines are gradually becoming more limited. While game of most kinds is retreating further into the forest and becoming scarce, it said that the number of moose and deer, which are protected by law, is increasing. In numbers the muskrat exceeds any other kind of game trapped for its fur in Maine and handled in Lewiston. They are caught in common rat traps, and fifty of these small traps are sometimes set by one trapper. Immense quantities of them are caught. Eight or ten thousand of them are shipped from Lewiston annually. More of them are exported to Germany and Italy, where the skins are dyed and furnish a popular fur for linings and ladies' apparel. They are among the cheapest of furs. A very large quantity of skunk fur is also shipped from this city. It is used for trimmings in this country, and is often passed off for Alaska sable. The larger part of the skunk catch probably goes to France and Germany. The otter is one of the most valuable and rare fur bearing animals trapped in Maine. Not more than 1,000 otters are annually caught in the whole State. The skins make a beautiful and warm fur, which is highly valued by the Russians, Greeks and Chinese. The fur is a dark glossy brown, and two kinds, one being soft, short, and thick and the other longer and coarser and intermixed with the former. The value of a dress skin runs from $10 to $18. Most of the otter skins caught in this state are sent almost around the world in the course of trade before reaching the place where they are finally worn. They are sometimes sent from Lewiston to New York, thence to London, to Leipsic, Moscow, Nijni, Novgorod, and finally to a destination in China, where they will warm some high and mighty mandarin. A large number of "fishers" are trapped in Maine, and a good many sables annually find their way to the market. The value of our sable or beach martin is much less than that of the Russian sable, which is the most costly of all furs. It is a small animal, about three times as large as the common weasel. Only about 25,000 are annually taken. These small skins sell at $25 to $200 each. The chief demand is in Russia, where the use of the sable is monopolized by the royal family. The fur of the fisher (an animal resembling the fox) is rich and soft and dark brown in color. It is very little used in this country, but goes chiefly to Poland, Germany and Russia. The annual sales of red fox furs in Lewiston are very large. Most them are exported. The Russians use the red backs, and the Greeks use the bellies, which are white. The fur of the bear, of which many are killed every year, is used for robes and military purposes. Thousands of beavers are killed on the streams flowing into our rivers every year. Their fur was formerly used largly in the manufacture of hats, and was the leading article in the fur trade; but its use for this purpose has been greatly diminished by the employment of silk and other less expensive materials. It makes handsome trimmings and fine collars and gloves for gentlemen. The lynx is an animal which frequently finds its way into traps. The fur is soft, warm, and light, naturally grayish with dark spots, but commonly dyed a beautiful black, and used largly for ladies' mourning attire. Minks are frequently found not far from home, and a great many come down from the Dead River. The mink was formely a favorite in this country for muffs, collars, etc., and commanded a high price, but is going out of fashion. Rabbit and coney skins are used extensively by hatters and for trimmings. The coon skin is by no means a vulgar fur, and is not patronized solely by woodmen. Nearly all the raccoon furs are sent to Russia, where they are worn as coat linings by the Russian nobles.—From the Lewiston Maine Journal.

Making Old Age Lovely.

"Yes, if women could only believe it, there is a wonderful beauty even in growing old. The charm of expression arising from softened temper or ripened intellect, often amply atones for the loss of form and coloring; and consequently, to those who never could boast either of these latter, years give much more than they take away. A sensitive person often requires half a lifetime to get thoroughly used to this corporeal machine, to attain a wholesome indifference both to its defects and perfections, and to learn at last, what nobody would acquire from any teacher but experience, that it is the mind alone which is of any consequence; that with a good temper, sincerity, and a moderate stock of brains—or even the two former only—any sort of body can in time be made useful, respectable, and agreeable, as a traveling-dress for the soul. Many a one, who was absolutely plain in youth thus grows pleasant and well-looking in declining years. You will hardly ever find anybody, not ugly in mind, who is repulsively ugly in person after middle life.'

Trichinæ.

After all, it seems, ninety-nine-hundredths of the apprehension about trichinæ in pork are groundless. M. Rebourgeon, inspector of slaughter-houses at Paris, has been making a series of exhaustive experiments on the subject. He fed raw trichinosed pork to dogs, rabbits, rats, doves, himself, his wife and children, and was unable to detect any evil effects from it. He examined, microscopically, the tissues of several animals so fed on trichinæ meat, but could not find a trace of the parasite, though the remains in a half-digested state were abundant in the intestines. The result of his experiments completely satisfies him that that thorough salting completely destroys the life of trichinæ. His impression is that the meat must remain in pickle from eighty to 100 days in order to kill the parasite. The French order prohibiting the importation of American pork on account of the prevalence of trichinæ has already been rescinded.

Immigration Statistics.

The total immigration to this country from 1820 to 1881 amounted to 10,808,189. The year 1820 is the genesis of our statistics, as previous to that time no statistics of immigration were officially kept. The total number of immigrants for the years ending June 30, 1880 and 1881, will be seen by the following:

1880	457,257	1881	669,431

By far the largest number arrived at New York, the figures of the Bureau of Statistics showing that at that port the total arrivals for 1881 were 400,871; the next on the list in point of numbers is Huron, Mich., where they aggregated 111,170. There are three other ports where the arrivals were relatively heavy: Baltimore, 40,017; Boston and Charlestown, Mass., 41,018; and Philadelphia, 34,865—leaving 41,491 who arrived at thirty-three other ports. A statement as to the ages of the immigrants for the year 1881 will be interesting in this compilation:

Under 15 years of age	153,480
Fifteen and under 40 years of age	454,426
Forty years of age and upward	61,456

It is worthy of note that by far the greater part of the immigrants are men under 40 years of age, or, in other words, of men who, if they remained in Europe, would be subject to military duty. It has been estimated by careful statisticians that of the 10,808,189 immigrants who have come to the United States since 1820 up to June 30, 1881, Ireland and Germany have furnished over 3,000,000 each. The totals for the seven grand divisions, made by the Bureau of Statistics, are as follows:

Europe	527,441
Asia	11,982
Africa	23
America	127,535
Islands of the Atlantic	1,099
Islands of the Pacific	2,791
All other countries and islands	159
Total	669,431

From this statement it is apparent that Europe furnished five-sixths of the immigrants of the year ended June 30, 1881. The distribution, as regards Europe, was as herewith given:

England	65,177	Malta	1
Ireland	72,342	Netherlands	8,597
Scotland	13,160	Norway	22,705
Wales	1,427	Portugal	171
Isle of Man	4	Roumania	30
Austria	21,109	Russia	4,665
Belgium	1,766	Finland	176
Denmark	9,117	Poland	5,614
France	5,227	Spain	484
Germany	210,485	Sweden	49,760
Gibraltar	5	Switzerland	11,293
Greece	10	Turkey in Europe	72
Hungary	6,826
Italy	15,387	Total, Europe	527,441
Sicily	14

"ACCEPT OUR GRATITUDE."

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured my boy of a fever sore of two years' standing. Please accept our gratitude. Yours truly,

HENRY WHITING, Boston, Mass.

The Pawn Shop in China.

China knows all about the pawn shop, and the uses of that dubious establishment. But their monetary transactions are conducted in a manner much more favorable to the borrower—that is, the public—than among ourselves. Not only is the interest charged less than one-half that paid here, but the care taken in storing the articles pledged is much greater. Indeed it is the usual practice for people to send their winter clothes to the pawn shop on the appearance of spring, and their summer garments when the cold north winds begin to blow. They are in the habit of doing this, not because they stand in need of money—far from it; they may be at the moment at the height of affluence—but simply because the pawn shops afford the safest, most convenient and generally the best wardrobe they can procure. Not only do they obtain the advantages of this depository without payment of rent, but they have also the use of a certain amount of money, which, as a rule, they are able to lay out at considerable higher interest than that which they have to allow to the pawn-broker. That the arrangement does not tend to the undue advantage of a class of usurers, but really benefits the community, is proved by the result; for although China has been called the land of pawn-broking, there are fewer unredeemed pledges there than in any other country. Thus the impecunious Chinese have all the advantages advantages attaching to a pawn-shop, with none of the inconveniences which people in other lands endure.

DR. PIERCE'S "Favorite Prescription" is not extolled as a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent specific in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. Particulars in Dr. Pierce's pamphlet treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women, 96 pages, sent for three stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N.Y.

They were playing lawn-tennis, when Brown, who was rapidly running to return a ball which Jones had craftily fed him, entangled his legs in a spare racket which somebody had carelessly left on the ground, and ploughed a considerable furrow in the earth with his nose. Jones ran to his assistance, and after picking him up and finding that he was not hurt, said: "Brown, old boy, I haven't given you half credit enough, but I must say now that for quickness of apprehension you have no equal."

"What do you mean by that?" asked Brown, rubbing his nose ruefully.

"Why, I never saw any one tumble to the racket as quick as you did."

And now Brown speaks of Jones in private as a slangy fellow, with a low taste for punning.

DR. PIERCE's "Pellets"—little liver pills (sugar-coated)—purify the blood, speedily correct all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels. By druggists.

Two Liepsic chemists have patented a process for obtaining liquid sugar which does not crystallize. This result is said to be effected by adding to a purified sugar solution a small quantity of crystallized citric acid, which combines with the sugar and deprives it of its tendency to crystallize.

THE King of Denmark is truly a paternal monarch. Finding that during the recent severe weather the royal foot guards were suffering greatly from Colds and Coughs, this good old gentleman ordered a supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for them, and now the soldiers are happy.

The Alleged Decadence of French Women.

In the last century French society and literature were dominated, according to Sydney Smith—whom we quote in substance and not with verbal accuracy—by a coterie of brilliant women who violate all the laws of God and man and wrote charming letters. It may not be matter of regret that the D'Epinays, Deffands, and L'Espinasses have passed away, and that adultery is no longer esteemed a necessary concomitant of esthetics, but the De Staels, Recamiers, and other ladies, who rivaled in intellect though happily not in depravity, their predecessors, would be ornaments of any age or country. It is certain that no country has been so much indebted to their women for intellectual and social prestige as France.

It is, therefore, unpleasant to learn through Blackwood's Magazine that this glory is of the past. Nineteen pages of a late number of the periodical are occupied with an article entitled "The Decadence of French Women." The alleged cause of the decline is the establishment of republican institutions. These have changed French society. Individual liberty has been diminished through the laws which have nominally leveled the old barriers between classes, and have really opened the whole social territory to the warfare of class against class. Woman is no longer the uncrowned queen that she once was. She can no longer dictate from her salon, with as much authority as the monarch from his throne, and with her power most of her brilliancy has dissapeared. Were she to display her art and sentiment as formerly, they would fail to exert the power they once enjoyed, and hence, falling into disuse, because their practical efficiency has departed, they have declined and died.

There is probably some truth in the assertion that the old time supremacy of women has departed. The social condition of France has been affected by the influences which have changed every other country. Yet the present is a period of transition, and when once things have become settled, the old brilliancy of the cultivated French women will reassert itself. They have not all become idiots through a change of political institutions. The atmosphere of change may have chilled their vivacity, but it will not be for long. When once republicanism has become an assured permanency in France, its beneficent effects will make themselves apparent in all political and social circles. The frivolity which was too often an accompaniment of the old time brilliancy will not revive, but there will come in its place conscientious self-control, an earnest philanthropy, and a living interest in the public good. These are dwafted under the shadow of despotism, but flourish in in the sunshine of free institutions.

Blackwood, true to its Tory instincts, looks upon popular government with despair. In its opinion the throes by which the birth of liberty is preceded and followed are to continue through its entire life. With Lord John Manners it would say:

> Let learning, art, and commerce die,
> But spare, oh spare our old Nobility!

We may accept some of its data, but gather therefrom fruit for hope while it indulges in wails of pessimistic despair.—Cincinnati Gazette.

A Wise Deacon.

"Deacon Wilder, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much and have had the doctors visiting us so often."

"Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy. I used Hop Bitters in time; kept my family well and saved the doctors' bills. Three dollars' worth of it kept us well and able to work all the time. I'll warrant it has cost you and the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time."

"Deacon, I'll use your medicine hereafter."

FOES.

Thank fate for foes! I hold mine dear
 As valued friends. He cannot know
The zest of life who runneth here
 His earthly race without a foe.

I saw a prize. "Run!" cried my friend;
 "'Tis time to claim without a doubt."
But ere I half-way reached the end,
 I felt my strength was giving out.

My foe looked on the while I ran;
 A scornful triumph lit his eyes.
With that perverseness born in man,
 I nerved myself, and won the prize.

All blinded by the crimson glow
 Of sin's disguise, I tempted fate.
"I knew thy weakness!" sneered my foe.
 I saved myself, and balked his hate.

For half my blessings, half my gain,
 I needs must thank my trusty foe;
Despite his envy and disdain,
 He serves me well where'er I go.

So may I keep him to the end,
 Nor may his enmity abate;
More faithful than the fondest friend,
 He guards me ever with his hate.

—Ella Wheeler.

Has Everything Failed You?

Then try Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Dr. Holland's Last Verses.

The following verses appeared in the Youth's Companion, over Dr. Holland's signature, and they have a peculiar interest, in view of the fact they were the last he ever wrote:

If life awake and will never cease
 On the future's distant shore,
And the rose of love and the lily of peace
 Shall bloom there for evermore—

Let the world go round and round,
 And the sun sink into the sea;
For whether I'm on or under the ground,
 Oh, what will it matter to me?

KIDNEY-WORT effectively acts at the same time on kidneys, liver and bowels.

Holding the Fort.

A wealthy lady, who had passed the middle age without marrying, one day took upon herself a husband, to the great surprise of her friends. When the excitement occasioned by the event had partially subsided, a neighbor ventured to ask an explanation of the unexpected freak, and received the following reply: "You see, I keep a large house, and employ five servant girls. I contended against them single-handed for a long time, but finally realized that if I wished to retain possession of my home I would have to call in reinforcements. John had served in the army, understood tactics and was cool and brave, and so I married him. Two of the girls were discharged, and now the thing is evener than it used to be. We mean to hold the fort or die."

THOUSANDS of ladies have found sudden relief from all their woes by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Jurisdiction of Mental Discipline.

The real and designed purpose of our schools is to prepare the student for the practical duties of life. Discipline of the mind, then, lies at the base of our scheme of education; and the question to be answered by the professional teacher is: "How may the greatest degree of mental discipline be attained?"

Whoever takes the pains to glance at the course of study that has been adopted by the school authorities throughout the country, and considers the time devoted to it, will discover that about all a student can do is to memorize the text-books, with no time left to assimilate what he has learned. To prove that the real purpose has not been accomplished, ask a recent graduate of the high school to work out a problem in partial payments. He was an adept at it in the grammar school, but that was four years ago. He did not make the law his own, and has to go to his book to find out what it is, and the chances are that even then he will appeal to some one to explain it for him. His mind has not been disciplined to the ability of independent thought.

We do not decry the curriculum of our schools, but the manner in which a student is put through it, or rather in which it is put into a student. It becomes a nauseating mass that leads to disease of mind and body.

The processes of mental discipline, when properly pursued, are a delight even to childhood, and the happiest hours of the child's life are passed while under the kindly pressure of an intelligent and conscientious teacher, who really teaches young ideas how to shoot.

These processes, however, become irksome and mere drudgery when pursued through false and unnatural methods. The remedy or relief that the untutored boy resorts to is truancy, and fear of consequent punishment is all that prevents the remedy from becoming almost universal.

The true remedy lies in the reversal of methods; making the acquisition of knowledge an incident of a disciplinary course—the means to an end, and that end the power of independent thought.

"Don't Know Half Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half-bottle left which I used for my two little girls, who the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I would have lost both of them one night if I had not given them Hop Bitters. They did them so much good I continued their use until they were cured. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them high enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y. See other column.—American Rural Home.

A COMPANY of Americans met at dinner at a hotel in Glasgow. Some fine large gooseberries were placed on the table for dessert. One of the party asked the waiter, a Hibernian, to bring him some more of the Scotch grapes. The man returned, and, with a broad grin on his face, put the fruit on the table. The stranger innocently inquired if Scotch people served their grapes without the stem. "Always," was the ready response, "they are nice and handy for making gooseberry fools."

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., will send their Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days, to any person afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing complete restoration of vigor and manhood.

Address as above without delay.

N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed.

DR. WINCHELL'S Teething Syrup has never failed to give immediate relief when used in cases of Summer Complaint, Cholera-infantum, or pains in the stomach. Mothers, when your little darlings are suffering from these or kindred causes, do not hesitate to give it a trial. You will surely be pleased with the charming effect. Be sure to buy Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup. Sold by all druggists. Only 25 cents per bottle.

INDIGESTION, dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all forms of general debility relieved by taking MENSMAN'S PEPTONIZED BEEF TONIC, the only preparation of beef containing its entire nutritious properties. It contains blood-making, force-generating and life-sustaining properties; is invaluable in all enfeebled conditions, whether the result of exhaustion, nervous prostration, overwork or acute disease, particularly if resulting from pulmonary complaints. Caswell, Hazard & Co., proprietors, New York.

FOR Headache, Constipation, Liver Complaint and all bilious derangements of the blood, there is no remedy as sure and safe as Eilert's Daylight Liver Pills. They stand unrivalled in removing bile, toning the stomach and in giving healthy action to the liver. Sold by all druggists.

HO, YE BALDHEADS!—There is just one way, and no more, by which you may be cured—use CARBOLINE, a deodorized extract of petroleum. It will positively produce new hair; there is no substitute for this marvelous petroleum hair renewer.

TEN THOUSAND prominent citizens of Chicago are wearing the Magnetic Insoles. See advertisement.

THE sales of the Frazer Axle Grease are constantly increasing, thus indicating that the public thoroughly appreciate its good qualities.

FOR Rheumatism, Sprains and Bruises, use Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment, sold by all druggists.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when, to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with diseased lungs will take DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.

DR. BULL'S
COUGH
SYRUP

DR. [illegible], [illegible] State st., Chicago, [illegible] Throat and Lung Diseases by Inhalation.

STEAMSHIP AGENTS should send for a copy (free) of the N. Y. Shipping Gazette, containing all information about European Steamship Lines. Address [illegible], 150 Nassau street, New York.

THE COUNTRYMAN
IN THE Weather Signal Office.

Mr. Jeremiah Toadvine, of the rural district, brought a letter of introduction to the United States Signal Officer, and by the latter gentleman was shown the beautiful scientific instruments for measuring and determining the various changes and conditions of the weather. Pointing to the standard thermometer he explained to Mr. T. the uses of the heat gauge, whereupon Mr. T. anxiously inquired if he "hadn't nother un to spare—sich a nice merchine to sell the weather in hayin' and harvest time." His inspection of the barometer or wind measurer evoked the expression: "Wouldn't she be the racket to run the wind mill with." The barometer was one too many for Toadvine, and, looking quesrly at the official, as if he were utterly nonplussed and bankrupt of words, said: "Friend, did you ever have the reumatis?" The abruptness of the question surprised the officer, whereupon he replied, "No—never." "What——" Evidently recollecting himself, Mr. T. stopped on the ragged edge of the threadbare remark, and said: "I only wanted to know, for if this trap (pointing to the barometer) shows the good an' bad weather afore it's time, it would be a bully trap for people with reumatis; they could hank it every time. Up my country when folks has it they use ST. JACOBS OIL, an' it's a powerful argyment agin reumatis—it's the upper dorg in the fight every time." With thanks for the unexpected information, the official politely turned Mr. Toadvine over to the usher to show him to the street car, while he, looking over his paper, read: "Mrs. T. A. Gist, No. 1204 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: I had inflammatory rheumatism very badly. In one foot and ankle it seemed to have taken hold with the determination to stay, and the morning I obtained the ST. JACOBS OIL I could not put my foot down to the floor, even for an instant. I used it that evening for the first time, and the next morning for the second time, and that afternoon put my foot down for several minutes. On the Sunday following I could stand up and walk a few steps. On Tuesday could walk about my room and went down stairs by holding on to the banisters. Now I can walk quite well and there is very little pain left. Just think! one bottle and a half, and I am almost free from pain! It is a wonderful medicine.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

PEARCE's new method of computing Partial Payments. By mail, 50c. Address J. Q. PEARCE, Milan, Tenn.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & CO., Portland, Me.

GUNS Revolvers. Catalogue free. Address Great West. Gun Works, Pittsburgh, Pa.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

AGENTS WANTED for the Best and Fastest-Selling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per ct. NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

$225 A MONTH—AGENTS WANTED—90 best selling articles in the world; 1 sample free. Address Jay Bronson, Detroit, Mich.

OPIUM Morphine Habit Cured in 10 to 20 days. No pay till Cured. DR. J. STEPHENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

$777 A YEAR and expenses to Agents. Outfit free. Address P. O. Vickery, Augusta, Me.

KIDDER'S PASTILLES. Sure relief ASTHMA. Price 35cts. by mail. Stowell & Co., Charlestown, Mass.

WANTED—AGENTS everywhere to sell the best Puzzle since the "15." JUST THE THING FOR THE HOLIDAYS. Send for circulars. Sample, 15c. ACME PUZZLE CO., P.O. Box 3288, New York, and P.O. Box 2280, Boston, Mass.

ASTHMA CURED. German Asthma Cure never fails to give immediate relief in the worst cases, insures comfortable sleep; effects cures where all others fail. A trial convinces the most skeptical. Price, 50c. and $1.00 of Druggists or by mail. Sample FREE for stamp. DR. R. SCHIFFMAN, St. Paul, Minn.

"MAGNETISM."

Our Magnetic Insoles are a sure relief for Cold Feet, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Defective Circulation, Nervous and General Debility, Nervous Prostration, Female Weaknesses, etc., and if not found as represented will refund the price paid at all times. Sent by mail to any address upon receipt of one dollar per pair. Call or address, stating size wanted, THE MAGNETON APPLIANCE Co., Sole Manufacturers, 218 State street, Chicago, Ill.

N. B.—Agents and Canvassers wanted in every city, village and town in the Union, to sell our Magnetic Appliances and Insoles. Address, with stamp, for terms, etc., The Magneton Appliance Co., 218 State street, Chicago, Ill.

SEEDS

FRESH, PURE & RELIABLE
Every variety tested. SEEDS! Give them a trial.
NO OLD STOCK IN STORE.
Home-grown and Choice Imported. Send for Catalogue. A. B. BARNES, 46 & 48 West Lake St., CHICAGO, ILL.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE PICTORIAL
HISTORY OF THE WORLD

Embracing full and authentic accounts of every nation of ancient and modern times, and including a history of the rise and fall of the Greek and Roman Empires, the middle ages, the crusades, the feudal system, the reformation, the discovery and settlement of the New World, etc., etc.

It contains 672 fine historical engravings, and is the most complete History of the World ever published. Send for specimen pages and extra terms to Agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Chicago, Ill.

Diary Free for 1882, with [illegible] on receipt of two Three-Cent Stamps. Address CHARLES E. HIRES, 48 N. Delaware Ave., Phila.

STANDARD AMERICAN WATCHES. [illegible] sent by mail or C. O. D. to be examined. [illegible] STANDARD AMERICAN WATCH CO., PITTSBURGH, PA.

PRICE $20. [illegible] [illegible]

NEW RICH BLOOD!

Parsons' Purgative Pills make New Rich Blood, and will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take one pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible. Sold everywhere or sent by mail for 8 letter stamps. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass., formerly Bangor, Me.

BORROW

The New York Weekly Witness from your neighbor and see if it is not just the newspaper you want. It has everything. The latest news from all parts, reports of Fulton Street Prayer-Meeting, the Independent Catholic Church; everything that is of interest to good people; markets, stories, something to interest the ladies. $1.00 a year. Send by postal card and get a specimen copy and club rates from JOHN DOUGALL & CO., 17 to 21 Vandewater street, New York.

FLORIDA! Atlantic and Gulf Coast Canal and Okeechobee Land Co. of Fla.

ISSUE OF 50,000 SHARES OF $10 EACH AT PAR.
With bonus of 40 acres for each 10 shares, from choice lands of the Disston purchase.
OFFICES—Third and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia; 115 Broadway, N. Y., Rooms 111-113.
Detailed prospectus with descriptive maps mailed free to applicants.

A. BEATTY'S PIANOFORTES.—Magnificent holiday presents; square grand pianofortes, four very handsome round corners, rosewood cases, three unisons, Beatty's matchless iron frames, stool, book cover, boxed, $222.75 to $297.50; catalogue prices, $800 to $1,000; satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded, after one year's use; Upright Pianofortes, $125 to $255; catalogue prices $500 to $800; standard pianofortes of the universe, as thousands testify; write for mammoth list of testimonials. Beatty's Cabinet ORGANS, cathedral, church, chapel, parlor, $30 upward. Visitors welcome; free carriage meets passengers; illustrated catalogue (holiday edition) free. Address or call upon DANIEL F. BEATTY, Washington, New Jersey.

PISO'S CURE

Consumptives and people who have weak lungs or asthma, should use Piso's Cure for Consumption. It has cured thousands. It has not injured one. It is not bad to take. It is the best cough syrup. Sold everywhere. 25c. & $1.

CONSUMPTION

KIDNEY-WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE
IN EITHER LIQUID OR DRY FORM
That Acts at the same time on
THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, AND THE KIDNEYS.
WHY ARE WE SICK?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

WILL SURELY CURE
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
PILES, CONSTIPATION, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS,

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why suffer Bilious pains and aches!
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation!
Why frightened over disordered Kidneys!
Why endure nervous or sick headaches!

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health.

It is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans one package of which makes six quarts of medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, for those that cannot readily prepare it.

It acts with equal efficiency in either form. GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's,
(Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

SIX CTS WHY WASTE MONEY? Young man or old, if you want a luxuriant moustache, flowing whiskers or a heavy growth of hair on bald heads, or to THICKEN, STRENGTHEN and INVIGORATE the HAIR anywhere, don't be humbugged. Try the great Spanish discovery which has NEVER YET FAILED. Send ONLY SIX CENTS to Dr. J. GONZALES, Box 1642, Boston, Mass. Beware of all imitations.

C. N. U. No. 53

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

DR. HARTER'S

Endorsed and recommended by the medical profession for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.

[illegible] was suffering from [illegible] [illegible] that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your IRON TONIC, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. [illegible] and I found that my natural [illegible] permanently checked. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. WATSON, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.

The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphorus, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where a Tonic is necessary.

IRON TONIC.

MANUFACTURED BY THE DR. HARTER MEDICINE CO., No. 213 NORTH MAIN STREET, ST. LOUIS.

IMPROVEMENTS—NEW STYLES—NEW CATALOGUE.

THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.,

Whose cabinet or parlor organs have won HIGHEST HONORS AT EVERY ONE of the GREAT WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITIONS for FOURTEEN YEARS (being the only American organs which have been found worthy of such at any), have effected MORE and GREATER PRACTICALLY VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS in their Organs in the LAST YEAR than in any similar period since the first introduction of this instrument by them, twenty years since; and are now offering ORGANS OF HIGHER EXCELLENCE and ENLARGED CAPACITY; also popular MEDIUM and SMALLER STYLES of IMPROVED QUALITY, and at LOWER PRICES—$22, $30, $54, $60 and upwards. A NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, 36 pp., 4to, is now ready (October, 1881), fully describing and illustrating more than 100 styles of Organs. This, with net prices, and circulars containing much information about organs generally, which will be useful to every one thinking of purchasing, will be sent free and postpaid. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont St., BOSTON; 46 East 14th St., NEW YORK; or, 149 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.

PETROLEUM JELLY
Sold by All Druggists.
Used and approved by the leading PHYSICIANS of EUROPE and AMERICA.
The most Valuable Family Remedy known.
VASELINE
For the Treatment of WOUNDS, BURNS, SORES, CUTS, CHILBLAINS, SKIN DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, HEMORRHOIDS, Etc. Also for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Croup and Diphtheria, etc. Try them. 25 and 50 cent sizes of all our goods.
The Toilet Articles from pure Vaseline—such as Pomade Vaseline, Vaseline Cold Cream, Vaseline Camphor Ice, Vaseline Toilet Soaps, are superior to any similar ones.
VASELINE CONFECTIONS.
An agreeable form of taking Vaseline internally.
25 CENTS A BOX.
COLGATE & CO., N.Y.
GRAND MEDAL AT THE PHILADELPHIA EXPOSITION.
SILVER MEDAL AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, IND'NA., JAN. 5, 1882.

Valedictory.

On account of continued ill hea'th I have deemed it advisable to sever my connection with the COURIER and have therefore disposed of my interest to the senior member of the firm, Mr. J. A. Barns, who is so well and favorably known that he needs no introduction to you from me. During the brief period of a little over a year in which I was connected with the paper, I formed many pleasant acquaintances. The fraternity have treated me with universal courtesy, and I shall ever cherish the kindest regards for them. To the general readers of the COURIER I will say that I did the best I could under the circumstances to contribute my share to make the paper one worthy of your support and have every reason to believe that you are satisfied with the effort. Wishing the new management abundant success and all of you long life and prosperity, and hoping to regain my health, I am with best wishes,

Yours truly,

D. Y. HUSSELMAN.

IT will be seen from the above, that Mr. Husselman has retired from the COURIER. It is with regret, that we say this, as during his connection with the paper, our relations have been most pleasant. But ill health continued during the past seven months, has compelled him to take this step, and it is to be sincerely hoped that rest and freedom from care will eventually restore him. He has our best wishes to that end. Mr. F. P. Blair, who takes his place on the COURIER, is a young man of good education, good business ability, and of unblemished character, We ask for him the same unvarying courtesy that the COURIER has always received at the hands of its patrons. Accounts of all kind will be settled by the new firm.

JAMES A. BARNS.

Salutatory.

The undersigned starts upon his journalistic career with the first issue of the twelfth volume of the COURIER.

He feels that, for one of his age and experience, he has taken quite a responsibility upon himself, but he enters upon this new "era" of his life, as it may be called, with the determination to succeed if possible, and if, from lack of ability or any other cause, he is "found wanting" he hopes he may meet with charitable criticism from the people and press. He desires to be on terms of cordiality and good feeling with every one and to merit the respect and confidence of the public. He will endeavor to create and to perpetuate such a feeling. In conclusion, he will say that, with the advice and counsel of the senior editor, he feels reasonably assured of success in his new enterprise. Hoping that his object may be attained and that he may meet with public approval he is

Very Respectfully,

F. P. BLAIR.

A SMALL-POX CURE. Just at this period, a great many cures for small pox are heard of. We were handed the following cure, invented by Edward Hine, one day last week, and whether or not it possesses any merits, no harm can result from giving it a trial. Cut it out and paste it in your scrap book, so that, if in future you should be stricken down with the dread disease you may have a prescription at hand. It reads as follows. "I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man," wrote Edward Hine to the Liverpool Mercury, "if the worst case of smallpox cannot be cured in three days simply by the use of cream of tartar disolved in a pint of water, drink at intervals when cold, is a certain, never-failing remedy. It has cured thousands, never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and avoids tedious lingering."

THE New York Tribune is trying to make believe that Arthur is not going to be a good president. The best time for that eminently soft shelled paper to protest against Arthur, was during the campaign of 1880. If Arthur was unfit, the Tribune knew it then as well as it knows it now, and knowing it, and yet supporting him, cuts off the Tribune from any sympathy for its present sorrows. Had that paper supported Gen. Hancock as vigorously as it did Garfield and Arthur, it might to day rest satisfied that a man of ability and integrity stood at the head of our national government.

AT Shanesville, Ohio, while the Knights of Pythias were holding a festival last Saturday night, the floor of the hall gave way, and over 300 persons were precipitated to the first floor. The sides of the floor remained hanging, so that all were jammed together in the middle at the bottom. The red-hot stove and several broken kerosene lamps fell on them, and the flames at once burst forth and wrapped the helpless victims in a sheet of flame. Before they could be rescued from this awful pit, five or six were fatally burned and many others injured.

Our Neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem. Studebaker, of South Bend, will, next year, build a handsome church at that place. The entire expense will be borne by them.

The vote on the proposition to donate $150,000 for the building of the "Coal Road," into Fort Wayne, went against the road by a large majority.

At Bremen last week Tuesday Mrs. Wilkinson, the ticket agent's wife, seemed well and did her afternoon work, but took sick and died before 6 p. m.

Advertising pays. Four months ago, Hirsch Bros. started a grocery in this place, and have advertised liberally. In two days last week, their cash sales amounted to over $200.—[Hicksville News.

Albion came near having another fire last week. A lamp in the house of Mr. Alvard, county clerk, exploded, and before the flames could be suppressed, several hundred dollars worth of books, papers etc., were destroyed.

V. T. Malott, vice-president of the Detroit and Indianapolis division of the Wabash system, again denies the truth of the extensively-published report that the shops of the company at Peru are to be removed to Fort Wayne.—[Indianapolis Times.

The Fort Wayne Electric Light Co. is now prepared to turn out some twenty complete machines a week. A public exhibition of the lights in the new Olds' wagon works, will be given in a few days, and lights will immediately be placed in the Home Billiard Room.—[News.

Harry Barnes, a Kendallville boy, while playing with an old revolver, accidently discharged it. The ball entered just over the center of the collar bone and lodged under the skin and muscles, whence it was extracted by Drs. Williams and Wilson. The boy will probably seek other playthings hereafter.—[Ligonier Banner.

A little daughter of Lewis Urich, residing in Elkhart, one day last week while smoking a piece of twisted paper, inhaled the flames and burned her mouth and lips severely. About an hour afterwards the pain became so intense as to throw her into spasms. It is thought she will recover.—[Ligonier Banner.

The Lagrange Democrat says that "Rev. Jabez Shaffer writes us that he has removed to Albion, Noble county, where he will take charge of the Lutheran congregation. Rev. Shaffer is an able sermonizer, and a christian gentleman, and will unboubtedly draw to himself a host of friends in his new home, as he has done wherever he has formed an acquaintance."

"The friends of an alleged newspaper man, of this county, should call his attention to the new criminal code, making it a public offense to conduct, or attempt to conduct, a lottery or gift enterprise within the limits of the state."—[Press.

That's right Bro. Baxter, stir 'em up. It just hits all these fellows who are offering such prizes as "Kendall's Spavined Book" to induce people to subscribe for papers that would not otherwise be taken. Go for 'em, you have our sympathy.

Mr. A. F. Martin purchased the residence of Jim McDonald on west Van Buren street last Saturday, and will soon become a citizen of this place. Mr. Martin has labored long and faithfully as a tiller of the soil, and has most assuredly earned the privilege he is now taking, that of spending the remainder of his life in retirement. We welcome Mr. Martin to our midst.—[Columbia City Post.

Mrs. A. S. Parker, who has been sick for over one year, and for the last two months has been confined to her room up stairs, was brought down last Sabbath, and comfortably fixed in a seat at the table, and partook of a Christmas dinner with her family, which she enjoyed very much. While we cannot report any great change in her condition for the better, yet she has not lost anything for the past two or three weeks.—[Kendallville News.

South Bend has had several cases of small pox, and the doctors of that thriving village are quarreling with each other in consequence of it. A Mrs. Russ was taken sick, and Dr. J. Mauer, a member of the board of health, pronounced the disease varioloid. Another physician, just as prominent as Mauer, examined Mrs. Russ and declared with much positiveness that her disease was neither small pox nor varioloid. This riled Dr. Mauer, and he is now making an ass of himself by proposing to bet $500 that he diagnosed the case correctly. It is to be proved by placing an unvaccinated child in the room with Mrs. Russ, where it will be fully exposed to the disease, and if it does not take the small pox then will he admit that Mrs. Russ hasn't small pox and forfeit his $500. Such a proposition might safely be made, though the wager were three times as great, as it is not at all probable there is a parent in South Bend or elsewhere who would consent to his or her offspring being used in such a test.—[Wabash Courier.

—The Bartlett ax is the king of the forest. For sale at Kiblinger's. tf

Annual Meeting of the N. E. Ind. Agricultural Association.

This meeting, which was held at Waterloo, last Thursday, drew out an unusually good attendance of stockholders. The usual reports were made, and business of the year settled up. The election of officers called out a pretty full vote, and some interest was manifested in the matter of president and secretary. The candidates for president were, J. N. Chamberlain and R. N. Crooks; for secretary, A. R. Stevens and J. A. Barns. Chamberlain and Stevens were elected by handsome majorities. J. Spencer was made vice president and J. A. Shull treasurer by a unanimous vote, there being no opposition. The following gentlemen were then elected directors for the ensuing year: John Boots, P. B. Nimmons, Charles Kaisely, J. A. Barns John Leas, Cyrus Bowman, R. N. Crooks, Jessie Brumbeck, John Buchanan, F. B. Va nAuken, Henry Hood, M. B, Willis, C A. O. McClellan J. E. Thomson, Wm. Crane, E. Z. Williamson, J. N. Chamberlain, J. Spencer, J. A. Shull, A. R. Stevens.—The stockholders meeting then adjourned, and a short session was held by the directors, who adjourned to meet on Thursday, January 12, at 1 o'clock p.m.

ARTHUR gave a brilliant reception at the white house on new years day, or rather the evening of the 2nd. But in order to conciliate the friends of Garfield he ordered that no decorations be allowed. And a very sensible plan it was, whether he did it to forward his boom for 1884 or not. It was the first formal reception that has been given at the executive mansion since Garfield's death.

NEWS was received last week, from Plymouth, North Carolina, of a riot among the colored population there. The trouble was caused by the arrest of some negroes who were fighting. They resisted the officers, but were finally arrested, after several persons had been seriously wounded. On the way to jail, however, a mob of negroes overpowered the officers, and the prisoners were released.

THE COURIER starts out under its new management this week.

THE latest specimen of Guiteau's cheek in the matter of letter writing, is the one he sent to Don Cameron. It was recently introduced into court, and is as follows:

Hon. Don Cameron:

DEAR SIR.—I am on trial for my life, and I need money. I am a Stalwart of the Stalwarts, and so are you. You think a great deal of General Arthur, so do I. My inspiration made him President, and I am going to ask you to let me have $500. If I get out of this I will return it; if not, charge it to the Stalwarts.

Yours for our cause, and very cordially. CHARLES J. GUITEAU.

In court, Washington, D. C., Dec. 19, 1881.

P. S.—Please give your check to my brother, J. W. Guiteau, of Boston, and make it payable to my order.

C. G.

GUITEAU'S brother, John W., has struck the truth, as near as can be when he says the jury will hang the assassin whether sane or insane. But the trial still drags along but nothing new is brought out.

THE democratic editors of the state are in session this week, at Indianapolis.

—For axes call on Kiblinger & Co. tf

—Kiblinger & Co., sell the celebrated Bartlett ax.

St. Johns.

Mrs. Haines has been quite poorly for some time.

Call and see our doctor. He is always ready to give you his attention and warrants satisfaction.

Mr. P. and Miss I. Fair had a social last Friday night. The young folks enjoyed themselves very much.

Tony Sythens has resigned from the St. John's brass band, for reasons not given. He is considered a good player.

Father Reave took quite ill last Wednesday night, with a pain in his side. Dr. Nenderhiser was called, and soon gave him relief.

Mrs. Larimore was quite surprised on New Year's eve., to see a dozen or more of her old and young friends step in and wish her a happy new year.

Mr. Quince celebrated his forty-ninth birthday last Thursday. The old folks stepped in and had a lively time. Good supper was served.

Waterloo.

It is reported that C. C. Clark has gone east to get married.

Alonzo Fawcett has been on the sick list a few days.

J. M. Waterman was in town Monday, on business.

Robert Patterson spent New Years with his family here.

Mrs. R. M. Lockhart was calling on her friends in Auburn, Monday.

John Ettinger, South Bend, spent New Years with his friends here.

G. W. Miller spent a part of last week in Fort Wayne on business.

Will Patterson is on the sick list, and has come home for a few days rest.

Mrs. Eckhardt and her daughter, Mary, of Toledo, are here on a visit.

Miss Clara Brown, of Edgerton, O., is visiting at her uncle's, O. T. Clark.

Miss Plumy Roby, of Pleasant Lake, spent New Years with Miss Gracie Roby.

Mat Zervis, Jr. came up from Auburn to eat New Years turkey with his parents.

Charles Bassett, Jr., spent New Years at home. He reports business lively in Hicksville.

Mrs. R. Wes McBride has been quite sick for several days, but is better at this writing.

Charlie McClellan was home from Ann Arbor, to spend the holidays with his friends here.

F. W. Willis and wife attended the reunion of the old 44th regiment at Lagrange Tuesday.

Misses Hattie and Ola Brink, of Plymouth, O., spent New Years with Mrs. R. Wes McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Kelley spent their New Year with the mother of the latter, in Pierceton.

Henry Heign came home to spend New Years. He will return to Wolcottville in a few days.

Milton Chaney and wife, of Sedan, and Harrison Jones, of Fairfield, were in town last Saturday.

Geo. W. Sparks, of Jackson, Mich., spent last Sunday and Monday in this place, with his family.

Reuben Ettinger, of Angola, was in town Monday, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. B. F. Kennedy.

Amos Walsworth and wife spent New Years with Mrs. Walsworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bassett.

Dr. Chamberlain and R. M. Lockhart went to Indianapolis, Monday, to meet with the state board of agriculture,

J. B. Taylor took a trip over to Auburn last week. He has been assisting in Willis' book store, for a few days.

Miss Clara Ettinger is having a very serious attack of neuralgia, but her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

E. R. Shomemaker was in town last Thursday, and took part in the election of officers, for the agricultural society.

John Campbell, the blacksmith, is working for Mr. Miller, in his wagon shop, and is never at a lack for something to do.

Ex-Commissioner Griffith and wife, of Corunna, spent a few days last week, with their daughter, Mrs. G. M. Crane, of this place.

J. D. Clark, the good natured fence carpenter of the L. S. & M. S. railroad, spent New Years with his family near Quincy, Mich.

Last evening, Rev. Lacy received a terrible pounding from his friends, but he exhibited considerable patience during the ordeal.

Mrs. J. A. Matson, of Waterloo, Iowa, is at her father's, having been called here by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. E. H. Taylor.

J. M. Kimsey and the Denison boys furnished martial music for the reunion at Lagrange. Mr. K. was the regiment's drummer during the war.

John Beaver, an old friend of Mike Frevlinger, of this place, and section foreman on the Lake Shore road, has been transferred from Pettisville, O., to Butler.

Dick Till's favorite dog collided with a Lake Shore freight train on Main street last Monday. It is needless to say that the train was unhurt, while the poor cur was terribly mangled.

—Miss Jennie McClellan took the evening train Tuesday, for Waterloo. She will return to Ann Arbor after spending a few days with friends at the former place.

Cy. McCabe, formerly of this place, intends starting next Monday, for the iron mines of Lake Superior. Cy. is well known here, and it is hoped that he will be successful in his new venture.

Our friend, Freeman Kelley, is manifesting his usual spirit of pluck and enterprise, by furnishing our citizens with wood, though he has sometimes to use a three-horse team to get it to town over the terrible roads.

We last week became acquainted with Mr. John Meek, operator, who was temporarily in charge of the wires at this place. He has now gone to Wawaka, to take the place of F. P. Blair, as day operator at that place. A short acquaintance resulted in a favorable impression as to Mr. Meek's ability and gentlemanly qualities. He has our best wishes, for his success in his new position.

The I. O. O. F. at this place, installed the following officers at their lodge last Tuesday evening: Chauncy Abbott, N. G.; Frank Chandler, V. G.; S. B. Johnson, Sec'y.; Carson Edge, P. S.; Fred. Haskins, Treas.; O. P. Smith, J. Brown and N. H. Weaver, trustees.

J. R. Duncan can beat anything in town kicking cats without boots. He will doubtless remember his recent experiments in that line, even if the girls had'nt put a kicked cat on the christmas tree for his especial benefit. But there is no salve like good nature for a broken toe.

The musical entertainments given by the home glee club on last Friday and Saturday evenings, were not as well attended as they should have been, though the audience the first night was fair. Those who staid away missed a rare treat. The music was good and well rendered. Where all did so well it is hard to particularize, but the duet, "Hope Beyond" by Long and Dickinson, is spoken of as being especially fine.

The K. of H. at their annual election last Friday evening, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Wm. H. Leas, dictator; Byron Rothchild, vice-dictator; Gust J. Beck, assistant dictator; S. B. Johnson, reporter; Ed. Long, financial acceptor; J. R. Duncan, treasurer; S. R. Rickel, guide; J. M. Waterman, guardian; Curtis Shultz, sentinel. J. C. Boyer, J. A. Boozer and H. Froelich, trustees. J. R. Duncan, representative to Grand Lodge. J. C. Boyer, alternate representative to Grand Lodg

Fort Wayne & Jackson Railroad Company's Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fort Wayne & Jackson railroad company, for the election of directors for the ensuing year, and the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it, will be held on Saturday, January 28, 1882, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the general office of the company, in Jackson, Mich. The transfer books will close January 10, and remain closed until Jan. 30.

50-4w. M. G. [illegible],

New York, Dec. 26, 1881. Secretary.

—The highest hopes and interest of the race rest on the purity, health and strength of womanhood. We take pleasure in referring our readers to the remarkable efficacy of Lydia A. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in all that class of diseases from which women suffer so much.

1-1w.

Notice of Administration.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the De Kalb circuit court, of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of David and Phebe Monroe, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

LEWIS E. WASSON, Adm'r.

Jan. 4, 1882. 3w.

STILL AT THE FRONT!

FULL AGAIN!

-THE-

POPULAR STORE!

-OF-

ISAAC OCHS!

Has an IMMENSE STOCK of all kinds of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.

SAMPLE PRICES:

GOOD PRINTS	5 cents
BEST SHIRTING	10 cents
GOOD MUSLIN	6 cents

Everything else in proportion.

Big line of Ladies' Cloaks, Dolmans, Shawls, etc.—Elegant Styles and Terrible Cheap. Men's, Boys' and Children's Overcoats and Suits. Immense Stock, and Nobody can

UNDERSELL ME!

Big line of Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps—CHEAP. Boots and Shoes Regardless of Cost. THEY MUST GO.

GROCERES--I'VE GOT THEM!

SAMPLE PRICES:

Granulated Sugar	11c. per lb	Best Japan Tea	45c. per lb
Coffee A Sugar	10c. per lb.	Choice Japan Tea Dust	22c. per lb
Coffee C Sugar	9c. per lb.	Extra Choice Gunpowder	65c. per lb
Good Brown Sugar	8c. per lb.	Good Smoking Tobacco	30c. per lb
Best Syrup	65c. a gal.	Choice Fine Cut	50c. per lb
Best Rio Coffee 18c. per lb. 6 for	$1.00	Best Plug	70c. per lb
Good Rio Coffee 15c. per lb.	7 for $1.00	Carolina Rice	8c. per lb
Arbuckle's Ariosa	18c. per lb.	Best Crackers	8c. per lb
Best Saleratus	7c. per lb.	Corn Starch	9c. per lb

Silver Gloss Starch 9c. per pound.

Everything Else in proportion.

Pay Highest Prices for Produce at the Popular Store

ISAAC OCHS.

COME BEFORE EVE. AVOID THE JAM GIVE ALL A CHANCE.

AN OPEN SECRET.

An open winter has caught us with 2,000 OVERCOATS, with 300 dozen Shirts and Drawers, $60,000--sixty thousand dollars worth of Clothing, Hats, Caps, etc. Seriously, we Must get rid of this Elephant. Do you understand? PROFIT out of the question. It is the PRINCIPAL we are after. Ask no questions, but call if you want to save money. CLOTHING WAY DOWN.

SAM. PETE & MAX, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BUY YOUR

Holiday Goods

-AT-

Ensley & Harter's.

—(o)—

CANDIES.

FANCY, MIXED, STICK and TOY CANDIES.

—(o)—

TOYS, TOYS!

Of every description, and at any price

—

Dolls, Dolls.

These goods will please you, and at prices that will astonish you. Also a

BIG ASSORTMENT

-OF-

KID GLOVES, COLLARS,
KID GLOVES, COLLARS,
TIES,
TIES;
LACES, SCARFS,
LACES, SCARFS,
HOODS,
HOODS,
SILK HANDKERCHIEFS,
SILK HANDKERCHIEFS.

—(o)—

PURE MXIED CANDY

12 CENTS PER LB 12

—(o)—

Before buying, examine our goods.

ENSLEY & HARTER

Merited Promotion.

It gives us pleasure to note the fact that our friend Dr. D. J. Swartz, last week, received the appointment as surgeon for this portion of the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific road. While this may necessitate the removal of the doctor from this place to Butler, yet we feel like congratulating him on his success. This is not the first position of the kind he has held, as we learn that he has been county physician at two different times, having held that position for two years just before the war, and two years since. Dr. S. graduated at the Ohio medical college at Cincinnati in 1860, twenty-one years ago. He located in Auburn soon after this, and became a partner of Dr. Chamberlain, who had just been elected sheriff. He afterwards went into the service and became surgeon of the one hundredth Indiana volunteers, in which capacity he served the remainder of the war. Returning he resumed the practice of his profession here. The doctor is proud of his medical alma mater, the Ohio medical college, which is now holding its forty-ninth session, being the oldest school of medicine in the west.

Comesky's Corners.

—Cold weather with a little snow.

—Peter Treeman is very low with consumption.

—A concert at the red school house Wednesday night.

—Miss M. Watson, living near Spencerville, died last week.

—Miss. E. Shippy, of Corunna, is visiting with relatives here.

—The infant daughter of Charles Gleasure was buried last week.

—Mrs. E. Clark, from Wisconsin, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Gleasure.

—Marion Carnahan has bid adieu to his young associates and gone to Mansfield, Ohio, probably never to return.

The Christmas tree at Mrs. A. Gleasure's was reported a grand affair, and all went off pleasant and happy. The tree was loaded with costly presents, gold watches, gold necklaces, an organ and many other articles. The guests repaired to a bountiful supper prepared by Mrs. Gleasure, who is highly appreciated for her hospitality and kindness. After partaking of the delicious food the young folks returned to a room where they passed a few hours in a merry dance, after which all returned to their homes feeling that it was good for them to be there.

—We received last week a nicely printed holiday circular printed by Buckland Bros., of South Bend. It is one of the neatest specimens of typography we have seen for some time.

Auburn Courier

Local and Miscellaneous.

—For lap robes call on Kiblinger & Co. tf

—J. M. Somers and wife were in town this week.

—For horse blankets call on Kiblinger & Co. tf

—Hon. Miles Waterman was on our streets Tuesday.

—James McCrory, of Jackson township, died last week.

All kinds of hardware at reduced prices at Kiblinger & Co's. tf

—J. A. McClure, of Keyser township, called on us Saturday.

—J. P. Goetschius made us a pleasant visit last Saturday.

—Mother Shipton may now be classed among the "cranks."

—Henry Probst, of Keyster township, called on us last Friday.

—W. H. H. Cornell, one of our old-time teachers, was in town this week.

—Fresh bovine virus received last evening at the Physicians' drug store.

—Worth Coats was in town over Sunday, visiting his sister, Miss Letitia Coats.

—Phillip Parnell, one of the solid men of Smithfield, has been on the jury this term.

—Some of our citizens must have sworn on rather than off, if we judge by appearances.

—The new year comes in vigorously, and promises to have as lonely a life as its predecessors.

Hanging lamps and all kind of lamp goods at reduced prices, at Kiblinger & Co's. hardware. tf.

WANTED.—A competent woman cook, wages $4 a week. Apply at Butt's hotel, Waterloo, Ind. 3t.

—Isaac Ochs went to Jackson on Monday on business and will likely take in Toledo on his return.

—Mrs. Reiter, of Decatur, Ind., sister of Mrs. Dr. Cowan has been in town a few days visiting friends.

—Mr. & Mrs. McQuiston and a sister of the latter, were in Fort Wayne over Sunday, visiting friends there.

—Call on Kiblinger & Co., for hardware. They are always at the bottom in prices. tf.

—Miss Jennie Baxter, of Butler, was in town over Sunday visiting the family of her brother, Clerk Baxter.

—Mr. McGonigal, of Pierceton, spent Saturday and Sunday in town visiting his brother-in-law, G. A. Porter.

—Judge Lowry was here twice last week to assist the court in pulling through its vast amount of business.

—The great clearance sale of winter goods at Kiblinger & Co's. hardware to make room for spring hardware, for 30 days only. tf

—Mr. Frank Wright, of Steuben Co., and Miss Jessie Little, of this county, were married by Rev. Slusser Dec. 29, 1881.

—J. B. Hoover, the efficient marshal of Waterloo, called on the COURIER folks yesterday, and like a faithful friend, brought in some new subscribers.

—Now that the mud has disappeared and the ground frozen we have nothing else to grumble about except the hubs. Let us be content to wait and see what the new year will bring us.

—C. G. Shepherd has retired from the list of bachelors. The fortunate lady was Miss Fannie J. Hoffman, of Hicksville, Ohio. They were married last Thursday.

—Evening services will be resumed at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath evening. The sermon next Sabbath evening will be addressed especially to young men. Subject, "Where art thou?" A very cordial invitation is extended to all. W. T. MATHEWS.

—Miss Lillie McTighe has returned to this place and will take charge of the department in the public schools recently held by Miss Themson. Miss McTighe has been a resident of Wisconsin for a few years past.

—W. B. Maxwell, of Waterloo, was in town last week, and, of course, called on the COURIER. One of the houses for which he travels, that of Col. Streight in Indianapolis, met with a considerable loss a short time since by fire.

—Major Sprott is around the streets looking as bright and lively as ever. And yet the major will be seventy-eight next spring, at least so we are informed. How many of us will be as hale as he, at that age?

—Mrs. Hebel is cutting down the old locust trees in front of her residence on Main street, and converting them into fire wood. A good idea. We might add that Wm. Grosop is engineering the job, and does it very skillfully.

—Dr. J. R. Neaderhiser, of St. John, called on us Tuesday. Mr. N. has recently located at that place having removed from Fort Wayne, in July of last summer. He has bought property in St. Johns and intends to become a permanent resident of the county.

—R. B. Showers and wife were called to Fort Wayne last week by the sickness of their daughter, and on Monday of this week Mr. Showers learned that his wife's father, who resides in Steuben county, was quite sick and immediately left to visit him and give what assistance he could.

—The Republican, of last week, was the best issue ever sent from that office. Its exhibit of the business interests of Auburn, is very creditable to its managers.

MARRIED—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Butler township, on New Years day, Jan. 1, 1881, Rev. W. L. Meese officiating, Albert Thrush and Miss Ella S. Pepple.

—Miss Rose Shafer was home Sunday She gave her school one day for vacation and so had a chance to visit some of her young friends on Monday. She has one of the largest schools in Jackson township.

—This is a week of prayer in all the churches. We believe this custom will be generally observed by the different denominations here, and evening prayer meetings be held during the week.

—Ike Mannheimer, of Waterloo, called Monday to pay his respects to the COURIER, and to bid his friends here farewell. He goes away to seek fortunes in other fields. We wish him abundant success.

—The senior editor of the COURIER went to Waterloo, to attend the annual election of officers, ran for an office and got scooped. The fortunate man was Capt. A. R. Stevens, who was elected secretary for the ensuing year.

—The Presbyterian social will be entertained in the basement of their church on next Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. G. C. Ralston, Mrs. Theodore Reed, Mrs. D. D. Snyder and Mrs. Hartman. Supper from 5 to 6 o'clock. All are invited.

—Rev. J. G. Slusser has been holding a very interesting and successful protracted meeting at the brick church Otsego north. The meeting has resulted in thirty-seven accessions to the church, many of them being heads of families. There has been a great awakening in that section.

—Mrs. Ada Olds, of St. Joe, spent Sunday in town visiting her brother and sister, E. J. and Priscilla Coder. Mrs. Olds used to assist in teaching the young ideas how to shoot, and was a very successful teacher. Her husband is now engaged in selling dry goods, and we learn is having a prosperous business.

—J. W. Squires, of Corunna, called on us this week for a friendly chat. He has been at home a few days to spend the holidays with his family. He expresses himself highly pleased with the outlook for the medical profession. He will return to his studies at the Detroit medical school next week.

—G. W. Downs, of Fairfield, was on the jury a part of the time last week. We understand he will finish up the work of surveying the Cedar Creek improvement ditch. He expects when this work is done to remove with his family, to Kansas. Mr. Downs is one of our best farmers and we are sorry to have the county lose him.

—We notice that the Press has commenced anew its criticisms on the matter contained in the COURIER.—Now, the COURIER thinks that if Bro. Baxter would pay less attention to what other papers publish, and spend a little more time in getting something into his own, it would fill a long felt want, and be a great relief to his patient and long suffering subscribers.

—Rev. Matthews preached an excellent discourse last Sunday on the occasion of the commencement of the new year. His text was from Philippians, third chapter and the 13th and 14th verses: "But this one thing I do forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." His remaks were not only earnest and feeling but very appropriate to the occasion.

—We have received a circular from Mr. H. T. Woodman, whom many of the people of this county will remember for the fine display of corals and shells exhibited at the fair at Waterloo a few years ago. He has now established himself in this business at 236 Clinton Place, New York, and devotes his whole attention to furnishing the public with rare and beautiful specimens of these beauties of the ocean.

—We have received a copy of the Stock Breeder's Journal, a new paper devoted to the cattle raising interest. It is published by J. H. Sanders, the same, if we are not mistaken, who so long edited the National Stock Journal, a paper so well known to many of our readers, that all will at once be familiar with the aim and scope of the new journal. From a hasty glance at its contents, we judge it to be a valuable addition to our farming interests.

—Mrs. Mary Bennett met with a sad death at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Asher, Clearspring township, last week. The old lady has been an invalid from paralysis for years. On Tuesday of last week, during the momentary absence of all the members of the family from the parlor, where she was sitting and smoking, her clothes caught fire from embers from the pipe, and upon the return of Mrs. Asher, who hearing alarm from her ran in, was found enveloped in flames. The fire was promptly subdued by covering of blankets, but she was so badly burned that she died the next evening.—Lagrange Standard.

—The Waterloo Press has the following wail: "An association in town, when it goes to a neighboring town for job printing, should at the same time make arrangements for publishing its free notices of meetings, etc." Does the above have any reference to the Knights of Honor who favored the COURIER with a job? If people will go where they can get good work done who can blame them? Besides the junior editor of the COURIER was one of the leading members of the lodge, and one of its founders. As to free notices, perhaps we publish as many notices for them as the Press does, and are willing to do so. The order is a most excellent one, and its purposes are of the worthiest and highest in a moral and social point of view. Its members are among our most intimate and valued friends, any favor we can do them they are welcome to. So gentlemen K. of H. bring in your free notices no matter what they are, and we will see that they are attended to, no matter where you get your job work done. If, on the other hand, he means the old soldiers' association, we say to them also, that we believe no one should refuse to give to the public, free of charge, such notices as they desire. The fact is, many of these so-called free notices, are of as much interest to the public as half the matter that finds its way into the papers.

School Report.

Report of district No. 4, Keyser township, Jan. 2, 1882: Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy for the month ending Dec. 3, 1881. Elmer Clark, Harry Bruce, Clyde Fortner, Mary Clark, Harvey Embry. Names of pupils enrolled on roll of honor, Dora Jackson, Hattie Leeson, Joseph Leeson, Nettie Clark, Elmer Clark, Mary Clark, Hanie Clark, Miles Embry, Harvey Embry, Harry Bruce, Charles Downend, Perry Hall, George Probst, Clos Probst, John Lobdell, Clyde Fortner, Charles Kelham, Jane Bell, John Hall, Thomas Hall, Malissa Rakestraw, Warren Hall, Maggie Bell. Total number of pupils enrolled during the month, 30.

M. J. WELLER, Teacher.

Vaccination.

The state board of health, of which Mr. T. M. Stevens is secretary, has sent out an additional circular, that will be of interest to all. It states that while it is desirable that all should be vaccinated, the order is not intended to compel people who have been vaccinated once, to do so again. It is the belief of the board as well as the belief of good physicians, that a person who has once been successfully vaccinated, will be proof against the disease, even though a number of years have elapsed since it took effect. The board, therefore suggest that while re-vaccination is desirable, it is not imperative. They think, however, that the local county board, should adopt such rules as are sent to them by the state board and have them sent to the different towns and cities in the county. It would seem to be a good plan as far as schools are concerned, to have the pupils remain at home for a few days when the arm begins to work. This will often prevent their taking cold by overheating at play, and so far prevent any jar in the working of the school. If a whole school is vaccinated, it would seem to be the best plan to dismiss the entire school for a few days, while the sores are the most painful and dangerous.

—List of letters unclaimed at the Auburn postoffice Jan. 2, 1882: Coleman Hurns, Feitner B. H., Phillips F. M. Sparow Henry, Snyder Martin, Williams Collie.

For thirty days only, Kiblinger & Co. will sell the best champion cross-cut saw in the market, for $2.75 and $3.00, including handles and file, and warranted in every particular. tf.

—Lap robes and horse blankets at less than manufacturers prices at Kiblinger & Co's.

For cross-cut saws, call on Kiblinger & Co. Every saw warranted. tf.

Cross-cut saws for sale by Kiblinger & Co. tf.

Every saw and ax sold by Kiblinger & Co., are fully warranted. tf.

Kiblinger & Co. are almost giving away hardware. tf.

—Tinware almost given away at Kiblinger & Co's hardware.

AUBURN, IND., Dec. 28, 1881.

EDITORS COURIER.

Please publish account of Christmas tree held at Milton Carnahan's.

Christmas eve, when the goddess of night began to spread her veil over this mundane sphere, the people began to gather at Milton and Anna Carnahan's residence, in the western end of Butler township, for the purpose of contributing to the Christmas tree and having a good time. Besides this, it was also a reunion of the Gleasure family. Among those present was the hostess' sister, Mrs. Clark, from Clark county, Wis., who surprised the family by her arrival the morning previous. All engaged in a social conversation until 9 o'clock when refreshments were served and all partook heartily of the delicious viands which Mrs. Carnahan has a peculiar faculty of preparing. After this the guests repaired to the room which contained the fruitful tree and the presents were distributed. Below we will give a list of some of the most valuable presents and names of the recipients.—A. P. and C. P. Gleasure each received a handsome gold watch and chain, Milton Carnahan, silver watch and gold chain; Emma Clark, Clara Gleasure and Siddie Carnahan, each a handsome gold necklace; Mrs. Gleasure, a pair of gold rimmed spectacles and a very pretty, beaded velvet cape; Mrs. N. P. Gleasure, Mrs. C. P. Gleasure and Mrs. Clark each a set of silver knives and forks; May Carnahan, a set of gold earrings; Miss Clark, a very pretty set of furs. There were also six elegantly made quilts for different parties, and a fine bed room set for Mrs. Milton Carnahan, a beautiful Mason & Hamlin organ for Mrs. Clara Gleasure and a pair of slippers for James Farver.—There were other articles too numerous to mention. The tree presented a beautiful appearance and proved as valuable as beautiful. Total remainder of the evening was spent in various kinds of amusements. In speaking for all present we think we speak their heartfelt sentiments when we say that a more enjoyable occasion is not to be hoped for and all went away hoping that each succeeding year may bring as merry a Christmas eve as did 1881.

ONE THAT WAS THERE.

TAX LIST FOR 1881.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF DeKALB COUNTY:

In compliance with the laws of the State of Indiana, I, L. J. MILLER, treasurer of said county, hereby notify the tax-payers thereof, that the rates of taxation for the year A. D. 1881 are correctly stated in the following table, showing the amount of tax in cents levied upon each one hundred dollars valuation and on each poll, in the several townships and incorporated villages in said county, as the same appears on the tax duplicate of DeKalb county, for said year:

TOWNSHIPS AND TOWNS.	STATE HOUSE TAX	STATE TAX	SCHOOL TAX	COUNTY TAX	TOWNSHIP TAX	ROAD TAX	COM. SCHOOL TAX	SP'L SCHOOL TAX	ADDITIONAL SP'L SCHOOL TAX	INT. ON BONDS	CORPORATION TAX	[illegible]	TOTAL TAX
Butler Township	2	12	16	65	5	10	5	10		10			135
Poll		50	50				25						125
Jackson Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	20		10			155
Poll		50	50					50					150
Concord Township	2	12	16	65		20	10	35		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Newville Township	2	12	16	68	15	10	5	20		10			138
Poll		50	50				10						150
Stafford Township	2	12	16	65	5	10	5	10		10			135
Poll		50	50										100
Wilmington Township	2	12	16	65	5	15		5		10			120
Poll		50	50										100
Union Township	2	12	18	65	2	15	5	5		10			132
Poll		50	50					50					150
Richland Township	2	12	16	65	5	15	5	30		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Fairfield Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	25		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Smithfield Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	10		10			145
Poll		50	50					50					150
Franklin Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	10	5		10			145
Poll		50	50				25						125
Troy Township	2	12	16	65	5	15	5	10		10			140
Poll		50	50										100
Keyser Township	2	12	16	65	2	15	5	5		10			132
Poll		50	50				25						125
Auburn Town	2	12	16	65	2	15		50	50	10	40	10	279
Poll		50	50					50	25		25		200
Waterloo Town	2	12	16	65	2	15	10	25		10			157
Poll		50	50										100
Butler Town	2	12	16	65	5	15		30	35	10		15	195
Poll		50	50						25				125
Garrett Town	2	12	16	65	2	15	25	50	90	10	50	10	347
Poll		50	50				25	100	100		25		350

Also $1 for one dog, $2 for each female dog, and $2 for each additional dog, for the collecting of which I may be found at the county treasurer's office, in the town of Auburn, on and after January 1st, 1882.

Taxes may be paid in full or in two installments. The first installment, including all road taxes, can be paid on or before the third Monday in April, 1882, the second installment, on or before the first Monday in November, 1882. If the first installment is not paid when due, both installments become delinquent, ten per cent. will be added, and I shall at once proceed, as the law requires, to collect the same, together with the costs that may accrue by distress and sale of personal property.

Road receipts will not be received after the third Monday in April, only on delinquent taxes. No road receipts will be received on the November installment.

Examine your receipts before leaving the office, and see that all your property is included.

No county order will be paid to [illegible] owing delinquent taxes.

The annual sale of lands and lots for delinquent taxes will occur on the first Monday in March, 1883.

Come early and avoid the rush of the last few days.

The books will positively be closed on the evening of the third Monday in April, and no one will be allowed to pay after that date, without penalty.

Parties sending by others, or by letter, to pay tax, should not fail to send description of their lands and lots.

No receipt will be made out hereafter, for any party, until they are ready to pay for the same.

L. J. MILLER, Treasurer of DeKalb County.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 1882.

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

PIG-IRON sold at Pittsburgh, the other day, at $[illegible] per ton, and bar-iron will be advanced to 3 cents at the next meeting of the association.... A syndicate of members of the Manhattan Club of New York has purchased Booth's Opera House from the estate of Oakes Ames, paying $[illegible].

FOR injuries sustained while alighting from a train on the Boston and Albany road Miss Mary Parker, of Newton, Mass., has been awarded $[illegible] damages.

THE bonded warehouse of Covert, Acker & Co., in South street, New York, stored with silks, tobacco and spirits, was destroyed by fire, the loss being $2,000,000 or more. Three firemen were injured. The building No. 810 Broadway, occupied by dry-goods firms, was burned, causing a damage of $260,000.... Rev. Dr. Leonard Bacon, who has just died at New Haven, was born in Detroit in 1802. He graduated at Yale in 1820, and four years later became pastor of the Center Church, with which he has ever since been connected. He leaves nine children.... Henry B. Comley, of Philadelphia, who was bitten on the finger three years ago, has just died of hydrophobia.... Frederick Lauer, a well-known brewer, of Reading, Pa., has failed for $900,000.

MATTHEW STEWART, a wood-chopper, of Rutland, Vt., has returned from New York with a goodly pile of money paid him by the administrator of A. T. Stewart's estate to settle his claim as an heir.... Scarlet-fever of a rather malignant form is raging in New York city. The health authorities are doing their utmost to check the spread of the disease.

THE WEST.

ADVICES received at the Indian office in Washington are to the effect that small-pox is rapidly spreading among the Indians in the belt of country extending from Montana to Idaho.

MAYOR CARLTON, of Port Huron, reports that in the burned district of Michigan winter wheat looks very finely, but for lack of fences is being badly trampled by cattle. The shanties are of green lumber, sixteen by twenty feet. Families have a reasonable quantity of bedding and a fair supply of clothing. The provisions on hand will last until the middle of January. Sickness is on the increase. Many clergymen have been efficient in attendance to the temporal wants of the sufferers. Food for stock will last through January. There is no need of seed for spring sowing. At least $200,000 is deemed necessary for winter maintenance.

KNOWLES, CLOYES & CO., wholesale grocers, at No. 25 River street, Chicago, failed, with liabilities said to be $325,000 or $350,000. The cause is said to be an inability to carry on a business of $2,000,000 annually on a capital of $100,000.

COL. IRA H. PIERCE, one of the prominent lawyers of Montana, a nephew of the ex-President, died at Miles City, of apoplexy.

THE authorities of Caldwell, Kan., have offered rewards of $2,000 for the arrest of the cowboy raiders, and the Mayor has made application at Washington for the aid of the military forces in Indian Territory in making the capture.... Twenty-five deaths from small-pox have occurred in the infected district below Wahpeton, Dak., and blood is reported to have gushed from the eyes, ears and noses of the patients.

THE SOUTH.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. GIBBONS, who resided near Ashland, Ky., went visiting, leaving a daughter 14 years old, Miss Emma Thomas, 17 years old, and a son, Robert Gibbons, at the Gibbons homestead. During the night villains came to the house, outraged both girls, saturated the clothing with oil, set the house on fire, and killed young Robert Gibbons, who attempted to give an alarm. All three of the dead had their heads split open with a hatchet. There is no clew to the murderers. A reward of $1,000 is offered for their capture.... A shooting affray, growing out of a dog-fight, occurred at Helenwood, Tenn. Pistols were used freely. John Cecil was shot dead. Three West brothers, W. Smith and a man named Thompson were shot, probably fatally.... During a quarrel the youngest son of Gen. Joseph A. Mabry, of Knoxville, Tenn., was shot and instantly killed by Don Lisby.... The store of Prince Brothers, at Green Plain, Va., was entered by burglars, who murdered two clerks and fired the premises.

PHILLIPS, MARSHALL & CO., of London, have purchased 1,800,000 acres of land from the State of Mississippi. The lands lie mostly in the Yazoo delta, and comprise some of the richest cotton and timber land in the South. It is the intention to improve, cultivate and colonize these lands.

WASHINGTON.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR left Washington on the 23d of December for New York. It is said that he was guarded by three detectives, employed by overzealous friends, while on the way to New York.... The wife of ex-Justice Swayne, of the United States Supreme Court, died in Washington a few days ago.

SECRETARY KIRKWOOD has issued to the heirs of John Paul Jones, a famous Captain in the navy, twenty-seven pieces of bounty land scrip.... The Postmaster General has decided that a wife's letter to another man, dropped into the postoffice under suspicious circumstances, cannot be given to her husband by the postal authorities.

A WASHINGTON correspondent telegraphs that one of the first of the criminal prosecutions to be instituted in the star-route cases will be against what is known as the Dorsey combination, which is made up of ex-Senator Stephen W. Dorsey, John W. Dorsey, his brother, John M. Peck, John R. Miner and J. H. Watts. The amount in which, with Brady's assistance, the Government was defrauded by this combination runs up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, and it is said that the Department of Justice is in possession of ample proof to sustain the charge that the Postoffice Department funds were "expedited" out of the treasury in a manner nothing short of downright robbery.

A CHRISTMAS manifesto issued by Guiteau, the assassin, is very characteristic of his bombastic conceit and blasphemy. He pretends to have done his work as Christ and Paul did, to be as patriotic as Washington and Grant, and patronizes "the Deity" to the extent of being "well satisfied with the Deity's conduct of this case thus far."

S. P. ROUNDS, of Chicago, has written to a friend in Washington, telling him he need work no more to help secure his appointment as Public Printer, for he has received assurances from the President direct that he will be appointed.... The congregation of the church in Washington where the late President Garfield used to worship have decided on a plan for the erection of a new memorial church. Enough funds are on hand to warrant a beginning. It is proposed to erect the edifice on the site including that of the old church. It will be eighty-five feet wide and 119 feet deep.

POLITICAL.

A REPORT comes from Washington, said to be based on the authority of a gentleman who has had an interview with the President, to the effect that the names of ex-Senator Sargent, of California, and William E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, have been fully decided upon for the positions, respectively, of Secretary of the Interior and Secretary of the Navy. The only hitch in this programme that is likely to occur, it is said, is the intense repugnance of Gen. Grant to Chandler, whom he looks upon as the leader of the forces which prevented his nomination at Chicago, and to whose appointment as a member of the Cabinet he is bitterly opposed.... It is said that in diplomatic correspondence shortly to be published there is a certain dispatch sent to our Minister to China (Angell) which will likely create some unfavorable comment on ex-Secretary Blaine. This dispatch has reference to certain of the differences between China and Japan, in which Gen. Grant had a hand. Mr. Blaine, in his dispatch to Angell, said that Grant was at the time merely a private citizen, traveling for his own pleasure and in his private capacity, and with no more power to represent the Government than any other private citizen.

THE President's friends believe that the constant strain of being interviewed by office-seekers is telling on his health.

GENERAL.

ONE of the graveyard insurance companies of Pennsylvania had the impudence to propose to Stilson Hutchins, of the Post, of Washington, to obtain Guiteau's signature to an application for a policy of $100,000, offering the journalist 20 per cent. of the profits in the scheme. The agents offered to fill up any blanks in the application for which Guiteau might refuse to furnish facts.... Three noted Mexican bandits, two bearing the same name, Manuel Acendo, and the third named Lucas Franco, were captured near Benoes, Mexico, by vigilantes, who had them hanged.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT cables Secretary Frelinghuysen that two new expeditions have been sent out from Yakutsk in search of the shipwrecked crew of the Jeannette, who are fourteen hundred miles away. The whereabouts of Lieut. De Long are not known. The telegraph does not extend beyond Irkutsk, and there will be no further news from the sufferers for three months.

THE steamship Westphalia, with 1,200 immigrants on board, has arrived at New York, reeking with small-pox. Health Commissioner De Wolf, of Chicago, and Dr. Rauch, Secretary of the Illinois Board of Health, have telegraphed to the Health Officer of New York, requesting a strict quarantine, and protesting against the afflicted ones being allowed to come West.

AFTER an exhaustive examination of the Pullman Car Company's books, seized by the customs authorities at Montreal, Can., the charge of smuggling dwindles down from $100,000 to $200 for goods which were brought in during the past eight years, and upon which duty was not paid through the neglect of the company's servants and of the customs officers on duty.

THE committee of the American Bar Association will, it is said, at its meeting in New York in February, adopt a plan proposed for the relief of the United States Supreme Court, in the establishment of a court composed of fifteen Judges, to hear and decide most of the cases that now go to the Supreme Court.

LIFE in Mexico: Nine Mexicans, employed by the Chicago Mining Company in Sonora, were killed by roving Apaches. Salferido Murcado was hung by a band of vigilantes above Brownsville. Four engineers of the Central railroad were killed by Apaches in the Candelario mountains, Mexico. At Tepiji thirty men assailed a house, killed Ignacio G. Aragos, in charge, and stole $8,000. Most of the robbers were captured.

FOREIGN.

PARNELL has been quietly transferred to the jail at Armagh. Dr. Kenny, who attended the imprisoned suspects, has received £1,000 from sympathizers. Some workmen repairing a Protestant church in County Cork were attacked by the people, and a house in which they took refuge was wrecked.... Gen. Count Ignatieff has ordered no expense to be spared by Russian Government officials in attending to the wants of the survivors of the Jeannette, and in bringing them into the Temperate zone. Mr. Bennett, of the New York Herald, has asked Gen. Ignatieff to draw on him for any sums required for this purpose. The crew are located 4,000 miles from St. Petersburg, and it will take a traveler one month to reach them traveling by wagon. An energetic effort will be made to rescue the men who embarked in the second cutter, now missing.

THE difficulties of the French in Africa are increasing. The troops which the Emperor of Morocco sent out to capture the rebel Chief Bou Amena fraternized with the rebels in proclaiming "holy war" against the French, and subsequently defeated the tribes who refused to join them. The rebellion is spreading, and the Moorish monarch is powerless.... At Carlton, Ireland, Miss Reynolds, charged with aiding a no-rent conspiracy, refused to give bail to keep the peace, and was sent to jail for one month.... Another revolution has broken out in Santo Domingo, and still another in Venezuela. A revolution has just been suppressed in Hayti.

DURING the celebration of high mass in the Church of the Holy Cross, at Warsaw, Russian Poland, a man was seized while picking pockets. In order to effect his escape, the culprit cried "Fire!" Immediately a great panic seized the congregation, who rushed for the doors. During the confusion, thirty people, mostly women, were crushed to death, and nearly a hundred others were seriously injured. The pickpocket, who proved to be a Jew, was badly beaten by the crowd. The lower class of the people were much excited against his coreligionists, and several of them were maltreated. Four shops kept by Jews were gutted, and the windows of several of their houses broken.... A St. Petersburg dispatch says that "a plot has been discovered for assassinating the Czar in Karavanian street, which it was expected he would traverse while proceeding from the palace to the Michael Riding-school on the occasion of the recent fete of St. George. It has not yet been possible to obtain full details as to the plans of the conspirators, who were all arrested a few days ago at a meeting of revolutionists in the outskirts of the town. From information which the police possess, it is authoritatively stated that nothing could have saved the life of the Czar had he passed along the street when expected to pass.".... While the steamer Catalonia was on the way out of Queenstown harbor, she ran into the bark Helensiee, from San Francisco. The Helensiee sank, and nine of her crew were drowned, the remaining sixteen being saved by the Catalonia. The latter had her bows stove in.

DUBLIN and nine other counties in Ireland have been proclaimed under the Arms act. The Privy Council declares that service by mail of notices to quit is sufficient. Phillips, the League accountant, has been released from Dundalk jail on condition that he accept no further employment of that kind.... Emigration from Germany in 1882 promises to become more colossal than in 1881. Fourteen thousand tickets have already been taken for transportation by vessels leaving Bremen for America in the spring. Almost an equal number of emigrants go from Hamburg.... Twenty-three Russian conspirators, who are believed to be the leaders of the Terrorist party, will be tried together in St. Petersburg before a special sitting of the Senate.... In order to forestall foreign interference, the Italian Government is considering how to guarantee the liberty of the Pope in Rome.... Russia proposes to guard her Chinese-Siberian frontier by forming colonies of armed peasants, who will be free from taxation.... The Government of Japan is about to establish a central bank, with a capital of $20,000,000.

SLANG was used in the Bible, and even in that early age its effect was most deadly, for the story runs that David, in his fight with Goliath, took a stone and slung it, and Mr. G. wasn't any more after that. The slang of the stone killed him.—Steubenville Herald.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

Dr. Theodore Diamond, of Auburn, N. Y., was called to the stand. Witness believed, judging by the evidence to which he had listened, including that of the prisoner himself, and from the appearance and conduct of the prisoner, that he is a sane man. The hypothetical questions put to Dr. Wooster yesterday were then read to witness, and he replied: "I should say he was sane."

Witness was questioned at great length; and, his answers indicating great conservatism of opinion, Scoville finally asked: "Well, doctor, how old do you think a physician ought to be before he is able to distinguish between a sane and an insane man?"

Witness replied that he himself was not yet old enough to distinguish between sane and insane people.

Guiteau (laughingly)—"That's the best thing you have said yet, doctor. Ladies and gentlemen, you see I'm letting Scoville do most of the talking to-day; I'm keeping quiet.

"I opened my mail myself this morning" (holding up twenty or more letters). "Pretty good mail, too, and only one crank letter in the whole lot. All from high-toned people, too. They are beginning to think better of me outside. High-toned ladies are sending for my autograph. They think I'm a big man, but I don't care a snap whether I'm a big man or a little one."

The prisoner busied himself reading his letters, and soon broke out again, saying: "Well, I did not notice this before, ladies and gentlemen, I have just received a letter from Dr. Spitzka, in which he says he has received 200 letters since he returned from Washington, all congratulating him upon his testimony; that he has only received two threatening ones, and two from lunatics—a pretty good showing, I think, when he came on here for nothing and did not get a cent, while these fellows are handsomely paid by the Government. Then, here is another one from Mr. Beatty."

Judge Cox—"Well, that will do, prisoner. We have not time to listen to the reading of your correspondence."

Guiteau—"All right, sir."

The witness was asked if he thought it would be any indication of insanity for a man of mature years, who honestly believed he was inspired to kill the President of the United States, and who honestly believed that, when his motives were known to the people, they would not only excuse but applaud his act, and replied: "If he honestly believed that, and his will was dominated by the conviction, it would be an indication of insanity."

Mr. Scoville—"If it is not impertinent, Doctor, in this day and generation, I will ask you if you have ever devoted any attention to the subject, or believe in inspiration?"

Answer—"Well, not specially."

Guiteau—"Well, Doctor, if God could inspire a man 2,000 years ago, why could He not do so now? Is there anything different in human nature?"

Mr. Scoville—"I have no objection to your answering, Doctor."

The question was read again to the witness, and he replied:

"If the Lord did inspire anybody 2,000 years ago, He can now, if He chooses."

Guiteau—"That's my idea. He not only can, but He did in this case."

When the witness was dismissed Guiteau shouted out: "These experts may be all high-toned, honorable men, but, in my opinion, they hang more men than the doctors kill." Growing more and more excited, he declaimed for some minutes, and said: "Gen. Garfield would be alive to-day had it not been for the doctors. They completed what my shot began. The Lord intended he should go, and so He let the doctors kill him. He didn't die before his time, though."

THIRTIETH DAY.

The assassin opened proceedings by making a half apology for his brutality to George Scoville, classing him as a fine examiner of titles, and announcing that Charles H. Reed had consented to assume charge of the case. Judge Cox stated that he saw no objection to the participation of Mr. Reed.

A letter from Dr. Spitzka was read, advising the production of a cast of Guiteau's head, to show malformation.

During the lull the prisoner shouted, excitedly: "A vast amount of rubbish is getting into this case that has nothing to do with it. No one can tell what my condition of mind was on July 2. Who can tell what is passing in the mind of the foreman of the jury or the court? It will probably take an act of God to straighten this thing out. I expect He will have to take one of these jurymen off the panel (pointing dramatically in that direction). He has taken a juror's wife, and I expect He will take a juror if it cannot be done in any other way."

Dr. S. H. Talcott, Middletown, N. Y., testified in most emphatic terms, as the result of careful examination of the prisoner in jail and observation of his conduct in court, that he was sane. This statement was received with applause.

Dr. Talcott stated that he had made insanity a special study for the past seven years, and was at present Medical Superintendent of the State Homeopathic Insane Asylum, Middletown, N. Y. He had treated about 1,000 cases of insanity. Several of his patients had attempted homicide. "I have seen some cases where patients had attempted murder under the insane delusion that they were inspired by the Lord. The characteristics were great excitability, and they have spoken of their intentions before attempting their murderous work. I have never known a case where a patient claimed insanity as an excuse for crime. Upon the assumption that the prisoner was telling the truth so far as he knew with regard to the actual transaction, and upon the assumption that the record of his life embodied the main facts of his life, I should be of opinion that on the 2d of July, when he shot the President, the prisoner was sane."

There was a demonstration of applause here, which was speedily suppressed by the court officers.

Witness said he had heard the hypothetical case read, and, assuming the propositions true, he had no hesitation in saying the prisoner was sane.

Scoville cross-examined witness, and asked "Do you believe in the Deity's inspiring people to do things at the present day?"

"Not of that character," came the prompt reply, followed by an outburst of applause.

Witness did not believe the prisoner's claim of inspiration to be an insane delusion. "I do not believe that he thought he was honestly inspired."

He said he thought Guiteau in court attempted to exaggerate his natural tendencies, egotism and irritability, for the purpose of producing an impression of insanity; that it was possible for a man to commit murder when honestly feeling impelled by a power he was unable to resist, and when the act was against his natural feeling, and that such act did not prove insanity, so far as the brain was concerned, instancing the case of Abraham and Isaac and the people of the Ganges.

Dr. Henry P. Stearns, Superintendent of the Hartford Retreat for the Insane, was the next witness; from 800 to 1,000 cases of insanity had come under his supervision during the eight years he has been connected with the Retreat. The witness had made four examinations of the prisoner at the jail, directed to his physical and mental condition.

Guiteau interrupted, saying: "You came to me, doctor, as a friend, and I, supposing you were going to testify for the defense, talked very freely with you about my religious feelings and all about myself, but Corkhill's money was too much for you. I want to say here that I don't pretend that I am any more insane at this minute than Davidge is—I won't say Corkhill—for I think he is cracked [laughter], but I rest my case right on this claim—that I was insane on the 2d of July, when my inspiration and the state of my mind impelled me upon the President. To make it short, that is all there is about it. I don't care what those experts say about my sanity now; that's got nothing to do with it."

The witness detailed at great length the results of his examinations and interviews with Guiteau. Pending the cross-examination the court adjourned.

THIRTY-FIRST DAY.

Guiteau's actions during the day's proceedings were more outrageous, if possible, than at any previous time since the beginning of the trial. He insulted witnesses, defied the court, and abused the lawyers for the prosecution without stint. When at length the Judge admonished him that if these performances were continued he should feel obliged to confine him in the dock, the assassin promised to behave himself, and he did restrain himself to some extent. The witnesses were all doctors, and their testimony went to show that the prisoner was legally sane. Dr. Stearns of the Hartford asylum, Dr. Jamin Strong of the Cleveland institution, and Dr. Thew, of Middletown, Ct., united in declaring that their investigations had led them to believe the prisoner sane. Dr. Thew was considered the best witness of all the experts thus far called by the prosecution. Turning from the prisoner and lawyers, he faced the jury and explained his views with singular clearness and force. When Strong, of Cleveland, who had visited the jail and investigated the mental and bodily condition of the prisoner, was about to state the result of his examination, Guiteau looked up and said: "Doctor, let me cut this short by saying that I'm in good physical condition, and as sane as you are." Guiteau's actions in court Saturday were outrageous.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.

The assassin opened court with the announcement that he "had a nice Christmas dinner, with lots of fruits, flowers and lady visitors, and a good time generally."

Dr. A. E. McDonald, Superintendent of Ward's Island Insane Hospital, testified that during his practice he had attended 6,000 cases of insanity, and given special attention to the study of insanity. Witness stated the difference between "delusions" and "insane delusions"—the one being subject of correction by judgment and the senses, and the latter not being correctible, and for that reason denominated an insane delusion—also illusions and hallucinations, giving illustrations from his own experience. He believed, judging from experience, that the claim of inspiration frequently asserted by insane persons proceeded from a source of hallucination or insane delusion, an affection of the senses.

Witness was then asked if persons' action, under a claim of "inspiration," would indicate it in any other way than by their assertions, and replied: "Their actions and behavior would indicate it, as well as their assertions. To illustrate it, a person claiming to be Jesus Christ, and acting under an inspiration, clothed himself like the Savior, gave away his property and slept out of doors, because the Savior 'had not where to lay his head.'"

Witness was asked if such persons would feel any apprehension of bodily injury, or would take any precaution to guard against danger. He replied: "Inspiration always overrides all fear, bodily pain or injury, and renders the person who believes he is acting under inspiration wholly oblivious to such considerations."

Witness was asked if such persons usually planned with deliberation, and replied: "On the contrary, their acts are sudden in both conception and execution, as a rule, and they seldom attempt to avoid consequences in any way."

"There are two kinds of insanity, doctor," suggested the prisoner, "the crank insanity and the Abraham insanity. The latter is the school I belong to. Tell us what you think of Abraham, doctor?"

Witness described what is commonly called temporary insanity, as where a man commits an act which is the only evidence of his insanity, and where a person is to all appearances perfectly sane in all other respects, both before and after the act.

Guiteau—"That's just my case exactly."

Witness—"I do not believe in such insanity, and in all my experience have never seen an instance of it."

Witness thought a person acting under an inspiration to commit a certain deed would not be deterred from the commission of that act through any consideration of personal harm to other persons.

Guiteau—"Oh, you are talking about cranks. Now, I don't belong to that school."

Witness visited the prisoner in his cell at the jail, remaining two hours, and making the usual mental examination in such cases. He believed, from his examination and observation of the prisoner in court, that he is a perfectly sane man.

Guiteau, who had kept unusually quiet all through the morning, here addressed witness (speaking without any show of excitement): "You are making a great ado about nothing, Doctor. I don't pretend that I am insane now. Tell us what you know about Abraham. Get your money and go home."

Witness, continuing, closely analyzed the conduct and remarks of the prisoner during the trial, and concluded that he had seen playing a part ever since the first day. At the outset the prisoner, he said, had directed all his abuse against one of the counsel, and afterward against all of them.

Guiteau—"Well, you see, Doctor, Corkhill has corrupted the rest of them. Evil communications, you know, corrupt good manners."

The assassin, looking over to the jury, continued: "These experts are doing this business with a good deal of parrot-like talk. Dr. McDonald has deviated somewhat from the course pursued by the rest of them. I deem it but justice to myself to say that I did not say to him that I had examined the law in regard to this matter."

Mr. Reed conducted a long cross-examination, and propounded a series of hypothetical questions, based upon the acts and conduct of the prisoner, to show such acts and such conduct would not be inconsistent with the theory of insanity. The witness admitted that insane persons were liable to be adjudged sane; that sane persons were liable to be adjudged insane. Scoville took up the cross-examination, and questioned the witness at some length relative to the symptoms and causes of insanity. The witness stated that insanity was the result of a diseased brain, and was asked: "Are you not confounding cause and effect? And cannot the unusual excitation of the emotions, or excessive worry and care and anxiety, overturn their reason and cause a disease of the brain?" The witness admitted that such might be the case, with some qualification; that overwork, care and anxiety might produce dyspepsia, which, with other causes, might lead to insanity, and that would make necessary a disease of the brain, and a disease of the brain would, in its turn, stimulate insanity.

THIRTY-THIRD DAY.

Dr. McDonald resumed the witness stand and was cross-examined by Mr. Scoville. The questions were directed mainly to the subject of temporary insanity, and witness was asked if in his practice he had not met an instance of temporary insanity. He replied: "Yes, sir. I know of a man who was insane for twenty-four hours."

Scoville (eagerly)—"And then he got well?"

"No, sir; he died." [Laughter at Scoville's expense.]

Witness was asked what he meant by saying, "I think he (the prisoner) has been playing a part in court," and replied: "I believe he has been feigning what he believed to be insanity—not real insanity. I believe that he has been attempting to give the impression in court that he is insane, and with that idea has been acting a part."

Dr. Randolph Barksdale, superintendent of the Central Lunatic Asylum, near Richmond, Va., visited the prisoner at the jail. He had also closely observed him in court, and from his personal examination and observation was of opinion he was sane. Witness also testified that he believed Guiteau had been feigning in court. Witness believed, taking as true the facts set forth in the two hypothetical questions of the prosecution, that the prisoner was sane when he shot the President.

Dr. John H. Collender, of Nashville, Superintendent of the Tennessee State Asylum for Insane, had given special attention to the study of insanity for the past twelve years. He had seen about 2,000 cases during his connection with the Tennessee asylum. Witness visited the prisoner in jail and also closely observed him in court, and believed him perfectly sane. He (witness) did not believe the Deity ever inspired a man to take the life of a fellow-creature; that if a person labored under an insane delusion that he was inspired to kill the President of the United States he would, even if he did not talk about it, disclose his purpose by his changed manner and conversation.

Spiteful comments by the assassin, together with his threats to strike his guards, caused Judge Porter to demand that the prisoner be placed in the dock. Guiteau interrupted with a promise that he would remain quiet. District Attorney Corkhill insisted that the assassin be kept in the dock with no special protection, when Guiteau shrieked out that God would curse him. Scoville protested that the demand was an invitation to shoot the prisoner. Judge Cox sent the accused to the dock, which failed to keep him quiet.

The witness (Collender), in answer to a question, said that he should not consider it an insane delusion for a man to profess himself a "a member of the firm of Jesus Christ & Co." unless there were other evidences of disease.

A plaster cast of the prisoner's head was then handed to the witness, and he was asked whether there was any marked peculiarity in the head.

The prisoner—"It looks like Humpty Dumpty."

The witness replied that the cast presented a more shapely and symmetrical head than he had expected it would, but he placed no importance on the shape of the head as indicating sanity or insanity.

On redirect examination the witness stated that he did not think the prisoner had been feigning insanity in the courtroom. He had merely been exaggerating his characteristics of self-conceit, impudence, audacity and insolence.

The prisoner—"In other words, when I am assaulted I talk back. Porter expects to get $5,000 for hanging me. He sees his money slipping away because the American people don't want me hanged, and he is mad at me."

ADDITIONAL NEWS.

IN view of the enormous duties levied by Mexico upon American mining machinery, Gen. Grant is rejoiced at the announcement that Senor Romero is to visit Washington to negotiate a reciprocity treaty. The General declares that he will not again make the trip to Mexico until he can go by rail, and that President Gonzales has sent Romero to consult with him as to the International railroad and internal improvements generally..... Arzate, a robber chief, with thirty of his band, were captured near Chihuahua, Mexico, and promptly executed.

MAJ. W. J. DAVIS, Secretary of the Louisville School Board, and Capt. J. E. Briggs, member of a banking firm, who were both prominent officers in the late Confederate army, have united in a communication to the Louisville Courier-Journal, stating that the Confederate funds which were removed from Richmond was distributed among the officers and soldiers of Breckinridge's command. This quite disposes of Gen. Johnston's statement that Jeff Davis enriched himself from the Confederate treasury.... An affray at Belifont, Ala., forty-four miles from Chattanooga, resulted in the probably fatal shooting of W. D. Martin, his son John, and C. M. Fennell. The victims are merchants of Belifont, and the shooting was caused by jealousy.... In Jones county, Ga., a young farmer, white, interfered at a colored dance, and was fatally stabbed by three brothers. Before he died he shot his assailants dead.

THE Standard Coal and Iron Company, which is about to be organized in Boston with a capital of $50,000,000, has already purchased eight furnaces and 25,000 acres of mineral lands in Ohio.... At Biddeford, Me., Lon Moore killed Miss Belle Cushman and himself with a revolver. They were engaged to be married, and jealousy is the supposed cause.

THE sons of Senators Bayard and Mahone, with four other young Washington bloods, got into a row with a policeman and were locked up until a friend came and bailed out the party, who were all more or less intoxicated.

MR. FORSTER, the Irish Chief Secretary, replying to a recommendation of an English Radical (not Liberal, as stated in the cable dispatches) for the release of the Irish suspects, says that the state of Ireland would not justify any such course of procedure.

HENRY C. WENTWORTH, for many years General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the Michigan Central railroad, and one of the best-known and ablest men in America in his department of the railroad business, died at his home in Chicago, aged 46.

THAT most charming of domestic dramas, "Hazel Kirke," is the attraction at McVicker's Theater, with Mr. C. W. Couldock as Dunstan Kirke, and Miss Effie Ellsler as Hazel. The success of this play is one of the phenomenons of the modern stage. It has been played continuously, by the same company, without missing a night, since Feb. 4, 1879, a period of nearly three years, and has cleared for the manager over $200,000. It had a run of a year and a half at one theater in New York. The secret of its success is that it is one of prettiest home pictures ever enacted upon a stage, and goes right to the hearts of the people.

Growth of the United States in Ten Years.

The following table presents the final official figures of the population of the United States at the tenth census, with a column showing, for comparative purposes, the population of 1870. The figures for Indian Territory and Alaska are omitted, as their inhabitants are not considered citizens. All Indians not subject to taxation are also omitted, in conformity with the Census law:

	1880.	1870.
Alabama	1,262,505	996,992
Arkansas	802,525	484,471
California	864,694	560,247
Colorado	194,327	39,864
Connecticut	622,700	537,454
Delaware	146,608	125,015
Florida	269,493	187,748
Georgia	1,542,180	1,184,109
Illinois	3,077,871	2,539,891
Indiana	1,978,301	1,680,637
Iowa	1,624,615	1,194,020
Kansas	996,096	364,399
Kentucky	1,648,690	1,321,011
Louisiana	939,946	726,915
Maine	648,936	626,915
Maryland	934,943	780,894
Massachusetts	1,783,085	1,457,351
Michigan	1,636,937	1,184,059
Minnesota	780,773	439,706
Mississippi	1,131,570	827,922
Missouri	2,168,380	1,721,295
Nebraska	452,402	122,993
Nevada	62,266	42,491
New Hampshire	346,991	318,300
New Jersey	1,131,116	906,096
New York	5,082,871	4,382,759
North Carolina	1,399,750	1,071,361
Ohio	3,198,062	2,665,260
Oregon	174,768	90,923
Pennsylvania	4,282,891	3,521,951
Rhode Island	276,531	217,353
South Carolina	995,577	705,606
Tennessee	1,542,359	1,258,520
Texas	1,591,749	818,579
Vermont	332,286	330,551
Virginia	1,512,565	1,225,163
West Virginia	618,457	442,014
Wisconsin	1,315,497	1,054,670
Arizona	40,440	9,658
Dakota	135,177	14,181
District of Columbia	177,624	131,700
Idaho	32,610	14,999
Montana	39,159	20,595
New Mexico	119,565	91,874
Utah	143,963	86,786
Washington	75,116	23,955
Wyoming	20,789	9,118
Total population	50,155,783	38,558,371

Fatal Steamboat Explosion.

An explosion occurred at West Point, Va., on the steamer West Point, plying between that place and Baltimore, which resulted in the total destruction of the boat and loss of nineteen lives. A force of stevedores was engaged in discharging the cargo of the steamer, when a terrific explosion occurred near the forward hatch, blowing out the starboard side of the steamer and almost instantly enveloping the forward part of the vessel in flames. There were twelve colored men in the forward hold, all of whom, at her explosion, were killed or burned to death. Five other men jumped overboard and four were drowned. When it was found there was no hope of saving the steamer she was cut loose, and the tide drifted her two miles up the Pamunkey river, where she continued to burn until everything combustible was destroyed and her iron hull broken in two amidships. Of the nineteen lives lost eighteen were colored. Three others were injured.

Bores.

There are various orders of men. The old saw has it, "It takes all kinds of people to make a world." We believe it. We believe it more and more. We see living arguments enforcing the fact every day of our life. One has just walked out of our office. We bowed him out with smiling grace, but now his back is turned, we venture a preachment. It happened in a certain professional institution, years ago, that one of these amiable bores was a student. We beg him to forgive us, if he sees this incident; but, then, these creatures are not thin-skinned. He was a most excellent scholar—more's the pity—standing well in his classes. He possessed a large fund of knowledge—knew too much, in fact; and when he had once buttonholed you, woe be to any other engagement. Only a legal process would release you. After the holidays, one year, it happened that he was late in getting back to his work. The question was mooted at commons, "Where is P.?" "Oh," replied the wag of the class, "Phil is engaged in telling one of his stories, and hasn't got through."

Ethnography affords an opportunity of studying the races, kindreds and tongues of the earth. The Anglo-Saxon, the North American Indian, the Slav, have their characteristics sharply defined. We have the Bimana Quadrumana, and so on, in zoology, but are at a loss with what class to place the Bores. Like the winged creatures which Ezekiel saw, they are endowed with several mouths. They set them going, and go off and leave them to their own sweet will. A sort of learned cherub, they fly to and fro with their four wings, resting where one is distractingly busy.

We have been wondering what is to be done with them. It is possible here lies the settlement of the Indian question. Why not send a regiment of them to the far West? If the aborigines only knew they were coming, the Pacific would be full of dusky suicides. Or if that is not feasible, why should not public men employ professional bores? And then, when Greek met Greek, would come the tug of war. It would be as huge a joke as setting two deaf people to entertaining one another. When the interview was finished, they would sympathize with the cats of the green isle.

But, seriously, we have little faith in these propositions, although we claim originality in mooting them. The existence of bores belongs to the unsolved mysteries curtained by the infinite. Doubtless they have as good a right to live as the miserable little gnats which are able to cause temporary insanity in a fine colt. We hardly hope to expose their final cause in so brief a paper. The German specialist spent his life on the Greek article. On his death-bed he mournfully regretted that he had not confined himself to one inflection. Such a subject as this grows on us; "it inflates, it expands, it formulates," as the curbstone orator remarked. New vistas open to our vision. We dare not follow their fascinating beck. Here is a field for the scientist. He may win new laurels, and gain the everlasting regard of future generations.

How shall the bores be suppressed? What courteous extinguisher may be employed? Is there any help in the "liver-pad" or the electrical disk? We pause for reply.

But, after all, while we wait, we remember in this world, patience is to have its perfect work. We know of no sharper chisel for the carving of such a statue for the gallery of our life than a semi-weekly visitation of bores. They have no nationality; they are cosmopolitan. Like the wandering Jew, they live forever. They penetrate to the public assembly, the prayer-meeting, the business office. Sometimes they have books to sell, quite often a map of the world, a bankrupt stock of woolens. They are getting up a history of the town; twenty-five dollars will place your life-size portrait on the page and tell all about your grandfather. They have fruit-trees for our rural friend, which cause more trouble than that one in a certain garden years ago. They have a patent lightning-rod, and you wish the lightning had struck them long before they saw your home.

But of all horned cattle, to use a simile of the immortal Horace—the great editor, we mean—the religious bore is the most detestable. You may know him wherever you see him. Avoid him as the plague. You may place after his name a D. D. (dignified dullness), but drown him out with a good old Methodist hymn when his time is up; if he gets into the pulpit to present any "cause," cause him to retire as soon as possible.

It has been some little time since our door closed, and our irritation has oozed out at our pen-tip; and we suppose we shall be blander than ever when the next seedy caller appears with "a patent preparation for the removal of grease-spots without the slightest injury to the fabric."—Providence Journal.

Garfield's Attendants' Bills.

There has been some guessing done as to the items which make up the bill of costs of President Garfield's illness. "It can be stated now on good authority," says a Washington telegram, "that some of the items are as follows: To Dr. Agnew, $30,000. He charges $5,000 for the first operation. Dr. Hamilton's bill is $25,000. Dr. Bliss is content with $8,000, or about $100 a day. Dr. Reyburn would probably take less, say $5,000 or $6,000. The army officers will be paid by brevet rank, and possibly increased pay. One question which remains to be settled touches the status of Drs. Boynton and Edson. Both are physicians, and both took the duties of nurses. Shall they be paid as doctors or as mere attendants? Dr. Boynton is a man of independent means, and might not care, apart from considerations of pride and etiquette. Mrs. Edson is comfortably well off, but would no doubt accept a liberal fee with gratitude. The services of Dr. Boynton and Mrs. Edson were of the greatest value, as it is notorious that the patient was kept alive more by careful nursing than any very intelligent surgery."

A WOMAN who carried around milk in Paris said a naive thing the other day. One of the cooks to whom she brought milk looked into the can and remarked, with surprise: "Why, there is actually nothing there but water!" The woman, having satisfied herself of the truth of the statement, said: "Well, if I didn't forget to put in the milk!"

THE firmest friendships have been formed in mutual adversity; as iron is most strongly united by the fiercest flame.

To spend too much time in study is sloth; to use it too much in ornamentation is affectation.

AUBURN COURIER.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 1882.

MANY invalids resorted to the hop-fields in Central New York at the season of picking last fall, and expressed the opinion that they derived great benefit from the odor given off by the blossoms.

COL. JOHN S. MOSBY is said to have written home to a friend in Alexandria, Va., that a good dentist could make a fortune in Hong Kong, China, in less than ten years, as good dentists are now hard to find there, and the charges for any kind of dental work are enormous.

MR. WILLIAM ARTHUR bears no resemblance to his only brother, the President. He is in his 38th year, and has a fair complexion, full face and light brown mustache. During the last five years he has been stationed at Omaha, St. Paul, Fort Buford and Helena, M. T.

THE Hon. Jonathan Chance, of Rhode Island, is said to be the only Quaker in Congress. On taking his seat in the House he affirmed instead of swearing and from the gallery his wife and two daughters, clad in gray, with demure Quaker bonnets, looked down upon him.

AN innocent-looking young servant girl kept her employer's family in a fright for six months, at Norwich, Conn., by ringing the door bell and rapping on the windows at unreasonable hours. They were sure that a ghost was about, and it was only after watching for twelve nights that a detective solved the mystery.

THE late census of Japan shows a total population of very nearly 46,000,000 The Mikado and his family are shown at the head of the statistics as twenty men and seventeen women. Yeddo, of the vastness of which the old geographies used to tell such tales, contains only 057,121 inhabitants. Kioto approaches it closely with 822,098, and Ozaka comes next with 582,668.

ARTHUR CHAMBERS, the prize-fighter, varied the monotony of a sparring exhibition in his Philadelphia resort by introducing Peter Johnson, whose feat of strength concerned his stomach. Johnson delighted the assembly by making a meal of two dozen raw oysters, a pound of sugar, a bar of yellow soap and a gallon of beer. He aspires to the title of the Human Ostrich.

MARK TWAIN complains that somebody in Australia has been personating him there where he has never been in his life. Recently he has received a letter thence asking if he was dead. He thinks the impostor has even gone to the length of dying for him, which is what he wouldn't have done for himself. If he will only stay dead, he says he will call the account square and drop the grudge he bears against him.

A LITTLE Ohio girl, making a contribution to the Garfield monument fund, addressed a quaint letter to "Mr. Committee," in which she said: "I am a little girl 7 years old, and I live five miles from Hiram, our dear President's former home. Now, my Uncle Oscar, living in Cleveland, said I could not spell hippopotamus. He bet me a dollar. I won the bet. It is the first dollar I ever earned, and I would like you to please accept this as a token of love to our beloved President Garfield.'

DR. M. G. MULHALL has an article in the Contemporary Review for December, giving some interesting facts as to the average wealth of the British people. He estimates that since 1860 the British people have built 1,500,000 new houses, have rebuilt or replaced 800,000 old ones, and are 50 per cent. better lodged than in 1860. The average rent of each house is £43 per annum in London, $15 in the rest of England nearly £15 in Scotland, and a little under £4 in Ireland. He finds that each inhabitant was worth £180 in 1860, nearly £220 in 1870, and about £250 in 1880. The ratio of paupers was 4 per cent. in 1870, and 3 per cent, in 1880.

A BILL has been introduced in the Legislature of Kentucky which provides that a convention to revise the constitution of the State shall be called if at the next August election it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast upon the proposition shall be in its favor. The present constitution, which was framed in 1850, prescribes an impracticable condition for calling such a convention, which is that a majority of all the voters in the State shall vote in its favor. The supporters of the present movement rely upon the inherent right of the people to alter or reform their Government at such time as they may think proper.

A MR. DRAPER, hailing from Hammond, Ind., entered the office of a Chicago dentist and desired to have all his teeth extracted; in fact, he wanted to be toothless and use false teeth instead. He insisted on chloroform being used, but the dentist declined to administer it. However, a physician was finally sent after, and Draper went out after a friend. The dentist appreciated the danger of the operation and tried to argue Draper out of it, but without success. Draper returned with a friend shortly after the physician arrived. The chloroform was administered, but after extracting the upper teeth the dentist noticed a deathly pallor about the man's face, and, examining him, it was found that he was dead, and all efforts to resuscitate him were unavailing.

The Chicago Times says: Dr. John Forman, of this city, sent a note to Commissioner De Wolf, containing a clipping from an English paper, showing the death-rate from small-pox in London during the year ending May 29, 1881, as reported by the health authorities, among vaccinated and unvaccinated people. The numbers covered are so large as practically to eliminate the element of accident, and shows, in a way which argument cannot, the value of vaccination. The figures below show the number of deaths in 1,000,000 inhabitants of the two classes:

Vaccinated.		Unvaccinated.
All ages over 20	90	All ages over 20	3,350
Between 20 and 5	61	Between 20 and 5	4,520
Under 5	40½	Under 5	5,059

AN advance summary of the quarterly report of the Kansas Board of Agriculture announces that the total value of the twenty-two field crops raised in 1881 is $91,910,439, or more than 30 per cent. greater than in any previous year in the history of the State. The two that contribute the largest share of this immense total are wheat and corn, the former making $21,705,275 and the latter $44,857,963. In production, average yields were not so large as in 1880, but the increased price of farm products made the harvest of this year much more valuable. The report says: "While it is true that the long-continued dry weather and the armies of chinch bugs did immense damage to the crops of the State during 1881, yet there need be no immediate apprehension that the farmers are in want, when it is ascertained that the value of $122,450,406 is divided among them this year."

LAVISH expenditures in public buildings for Paris entirely departed with the termination of Baron Haussmann's official career. Baron Haussmann, after being first authorized to spend $35,000,000 in the embellishment of the city, ended in 1869 with an expenditure of the enormous total of $120,000,000. It is now said that the new postoffice and Hotel de Ville will cost, when finished, $14,000,000, and that the Church of the Sacred Heart on the hill of Montmartre at least $5,000,000. Of the Opera House, which is not yet completed, the cost already has been $10,500,000. Some notion of the outlays which have been made on the Hotel de Ville may be learned from the fact that the estimate for doors, window frames, glass, fireplaces and locks alone amounts to $140,000, while about three times that sum is set down for art decorations and furniture. On the four outer walls of the building will be placed in niches no fewer than 106 statues, each six feet in height. All will represent persons born in Paris who have reached eminence in various walks of life.

"GATH" furnishes this pen portrait of the new Attorney General: Brewster is one of the most eccentric men who ever appeared in a national Cabinet. I know him pretty well. Imagine a rather graceful man of the medium size, with small feet, flexible ankles, well-turned limbs, and the figure of a French aristocrat. I might make this description more vivid to a very few of your readers if I would say the figure of a Philadelphia aristocrat of seventy years ago. This body is always carefully dressed. William Pinkney, in his most gorgeous days, never paid more scrupulous attention to his clothing. Mr. Brewster always wears gloves in the street or in his carriage, and know where they are instinctively. His shirt-cuffs and collars are invariably spotless, and you may sometimes find ruffles in his shirt-bosom or peeping out of the top of his shirt. This is particularly Pinkneyish. Brewster, with his blue coat and brass buttons, wears a buff or white vest of rich material, and gaiters cover his feet. He is a courtier in all his aspirations. If he undertakes to call you a swindler and a murderer he will do it with the grace of a fencer to whom the rapier comes as natural as the cooking-spit. I remember a year or two ago sitting before one of the hotels at Long Branch with Mr. Brewster in the pleasant evening, and heard proceeding from his lips one of the most delightful voices I ever listened to. He seemed almost a professional conversationalist, so easy were the changes from one thing to another, and the general pitch of the thought and sentiment so high. He seemed like one of those rare Irishmen you sometimes find in London or Dublin, who, with the poetry of their country have the English feeling.

IN NORWAY, it is said, the erection of telegraph poles and wires scares all the wolves away from the neighborhood, and many miles of line have been put up for the double purpose of securing rapid communication and immunity from the wolves. Large districts have thus been cleared of the dangerous and troublesome brutes.

INDIANA NEWS.

THE Muncie temperance people are making a strong fight against license.

[illegible], of the Gazette, has been reappointed Postmaster at Fort Wayne.

A NORMAN horse weighing 2,045 pounds was lately sent to the New York market from Lafayette.

THE fine steamboat John S. Hopkins, built at a cost of $40,000, was burned at the wharf at Evansville.

A SON of Senator Dan Voorhees will, it is said, appear upon the dramatic stage next year with a company organized by himself.

MR. DRAPER, a resident of Hammond, died in the dental chair of Sovereign Brothers, in Chicago, while under the influence of chloroform.

THE safe of Marine, Broeder & Co., Lafayette grocers, was blown open by thieves and robbed of cash to the amount of about $150.

FORT WAYNE has voted $150,000 to the New York, Chicago and St. Louis road, on condition that it build construction and repair shops to employ 1,500 men.

FARMERS in Southern Indiana state that the growing wheat is entirely too thick, the roots and stalks being stronger than was ever known at this season.

THE New Albany Street Railway Company offered Mrs. Featheringill $500 to settle a suit for personal damages, and, the case going to a jury, they awarded only $275.

WILLIAM PATTERSON, a farmer living near Brazil, killed his son, aged 5 years, by accidentally discharging a gun. The entire charge entered the boy's head, tearing it to pieces.

JUDGE GRESHAM, of the United States Court, sentenced Dr. H. C. McDowell to pay a fine of $100 and costs for sending obscene matter to Miss Amanda Rockhill through the mail.

THE Bureau of Statistics has prepared a table which, though somewhat ancient in date, shows the amount of fruit raised in the State in 1880. There were 6,986,696 bushels of apples, 50,240 of pears and 669,398 of peaches.

OSCAR NOE, a school-teacher at Warren, Huntington county, revenged himself upon a successful rival in a love-match by firing the store of the bridegroom and destroying the residence where the bride was stopping.

ARMSTEAD LEWIS, a wealthy farmer who disappeared from Hope, Bartholomew county, has returned, but gives no very satisfactory account of his wanderings or the reason for them. He has been to Tennessee and Canada.

JONATHAN WINSLOW, of Delaney's Creek, Washington county, aged 78 years, got upon a horse and started to ride him to water. He was last seen near the creek, all well apparently. In about ten minutes another person came along and found him dead in the highway.

NEW Indiana patents: T. M. Bales, Dublin, cockle-machine; M. Hedrick, Oakland City, aid-binder attachment for harvesters; W. Hessman, Richmond, caster; W. Hessman, Richmond, furniture-caster; A. Hosack, Silver Lake, bridle; W. Kendall, Logansport, shower-bath; M. C. Meigs, Romney, cultivator; E. W. Poston, Fort Wayne, car-brake and starter; J. R. Rude, S. B. and G. W., Liberty, grain-drill (reissue). G. A. Wagner, Portland, steam generator.

IN answer to an inquiry as to whether the Commissioners of a county can lawfully order all the county advertising to be done in a paper designated by them, the Attorney General expresses the opinion that under the act of March 9, 1875, it is the duty of the Auditor to make the publication; that he has the right to determine what paper in the county has the largest circulation, and his decision is final. In the case of Sheriffs, Clerks and administrators, no one has the authority to control their action in selecting a paper for the publication of their notices, unless it be the court, and even its power is doubted.

A DREADFUL murder was recently enacted near Greencastle. Benjamin Lynch, a farmer with an unenviable reputation as a bully, and whose wife had recently obtained a divorce from him on the ground of brutal treatment, started to see his child and get some articles belonging to him, when he was met near the house by his two stepsons, who shot him four times in the abdomen, and then beat out his brains with a club. The Coroner held an inquest on the body, and the jury returned a verdict of willful and premeditated murder in the first degree against the Young boys. Lynch, the murdered man, was a cousin of the late Gen. Nelson Trussler.

THE annual report of the Directors and officers of the Southern Penitentiary at Jeffersonville has been submitted to the Governor. The Warden's report shows the number of convicts in the prison, Oct. 30, 1880, to be 562—received from the courts, 225; total, 787; total discharges, 269, leaving in prison 518 convicts. The unexpended balance of the general appropriation is $2,221.33. The average cost of each convict per day was 33 3-25 cents. The daily number of men employed was 425, and the total earnings on contract labor were $57,007.04, and the total expenses of the institution for the year were $74,881. During the year there were nine deaths. Since the penitentiary was opened, 7,260 convicts have been received. Twenty-two per cent. of the convicts this year could neither read nor write, and 60 per cent. were married.

STATE TREASURER HILL has submitted to Gov. Porter his report for the fiscal year ending Oct. 31. The total net receipts from all sources during the year, and including $888,865.37 balance on hand Nov. 1, 1880, were $4,167,025. The net disbursements for the year for all purposes were $3,426,374.28, leaving a balance in the treasury Oct. 31, 1881, of $740,650.72. The total receipts of the general fund, including $501,589.84 balance on hand Nov. 1, 1880, were $6,912,920.02. The largest items of expenditure were: Expenses of penal and benevolent institutions, $612,445.39; the State judiciary, $147,628.33; the payment of interest on the State debt, $285,500.00; sessions of the Legislature, $146,626.56, and the payment of the war loan bonds $189,000. The foreign debt is shown to be $871,828.12, being a decrease of $12,215.70. The domestic debt consists of 6-per-cent. non-negotiable bonds due the common-school fund interest payable semi-annually, amounting to $3,904,783.22; making the total debt of the State $4,876,608.34.

Brigham Young's Successor.

The costly furniture for the Amelia Palace creates lively comment. There are sofas in the outfit which cost $150 apiece, easy chairs which cost $75, and carpets which cost $500 for each room. The style in which Taylor proposes to live is in marked contrast with his humble circumstances in the years when he played second fiddle to the big boss Brigham. At that time he had hard work to get along, and when elevated to the position of seer and revelator, George Cannon offered him one of his houses to live in because his house was too poor an abode for a prophet of the Lord. Since Taylor has been able to grasp the reins of power, he has made hay at a lively rate, but his grasping energies are not to the strengthening of the stakes of Zion, but to the vulgar accumulation of riches. The poor dupes of his doctrines wear shabby clothes and live in wretched adobe huts, that they may pay tithes and enable the sleek fraud, who rules the church and handles the cash box, to lounge amid luxuries which cannot be furnished in Utah, but must of necessity be procured in New York. It is estimated that the furniture cost $50,000, but those who have inspected it say that the palace cannot be furnished in the style Taylor contemplates for less than from $75,000 to $100,000. The question which the saints are beginning to ask themselves is, "Where does John Taylor get all this money unless he appropriates it boldly from the tithing fund?" This money, the Mormons think, should go to beautify the temples of the Lord, instead of being squandered on Taylor, who hasn't revealed anything of any account since he went into office. Taylor's excuse for this course is that he is not fitting up this palace for himself, but for the princes and potentates of Europe and Senators and Congressmen who happen to emigrate this way. The cellar is to be stocked with the best champagne for visitors to be entertained with; but when Joseph Taylor thinks a bottle is liable to spoil he feels at liberty to slip down stairs and save the wine. The saints say that it is no wonder that the ghosts will not let the palace alone.

Why He Felt Mean.

First workingman (bursting into tears)—"Lemme lone, I tell you I want to die and be buried; I'm only a mean, miserable hound, and no good any way."

Second workingman—"But what makes you keep on blathering like that, and weeping so? Do be a man."

First workingman—"I'm a mean, miserable hound; I tried to lick my wife, and I'm no good anyway, because she licked me!"

Gabe Snodgrass recently applied to Rev. Aminidab Bledso, of the Blue Light Austin Tabernacle, for some pecuniary assistance. "I jess can't do it," replied Parson Bledso; "I has to support my poor ole mudder." "But your poor ole mudder says you don't do nuffin fer her." "Well, den, ef I don't do nuffin for my poor ole mudder, what's de use ob an outsider like you tryin' to make me shell out?"

DR. BUTTS DISPENSARY.

Established 1847 at 12 N. 8th Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

THE Physicians in charge of this old and well known institution are regular graduates in medicine and surgery. Years of Experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases have made their skill and ability so much superior to that of the ordinary practitioner, that they have acquired a national reputation through their treatment of complicated cases.

INDISCRETION OR EXPOSURE Producing affections of the blood, skin or bones, treated with success, on scientific principles, without using Mercury or other Poisonous Medicines and at moderate expense.

YOUNG MEN and those of middle age who are suffering from organic weakness that unfits its victims for business or marriage, permanently cured, at moderate expense.

PATIENTS TREATED by Mail and Express but where possible personal consultation is preferred, which is FREE and invited. List of questions to be answered by patients desiring treatment mailed free to any address on application.

(Persons suffering from Rupture should send their address, and learn something to their advantage. It is not a truss.) Communications strictly confidential, and should be addressed DR. BUTTS, 12 North 8th St., St. Louis, Mo.

TAKE THE

CHICAGO
BURLINGTON AND
QUINCY R R
FOR ALL POINTS
EAST AND WEST

THE GREAT BURLINGTON ROUTE.

☞ No other line runs Three Through Passenger Trains Daily between Chicago, Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph, Atchison, Topeka and Kansas City. Direct connections for all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and California.

The Shortest, Speediest and Most Comfortable Route via Hannibal to Fort Scott, Denison, Dallas, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Galveston and all points in Texas.

The unequaled inducements offered by this Line to Travelers and Tourists, are as follows: The celebrated Pullman (16-wheel) Palace Sleeping Cars, run only on this Line, C., B. & Q. Palace Drawing-Room Cars, with Horton's Reclining Chairs. No extra charge for Seats in Reclining Chairs. The famous C., B. & Q. Palace Dining Cars. Gorgeous Smoking Cars fitted with Elegant High-Backed Rattan Revolving Chairs for the exclusive use of first-class passengers.

Steel Track and Superior Equipment, combined with their Great Through Car Arrangement, makes this, above all others, the favorite Route to the South, South-West, and the Far West.

Try it, and you will find traveling a luxury instead of a discomfort.

Through Tickets via this Celebrated Line for sale at all offices in the United States and Canada.

All information about Rates of Fare, Sleeping Car Accommodations, Time Tables, &c., will be cheerfully given, and will send Free to any address an elegant County Map of United States, in colors, by applying to

PERCEVAL LOWELL,
General Passenger Agent, Chicago.
T. J. POTTER,
General Manager, Chicago.

Daughters, Wives, Mothers!

DR. J. B. MARCHISI,
UTICA, N. Y.,
Discoverer of DR. MARCHISI'S
UTERINE CATHOLICON,
A POSITIVE CURE FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This remedy will act in harmony with the Female system at all times, and also immediately upon the abdominal and uterine muscles, and restore them to a healthy and strong condition.

Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon will cure falling of the womb, Leucorrhea, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Kidney Complaint and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. Send for pamphlet free. All letters of inquiry freely answered. Address as above.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price $1.50 per bottle. Be sure and ask for Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. Take no other.
Sold by F. E. Davenport,

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.
Is a Positive Cure
for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

☞ Sold by all Druggists. ☜

A GEORGIA paper says: "Gold in thirty-three counties in this State; copper in thirteen; iron in forty-three; diamonds in twenty-six; whisky in all of them, and the last gets away with all the rest."

IN ENGLAND the hedgehog attacks and devours the viper.

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS

A Compound Tincture of the most valuable remedies known to the medical profession, prepared upon strictly pharmaceutical principles.

An experience of twenty-five years proves it to be the greatest Antidote to Malaria and all other Ague influences known to the world.

The only absolute cure for all Affections of the Kidneys. In Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, all Disorders of the Bowels, and all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, it is equally efficacious, while as a remedy for complaints peculiar to the female sex it has no equal.

NOT A BEVERAGE
But an old reliable Household Remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature.

It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly [illegible]

No higher commendations come from those who have used it longest and known it best.

Nowhere so popular as in Lancaster, Pa., where it has been in use for more than a quarter of a century.

Highly commended as a General Tonic and Appetizer. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THE MESSENGER OF HEALTH
A forty-eight page pamphlet descriptive of disease, its origin and cure, will be mailed free to any address on application to
THE MISHLER HERB BITTERS CO.
Lancaster, Pa.

☞ We strongly recommend to mothers Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup. It never fails to destroy the worms, and no after-physic is required. Price, 25 cents.

PROVED A SUCCESS
THE PASTILLE
Prof. Harris' Radical Cure
Trade Mark
FOR
NERVOUS DEBILITY
BY YEARS OF USE!

A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science. A positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure for organic weakness—the deplorable disease resulting from indiscreet practices or excesses in youth or at any time of life—by the only true way, viz: Direct Application acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Vesicles, Ducts, and Glands that are unable to perform their natural functions while this disease [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] Pastille [illegible] and does [illegible] life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the nervous organizations wrecked from vicious habits or excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring the vital forces, where they have been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in this trouble, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. It has been in general use for several years and we have thousands of testimonials from patients, as to its value, and it is now conceded by the most reliable Doctors, yet discovered for reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes of three sizes. No. 1, (enough to last a month) $3; No. 2, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases), $5; No. 3, (lasting over three months, will restore those in the worst condition,) $7. Sent by mail, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for Sealed Descriptive Pamphlets giving Anatomical Illustrations and Testimony, which will convince the most skeptical that they can be restored to perfect health, and the vital forces thoroughly re-established same as if never affected. Sold ONLY by
HARRIS REMEDY CO. MF'G CHEMISTS.
Market and 8th Sts. ST. LOUIS, MO.

Unsolicited testimony to the Efficacy of Prof. Harris' Pastilles, taken from Letters received from Patrons:

Indiana, April 11, '79.—The Remedy is working perfectly. Had epilepsy from weakness for [illegible] years.

Iowa, Oct. 10th, '79.—I am almost surprised at your Pastilles. They have worked like a charm on me. I am just twice as much of a man as I was before taking. I was on the verge of the grave, I thought, and there was no cure for me, but now I am in good hopes for a cure.

West Virginia, Aug. 24, 1879.—I received your medicine and I believe it has cured me, for which I am very thankful. Inclosed find $5. Please send me another box (No. 2) for a friend. You have done a great thing for me. I will send you all the orders I can.

From a Physician and Surgeon.
Missouri, June 23.—Please forward me another box of the Pastilles. The patient on whom I have used most of one box, in addition to a sample box, is fast recovering, and I think another will set him all right.

From a Druggist.
Maryland, Sept. 2, '79.—Last January we got a box of your Remedy for one of our customers, and it has made a perfect cure of him. We have another customer at suffering in the same way, and wish one No. 3 box.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE Minneapolis

ST. PAUL
MINNESOTA
WISCONSIN
IOWA
NEB
OMAHA
COUNCIL BLUFFS
ATCHISON
Leavenworth
KANSAS CITY
MISSOURI
ILLINOIS
Cameron
Centre V.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
Is The Great Connecting Link between the East and the West!

Its main line runs from Chicago to Council Bluffs, passing through Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island, Davenport, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marengo, Brooklyn, Grinnell, Des Moines (the capital of Iowa), Stuart, Atlantic, and Avoca; with branches from Bureau Junction to Peoria; Wilton Junction to Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Eldon, Belknap, Centreville, Princeton, Trenton, Gallatin, Cameron, Leavenworth, Atchison, and Kansas City; Washington to Sigourney, Oskaloosa, and Knoxville; Keokuk to Farmington, Bonaparte, Bentonsport, Independent, Eldon, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Oskaloosa, Pella, Monroe, and Des Moines; Mt. Zion to Keosauqua; Newton to Monroe; Des Moines to Indianola and Winterset; Atlantic to Griswold and Audubon; and Avoca to Harlan and Carson. This is positively the only Railroad, which owns, and operates a through line from Chicago into the State of Kansas.

Through Express Passenger Trains, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, are run each way daily between CHICAGO and PEORIA, KANSAS CITY, COUNCIL BLUFFS, LEAVENWORTH and ATCHISON. Through cars are also run between Milwaukee and Kansas City, via the "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line."

The "Great Rock Island" is magnificently equipped. Its road bed is simply perfect, and its track is laid with steel rails.

What will please you most will be the pleasure of enjoying your meals, while passing over the beautiful prairies of Illinois and Iowa, in one of our magnificent Dining Cars that accompany all Through Express Trains. You get an entire meal, as good as is served in any first-class hotel, for seventy-five cents.

Appreciating the fact that a majority of the people prefer separate apartments for different purposes (and the immense passenger business of this line warranting it), we are pleased to announce that this Company runs Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars for sleeping purposes, and Palace Dining Cars for eating purposes only. One other great feature of our Palace Cars is a SMOKING SALOON where you can enjoy your "Havana" at all hours of the day.

Magnificent Iron Bridges span the Mississippi and Missouri rivers at all points crossed by this line, and transfers are avoided at Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Leavenworth and Atchison, connections being made in Union Depots.

The principal R. R. connections of this great Through Line are as follows:

At CHICAGO, with all diverging lines for the East and South.

At ENGLEWOOD, with the L. S. & M. S., and P., Ft. W. & C. R. Rds.

At WASHINGTON HEIGHTS, with P., C. & St. L. R. R.

At LA SALLE, with Ill. Cent. R. R.

At PEORIA, with P. P. & J.; P. D. & E.; I. B. & W.; Ill. Mid.; and T. P. & W. Rds.

At ROCK ISLAND, with "Milwaukee and Rock Island Short Line," and Rock Isl'd & Peo. Rds.

At DAVENPORT, with the Davenport Division C. M. & St. P. R. R.

At WEST LIBERTY, with the B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At GRINNELL, with Central Iowa R. R.

At DES MOINES, with D. M. & F. D. R. R.

At COUNCIL BLUFFS, with Union Pacific R. R.

At OMAHA, with B. & Mo. R. R. R. (in Neb.)

At COLUMBUS JUNCTION, with B. C. R. & N. R. R.

At OTTUMWA, with Central Iowa R. R.; W., St. L. & Pac., and C. B. and Q. R. R. Rds.

At KEOKUK, with Tol. Peo. & War.; Wab., St. Louis & Pac., and St. L. Keo. & N. W. R. Rds.

At CAMERON, with H. St. J. R. R.

At ATCHISON, with [illegible]

At [illegible]

At KANSAS CITY, with all lines for the West and Southwest.

PULLMAN PALACE CARS are run through to PEORIA, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, KANSAS CITY, ATCHISON, and LEAVENWORTH.

Tickets via this Line, known as the "Great Rock Island Route," are sold by all Ticket Agents in the United States and Canada.

For information not obtainable at your home ticket office, address,

R. R. CABLE,
Vice President and General Manager.

E. ST. JOHN,
Gen'l Tkt. and Pass'gr Agt., Chicago.

—Below we give a copy of a description of land as they describe it over in [illegible] township. Comments would be out of place, so here it is:

Commencing at the center of the west side on the west line of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 31, township 34, north of range 15 east; from thence in an easterly direction at or near the center of my farm, east through the center of a pond near the river road. Thence along the center of said road southwest to the top of the bluf of the run opisit of a locust tree near the old garden, thence an easterly cours to the bank of Little St. Joseph river at the out let of said run where there now is standing baswood sprouts.

PAY UP.—Quite a number of our subscribers are still behind on their subscription. Don't forget to call and square up your accounts before new years. 2t

KIDNEY-WORT

THE GREAT CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

As it is for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS.

It cleanses the system of the acrid poison that causes the dreadful suffering which only the victims of Rheumatism can realize.

THOUSANDS OF CASES

of the worst forms of this terrible disease have been quickly relieved, in a short time

PERFECTLY CURED.

KIDNEY-WORT

has had wonderful success, and an immense sale in every part of the Country. In hundreds of cases it has cured where all else had failed. It is mild, but efficient, CERTAIN IN ITS ACTION, but harmless in all cases.

It cleanses, Strengthens and gives New Life to all the important organs of the body. The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all disease, and the Bowels move freely and healthfully. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

As it has been proved by thousands that is the most effectual remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions. It should be used in every household as a

KIDNEY-WORT

SPRING MEDICINE.

Always cures BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATION, PILES and all FEMALE Diseases. Is put up in Dry Vegetable Form, in tin cans, one package of which makes 6 quarts medicine. Also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated for the convenience of those who cannot readily prepare it. It acts with equal efficiency in either form.

GET IT OF YOUR DRUGGIST. PRICE, $1.00

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Prop's, (Will send the dry post-paid.) BURLINGTON, VT.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Purest and Best Medicine ever Made. [illegible]

Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, drugged, drunken nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "INVALID'S FRIEND and HOPE" and no person or family should be without them.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics. All sold by druggists. Send for Circular. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N.Y. and Toronto, Ont.

HOME TREATMENT.

A certain cure for Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, etc. The Recipe used in my practice for [illegible] Years and an illustrated book of 60 pages giving full directions for self-treatment, sent free. Address DR. T. WILLIAMS, 428 E. Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

SUFFERERS from Gleet and Gonorrhea, or ladies troubled with Whites, should by all means try

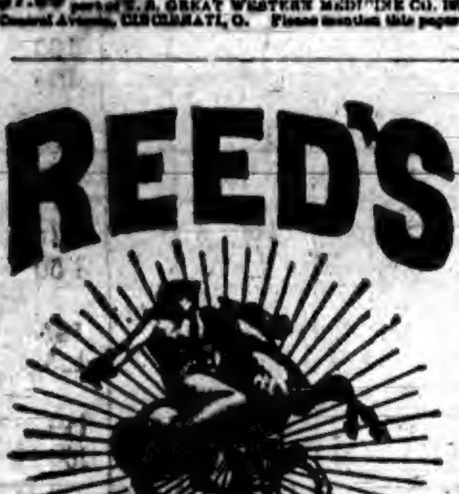
SANTINELI

It is a sure cure for LEUCORRHEA or WHITES, female disease

CURES GLEET AND GONORRHEA

In from 3 to 5 days without fail. Sold by all druggists. Price, $1.00 a bottle or sent dry postpaid, on receipt of price to any part of U. S. GREAT WESTERN MEDICINE CO. 180 Central Avenue, CINCINNATI, O. Please mention this paper.

REED'S



GILT EDGE TONIC

IS A THOROUGH REMEDY

In every case of Malarial Fever, Fever and Ague and Dumb Ague, while for Disorders of the Stomach, Torpidity of the Liver, Indigestion and Disturbances of the Animal Forces, which Debilitate, it has no equivalent and can have no substitute. It should not be confounded with the triturated compounds of cheap spirits and essential oil, often sold under the name of Bitters.

For Sale by Druggists and General Dealers Everywhere.

CHAS. NATHAN & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, FORT WAYNE, IND.

PATENTS

[illegible]

H. H. RIDDLEBERGER has been elected to the United States' senate, by the readjusters of Virginia.

THE Ohio legislature meets next Monday, but the governor is not inaugurated until the week following.

AN attempt was made to wreck a train on the Lake Shore road, near Delta last week, by placing a tie across the track.

THE fence post question has been receiving some attention at the Michigan agricultural college, at Lansing. A great many experiments have been made in setting posts top end down, and the results have shown that posts set in this way, do not last any longer than if set in the usual manner.

THE breed of cattle, known as the Polled Angus stock, took the highest premiums at the great annual fat cattle show, at Smithfield, one of the divisions of London, England. This show is considered the leading one in the world, as far as fat cattle are concerned, and the taking of these prizes by the Angus cattle, will give that particular breed a new impetus among cattle breeders.

THE treasury department last week purchased 42,000 ounces of silver, for the use of the mints in silver coinage. It will now be in order for the director of the mint, to start another howl against silver dollars. Whether he fears his men will have some work to do, or whether he thinks the money paid for the silver ought to be given up to the star routers, or build John Sherman a house, [illegible] appear. Meantime the people will take theirs in silver dollars.

THE Interior department has [illegible] ed land scrip to the heirs of the celebrated revolutionary hero, John Paul Jones. His brilliant record as a naval commander and his [illegible] victories, will be fre[illegible] of the American people. [illegible] recognize in the tardiny [illegible] gifts, at least some [illegible] great services he rendere[illegible] ed country in her darkest hour. The great wonder is, why his heirs should have to wait over a hundred years for this testimonial of gratitude.

THE great Nevada silver mines, known under the general name of the Comstock Lode, has been lately showing signs of exhaustion. The yield of ore has been steadily diminishing for three or four years, until now it does not yield enough to pay for working. Still, it produces large quantities of the precious metal, and the work of mining it goes steadily on, as miners do not like to stop while there is metal in sight. [illegible] too, the owners are all [illegible] hoping that they will [illegible] lead that will pay better. In the meantime, the expense [illegible] the mines is kept up by [illegible] on the stockholders.

—Answer this:—Is there a person living who ever saw a [illegible] ague, biliousness, [illegible] neuralgia, or any disease of [illegible] ach, liver, or kidneys that Hop Bitters will not cure?

—So far from persistence being [illegible] associate of weakness and infe[illegible] it is itself a power which [illegible] and upholds all others, [illegible] which they could never d[illegible] value or efficiency. The [illegible] efficient, inferior [illegible] whatever may be [illegible] lacks the force necessary [illegible] the most of them.

—Charley and little brothers were seated around a Thanksgiving dinner, and in the course of the meal began to quarrel about who should have the wish bone of the turkey.

Charley—I want the wish-bone, mamma!

Mamma—Never mind, Char[illegible] the little ones have it this time; [illegible] can have the next one.

Charlie (suddenly)—I [illegible] going to have mamma's wish-bone [illegible] she dies.

—"Gem'len," said [illegible] member dat it am not [illegible] an opinyun on a stranger [illegible] of his mouf or de number [illegible] No persun can tell de [illegible] mules in a barn by looki[illegible] ble door."

—"What are you doing [illegible] basin of water? Don't [illegible] you'll wet your clean [illegible] his mother. "That's all right," said [illegible] 6-year-old, as he threw a lucifer into the water, "I'm only watching a swimming match."

After Hamlet and the Grave-digger—Scene at a stable—Funny Fellow [illegible] hostler, who is rubbing down his horse: "Pat, I'm afraid you're currying favor with that horse." Hostler: "Faith not, I'm merely scrapin' an acquaintance."

—A Canada farmer discovered a pit containing 800 skulls. Must have been the site of an ancient theater to have had so many dead heads in the pit.

—In Baltimore a fine of $1.[illegible] for every oath used. A [illegible]

A Brought Story

"Folks talk about this being a dry time," observed Mr. Smiley as he wiped his lips after his morning bitters. "Tain't nothin' to what I have seen. When it gets so dry that shingles follow the sun, an' curl up so you can see straight through the roof, an' every time a hen steps on the blistering sidewalk she holds up her foot and blows it cool, an' every time a dog sits down in the shade he jumps like a school boy getting away from a tack nail, then you can talk about its being hot an' dry. Why, I recollect one summer I drove cows five miles for water an' then had to give 'em their own milk to drink. There wasn't any water in them days, an' we used to catch the due—" Just then a collector walked up the front steps to "catch the due," and Ichabod skinned out the back door with his wonderfully dry story half told.—[New Haven Register.

—Its easy finding reasons why other people should be patient, but its not easy to find out why people should suffer from a cough [illegible] while Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup [illegible] sold by all druggists.

DR. A. W. [illegible] advertisement appears in another column [illegible] November, [illegible] December [illegible] and January [illegible]

Uniq[illegible] watch [illegible]

Notice. [illegible]

Sale o[illegible]

The [illegible] quarter [illegible] tion seventee[illegible] (35), north [illegible] Kalb [illegible] interest [illegible] following described tr[illegible] northwest corner of the [illegible] of the northwest quarter [illegible] (17) seventeen, running thence [illegible] erly course, along the [illegible] the west line [illegible] said line [illegible] cept the following [illegible] Beginning at the [illegible] said southwest [illegible] seventeen (17), thence [illegible] line of said section [illegible] stake, [illegible] the [illegible] thence west [illegible] said section [illegible] rods to the section line, thence [illegible] section line, thirty (30) rod [illegible] ginning. Also except the following [illegible] ning at the northeast corner [illegible] quarter (¼) of northwest [illegible]

Harper's [illegible]

ILLUSTRATED

This popular journal is a [illegible] bination of literature, art, and [illegible]

[illegible]

HARPER'S PERIODICALS.

[illegible]

or by express free [illegible] the freight does not exceed [illegible] per volume), for $7.00 each.

Cloth Cases [illegible]

[illegible]

New York.

New Meat Market

Opposite Hoff's grocery store, where he will keep at all times the very best

Beef,
Pork,
Bologna,
Stuffed Puddings,
Etc.

He will be found pleasant to customers [illegible] has a good Refrigerator and his customers can always feel sure of getting cool, fresh meats. Any one making previous arrangements can get their meat on Sunday by calling for it from 8 to 9 o'clock a. m.

Farmers having stock for sale should give him a call. tf

W. L. BRAUN.

J. W. SHAFFER & CO.,

Manufacturers of the

Best and Lightest-Running

WAGON

[illegible]

CLOCKS

WHEELER
WALTHAM, MASS.

Plated Ware

[illegible]

TRADE MARK

[illegible] LUNG HEALER

[illegible]

WELL AUGERS, ROCK DRILLS

And the Best Machinery in the World for BORING and DRILLING WELLS by Horse or Steam Power. Book Free. Address LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

OVER 1500 ACRES UNDER CULTIVATION [illegible] SEEDS [illegible] DAVID LANDRETH & SONS, PHILA.

[illegible]'S MAGIC TOOTH ACHE CURE

Ft. Wayne & Jackson Railroad

SHORT LINE

For all points South, Southeast and Southwest including Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas, Texas and all points west.

SHORT LINE from all points in central and northern Michigan and Canada.

Direct Route to Baltimore and Washington via Auburn Junction and the B. & O. R. R.

Time Card [illegible]

SOUTH	Ex.	Ac.	Acc'm
Lv. Bay City	[illegible]	[illegible]
Saginaw	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lansing	[illegible]	[illegible]
Grand Rapids	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Detroit	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ann Arbor	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Jackson Lv	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hanover	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Jonesville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bankers	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Reading	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Montgomery	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Fremont	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Angola	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Pleasant Lake	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Waterloo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Auburn	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Auburn Junction	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Arrive Ft. Wayne	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Indianapolis	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cincinnati	[illegible]		[illegible]
Louisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
St Louis	[illegible]
Washington		[illegible]
Baltimore

[illegible]

Ft. Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati and White Water Railroad.

In effect February 27, 1881.

[illegible]

All trains daily except Sunday. Trains run on Columbus time.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern RAILWAY.

Great through car route between the east and west! Steel rail track! Superior equipments! Close connections at Buffalo, for New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Washington. Time card in effect [illegible]

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	[illegible]	[illegible]	Way Fr't	Way Fr't
Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]
Elkhart	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kendallville	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]
Corunna	[illegible]		[illegible]
Sedan			[illegible]	[illegible]
Waterloo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Butler	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Toledo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Ex.	Pac. Ex.	Way Fr't	Way Fr't
Toledo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Butler	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Waterloo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sedan			[illegible]	[illegible]
Corunna	[illegible]		[illegible]	[illegible]
Kendallville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Elkhart	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chicago	[illegible]	[illegible]

The Pacific and Atlantic express run daily. Other trains daily except Sundays. Trains run by Columbus time, which is twenty minutes faster than Chicago time. Where no time is given trains do not stop. Accommodation freight leaves Butler at [illegible] o'clock a. m. and arrives at Toledo at [illegible] Accommodation freight leaves Toledo at [illegible] m. and arrives at Butler at [illegible] p. m. Close connections at Toledo. Through tickets and free transfer of passengers and baggage. [illegible]

[illegible] Toledo, [illegible] tickets to all points east, first class, second class, [illegible] and round trip [illegible] For [illegible] information apply [illegible]

TAKE A RIDE

[illegible]

[illegible] Railway [illegible] Equipped [illegible]

[illegible] Connections [illegible] apolis, Eureka, [illegible], Owatonna, Winona, La Crosse, Owatonna, and all points in Minnesota, Dakota, Wisconsin and the Northwest.

At Council Bluffs [illegible] Chicago & Northwestern [illegible] Railways depart from [illegible] depot.

[illegible] are made with [illegible] Baltimore & Ohio, [illegible] and Pennsylvania, and Chicago & Grand Trunk railways, and the Kankakee and Pan Handle routes.

[illegible] Junction points.

[illegible] the only line running

Pullman Hotel Dining Cars

between

Chicago & Council Bluffs

[illegible] trains.

[illegible] selling you tickets [illegible] and refuse [illegible] Chicago & [illegible] this route [illegible] Chicago.

Recorders Office

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Devoted to the Interests of the Democratic Party and to the Collection of Local and General News.

Volume 12. AUBURN, DeKALB COUNTY, INDIANA, JANUARY 12, 1882. Number 2.

Auburn Courier.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY BARNS & BLAIR

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, post-office as second-class matter.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Cards not exceeding five lines each will be inserted under this head for $5.00 per annum For each additional line 50 cents extra will be charged.

D. D. MOODY.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Auburn, Indiana. Office over Schaab & Beugnot's Store.

F. V. HOFFMAN.
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW. Will practice in all the state courts, and in the United States courts. Office on west side of Main street over Ed. Eldridge's.

WM. H. LEAS.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will give prompt attention to collections Also represents first class insurance companies. Office over Willis & Co's. book store, Waterloo, Indiana.

W. H. DILLS.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic. Special attention given to all classes of legal business. Office second floor in Cool's block, opposite north side of public square Auburn, Ind.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND NOTARY PUBlic, will practice in all courts in the state. Office in rear of DeKalb Bank, on first floor, Waterloo, Indiana.

DR. D. A. SEBRING will treat chronic diseases, also diseases of the eye, ear and cancers. Office over Shaffer's furniture store, Auburn, Indiana. tf.

DRS. MORRISON & LIPES.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LOCATED at Hudson, Indiana. All calls promptly attended to—day or night.

J. LITTLEFIELD.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. OFFICE AND residence on 10th St., opposite S. W. Ralston's. All calls promptly attended to, day or night. Auburn, Indiana. 28 1y

BUTT'S HOTEL.
FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains. Good sample rooms on first floor John Butt, Proprietor, Waterloo, Indiana.

J. B. CASEBEER, M. D.
T. G. MATHENY, M. D. V. A. HUMPHREY, M.D.
Dr's. Casebeer, Matheny and Humphrey have associated themselves for the practice of medicine and surgery. Also in the drug and livery business. They are prepared to answer calls in their line. Office at the Physicians' drug store, Main street, Auburn, Ind.

LONG'S HOTEL.
FREE OMNIBUS TO AND FROM ALL trains daily. Good sample Rooms. Waterloo, Indiana

NOTICE.

I will be in my office for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. T. F. FRANKS, Trustee.
June 14, 1881.

$1,000 Reward.

for any case of Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated or Protruding PILES that DEBING'S PILE REMEDY fails to cure. Prepared by J. P. Miller, M. D., 915 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. None genuine without his signature. Send for circular. All druggists or general stores have it, or will get it for you. $1. Sold by Davenport, the druggist.

Holloway' Pills.

Never dispair—something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispells doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.
IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.
☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. HOLLOWAY & CO., N. Y.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address, Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.
$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address, H. Hallett & Co. Portland, Maine.
$72 a week. $12 a day at home easily made Costly outfit free. Address, True and Co Augusta, Maine. [No. 7.1y

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE of Indiana, DeKalb county, ss. In the DeKalb circuit court, February term, 1882: Mary A. Wildasin, Jennie Schloss, Jonas Schloss impleaded with others are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to foreclose a mortgage by John C. StClair as administrator of the estate of Daniel Till, and that the same will be heard and determined on the first juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences February 27, 1882.
Witness, The Clerk of said court, this 23d day of December, 1881.
52-3w. JOHN W. BAXTER, Clerk.

Notice of Administration.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court, of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of David and Phebe Monroe, deceased, late of said county. Said estate is supposed to be solvent.
LEWIS R. WATSON, Adm'r.
Jan. 4, 1882. 3w

PAY UP.—Quite a number of our subscribers are still behind on their subscription. Don't forget to call and square up your accounts before new years. 2t

IMPORTANT TO TRAVELERS.—Special inducements are offered by the Burlington route. It will pay you to read their advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue. 19-1y.

Woodpeckers and Acorns.

HOW A CALIFORNIA BIRD STORES UP FOOD FOR THE WINTER.

Mr. Stearns read another interesting paper on "The Acorn-Storing Habits of the California Woodpecker." In Napa county he examined a fallen yellow pine tree, the bark of which was full of acorn holes. Its length was 175 feet, and the diameter of its butt was 5 feet 10 inches, and, at 90 feet, 3 feet 8 inches. Above the ninety-foot line the woodpecker holes were comparatively few; neither were there any in the first ten feet of the trunk from the ground. A piece of the bark twelve by twelve inches shows sixty holes. If we take an average of thirty-six holes to the square foot it gives us 41,040 acorn holes in the bark of this one tree. The holes are drilled to receive acorns of different sizes, for these birds are exact workmen, and each acorn is nicely fitted into its special cavity. Woodpeckers reject the cups and store acorns without them. In Knight's Valley he observed woodpecker holes in a large spruce tree, and was informed that they also bore into the bark of certain oaks to a limited extent. They have a habit peculiar to them of drilling small holes in the bark of several varieties of trees, and fitting acorns tightly into them, each one being carefully adapted and driven tight. These are generally considered as laid up for a winter supply of food; but while in this climate no such provision is necessary, it is also very improbable that one of the family wood feed on hard nuts or seeds of any kind. The more probable examination is that they are preserved for the sake of the grubs they so frequently contain, which, being very small when the acorn falls, grow until they eat the whole interior, when they become a welcome delicacy for the bird. Whether they select only those containing grubs, or store away all they meet with is uncertain, but as they leave great numbers in the tree untouched, it is probable that these are sound acorns, and often become a supply to squirrels and bluejays. From this strange habit these industrious, yet playful and twittering birds, have received from the early Mexicans the name of "carpenters," and this is also adopted by many Americans. Trees used by them for such storage contain on the average about 300 pounds of acorns imbedded in their bark.

Mr. Brooks remarked that Mr. Lightner, a member of the academy, had carefully observed the habits of woodpeckers and bluejays at the season when these acorns are generally deposited, and had desired him to state what he had seen, and to ask some explanations. Mr. Lightner observed woodpeckers engaged in drilling holes in the bark, when a bluejay was seen to fly close up to one and inspect the size of the hole. Some very active chippering then ensued, when the bluejay flies away, but soon returns with a green acorn without the cup, in his beak. This he offers to the woodpecker, who takes it with his beak and sets it into the hole, and drives it home with a few taps, where it remains. This process is continually repeated. Mr. Lightner desired to know what were the special benefits derived by this mutural service conducted between an hersiverous and a carniverous bird.

Mr. Stearns said that great numbers of untouched acorns remain in the spring, which have developed no worms suitable for food for the woodpecker, and which supply nutriment to bluejays and squirrels. Thus a community of interest was manifest, explaining their joint labors.

Educated Women.

Refined and educated women will sometimes suffer in silence for years from kidney diseases, or constipation and piles, which could easily be cured by a package of Kidney-Wort. There is hardly a woman to be found that does not at some time suffer from some of the diseases for which this great remedy is a specific. It is put up in liquid and dry forms, equally efficient.—Springfield Union.

—The highest hopes and interest of the race rest on the purity, health and strength of womanhood. We take pleasure in referring our readers to the remarkable efficacy of Lydia A. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in all that class of diseases from which women suffer so much. 1-3w.

All kinds of hardware at reduced prices at Kiblinger & Co's. tf.

The Five Tenors.

A story is told in most Parisian greenrooms of "The Manager and the Five Tenors." The manager had engaged a French operetta troupe to perform in a city of South America, He was the most polite and generous of managers He offers high terms, promised his proteges a benefit apiece, made the best arrangements for their comfort on the voyage out, and at last had the satisfaction of steaming off with them all. The day when they started was a fine one, and as soon as the shores of France had faded out of sight the company, to keep up their spirits, began to sing on deck. But very soon they stopped, and five gentlemen were seen to stare at one another with consternation. They were all five tenors. "Why, how is this" cried one. "I was engaged as the only tenor." "That is my case, too," chimed in another, and so said they all. The manager had slunk down into the cabin during this altercation, but he was called up again and was requested to furnish explanations. "Calm your minds," he said in a cheerful tone, "you are five tenors now, but I calculate that four of you will be carried off by the vomito negro as soon as we land, and I promise that the one who survives shall be my tenor." Under this grim jest may perhaps lurk a grain of fact, which it would be well not altogether to lose sight of.—[London Daily News.

Where the Drums Come From.

Granville corners is situated about two miles north of the Connecticut line. A large mill stream runs through the place (a branch of the Westfield river,) furnishing a number of privileges, most of which are utilized. Messrs, Noble & Cooley are by far the largest manufacturers in the place. They say that in December, 1853, they first made a drum in Mr. Noble's father's kitchen, from a board found in the barn, steamed it with a tea-kettle, and used two hogs' bladders for the heads, Next they made a dozen drums, and sent them away in a boot box. They now have a factory 110x40 feet, with five floors, and use steam and water. They have made and sold 70,000 drums. These were made of wood, tin, brass, and nickel. They used for the heads of all these drums 80,000 sheepskins, which come from Liverpool, of the kind known as salted fleshes. Let none of your readers wonder where all the toy drums are made hereafter. This firm also made 400 gross of toy pistols, 23,000 boxes tenpins, 700 gross rollinghoops, and 42,000 boxes wooden tooth-picks.—Hartford Times.

Teach Them to be Polite.

Train your children to be polite at home, and you will never have cause to blush at their rudeness abroad. The rosy-cheeked boy and girl and the strong and vigorous young man who sit in their comfortable seats in crowded cars, while gray-haired grandfathers and grandmothers tug at the straps, are poor commentaries on home training. Nothing is cheaper than politeness, and nothing pays better. It should not be taught because it pays, but from principle. The young man who is negligent of his mother and sister at home, or the sister who is selfish and unthoughful, will be no blessing to any other home into which they are engrafted, until "they unlearn what they have learned amiss." This is often difficult and annoying, and robs life of its sweetest hours and richest gifts. Train your children in politeness and unselfishness in all little things, and the greater will come without an effort.—[Inter-Ocean.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., Jan. 2, 1880.
I wish to say to you that I have been suffering the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor, but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after taking four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCHE.
1-3w.

—A good thing to keep in the house—Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup. It cures coughs, colds, sore lungs and consumption. Ask your druggist for it. Price twenty-five and fifty cents.

Engraving by Sand Blast.

This is one of the most curious and strange of the inventions which have come into use in these later days. To make an inscription upon a marble slab, cover the face of the stone with a sheet of wax no thicker than a wafer; then cut out in the wax the name, date, etc., leaving the marble exposed. Now pass it under the blast, and the sand shall cut it away. Remove the wax and you have the cut letters. To cut or mark plate glass, cover it with fine lace and pass it under the blast, and not a thread of the lace will be injured, but the sand will cut deep into the glass wherever it is not covered with the lace. Now remove the lace, and you will have a delicate and beautiful figure raised on the glass. In this way beautiful figures of all kinds are cut in glass, and at a small expense. The workmen can hold their hand under the blast without harm, even when it is rapidly cutting away the hardest-cutting glass, iron or stone; but they must look out for finger nails, for they will be whittled off right hastily. If they put on steel thimbles to protect their nails, it will do but little good, for the sand will soon whittle them away; but if they wrap a piece of soft cotton around them, they are safe. You will at one see the philosophy of it. The sand whittles away and destroys any hard substance—even glass—but does not affect substances that are soft and yielding, like wax, cotton, fine lace, or even the human hand.

Royal Grit.

It was Philip the Second of Spain who said to his attendants, "I wish to be carried alive to the place of my sepulcher." The procession conveying the dying monarch left Madrid, June 20, 1598, and occupied six days in traversing the distance of only twenty-four miles to the Escurial where the Imperial tomb was situated. Philip had suffered from gout for twenty years, and in the last eighteen months of his life, he experienced untold agony. It assumed the form of unappeasable thirst and a tumerous condition of an intensely malignant nature. It was even impossible to turn his body from one side to the other, or to change his clothing, and yet, amid all this suffering and pain, he made arrangements for his own burial, ordered the coffin of his royal father to be opened so that he might be robed after him in similar fashion, and finally directed his own coffin to be placed at his bedside. He witnessed all these preparations with imperturbable calmness, and before passing away, requested that his body be enclosed in the coffin as soon as death ensued, and then placed in a leaden box.

It doesn't require a pair of horses to drag out a miserable existence, but it does require a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup to cure a cough or cold. Price twenty-five and fifty cents.

—For lap robes call on Kiblinger & Co. tf

The Key to Health.

Have you found the key to perfect health and strength? It is Kidney-Wort, the only remedy that overcomes at once the inaction of the kidneys and bowels. It purifies the blood by cleansing the system of foul humors and by giving strength to the liver, kidneys and bowels to perform their regular functions. See displayed advertisement.

A. T. Short, of Coldwater, Mich. and M. F. Hunter, of Orland, have just purchased from A. A. Wood, of Saline, Mich., forty-seven registered American Merino ewes and a number of ram lambs, for one of which they paid the sum of $250. These sheep were purchased a short time since by A. A. Wood in the state of Vermont. Mr. Hunter has sold within the last six months over $2,000 worth of fine sheep for breeding purposes, and now has some very fine ewes and ewe lambs for sale. He is one of the best sheep men in the county.—[Steuben County Journal.

—Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff, whose advertisement appears in another column, is now devoting all his time to the cure of piles and similar diseases. He will be at the Swineford House November 16, December 14, and January 11. Those who wish, can consult him on those days. 46tf.

NOTICE.—I will be in my office, at my residence, for the transaction of such township business as may come before me, on Saturday of each week until further notice. S. J. BRADDOCK,
Oct. 11-tf. Trustee Jackson tp

—Kiblinger & Co., sell the celebrated Bartlett ax.

TAX LIST FOR 1881.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF DeKALB COUNTY:

In compliance with the laws of the State of Indiana, I, L. J. MILLER, treasurer of said county, hereby notify the tax-payers thereof, that the rates of taxation for the year A. D. 1881 are correctly stated in the following table, showing the amount of tax in cents levied upon each one hundred dolliars valuation and on each poll, in the several townships and incorporated villages in said county, as the same appears on the tax duplicate of DeKalb county, for said year:

TOWNSHIPS AND TOWNS.	STATE HOUSE TAX	STATE TAX.	SCHOOL TAX.	COUNTY TAX.	TOWNSHIP TAX.	ROAD TAX.	COM. SCHOOL TAX	SPC'L SCHOOL TAX	ADDITIONAL SPC'L SCHOOL TAX.	INT. ON BONDS	CORPORATION TAX	[illegible]	TOTAL TAX.
Butler Township	2	12	16	65	5	10	5	10		10			135
Poll		50	50				25						125
Jackson Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	20		10			155
Poll		50	50					05					150
Concord Township	2	12	16	65		20	10	35		10			180
Poll		50	50					50					150
Newville Township	2	12	16	65	15	10	5	20		10			135
Poll		50	50				10						150
Stafford Township	2	12	16	65	5	10	5	10		10			135
Poll		50	50										100
Wilmington Township	2	12	16	65	5	15		5		10			130
Poll		50	50										100
Union Township	2	12	16	65	2	15	5	5		10			132
Poll		50	50					50					150
Richland Township	2	12	16	65	5	15	5	30		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Fairfield Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	25		10			160
Poll		50	50					50					150
Smithfield Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	5	10		10			145
Poll		50	50					50					1 50
Franklin Township	2	12	16	65	10	15	10	5		10			145
Poll		50	50				25						125
Troy Township	2	12	16	65	5	15	5	10		10			140
Poll		50	50										100
Keyser Township	2	12	16	65	2	15	5	5		10			132
Poll		50	50				25						125
Auburn Town	2	12	16	65	2	15		50	50	10	40	10	2 2
Poll		50	50					50	25		25		200
Waterloo Town	2	12	16	65	2	15	10	25		10			157
Poll		50	50										100
Butler Town	2	12	16	65	5	15		30	25	10		15	193
Poll		50	50						25				125
Garrett Town	2	12	16	65	2	15	25	50	90	10	50	10	347
Poll		50	50				25	100	100		25		350

Also $1 for one dog, $2 for each female dog, and $2 for each additional dog, for the collecting of which I may be found at the county treasurer's office, in the town of Auburn, on and after January 1st, 1882.

Taxes may be paid in full or in two installments. The first installment, including all road taxes, can be paid on or before the third Monday in April, 1882, the second installment, on or before the first Monday in November, 1882. If the first installment is not paid when due, both installments become delinquent, ten per cent. will be added, and I shall at once proceed, as the law requires, to collect the same, together with the costs that may accrue by distress and sale of personal property.

Road receipts will not be received after the third Monday in April, only on delinquent taxes. No road receipts will be received on the November installment.

Examine your receipts before leaving the office, and see that all your property is included.

No county order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes.

The annual sale of lands and lots for delinquent taxes will occur on the first Monday in March, 1882.

Come early and avoid the rush of the last few days.

The books will positively be closed on the evening of the third Monday in April, and no one will be allowed to pay after that date, without penalty.

Parties sending by others, or by letter, to pay tax, should not fail to send description of their lands and lots.

No receipt will be made out hereafter, for any party, until they are ready to pay for the same.

L. J. MILLER, Treasurer of DeKalb County.

"GOOD-BY."

BY MARTIN E. [illegible]

"Good-by," a lover whispers,
Standing beside the gate;
"'Tis hard, so hard to leave you,
But we cannot alter fate;
Think of me, love, for aye,
Good-by, sweetheart, good-by."

"Good-by, dear mother; hold me
Close to your loving heart.
Ah! how it hurts to say it,
To know that we must part;"
List, list the wild heart-cry,
"Good-by, mother, good-by."

The little wasted fingers
Rest calmly in our own,
And baby's bright young spirit,
Without a sigh or moan,
Soars for its home on high,
Followed by our "good-by."

Bring hither spotless lilies,
Roses and milk-white phlox;
With loving fingers strew them
Inside the rosewood box,
For maidens, too, must die,
"Good-by, dear, good-by."

Thus, at each cross and turn,
All through the ceaseless rush
Of restless, busy life,
From morning's earliest blush
To evening's latest sigh—
Good-by, good-by, good-by.

Mariner on life's ocean,
Mourner beside the tomb,
Traveler along earth's highway,
These words thy path illume:
Beyond those changeful skies
There'll be no more good-byes.

MARIE ANTOINETTE.

The History of a Beautiful but Unfortunate Woman.

Marie Antoinette Josephe Jeanne De Lorraine was the youngest daughter of Francis Joseph and the renowned Maria Theresa of Austria. On the day of her birth, Nov. 2, 1755, occurred the terrible earthquake which laid Lisbon in ashes, and caused the death of thousands of human beings. Minds prone to look upon such disasters as evil omens never failed to recall this as one of the many which attended the career of Marie Antoinette.

As a child her bright looks, quick intelligence and benevolently-affectionate nature made her the special favorite of her royal parents. When, in 1764, Francis Joseph quitted his family to go to Innspruck, which proved to be his last journey, he ordered her to be brought to him just as his carriage was ready to start, saying:

"Adieu, my dear little daughter. Father wished once more to press you to his heart."

This was the last time they saw each other. A few days after the Emperor died at Innspruck, and the royal child, then about 9 years of age, felt her first real sorrow.

For two centuries and a half France and Austria had been enemies. It had ever been Maria Theresa's ambition to increase the prosperity of her country, and she prided herself on putting an end to this enmity by an alliance with France, which she had contracted some years previously.

As her daughter Marie gave decided promise of the marvelous beauty for which she was afterward so celebrated, her imperial mother endeavored to cement the French alliance more closely by proposing to Louis XV. a marriage between the Dauphin, the grandson and heir of Louis, and her youngest child. Having this brilliant destiny in view for her lovely daughter, the Empress had her portrait painted by French artists, and caused her to be thoroughly instructed in the French language.

Metastasio, the favorite court poet, taught the royal maiden Italian, and the great musician Gluck gave her lessons on the harpsichord.

It is said she did not excel in her studies; she was naturally too full of life and spirits to be gravely studious. She was, however, always active in benevolence; and, being accustomed from the noble example of her mother to feel an interest in the welfare of the poorest, she carried into the country of her adoption a disposition ever leading her "to sympathize with sorrow, to succor misfortune and distress, and to be indignant at injustice and ingratitude."

By the spring of 1770, all arrangements for the marriage of the Dauphin with Marie Antoinette were completed; those of France being on the most splendid scale, for the court of Louis XV. was as celebrated for its taste and magnificence as it was notorious for its profligacy.

On the 20th of April, the bride, not yet fifteen, quitted her Austrian home to become the wife of a youth she had never seen, and to abide in a country where she knew not one person as an acquaintance. For the last time—though she then knew it not—she gazed on the familiar scenes of her childhood, leaving behind her forever her companions and playmates to whom she had warmly endeared herself.

The parting between mother and daughter was extremely affecting, and a mournful interest is attached to it when we remember that it was the last time they were destined to meet.

"The whole population of Vienna thronged the streets to see her depart, mingling tears of genuine sorrow with their acclamations as they followed her carriage to the outermost gates of the city that they might gaze their last on the darling of many hearts."

At Strasbourg, the first French city to receive her, Marie Antoinette ceased to be German and became French. By the orders of Louis a magnificent pavilion was built at this place. It was superbly decorated, and divided into two compartments. In the first the youthful bride, after divesting herself of her German clothing and reattiring herself in costly vestments of French manufacture, bade farewell to her Austrian attendants; she then passed into the second division and received the French officers of her new household as a French Princess.

The celebrated German writer, Goethe, at the time pursuing his studies at Strasbourg, was present at the ceremony, and he noticed what he considered a most inauspicious omen in the tapestry decoration of the chief salon. "It represented the history of Jason and Medea, and the young poet could not avoid reflecting that a record of the most miserable union related in ancient mythology was an ill-omened ornament for nuptial festivities."

On quitting the pavilion, Marie Antoinette found in waiting the splendid carriages which had been expressly built for her at Paris. "They were marvels of the coachmaker's art; one, covered in crimson velvet, having pictures emblematical of the four seasons, embroidered in gold on the principal panels; on another the velvet was blue, with designs of the elements. On the roofs of each were nosegays of flowers carved in gold, enameled in appropriate colors, and wrought with such exquisite delicacy that every movement of the carriages, or even the lightest breeze, caused them to wave as if they were the natural produce of the garden."

Along the whole route the royal and lovely girl-bride received a most cordial and princely welcome. Proceeding by easy stages, she reached Compiegne on the 14th of May, where Louis XV. came to meet her, accompanied by the Dauphin, who was only a few months older than his bride, and whom she then saw for the first time.

On the 16th of May, the royal party having arrived at Versailles, the marriage ceremony was performed in the chapel of the palace by "the Primate of France, the Archbishop of Rheims. A canopy of a cloth of silver was held over the youthful pair, and after the Dauphin had placed the ring on the bride's finger, he added, as a token that he endowed her with all his worldly wealth, a gift of thirteen pieces of gold."

The wedding festivities were not free from several petty vexations, caused by the jealousy of court parasites, whose insolence toward the foolish and extravagant Louis XV. contributed so much to make him and his reign hateful and despicable in the eyes of the French people.

The numerous balls and banquets given in honor of the royal marriage were closed on the 30th of May by a magnificent display of fireworks which unfortunately terminated in one of the most dreadful catastrophes. The square in which the display was exhibited was crowded with pedestrians and carriages; all was excitement and admiration at the wonders displayed, when one of the explosions set fire to a portion of the platforms on which the designs of the different figures were constructed. In an instant the delight of the multitude was turned into the wildest terror; the uproar and the blaze made the horses unmanageable, and in a few moments animals and human beings were mingled in horrible confusion. At least 600 persons were supposed to have perished, and as many more to have been grievously injured.

The Dauphin and Dauphiness were greatly shocked at this terrible disaster, and the tender heart of the young bride not only moved her to give money toward the relief of the poorer families, but to visit many of them personally, so that they might feel the sweet balm of her loving sympathy and gentle speech. Many are the instances related of her generous interest in the misfortunes of others, especially of the poor. She won her way to all hearts. Even Louis XV., steeped as he was in his vices, praised her beauty and virtue in the hearing of his courtiers, exciting thereby the coarse jealousy of his infamous mistress, the Countess du Barri.

It seems little short of miraculous how so young and so lovely a girl managed to conduct herself with so much tact and dignity in such a vicious court. She was constantly surrounded by spies. Not even her writing-desk was safe from their prying eyes, and it was next to impossible for her and her husband to have any private conversation. Yet, in spite of all these irritating circumstances, she had the satisfaction of finding her pure and cheerful influence over the Dauphin rapidly increasing. There is abundant evidence to prove they both desired to promote the welfare of the French nation.

Just before the death of Louis XV., great distress existed in Paris, which the Dauphin and Dauphiness sought to relieve by "a munificent donation from their private purse." Immediately after they came to the French throne their very first edict was to announce that two taxes, called respectively "The gift of the happy accession" and "The girdle of the Queen," would not be imposed.

Disliking extremely the excessive etiquette of the Court of Versailles, it was only natural that the gay-hearted young Queen should sometimes long to escape from its trammels. Knowing this, her husband, now Louis XVI., gave her for her own use the celebrated "Little Trianon," situated about a mile from the Palace of Versailles on one side of the park. In this delightful retreat the innocent, sunny-tempered Marie Antoinette was wont to amuse herself, at one time feeding poultry, at another making bread, and anon busying herself in the garden. But even this charming spot was not sacred from the malice of her enemies, and some of her most innocent actions furnished food for slander.

As the years rolled on, and she gave no sign of becoming a mother, her husband's next-eldest brother, the Count de Provence, made no secret of his intentions in respect to the French crown. With all his kindness toward his beautiful consort, Louis XVI. was so phlegmatic in temperament, and so singularly devoid of passion, that he cannot be considered to have proved anything like a suitable guide and support to the brilliant, high-spirited Marie Antoinette. For one in his exalted position, his education had been shamefully neglected; thus all the worst and weakest faults in his character remained uncorrected, and in every crisis where decision, courage and graceful tact were demanded, an awkward timidity and inability to decide for himself were but too painfully apparent; and there can be no doubt that these serious defects largly contributed to bring about those terrible disasters which ended in the ruin and death of himself and his heroic wife.

Nine years elapsed ere Marie Antoinette had the joy of finding herself a mother, and during those years it is easy to believe that much of the levity and thoughtlessness laid to her charge was indulged in for the sake of subduing the painful feelings caused by her husband's coldness toward her, more especially as she saw that her continuing childless only served to make her husband's enemies all the more powerful.

Marie Antoinette was then in the full flower of her womanhood, and her beauty was the admiration of all beholders. "In words which will live as long as the English language," Burke has described the enthusiastic emotions she excited. It seemed to him "that surely never lighted on this orb, which she hardly seemed to touch, a more delightful vision."

Horace Walpole writes to Lady Ossory: "She is a statue of beauty, standing or sitting; grace itself when she moves." Madame Vigee le Brun, who painted her portrait, and who was in despair over the difficulty she experienced in doing justice to the remarkable brilliancy of Marie Antoinette's complexion, informs us that the Queen was "tall, admirably proportioned, fully developed, but not stout, superb arms, hands and feet small and perfectly formed. She had the finest carriage of any woman in France, carrying her head with a majesty that instantly marked the sovereign even in the midst of her court, yet without in any way detracting from the sweetness and pleasantness of her aspect. Her eyes were blue, soft and brilliant; nose good, and well chiseled; mouth not too large, with the full Austrian lips of her family. I never saw anything like her complexion, so exquisitely transparent. The last time I went to Fontainebleau, I saw her in full costume, covered with diamonds, and as the sun shone upon her she looked truly dazzling. Her head, supported by her lovely, swan-like neck, gave her in walking so majestic and imposing an air that she looked like a goddess in the midst of her nymphs."

Great was the joy of this wondrously beautiful woman when she gazed on her first-born, a daughter, who had the misfortune to undergo with her royal parents the horrors of the imprisonment in the Temple, and who became known in history as the Duchess d'Angouleme. Marie Antoinette's second child was a son, and a short time after his birth she proudly clasped him to her bisom with the most fervent thanksgiving, then resigning him to the nurse she said:

"Take him—he belongs to the state; but my daughter is still mine."

Alas, poor mother! she was then in blissful ignorance of the horrible fate in store for her and her royal house. For years the storm had been gathering which ultimately expended its overwhelming force in the horrors of the French Revolution. Singular to relate, the popular fury was chiefly directed toward the hapless Queen. The old animosity between the French and the Austrians appeared to blaze forth with redoubled strength, and the fact of her being an Austrian by birth was flung at her as if it had been a crime.

The insults and indignities heaped upon her during the cruel imprisonment in the Temple, and the hideous mockery of justice at the hands of the fanatical Jacobins at her so called trial, are a fearful revelation of the depths of fiendish barbarity to which human nature can sometimes fall. Her husband perished on the scaffold; her beloved son, "beautiful as an angel," and for whose life and crown she was prepared to face death itself, was torn from her protecting arms and consigned to a horrible fate at the hands of the brutal cobbler, Simon.

Nearly all her most devoted friends—simply because they were her friends—were sacrificed by the incensed rabble.

During the last four years of her life what heroism she displayed. How great was her faith in the justice of the French people. How nobly she strove, though in vain, to animate her husband on several critical occasions with her own courageous spirit and gracious tact; thinking, and perhaps not altogether wrongly—that things would not have come to such a fearful pass if Louis had but bravely looked his difficulties in the face. With what fortitude she set herself "to think for all, to act for all, to struggle for all; and to bear up against the conviction that her thoughts and actions and struggles were balked of their effect by the very persons for whom she was exerting herself."

Bereft of every hope, separated from every soul she loved, her once-brilliant and beautiful countenance faded and worn through suffering, her eyes dimmed and shrunken from endless weeping, her hair whitened, not by years, but by unspeakable sorrow, the "Niobe of Monarchy" laid her head under the executioner's knife on the morning of the 19th of October 1793, and in a few seconds her deeply-afflicted soul was at rest evermore.

P. T. BARNUM announces that he will employ all curious specimens of the human race, including giants, dwarfs, fat people and freaks of nature, for his great show. Parties interested should write, inclosing photo's, to Barnum, Bailey & Hutchinson, 40 Bond st., N. Y.

Still Larger.

An enterprising tobacconist in London, whose name was Far, advertised himself and his wares simultaneously by writing up in conspicuous lettering over his store, "The best tobacco by Far." A rival on the opposite side of the way not to be outdone, at once proclaimed the superiority of his stock by advertising, "Far better tobacco than the best tobacco by Far." This reminds the New York Mail of the story of the miner who, returning from the far West to civilization, saw a sign up outside a show, "The largest bear in the world." After paying his twenty-five cents and enjoying the sight, he noticed another sign across the street, "Lager beer," and at once returned and demanded his money back, on the ground that it had been extorted under false pretences, as there was a larger bear over the way.

E. L. LOWRIES, ESQ., Cashier of the Cincinnati Southern railroad, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of a stubborn case of rheumatism, which wouldn't yield to physicians' treatment.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Frightful Catastrophe.

During a Knights of Pythias' festival at Shanesville, Tuscarawas county, Ohio, the floor gave way, precipitating the company, numbering over 200, to the floor below. Two persons were instantly killed, three others fatally injured, and between fifty and sixty more or less bruised or burned. The building took fire almost instantly, producing a scene of the wildest excitement. The lights were nearly all extinguished, leaving the shrieking, struggling mass of humanity to grope their way from the ruins almost in the dark. By the prompt action of those who escaped uninjured, and other citizens summoned by the terrible alarm, the fire was subdued, but not until quite a number had been more or less burned. The night was very cold, and the scene is described as frightful in the extreme.

THE Albany (N. Y.) Press and Knickerbocker, says: "The largest following we know of to-day is that of St. Jacobs Oil; for where St. Jacobs Oil is, there rheumatism is not."

GOD is pleased with no music below so much as the thanksgiving songs of relieved widows and supported orphans, of rejoicing, comforted and thankful persons.

1881.

The Wrecks by Sea and Other Disasters of the Past Year.

Deaths by Suicide, Homicides and Executions.

Wrecks of the Year 1881.

The most disastrous wrecks of the year are given below, with the numbers of lives lost appended:

	Lives Lost
Bark Happy Home, Nova Scotia	8
Steamer Fairley, coast of Jutland, all on board lost	..
Ship Indian Chief, mouth of the Thames	18
Steamer Harcalde and steamer Leon, collision, both sunk	45
Bark John Ritson, English coast	6
Ships Cape Sable and Wild Rose	35
Ship Lapeta, all lost	..
Japanese steamer sunk near Yokohama	64
Ship Leonore, English coast	9
Three vessels lost on English coast	46
Steamer at Singapore, India	70
Twelve fishing vessels in Bay of Biscay	46
English steamer foundered	13
Ship Bremen, Shetland Isles	13
Steamer Bohemian, Dunlough bay	22
Bark Hazard, off Nantucket	7
Bark Fannie, never heard from	13
Schooner David E. Wolf	4
Steamer Clatsop Chief	4
Schooner Irving G. Hull, off Newfoundland	9
Bark Ajace, off Rockaway, N. Y.	16
Twenty vessels on Scotch coast	200
Schooner N. H. Skinner, off Cape Cod	7
Steamer lost on English coast	14
Schooner Minnie, New Brunswick	4
Schooner Huntington	5
Steamer Mizpah, near Copenhagen	11
Steamer Tararua, New Zealand	80
War sloop Doterel	145
Schooner on Nova Scotia coast	80
Schooner Ernestine, Nova Scotia coast	6
Steamer Victoria, London, Canada	212
Steamer Teuton, South Africa	216
Propeller Columbia, lakes	20
Schooner Van Valkenberg, lakes	7
Ship [illegible], Oregon	10
Ship Calcutta	15
Schooner Guy Cunningham, Grand Banks	14
Steamer Cyprian, Welsh coast	22
Steamer Corsica, Cape Race	21
Steamer Clan Macduff, Welsh coast	40
Steamer Konig der Nederlander	175
Steamer Jennie Gilchrist, Mississippi river	9
Steamer Calliope, Spanish coast, all on board	..
Steamer Calcutta, Melbourne	28
Ship Omaha, all hands	..
Schooner E. P. Dorr, lost on Lake Erie	7
Ship Guiccan, English coast	17
Steamer Albia, near Panama	32
Steam-yacht Lucerne, near Gravesend	7
Steamer Jackal, foundered in St. George's channel	10
Propeller Jane Miller, Georgian bay	25
Steamer Saxon Monarch, Bay of Biscay	40
Steamer Solway, explosion, Irish channel	11
Bark Helendes, sunk, Queenstown	9

The total number of lives lost upon the ocean so far as they were reported will reach nearly 5,000.

Disasters.

Below we print a list of the great disasters during the year, with accompanying loss of life, both in this country and abroad. The summary includes only those which have been reported by telegraph, and is as follows in the United States:

	Lives Lost.
Burning of a tenement, New York	10
Boiler explosion, Allentown, Pa.	13
Burning of asylum, Scranton, Pa.	17
Sinking of ferry boat, Elgin, Ill.	10
Distillery explosion, Peoria, Ill.	14
Forest fires, Michigan	400
Sinking of ferry boat, Atlanta, Ga.	12
Fire, Philadelphia	20
Sinking of ferry boat, Troy, N. Y.	10
Explosion on steamer West Point	19
Burning of poor-house, Dover, N. H.	13

In addition to these detailed disasters we have prepared the following general summary of the loss of life in this country by wind, water, fire, explosions and other causes:

	Lives lost.
Boiler explosions	148
Varnish explosions	4
Powder explosions	30
Nitro-glycerine explosions	26
Fires	91
Kerosene explosions	11
Linseed-oil explosions	13
Dynamite explosions	6
Lightning	7
Snow slides	44
Floods	49
Mines	41
Tornadoes	187
Miscellaneous	49

The more important disasters not in this country have been as follows:

	Lives Lost.
Burning of theater, Cronstadt	8
Boiler explosion, Shrewsbury, England	11
Flooding of mine, Cornwall	8
Colliery explosion, Chell, England	16
Avalanche, Savoy, Switzerland	15
Torpedo explosion, Melbourne	3
Earthquake, Ischia	300
Burning of opera house, Nice	125
Earthquake, Scio	8,000
Fire, Quebec	11
Railroad accident, Guantla, Mexico	205
Colliery explosion, Dortmund, Prussia	17
Powder explosion, Mazatlan, Mexico	60
Mine explosion, Lourches, France	10
Fire, San Domingo	26
Fall of tenement, Vienna	20
Fall of tenement, Marseilles	17
Railroad accident, Charenton, France	33
Forest fires, Algeria	81
Land-slide, Switzerland	200
Earthquake, Anatolia	11
Freshets, Mexico	600
Waterspout, Algeria	65
Storm on English coast	307
Storm at Boulogne	115
Colliery explosion, Spain	16
Gas explosion, Italy	40
Dynamite explosion, England	13
Colliery explosion, Belgium	66
Burning of Ring Theater, Vienna	449
Bursting of dam, Algeria	400
Colliery explosion	42
Panic in church, Warsaw	40
Total abroad	11,271
Total at home	1,343

Executions.

Ninety persons were executed by legal process in the United States during the year 1881, of which twenty-four were in the Northern States and sixty-six in the Southern States. The list by States is as follows:

Arkansas	16	New Jersey	2
Alabama	3	North Carolina	8
Arizona	1	New Mexico	1
California	2	Nevada	1
Colorado	3	Oregon	1
Florida	8	Pennsylvania	4
Georgia	8	South Carolina	10
Idaho	1	Texas	8
Indian Territory	1	Tennessee	5
Illinois	2	Vermont	2
Louisiana	1	Virginia	1
Maryland	2	West Virginia	1
Mississippi	3	Washington Territory	1
Missouri	6
New York	5	Total	90

Railroad Disasters.

The year 1881 has been comparatively free from great disasters upon railroads in this country, though the loss of life by minor accidents has been very large, and much larger than the telegraph announces, as it brings but few details of railroad destruction. The principal disasters have been as follows:

	Lives Lost.
Killed by a passing train at Middle creek, Neb.	7
Postal-car thrown from track at Tioga, N. Y.	5
Collision on Northern Pennsylvania railroad	4
Train wrecked on Hannibal and St. Joe railroad	6
Train wrecked on Denver and Rio Grande railroad	7
Train wrecked on Northwestern road (Rock Island Division) at Albany, Ill.	8
Collision on Texas Pacific	5
Collision on Kentucky Central	7
Collision on Wabash railroad	4
Train wrecked on Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington railroad	7
Collision on New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad	6
Collision on New York and Erie railroad	3
Collision on New York and New England railroad	5
Gang of convicts run into by a train at Corsicana, Texas	22

The total number of persons killed in various ways by railroads during the year, as reported by telegraph, was 1,047; of serious injuries, 527.

Crime.

The following summary includes the number of murders committed in the United States during the year 1881, as reported by telegraph, and their causes so far as ascertained. Of course this includes only a part of the whole number, as many of the murders are not reported. The list is as follows:

Liquor	168
Jealousy and domestic infelicity	156
In self-defense	38
Quarrels	[illegible]
Insanity	15
Infanticide and child-killing	[illegible]
Resisting arrest	[illegible]
By highwaymen	[illegible]
Burglars and thieves	[illegible]
Women killed in outrages	[illegible]
Feuds and vendettas	[illegible]
Patricide	11
Unknown causes	117
Total	[illegible]

Suicides.

The following is a list of the suicides committed in the United States during 1881, and their causes, the list only including those reported by telegraph:

Melancholy	128
Financial losses	37
Liquor	76
Insanity	90
Domestic infelicity	32
Ill-health	36
Disappointment in love	30
Shame	8
Unknown causes	130
Total	[illegible]

Decease of Centenarians.

The following centenarians have died during the year 1881:

Name and Residence.	Age.
Harriet N. Cooper, St. Louis, Mo.	115
Sarah Johnston, Piqua, Ohio	102
Bridget Gallagher, Cincinnati, Ohio	107
Daniel O'Brien, Scranton, Pa.	111
Sarah Clark, Rolla, Mo.	120
Miller Dewitt, Angola, Ind.	106
Samuel Lane, Mount Vernon, Ohio	130
Richard Pease, [illegible], N. J.	101
Jaques [illegible], Mount Clemens, Mich.	105
Hannah Cole, Rome, N. Y.	105
James Gates, Urbana, Ohio	120
Abram Johnson, Salem, Pa.	105
Rebecca Delaney, Columbus, Ga.	106
Thomas Crafty, Rockville, Ct.	111
Mrs. Judith Hathaway, Duxbury, Mass.	102
Betsy James, Nashville, Tenn.	101
Hannah Cox, Holderness, N. H.	103
Margaret Kane, Williamsburg, N. Y.	107
Mrs. Sarah Moseley, Madison, Ind.	122
Gabriel White, Piqua, Ohio	109

RAILWAY BUILDING IN 1881.

[From the Railway Age.]

The year 1881 has been especially notable for the enormous extent and rapidity of railway construction in the United States. Although it opened with a very severe winter, and snow and frosts, protracted into the spring, delayed the commencement of operations in a large part of the country, and although during the summer and fall railway work in the West was retarded by an excess of rain and mud, still we are able thus early to present a table giving, we believe, a comparatively complete summary of the number of separate lines and the miles of track actually laid down in the various States and Territories since the 1st of January, 1881. As the month of December has been unusually mild in the northern half of the country, considerable track no doubt has been laid within the last few days, of which we have, as yet, received no report. It is probable, also, that in some other cases the last reports have not shown the entire amount of track laid or that will have been laid at the end of this month. While, therefore, the figures which we are now able to give are necessarily incomplete, and will have to be supplemented in a future article giving the record of construction in detail, we may say that it has been made up with very great care from numerous sources, railway managers, State Railroad Commissioners and other State officers contributing their assistance, and that it is reasonably complete for so early a publication. Our figures show that track has been laid on 259 different lines—although not by as many different companies—and already aggregates no less than 8,242 miles. This is much the largest mileage ever constructed in any one year, that for 1880 being given by "Poor's Manual" at 7,174 miles, which in turn was far greater than the mileage added in any previous year except in 1871, when it reached 7,379 miles. Allowing for returns yet to be received, we believe it safe to estimate that the track laid in the United States in 1881 will prove to have been very little, if any, less than 9,000 miles.

The following is the table, as far as we are now able to complete it, of new construction in 1881.

State.	No. lines.	Miles.	State.	No. lines.	Miles.
Alabama	1	14	New Hampshire	2	7½
Arkansas	4	102	Nevada	3	133
Arizona	1	97	North Carolina	7	149
California	2	[illegible]	New York	15	228¾
Colorado	15	493	Nebraska	8	247
Dakota	10	[illegible]	New Jersey	9	66½
Florida	4	103	New Mexico	4	329¾
Georgia	6	54½	Ohio	10	417¾
Iowa	14	496½	Oregon	2	39
Illinois	14	341	Pennsylvania	10	94½
Indiana	11	375	Rhode Island	1	1½
Kansas	6	250	S. Carolina	2	67
Kentucky	5	143½	Texas	20	1,411
Louisiana	2	208	Tennessee	5	37
Michigan	12	329½	Virginia	8	273¾
Massachusetts	7	49½	Vermont	1	2
Minnesota	9	102	W. Virginia	1	12
Missouri	11	229	Wyoming	1	26
Maine	2	32¼	Wash. Ter.	4	269½
Montana	2	156	Wisconsin	7	281
Mississippi	3	96
Maryland	3	25	Totals	258	8,242

It will be seen that the work of railway extension has been carried on in forty-two States and Territories, the only States in which no new track is reported laid being Connecticut and Delaware, and the only Territories thus distinguished being Idaho, Indian Territory and Utah, although it is probable that a few miles were laid in the latter. The remote possession of Alaska of course does not come into this category. Texas leads the country in respect of railway building, having added last year, by our table, 1,411 miles, which final returns will probably increase to 1,500 or more. Colorado appears to come next with about 500 miles, of which no less than 370 are officially reported to have been laid by that enterprising narrow-gauge railway company, the Denver and Rio Grande. This company built during the year no less than ten different lines or portions of lines. Iowa comes next with nearly 500 miles, and Dakota and Ohio also show thus far between 400 and 500 miles. Indiana, Illinois, New Mexico and New York appear to have added between 300 and 400 miles.

The narrow gauge makes no insignificant showing in the list of railway mileage constructed in 1881. Of the 253 different lines thus far reported to be built during the year, no less than forty-three, or over 17 per cent., were of three-foot gauge; and of the 8,240 miles of new track, which we already report, 1,490 miles, or about 14 per cent., were of that gauge.

Business Failures in 1881.

The total number of business failures for the entire year 1881 throughout the United States is stated by the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co. to be 5,582, involving liabilities of slightly over $81,000,000. The failures for the year previous were only 4,735, with liabilities of $65,000,000. The increase is, however, regarded by the agency as small in proportion to the enormous growth of the volume of trade, and especially in proportion to the number of persons engaged in business. Compared with 1878, the showing is strongly to the advantage of the year just closed, the failures in that year being 10,400, and liabilities $234,000,000. In the year 1881 only one person in every 140 engaged in business has failed, while in 1880 the proportion was one in every 158, in 1879 one in every 105, and in 1878 one in every sixty-four. The figures of the year and the facts presented are interpreted by the agency as confirmatory of the impression that the trade of the country is prosperous and in a safe condition.

A GOOD story is told of an Irish hostler who was sent to the stable to bring forth a traveler's horse. Not knowing which of the two strange horses in the stalls belonged to the traveler, and wishing to avoid the appearance of ignorance in his business, he saddled both animals and brought them to the door. The traveler pointed out his own horse, saying, "That's my nag." "Certainly, yer honor; I know that very well, but I didn't know which was the other gentleman's."

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

This engraving represents the lungs in a healthy state.

A STANDARD REMEDY

IN MANY HOMES.

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all other affections of the Throat and LUNGS, it stands unrivaled and utterly beyond all competition.

IN CONSUMPTIVE CASES

It approaches so near a specific that "Ninety-five" per cent. are permanently cured, where the directions are strictly complied with. There is no chemical or other ingredients to harm the young or old.

AS AN EXPECTORANT IT HAS NO EQUAL.
IT CONTAINS NO OPIUM IN ANY FORM.

J. N. HARRIS & CO., Proprietors,
CINCINNATI, O.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.,

Woman can Sympathize with Woman.
Health of Woman is the Hope of the Race.
Yours for Health
Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

for all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Mention this Paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

☞ Sold by all Druggists. ☜

HOP BITTERS NEVER FAIL

If you are a man of business, weakened by the strain of your duties avoid stimulants and use Hop Bitters.

If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languish on a bed of sickness, rely on Hop Bitters.

Whoever you are, wherever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take Hop Bitters.

Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver or nerves? You will be cured if you use Hop Bitters.

If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

If you are a man of letters toiling over your midnight work, to restore brain nerve and waste, use Hop B.

Thousands die annually from some form of Kidney disease that might have been prevented by a timely use of Hop Bitters.

D. I. C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco, or narcotics.

Sold by druggists. Send for Circular.

HOP BITTERS MFG CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.
& Toronto, Ont.

The Best Field
FOR EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 150 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON, COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an Acre.

CLIMATE MILD AND HEALTHY.

For pamphlet and maps, descriptive of country, its resources, climate, route of travel, rates and full information, address

A. L. STOKES,
Gen'l Eastern Pass'r Agent,
62 Clark Sts., Chicago, Ills.

History of the Tichborne Trial.

The Tichborne case reads like a highly-colored work of fiction and may be briefly given as follows: Roger Charles Tichborne was born January 5, 1829, and was, after his father, heir to the title and large estates of his uncle, Sir Edward. Roger was educated in France and at the Roman Catholic College of Stonyhurst, and when 20 years of age, entered the army. In the year 1852, Roger wooed the daughter of Sir Edward, his cousin Kate, but her parents were opposed to the match, and the young man resigned his commission in the army and went to sea. On June 19, 1853, he arrived at Valparaiso, and on April 20, 1854, sailed from Rio de Janeiro for New York in the ship Bella, a vessel that was lost. In March of the year 1853, Sir Edward died, and was succeeded by his brother James, the father of Roger; and Sir James died June 11, 1862, and, as it was believed Roger had been lost at sea, was succeeded by Alfred his second son, and brother of Roger. Alfred died in February, 1866, and was succeeded by a posthumous son, born in May, 1866. Lady Tichborne, in the meantime, was not on "good terms" with the rest of the family, and in her peculiar and pronounced way manifested her feeling. In 1865 she began to advertise in the English and Australian newspapers for Roger, who, it will be remembered, had been absent, i. e., dead, nearly twelve years. In the year following a butcher of Wagga Wagga, Australia, supposed to be Arthur Orton, but called himself Thomas Castro, announced that he was Roger Charles Tichborne, and that he had been saved from the wreck of the ship Bella. This person after some correspondence with Lady Tichborne, set sail for England, reaching London on Christmas, 1866, and in the month of January, of the next year met Lady Tichborne at Paris, and was accepted by her as her son, and furnished with funds. Lady Tichborne was almost the only member of the family who recognized him, all the others repudiating him as an impostor. For some months he went about England collecting evidence, securing witnesses, and obtaining such information in reference to the real Roger as would be valuable. In March the first action was commenced by the "claimant" filing a bill in chancery, the real issue of which was to enable him to prove himself to be the veritable Roger, and the rightful owner of the title and estates. The case did not come to trial for nearly four years, because of commissions being sent to South America and Australia; and in the interval Lady Tichborne died. The trial began May 11, 1871, and, with two adjournments, it continued 103 days, till March 6, 1872, when the jury interposed, declaring themselves satisfied that the "claimant" was not Roger Tichborne, and he was non-suited. He was at once ordered into custody to be tried for perjury, but was later released on bail. The perjury trial was commenced April 23, 1874, when he was found guilty and sentenced to fourteen years of penal servitude; he was sent to Millbank, and later transferred to Dartmoor prison. The estates of the Tichborne were valued at £24,000 a year. The first trial was before the Court of Common Pleas, and the perjury trial was before the court of the Queen's Bench. It was settled beyond reasonable doubt that the "claimant" was Arthur Orton, who emigrated from London, his native place, to Australia, and because of evil-doing changed his name to Castro. There are, however, many in England who believe, and still claim, that Orton is Roger Charles Tichborne.

Lovers' Lies.

What a queer way pens have of putting down just the right words together, sometimes! That second word above there might have been "dreams," or "fancies," or "delusions," or a hundred other pretty sounding syllables, only that this square-nibbed little weapon has such an aggravating way of telling equally square truth, one would think it endowed with an intelligence of its own. What is there about them, these rosy-hued fables, that the wisest of us likes to listen to, half believe them, perhaps, wholly distrust at last? Exquisite, fragile things! Their rough, practical brethren of everyday life seem horrible beside their airy proportions, so they seek the seclusion of the boudoir, the silence of the midnight walk. Like bubbles, full of light and color, they float about us, until the rude hand of Truth grasps them, and they vanish, leaving nothing that is tangible behind. Claude Melnotte was not so young in the art of love as the play book would have us think when he says to Pauline, "We'd have no friends that were not lovers." Philosophers draw a fair distinction between lies and their twin brothers, falsehoods—the former being spoken with the intention to deceive, the others under the belief, by the speaker, of their truth. We are apt, sometimes, to draw too heavily on the bank of human affections, exact more than comes to us spontaneously, and are not at all times careful to see that the change we get in return is pure metal, and rings firm and true. Let lovers themselves answer how often their own utterances come under the first head.

Cannibal Feasts in Fiji.

But prior to the great change in Fiji caused by Christianity a feast would have been held of small account which was not disgraced by abundant human flesh; and if by chance there was no war on hand to provide this delicacy, there was rarely much difficulty in finding victims; a defenseless troop of women from some neighboring village, a canoe driven ashore by stress of weather, or, failing these, a few insignificant serfs or wives who had lost favor with their lords, supplied the place of home-farm produce. Several peculiarities were observed concerning the bokala, or human flesh. It was considered indigestible unless eaten with certain herbs which were purposely grown in every village. Moreover, it was the only meat which was preferred rather high, and which must not be handled, from a belief that it would produce skin disease. Therefore it was invariably eaten with a peculiar round wooden fork with four long prongs. Some of the most noted cannibals, who gloried in the multitude of men whom they had eaten, actually kept a record of their number by erecting lines of stones. One of these registers numbers 872! and the Christian son of this ogre declares that his father ate them all himself, allowing no one to share with him. Another member of the same family had registered forty-eight, when his becoming a Christian put a stop to the amusement, and compelled him to be satisfied with commonplace beef. In fact, one of the excuses urged by Thakombau for so long adhering to cannibalism was that he and his people had no other substitute for English bullamacow. It is, however, twenty years since he abjured the vile custom and accepted Christianity; but many of the islanders kept it up till quite recently.

A Snake Artist.

Nobody knew how he got in; but he was there, and after borrowing a chew of tobacco from the police reporter he handed his card to the managing editor:

AL. WAIS LYNE,
Snake Artist.

"Well, what can we do for you?" asked the managing editor.

"I'm'n artist—snake artist."

"So I see."

"Yes. Well, I write snake stories for the public press. Most entertaining reading imaginable. Never does any harm, because nobody believes 'em."

"What?"

"S'fac.' Nobody takes any stock in 'em, but they read 'em all the same."

"I've written all the boss snake yarns in the West for the last ten years."

"Bring any 'sketches' with you?"

"Well, no; but I can get one up in a few moments."

He sat down in the religious editor's place, and in five minutes handed over the following, with an up-State date line:

"On the morning of Wednesday of this week little Ettie Strayoff, the two-year-old daughter of one of the wealthiest and most influential members of this community, met with an adventure which might be regarded as incredible, but for the fact that it is vouched for by reliable witnesses. She got lost in a neighboring forest and was chased by a huge snake, which emerged from a deserted hut in a wild ravine, where it had been leading a hermit's life, subsisting on wild herbs and eking a precarious income by telling fortunes. When the child saw the terrible monster she was almost paralyzed by fright, but with a superhuman effort regained possession of her faculties and began to flee. She was, however, fated to be overtaken, as the serpent pursued and caught up with her before she had gone ten miles. Then he opened his mouth and prepared to devour her, when all at once his attitude changed. Instead of carrying out this resolution, to the exceeding surprise of his intended victim, the monster smoothed her hair and patted her little cheeks, and, gently releasing a $5,000 diamond brooch from her throat, pinned it in his shirtfront and walked reflectively away. The friends of the child found her soon afterward, and on learning her strange story went to look for his snakeship. They found him sitting in front of his hut studying the Cape May time table, with a view of becoming a watering place hotel clerk."

The editor assured Mr. Lyne that he possessed too much genius to be permitted to run at large, so he employed him to write obituary notices.

Concerning Authors.

There is an abundance of writers for the press, and to illustrate this fact, I may say that the editor of Harper's Magazine has already a sufficient number of accepted articles on hand to serve for two years. Hence should he not receive a single fresh contribution his supply would last till 1884. The rejected matter, often of interest and real value, which is daily declined by magazines, newspapers, and booksellers, would fill a good-sized wagon. Bonner, of the Ledger, has for some years left orders with his clerks to allow no contribution to be left for examination. He has his regular list of writers, who fill up the space allotted to them, and thus the paper is made up without any new contributors. Authorship and writing for the press is now overdone, and there are but few, and these are, indeed, lucky who can make a living at it. It is said that the magazine writers are not an enviable class. They may receive $100 for an article, but it is so difficult to get an article published that they are not much better than a mere newspaper Bohemian. A leading magazinist is said to rate his income from this source at $1,200 a year, which certainly is nothing to boast of. I have read in the newspapers that a young man who had fitted himself for journalism by a college education, had recently engaged to tend bar in a saloon at $8 per week. This may be intended as a piece of humor, but there is a sad truth underlying it.—New York Letter.

Home.

Dr. Holmes says: I never saw a garment too fine for a man or maid; there never was a chair too good for a cobbler or a cooper or a king to sit in; never a house too fine to shelter the human head. These elements about us, the glorious sun, the imperial sun, are not too good for the human race. Elegance fits man. But do we not value these tools a little more than they are worth and sometimes mortgage a house for the mahogany we bring into it? I had rather eat my dinner off the head of a barrel, or dress after the fashion of John the Baptist in the wilderness, or sit on a block all my life, than consume all myself before I got to a home, and take so much more pains with the outside than the inside which was hollow as an empty nut. Beauty is a great thing, but beauty of garment, house, and furniture are tawdry ornaments compared with domestic love. All the elegance in the world will not make a home, and I would give more for a spoonful of real hearty love than for whole ship-loads of furniture and all the gorgeousness all the upholsterers in the world can gather.

HISTORY OF LITTLE JOHNNY.

[From the Evansville Argus.]

Little Johnny went to view
The circus and the flip-flap flippers,
Johnny tried the flip-flap, too,
Now he wears the golden slippers.
While they turned these things at will,
In the air or anywheres,
Johnny turned one higher still,
Turned clear on the golden stairs.

SIXTY years ago land now wanted for a park in London sold for $50 an acre. It is now valued at $11,500 per acre.

The Female Burglar.

Every day we see that some new avenue has been opened to women by which they may obtain a livelihood, and all of us who love women, and most men do, are glad of it, though we may be opposed to female suffrage. For there is such a thing as carrying it too far, and allowing women to engage in branches of business for which they are not fitted. We see by the papers that a woman has been arrested as a burglar.

